Q. And the very next thing—the very next time you speak of it is when you go on the witness stand and tell what occurred there, and tell what you claimed occurred there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you say in your examination, I couldn't hear very well—that I took a memorandum away from you after you testified? A. No, sir.

Q. Did I ever give you a memorandum? A. No, sir.

Q. Isn't it a matter of fact that when you were in my office speaking of the memorandum that you said I am slightly confused on dates—that was Sunday after, and that I want to go home and see when I was married and I can testify positively?

A. I stated so to Judge—that I wanted to get the paper

Q. And you went home and got the date of your marriage license and then you testified? A. Yes.

Q. You, also, wanted the date of your graduation, I believe, before you could fix your dates at Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cobb.

Q. Mr. Fritsche, this property at 217 Seneca street, is located on an alley wasn't it? A. Located on an what?

Q. On an alley, it faces a street and an alley runs by the side of it, doesn't it?

A. Runs back of it; the house faced the north and the alley is to the south.

Q. Well, isn't there an alley on the east or the west side of it? A. No, sir.

Q. Just on the back end of it?

A. Just on the back end. This property at 217, you say?

Q. Yes. Now, there is at the place where Lille White lived in 1885—now, do you know—did you know Granny Letcher at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, I will ask you if it is not a fact that at that time Granny Letcher was working for Lillie White, occupying a part of the premises—the back end of the premises at 217 Seneca street? A. That I don't remember.

Q. And when Lillie White moved out of these premises that Granny Letcher just occupied all of the premises after that date? A. That I don't know.

Q. You don't remember of her moving in front somewhere else, do you? A. Granny Letcher?

Q. Yes.

A. I may be mistaken but I think she moved into that house.

Q. Well, didn't she just move into that from the rest of the premises—to occupy the whole premises?

A. I don't know nothing about Lillie White; I never was in Lillie White's place.

Q. I am speaking of when Lillie White moved out; Granny Letcher then took charge of the whole premises and you don't know whether she occupied the back end part of the premises prior to that time and worked for Lillie White or not, do you?

A. No, I remember Granny Letcher occupied the whole house.

Q. After that time? A. Yes.

Q. And you don't know where she was before then?

A. Granny Letcher?

Q. Yes.

A. Yes, if I remember correctly, she lived at Fourth and Choctaw street.

Q. Well, after she moved from Fourth and Choctaw street, didn't she move to that place?

A. I am speaking of Granny Letcher. Granny Letcher lived at Fourth and Choctaw and she moved to Seneca Street; if I remember correctly, 217.

Q. Well, didn't she move up there and live a while before Lillie White moved away? A. Well, that I don't know.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Linebaugh.

Q. Mr. Fritsche, did you know more than one Indian Minnie at Leavenworth?

A. Did I know more than one Indian Minnie?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir.

Q. That Indian woman that you knew, Indian Minnie, or Indian Mary?

A. I never knew her by the name of Indian Mary.

Q. The one you knew was called Indian Minnie?

A. Indian Minnie.

Q. You never heard her surname used until after you was in Mr. Bond's office? A. No.

Q. Sir? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, the Indian woman, the only one you knew, was the one you knew in 1883 who was a prostitute and you saw her with child?

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, we object to that. This is leading.

The Court: I think it is a repetition of what the witness has already testified.

Q. Now, Mr. Fritsche, did you see any woman before you gave the deposition? A. Did I see any woman?

Q. Yes, that you identified or sought to identify as the Indian woman whom you had known at Leavenworth before you gave your deposition? A. No, sir.

Q. Sir? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, state to the Court when it was that you saw and identified an Indian woman as the Indian Minnie that you knew? A. Last summer.

Q. Last summer? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was it? A. In Mr. Bond's office.

Q. State to the Court the circumstances how you come to go to the office, who was there and what happened when you got there?

A. Well, I was at home. I had received a telephone call to come down to Mr. Bond's office, and after breakfast I went down. And walked into Mr. Bond's office and that woman sat there and I recognized her, and I walked up to her and shook hands with her and said how do you do Indian Minnie.

Q. Did she recognize you? A. She did not.

Q. She didn't know you? A. She did not.

Q. Now, you stated to Judge Stuart that this Indian woman who you knew would usually come to your drug store in company with a white woman who was a fortune teller, is that right? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, what character of goods did you sell to this Indian woman that would come there with this white fortune teller?

A. Why, she used a great deal of blackberry and ginger, and she purchased a good many drugs and toilet articles.

Q. You talked with her frequently did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How frequently would she come to your drug store to buy this beverage or blackberry cordial and ginger?

A. Oh, I suppose every day. Sometimes I would wait on her and sometimes Mr. Lange would wait on her.

Q. Now, who else was it in Mr. Bond's office besides Minnie Folk when you went in there last summer?

A. The gentleman right here.

Q. Mr. Hanford?

A. Yes, sir—— No, it wasn't Mr. Hanford. I can't recall the gentleman's name. He is from Sand Springs.

Q. Frank Long? A. No, I don't believe it was Frank.

The Court: The question is, is the man in the Court room now?

A. I don't see him.

Q. And what else did you say to this woman and Mr. Bond, say to you last summer?

A. Mr. Bond didn't say anything.

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, this is in direct examination.

The Court: Well, it is redirect examination, I thought the matter was entirely covered. I think we have given about all to that that we can.

Q. How long have you known Mr. Younkman?

A. Oh, probably from the time he first came to Leavenworth and worked in the drug store there, twelve or fifteen years.

Q. What is your relation to him?

A. None whatever except in a friendly way.

Q. He is your friend? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And has been for a number of years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You went from Mr. Younkman to the District Attorney's office in Muskogee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You saw Mr. Bruff, these other gentlemen, and myself here? A. I remember seeing you and a few of you there.

Q. Do you remember of seeing these other gentlemen there any of them? A. One or two of you were there.

Q. Your deposition was read over to you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. State what you said concerning it when it was read to you?

A. I said, Judge, I see my mistake. I made some errors in data there and it looks bad.

Q. That was the first thing that was done when you came in the office, the deposition was read to you and the first thing you said after it was read to you is just what you have stated?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And wherein was that deposition wrong?

A. Well, in the date, one about 1885 and another 1886.

Q. Well, was it wrong as to your seeing a child at Ella Abbott's?

A. No, that deposition is correct, I saw the child.

Q. But with reference to its being the same child that you had seen at Granny Letcher's?

A. Saw this one child, baby nursing at the breast of its mother.

Q. But that was not the same child you saw at Ella Abbott's? A. No.

Q. Did you state there when that deposition was read that it was in error?

A. Yes, I could see that after the deposition was read to me.

Q. Did you tell Mr. Younkman you were glad you had discovered the mistake and a load had been lifted from your mind, and you felt better about it? A. I did.

Q. Mr. Fritsche, I believe you stated a while ago that you thought you were under arrest, is that so? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What made you think so?

A. The detectives were after me.

Q. Well, what made you think so?

A. The mere fact that the detectives were searching for me from town to town and searching hundreds of miles, and holding my son in Kansas City for four hours or more in a hotel; and taking Mr. Younkman away from his fields of labor and having him help search for me.

Q. And that is why you thought you were under arrest?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that is the only reason. Now, you say you were given a third degree; in what way except as you have said?

A. Well, I thought that was a third degree from the grilling I got in your room.

> The Court: You have stated in substance now have you what occurred in there; you have covered all the circumstances, that is what you referred to as the third degree, that examination in Mr. Linebaugh's office when the deposition was read to you?

A. Yes, sir, I saw my error in dates.

Q. Now, Mr. Fritsche, I will ask you one other question and I think that is about all. Did you remember the circulation; did you recall the fact of the circulation of that petition before you saw it?

A. How is that, I didn't catch the question?

Q. Did you recall recently the circulation of that petition?

A. When it was handed to me, I saw right away my mistake.

Q. Did you recall the circulation of the petition before you ever saw the petition? A. This here petition?

Q. Yes, did you remember it was circulated before the petition was shown to you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And after you saw that, you did remember it. When was the petition shown to you?

A. This petition was shown to me this afternoon.

Q. When was it you said you remembered the petition having been circulated? A. In 1885.

Q. Now, when was it recently that you said you remembered?

> The Court: When was your mind first directed to the petition?

A. This afternoon.

The Court: Not since it was circulated until this afternoon? A. No, sir.

Q. Was anything stated to you about it this morning before lunch? A. I don't recall it now.

Mr. Cruce: I would like Your Honor to see that letter from his son.

The Court: Counsel may examine the letter from his son.

A. It is in my grip.

The Court: Now, you may let Judge Cruce see the letter from your son if he desires to see it after you leave the witness stand.

Q. Mr. Fritsche, describe as nearly as you can the Indian woman whom you knew at Leavenworth, Kansas; describe her as you knew her in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. She was a woman I should judge weighed about a hundred and thirty-five or forty pounds, medium height, big breasts, prominent jaw bones, cheek bones, and Indian complexion; black hair combed flat on her head.

Q. What was her appearance as to dress?

A. Always slouchy.

Mr. Stuart: Good looking?

A. Yes, she was a good looking woman in features.

The Court: How did she wear her hair?

A. As I recall it, just flat back, combed back, not braided, tight in a knot.

Q. How did she dress whether neat or otherwise?

A. Otherwise.

The Court: He said slouchy.

Mr. Stuart: You mean she was a pretty loud dresser?

A. No, sir.

Q. You were referring, in your examination by Judge Stuart in answer to a question, that you said you were in financial stress and nervous. Now, when did you have reference to that condition, the time they took your deposition, or in the office here at Muskogee?

A. When they took my deposition in Leavenworth.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. How came them to bring you down here in an automobile instead of on the train?

A. I don't know, I would rather have taken the train, it was a very chilly day.

Q. How came you to get in that automobile, who put you in the automobile? A. This gentleman over here.

Q. Why didn't they put you on the train?

A. Too late for a train.

Q. Did you ask him to let you come on a train?

A. I asked him if there was any train and he said no we were too late for a train and we were going in an automobile.

Q. Don't you remember, Mr. Fritsche, that that old fortune teller over there was afflicted with dysentery, the old fortune teller?

A. I saw her frequently in the store but I very seldom waited on her, because if she bought any opiate, I was not a licensed pharmacist.

Q. You were working for Mr. Lange? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you and Mr. Lange both saw that old fortune teller and sold her a balsam preparation for dysentery?

A. I did not.

Q. Did you see Mr. Lange sell her balsam?

A. Saw him sell her medicine.

Q. Something for dysentery, a balsam preparation?

A. He might have sold her an opiate preparation.

Q. But you saw him sell it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. To her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. For dysentery? A. Yes, sir.

(Witness dismissed.)

And thereupon, C. S. WALKER, was recalled for further direct examination on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. You are the same Mr. Walker who took the stand this morning? A. Yes, sir.

Q. From Tulsa.

Mr. Cruce: I understand our objection to that testimony is overruled.

The Court: Perhaps when the question is asked you had better interpose your objection.

Q. Mr. Walker, when was it Sadie James came to you about Mr. Bartlett?

A. My recollection is it was sometime in 1914.

Q. Do you know what time in the year?

A. Sometime in the summer, possibly the early part of the summer.

Q. Did she make any statement to you in that conversation about Minnie Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Relate the conversation?

Mr. Cruce: We object to that, if the Court please on behalf of Mr. Page on the ground that it is hearsay and incompetent.

The Court: I suppose now that you have reference to her statements about Minnie Atkins as coming from the defendant Page and others?

Mr. German: This particular conversation I may not have his testimony correctly in mind.

The Court: Well, the objection will be overruled and exception noted. The ruling so far as statements made by this witness Sadie James at the time now inquired about—the ruling which was made this afternoon being the reason for overruling this objection. Exceptions are noted.

Mr. Cruce: It won't be necessary to renew the objection.

The Court: And the objection may be considered as going to all of the questions propounded to this witness as the statements made by Sadie James.

A. She told me that she had been out to Seattle, Washington, in company with Bettie Mann in search for Minnie Atkins, and that they had found Minnie Atkins out at Seattle, or right near Seattle. That she and Betty had gone out there in the employ of H. U. Bartlett of Sapulpa. That they had found Minnie and that Betty Mann had without her knowledge or consent sold Minnie to Charlie Page, or turned her over to Charlie Page. That she afterwards found that Minnie had made a deal with Mr. Long by which she was to turn Minnie over to Mr. Page——

Q. You mean Betty had?

A. Betty had made a deal with Mr. Long and that within the course of a few days after she found Minnie, Mr. Long was in Seattle. And that Betty had detectives following her so as to keep her in the dark on the proposition, and that she and Betty before going away had entered into a contract of some description with Mr. Bartlett whereby he had promised to pay them a certain sum of money upon the location of Minnie Atkins.

Q. You mean before going to Seattle?

A. Yes, sir, before going to Seattle. That after Long had gotten hold of Minnie and taken her away from Bartlett, that Bartlett had refused to pay them the money he had agreed to pay under the contract before they went away. And asked me to assist her in the collection of her portion of it under that contract. Mr. Bartlett was refusing to pay it because he was charging them with having sold out on him. But that she, not knowing of Bettie's sale of Minnie to Page, thought she was entitled to her half of the money under her contract with Bartlett, and wanted to know if I would represent her in the collection of money from Bartlett. The contract as drawn between Betty and Minnie—I mean between Betty and Sadie and Bartlett was in the possession of George Brown, and attorney at Tulsa, whose office at that time was on the floor above where my office was at that time. I went with Sadie up to Mr. Brown's office to look at a copy of the contract or the contract. We went up and I made an examination of it. We came back to the office and I then took up with Mr. Bartlett the settlement of Sadie's portion of the money under that contract. We didn't discuss at that time whether there was a Thomas Atkins or anything about the boy. We only discussed the matter pertaining to the collection of the Bartlett money.

Q. Then, you may pass over the details of that discussion.

A. After the course of—— Oh, I wouldn't be certain as to how long, possibly two weeks or three weeks, or might have been longer than that, Sadie came back to my office and told me she was on a deal with Mr. Page now to establish the birth and existence of Tommy Atkins.

Q. Now, prior to the time she came and told you that she was on a deal with him, did she or not discuss with you the matter of seeing Mr. Page, or was there a conversation in which the matter of seeing Mr. Page was suggested by you or her?

A. Yes, sir, she said that—well, I was coming to that—I told her when she had that contract there was some question in my mind about her being able to collect anything under that contract.

Q. You mean the Bartlett? A. The Bartlett contract.

Q. Well, I should not have interrupted you; go on.

A. And I said to her, the next time you draw a contract, if you want me to have anything to do with it, let me see it before you execute it and then she came back to see me about the contract she said she was going to enter into with Mr. Page and Mr. Long. I had spent considerable time myself in investigating the Thomas Atkins case for a client of mine, and I asked her when she began to talk about the contract with Mr. Page, if she thought there was any such a person, or had there ever existed any such a person as Thomas Atkins. She said no. I asked her then what kind of a contract, or what kind of a deal—or words to that effect—what kind of a deal or contract was she going into with Mr. Page; she said she was going to get witnesses by whom she [] prove, for Mr. Page, that Thomas Atkins was a son of Minnie Atkins, and the place and time of his birth and his real existence.

Q. Now, Mr. Walker, do you know—did you have any conversation with Sadie, about going to Mr. Page's office?

A. Yes, sir. Something was said about my going to Mr. Page's office, and she——

Q. In what connection was that suggestion or was that or not prior to the time that she came to you about going a contract with Mr. Page?

A. Yes, sir, she told me at that time—the time I was discussing the Bartlett contract with her in connection with the contemplated deal with Mr. Page, that she wanted me to go with her to Mr. Page's office to see Mr. Page about the execution of the contract with Mr. Page.

Q. Did she say whether or not she had seen Mr. Page up to that time?

A. Yes, she said that she had talked with Mr. Page and talked with Mr. Long; a number of talks with Mr. Long.

Q. Did she say what she said to either of them about Thomas Atkins?

A. I asked her the question. After she had told me that she was going out for the purpose of getting these witnesses, if Mr. Page and Mr. Josey knew what she was going to do. I said is it possible that Mr. Page and Mr. Josey know the character of the mission you are going on, and she said that she didn't think Mr. Josey did, but that Mr. Page knew because she had discussed it with him; she said that Mr. Page, using our language, she said of course Mr. Page knows, there never has been any such a boy as Thomas Atkins because I told him so; he knows that I know because of my associations with Minnie in the early days.

Q. State whether or not she told you where she had seen Mr. Page and Mr. Long the first time about talking with them.

A. Oh, Sadie made too many trips to my office about that time for me to remember which occasion but upon one occasion she was in my office in the afternoon and she told me that she had—oh, she was not—yes, one afternoon, that she was going over to see Mr. Page and Mr. Long about this matter, and my recollection is that she came back in the course of an hour or so, and told me that she had made an engagement with Mr. Page and Mr. Long to meet them at 8 o'clock that night in the park at Sand Springs.

Q. Did she say anything about whether she had gotten her a job, in that conversation?

A. She said that the deal was then pending but that it had not been closed up. She was going that night to meet them in the park for the purpose of finishing the detail, or finishing the deal about just what she was to do or what she was to get. I said to her——

> Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, I think it is going a little far to let him tell what he told her.
>
> The Court: Well, only in so far as it is necessary to tell what Sadie had to say.

Q. Go ahead. The court says so far as is necessary to connect up with what Sadie has to say.

A. I told Sadie to come back the next morning and let me know whether Mr. Long and Mr. Page had really entered into such a contract with her. The next morning about ten o'clock, she came to my office and told me that she had entered into a written contract with Mr. Page and Mr. Long which was on compliance with the meetings they had had the night before in the park at Sand Springs, whereby she had agreed to go get the witnesses to establish the existence of——

> Mr. Cruce: Well, that contract is in writing, if the Court please and we object to that.
>
> The Court: Yes.

Q. Now, did you or not see that contract? A. Yes.

Q. State to the Court how you happened to?

A. Sadie came to my office and said that she wanted me to go over to the bank and read it.

Q. What did you say to her?

A. I told her that I would go over to the bank and see the contract and I went.

Q. Did you go alone or not?

A. Why, my recollection is that she came—we didn't walk right along together. She walked along behind, my recollection is.

Q. What bank did you go to?

A. Went to the First National.

Q. I show you Government's Exhibit No. 42, and ask you whether that is the contract that you saw?

A. That is the contract that they showed me that morning with the exception that this notation down here, this receipt of $250.00 on the bottom, has been put on there since I saw it, is my recollection.

Q. Did Sadie tell you anything about how much, prior to the time that you saw that contract, how much she was to get?

A. She told me that they were trading on $500.00, that they were to give her $500.00 is my recollection. No, I will take that back. I think that her expenses were not to exceed $500.00; I think maybe she was to get a thousand; I wouldn't be sure about that.

Q. Now, when did she tell you that?

A. Well, sometime before she went out to the park to see them; I don't remember which occasion.

Q. Now, in either of the conversations that you had with Sadie which you have been testifying about, did she tell you anything about—as to what Minnie had said to her about having a son named Tommy Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did she tell you?

A. She told me that she and Minnie had talked the matter over and that Minnie had told her that she never had had any such a boy as Tommy Atkins.

Q. Did she tell you anything about what she suggested to Minnie to do with reference to that matter, or say?

A. She told me that Minnie got nervous or uneasy about the matter and that she told her not to be uneasy that she could make the proposition stand up—or words to that effect.

Q. Did she say anything about whether she had represented herself as a Government officer in dealing with Minnie?

A. I believe she did; I believe, she told me, Mr. German, that she told Minnie that she was working in the interest of the Government in some way.

Q. Now, state whether on the afternoon when Minnie—when Sadie came to your office the second time and stated that she had been to Mr. Page's office and that they were negotiating and that she was going to meet Mr. Page in the park that night, whether she told you—have you related all the conversation that—all that she told you that evening that you now recall? A. No, I don't think so.

Q. What else was in that conversation with reference to this matter?

A. My recollection is now, Mr. German, that she came in the first time that afternoon and asked what could be done with her if she went off to another state and manufactured testimony and got witnesses to swear that which was false; I told her that they would send her to the penitentiary for it. She said I am not going to testify, though, in the case; I said that would make no difference: but she said, I am going to to this in another state, not in Oklahoma. I said that would make no difference and if you do anything of that sort they will send you to the penitentiary, sure; she then began to relate the pending contract between she and Page and Long and Josey. I then said to her that the- will send you and Long and Page and Josey to the penitentiary if you all pull off any such a stunt as that. Then she related to me that she was not going to do it in the state, that she was going to manufacture the testimony out in Kansas if she did it; that these big law suits were being pulled off down here and that she had a good opportunity to make some money and that she was going to make some money, and I told her she was going to have a still better opportunity to go to the penitentiary, and she said if she should make a big killing out of this law suit she wouldn't care if she did go to the penitentiary for a few years, and then, I said to her that Mr. Page and Mr. Long and Mr. Josey wouldn't have anything to do with such a raw proposition—a raw deal, or words to that effect, and she said I am going to meet them tonight, or I am going over to their office this afternoon and see them about it, and she then, after that, came back and said she had an engagement to meet them at 8 o'clock, and she left my office and I saw her no more until the next morning.

Q. And was it at that time she told that she told them that there was no Tommy Atkins?

A. Either then or the next day, I don't know which. I said Page and Josey don't know this, do they, what you are fixing to do; and she said, I don't think Mr. Josey does; Mr. Page does, because I told him so. I told him there never was a Tommy Atkins—never had been and he said, oh, hell, you go on and get these witnesses.

Q. Now, Mr. Walker, after that, a week or two, did you have another conversation with her about her working under this contract?

A. She came back to my office some two or three—might have been four weeks, I can't be positive about those times, it has been some time ago—she came into my office and said to me that she had been up to Leavenworth, Kansas, and that she had gotten the witnesses by which she was going to prove birth and life and existence of Thomas Atkins; that she had made arrangements for them to testify to all the necessary proof that she needed to carry out her contract.

Q. Did she call the name of any party in Leavenworth in connection with that?

A. She called the name of two or three but I don't remember the names of any now, except the negro lawyer of Dennis Jones, I believe is the name. She called another name, I believe, but I don't remember.

Q. Was it Rube Smith?

A. I wouldn't be sure about it, Mr. German; I didn't tax my mind with it. I wouldn't be certain of it.

Q. Mr. Walker, did you on or about that time, have a conversation with her about Judge Allen in which she made some statement, you and she, about Judge Allen and her work in this case?

A. Some while after, she came back from Kansas, if I may tell leading up to it——

Q. Yes. Now, don't go beyond the date of December 4th, 1914.

A. Well, this was sometime—I don't know about the date, but sometime shortly after she went out there.

The Court: Was it before December 4th, 1914?

A. Yes, sir, that is my recollection; that it was sometime in the early part of the fall, is my recollection now. She came back to my office a number of times and was uneasy about the situation and talked to me a number of times about what she had done and about what was the probable outcome of it. I told her that as soon as this case——

Q. Now, let me see, in order to make sure of the competency of this, did you learn the fact of her having made a so-called confession to the Government?

A. Did I learn of it?

Q. Learn of the fact. Did you hear of the fact?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, were these conversations before that?

A. These conversations were before that, yes, sir.

Q. Alright.

A. She was uneasy about the situation. I told her that it was only a question of time that they were bound to catch her when they got to taking the depositions and got to the trial especially of this case, and she asked me what I would advise her to do; I told her that having gone into it with her eyes opened like she had and being advised of the liability, I thought the best thing that she could do was to go to Judge Allen—Judge Allen's office and make a confession of the whole situation and swear to it, if she was telling the truth about what she had done. She didn't tell me what she was going to do at that time but came back later——

Mr. Cruce: Let me suggest this is clearly incompetent.

The Court: Oh, yes, it hasn't any bearing about the case or the point about which this evidence is offered.

Mr. German: That is true.

Q. Now, did the conversation about which you relate now, did it take place after the so-called confession?

The Court: Now, does that relate as to what she is purported to have told this witness about what occurred before Judge Allen?

Mr. German: Yes, that is what I am trying to get at.

The Court: You have in mind, no doubt what the witness' testimony will be upon the point. Now, clearly it is incompetent for him to say now what was said by her occurred before Judge Allen.

Mr. German: I think so, Your Honor. He had so many conversations and told her so many that it is difficult for me to have them in mind.

The Court: Now, I have permitted this testimony to go on, assuming that you were confining this witness to the statement made during the course of her transaction with the defendants Page and Josey and others.

Mr. German: Yes, sir, I was not attempting to go beyond that; in fact I was trying to hold myself within the limits. May I suggest that she was in the employ of Mr. Page only two or three days before she made the confession?

The Court: I thought that you were coming to something that transpired after the confession?

Mr. German: No indeed, that is all.

Mr. Cruce: We now move, if the Court please, to exclude all of this witness' testimony on the ground that it is hearsay and incompetent.

The Court: Overruled; exception noted.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Judge, how long have you been Sadie James' lawyer at Tulsa? A. Sir?

Q. How long have you been Sadie's lawyer at Tulsa?

A. I don't know, Judge, something like six or eight years.

Q. Six or eight years. How many crimes did you ever defend her for?

A. Bootlegging and murder were the only ones.

Q. Bootlegging and murder? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew, I suppose, that she was a very notorious character in that community, did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And sustained a very bad reputation?

A. Well, I suppose so; as bad as a nigger of that character of that kind has in a community, as much character.

Q. You knew she ran a place there known as the Bucket of Blood?

A. No, sir, I don't think she ran the Bucket of Blood, that has not been my information.

Q. You never heard that she ran that? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't run it?

A. I said that I hadn't heard that she ran it.

Q. Hadn't heard that. Now, when Sadie came to you to talk to you about this matter, she told you that Fred Cook was after her, didn't she? A. I think not.

Q. Didn't she tell you that? A. I don't think she did.

Q. Don't think she did? A. No, sir.

Q. And when had—and she had considerable conversation with you about it there? A. I beg your pardon, Judge?

Q. She had a considerable conversation with you, there, about it, didn't she? A. About what, Judge?

Q. How long was your conversation with Sadie, Mr. Walker, about—— A. Oh, I suppose we have had——

Q. I mean the first conversation when she came to you and said she was in trouble—scared?

A. Oh, I can't say now, Judge.

Q. Well, you can give me some idea, can't you?

A. Well, I would suppose she was in my office at that time anywhere from ten to forty minutes.

Q. From ten to forty minutes, and she asked you to go over to Page's didn't she? A. She——

Q. Can't you answer my question? Now you are a lawyer, didn't she ask you to go over to Page's with her?

A. She said that she would want me to go to Page's with her.

Q. Said that she would want you to go? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what did you tell her?

A. I told her that I would go when she got ready.

Q. Said you would go.

A. She was going to draw an instrument, she said.

Q. You didn't tell her that you wouldn't go, did you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't tell her that you wouldn't go? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't tell her you go on and see him and come back and tell me what he said; you didn't tell her that, did you?

A. I don't know what conversation you have reference to.

Q. I am talking about this one that she told you that she was going over to Page's.

A. Well, at that conversation, she didn't ask me to go at that time

Q. Alright.

A. She says, when I get ready to make a contract with Page, I would like to have you look it over.

Q. Like to have you look it over? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, coming to the second conversation, she wanted you to go then, didn't she?

A. No, she never fixed a time when she wanted me to go.

Q. She never did ask you to go, did she, Mr. Walker?

A. No, sir, she never fixed a time when she wanted me to go, an hour or a day but she said——

Q. Well?

A. Wait a moment, I will answer your question. She said when I get ready for this contract, I want you to go.

Q. Did she ever get ready? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, did she ask you to go?

A. I presume so—no sir.

Q. She never did ask you to go, then, [A.] no, sir.

Q. Never did ask you to go, then? A. No, sir.

Q. Even when she got ready? A. No, sir.

Q. And you didn't tell her to go over there and talk with him, and come back and tell you about it, did you, Mr. Walker?

A. Yes, I told her to go on and if she made that sort of deal, to come back and I would like to know whether Page and Josey would go into that raw a proposition.

Q. And she did come back and told you that they went into the raw proposition, didn't she? A. Yes, sir, she did.

Q. And you didn't inform the Government about it, did you? A. I did later on.

Q. Just kept still and you didn't do it that day, did you?

A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. How long after before you did it?

A. Well, Judge, I can't tell you that.

Q. Let's figure, Mr. Walker, how long before you told.

A. I can't tell you, Judge.

Q. I know but you can give me some idea.

Q. My recollection is, Judge, that it was sometime afterwards but I wouldn't say; it might have been a month and it might have been two months.

Q. It might have been two months? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew all the time that she was putting up a job on the Government, didn't you? Knew Charles Page, and Josey, men living there in Tulsa, were putting up a job on the Government, didn't you?

A. No, sir, I didn't think Josey was; I didn't think Josey knew it.

Q. She said Page was? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You thought Page was, didn't you?

A. I thought Page was because she told me, yes, sir.

Q. You thought he was? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't have any trouble about seeing that contract between Page and Sadie James, did you?

A. No, sir, Mr. Bradshaw, the banker, gave it to Sadie upon her demand.

Q. It was there for your inspection, wasn't it?

A. Yes, sir, it was there in the bank in escrow.

Q. Mr. Walker, you were also Betty Mann's attorney, weren't you?

A. No, sir, I never represented her in my life.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, W. I. WILLIAMS produced, sworn, and examined as a witness for and on behalf of the Government, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. W. I. Williams.

Q. You are an attorney at law? A. I am.

Q. Practicing at Tulsa? A. Yes.

Q. How long have you been practicing at Tulsa?

A. Since the middle of January, 1911.

Q. Who is your partner? A. R. L. Davidson.

Q. How long have you and he been in partnership?

A. Since that date, since the date of my going to Tulsa.

Q. Do you know a woman named Sadie James, a negro woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how long have you known her?

A. About five years.

Q. You knew her in 1914? A. Yes.

Q. Did you or Mr. Davidson, your partner, represent her in any matters without telling what they were?

A. Mr. Davidson represented her in some matters before I had any representations for her, and later on I represented her in a matter.

Q. Is the matter that you represented her in, did it relate in any way to any contract that she had with the Gem Oil Company or Page and Josey? A. Yes.

Q. Well, did she come to see you about that?

A. Yes, she did.

Q. When was that?

A. Sometime in the early fall of 1914.

Q. In order to fix the time with reference to another matter, state whether you learned of her having made a so-called confession to the Government officers?

A. Yes, I heard of her having made a confession.

Q. Was this before or after that? A. Before.

Q. In the conversation, did she say anything about a contract with the Gem Oil Company or Page and Josey?

> Mr. Cruce: We reserve, if the Court please, the same objection.
>
> The Court: The record may show the same objection to this witness' testimony along this line; overruled and exception.

A. I would like to go back just a little bit and say that Mr. Davidson had represented Sadie in two or three matters, but I had not met Sadie James except to see her come to the office. I knew who she was, but I had never talked to her except to speak to her when she came in or something of that sort. She came to our office sometime in the early fall of 1914 and asked for Mr. Davidson. He happened to be out of town. I told her that he was away but that he would be back in a few days, and I asked her if I could do anything for her, and she said no that she wanted to see him. She left without stating her business. She came back in a few days and asked for Mr. Davidson again and I told her that Mr. Davidson had not returned, and again I asked her if I could attend to anything for her. I am not sure whether she at that time or whether she made the third visit before she stated the matter to me, but on the second or third trip she then stated what she wanted. She said that she had a contract with the Gem Oil Company by which she was to hunt up and produce evidence to show that Minnie Atkins had had a son named Tommy Atkins, and that when she had produced that evidence to the satisfaction of Mr. Page, that she was to receive a thousand dollars for her services and to receive her expenses in an amount not exceeding five hundred dollars. She said she had complied with the contract and that she wanted her money and asked me whether or not she could recover it. She said she had been to see Mr. Page and that Mr. Page had put her off and hadn't paid her. I said to her, I don't know whether you can recover it or not, I haven't seen your contract. She told me that the contract was in writing and in escrow in the First National Bank of Tulsa, Oklahoma. I said, from your statement you are entitled to your money, but I said I can't pass definitely on the proposition of whether you are or not until I see the contract between you. She then asked me if I would go to the bank and look at it, and I said yes, if the bank will allow me to see it I will do so. I told her to go down to the bank and ask them if they would permit me as her attorney to examine it and if they would to call me over the 'phone and I would come down to the bank and look at it. She went down and in a little while she called me. I went down to the First National Bank and she was there on the outside waiting for me. We went in and Mr. Bradshaw, who was one of the officers of the bank, is the man who showed us the contract. The contract was written on the back of an envelope.

Q. State whether or not Government's Exhibit A-42 is the contract you refer to?

A. This is the contract with the exception that this receipt here dated November 10, 1914, for two hundred and fifty dollars, has been put on since I saw it. We looked at the contract in the presence of Mr. Bradshaw and I made a copy of the contract and took it back to my office. Sadie went back to the office with me. I told her under this contract she was not entitled to this money until a court of jurisdiction had rendered a final judgment in this case in favor of the Gem Oil Company, and that if Mr. Page paid her any part of this money at that time, that it was merely a piece of graciousness on his part. Well, she said she had talked with him and he was disposed to pay her because she had rendered the services and he was satisfied. She asked me if I would see Mr. Page for her. I told her I would. My recollection is I called up that afternoon and inquired at Mr. Page's office for him and he was not in. And she left with the understanding that we were to meet and go together to his office and have a talk about the matter. It was several days before I got Mr. Page, Mr. Page was out of his office a good deal at that time, and so I didn't get to see him, for several days, and one day she called me up and told me Mr. Page was at the office. We went over there to see Mr. Page. Mr. Page, Sadie, and myself talked about this contract. Mr. Page said that Sadie had rendered capable and efficient services and that so far as furnishing the witnesses was concerned she had complied with her contract; that she had earned the money and that so far as he was concerned he was ready and willing to pay her the money called for in the contract, but that Mr. Josey objected. That Mr. Josey was interested in this contract and that he was unwilling to pay this money at the time because he wanted the contract actually complied with, literally and technically. And Mr. Page said, now Sadie is a bright smart negro woman—in her presence and to me, and he said she had done her work capably and efficiently and I want her to have her money. And he says, I will say this much, you shall be paid two hundred and fifty dollars no matter whether Josey objects or doesn't object. While we were there he sent out to Mr. Josey's office to see if he was there, but word came back that he was out of town. Mr. Page said, I will take the matter up with Mr. Josey when he returns and if he is willing I will agree to pay Sadie the whole thousand dollars. I don't know that we talked about the expenses except casually. So, we separated with that understanding that Sadie was to receive two hundred and fifty dollars out of this contract no matter whether Mr. Josey objected or didn't object. I went back to my office and Sadie went away, I don't know where she went. Mr. Page said that the two hundred and fifty dollars would be issued or drawn within a few days. Well, it wasn't but a little while until Sadie came up to my office and asked if I had inquired about the two hundred and fifty dollars, and I hadn't, and I called up Mr. Page's office and he was out. Finally I got Mr. Page on the line and Mr. Page said to me that he had been out of the office and that the two hundred and fifty dollars had not been issued but would be. And then he went on to say that the Gem Oil Company and the Gypsy Oil Company had about reached a settlement between the two parties over their contest over the leases involved, and that when that was done Mr. Josey would be willing and he would be willing to pay Sadie the other part of the thousand dollars, seven hundred and fifty dollars. I never went back to Mr. Page's office again. Finally I got word—Sadie called me and told me she would like to know about this two hundred and fifty dollars, and I told her about the conversation between Mr. Page and myself; about the prospective settlement between the Gem Oil Company and the Gypsy Oil Company. So, some little time after that Sadie came up and told me she had gotten the two hundred and fifty dollars, and that is the two hundred and fifty dollars that is receipted here. I know I was called and asked if I wanted the money paid to me or to Sadie, and I said just pay it to Sadie. That discussion was had at the time Sadie and I were at Mr. Page's office and I said just pay it to Sadie. I saw Sadie some little time after that and she said that Mr. Page had said to her that he was willing to pay this seven hundred and fifty dollars if she would go and take it in furniture; that he wanted her to buy furniture and open up a rooming house there in Tulsa—and she gave me the name of a furniture store of one of the second or third grade furniture stores that Mr. Page said she could go and buy seven hundred and fifty dollars worth of furniture for the establishment of a rooming house.

Mr. Cruce: If the Court will pardon me.

The Court: It seems to me that this is getting outside of any range to which this testimony was limited.

Mr. German: Of course there are some details.

Q. Mr. Williams, in any of these conversations, did Sadie tell you what Minnie had told her?

Mr. Cruce: Now, I hate to be captious, but that is double hearsay, he is now testifying what Sadie said that Minnie said.

Mr. German: Here is the force of that, Your Honor, Sadie now tells that Minnie told her that there wasn't any Tommy, at Seattle. Now, if Sadie, prior to the time she would have occasion to fabricate, stated anything along that line to this witness, then it comes under the rule.

The Court: Well, that is probably true.

Mr. Cruce: Note our exception.

(Question read).

A. Not until sometime later, Sadie came to my office one day——

The Court: Now, when was this, what year?

A. 1914.

The Court: Before this alleged confession?

A. Before I heard of the alleged confession.

The Court: Well, was it later than December 4th?

A. I think not, I think it was sometime the latter part of November, that is my judgment but I am not positive. I know it was before the report that I heard that she had made a confession. She came to my office and said to me, she said—she said, Mr. Williams I am going to quit working for Mr. Page. She said he wont pay me the seven hundred and fifty dollars and I am not going to work for him any longer. She said I am going to work for H. U. Bartlett. And she said, there isn't any Tommy Atkins and there never was any Tommy Atkins. I said, Sadie, you have got no right if that is the truth you have no right to keep that disclosure from Mr. Page. That is the first time anything had ever passed between me and her that indicated that her transaction with Mr. Page was not in good faith. I had thought that her transactions were in good faith. I said, now, Sadie if that is the case you have no right to continue in the employ of Mr. Page and you ought to discontinue that sort of thing. She says, Mr. Williams, Mr. Page knows there isn't any Tommy Atkins and so does Frank Long. I said, well, Sadie, you ought not to be a party to anything of that sort—— I thought that Sadie was telling me a lie when she told me this latter statement and that she was mad because Mr. Page wouldn't pay her the seven hundred and fifty dollars.

Mr. Cruce: That latter testimony, if the Court please, we move to exclude because it is hearsay and incompetent.

The Court: Well, your objection will be overruled and exception noted.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Judge, how long have you been practicing law?

A. Twenty four years the 28th day of last month.

Q. The 28th day of last month. When Sadie James came to you to collect this money from Mr. Page, the first thing she did she gave you as you understood a full and complete statement of her case? A. So I understood.

Q. And as a lawyer you told her the contract as she related it to you with Mr. Page was a just and lawful contract?

A. I did based on her oral statement.

Q. And acting on that statement, you went down there and looked at that contract? A. Yes, that is true.

Q. And after you looked at that contract you made up your mind it wasn't good? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And acting on that you collected this two hundred and fifty dollars? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she never for a moment intimated that there was anything wrong?

A. When she came to my office long after the two hundred and fifty dollars had been collected and paid over and notified me that she was going to quit.

Q. And she was very angry? A. She was.

Q. And in a very angry way told you what she said?

A. Yes, she told me she was going to quit working for Mr. Page and was going to work for Mr. Bartlett.

(Witness dismissed).

And thereupon Court adjourned until nine-thirty tomorrow morning.

And thereafter, and on May 8th, 1917, at 10 o'clock A. M., the court convened pursuant to adjournment, and further proceedings herein were had as follows:

Mr. Cruce: If the Court please, may we recall Mr. Fritsche?

The Court: For further cross?

Mr. Cruce: Yes, sir.

The Court: Let Mr. Fritsche be called. (The witness Fritsche fails to respond). If the witness is not here, you may recall him later, gentlemen.

Mr. German: Your Honor, we offer a portion of the testimony given by Mr. E. C. Hanford in this court at the Receivership hearing in this case, in the first two or three days of March, 1915. I will read the portion which we offer, page 312 of the printed transcript, the following: "By Mr. Rice. Q. You may state your name and residence. A. E. C. Hanford, Seattle, Washington. Q. You are an attorney at law? A. I am. Q. You represent the defendant Minnie Atkins, now Mrs. Minnie Folk, in this case? A. I do. Q. You are also, I believe, a defendant in the case? A. Yes, I am a party. Q. Was you ever in the Army, Mr. Hanford? A. Yes, sir, I was." Then, on page 322, the following: "Q. You were present at the hearing at Sapulpa when she", referring to Minnie, "testified where the child was born? A. I was. Q. And at that hearing she testified that the child was born in the Sisters Hospital? A. Yes. Q. Now after that hearing at Sapulpa, you may state whether or not you made any investigation with her as to the place of birth of the child in Leavenworth. A. Yes, I started back to Seattle with Minnie and she was anxious to stop off at Leavenworth, and I went over there with her, and I went to the Sisters Hospital that she remembered and took me to and I asked the Sister Superior to let me see the record of that date, and about that time, and I looked first through the years 1884 and 1885, and I found no record of Minnie being there, and the Sister Superior told me that she was satisfied that nobody had been in the hospital at that time in a confinement case, because they did not receive them. Well, Minnie asked me when the Sister went out, did she say that I was never in the hospital? And I said yes, and she said, well I was; then, I asked the Sister Superior to let me go through all their records, and she agreed to bring them to me, one at a time, and she brought me a record for the year 1886, and in the month of October, I think from the 7th to the 21st, as I remember it, of October 1886, showed Minnie Peterkin." Then on page 324, the following: "Q. Peterkin lived in Massachusetts? A. Lived in Boston, Massachusetts. Q. Did you see Peterkin? A. I did, I saw Peterkin. Q. You had some conversation with him relative to Minnie? A. Yes." Then on page 325, the following: "Q. After you left the east, you returned to Tulsa, or Sapulpa? A. I returned to Tulsa. Q. And proceeded with the investigation at Leavenworth, I presume? A. No, I returned to Leavenworth, and I went to see some old soldiers that Peterkin had given the names of at Leavenworth to see if they knew anything about Minnie and I found nothing there, so I then came to Tulsa. Q. Now, at that time that you returned to Tulsa, did you receive information as to the name of the house and locality of the house in which the child was born? A. Yes, I heard from Mr. Long a name. Q. Did you go to Leavenworth after you learned the name of the house in which the child was born? A. Yes, I went to Leavenworth. Q. Did you make any investigation of the locality in which this house was situated? A. I was not over at the locality where the house was situated, the thing was this: Mr. Long was going up there with Sadie James and he had already arranged to go with Betty Mann who knew something about the birth of Thomas, but we had no confidence in her, and he was going with Sadie James; it was arranged that I should go with Betty Mann and not let either one know the other was there, and I should find out what Betty Mann could dig up, and we should see that if it checked with his, and we would have a check on Sadie James. Q. So far as you were concerned, the trip was made and you went to Leavenworth with Betty? A. I went to Leavenworth with Betty."

And thereupon, MALCOLM E. ROSSER was produced, sworn, and examined as a witness for and on behalf of the Government, and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Judge, you are an attorney for the Nancy Atkins interest in this case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you interested in the matter of litigation affecting the title to this land in 1914?

A. Yes, sometime in July, 1914, at the request of Mr. Maxey, who was sick at the time, I went to Sapulpa and took part in certain proceedings.

Q. Were you present there when Minnie Atkins testified? A. Yes.

Q. In July, 1914? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you hear her testimony? A. Yes, sir.

Q. State whether or not she testified as to how many children she had given birth to at Leavenworth?

A. She testified having given birth to one child at Leavenworth.

Q. Did she then and there make any mention of the fact of the birth of Robert Lee Peterkin to her at Leavenworth July 30th, 1886? A. No, sir.

> Mr. Cruce: Just a moment, if your Honor please, I think we already have our objection in the record, but on behalf of Mr. Page we object to that testimony.
>
> The Court: Your objection will be noted.
>
> Mr. Cruce: Exception.

Q. You say she didn't mention that?

A. She didn't mention that, no, sir.

Q. Did she make any mention in her testimony there of the death of Robert Lee Peterkin in the month of August 1886? A. She did not.

Q. Now, Judge, were you present at Leavenworth, Kansas, in October, 1914, at the taking of depositions for use in the suit pending in the State Court?

A. Yes, at one time when they took a lot of testimony.

Q. Were you there when Dennis Jones testified?

A. Yes.

Q. Were you there when Rube Smith testified? A. Yes.

Q. When Walter Banks testified? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Sam Nash? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is the nationality of the four persons I have named? A. They are all negroes.

Q. Who produced them as witnesses there before the party taking the testimony, on whose behalf I mean were they produced?

> Mr. Stuart: Your Honor please, I would like to inquire what this examination is for.
>
> The Court: Is this not shown—I remember that you offered the transcript of the depositions of these several witnesses. Your statement was at the time that it was offered to the point that these parties had produced these witnesses on their behalf as deponents, and your theory was that that tended to sustain your contention that they had entered into a scheme to fabricate evidence. Now, don't the depositions themselves merely show clearly who produced the witnesses?
>
> Mr. German: Well, I don't know, that is the only reason I am asking this question.
>
> The Court: Judge Rosser has testified that these witnesses were negroes; he is asked now who produced them. I think the record will show that.

Mr. Stuart: Mr. German knows who called those witnesses. He was there.

Mr. German: Well, I wasn't there, Judge.

The Court: Well, Judge, who called the witnesses?

A. Your Honor, Mr. Rice, who I understand was at that time attorney for Mr. Page and also Minnie Atkins, called the witnesses. I think possibly Mr. Hanford may have called some of them, but I am not sure.

Mr. German: That is all.

Mr. Stuart: That is all.

(Witness dismissed).

Mr. German: Now, your Honor, there is one other question I want to ask Judge Rosser.

The Court: Ask him right there.

Q. Judge, were you present at the taking of testimony of Minnie Atkins by deposition in Rice and Lyons' office in the fall of 1914? A. No, sir.

Mr. German: Your Honor, now we desire to offer certain portions of the testimony given by Minnie Atkins by deposition in the office of Rice & Lyons in Tulsa, in the case pending in the District Court of Creek County, the same case in which the depositions at Leavenworth were taken in October, 1914, by Minnie Folk and her co-plaintiffs; which deposition of Minnie Atkins was taken on the 22nd day of October, 1914, filed in the District Court of Creek County in November, 1914. This deposition was taken after the deposition was taken at Leavenworth. I will read the portion which we desire to offer if I may. If the Court will prefer we can copy them and file them.

The Court: Perhaps you had better read them.

Mr. Cruce: On behalf of Mr. Page we object, because it is incompetent, and if any part is read we desire that they offer it all.

Mr. German: It is offered for the limited purpose of showing the fabrication.

The Court: The objection will be noted. You may read it to the record such portion as you may desire.

Counsel for defendant may read such other portions as they may conceive should be offered.

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, we would like to reserve the right to read our part when we put on our case.

Mr. German: The plaintiff then produced as a witness MINNIE ATKINS, MINNIE FOLK, who after being duly sworn to testify the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Rice.

Q. When did you leave the Fort?

A. I don't know what year I left the Fort in.

Q. Let me ask you this: About how long after Tommy was born before you left Leavenworth and the Fort?

A. He was a year and a half old.

Q. Where did you go?

A. When I left Leavenworth where did I go?

Q. Yes? A. I went to Denver, Colorado.

Q. Is there a Fort near Denver? A. Fort Logan.

Q. Were you at Fort Logan? A. Yes.

Q. What did you do at Fort Logan?

A. Oh, I worked around.

Q. Were any children born to you at Fort Logan?

A. Yes.

Q. When you left Fort Logan, where did you go?

A. After I left?

Q. After you left Fort Logan, where did you go?

A. Then, I went to Muskogee, then I came back again.

Q. Now, was it on that trip to Muskogee that you attended the payment Mr. Brown testified about?

A. Yes, that was the time I got my money.

Q. Who came with you to Muskogee from Fort Lawton?

A. I went with the two children, Harvey and Charlie.

Q. When you went away from Leavenworth and the Fort what did you do with Tommy?

A. Left him at Granny Letcher's.

Q. Have you seen him again since then? A. No, sir.

Q. Have you ever heard he was alive or dead?

A. I heard, when I was in Detroit, that he was dead."

Mr. German: Now, we offer the following portion of cross examination by Judge Maxey:

"Q. How long was it after you went to Fort Leavenworth was it before the child was born?

A. Well, I was—— He was born, of course, in the nine months you see.

Q. Well, was he born in nine months after you got there?

A. No, I didn't get him right away when I went there.

Q. About how long was it after you went there before?

A. Well, after I left George Hyde's I knew then.

Q. Where did you go after you left George Hyde's?

A. I went around to Granny's.

Q. Granny Letcher was a negro woman that lived there, wasn't she? A. Yes, she was colored.

Q. And was it as much as a year after you went from Carlisle to Leavenworth that this child was born?

A. I don't know.

Q. Well, what is your best judgment about it?

A. I would rather say nothing because I don't know.

Q. Was it as much as two years after you went to Leavenworth that he was born? A. Yes, about that.

Q. About two years? Then, how long did you stay there after the child was born? A. At Granny's?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, I didn't stay there steady at any time after I got well. I was just in and out and left the baby there.

Q. You say the child was born at Granny Letcher's?

A. Yes, he was born at Granny Letcher's.

Q. You stated in your testimony over at Sapulpa that he was born in the Sister's Hospital?

A. Well, I just simply said it because I didn't want to tell where he was born.

Q. Why didn't you want to tell?

A. Well, I just didn't want to because——

Q. Because Granny was a negro?

A. No, but she didn't run a very good house, and I didn't want everybody to know my business.

Q. You stayed around Granny Letcher's all the time you were in Leavenworth? A. I hung around a good deal.

Q. Now, how long did you stay there after this child was born? A. In Leavenworth?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, after the baby was born I left him at Granny's and went up to the Post to work, and I was at one place a year, Mrs. Grodevant's, and then about three months at Mrs. Stafford's.

Q. That would be about a year and a half? You made your home at Granny Letcher's all that time, didn't you?

A. I always went there.

Q. Then, where did you go? A. From the Fort?

Q. Yes?

A. Then, I took sick at the Fort and I was in the Hospital for a while and got well and went to Logan.

Q. How old was the child when you went to Fort Logan?

A. A year and a half."

Mr. German: There was one or two more questions, but we will introduce them later.

And thereupon, E. C. FRITSCHE, being recalled for further cross examination further testified as follows:

By Mr. Cruce.

Q. Mr. Fritsche, on yesterday afternoon, you testified about having received a letter from your son? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You remember in answer to questions propounded to you by Judge Stuart on cross examination that you pointed your hand to your coat pocket as though indicating that you had the letter there, and asked Judge Stuart if he wanted to see it? Did you have the letter with you at that time?

A. No, I didn't.

Q. Will you let us have the letter at this time?

A. I haven't the letter with me, Judge. I looked over my grip yesterday evening.

Q. How came you to state to the Court that you had the letter in your grip?

A. I was under the impression that I had the letter with me. The letter is at home and I said that I would write Mrs. Fritsche and I wrote her yesterday afternoon.

Q. You remember having a conversation with Mr. Cruce, myself, yesterday afternoon?

A. Yes, sir, I told you I would write for it.

Q. You told me, did you not, that you might have burned it up in some old junk?

A. Yes, possibly I said that; I know the contents of the letter.

Q. Who did you talk to first after you left the witness stand yesterday? A. I don't remember just exactly.

Q. Do you know Mr. Robinson, the detective?

A. Robinson, the detective?

Q. Robinson, the detective. This gentleman, the third man there in the back row. A. I don't remember.

Q. Sir?

The Court: Do you know him?

A. No, sir, not personally.

The Court: Have you ever talked to him?

A. I can't recall just now, Judge.

The Court: Well, it is alright if you have; tell about it.

A. Well, I don't remember now.

Q. Did you speak to anyone after you left the witness stand yesterday afternoon with reference to that letter except the few words that you had with me in Mr. Linebaugh's presence?

A. I met a Mr. Martin yesterday evening from Leavenworth, in front of the hotel where I am stopping.

Q. Did you talk to him about the letter?

A. I don't remember anything about the letter; no, I can't recall that. In fact, it slipped my mind entirely because I told you I would write for the letter and I did so.

Q. Did you talk with Mr. Martin after I talked to you—Mr. Cruce? A. Who is Mr. Cruce?

Q. After you talked to me?

A. Yes, Mr. Martin, last night, about 9:30.

Q. What was he talking to you about?

A. He was a witness in this case.

Q. Did he ask you anything about that letter?

A. I really don't remember, Your Honor.

Q. You can't remember from yesterday evening at 9 o'clock whether Mr. Martin was talking to you about the letter?

A. I told him I thought I had a letter, yes; yes, we did talk about the letter; I remember now, and I said the letter may be at home or might have been destroyed, and I had written for the letter.

Q. How came Mr. Martin to be talking to you about the letter? A. I mentioned it myself.

Q. Sir? A. I mentioned it to him.

Q. You mentioned it to Mr. Martin. Do you know what he is doing here?

A. I suppose that I was dismissed and was through.

Q. You say that letter from your son told you that detectives were there? A. At his house, yes, sir.

Q. How many detectives did he say there were?

A. He said there were two.

Q. Did he say who they were?

Mr. Linebaugh: If the Court please, we think the statements that the son made to this witness would be incompetent, and we object to them.

The Court: Well, this witness is now being cross examined as to things which caused him to do what he did with relation to his evidence taken by deposition, and he may state what his son said to him.

Q. Did he state who the detectives were?

A. He said there were two detectives, father.

Q. Well, did he name them?

A. He named one, Mr. Blum, is it?

Q. Mr. Buell? A. Blum, the gentleman here yesterday.

Q. Bruff, the other one he didn't mention his name.

Q. Did he say where they were from?

A. Said they were from Oklahoma.

Q. Now, he stated to you in that letter that you had gotten yourself in a very serious condition, did he?

A. He said I read the testimony and it looked as if you made conflicting statements there.

Q. He told you in the letter that these detectives had read from the testimony that you had given in your deposition? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that your testimony was in error and that you were in a dangerous condition? What danger did he say that you were in? A. He didn't say dangerous condition.

Q. What did he say you were in——

A. Said it looked as though I were in trouble; looked like you should correct yourself; he said Mr. Younkman, from Tulsa, accompanied these gentlemen.

Q. The detectives? A. With the detectives.

Q. Did he say that these people said that you committed error and if you corrected the error, it would be alright?

A. No, he didn't put it that way. He said from your deposition I read in the Baltimore hotel, there were some conflicting statements and he said, I know, father, I know you wouldn't intentionally commit error which would get you in trouble and you can correspond with Mr. Younkman right at once, and he can enlighten you further.

Q. How old is your son? A. My son is 28.

Q. Twenty-eight years old? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So he was not living in '85 and '86, was he?

A. No, I was married in '87.

Q. He couldn't have had any personal knowledge about when this child was born?

A. Why, no, he wasn't in existence.

Q. And he intimated to you in his letter, didn't he, that all he knew about it was told him by these detectives?

A. That is all.

Q. Did he state if you would get into communication with Mr. Younkman that he would explain it to you? A. Yes.

Q. Tell you what to do? A. I did.

Q. Well, did you get into communication with him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whose automobile, was that, that you came down in that you spoke about yesterday, about some man getting you in an automobile? A. Yesterday?

Q. Yes. A. I don't know whose automobile it was.

Q. I mean you said something on the witness stand as I now recall it——

The Court: Your trip from Tulsa, down in an automobile—whose automobile was that?

A. I don't know Your Honor, whether it was Mr. Younkman's or hired livery; Mr. Younkman and this detective and myself.

Q. What detective was that? A. Mr. Blum.

The Court: Bruff—B-r-u-f-f, isn't it?

A. Bruff.

Q. You don't know whose automobile it was?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't pay for it? A. No, sir.

Q. And you don't know who did pay for it? A. I do not.

Q. When was it that you made that trip?

A. About three weeks ago.

Q. Three weeks ago. Were you shown your testimony that you had given in your deposition at that time?

A. Here in this building I was.

Q. In this building. Who was present?

A. Judge Linebaugh.

Q. Well, who else? A. I don't really remember now.

Q. Was Mr. Bruff present? A. Yes, sir he was present.

Q. Was anything said about your having—correcting your former deposition?

A. Why, my attention was called to errors.

Q. Well, I believe you testified about that yesterday. At any rate, you corrected your testimony? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, if I understand you—understand my question—that when you made this correction of your testimony, you had it in mind that you were practically under arrest, did you? A. I felt that way.

Q. Yes, sir, and you felt like the hand of the Government was going to be laid upon you if you didn't correct that testimony?

A. Your Honor, when that testimony was read to me, I saw the error.

Q. Please answer my question, now. You believed that at the time you corrected that testimony, that if you didn't do it, you would be punished, didn't you?

A. Well, if it was perjured testimony, it would be.

Q. Well, I thought you stated yesterday that you had testified honestly in the deposition? A. I certainly did.

Q. Now, are you ready to answer my question? Whether or not at the time you agreed, in Mr. Linebaugh's office, that you were going to correct your testimony——

A. I told them that I was willing to correct my testimony.

Q. Did you understand, then, if you didn't correct your testimony that you were in danger of being prosecuted for perjury? A. It looked that way.

Q. Did you keep a copy of that letter you wrote your wife last night? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you show it to anyone? A. I did not.

Q. When would you ordinarily hear from your wife in reference to it?

A. I told her to answer at once; she probably will get that letter if the mail is prompt—she ought to get it in this afternoon's delivery between three and four o'clock; they have a delivery at three, afternoon, and forenoon about ten.

Q. Did you suggest in your letter to your wife that you thought that perhaps the letter from your son had been burned or destroyed? A. No, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Linebaugh.

Q. Mr. Fritsche, who is this Mr. Martin you say you talked to?

A. Mr. Martin is in the Dry Cleaning business at Leavenworth.

Q. Who else have you talked to, if any one, since you left the witness stand?

A. I can't recall of anyone just now.

Q. Sir? A. I don't know of anyone.

Q. No one that you remember of? A. No.

Q. Other than Judge Cruce who talked with you immediately after the recess of Court? A. Yes.

Q. I was present at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you talked with Mr. Martin?

A. Mr. Martin yesterday evening.

Q. That is all? A. That is all.

Q. Now, who was present in the District Attorney's office at the time you say you came over here from Tulsa?

The Court: I think that was pretty fully gone over yesterday. He stated those that he remembered.

Q. Did Mr. Younkman come with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Pinson there? A. Who?

Q. Mr. Pinson?

A. Another gentleman, I don't know who it was and Mr. Bruff.

Q. Now, Mr. Fritsche, did you remember the—I will ask you this question; if you had not already seen—if you had seen this woman at any place other than Lee Bond's office, would you have remembered her?

A. I believe I would; probably if my attention would have been called to her, passing her on the street.

Q. Did you know what you went to Lee Bond's office for last summer? A. Last summer, I did not.

Q. You went there—— Had you seen the woman that you knew in 1883, since 1886, until the summer of 1916 when you saw her in Lee Bond's office?

A. That's the last time I saw her.

Q. You say you went down there responsive to a telephone call from Mr. Bond? A. From Mr. Bond's office.

Q. Did he tell you what he wanted with you when you got there? A. No.

Q. You had given your testimony about three months before, hadn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you talk to Mr. Bond at all that day when you went down responsive to his telephone call? A. Yes.

Q. What did you say and what did he say to you?

A. I can't recall that; we passed the greetings of the day and I saw Indian Minnie sitting back there and I recognized Indian Minnie.

Q. Did you know what you went there for?

A. I did not, no sir.

Q. Did you know whether the woman that you saw in 1883 and 1886 what race she belonged to?

A. I judge an Indian.

Q. Did you know that they sent for you at Lee Bond's office for the purpose of having you identify Minnie Atkins as being the woman you saw in 1883 and 1886?

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, that is assuming a fact that is not in the proof, no proof that they sent for him to identify her.

The Court: Well, that is true. The question is whether he understood at that time, was he advised.

Q. Were you advised, did you go there—was that the purpose for which you went? A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Well, what did you go there for, Mr. Fritsche?

A. In answer to the telephone call.

Q. When you got there, what did you do, what did you say, tell the Court everything that you did and said.

The Court: Well, now, the point is, what you are trying to show is—to find out what, if any, intimation this man had before he went to Mr. Bond's office that this woman would be there, or that he would be called upon to identify her.

Mr. Linebaugh: Yes, sir.

The Court: Now, that can only be determined by what passed between Mr. Bond and others interested in this matter and this witness before he went there.

Q. When you came over to Muskogee, you came voluntarily, didn't you? A. Voluntarily?

Q. Yes?

A. Why, the detectives were there and Mr. Younkman and they placed me in the automobile and brought me over here.

Q. Was that objectionable or agreeable to you?

A. I don't know just how to answer that question. I received a telegram from Mr. Younkman to come to Tulsa. I was in Wichita.

Q. Yes. Was it agreeable to you to come? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have been arrested in your life, have you?

A. Arrested?

Q. Yes, sir? A. I can't recall the time.

Q. You say you never was? A. No, sir.

Q. You have seen people arrested? A. I have.

Q. Well, were you arrested? A. No, sir.

Q. Were you ever arrested by anybody in this case?

A. In this case, no, sir.

Q. Sir? A. No, sir.

Q. Did anybody ever threaten to arrest you? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you say in the office that day that you went to Lee Bond's office in the summer of 1916, after you had given your deposition, for the purpose of identifying this woman as the woman that they told you had given birth to a child at Grammy Letcher's house in the spring or summer of 1885?

Mr. Stuart: We object, your Honor. Now, your Honor, here is a most remarkable situation. They introduce the man's testimony by his deposition; then make the man their witness to take it back, and then they try to impeach him.

The Court: The objection will be sustained for this reason: The whole matter was gone over in chief yesterday and crossed, with regard to what occurred in the office here. He was asked with regard to what he said. The matter in my judgment has been fully and sufficiently covered. The objection is sustained.

Q. Mr. Fritsche, I believe you said that you saw that the woman that you saw with child was the one that you knew as a prostitute in 1883 before you went to school?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. If this woman, Minnie Atkins, was not in Leavenworth in 1883, then she is not the woman you saw with child is she? A. Couldn't have been.

The Court: Any further questions? Stand aside.

(Witness dismissed).

Mr. German: Your Honor, I think counsel will admit what I want to find in Minnie's testimony at Tulsa, her statement at Tulsa when she gave her deposition there.

The Court: Well, perhaps, Mr. German, you had better take the time to find that and then introduce it as it appears there. It will take less time than to interject some agreement about it.

Mr. German: Well, I can't find it. Now, I want to prove that she didn't mention Robert Lee Peterkin, the fact of his birth at Tulsa in her deposition given there in October, 1914. But I assume that you will admit that she didn't, Mr. Hanford:

Mr. Hanford: Mr. German, I haven't a copy of that testimony here and I am not prepared to admit that.

Mr. German: I will put Mr. Hanford on the stand, he knows.

And thereupon, E. C. HANFORD was produced, sworn, and examined as witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Hanford, you heard Minnie testify at Tulsa at Rice & Lyons' office?

A. I did, Mr. German, I don't recall whether I was in the room all the time but I think I was.

Q. You know, do you not, that she did not in her testimony mention the birth of Robert Lee Peterkin to her in Leavenworth in July 1886 or at any other time?

A. I know this, Mr. German, they have not——

Q. Now, wait a minute, I am asking you what she testified, did she mention that in her testimony?

The Court: Mr. Hanford, if you are prepared to answer as to whether she mentioned that in the testimony, you may do so.

A. I will say that she did not.

Mr. Stuart: Haven't you got the record?

Mr. German: Yes, sir, but I didn't want to put in the whole thing.

The Court: Here is the question, as I understand: The question is whether Minnie, in that deposition, mentioned the birth of the child Robert Lee Peterkin. The only way that can be determined, unless it is agreed, that she did not, would be to put in the whole deposition for the consideration of the Court.

Mr. Stuart: One trouble about that Your Honor, is this, that that independent fact might be testified to and I have no objection to that; but there might be all sorts of coloring in the deposition itself. I am willing to pass this particular question, but I insist that hereafter, if the gentleman wants to prove what is in that record, let him take the time and find the record; it will be very short.

The Court: Yes, Mr. Hanford may testify to the extent that he now remembers in regard to that; I think he has answered, however.

A. I am testifying in this way, Your Honor; I am not prepared what is in or is not in that record, but the proposition being a negative one, I testify because I do know——

Q. Now, wait a minute, Mr. Hanford; I don't want anything that you learned on the stand or learned from any source except what she gave in the deposition.

A. Well, that is what I am testifying to.

The Court: Proceed.

Mr. German: That is all; he stated that she did not.

The Court: That is answered.

A. But I am testifying to what I learned off the witness stand; not what was in the record.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Was she asked on the witness stand there, in reference to the Peterkin baby? A. I don't think she was.

Mr. Cruce: If that is a fact, we move to exclude this because a woman can't be expected to testify about a matter she was not inquired as to.

The Court: The Court will examine that; the testimony stands with the witness's statement and if what you said is correct, of course that nullifies that.

(Witness dismissed.)

Mr. German: Now, in view of counsel's objection, we offer the following additional portion of MINNIE'S testimony given at Tulsa on the occasion mentioned:

"Q. When was Alice born with reference to the time that Tommy was born? A. Alice was born in Fort Logan and Thomas in Leavenworth. Q. Alice was born afterwards? A. Thomas was born first and then, Alice."

Mr. Cruce: What page is that?

Mr. German: Page 27 of the copy of the deposition. Now, Your Honor, we offer the following portion of the testimony given by Mr. Hanford in this court in this case, in the Receivership hearing, in March, 1915.

Mr. Cruce: Objected to on behalf of Mr. Page on the ground that it is incompetent, and hearsay.

The Court: Objection noticed, overruled, and exception noticed.

Mr. German: "Q. And subsequently Minnie was brought back to Leavenworth, at which time the depositions were taken? A. Yes. Q. That was in month of 1914? A. Yes. Q. Those depositions were taken in the State Court case? A. Yes. Q. Minnie did not testify at that hearing and subsequently went to Tulsa? A. Yes, she was sick in the hospital." That is on page 326.

Then the further testimony of Mr. PAGE, given at the Receivership hearing, appearing on page 276 of the printed transcript of the Receivership matter: "Q. You learned, did you not, that Dennis Jones, Rube Smith, and others, testified that Minnie had given birth to a child at Granny Letcher's whose name was Thomas Atkins? A. Yes, I think I did. Q. Minnie went on the witness stand on your behalf and hers, there in Tulsa, and gave testimony to the same facts, didn't she? A. I know this, Judge, that Minnie tried to hide—— Q. Answer that question. (question read). A. I think she did. Q. You heard her testify? A. No, I don't believe I was there. Q. You didn't hear her testify? A. No, sir, I might have been there, I don't remember. Q. She testified there at Tulsa after she had left your home, didn't she?"

,"The Court: You mean at Tulsa or Sapulpa"

"Tulsa, on the occasion when she gave her deposition. A. After she left my house? Q. Yes, sir. A. In Tulsa? Q. Yes, sir. A. Well, on her second trip to Tulsa, I think she stayed at my home all the time. Q. How long? A. I think she was there two or three days, wasn't she? Q. Well, now, was this her second trip, the occasion when she gave this deposition there in Tulsa? A. I have an idea it was; now, I can't say for sure. Q. Didn't she give her deposition after she had stayed at your house for two or three days? A. Maybe she did. Q. Well, you know, Mr. Page. A. I don't know positively. I know this, Judge, that I worked on her for fully an hour to get the truth of the case; I worked on her fully an hour and had Mr. Hanford try to get the truth and she would come up with a few things. Q. She didn't want to tell the truth about it, did she, Mr. Page? A. She wanted to cover up certain things in her life; no question about that. Q. You encountered difficulty about getting her to tell the truth? A. About certain things."

Now, in order to straighten up one matter, Your Honor; we offered Friday, I think it was, the deposition of Dennis Jones, Rube Smith, Sam Nash, and Walter Banks, taken by the Page proof, at Leavenworth in October, 1914, for the limited purpose stated, and Your Honor made some suggestion about not encumbering the record with all of them, with everything unless we desired to introduce the entire deposition. Since then, we have gone over these depositions and want to save encumbering the record, and offer only portions of the depositions of Sam Nash and Walter Banks and I will indicate the portions of the Sam Nash and Walter Banks depositions which we will offer in lieu of the whole of them, the direct examination of Walter Banks which begins on page 80 of the certified copy which we are using of that proof of depositions, and the re-direct examination of the same witness, which begins on page 130 of the certified copy.

WALTER BANKS, of lawful age, being by me first duly examined, cautioned and solemnly sworn to testify the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, deposed and said:

Direct Examination by Mr. Rice.

Q. How old are you Walter? A. Thirty two.

Q. Where do you live now?

A. I am living in Kansas City now.

Q. Where do you work?

A. Work at the Jefferson Hotel.

Q. Where did you live along about 1884, 1885 and 1886?

A. Two hundred seventeen, Seneca Street.

Q. You may state whether or not you lived at that place at that time with Mrs. Letcher? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What relation was Mrs. Letcher to you?

A. Why, she was my adopted mother. My mother died in her house and gave me to her when I was two years old.

Q. You considered her as your mother and grand mother?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you call her?

A. Called her "Grandma" sometimes and called her "Mama" sometimes.

Q. Did Granny Letcher have any boys of her own there?

A. Yes, she had a boy.

Q. What was his name? A. Jim Mayo.

Q. Joe Mayo—Jim is it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Jim—was Jim younger or older than you?

A. Older.

Q. Do you remember about how much older than you he was? A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. What other boy lived there in the house?

A. Sam Nash.

Q. Sam Nash—is he older or younger than you?

A. Older.

Q. Is he a one armed boy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What other boy lived there?

A. Little Tommie Atkins lived there.

Q. Do you remember Tommie Atkin's mother?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was her name?

A. Why some of them called her "Indian Minnie," some called her "Minnie Atkins."

Q. Were you living there when Tommie was born?

A. Yes.

Q. About how much older are you than Tommie?

A. About three years older than he is.

Q. How much? A. About three.

Q. Do you remember Tommie when he was a baby?

A. Do I remember when he was a baby?

Q. Yes. A. Yes, I do; I should say so.

Q. Did you ever see him nursing?

A. Yes, sir, he used to fight.

Q. Who was he nursing?

A. He nursed his mama. I used to fight and try to get some titty myself.

Q. Did you nurse his mother some too? A. Yes, I did.

Q. You can remember that, can you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were about three or four years old?

A. Yes, somewhere along there, between three and four I was.

Q. How do you remember when Tommie was nursing Minnie? A. Why, how do I remember?

Q. Yes. A. I would see him, she would have him in her lap and her breast out.

Q. And then she would let you nurse some too, would she? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know whether or not Minnie went away after that?

> Mr. Lytle: We suggest counsel frame his question as not leading.

A. No, sir, I do not know whether or not she went away.

Q. Do you remember whether or not she did actually go away?

A. She left the house there, I do not know whether she left town or anything like that, but she left the house.

Q. Do you know whether or not Tommie was there after she left? A. Yes, sir, he was there?

Q. How long was Tommie there?

A. Well, now I could not tell you just how long he was there, but he was there until he was about between ten and eleven years old.

Q. You and he played together? A. Yes.

Q. Did Sam Nash live there during that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You may state whether or not Tommie went away from Granny Letcher's when he was a pretty good sized boy?

A. Tommie left there when he was about eleven years old with some woman that came after him and said——

Q. Wait a minute? Were you living there at that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Lytle: I suggest the witness be allowed to answer the question—to finish the answer.

Q. All right, he may finish.

Mr. Rosser: We object to his statement as to anything the woman said.

Q. All right, you say you were at Granny Letcher's when Tommy went away? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember the occasion of his going?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he go by himself or with somebody?

A. With somebody.

Q. Man or woman? A. Woman.

Q. Had you ever seen the woman before? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever see Tommie after that?

A. No, sir, I have not ever seen him after that.

Q. Did you ever see the woman that come and got him, after that? A. No, sir.

Q. Did this woman make any statement in your presence relative to her taking Tommie?

Mr. Rosser: I object to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial and hearsay.

Mr. Greenslade: I make the same objection.

Q. Answer yes or no? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And after she made this statement Tommie went with her, is that right? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever see Minnie Atkins after she left when Tommie was a little boy?

A. No, sir. I never seen her any more.

Q. How long did you live in Leavenworth after Tommie went away?

A. Well, I stayed here then until I was about 21 years old then.

Q. Do you remember the occasion of the Spanish American War? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you enlist in the Spanish American army for that war? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you enlist? A. Kansas City.

Q. You enlisted prior to the termination of the Spanish American War? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Relative to the time of your enlistment, did Tommie leave Granny Letcher's before or after?

A. Tommie left before I went to the Spanish American War.

Q. How long before, would you say?

A. I could not remember just how long.

Q. Was it a few months or more?

A. I just don't know; I would not say just how long it was.

Mr. Rice: Take the witness.

Cross Examination by Mr. Rosser.

Q. You say you live in Kansas City now? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you lived there?

A. Oh not very long. I guess I been living there about six or seven years.

Q. Where did you live before you went to Kansas City.

A. Oh, I lived around different places; a few months at Hutchinson.

Q. Around where?

A. A few months in Hutchinson and around.

Q. A few months in Hutchinson—how long did you live in Hutchinson?

A. Oh, I do not know how long I lived there; I waited tables and didn't stay very long in one place.

Q. Where did you wait tables at Hutchinson?

A. At the Matland Hotel.

Q. Matland Hotel? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you live before you went to Hutchinson?

A. Kansas City.

Q. How long did you live in Kansas City before you went to Hutchinson? A. Before I left Kansas City.

Q. Yes? A. About six years.

Q. About six years before you went to Hutchinson?

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you live before you went to Kansas City that time? A. Before I went I lived here.

Q. Lived here? A. Yes.

Q. How long did you live here after you came out of the Spanish American War before you went to Kansas City?

A. Well, I do not know how long. I stayed home then because my grandmother was sick; I do not know just how long. I did not stay very long. I do not know just how long I stayed.

Q. You do not know how long you stayed? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you remember whether you stayed one month, two years, or one year, or how long. Just give your best judgment, if you have any judgment.

A. I do not think I stayed very long, over a couple of weeks, I guess, because I had plenty of money then, and I had running on my mind. I would not stay very long anywhere.

Q. Had plenty of money and what?

A. Running, that is, I wanted to travel.

Q. You went to Kansas City immediately after you got out of the Spanish American War for a few weeks?

A. That is after I got mustered out I stayed around here a little while and then went to Kansas City.

Q. How long were you in the army?

A. Nine months. That is all.

Q. Did you go to the Philippines?

A. No, sir, I went to Cuba.

Q. You went to Cuba? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you enlist in the army? A. 1898.

Q. What time of the year? A. I do not know exactly.

Q. Were you there prior to the battle of San Juan Hill?

A. I was not right there at the time; I was there right after.

Q. Were you enlisted at that time? A. Yes.

Q. You had enlisted before that?

A. No, sir, not before the battle; I was not in a company before that.

Q. Where did you enlist? A. In Kansas City.

Q. What regiment did you serve in?

A. Twenty-third Kansas Volunteers.

Q. What Company? A. Company "G".

Q. Company "G", 23d Kansas Volunteers; cavalry or infantry? A. Infantry.

Q. Twenty third Kansas Volunteers?

A. Yes, sir, 23rd Kansas Volunteers.

Q. How how long have you worked at the Jefferson Hotel? A. About seven months.

Q. What do you do there? A. Portering.

Q. Portering? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what work did you do before you went to the Jefferson Hotel? A. Well, I waited tables?

Q. Where? A. At Hutchinson, Kansas.

Q. I think you said you had been seven years in Kansas City that time. A. Seven years?

Q. Didn't you?

A. No, you asked where I went before. You asked about the Spanish American War.

Q. State how long you have lived in Kansas City this last time?

A. Well, this last time I have been there about beginning about fourteen months.

Q. Fourteen months. And you lived in Hutchinson before you went there—before this last time you went to Kansas City. A. Yes.

Q. You do not know exactly how long you lived in Hutchinson? A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. Well about how long?

A. Well, I stayed there—I do not know just exactly, I would not say, but I guess two months, something like that.

Q. Two months—something like that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you go from when you went to Hutchinson? Where did you live before you went to Hutchinson?

A. In Kansas City.

Q. How long did you live in Kansas City that time?

A. Before I went to Hutchinson?

Q. Yes? A. Six years.

Q. And then where did you live before and after you got back from the Spanish American War before you went to Kansas City? A. I lived here.

Q. You say you lived here?

A. After I got out of the Spanish American War where did I live?

Q. Yes.

A. I was here a couple of weeks and then I went back to Kansas City.

Q. How long did you stay there at that time?

A. I did not stay over two or three days.

Q. Then where did you go?

A. I went to Chicago, Baltimore, Maryland and around.

Q. How long did you stay in Chicago?

A. Stayed around four or five days, something like that.

Q. How long did you stay in Baltimore?

A. About a week or two.

Q. Then where did you go?

A. Come back to St. Louis.

Q. How long did you stay?

A. I do not know how long.

Q. Did you stay several weeks or several months?

A. I could not tell you because——

Q. Did you work any in St. Louis? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't stay long enough to go to working?

A. No, sir.

Q. Then where did you go?

A. Well, I went over to—I could not begin to name all the places I went to.

Q. I want you to name all the places and state from the time you came from the Spanish American War up to the present time? A. I do not know.

Q. You know whether you worked any other places than these you have mentioned?

A. No, sir, I did not work because I had too much money.

Q. You did not work then at all. A. No, sir.

Q. No, sir.

Q. You drifted around four or five years and didn't work?

A. No, sir, I did not drift around that long.

Q. You have accounted for eight or nine years since the Spanish American War. Where did you spend the balance of the time—what were you doing?

A. Well, I have told you I was table waiter sometimes; cooking a little while; working on the streets a little.

Q. I want to know where you did that work—what places?

A. I worked in Kansas City.

Q. You say you worked there six or seven years one time and then you worked this last time sometime there a year possibly—but there is some five or six years since you got out of the Spanish American War we do not know what you were doing? I want to know about that.

A. I do not know what I have done myself.

Q. You do not know about that—have you ever been convicted of any crime? A. No, sir.

Q. Have have been?

Q. Never have served any sentence of any sort?

A. Oh yes, I have been arrested.

Q. What for? A. Fighting and the like of that.

Q. Fighting and other things—what were the other things? A. I do not know.

Q. You do not know what else you have been charged with or convicted?

A. Just fighting is all I have ever been charged with.

Q. Never charged with anything else? A. No, sir.

Q. You served a sentence for that?

A. No response.

Q. You served a sentence for that? A. Oh, yes.

Q. How much time did you spend in jail? You say you were sentenced?

A. I never was in jail; I have been in—I do not know whether it is jail; I was in the holdover.

Q. Well, either one, how much time did you spend in the holdover? A. Twenty-one days is all.

Q. Twenty-one days? A. That is all.

Q. That is all? A. Yes sir.

Q. How many times have you been arrested?

A. About twice is all.

Q. About twice? A. Yes.

Q. You say "about," don't you know?

A. Twice is all I have ever been arrested.

Q. Now you say you were living at Granny Letcher's at the same time Minnie Atkins was staying there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was her color?

A. Why she was pretty near white.

Q. She was pretty near white? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know whether she is of negro blood?

A. Well, sir, I would not say she was of negro blood; she looks very like an Indian—pure Indian than she does like any colored blood.

Q. Her hair is straight, is it not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are of the negro race?

A. Well, I am part; a little Indian myself, negro to, yes, sir.

Q. And have the features of the African race. Your hair is—— A. Kinky.

Q. Kinky? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You look just like any other negro, as far as outside appearance is concerned—that is true, is it not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say you are older than Tommie, the boy you speak of being born there? A. Yes.

Q. You remember you stated you remember seeing that child nursing? You remember seeing Minnie Atkins nursing that child? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What do you mean by "nursing"?

A. Well sir, I mean that a baby nursing.

Q. You said a while ago that she put it to her breast—to use a more vulgar expression, would you say it was sucking her breast—that is what you mean? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I understood you to say that you also during the time she was nursing this child, that you also sucked her breast?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that you would fight the child to get to nurse her breast at the same time it was? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You remember that? A. Yes.

Q. And she permitted it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she would let you fight the child and would then let you suckle her breast? A. Yes.

Q. How old was the child when it quit nursing—quit sucking? A. I do not know sir.

Q. You do not know? A. No, sir.

Q. Who was your mother, you say?

A. My mother is dead.

Q. Your mother is dead? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was she living at the time this child was born?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know how long she had been dead?

A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. Do you remember at all? A. My mother?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, I do remember her.

Q. You remember her? A. Yes.

Q. You do not remember though, how long she had been dead when this child was born? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't suckle—you didn't nurse Granny Letcher—you did not suck at her breast? A. No, sir.

Q. You were not sucking any other woman at the time this Minnie Atkins came there—that this child was there, were you? A. No, sir.

Q. But you did nurse her breast? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now you say that some woman came along and took the child away from there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had never seen the woman before? A. No, sir.

Q. You have never seen her since? A. No, sir.

Q. That was before Granny Letcher died? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Granny Letcher raised the children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She was good to them? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Treated you kindly?

A. Yes, treated me and all the rest of them——

Q. Treated you all alike? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You all got along there?

A. Yes. I would call him more my brother, more than anything else.

Q. When you say "you would call him more your brother than anything else," you mean Tommie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You would call him more your brother than anything else? A. Yes, sir.

Q. But this woman you say just come and took the child and went right on away and stayed?

A. Well, she didn't take him right away; she came here like this evening after the child and she did not take him away until the next day.

Q. And nobody made any objection?

A. Oh, yes there was objection made about it. My grandmother could not read and write and I didn't know nothing until the older folks come home and she would ask to get advice from them.

Q. Do you know where she said she was going to take the child to? A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. She didn't tell you where she was taking the child?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't say anything about what she was going to do with him? A. No, she did not say.

Q. Never told you what she was going to do with him?

A. No, sir, she did not say anything to me.

Q. You heard her talking, did you not?

A. No, sir, I did not hear her all of the time, because my mother was a mother not to let young people stay in the house when older people were talking; and I did just what she told me.

Q. Was she a colored woman or white?

A. She looked like she was pretty near white.

Q. Did she appear to have some colored blood?

A. Yes, she appeared she had some cross; some other blood.

Q. What did it appear to be? A. Colored.

Q. She appeared to be part colored and part white?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. But rather white you say?

A. Yes, she was rather white.

Q. You all went down to the train when the child went away—how did she go, on the train? A. On the train?

Q. Didn't go on the train?

A. I do not know whether she went on the train.

Q. Didn't you and Granny Letcher and all the family go down to the train with the child?

A. No, sir, no sir.

Q. You did not go with them, anyway? A. No, sir.

Q. Did they leave in a cab or afoot or how?

A. I do not know just how they left.

Q. You do not know about that? A. No, sir.

Q. How old were you at that time?

A. When the child left?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, he was eleven when he left the house.

Q. You were about 14? A. Yes, I was about 14.

Q. You had always lived with him and I believe you said you considered him about the same as a brother?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you do not remember how he left the house?

A. No, sir, because I was not in the house when the people left there.

Q. You were not?

A. No, sir, I was sent to the store, and when I got back he was gone.

Q. You did not know he was going?

A. No, sir, I did not even know he was going.

Q. You did not?

A. I knowed he was going, but I did not know that woman was going to take him away that day.

Q. Where was the store you went to?

A. To Mr. Rube Smith's store.

Q. How far was that from your place?

A. I guess it could have been a little over a half mile.

Q. A little over a half mile? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The other boys that were, the Mayo and Nash boy; did they go with you to the store? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, where are they? A. Who?

Q. Nash and Mayo? A. Why Jim is dead.

Q. Jim Mayo is dead? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is Nash?

A. I do not know where he is at; he is up in town somewheres.

Q. Here in town? A. Yes.

Q. He did not go with you to the store?

A. No sir, he was working at Spratly's.

Q. He did not go with you to the store? A. No, sir.

Q. You say he was at home? A. No, sir.

Q. Did he stay away from home at night?

A. Well, he, I think part of the time he stayed part of that time at home.

Q. Now the night this woman came there, did she stay all night there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She stayed all night there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Sam Nash stay all night there that night?

A. I do not know whether he did or not.

Q. You do not know whether he did or not?

A. No, sir, may have come in late; I had to go to bed, you know at six o'clock—seven o'clock anyhow.

Q. You got up pretty early at that, did you not?

A. He got up earlier than I did, because he had to go to work.

Q. Did you see him next morning? A. Sam?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir, I did not see him, no sir.

Q. You did not see him next morning? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you see the woman? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you hear what her name was?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Never heard what her name was? A. No, sir.

Q. She came to that Letcher house there and carried off this child and still you never heard what her name was?

A. No, sir.

Q. You never did? A. No, sir.

Q. He never wrote? A. No, sir.

Q. Or the woman never wrote to you? A. No, sir.

Q. You boys attended school together? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Tommie went with you, did he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. To what school did you go?

A. North Leavenworth school.

Q. North Leavenworth School, where is that?

A. Right up, straight up 3rd street upon the Reservation, pretty near.

Q. What part of the year did this woman carry him away, do you remember? A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. Do you remember whether it was cold or hot weather?

A. Well, sir, I do not remember whether. It must have been pretty cool.

Q. It must have been pretty cold?

A. Yes, I think it was.

Q. Well, you went down to the store that evening and do you remember whether or not you wore a coat or whether you wore a shirt, or just barefooted?

A. Well, I wore a coat.

Q. Was school going on at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he go to school the day before he left?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He went to school the day before he left; did you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long before—had he been going to school before he went away with this woman?

A. Well, sir, I do not know. He started to school when he was six years old.

Q. Six? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well then he went to school regularly, did he?

A. Sir?

Q. Then he went to school with the balance did he?

A. About five years; some where along about five years.

Q. You do not know what period the school would be, nine months, full term, or three months each year?

A. Well, we run six, yes, sir.

Q. You think you ran six months?

A. Six months or a little over six months, yes, sir.

Q. He started in to school when he was about six years old and he went all the time to school until he left?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the name of the teacher you were going to?

A. Miss Mackey.

Q. Is she living here? A. I think so.

Q. Is she living here now?

A. I do not know whether she is living here because I do not know whether any of the old folks are here now or not, because I have been away for a few months.

Q. What other teacher did you go to?

A. That is the only one I ever remember going to, Miss Mackey.

Q. Well, you and Tommie went to the same teacher?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old a woman was she?

A. Oh, I just she was about 35 or somewhere along there —38 years old, somewhere along there.

Q. Was she colored or white? A. Colored.

Q. Now is the school building you went to still standing?

A. I do not know that, sir.

Q. Is it what you called the North Leavenworth School?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was it a separate school or did white and colored go together? A. Separate school?

Q. Separate school? A. Separate school.

Q. Whereabouts was it in town, give us the best idea you can? A. This school?

Q. Yes? A. The school?

Q. The school you are talking about?

A. In North Leavenworth right between 3rd and between Metropolitan, I think it is, avenue—right on 3rd and Metropolitan avenue; right on the Reservation.

Q. Right in the reservation? A. Yes.

Q. This Miss Mackey is the only one you remember you went to school to? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you and Tommie in the same classes?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You started in together and just went on together?

A. I did not go to school must because I was sickly.

Q. And while you were sickly you did not go much—Tommie was pretty regular? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He was a pretty strong healthy boy was he?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You never knew anything being the matter with him? A. No, sir.

Mr. Rosser: That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Rice.

Q. What kind of appearing boy was Tommie, was he light or dark? A. Light boy.

Q. Was his hair what you call "good"? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And by "good," you mean it was not kinky?

A. It was not kinky, no, sir, it was not kinky.

Q. Was it light or dark? A. Dark.

Q. Have you seen Minnie Atkins in the last day or two?

A. Yes, sir, I have seen her.

Q. Her in town? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that the same Minnie Atkins you knew when you were a baby?

A. Yes, sir, only she just got fatter, that is all; she merely got fatter.

Q. You may state whether or not there was any family resemblance between Tommie and Minnie?

A. Yes, sir, she looked just like—they both looks just alike, that is, in this way; cheek bones and her forehead, and her nose and mouth.

Q. How was Tommie's nose as to being like a colored man's nose, a white man's nose or an Indian's nose?

A. Like an Indian's nose.

Q. That is, slim? A. Slim.

Q. And how were his cheek bones as to being high or low? A. High cheek bones just like an Indian.

Mr. Rice: That is all, take the witness.

Cross Examination by Mr. Lytle.

Q. What kind on an appearing woman was this that came after Tommie?

A. Why she was a woman about—I guess about as tall as this gentleman here, and a little heavier.

Q. About five feet tall, or five feet two or three or four?

A. Well, I should judge she was about five foot something.

Q. Five feet three or four? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was there any distinguishing features or marks about her? A. I never noticed any.

Q. How long did you say you had lived in Kansas City before you enlisted? A. Before I enlisted?

Q. Yes. A. In the army?

Q. Yes?

A. Why I had not lived in Kansas City. I did not say anything like that.

Q. Didn't I understand you to say you were working in Kansas City before you enlisted, or did I misunderstand you?

A. You must have.

Q. You never worked in Kansas City before you enlisted when you left? A. No, sir.

Q. You did not mean to give that testimony?

A. I meant the time that I had been away from around home; I meant from the time I left home and began to run around I put in most of my time up around Kansas City.

Q. Now, when with reference to your enlistment did you see Tommie Atkins? A. When was the last time I saw him?

A. Yes. A. When he was eleven years old.

Q. Now, I am asking when with reference to your enlistment you saw him?

A. I didn't see him; I said the last time I see him he was eleven years old; that is the last time I ever laid eyes on him.

Q. Now, you enlisted in—— A. In 1898.

Q. In 1898. When before that did you see Tommie Atkins? A. Before I enlisted?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Why, I never seen him any more after that, after he had left there.

Q. Well, but now how many years before 1898 was it when he left there?

A. Well, I say I do not know; I ain't seen him since he was eleven years old; that is the last time. He left there before I enlisted in the army.

Q. That is before you enlisted, but how long before?

A. Well, it was 1898 when I enlisted in the army; and he was eleven years old——

Q. Well, now how long was it; was it six months?

A. I do not know just how long it is.

Q. Might it have been three years?

A. Yes, sir, it could have been three years.

Q. Might it have been five years?

A. Yes, sir, it could have been that.

Q. Your remembrance of the time when you last saw him in very indistinct, is it not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you tell why it is that you are able to distinctly remember when you were at school, but you are unable to remember this when you were 17 and 18 years old?

Mr. Rice: I object to the question as argumentative.

Q. You may state how it is you are able to distinctly remember occurrences which happened when you were two years old and unable to remember occurrences which were of just as much importance and happened when you were 17 and 18 years old?

Mr. Rice: I object to the question as indefinite, uncertain, argumentative, and a mis-statement of the evidence.

Q. You may answer the question?
A. I do not know how long it was.
Q. Which time do you have the more distinct recollection of, when you were two years old or when you were 18 years old?
A. Well, they say when you are younger you can remember.
Q. Well, how is it with you?
A. It is that way with me too.
Q. So that you now say that you remember occurrences which happened when you were two years old with greater facility than you do those which happened when you were 17 and 18 years od age; is that correct? A. (No response.)

Mr. Rice: Do you understand the question?

A. No, sir, I do not understand at all.
Q. Do you more easily recall occurrences which happened when you were two years of age, than you do those which happened when you were 17 and 18 years of age.

Mr. Rice: Now, do you understand that?

A. Why we understand them more, I guess, when we are 17.

Mr. Lytle: I guess that is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Greenslade.

Q. Have you ever heard of Tommie since he left?
A. No, sir, I never seen or heard of him since he left.
Q. Do you know Rob Jones?
A. I know Rob Jones, yes, sir.
Q. He is colored?
A. Yes, sir, lived with the colored people.
Q. Who is his father?
A. Why, Dennie Jones is his father.
Q. Dennis Jones? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where does he live now?
A. I do not know where he is.
Q. How old is he?
A. Oh, I judge he is about twenty some of years old.
Q. About your age? A. No, he could not be my age.

Q. Younger? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever play with him when you were a boy?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Tommie ever play with you when he was a boy?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You played together, you boys? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Greenslade: That is all, take the witness.

Recross Examination by Mr. Lytle.

Q. If I understood you this Robert Jones is about 20 years old, is that correct?

A. I don't know just how old he is, Mister, because——

Q. You played with him as a boy?

A. Yes, sir, and still I could not know his age.

Q. How much older than he were you?

A. Well, now, I do not know what his age was; I could tell you just how old I am.

Q. You are 32? A. Yes, sir, I am 32 years old, yes.

Q. And your best judgment of his age is that he is about 20?

A. I said he is along about in the 20's. Along up in—about 22 or 23 years old.

Q. Then your best judgment is that there is about ten years difference between your age and the age of Robert Jones?

A. Yes, sir, I guess so. I do not think there is that much. he may be as old as I am, I do not know; I am just guessing; I do not know; he may be as old as me. He has never told me his age.

Q. You played with him frequently when you were boys?

A. Yes, sir, played with a good number of boys.

Mr. Lytle: That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Rice.

Q. Was Rob Jones about sice when you played together?

A. What do you mean—as boys?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir, I was taller than he was.

Q. Did you commonly run together, you and Rob?

A. Well, we run together; we played ball and the like of that, you know?

Q. You played on the team? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he play on the same team?

A. No, sir, he would always play against us.

Q. But he was old enough to play against you on the baseball team?

A. Yes, sir, little boys around school; and coming from school and like that.

Mr. Rice: That is all.

Recross Examination by Mr. Rosser.

Q. How long did you say Minnie Atkins stayed there after this child came there—how long was she there at Granny Letcher's?

Mr. Rice: I object to the question as indefinite, what child?

Q. Tommy Atkins—the one they called "Tommie Atkins." A. Came there?

Q. Or was there?

A. He was born there. It was at my grandmother's house.

Q. How long did she stay there after he was born there?

A. I do not know sir, how long she stayed, sir.

Q. Have no idea at all?

A. No, sir, I have no idea how long she stayed there.

Q. You were not present when he was born, were you?

A. No, sir.

Mr. Rosser: That is all.

Recross Examination by Mr. Lytle.

Q. Did Minnie go first, or did they take the boy away first? A. Minnie went first.

Q. About how long before?

A. I do not remember that either.

Q. Can you tell within five years of how long before?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, now——

A. She left—I will tell you in just a moment now—she left it is so far back—give me time to think and I will tell you. She left the boy and it was two years old when she left there.

Q. Oh the boy was two years old?

A. Yes, between one and two years old, the boy was, and she left there.

Mr. Lytle: That is all.

(Witness excused and recalled.)

Redirect Examination by Mr. Rice.

Q. Now, in Judge Rosser's cross examination relative to where you spent the time after you got [] of the army he stated to you there was a discrepancy of some five or six years. Now, taking altogether since you came out of the army how many years have you lived in Kansas City?

A. Altogether?

Q. Yes.

A. Twelve years; about 12 years altogether, I didn't understand it that way. I thought——

Mr. Rice: That is all.

Recross Examination by Mr. Rosser.

Q. You didn't understand me when I asked you where you spent all of your time?

A. No, sir, because you asked me about all the rest of the other places and everything, you know.

Q. Did anybody tell you it was about twelve years altogether? A. No.

Q. Just now? A. No.

Q. Sir? A. No, sir, I will hold up my right——

Q. You say you spent 12 years there? What were you doing during the 12 years?

A. Well, now that is pretty hard matter for a man to answer.

Q. Can you give me the names of the people you have worked for?

A. I worked on the street on concrete, waited tables; porter work, cooked, house cleaned, drove automobiles; I could begin to explain to you——

Q. Have you had any independent business of your own or have you worked for other people?

A. Worked for other people.

Q. Give me the names of the people you have worked for in Kansas City? A. Mr. Bales 29th and Forrest.

Q. What does he do? A. Real estate business.

Q. What else?

A. I waited tables at the Baltimore Hotel; I waited tables at the Edwards Hotel; I waited tables at the Coates House; and I waited tables at Mitchell's Cafe; I have worked in saloons.

Q. What saloons?

A. Mr. Keene Cronan's and I worked for Moran's.

Q. Saloon? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What part of town?

A. I have worked for Jim Maney.

Q. Where is Cronan's place? A. Fifth and Broadway.

Q. You worked for Maney? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is the Maney place? A. 6th and May.

Q. Go ahead.

A. I have worked for the City tearing up streets. I could not begin to name all of them.

Q. You didn't stay the 12 years there continuously; you were in and out?

A. Altogether I have been in and around Kansas City just 12 years.

Q. I say you were not there continuously; you were in a while and then out a while; is that right?

A. Yes, in a while and out a while.

Q. And you worked about seven months or a year in Hutchinson; what did you say?

A. No, sir, I said about two or three months there.

Q. About two or three months there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And where did you spend the balance of your time since you have been out of the Spanish American War?

A. Since I have been out of the Spanish American War?

Q. Yes.

A. That is where I been telling you now, around Hutchinson.

Q. You told of two or three months in Hutchinson and 12 years in Kansas City. Where have you been the balance of the time?

A. Well around different little towns; following the races, and things like that.

Q. You followed the races some, did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How much did you follow the races?

A. I could not tell you just how much I followed the races.

Q. By "following the races," you mean you have gone from place to place where they were running horse races?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And where they were gambling on the races?

A. No, sir, I didn't have nothing to do with gambling——

Q. What is that?

A. I didn't have nothing to do with gambling.

Q. I say there was gambling on the races you followed?

A. No, I never.

Q. You raced? A. No, sir.

Q. You would not bet on a horse race at all if you were flush? A. No, sir.

Q. No? A. No, sir.

Q. Nor shoot craps? A. No, sir, I do not shoot craps.

Q. And just went around and played the horse races to get work? A. Yes, sir.

A. I see. That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Rice.

Q. Worked pretty much all of your life? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Made a living?

A. Yes, sir, I have done nothing but work.

Q. Are you married? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Rice: That is all.

Mr. Rosser: How long have you been married?

A. I have been married pretty near two years.

Mr. Rosser: That is all.

(Witness excused.)

Signed WALTER BANKS.

Subscribed and sworn to before (Clark A. Tharp, Notary Public) me this 14th day of October, 1914. (Seal) My commission expires Nov. 22, 1914.

Mr. Cruce: Does it take all up to 103?

Mr. German: Now, all of the direct examination, which begins on page 80, and the re-direct examination which begins on page 103.

The Court: In other words, you are just offering the direct examination of this witness in those depositions, and not the cross?

Mr. German: That is the idea. Of Sam Nash, we offer the direct examination which begins on page 200; also of the cross examination. Then the last eleven questions on page 220, and continuing then to the end of that cross examination, in the middle of page 221.

The Court: You see that is not right.

Mr. German: May Judge Allen state it in my stead?

The Court: Alright, then; start again with regard to this witness.

Mr. Allen: Also the last eleven questions——

The Court: Well, now, let's just wait; let's see if I understand you; what is the name of this witness, now?

Mr. German: Sam Nash.

The Court: You are offering all the direct examination of Sam Nash, aren't you?

Mr. Allen: Yes, sir.

The Court: That goes in. Now, what part of the cross examination?

Mr. Allen: The last eleven questions and answers on page 220, and continuing down to the middle of 221, which was the end of that cross examination.

The Court: That makes it.

Mr. Allen: Also, the last question and answer on page 221 and the first seven questions and answers on page 222. Also, it is understood that all of the depositions of Dennis Jones and Sam Nash remain as first offered.

Mr. Stuart: Both direct and cross?

The Court: Yes.

SAMUEL NASH, of lawful age, being by me first duly examined, cautioned and solemnly sworn to testify the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth, deposed and said:

Direct Examination by Mr. Rice.

Q. You may state your name? A. Sam Nash.

Mr. Rosser: I object to the testimony of this witness because he was not sworn and put under the rule.

Q. Have you been in the room and heard any of the testimony given here? A. No, sir.

Mr. Rosser: I do not think that satisfied the rule.

Q. How old are you Sam? A. Forty-three.
Q. Where do you live?
A. E. H. Blookberger's 5th and Chesnut.
Q. Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where did you live in 1885 and 1886—'84, '85 and '86?
A. Two hundred seventeen, Seneca.
Q. Whose house was that? A. My grandmother's.
Q. That was in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was that with relation to George Crilley's livery barn?

A. Why it is very near straight across the street from the barn; it is straight across from the house to Mr. Crilly's house.

Q. How old was Granny Letcher at that time?
A. My grandmother?
Q. Yes?

A. Well, really I could not say; in fact she never knew herself.

Q. Was she a grown woman, old was she? A. Oh, yes.
Q. Did Granny Letcher have a boy of her own?

A. Oh, yes, she had a son of her own.

[Q.] What was his name?

A. James Mayo, he went by that but his right name was Phillips.

Q. That is the Mayo we speak of as Jim Mayo?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is he alive or dead? A. He is dead.

Q. Is your grandmother alive or dead? A. She is dead.

Q. When did she die? A. I believe she died in 1900.

Q. After the Spanish American War? A. Yes, sir, after.

Q. When did Jim Mayo die relative to her death?

A. Lacking just about eight days of being three months difference between the two.

Q. Who died first? A. My grandmother.

Q. Did Jim die here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your grandmother died here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she die down at her house across from Crilly's barn? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Jim die there?

A. No, sir, I think he died at 219 Shawnee Street.

Q. What other boy was there at Granny Letcher's?

A. A boy by the name of Walter Banks.

Q. Do you know who Walter Banks' mother was?

A. Yes, I know.

Q. You may state whether she was living at your grandmother's? A. Not on Seneca street.

Q. Where did you last see her living?

A. The last time I saw her alive she was living at 215 Cherokee street.

Q. About how long was it—what became of her, did she die? A. She died.

Q. Did she die in your grandmother's house? A. No, sir.

Q. How long did she live after she left your grandmother's house?

A. As near as I can remember I think it was about four or five months.

Q. When Walter's mother died what became of Walter?

A. Why he still lived with us.

Q. Your grandmother took care of him?

A. Yes, my grandmother fed him and my uncle taken him under his care to buy his clothes.

Q. Now, how old was Walter when your grandmother moved from Cherokee to Seneca street?

A. I think he was in the neighborhood of about four years old.

Q. Did you ever know Minnie Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did she live when you first became acquainted with her?

A. Why the first time I ever got—became acquainted with her she had come to our house to Seneca Street.

Q. Came to your grandmother's house? A. Yes.

Q. What kind of appearing woman was she as to being light or dark?

A. Why, she was—showed that she was an Indian; she had a kind of a copperish color.

Q. What was that name—what was she called?

A. She went by the name of Minnie Atkins?

Q. Did she have a nickname?

A. I never heard none only Indian Minnie, was all.

Q. Now when Minnie first came to your grandmother's house about how old were you? A. I was about 14.

Q. You may state whether or not Minnie Atkins was in a family was when you saw her along about that time?

> Mr. Rosser: I object to the question as leading and suggestive and as calling for the conclusion of the witness.
>
> Mr. Greenslade: I make the same objection.

Q. If you do not know say so and if you do say so.

A. What was it?

Q. Read the question. (Question read.)

A. Yes, sir, she was.

Q. You may state whether or not Minnie Atkins gave birth to a child along about that time? A. She did, yes, sir.

Q. Where was the child born? A. Born at our house.

Q. What part of the house? A. Up stairs.

Q. And did you see the baby after it was born?

A. Yes, sir, two or three days after.

Q. How old was the baby when you saw it about?

A. Oh, it was about three days years old.

Q. Where was it when you saw it? A. Down stairs.

Q. Who had it?

A. Why, I think a colored lady by the name of Aunt Betsy a mid-wife.

Q. What was her business? A. She was a mid-wife.

Q. How old was she—was she an old woman?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever see the boy—what did Minnie call the boy? A. She called him "Tommie."

Q. Did you ever see Tommie nurse? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was he nursing? A. His mother, Minnie.

Q. That was Minnie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you seen Minnie lately in the last two or three weeks? A. Once, I believe.

Q. When was that? A. Kansas City.

Q. Is that the Minnie Atkins that you knew before?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is the one that was the mother of this Tommie Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What were you doing when you were there about the time Tommie was born?

A. I was working for John W. Spratley in north Leavenworth.

Q. What business was he in?

A. He was a banker part of the time I worked for him and he was county treasurer the other part of the time.

Q. Did he have any children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many? A. One.

Q. What was that, a boy? A. Boy.

Q. Do you remember whether or not Minnie subsequently left the Letcher place after the child was born—did she leave the house?

A. Yes, sir, she went away after the child was born.

Q. About how old was the child when she left?

A. You mean left town?

Q. Yes? A. Why, he was very near two years old.

Q. Did Minnie remain in Leavenworth after the child was born until the child was about two years old; is that what you mean? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she stay all of the two years at your mother's?

A. No, sir.

Q. How long was she there at your mother's after the child was born?

A. Well, I judge two months or a little more before she went to work.

Q. And then she was there off and on for two years?

A. Yes, sir.

My Lytle: I object to the question as leading and suggestive.

Mr. Rosser: I make the same objection.

Q. You may state whether or not during the period after the two months and up to the time the child was born you saw Minnie from time to time?

Mr. Lytle: I object to the question as leading and suggestive; based on a leading—premised on a former question having been leading.

A. Yes.

Q. After the child was about two years old you may state whether or not you saw Minnie? A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. You lost sight of her after the child was born—was about two years old? A. Yes.

Q. And did you see her again until you saw her lately in Kansas City? A. No, sir.

Q. Who was the older, you or Jim?

A. Why, Jim was the oldest.

Q. Jim Mayo? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Jim Mayo was working was he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were working? A. Yes, sir.

Q. After you lost sight of Minnie you may state whether or not you saw Tommie any more A. Yes.

Q. Where did you remain after you lost sight of Minnie? A. At our house.

Q. At your grandmother's house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did he remain at your grandmother's house after you lost sight of Minnie?

A. Well, I judge—in fact he was about eleven years old.

Q. What kind of a looking boy was he as to being light or dark? A. Real light.

Q. What kind of hair did he have? A. Straight.

Q. What color? A. Well, very near black.

Q. Was there any family resemblance between him and any person who lived at your grandmother's house?

A. No, sir, outside of his mother.

Q. Did he look a little like his mother?

A. Yes, sir, he had high cheek bones.

Q. Did Tommie go to school? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Walter go? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who furnished Tommie's clothes after he got along two or three or four years old? A. I did.

Q. Who furnished Walter's clothes?

A. My uncle Joe—Jim.

Q. Tommie was kinda in your care and Walter was in your uncle's care? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And both of them lived there at your grandmother's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you buy any of these clothes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Some of them were given to you?

A. Yes, some of them were given to me at Spratley's.

Q. How old was the Spratley boys?

A. About the same age.

Q. And Mrs. Spratley sometimes give you some of the boy's clothing? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Lytle: I object to the question as leading and suggestive.

Q. Do you remember buying any clothes for the boy?

A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. When did you buy the last clothes?

A. The last suit of clothes I bought he was (eight—this word scratched out) or ten years old, just a day before Thanksgiving, I bought a suit of clothes and an overcoat, and I took him and got a hat and a pair of shoes and a pair of stockings.

Q. Where did you buy that?

A. I bought it at Salinger's on the corner of 4th and Delaware, right where the Manufacturer's Bank is now; and the shoe shop was right next door to that.

Q. That was in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did Tommie live with your grandmother after his mother went away?

A. After his mother went away?

Q. Yes, until he was about how old?

A. Until he was about; well he was near the age of 11 (typewritten in original—13—changed the 3 to 1 with a pencil by someone) years old.

Q. What became of him then?

A. Why, there was some lady came there and said that his mother had sent for him.

Mr. Greenslade: I object to the witness stating what somebody told him as hearsay.

Mr. Rosser: I make the same objection.

Mr. Lytle: I request the witness finish his answer.

Mr. Rice: He has answered it.

Q. What time of the year was it this woman came there to your house? A. Why it was warm weather.

Q. Were you at home when she first came? A. No, sir.

Q. Where were you?

A. I was at Mr. Spratley's where I worked.

Q. Did you see this woman yourself?

A. Yes, sir, she came about eleven o'clock in the morning.

Q. When did you see her?

A. I did not see her until I got home that night. Tommie came there to the house and stayed there all day because he didn't want to go with her, and stayed with me until I got ready to go home.

Q. Well, you and Tommie went to the house?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What kind of a woman? A. She was real light.

Q. What was she, Indian, negro or white.

A. She was mixed breed; there was neither colored straight through or a white woman.

Q. What was her appearance as to being large or small?

A. She was a woman would weigh in the neighborhood of 160 pounds.

Q. How old a woman was she as near as you can recollect?

A. Well, she looked to be a woman of about 30, somewhere along in there as near as I can remember.

Q. Did you have any conversation with her yourself?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did she stay at your grandmother's?

A. Why she intended to go back that afternoon, but she had to stay until the next day because Tommie run off and come over to where I was at.

Q. He didn't want to go?

A. He didn't want to go and she didn't go until the next afternoon.

Q. Did your grandmother have any conversation with this woman about letting him go? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was there a desire on the part of your grandmother to have Tommie go or opposition to his going?

A. There was not because she asked her. She says——

Q. What do you mean, "There was not"?

A. She didn't want him to go,

Q. That is your grandmother didn't want him to go with this woman? A. No, sir.

Q. Well, did he finally go with this woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The following day after that woman arrived?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did they go?

A. Why, she said she was going to Kansas City and from there she was going to take him to his mother.

Mr. Lytle: How is that?

A. She said she was going to Kansas City and from there she was going to take him to his mother—she said his mother was in Oklahoma, then.

Q. Did they leave by train? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you down to the train? A. No, sir.

Q. Did anybody go to the train with them?

A. My grandmother did.

Q. Have you seen Tommie since? A. No, sir.

Q. Have you seen this woman since? A. No, sir.

Q. I will just ask you to answer yes or no. In taking with this woman that came for Tommie did you and your grandmother ask her many questions as to who she was and where she was going, and so on? A. My grandmother did.

Q. Did you ever hear anything from Tommie afterwards?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did sir.

Q. Did you hear from this woman again? A. No, sir.

Q. Had you ever seen this woman before? A. No, sir.

Q. Did she leave you any money? A. No, sir.

Q. Leave your grandmother any money?

A. No, sir, she said she would send it.

Q. Did she ever send it? A. No, sir.

Q. What was she going to send money for?

A. Why, for Tommie's expenses.

Q. About how long was this before your grandmother died? A. Oh, as near as I can judge about two years.

Q. Now, you may state whether or not Walter Banks went in the army? A. He did, yes, sir.

Q. At the time of the Philippine War? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And when did your grandmother die? A. About 1900.

Q. And when do you figure the Spanish American War was—about 1898? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, if the Spanish American War was in 1898 about two years before your grandmother died when was it that this woman came after Tommie? A. It was before that.

Q. About how long before, can you fix the time?

A. About—oh, I guess somewhere, one or two or three years.

Q. How long did you work for Mr. Spratley?

A. About nine years.

Q. When did you start working for him, do you know?

A. I started work*ed* for him after we moved—well I was about 15, about 14 or 15 years old when I started working for him.

Q. You are 43 now. You started working for him about the time Tommie was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You worked for Mr. Spratley about nine years?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you still working for Mr. Spratley when Tommie went away? A. No, sir, I was working for Dr. Brock.

Q. Here in Leavenworth? Take your time and be sure of it.

A. Yes, sir—he went when I was at Spratley's when he went away.

Q. How long did you stay at Spratley's after he went away? A. Until the coming spring afterwards.

Q. Then I take it you worked at Spratley's practically all the time Tommie lived at your grandmother's, is that right? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you went to work for them? A. Dr. Brock.

Q. Here in town? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you work for him?

A. I worked for him about four years.

Q. Whom were you working for at the time your grandmother died?

A. I was working for George Crilly when my grandmother died.

Q. You had quit working for Dr. Brown?

A. Yes, sir, because he was dead then.

Q. You were working for George Crilley? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you work for George Crilley?

A. Oh, about a year and a half.

Q. That would bring it to along about 1901 or so. Where did you work after that?

A. Jim Davis Commission house on Shawnee.

Q. Here in town? A. Yes.

Q. How long did you work for him?

A. Three or four years?

Q. That would be 1903 or four.

Mr. Lytle: I object to the question as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial to any issue*d* in the case.

Mr. Greenslade: I object to counsel coaching the witness as to dates.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. After you worked for Jim Davis, who did you work for then?

Mr. Lytle: I object to the question as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial to any issue in the case.

A. I have worked for Dustin the fish man.

Q. Here in town? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you work? A. Two years.

Q. After working for Dustin the fish man who did you work for then?

Mr. Lytle: I object to the question as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

A. Then I worked for George Etta fishing company.

Q. Here in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you work for him?

A. About a year and a half?

Q. And then who did you work for?

Mr. Lytle: I object to the question as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. All right. When did you los*t* that arm?

Mr. Lytle: I object to the question as irrelevant and immaterial to any issue in the case.

Mr. Greenslade: Same objection.

A. When I was about nine years old.
Q. What are you doing now for a living?
A. Well, I am taking care of automobiles, house cleaning and everything else.
Q. Are you married? A. No, sir.
Q. Did you know Dennis Jones? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did Dennis Jones have a boy, or raise a boy, if you know? A. Yes, he has a boy.
Q. What was his name—Rob, was it?

Mr. Rosser: I object to leading the witness.

Q. You do not remember his name?
A. I do not remember it, no, sir.
Q. Did Tommie go to school? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you know the names of boys went with him?
A. No, there was no colored people living around there in our neighborhood but just us.
Q. And this Mr. Crilly living across the street was a white man? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did Walter Banks go to school? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Was there separate schools here then for white and colored? A. Yes, sir.
[Q.] They both went to the colored school? A. Yes.
Q. Do you know the name of the teacher at that time at the colored school for children? A. Miss Montgomery?
Q. Are you sure of the name?
A. Miss Montgomery was the teacher.
Q. Is she alive? A. No, sir.
Q. Where was this colored school?
A. It was on 3rd and Metropolitan Avenue.
Q. And is that near the Reservation? A. Yes, sir.

---

12 o'clock M. an adjournment was taken to 1:30 o'clock P. M. at which time there being present the same as before the examination of the witness was resumed by Mr. Rice as follows:

Q. Sam, do you remember the name of any girl o girls that used to go with Minnie along about the time the child was born?
A. Well, I seen her with Ida Foster, but not very often.
Q. Was Ida Foster colored or white?

A. I could not say as to that. She was not no colored girl.

Q. Light complexioned was she?

A. Yes, her sisters were all white.

Mr. Rice: I believe that is all. Take the witness.

Cross Examination by Mr. Lytle.

Q. Who was that gentleman you worked for nine years?

A. Spratley.

Q. Yes. You commenced working for him when?

A. Along about either the latter part of 1885 or the first part of 1886.

Q. Were you working for him at the time that this boy you called Tommie Atkins went away from your grandmother's place? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he was eleven years old when he went?

A. Yes, sir, you want me to explain that?

Q. Yes?

A. For two years Spratley's they went away from home——

Q. I never asked for an explanation about it?

Mr. Rice: I want him to explain his answer.

A. The reason I say he was eleven years old for two years Spratley's left home and went away. Part of the time I stayed there and at a farm in Missouri, I think, part of the time they were gone out of the City, and when they came back I started on to work.

Q. What two years was that?

A. Well, I had been working for them, I guess three or four years before they went away and were gone they two years, and then they came back again.

Q. Who did you work for during those two years?

A. During the time they were gone?

Q. Yes, sir. A. I was working for anyone.

Q. What kind of a house was that your grandmother, Mrs. Letcher, lived in? A. It was a frame house.

Q. Frame house—how many rooms? A. About 13 rooms.

Q. About 13 rooms; a two story house was it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many girls did Mrs. Letcher keep, or have around her during the time Minnie Atkins was there?

A. I do not think there was but one girls in the house.

Q. One girl in the house. Did a number of men come there during that period of time?

A. Why they come there all the time, yes, sir, my uncle used to play ball and the team used to meet there; and then they gave minstrels and the like of that. We (the word "they" inserted here in pencil) used to rehearse in the cellar.

Q. In the cellar? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What kind of a looking woman was this that took Thomas Atkins? A. Why, she was real light.

Q. About how old?

A. Oh I judge she was about 30 years old.

Q. Any distinguished marks about her?

A. I never noticed.

Q. What did she say her name was?

A. I do not remember that now; it has been so long ago.

Q. Would you recall it do you think if you heard it?

A. I think I could; I ain't sure.

Q. Where did you say she lived?

A. She did not say where she lived; she said she was going to take Tommie to his mother.

Q. Did she—she did not tell you where she lived and she was here alone? A. Yes, sir, she came to our house alone.

Q. She had some purported papers from Tommie's mother? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't have any papers? A. Didn't show any.

Q. And just on her say so that she came from Minnie, and she a total stranger, you turned this boy over to her, that you had been supporting for ten or eleven years?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And at that time you were a man of 26 or 27 years of age; is that right? A. Twenty-five or twenty-six.

Q. You are a member of the African race, are you not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And attended school?

A. Yes, sir, a little bit, not much.

Q. What? [A.] A little bit, not much.

Q. Can you read and write? A. Pretty well, yes, sir.

Q. A man of average intelligence?

A. Well, I judge so now, but not quite that much then.

Q. After Minnie Atkins left here you—as you say they boy was about ten years old, did you know where she went?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Did your grandmother know to your knowledge?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you, or your grandmother to your knowledge ever write?

A. No, sir, because we did not know where she was at.

Q. She just picked up and went away without a word?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In other words, when this boy was about six months of age his mother abandoned him to your care, did she?

A. No, sir, I did not say that.

Q. Didn't I understand you to say this morning; or did I understand you to say that when that boy was about from four to six months old Minnie left your place?

A. I never—and didn't come back any more?

Q. You didn't say that?

A. I said he was three or four months old when she went to work.

Q. Yes—and about how often did she return to Mrs. Letcher's after that?

A. Well, I could not say as to how often because you see I was at work myself.

Q. You came home at night?

A. No, sir, not all the time.

Q. Well, about how much of the time?

A. Well, I could not say that either.

Q. Where did Minnie work? A. She worked at the post.

Q. She worked at the post? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know who was adjutant at the post?

A. At that time? No, sir.

Q. And did you say you went down to the train when Tommie left here? A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Then, you do not know how he left town of your own knowledge? A. No, sir, not my own knowledge.

Q. The boy was healthy when he went away?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And from that day until this you didn't hear from him? A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. And from the time that Minnie left here when that boy was about two years old you didn't hear from her, or know of her whereabouts until this controversy over this land arose? A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Did you talk to Dennis Jones since yesterday morning about this case? A. Since yesterday morning?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir.

Q. When did you talk to him about it?

A. Oh, it was about a month or so ago.

Q. Did you then go over with Dennis what your evidence would be in this matter?

A. No, sir, we never did talk that matter.

Q. You never did talk that matter; who did go over it with you? A. I never went over it with anyone.

Q. You never went over it with anyone; did you talk to Mr. Long this gentleman right back here about what your evidence would be, before coming on the stand here?

A. I do not understand the question?

Q. Did you talk with Mr. Long this gentleman right back here, about what your evidence would be? A. When?

Q. Any time? A. Yes, sir, we talked the matter over.

Q. What was Minnie's reputation when she was at your place with reference to morality or immorality.

A. I never noticed anything wrong about her.

Q. Well, did you hear anything about it?

A. No, sir, I never heard anyone say anything about it.

Q. Did your grandmother keep a place where lewd men and women congregated for immoral purposes?

A. No, sir, she did not.

Q. That is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Greenslade.

Q. Sam, did you say that a woman called "Aunt Betsy" was mid-wife at the birth of Tommie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She was a mid-wife around Minnie's at that time, was she? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old a woman was she?

A. Well, I could not tell that because she was an old woman then.

Q. Is she alive or dead? A. Dead.

Q. Dead. Were there any other children born at that house you know of? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you have any doctor at the time this child was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was the doctor? A. Dr. McCormick.

Q. Is he living or dead?

A. I could not say, but I think he is dead.

Q. Is he a white man? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was Tommie's father? A. I do not know.

Q. Did you ever hear who his father was?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Never heard your grandmother say?

A. No, sir, I do not think she knew.

Q. Or Minnie? A. I never heard her say.

Q. Now, I believe you said this morning that Jim Mayo looked after and supported Walter Banks, and you looked after and supported this boy Tommie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is right, is it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. By that you mean that you not only looked after his whereabouts personally but you bought his clothes for him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who supported your grandmother?

A. Why, the rooming house supported her.

Q. The rooming house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you and Jim Mayo contribute to her support?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Paid her board, did you?

A. No, sir, I did not pay no board, because I was working most all the time; I ate where I worked at, but I always gave her money.

Q. And Jim did too?

A. Yes, sir, at the time while he lived at home.

Q. At the time while he lived at home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Minnie Atkins ever contribute anything to the support of Tommie? A. No, sir, nothing that I saw.

Q. So far as you know Minnie Atkins never did buy Tommie any clothes, did she? A. No, sir.

Q. Or never contributed to his board?

A. Well, that I do not know, you know; she might have given grandmother some money that I did not know anything about?

Q. I say, so far as you know, she never did.

A. So far as I know.

Q. From what period of Tommie's life did you support him? A. Right after his mother left.

Q. Right after Minnie left Leavenworth. Did anybody contribute anything to his support and maintenance except you and Mrs. Letcher? A. No, sir.

Q. Nobody—did you see Minnie just before she left town?

A. No, sir.

Q. How did you learn that she had left town?

A. Well, I told you I didn't know she had gone until I went home one evening and mama said, "Minnie is gone," I said, "Is she," she said "Yes." I said "How do you know?" She said "Somebody told me, that is how I know."

Q. You never seen her until recently? A. No, sir.

Q. During the time she was gone did you or your mother attempt to locate her? A. No, sir.

Q. Or to get her address? A. No, sir.

Q. During that same period did you ever have any letters, postal cards or other communications from Minnie?

A. No, sir.

Q. Before this woman came to take away Tommie had you ever heard from anybody claiming to be a relative of Tommie, or to have come from relatives of Tommie?

A. No, sir, not up to the time this woman come.

Q. Did Tommie's father ever contribute anything to the support of his child?

A. I do not know him; I never seen him.

Q. Did any man ever acknowledge Tommie as his son or recognize him as his son? A. No, sir.

Q. Then, after Minnie left Leavenworth Tommie had no one in this town related to him, so far as you know?

A. No, sir.

Q. There was no one interested in him except yourself and Mrs. Letcher? A. That is all.

Q. After this woman came and took Tommie away did you ever meet him again? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever hear from this woman? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever attempt to find out his whereabouts or locate him? A. No, sir.

Q. Did your grandmother ever attempt to locate him?

A. Oh, she often wondered and said where could she write and find out; of course, not having trace we could not write.

Q. Then she did not write to anybody to find out where he was?

A. No, sir, because we did not know anybody in Oklahoma to write to.

Q. You didn't know anybody in Oklahoma to write to. You did not know, of course, whether he was in Oklahoma or not? A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. There was no one in Leavenworth besides yourself and your grandmother to make inquiries or who would be interested in making inquiries concerning him, was there?

A. No, sir, not that I know of.

Q. This woman that came and got Tommie was a white woman? A. No, sir.

Q. She was a light mulatto (the word "colored" stricken out and words light mulatto" inserted with lead pencil) woman?

A. Well, I could not say whether she was colored; she was mixed; she was about half wife. She was a whole lot shadier than some colored people, but she was not to say a colored woman.

Q. Did she have any Indian blood in her?

A. She might have.

Q. And she came alone? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Rob Jones?

A. I might now, but I cannot place him by name.

Q. You know Dennis Jones, of course? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know the boy Dennis Jones raised?

A. Well, I know of him; I saw him.

Q. How long ago is that you saw him?

Q. He was a boy about the same age as Tommie, was he not? A. That I do not know.

Q. Do you know whether he ever played with Tommie and the boys together? A. No.

Q. Did you ever see Dennis Jones' boy?

A. With Tommie?

Q. No, at all, anywhere? A. Oh, I have saw him.

Q. Did you know him when he was a boy?

A. Well, I know there was one around here; I did not know his name.

Q. I mean a boy living with Dennis Jones and his wife?

A. Yes, sir, I remember that.

Q. You say you knew him well? A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. How old a boy was he compared to Tommie?

A. That I could not tell.

Q. Well, how old did he appear to be—about the same size boy?

A. Well, I do not know; he might have been a little larger.

Q. Might have been a little larger; you do not know he ever played with Tommie? A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. You do not know whether he ever knew Tommie, do you? A. I do not know that, no, sir.

Q. Were there any pictures ever made of Tommie?

A. No, sir.

Q. Never had his picture taken? A. No, sir.

Q. When this woman came and got him, did she take all his clothes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How big a boy was Tommie when he left your house?

A. You mean, how tall?

Q. Yes? A. Oh about four feet or something like that.

Q. And about how much did he weigh?

A. He weighed about 100 pounds, something like that.

Q. About the average size boy for that age, was he?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he wear long pants?

A. No, he hadn't commenced to wear long pants.

Q. He hadn't? A. No.

Q. How long before he left was it you bought him that suit of clothes?

A. Just the Thanksgiving before that when he left the next?

Q. What?

A. It was this Thanksgiving before he left—he left the next coming summer—I do not know whether it was summer or fall.

Q. Did you buy any other clothes for him between those dates between Thanksgiving and the summer before he left?

A. Yes. (Words "No, sir" stricken out with pencil and word yes written in.)

Q. He was not yet in long pants? A. No, sir.

Q. Did he do any work around town before he left?

A. No, sir.

Q. Never had any job? A. No, sir.

Q. Was he in school the year before this woman came and got him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The winter before that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was Walter Banks in school with him?

A. Yes, sir, Walter was at school too.

Q. Were they in school together that year—the winter before he left?

A. No, I am not positive whether Walter went to school that year or not, but Tommie did. Walter went to the Catholic school he didn't learn anything in the public school.

Q. Did Tommie ever go to the Catholic school?

A. No, sir.

Q. I believe you said he was born in Mrs. Letcher's house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you think Tommie left your home—Mrs. Letcher's home in 1887? A. (No response.)

Q. What year was it he left there?

A. I do not remember exactly the year, but I think it was about 1896—somewhere along in there, '95 or '96.

Q. I got mixed up—about '96, you say?

A. About somewhere in there; may be the latter part of '95 or '96.

Q. You think it was '95 or '96?

A. It must have been '95 or '96.

Q. You are giving those facts now by reason of having counted them up or do you have any independent recollection of any other event which happened the same year by which you fix the time? A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. Do you remember when the World's Fair was held in Chicago? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What year was that? A. I think it was in 1893.

Q. 1893; and was it before or after that that Tommie left your house? A. It was after.

Q. You would think it was about three years after that?

A. Somewhere near that, yes, sir.

Q. Was Tommie Atkins ever baptised? A. No, sir.

Q. Never was? A. No, sir.

Q. Did Walter Banks and Tommie ever go to Sunday school? A. I do not remember that.

Q. You do not remember that?

A. They might have went sometimes and I not know anything about it.

Q. Did you attend church? A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. You were not a member of the church? A. Sir?

Q. You were not a member of a church then?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was Mrs.—was your grandmother a member of a church? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What church did she attend? A Second Baptist.

Q. Second Baptist? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is that? A. Sixth and Pottawatomie.

Q. How far was that from the house there at that time?

A. Let's see, Miami, Osage, Pottawatomie—that is three, four, five, six. It is about six blocks.

Q. Who was the pastor of the church at that time?

A. Well, I am not positive, but I think it was Elder Ewing.

Q. Elder Ewing? A. I think.

Q. That was a colored church? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Elder Ewing ever call at your house?

A. I never saw him there.

Q. Never saw him there, is he dead or alive?

A. I think he is alive.

Q. Lives in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say Walter and Tommie never went to Sunday School to your knowledge? A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. And were never baptised. How did this child get the name "Thomas Atkins"? Tommie Atkins.

A. His mother gave him that name.

Q. His mother gave him that name? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know after whom she named him?

A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. Did your mother have a family Bible? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you that family Bible now? A. No, sir.

Q. What became of it? A. I do not know, sir.

Q. You do not know?

A. No, you see when my grandmother died, my uncle taken everything that was in the house.

Q. By your uncle you mean Jim Mayo? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You think he took the family Bible?

A. Yes, sir, got all of the books.

Q. He is dead? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And if he did take it what became of it at his death?

A. That, I could not say; you see after he died the girl that was living with him, why, she got everything that he had.

Q. Was he married at that time?

A. Yes, sir, he was married.

Q. Was Thomas' birthday written in the family Bible?

A. I could not say as to that.

Q. Did you ever see your grandmother write in the family Bible? A. She can't write.

Q. She could not write—could she read? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know whether or not the birth of this child Tommie was reported to any official in this town?

A. I do not.

Q. Do you know whether or not the births were required to be reported at that time? A. No.

Q. Who paid Dr. McCormack for attending Minnie at the birth of this child? A. I could not say as to that.

Q. You do not know. Was Aunt Betsey paid anything for her services there?

A. I could not say as to whether she was.

Q. Have you ever been in Washington, D. C. A. No, sir.

Q. Have you ever been away from Leavenworth?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Have you ever been to Chicago?

A. I was there about a week.

Q. When was that? A. During the World's Fair.

Q. During the World's Fair in 1893? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you made any effort to locate Thomas Atkins recently? A. No, sir.

Q. Whom did you first tell that you knew anything about Thomas Atkins? A. Why the first one?

A. I mean with reference to this case?

A. Whom did I first tell?

A. Yes?

A. In fact, I didn't tell anybody anything since.

Q. Well you told Mr. Long, didn't you? A. Oh yes.

Q. Was he the first man you talked to about it?

A. No, I was talking to Rube Smith.

Q. Rube Smith. Who is Rube Smith?

A. That is a gentleman outside here.

Q. Is he a witness in this case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long ago was it you talked to him?

A. Oh, I was on the street one evening when he came along and he said, "Are you in a hurry?" I said, "No." He said, "We might need you before long," I said "What for?" He said "As a witness," so he told me what for and I said "All right," said "I will see you" and I turned around and went in the show because I didn't want to miss it.

Q. Was he looking for witnesses? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know how he came to do that?

A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. Did you ever talk to Dennis Jones about the matter?

A. No, sir.

Q. How did you happen to be talking to Mr. Long?

A. Why Mr. Crilly brought Mr. Long to my place.

Q. Mr. Crilly? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You told Mr. Long whatever you knew did you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About Thomas Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where do you live now?

A. 5th and Chesnut, E. H. Blockberger's.

Q. Are you married? A. No, sir.

Q. Have you ever been married? A. No, sir.

Q. Have you any brothers and sisters? A. No, sir.

Q. That is all.

Recross Examination by Mr. Lytle.

Q. Just one question. Did I understand you to say this morning to and in answer to Mr. Rice's question that that lady that came for Thomas Atkins was a white woman?

A. No, sir, you did not.

Q. You didn't. As a matter of fact she was a mulatto?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Would you say that she had colored blood?

A. Yes, sir, I would.

Q. Or was she just dark or brunette white person?

A. Well, she had colored blood, in her.

Q. That is all.

Recross Examination by Mr. Greenslade.

Q. Do you know Sadie James? A. Sadie James?

Q. Yes? A. Sadie Harris, you mean.

Q. Sadie James?

A. I know Sadie Harris; I do not know Sadie James. It might be Sadie Harris, may be she is married since I knew her.

Q. Besides Walter Banks and possibly this Jones boy, do you know of any other boys in your neighborhood that played with Thomas Atkins?

A. Why, the Crilly boys, white boys across the street.

Q. Who?

A. The Crilly boys, white boys across the street.

Q. Do you know of any colored boys?

A. No, sir. There were no colored boys in that neighborhood.

Q. That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Rice.

Q. In regard to Minnie, would you say she had colored blood, I mean African blood or Indian blood?

A. Why black blood or something. I know she was not pure white.

[Q.] That is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Rosser.

Q. Can you tell the difference between Indian blood by looking, and black blood? A. Hardly.

Q. Could not hardly tell?

A. Hardly, not a person as light as she was I could not tell them.

Q. How old were you when you first got acquainted with Minnie? A. About 14 years old.

Q. Had you know her before she came to your grandmother's? A. No, I had not.

Q. You had not known her before? A. No, sir.

Q. How long was she there before the child was born?

A. Why, I should judge about two or three months.

Q. Two or three months; well, was it two or three months?

A. I could not say.

Q. You could not say? A. No, sir.

Q. You know whether or not your grandmother had been acquainted with her before that?

A. I do not think she had.

Q. She just came in there at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Two or three monhts before the child was born?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You do not think your grandmother was acquainted with her, and you had never met her before? A. Hardly.

Q. What? A. I say hardly.

Q. Hardly, well you mean by that that you did not meet her? A. No, sir, I never met her before.

Q. You do not think your grandmother had met her. Do you know whether any of the balance of the women had?

A. There was not anyone else in the family but my uncle.

Q. Well, did your uncle know her?

A. No, sir, he did not.

Q. He did not know her? A. No, sir, he did not.

Q. He did not know her—you say she appeared to be pregnant? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you present when she and your grandmother first met? A. No, sir, I was not.

Q. You were not present? A. No, sir.

Q. How long was she around there before you were when they were together?

A. She had come sometime during the day and I came that evening; she was there when I came home that evening.

Q. Did you remark anything about her being pregnant?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. You did not say anything about it; did your grandmother say anything about it to the balance of you?

A. She would not say anything like that to me, no, sir.

Q. She would not say anything like that to you. You knew, then, of course that she was going to have a baby practically as soon as she came there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You never mentioned that to anybody to your playmates, or your brother or your uncle or anybody that was there? A. No, sir.

Q. Now what time of the year was it she came there?

A. I do not remember exactly. I do not remember that.

Q. Well, you remember when the child was born; what time of the year was that? A. I do not remember that.

Q. Was it born—what part of the house was the child born in? A. Up stairs.

Q. Up stairs, which room up stairs?

A. Well, I could not say as to what room it was in.

Q. Do you know which room she stayed in? A. No, sir.

Q. You do not know that? A. No, sir.

Q. Well how long had the child been born after you saw it? A. Oh, about three days, I guess.

Q. About three days; where did you first see it?

A. Down stairs in the front room.

Q. You never saw it then in her room where she stayed at that time? A. No, sir.

Q. How long was it before you saw it in the same room with her?

A. Why it was about, oh, about three or four weeks, I think.

Q. About three or four weeks, what room did she occupy during the time the child was born—when she first came there, what room did she occupy?

A. She was up stairs. I never went up stairs in the rooms; I very seldom went up stairs because I slept down stairs when I was at home and when I was not I slept at the house where I was working.

Q. So you do not know what room it was born in.

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you remember what time of the year it was?

A. No, sir.

Q. Don't you remember whether it was hot or cold weather? A. I know it was not cold.

Q. Well, was it warm, or how was it—where was the child when you first saw it? A. In the front room.

Q. In the front room down stairs? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who had it? A. Why Aunt Betsy.

Q. Aunt Besy—was there a fire place in the room?

A. No, sir, a stove in it.

Q. Stove; was there a fire in the stove?

A. No, sir, there was not.

Q. There was not—sure of that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Stove up? A. I think it set up all the time.

Q. Never took it down? A. No, sir.

Q. You say there were 13 rooms in the house?

A. About 13.

Q. Was that counting the cellar; did you count that as a room where you had your musical parties?

A. I could not tell exactly just how many rooms there was—yes, it was counting the cellar too.

Q. Then there were 12 rooms outside the cellar?

A. There was two rooms in the cellar.

Q. Well, there were eleven besides the cellar?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many then were down stairs rooms?

A. Eight, I think.

Q. Eight down stairs? A. Yes.

Q. Then there were three up stairs? A. Five up stairs.

Q. Five. Well, how many—you say there were eight, you mean counting the two in the cellar? A. Yes, sir.

Q. There were counting the ground floor above the cellar, is that right? A. That is right.

Q. And five up stairs? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now who were the members of your family?

A. Sir?

Q. How many were—there were you, Jim Mayo, your grandmother, now who else made the family?

A. That is all in the family except Walter and Tommie.

Q. Except Walter and Tommie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, Tommie was not in the family until he was born. You did not count him in your family just while the woman was pregnant with him did you? A. No, sir.

Q. And you never really counted him part of your family until she left, did you? A. No, sir.

Q. How many of those rooms had beds in them?

A. All of them up stairs.

Q. All up stairs. How many down stairs?

A. I think three down stairs.

Q. Three down stairs. Think they were eight bed rooms in the house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many did the family occupy? A. Two—three.

Q. You occupied three down stairs rooms?

A. Yes, sir, we had three down stairs rooms.

Q. The up stairs was for boarders, or for transients, was it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You said your grandmother lived from the proceeds of the rooming house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. ——what she made out of renting her rooms, didn't she? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long was Minnie there?

A. How long was she there? What do you mean?

Q. How long did Minnie stay at your grandmother's place? A. I said two or three months.

Q. Two or three months—well, now how many other people stayed there during that time, as near as you can say?

A. Why, they were coming and going all the time.

Q. Yes, men and women too, were there not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were there any other woman stayed there at that time besides your grandmother? A. There was one.

Q. Who was that? [A.] That was my uncle's wife.

Q. What was her name? A. Caroline.

Q. What was your uncle's name?

A. Well, his name right was Phillips, but he went by the name of Jim Mayo there.

Q. That was the only woman stayed there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are certain about that?

A. That is the only one stayed there to my knowledge.

Q. Well, you would know, would you not?

A. (No response.)

Q. Well, now after Minnie left there during the next year or two was there any other woman stayed there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was that? A. A girl by the name of Lucy Bell.

Q. When did Lucy come there?

A. Well, I do not remember exactly when Lucy came there.

Q. She was not living there while Minnie was living there? A. No, sir.

Q. You are sure of that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You cannot say how long after Minnie left there that it was she came there? A. No, sir, I could not say that.

Q. How long did Lucy stay there?

A. Well, I do not know exactly, a year or so; something like that.

Q. Then she married and left, did she? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is she now?

A. I do not know, sir; I heard she was in St. Joe.

Q. When did you hear that?

A. Why, I heard Will Parker speak of that.

Q. Just since you have been here?

A. No—it has been down town; it had been a long time ago since I heard that; and then he was not talking to me, he was talking to somebody else.

Q. Did she stay a year or two? A. Somewhere——

Q. Now, who else stayed with you during the years you lived there in that house?

A. There was no one stayed there, I said there was people coming and going all the time.

Q. Jim Mayo's wife, where is she? A. She is dead.

Q. She is dead. Everybody ever stayed in that house is dead or disappeared so you cannot say where they are except you and Walter Banks, is that right?

Mr. Rice: I object to the question as incompetent, it not being proper cross examination.

Q. Is it not a fact, according to your statement that everybody ever stayed at your grandmother's place any length of time except you and Walter Banks are either dead or disappeared so you do not know where they are?

Mr. Rice: Same objection.

A. Well, I could not say. I could not say as to that because I have not been running around the country trying to find anybody that stayed at our house at that time.

Q. Well, did you lose interest in the people that came and stayed at your grandmother's house from one, two and three years, so you didn't care what became of them?

A. I didn't pay much attention to them.

Q. Didn't pay much attention to them? And this boy you were supporting there eight or nine years, you didn't pay much attention to him either? A. I did to him, sure.

Q. You did to him—how old was it you say when he disappeared? A. I would judge about eleven years old.

Q. He went with this woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She told you, I believe you said she was taking him to his mother in the Indian Territory?

A. In Oklahoma I said.

Q. In Oklahoma? A. Yes.

Q. Well, she told you where his mother was in Oklahoma, did she not?

A. She didn't. She said she was in Oklahoma; that is all she said.

Q. You didn't ask where the mother was in Oklahoma?

A. No, I did not think it was necessary to ask her any questions.

Q. You did not think it was necessary?

A. I judged her to be straight and was telling the truth.

Q. What is that?

A. I judged her to be straight and was telling the truth.

Q. You didn't have curiosity enough to ask what place in Oklahoma she was taking him to then?

A. I might have asked the question but I do not remember it.

Q. You do not remember it. Well, if she did tell you the place that she was taking this child you would remember it, don't you think?

Mr. Rice: I object to the question as incompetent.

A. I do not know; I might have, but I do not remember now.

Q. You never wrote to any place?

A. I didn't understand the question.

Q. You never wrote to any place to find out about the child?

A. No, sir, I did not. I did not know anyone to write to.

Q. Well, if you had asked her for the place she was taking the child you would have had a place to write to, would you not? A. (No response.)

Q. So, as a matter of fact you just let her take the child away without asking what address she was taking the child to?

Mr. Rice: I object to the question as incompetent, and a mis-statement.

Q. Is that true? A. What did you say?

Q. I said you let her take the child away and didn't ask her where she was taking it to—what address—what place?

Mr. Rice: I object to the question as a repetition and incompetent.

Q. Did you?

A. She said she was taking the child to Oklahoma to his mother.

Q. And you never had any more definite address than just Oklahoma.

Mr. Rice: Same objection.

A. No, sir.

Q. What was the name of this Smith. A. Rube Smith.

Q. How long has Rube Smith been here? A. Where?

Q. In Leavenworth? A. Ever since until I was.

Q. What does he do? A. He was running a grocery store.

Q. What is he doing now? A. He is a lawyer, I guess.

Q. His office is with Dennis Jones, is it not?

A. I don't know.

Q. Don't you know he stays at Dennis Jones' office and is with Dennis Jones a great deal? A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. You did not know that? A. No, sir.

Q. How long did this child continue to nurse its mother, or did she continue to nurse the child?

A. I do not know, I suppose the baby was nursing when she left town.

Q. You suppose it was? A. Yes.

Q. Could it talk when she left?

A. Why it could blabber around like some kids talk.

Q. Blabber like some kids? A. Like children do.

Q. Well, you mean it could talk then—it could not talk possibly very plain? A. No, sir.

Q. Could it walk? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Ever get out of the house? A. Out in the yard.

Q. Out in the yard? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was the yard fenced in? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Fenced in at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did the child ever go anywheres else except out in the yard?

A. It would go out on the sidewalk once in a while.

Q. I believe you gave the name of the teacher he went to. I wish you would state it again? Montgomery, was it?

A. Montgomery.

Q. Did you ever go to any other teacher besides her?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't go to school very much?

A. No, sir, not very much.

Q. What school was it you went to?

A. I went to the public school a while and then I went to the Catholic school, but I didn't go to school but about four years.

Q. Well, that is two years more than I went; you say you can just barely read and write?

A. No, sir, I didn't say I just could barely read and write; I said I could read and write a little bit.

Q. A little bit. How long did Tommie go to school before he left there?

A. Why he didn't start to school until he was about seven years old.

Q. About seven, and he went right along until he was about seven years old.

Q. About seven and he went right along until he left all the school sessions?

A. No, not all the school because it got too cold.

Q. How is that? A. Got bad weather; it was too cold.

Q. It was kind of a bad winter?

A. It was too bad and he had too far to go.

Q. Did you ever hear of Minnie after she disappeared?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did she tell you all anything about when she was going away? A. No, sir, she did not.

Q. You think she hadn't nursed the baby up until she did leave, at all? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long had she been gone before you knew she was gone, or do you know as to that?

A. I do not know as to that.

Q. Well, how long had you missed her before your grandmother told you she was gone?

A. Why, I didn't miss her, my grandmother missed her because she came around the house—came around in the afternoon, and I would be at work, and so I come home and my grandmother said, "Minnie is gone," I said, "Is she," and she said, "Yes"? We thought she would write and never paid any more attention.

Q. This was 1906? A. 1895 or '96 somewhere.

Q. Somewhere along there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is all.

(Witness excused.)

(Signed) SAMUEL NASH.

Subscribed and sworn to in my presence this 20th day of October, 1914. Clark A. Tharp, Notary Public. My commission expires Nov. 22nd, 1914. (Seal)

And thereupon, FRANK L. MONTGOMERY, a witness produced and sworn on behalf of the Government, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Frank L. Montgomery.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, what official position, if any, do you hold? A. I am the United States Probate Attorney.

Q. Acting in the matter of minor Indian affairs and restricted Indian affairs that come before the probate courts of Oklahoma?

A. Yes, together with such other special matters as are directed to be attended to by me by the Department of the Interior.

Q. You are under the supervision of the Secretary of the Interior? And commissioner of Indian affairs?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you been United States Probate Attorney, Mr. Montgomery?

The Court: I suppose you are going to interrogate him now with regard to something that transpired along in 1915 or 1916. Was he probate attorney then?

Mr. German: Yes, sir.

A. I was appointed probate attorney in 1914, February.

Q. February. And have held that position ever since?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you been practicing law, Mr. Montgomery? A. About fifteen years.

Q. Do you know Sadie James? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, it appears in evidence here that you signed, and the document is introduced, a so-called—a document granting to Sadie James immunity from the prosecution in the matter—in connection with what she had done in her work with relation to Thomas Atkins, that you did that in December, 1914, and the document is signed this way: "Frank L. Montgomery, United States Attorney," The words "United States Attorney" being typewritten. I will ask you how it happened that you signed it as United States Attorney?

A. That was evidently a mistake on the part of the stenographer, and overlooked by me at the time I placed my signature thereto.

Q. Where was the document prepared, in what city?

A. In Kansas City.

Q. Was the stenographer who was used one who had ever worked down in this Indian country that you knew of?

A. I do not personally know.

Q. You hadn't known the stenographer before?

A. I never had seen him prior to that time.

Q. Now, Mr. Montgomery, do you know Minnie Atkins, Minnie Folk now it is? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was the first time you ever saw her?

A. In December, 1914.

Q. Where? A. At Fort Lawton, Seattle, Washington.

Q. In what time in December, if you recall, was the first time you saw her?

A. About the middle, I wouldn't attempt, without looking at my report, to state the exact date, it has been quite a while.

Q. Is this your report, Mr. Montgomery (handing witness a paper)? A. It is.

Q. Now, can you refresh your memory as to the exact date when you first saw her?

A. (Referring to report.) It was on Monday morning, the 14th of December, 1914.

Q. Where?

A. At her home just immediately outside the entrance to the Fort.

Q. Fort Lawton, where is Fort Lawton from Seattle?

A. It is about five or six miles from the City I think.

Q. North? A. I don't know what direction.

Q. You didn't get the direction? A. No, sir.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, did you talk with her that day?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was with you, I mean, at her house?

A. Her husband Harry, I think, Harry Folk and Captain MacNab introduced me, but I don't think that they remained present during the entire conversation had with Mrs. Folk.

Q. What did you talk to her about, don't state the conversation, but the subject matter, the subject of the conversation?

A. I stated to her the purpose of my visit, which was to secure information as to the legality of the allotment of Creek land to Tommy Atkins.

Q. And did you discuss the matter that day? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see her the next day, Tuesday? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you discuss the matter with her that day?

A. I did.

Q. Did you see her the next day, Wednesday?

A. (Referring to report.) Yes, sir, I think I saw her Wednesday.

Q. On Wednesday, where did you see her?

A. At her home.

Q. Now, were you discussing with her the matter of whether she was the mother of Thomas Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Just cutting a long story short, she contended that she was, didn't she? A. She did.

Q. Did she make any statement to you on that occasion when she would see you again, or make any engagement with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was that conversation?

A. My recollection is that Mr. Hanford was present at the time I talked to Minnie on Wednesday, and after considerable audience Minnie expressed the fact that she was tired and nervous and didn't care to discuss the matter any further, but would take it up with me on the following Friday.

Q. Did she say where? A. It she did I do not remember.

Q. Now, then, the next day, Thursday, what did you—— Did you see her or Captain MacNab, who did you first see among the three persons, Captain MacNab, Mr. Hanford, and Minnie, if you saw either of them?

A. I saw Captain MacNab at his quarters.

Q. What time on Thursday?

A. In the morning about ten or nine o'clock.

Q. Was either Mr. Hanford or Minnie there at that particular time when you saw the Captain? A. They were not.

Q. Who was there besides you and the Captain?

A. Oh, there might have been some of the Army Officers in the quarters.

Q. No one that you knew?

A. I think that two or three of the Army Officers to whom I had had a casual introduction, but I don't remember with any distinctness as to who was there.

Q. Did anyone come in whom you knew while you were there talking to Captain? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who first? A. Mr. Hanford.

Q. Did you discuss this matter further? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I mean you and Mr Hanford and Captain was there in the Captain's house, did anyone else come in that you knew? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who? A. Minnie Atkins.

Q. Was you looking for her? A. I was not.

Q. What did she say when she came in?

A. I do not have any recollection of what she said when she first came in and do not remember whether she expressed the purpose of her visit there or not.

Q. Do you know how she happened to come in?

A. No, I do not.

Q. You expected to meet her the next Friday?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, tell what you and the Captain and Minnie all said there and Mr. Hanford in Minnie's presence on that occasion. You might begin at the beginning and relate it just as you recall it?

A. Prior to this particular time I had gone over with Captain MacNab and Minnie in detail all of the information and data which I had bearing upon the Tommy Atkins controversy.

Q. Pardon me now, let me ask you this question: Had you information at that time that she had a child named Ellis born and died at Fort Logan?

A. I had information that she had a child named Alice, but the birthplace or where she was born, I was not aware of.

Q. Had you information that she had a child named Charlie, Charlie Harrison, at that time, and Harvey Harrison? A. Yes, sir, I think——

Q. State whether or not you had any information at that time with relation to a child named Rober- Lee of Minnie's Robert Lee Peterkin?

A. I had no information as to Robert Lee Peterkin.

Q. Now, go ahead and state what you were about to a while ago?

A. As I stated before, a careful review of all the data in my possession had been gone over repeatedly with Minnie, and upon more than one occasion with Captain MacNab. Much of this was discussed with Mr. Hanford, who represented himself as Minnie's attorney, and upon the occasion of Minnie coming to the quarters when Captain MacNab and Mr. Hanford were present——

Q. On Thursday morning?

A. Upon Thursday morning, a review of much of the data which had previously been gone over was had. In addition to that I—I think prior to the time that Minnie had come in I presented Mr. Hanford with a telegram to the effect that Minnie Atkins had, sometime in October of that year, made a conveyance of her royalty interest, and possibly her fee in the Thomas Atkins allotment, to Mr. Page. This information was secured by wire from the office of the Register of Deeds in Sapulpa of Creek County. This conveyance was discussed and I then, after going—reviewing the matters, pressed Minnie Atkins for the truth about all of these facts and demanded that she tell me the actual truth relative to the enrollment of Thomas Atkins. And when that was done, Mr. Hanford, as her attorney, warned her that I was an officer of the United States Government and that any statement which she might make to me would be taken against her and not for her. Practically the same statement was made to her by Captain MacNab. And in addition to what I have already related, the question of granting immunity to Minnie Atkins, in the event that she did make a confession, was discussed. I have some——

Q. What did Captain MacNab say, if anything, to Minnie? Give us his language in connection with the matters you have just related about you and the truth?

A. Well, Captain MacNab told her that she would be held to account for any statement which she might make to me at that time and substantially gave her the same kind of advise and warning that Mr. Hanford had previously given.

Q. Where was Minnie sitting?

A. Minnie was sitting on a sofa as I remember. I was standing before the fire-place, I believe most of the time, and Captain MacNab and Mr. Hanford were in the room, I think either sitting down or standing up, I don't remember the exact position. After this discussion every body became quiet; for quite a while Minnie deliberated, and——

Q. How long would you say?

A. Oh, it must have been twenty minutes. Then she stated that she was not the mother of Thomas Atkins; that the Thomas Atkins for whom she drew the Grass money was her father; that she had three children, I believe named Alice Peterkin, and the two Harrison children.

Q. Charlie and Harvey? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you or anyone else enter into the conversation or put any questions to her or make any remarks as she was relating what you have just said?

A. No, there was absolutely nothing said by anybody in the room.

Q. Until she finished? A. Excepting Minnie Atkins.

Q. Until she finished making that statement?

A. That is true.

Q. Now, tell what occurred.

A. Then, a further discussion was had as between Mr. Hanford, I think, Minnie, myself, and I think Captain MacNab, with reference to the immunity.

Q. Why was the immunity discussed, Mr. Montgomery?

A. For the reason that Minnie would probably be subjected to——

> The Court: Well, not, what was said there that brought up the immunity question; that is the idea. Who brought it up?

A. I don't remember just who suggested it; possibly I did, myself.

Q. Was it before or after she had made the statement which you have just related?

A. I think we discussed the question of immunity before she made the statement.

Q. I see. During the conversations that had gone on prior to her stating—sitting there some twenty minutes?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Alright?

A. And after she had made the statement, a further discussion as to immunity was had.

Q. Let me ask you. You realized there, all of you, and discussed the matter of her having testified at Sapulpa in July preceding? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When she testified that the child was born ot her at Leavenworth at the Sister's Hospital?

A. I had all of that record with me.

Q. And did you have the record of her testimony given at Tulsa in the latter part of October, that same year?

A. Yes, sir, I had a copy of that testimony.

Q. Alright.

A. And read from the testimony and from that record, and from the confession of Sadie James, to Minnie, repeatedly, prior to the time, and that is——

Q. You had also this Sadie James' confession?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I was in no position to promise immunity to Minnie at the time that this occurrence took place and so stated.

Q. One other question about that immunity; you stated that after she made this statement, sitting on the sofa, that probably that you mentioned the matter of immunity then?

A. I think I mentioned it prior to that time.

Q. Who brought up the matter of immunity before? The first time it was brought up?

A. I don't recollect who suggested it; perhaps I did, myself.

Q. Alright; now come to the point where you were.

A. After the statement had been made by Minnie and the discussion of immunity came up, and I think I suggested that this confession that Minnie had made be reduced to writing, that it be left with Captain MacNab; that I would proceed immediately to secure immunity for Minnie Atkins; that if I succeeded in procuring immunity, that Captain MacNab was to deliver me this written confession; if I did not secure immunity for her, that Captain MacNab was to burn it.

Q. Well, what was said in response?

A. That was agreed to.

Q. Agreed to?

A. We then, went to Captain MacNab's private office on the second floor of the quarters and I prepared a confession.

Q. That office was in the same building where he lived?

A. On the second floor on Captain MacNab's quarters, in his private office. I sat down at his desk and prepared a written confession, and after I had written it, Captain MacNab told Minnie that she did not have to sign it unless she wanted to, and that what she had stated would be taken against her and not for her, but that he wanted her to tell the truth; now was the time to tell the truth about this matter and have it over with, or words to that effect. Captain Hanford, at the same time, warned her, as his attorney.

Q. As her attorney?

A. As her attorney, yes, sir. And after some little deliberation, Minnie Atkins signed this statement and it was delivered by me to Captain MacNab.

Q. Have you the statement? A. No, sir.

Q. Where is it? A. I don't know.

Q. Did you ever get it back from Captain MacNab?

A. No, sir.

Q. Well, we will get what was in it, in just a minute, then. Now, Mr. Montgomery was——

The Court: Did I understand you to say that Minnie signed the statement?

A. Yes, sir.
Q. And you have never had possession of it since?
A. No, sir.
Q. Nor have not seen it since? A. No, sir.
Q. What was in that statement?

The Court: Did you keep a copy of the statement?

A. No, sir.

The Court: Was it in longhand, written by——

A. Yes, sir, it was written by me.
Q. At Captain MacNab's desk? A. Yes, sir.
Q. With pen and ink or lead pencil?
A. It was written with pen and ink, is my recollection.

Mr. Hanford: Just a minute, Mr. Montgomery, what is the paper that you refer to that you hold in your hand?

A. That is my report made at that time on the case.

Mr. Hanford: That was made out after you got back?

A. Yes, sir, it was written on the 28th of December, after I returned to my office.

Q. Now, if at all, after you left Captain MacNab's after incident, after the occasion when she signed this statement, how long after that if at all, did you reduce to writing for your private files, the substance or the verbiage of the statement from memory?

A. I think on the train, en route from——

Q. Seattle? A. From Seattle to Denver.

Q. How long after the statement had been signed by Minnie?

A. It was about—it was about three or four days.

Q. About three or four days? A. Yes.

Q. Now, tell the Court what was in that statement.

A. Substantially, the statement is as follows: dated at Fort Lawton, December 17th. I, Minnie Folk, nee Atkins, in the presence of C. E. Hanford, and Frank L. Montgomery, United States Probate Attorney, do hereby state that no child was ever born to me by the name of Thomas Atkins, or Tommy Atkins, and that the Thomas Atkins for which I drew the Grass money was my father; that I am the mother of only three children, Mabel, or Alice Peterkin, Charlie Harrison and Harvey Harrison; that was signed by Minnie on this occasion.

Q. Now, Mr. Montgomery, state whether or not that is a substantial reproduction of her words when she was sitting on the sofa, after the twenty minutes silence down stairs in the Captain's quarters.

A. Yes, sir, it is; it does not show as much detail as the conversation had below.

Q. What detail in her statement made below is left out of that statement that she signed?

A. Well, she stated Charlie and Harvey Harrison were on the rolls, and that Sadie James made the suggestion to her that she had a child named Thomas Atkins.

Q. Was this detailed—this which you just now suggest, a part of her statement while she sat on the sofa at the conclusion of the last of the twenty minutes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, I believe that you stated that at that time that you didn't know about Robert Lee Peterkin? A. I did not.

Q. And had anyone during the week—you say you arrived there on Monday and talked to Minnie every day up to this Thursday—had anyone, either yourself or Minnie or Captain MacNab mentioned the name of Robert Lee Peterkin?

A. They did not.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, how long were you and Minnie in Captain MacNab's house from the time that she came there until the time she left that Thursday morning?

A. It was from about 10 o'clock until about noon.

Q. About noon. About how long, was it, after she signed this statement until you left Captain MacNab's house that morning?

A. I don't know; it was—I don't think it was but a few minutes, perhaps.

Q. Where did you go?

A. I come from Captain McNab's quarters to Minnie's residence with her.

Q. With Minnie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see her husband at the house?

A. I don't remember whether he was in the house or not, I think he either was there or came in with her.

Q. Now, how long did you stay at Minnie's house on that occasion? A. I took lunch with them.

The Court: That is Minnie's house?

Mr. German: Yes, sir.

The Court: You went to Minnie's house after this confession?

A. From Captain MacNab's quarters I walked with Minnie to her home.

Q. What occurred at her home?

A. We had lunch. Minnie prepared the lunch.

Q. Minnie prepared the lunch? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you ate lunch with her, was her husband at the lunch table? A. Yes, sir, that is my recollection.

Q. And you ate with them? A. That is my recollection.

Q. What was her frame of mind?

A. Well, she was agreeable and pleasant and hospitable.

Q. Did you go with her anywhere after lunch?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where?

A. We went to Seattle to the—I think the Bank of Commerce, National Bank of Commerce.

Q. For what purpose?

A. It was for the purpose of Minnie's withdrawing four thousand dollars from the—I think the Exchange Bank of Tulsa, where it was on deposit, on a time deposit.

Q. Yes, now, had that matter of that four thousand dollars been discussed before? A. It had.

Q. When? A. At Captain MacNab's quarters.

Q. On the morning she made the confession? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Prior to that now, or on that occasion, had you learned anything about that four thousand dollars and how she came to get it, from her or from Mr. Hanford her attorney, or Captain MacNab?

A. I learned that she had been paid money for this in consideration of executing a lease, the oil and gas lease; I didn't know where the money was however.

Q. Well, did they state anything to you about any agreement attending the payment of that money at the time it was paid? A. Yes.

Q. Who told you?

A. Captain MacNab told me, he claimed to have acted as trustee for Minnie in the negotiation, in negotiating this oil and gas sale, sale of this oil and gas lease from Minnie to I take it the Gem Oil Company, or possibly Mr. Page, I don't remember. And the information that I secured from these parties was substantially that five thousand dollars was to be paid for the lease and five thousand dollars to be paid for the purpose of attorneys fee to Mr. Hanford and to meet any expenses which might be required of Minnie Atkins in supporting her title to this property.

Q. Now, what was said, if anything, about the giving of the five thousand dollars to Minnie win or lose?

A. Captain MacNab, the trustee, impressed me on several occasions that the purchase of the oil and gas lease was made without any recourse on Minnie, or failure of title in her.

Q. Anything said about the money, the five thousand in that connection—— Well, that is sufficient. Now, Mr. Montgomery, how come you and Minnie to go to the bank that afternoon, on Thursday?

A. It was done at my suggestion, that in view of the confession made by Minnie, and having been informed by her that this four thousand dollars, in the bank at Tulsa, was the consideration for the lease, that the Page interests, upon learning of this confession, might undertake to tie up this fund in Tulsa by some legal proceedings; and if she could get the money out of the jurisdiction of the Oklahoma Courts, she would perhaps be better secured in its possession.

Q. You understood that she was to get that consideration whether her title was good or bad, and that was the understanding at the start? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, at the bank what occurred?

A. I introduced myself to the bank officers and suggested that Minnie desired to waive the interest and have the funds transferred to that bank at once.

Q. Did she sign any paper there? A. She did.

Q. What was it?

A. I don't remember just what it was, it was some necessary transaction required by the bank.

Q. Whereby the bank could draw the money from the Tulsa Bank? A. Yes, sir, I don't remember the details.

Q. Now, up to—— Did you send Commissioner Sells any communication with relation to that confession?

A. I did.

Q. Have you a copy of it?

A. No, I have no copy of the telegram. I have embodied in my report the wording of the telegram taken from a copy at that time.

Q. Taken from a copy. Where had you gotten a copy?

A. I kept a copy of all my telegrams.

Q. A carbon copy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you incorporate that in your report? A. I did.

Q. When was it you sent him that telegram?

A. It was a short time after leaving Minnie and her husband at the bank.

Q. In that telegram, state whether you—— Why were you sending him that telegram?

Mr. Cruce: We object, if the Court please, it is immaterial.

Mr. German: All right.

Q. Please state to the Court what was in that telegram?

A. (Reading) Seattle, December 17, 1914. Sells, Commissioner, Washington, D. C. Minnie Atkins today confessed to me in presence of Captain MacNab and Hanford she never had child Tommy Atkins. That Thomas Atkins for which she drew graff money was her father. I promised her would attempt to secure immunity from prosecution for perjury and conspiracy. Immunity will have to come from Oklahoma State authorities. Recommend that effort be made and I be directed that agent Ligon. see County Attorney Creek County and secure necessary action. Minnie's confession corroborated by affidavits in my possession. Necessary to work quickly and quietly as Oklahoma and Kansas parties appear to be seriously involved. Montgomery.

Q. Now, Mr. Montgomery, did you succeed in getting authorities to grant her immunity from any source? A. I did.

Q. When? A. The following day.

Q. Did you see her the following day—— Who did you see first the following day with relation to this matter?

Mr. Hanford: If the Court please, we object to the telegram on the ground that it is selfserving. I make the objection.

The Court: Well, I didn't hear any objection and I let the telegram go in. I will let it stand.

Mr. Hanford: We ask for an exception.

The Court: Exception noted.

Mr. Hanford: I put that, your Honor please, because in this same connection we have some on our part that we will introduce.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, who went with you to Seattle on that occasion?

A. Well, substantially, Mr. Buell, Mr. Robertson, and Sadie James met me at Seattle, I really met them at Portland. I met Mr. Buell and Mr. Robertson and Mr. Bond, but it was agreed that we should meet at Seattle. I didn't go out there with them.

Q. How did you happen not to go with them?

A. Because they went by way of Los Angeles and I had to return from Kansas City to Muskogee to get authority to make the trip.

Q. So, you went the shorter route by Denver?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you met them at Portland by accident?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Intending to meet them at Seattle. Now, during the time, Mr. Montgomery, that you—beginning on that Monday, covering Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday, all the transactions during the times of all the transactions and conversations you have related, state whether or not either one of the three parties you have named were with you in your talks with Minnie and in your conversations with Minnie; in your conversations with Mr. Hanford there or Captain MacNab up to the time that you have mentioned, Thursday afternoon?

A. I positively refused to permit any interference of any——

The Court: Well, now, just answer the question.

Mr. Montgomery: Whether they were with you at any of these conversations up to that time?

A. No, none of the conversations.

Q. Were they present at Captain MacNab's or Minnie's house on any of the occasions you have told about up to Thursday afternoon?

A. No, but there is one explanation I desire to make.

Q. All right?

A. Upon the morning of the day that Minnie made this statement in writing, I requested Mr. Robertson——

Q. He is a Pinkerton Detective? A. Yes, sir.

The Court: Who was employing him?

A. Mr. Buell and Mr. Bartlett as I understood it. To watch Minnie's house and see who came to see her and where she went.

Q. That was when?

A. That was on Thursday morning.

Q. It was the day then after she had told you that she would meet you Friday? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She told you on Wednesday evening she would meet you on Friday?

A. Yes, sir. Mr. Robertson did as I directed and when Minnie and I came down from the Post——

Q. From the Captain's Quarters?

A. From the Captin's Quarters. We passed Mr. Robertson standing near the little station on the railroad, which is about a block or so from Minnie's residence. And after that he went on back.

Q. Tell the occurrence there?

A. When I got close to Mr. Robertson, I dropped my filing case.

Q. Purposely or accidently? A. Purposely.

Q. Alright.

A. Mr. Robertson picked it up and I looked at it and turned around to him and said to him that every thing was alright: I then accompanied Minnie toward her home, and as I did so, she told me that this gentleman had been watching the house that morning and she had noticed it and I went back and gave Mr. Robertson a formal bawling out.

Q. Loud enough for Minnie to hear you? A. Yes, sir.

The Court: That was for Minnie's benefit?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then you went on to Minnie's house?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And to lunch? A. Yes, sir.

And thereupon, court takes a recess until 2 o'clock P. M.

And thereafter, court having convened pursuant to adjournment, and at 2 o'clock P. M. further proceedings herein were had as follows:

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, when did you first take up this matter of the Atkins case?

A. About the first days of December or the extreme latter days of November 1914.

Q. Who first took the matter up with you?

A. M. L. Mott.

Q. And who is Mr. Mott?

A. Mr. Mott, prior to about February 1914, was National Attorney for the Creek Nation.

Q. And what was his interest in this case at the time he took the matter up with you?

Mr. German: I object unless the witness is informed.

The Court: Well, if he is not informed, he won't answer.

A. I don't remember that Mr. Mott explained to me his interest at that time.

Q. What did he take up with you in regard to it?

A. He took up with me what he considered to be a reasonable probability of the Government, for the benefit of the Creek Nation, to cancel the allotment of Tommy Atkins, and invited my attention to information which could be furnished by a darkey who was supposed at that time to reside in Kansas City, named Sadie James.

Q. You knew that Mr. Mott at that time was representing J. Garfield Buell and H. U. Bartlett, did you?

A. I don't remember very distinctly; very likely I did.

Q. Is it not a fact that Mr. Mott came to you and asked you if you wanted to handle a very important case?

A. He might have used that language.

Q. And he then discussed with you, your disposition to take up this Atkins case?

A. I think he asked me if I would be willing to prosecute it.

Q. And he gave you to understand that if you did, if you were so disposed, that he wanted you to enter upon an investigation and go and see this colored woman Sadie James?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he told you that they would have her there at Kansas City for you to see when you arrived there?

A. I think so, yes.

Q. And you did go to Kansas City and saw Sadie James, did you not? A. I did.

Q. Who did you go in company with? A. No one.

Q. You met Mr. Buell after you got there, did you not?

A. I did.

Q. And he cooperated with you?

A. Well, yes. And then I want to explain the character of his cooperation; he furnished me with a record at Sapulpa, and I think a copy of the deposition of Minnie Atkins taken at Tulsa.

Q. And he arranged for you to see Sadie James?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Took you out there?

A. I think he went out with us, perhaps.

Q. Who else went with you?

A. Mr. Robertson went with us.

Q. Mr. Robertson the Pinkerton detective?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was he working for?

A. Well, I don't know of my own personal knowledge who he was working for; didn't at that time.

Q. Well, you know now that he was working for J. Garfield Buell and H. U. Bartlett?

A. That is my understanding.

Q. At the same time that Mr. Allen and Mr. Mott went to Washington to arrange for the commencement of this suit.

A. I don't know.

Q. You know that Mr. Mott went to Washington, do you not?

A. Yes, I think he went to Washington but I didn't know anything about the object of his visit and I don't remember when he left.

Q. You remember Mr. Allen went to Washington at the same time?

A. Mr. Allen, I think, was in Washington.

Q. He was already in Washington? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew that after your interview with Sadie James there when you returned to the hotel, that Mr. Buell sent a telegram to Mr. Mott, telling him that everything was alright and to have the Department commence suit at once in the name of the Creek Nation, did you not?

A. I think that Mr. Buell—I know that he communicated with Mr. Mott but I do not personally know the contents of the message. If proper I can say that Mr. Buell expressed to me during the time, a desire to have immediate proceedings had for the cancellation of the allotment.

Q. Mr. Buell told you at that time in Kansas City that he and Mr. Robertson had found Sadie James at Leavenworth, Kansas, and had previously interviewed her and had arranged for her to be interviewed by you in Kansas City?

Mr. German: Just a minute, your Honor, I don't want to be captious about the cross examination. I am perfectly willing for Mr. Montgomery to relate any matters which may in any matter affect himself personally, but I do not think that these matters are admissible in proof——

The Court: Does it relate to the direct examination of this witness?

Mr. Hanford: It does, your Honor. It is a little bit hard to disclose the purpose of the cross examination.

The Court: Well, of course you appreciate, Mr. Hanford, I am sure that your cross examination in order to be proper must relate in some way to the direct examination this morning or representing the interest of this witness.

Mr. Hanford: It will relate to his testimony this morning and I will bring that out as quickly as possible, your Honor.

The Court: All right.

Q. During the time that you were making this investigation, both in Kansas City and at Seattle, you were of the opinion, Mr. Montgomery, that you were to bring this suit and conduct this suit, is that not true?

A. I was of the opinion that I was acting as an attorney and would likely be actively engaged in the trial of the case.

Q. And Mr. Mott had led you so to believe?

A. Well, yes, together with the Washington Office.

Q. At that time, Mr. Montgomery, nothing had been done by the United States Government, through the Attorney General's Office, looking to bringing this suit?

A. If anything had been done it had never been brought to my attention.

Q. The only party that was interested, so far as you know, was the Bartlett and Buell interest and the Creek Nation?

A. The Bartlett and Buell interests were of course interested, the Creek Nation was interested, and my superiors at Washington, Commissioner Sells.

Q. You mean the Indian Department?

A. The Indian Department had notice from me and from Superintendent Kelsy, who was in charge of the Muskogee office at this time, of the nature of the investigation about to be made; and my recollection also had notice of the interest represented by Buell and Bartlett.

Q. When did you first learn, Mr. Montgomery, that you were not to participate in the conduct of this case as an attorney?

A. About the time we had the Receivership hearing.

Q. That was in February or March of the year following? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are now, and at that time were a probate attorney in the Indian service for the Creek Nation?

A. Not particularly for the Creek Nation.

Q. For the Indian Department? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have no connection with the Attorney General Department whatsoever? A. Not a bit.

Q. Mr. Allen, the Creek National Attorney, has no connection with the Department of Justice or the United States Government proper? A. None of which I am cognizant.

Q. He is employed through the proper department in the nature of a private attorney for the Creek Nation to look after their intersts?

A. I do not know the character of his contract.

Q. At the time, Mr. Montgomery, you returned from Seattle and made the report to which you refer, you still then were of the opinion that you were to participate in the conduct of this case for the cancellation of this allotment?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were of that opinion at Seattle?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that report was made as a preliminary to the commencement of this suit and conduct of this suit?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The telegrams that you sent to Mr. Allen and Mr. Sells were sent in the same connection, looking towards the commencement of this suit for the cancellation of these patents? A. They were.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, you arrived at Seattle on a Sunday?

A. Sunday morning?

Q. December 13th. And you went to see Captain MacNab when? A. On Sunday.

Q. On Sunday. And you told him that you were there representing the Government and wanted to make an investigation of this case? A. That was it substantially.

Q. And you also told him that your investigation was to be made impartially to get at the truth and that depending on the result of your investigation it would be determined what if anything should be done in the matter?

A. That was practically my representation to him; I told him that the result of my investigation would be considered in the determination of any future action. I don't know that it would have been final.

Q. You did not tell him that this suit was brought at the instigation of the Garfield Buell and H. U. Bartlett's interests?

A. I don't think I said anything to him about Buell or Bartlett up to and including the time that Minnie Atkins made her written statement. I might have said something about it afterwards, but I am sure I didn't mention it to him prior to that time.

Q. You don't know that you did tell him anything regarding their interests?

A. I don't remember whether I did or not. Subsequent to the statement made to me.

Q. Didn't you in your report, to which you referred this morning, or in your letter to R. C. Allen, accompanying that, make a statement to the effect that it will be learned that this suit is brought at the instance of J. Garfield Buell, and that something must be done quickly on that account, or word to that effect?

A. I don't know; my statement, I believe, would be the best evidence of what I said.

Q. I will ask you if you didn't state in your report as follows: during the time that I was in Seattle, Sadie James was in town, having been brought there by Mr. Buell and placed in the hotel where no one knew that she was in the city, except Mr. Buell, Mr. Robinson and myself. It will be known that Mr. Buell is the tentative lessee of Quinton Garrett, who filed upon the Tommy Atkins allotment, and that Mr. Buell is instrumental to having the allotment deed to this allotment cancelled.

A. I think I made that statement. I think I had previous to that in telegrams advised——

Q. Just a minute, I will read further to you in connection to the answer, it may refresh your memory so that you can answer correctly, as follows: The interest of Mr. Buell in this case was fully and completely [] by me to Captain MacNab when I had my first audience with him in regard to this case, although Captain MacNab, Minnie Atkins, C. E. Hanford, or none of the parties knew that Mr. Buell or Mr. Robinson, or Sadie James was in the city, up to the happening of the event which I now relate.

A. Well, that might possibly be true. My recollection is, however, I didn't state to anybody in Seattle, the interest of Mr. Buell and it might have been that I did tell Captain MacNab because I took him into my confidence in regard to the entire situation.

Q. This report was rendered December 28th, was it not?

A. Yes, yes.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, when you—when did you first see Minnie Atkins after your arrival in Seattle?

A. Monday morning, I think, following the Sunday at which time I arrived.

Q. Did you ask her on that occasion whether or not she gave birth to a son named Thomas Atkins?

A. Substantially so, I did.

Q. And what did she tell you?

A. She said that nobody could ever get her to say that she was not the mother of Thomas Atkins, or words to that effect.

Q. And she did tell you that she was the mother of Thomas Atkins?

A. I have stated to you what her answer was.

Q. At that time, Mr. Montgomery, did you not read to Minnie Atkins, the statement of Sadie James, which you had taken from her at Kansas City, prior to that time?

A. I don't think it was read to her at that particular date. I did, however, read it to her.

Q. And did you not tell Minnie Atkins at that time, that the Page interests had been up to Leavenworth recently trying to prove that her son Thomas was drowned there at Leavenworth and that they had fallen down in making that proof?

A. I don't know whether I told her that or not.

Q. What is your recollection?

A. I have no distinct recollection about it.

Q. You knew that at time time that the interests claiming under Minnie's sister, Nancy Atkins, had been up to Leavenworth attempting to prove that Minnie's son Thomas Atkins was drowned there, did you not?

A. I think I heard some talk about Thomas Atkins having been reported to have been drowned but I did not——

Q. But you knew that it turned out to be some boy there in Leavenworth, wholly different——

A. I don't remember that I knew any final result of any investigation, however.

Q. But you did tell Minnie Atkins this, that they had taken the depositions of numerous witnesses in the State court case there at Leavenworth, and that they had attempted to prove in her absence that the father of her child was a negro, didn't you, and she became greatly incensed? A. No.

Q. At that statement—— A. I don't think I did.

Q. Didn't you tell her that at any time that you were out there?

A. No, I think Minnie herself suggested to me that an attempt was being——

Q. Didn't you tell Minnie Atkins——

A. Well, wait and let me get through with that.

Q. Go ahead.

A. That an attempt was being made to charge her with being the mother of a darky named Tommy Atkins.

Q. To refresh your memory, isn't it a fact that on Tuesday night, I was there with Minnie, she told me of something that you had read to her, and I asked you what that was and you told me that you didn't care to acquaint me with that at this time but that Minnie stated to me that you had read something to her which told her that they were trying to prove that the father of her child was a negro, and I told her that that was not so, that I was there during the taking of those depositions, and that that was absolutely untrue; isn't that a fact, Mr. Montgomery, don't you recollect it was that way, now?

A. No, I don't; anything which I read to Minnie Atkins was embodied in the depositions of Minnie from the record of the Creek County Court and in the confession of Sadie James together with the affidavit of the Hamiltons, I believe taken at Los Angeles.

Q. Isn't it a fact, Mr. Montgomery, that the only thing that you read to Minnie Atkins on your first visit there was from—were her own depositions and affidavit of Sadie James, and the first time and the only time that you read to her the depositions of other witnesses was when you read her the deposition of Mr. Crilly in my presence?

A. I don't know when I read those things to her, which particular document, but I did read to her from the record which I mentioned, up to and including, I think, Wednesday of that week.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, it did state in Sadie James' affidavit, on the part of Sadie James, that Sadie James was a party to a scheme to try and make Rube Smith the father of Minnie's child. It did state that in the affidavit which you read to Minnie, did it not?

A. I have distinct recollection of somtehing of that sort in the affidavit, but I do not remember clearly what it was.

Q. Let me put the question; is it not a fact that that is one feature of the Sadie James affidavit that you read to her, that Minnie rebelled against and that got her excited?

A. I read—— If it is embodied in the Sadie James affidavit I evidently read it to Minnie, because I think I read practically everything.

Q. And didn't Minnie during the time that you interviewed her there keep repeating that she rebelled against their trying to make the father of her child a negro?

A. I think she resented that, yes.

Q. And isn't it a fact that I told her that that was not so, that the witnesses had testified and I had heard them and that that was not so?

A. You may have made such a statement, I do not remember whether you did or not.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, you recollect reading to Minnie the deposition of George Crilly in my presence?

A. Not distinctly.

Q. And isn't it a fact that Minnie made one or two corrections while you were reading in Crilly's testimony, spoke up in regard to certain features of his testimony?

A. I think that I embodied in my report that——

Q. I am asking you what took place there, Mr. Montgomery, I am asking for your recollection? A. And that——

Q. Just a minute, Mr. Montgomery?

A. I am answering your question.

Q. I don't want you to state what is in your report. I want you to state what took place.

The Court: Are you now testifying what is in your report or what took place there, or are you referring to your report?

A. I just referred to my report to clear up my recollection of it.

The Court: All right.

A. That Minnie stated that parts of Crilly's statements were true and part of them were untrue, substantially that.

Q. Isn't it a fact, Mr. Montgomery, when you read to her Crilly's testimony to the effect that he thought she was about twenty years old that Minnie spoke up and said I was younger than that?

A. I have no distinct recollection.

Q. And isn't it a fact that when you finished reading that deposition of Minnie, that Minnie said: "Well, Crilly remembers it better than any of them"? A. I do not recall.

Q. And don't you recall that you asked Minnie, before you read her deposition, if she knew George Crilly; and that she stated to you, yes I used to call him the parson because he always dressed so funny and was such a nice little fellow?

A. I recall that she stated to me that she knew Crilly; the other part of it I do not.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, I came into Minnie's house while you were there on your visit Tuesday, that is your second visit to Minnie, did I not? A. I think it was Tuesday.

Q. And Minnie introduced me to you? A. Yes.

Q. You told me who you were and told me that you were investigating this case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you told me that you wanted to interview Minnie privately, and for that reason you would like to have me withdraw, and I told you that I was Minnie's attorney and that I would like to remain and be present; and you interviewed her and I sat down at the table——

Mr. Stuart: Mr. Hanford, you are not getting any answers.

Mr. Hanford: The witness nodded his head.

The Court: Answer yes or no; interpose an answer once in a while.

The Witness: Ask your question Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, and after I came in and was introduced and you stated the purpose of your business I sat down and remained; and didn't I—— A. Yes.

Q. That was Tuesday? A. I believe it was.

Q. And when I insisted upon staying and Minnie stated to you that she had nothing to say that she didn't want to say in my presence, you announced that you would leave and come back and see her another time, and got up and left?

A. Possibly I did.

Q. That is about all that took place on Tuesday?

A. I do not recollect whether I went back to see Minnie on that day or not.

Q. Then, you did go back Wednesday?

A. Yes, I saw her Wednesday.

Q. And about the time of your arrival I came out again did I not? A. Very likely.

Q. And that is where you read her the deposition of Crilly?

A. I do not remember whether the deposition was read at that time or not, Mr. Hanford.

Q. And Mr. Montgomery, isn't it a fact that I told you that I would rather you would not read her the deposition of those witnesses, because it was necessary for us to get Minnie's recollection in regard to the facts in this case from her directly, and that we did not want her to read the testimony of other witnesses?

A. It is probable that you made such a statement.

Q. And you then left off reading depositions upon my request? A. I do not remember that I did.

Q. And stated to me that any time that I thought you were doing anything improper to let you know and you would desist? A. I did not.

Q. You did not state that? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you remember that occurrence?

A. I recollect positively that I did not.

Q. Do you recollect that after that we left the house together and went back to town on the street car?

A. I think we went back to town together on the street car.

Q. And on that occasion Minnie told you that she didn't want you to come back on the next day?

A. I think an arrangement was made to see her on the following Friday.

Q. Isn't it a fact that both Minnie and her husband requested you not to come back because she was so nervous and had been annoyed so much that they wanted her to have a rest?

A. I remember that Minnie suggested that she was nervous and would prefer to take the matter up further with me on Friday.

Q. But on Thursday you did go back and tell her you wanted to see her at Captain MacNab's house? A. I did not.

Q. You went direct to Captain MacNab's house?

A. I went direct to Captain MacNab's house.

Q. And arrived there about noon?

A. I think it was sometime before the noon hour.

Q. Don't you recollect the officers eating lunch there?

A. No, I do not.

Q. And that I came in about the time that they were leaving the table?

A. I do not; it was along possibly towards the noon hour, I don't have any distinct recollection as to what hour it was.

Q. Captain MacNab called Minnie up and told her to come to the house, didn't he?

A. He did not in my presence.

Q. He received a telephone call and then came and told you that Minnie would be there shortly didn't he?

A. My recollection is that he went to the telephone in answer to a call.

Q. Yes, and then came back and told you that Minnie would be there shortly? A. Possibly he did.

Q. And then Minnie came in? A. Minnie came in.

Q. And I was there and Captain MacNab was there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And there was some other officers there?

A. I do not distinctly remember any other parties being there, they might have been.

Q. And when Minnie came in Captain MacNab asked me if it was true that Minnie had signed a deed to Charles Page, didn't he?

A. I think he made some such statement to you.

Q. And I told him that that was not so, didn't I, that I didn't believe it?

A. You expressed surprise and some concern about the matter, and stated that you didn't believe a man of business integrity would do such a thing or words to that effect.

Q. And then Captain MacNab showed me a telegram to you from the abstractor in Sapulpa, stating that such a deed was of record, didn't he?

A. You want shown such a telegram.

Q. And I went to the telehone and telephoned a telegram to the telegraph office for a telegram to be sent to Rice and Lyons, asking them to wire me as to the facts in regard to that, did I not?

A. You went to the telephone but I was not concerned and did not charge my mind with the character of your request.

Q. There was some excitement over the informed that you had received from the abstractor, wasn't there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Captain MacNab was greatly incensed, wasn't he?

A. I believe you showed more feeling, Mr. Hanford, in the matter than anybody else.

Q. And Minnie?

A. I didn't see that Minnie was particularly concerned about it.

Q. The next thing that took place, Captain MacNab advised Minnie that you were there as a representative of the Government to investigate this case and that you wanted to get away and that he wanted her to make a statement to you so that you could get away and return to Oklahoma, did he not?

A. I don't recall any statement of that character by Captain MacNab.

Q. You recollect telling Captain MacNab that you wanted to get away, that you had been here too long now, and that you wanted to see Minnie at that time, did you not? And that she had requested you not to come back that day, and that was why you had come to him to arrange for an interview, did you not? A. I did not.

Q. At that time, after Captain MacNab told Minnie that he wanted her to make a statement to you, and that he would not be concerned with the matter any longer, did I not then advise Minnie, that if she wanted to follow Captain MacNab's advice, that she would also have to follow his advice and tell you the truth, because that was all that you wanted?

A. Captain MacNab didn't make a request of Minnie to make a statement to me at that time and I don't recollect that Mr. Hanford made any suggestion, the character of which is expressed in his question.

Q. There was some talk there at the time of immunity, was there not? A. There was.

Q. On account of Minnie's testimony at Sapulpa?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And is it not a fact that I resented your talking of immunity and told you—told Minnie that you had no authority to talk of immunity, and I told you that I wanted you not to talk of immunity and prosecutions, because it was only for the purpose of intimidation, and you and I had some altercation over that? A. Possibly that may be the fact.

Q. And you repeatedly told Minnie at that time that all you wanted was the truth did you not? A. I did.

Q. And didn't I tell you on one occasion to ask her what you wanted to know and you asked her if she ever had a son named Thomas, to which she replied, yes, she was the mother of Thomas?

Q. Such conversation may have taken place prior to the time that Mr. Hanford, Captain MacNab, Minnie and myself were in Captain MacNab's quarters on Thursday.

Q. Didn't Minnie ask you during that conversation what you were—what would you do to me if I told you a lie, to which you replied that you would not do anything to her but that you wanted her to tell the truth?

A. It is probable that such a statement was made, I don't have any clear recollection at this time.

Q. Do you recollect that Minnie asked you, well if I should say that I didn't have Thomas Atkins, would my boys down there in Oklahoma get some of that land, and you told her, yes, but that they would only get their share along with the other Creeks? A. No, I didn't.

Q. You are positive of that, Mr. Montgomery?

A. I have no recollection of any such statement.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, isn't it a fact that during that whole interview Minnie sat there in a quiesence mood and didn't say much?

A. It is a fact that Minnie sat on a sofa and had little to say, and apparently took but little cognizance of the conversation going on.

Q. You stood up most of the time, didn't you, Mr. Montgomery? A. I think so.

Q. And you told her once or twice that you wanted her to tell the truth but that you knew that there never was any Thomas Atkins, didn't you? A. No.

Q. And didn't you tell her that these people down in Oklahoma were manufacturing evidence and that you were going to see that the whole bunch was put in the penitentiary?

A. No, I may have stated in the general conversation that it was probable that the Government was going to prosecute any fraud which had been perpetrated by reason of any fraudulent allotment, or attempt at securing a fraudulent allotment.

Q. Didn't you state in the presence of Minnie Atkins, as you walked the floor there, that you were going to see that the whole bunch there—using the word bunch, Mr. Montgomery—was going to be sent to the penitentiary?

A. I have no recollection of that remark.

Q. But that you were going to attempt to get immunity for Minnie?

A. I did state that I would attempt to get immunity for Minnie in the event that it was required.

Q. And that subject of immunity was mentioned a number of times? A. It was.

Q. Isn't it a fact that Captain MacNab stated to Minnie in your presence at that time that you was there to get a statement from her, and if she had told an untruth, to tell the truth and that you would get immunity for her?

A. He stated substantially all that you have said but stated that I would attempt to get immunity for her.

Q. I believe I used the word attempt Mr. Montgomery, and that was the only reference that was made at any time to you getting immunity, was that you would attempt to get immunity?

A. I would attempt to do it, yes, sir.

Q. And you told both Minnie and Captain MacNab that you had no authority to grant immunity or offer immunity to her but that you would use your personal efforts to attempt to get immunity? A. That is true.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, is it not a fact that before Minnie came to the house, Captain MacNab told you in my presence that he was not going to be present while you interviewed Minnie because he feared that any statement she might make might be influenced by his presence and that he intended to do with it because she had been annoyed so much, and was nervous from being watched by detectives, and worried over this matter that he didn't think she would be responsible for anything that she said? A. No.

Q. Then, if Captain MacNab testified to that effect, then you contradict his testimony?

Mr. German: I object to that as argument.

The Court: Yes, that follows.

Mr. Hanford: If Your Honor please, there is a great deal upon which I am examining Mr. Montgomery which is already in the record.

The Court: Well, that is alright. Just interrogate him with regard to what was said.

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, if Mr. Hanford will permit me to make this suggestion. Mr. Montgomery is evidently attempting to answer with great accuracy; now, you have asked him a question and the question as propounded he says that he did not state that; Now, ask Mr. Montgomery what he did state. Give him an opportunity to say what he did say; say if he agrees with Captain MacNab in substance.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, what if anything, did Captain MacNab state to you in regard to Minnie's condition?

A. Captain MacNab stated that day that Minnie had been harassed by contending interests in this case; that detectives had been employed; that the protection of the military authorities at the Post had been exercised in her behalf and that she was necessarily to some extent excited about this matter. That was substantially as I remember his conversation.

Q. To refresh your memory, Captain MacNab didn't state to you that the military authorities had officially attempted to——

A. I am not undertaking to say that it was done officially.

Q. They were friends who were military officers?

A. Yes.

Q. That was the impression that you got? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, did Minnie state to you in words anything to the effect that she was not the mother of Thomas Atkins prior to her signing that paper in the residence of Captain MacNab at that time? A. She did not.

Q. She did, however, nod her head in the affirmative to your statement that there never was a Thomas Atkins?

A. You mean on the occasion of the conference between you, Captain MacNab, and Minnie and I on Thursday in Captain's Quarters?

Q. Yes?

A. She stated in language that she was not the mother of Thomas Atkins, spoke it out.

Q. Isn't it a fact, Mr. Montgomery, that you stated that all that you wanted her to do was to tell the truth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that I stated to you then, well ask her what you want to know; and you turned to Minnie and said: "And I know that there never was a Thomas Atkins and that the only child she had was that girl that died at Fort Logan and those boys down in Oklahoma, isn't that so, Minnie?" and she nodded her head?

A. I don't remember such an occurrence, Mr. Hanford.

Q. Hadn't Minnie asked you prior to that a number of times, "What do you want me to say?"

A. No she did not.

Q. Didn't she tell you "You look at me so funny"?

A. She might have said that, likely did.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, after the interview regarding which you have testified in the room downstairs, you went to Captain MacNab's office with Minnie and myself and Captain MacNab?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you told Captain MacNab that you wanted to make out a statement for Minnie to sign in his presence?

A. Substantially so, yes, sir.

Q. Captain MacNab had been out of the room for sometime prior to that?

A. I think he had been out on military duties.

Q. You got a piece of paper from Captain MacNab's desk and wrote out something for Minnie to sign, didn't you?

A. Yes.

Q. And Minnie asked Captain MacNab if she should sign it, didn't she?

A. She may have done so, I don't remember distinctly.

Q. To be exact, Mr. Montgomery, didn't she turn to Captain MacNab and say "Do you want me to sign it"?

A. She may have done so.

Q. And Captain MacNab told her that he only wanted her to sign it if it was the truth?

A. I think that is true.

Q. And she hesitated some time before signing that paper, didn't she? A. She did hesitate, yes.

Q. She sat a quite a while and said she didn't know what to do, didn't she?

A. She likely, very likely, made such a remark as that.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, you have testified as to the contents of that paper that she signed by refreshing your recollection from your report? A. Yes.

Q. And your testimony as to its contents is dependent upon your refreshing your memory from that report, is it not? A. To some extent.

Q. I will ask you, Mr. Montgomery, if it is not a fact that in that statement nothing was said regarding Minnie's father or graft money?

A. Her father and the graft money was mentioned.

Q. In that report, in that statement?

A. In that written statement.

Q. Are you positive of that?

A. That is to the best of my recollection.

Q. On the other hand, Mr. Montgomery, to refresh your memory, let me ask you, didn't that statement contain the bare statement that "I, Minnie Atkins, in the presence of F. L. Montgomery, Probate Attorney for the Creek nation, and E. C. Hanford, her attorney, here state that I never gave birth to a son named Thomas Atkins, and that the only children I ever had was Alice or Mabel and Harvey and Charlie", without any reference to her father?

A. No, I think the statement embodied the mention of her father and the graft money.

Q. Your memorandum of that statement you state was written out on the train on your way to Denver?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The following day, Mr. Montgomery, on Friday, you again went out to Captain MacNab's quarters, did you not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were there when I came in? A. Yes.

Q. And what did I tell you?

A. You told me that Minnie wanted to see me at once.

Q. And I requested you and Captain MacNab to go with me to Minnie's house? A. Yes.

Q. Captain MacNab stated that he had other matters to attend to but that he would see her later?

A. Well, Captain MacNab didn't go with us I don't know.

Q. And you went down with me to her house? A. Yes.

Q. Minnie wasn't there when we got there?

A. I don't remember whether she was there or whether she had some callers, we didn't see her for some time.

Q. Don't you remember we went in and talked to her husband, that she was out and we talked to her husband?

A. I don't remember whether we talked to her husband or not.

Q. Don't you recollect that—— Didn't I tell her husband that something had come up that we had to see Minnie at once, and that we would wait for her to come back, and I asked him if Minnie had told him anything?

A. I don't remember.

Q. And don't you recollect her husband telling us that Minnie was mumbling in her sleep last night and couldn't sleep, and I was up with her several times, and she cried in the night?

A. It is probable Mr. Hanford but I do not remember.

Q. I am satisfied you are testifying from your recollection and I am trying to refresh it Mr. Montgomery. And didn't he tell us there——

The Court: Well, now, let me see. I am interested in knowing about Minnie there. Get to the point when Minnie comes in.

Mr. Hanford: This is preparatory to other statements, and also goes to testimony that is already given, your Honor with which your Honor is not familiar and I can bring it out very quickly.

The Court: Well, all right then.

Q. And didn't Minnie's husband tell you at that time that he had returned to lunch that day just before we got there and found Minnie crying with her head on the table, and she told him that she told a lie to the Government and now she would have to go to jail?

Mr. German: I object to that on the ground that is hearsay, calling for hearsay evidence.

The Court: Objection sustained.

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, let me make a suggestion about that. This is all one matter and contemporaneous with the investigation of Mr. Montgomery. Mr. Montgomery was there to find out the facts?

The Court: Well, we will not take any more time about it. Let him answer. I will get the whole thing, except that I am anxious that it be boiled down just as much as possible consistent with my getting the situation. Cut out everything that is not material as you conceive it.

A. It is very probable that such a conversation was had, Mr. Hanford.

Q. And following that, Minnie came back to the house but in the meantime a caller had arrived and you and I went outside?

A. Well, I know we met Minnie around the corner of the house.

Q. What did she tell you?

A. She substantially repudiated the confession made to me the day before, and stated that she had done it to please—

Q. Just a minute, Mr. Montgomery. Will you repeat just as nearly as you can what Minnie said to you?

A. I am undertaking to. That she had made this statement to please me, and that I had been very persistent in this matter, and that she wanted to get rid of me; and that she was nervous and that she had been subjected to strennous ordeals for months in regard to the birth and existence of Tommy Atkins; and that the statement was untrue; that she was the mother of Tommy Atkins and that the statement, written statement, was signed purely under those circumstances.

Q. And did she tell you at that time that she didn't want the land and that she hoped they would take it and begone with it?

A. She said substantially that she would rather not have any property rights in the matter than to be harassed so much.

Q. And didn't she tell you that she just had to tell you that she had told you a lie and that she knew it in her soul at that time, and that now if she ever got to jail for telling the Government a lie I will just go and that is all?

A. No, she didn't tell me anything of that kind.

Q. And didn't you tell her "Well, Minnie, you have made me a great deal of trouble, I have sent telegrams in regard to that statement, and I will have to send a lot of others now, and if what you are telling me now is the truth I hope you will get the land and I hope to assist you in getting it." Or words to that effect?

A. Substantially correct.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, you do recollect that in that signed statement, Minnie told you that the only children she ever had were Alice and Harvey and Charlie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She didn't say anything about the Peterkin child that was born at Leavenworth in that statement?

A. She did not.

Q. She did state that she was the mother of only three and that is all? A. That is all.

Q. So, the statement was not true in that regard?

Mr. German: I object to that as argument?

The Court: Sustained.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, you speak about, in this report that you made, about the interest that Buell had, Buell and Bartlett? A. Yes, sir.

Q. By virtue of some one having filed on the land. Who was it that had filed on it? A. I think that——

Q. Quinton Garrett?

A. Quinton Garrett and possibly some other parties who claimed rights.

Q. Do you know whether allotment certificates were issued to any of these other parties?

A. No, I do not, no.

Q. You didn't inquire. Now, do you know who has been paying Mr. Robertson, the Pinkerton Detective in this case?

A. I can tell you from my nnderstanding.

The Court: That can probably be gotten at more directly.

Q. Well, is the Government paying him? The United States Government?

A. The Government is not from my acquaintance, as long as I was connected with the case the Government didn't.

Q. What expenditures do you know of Bartlett and Buell having made to support the plaintiff in the prosecution of this suit?

Mr. German: I object to that.

The Court: Overruled.

Mr. German: Exception.

A. It was understood by me that the interest of the Government and Bartlett and Buell, and was so represented by me to the authorities at Washington and to R. C. Allen, National Attorney at the time, that the interest of Buell and Bartlett and the Creek Nation were identical up to the point of the cancellation of this allotment.

Mr. German: Interest of who?

A. Buell and Bartlett and the Creek Nation.

Q. Now, one other matter. Minnie, I think you said, told you on some two or three occasions before she finally made the signed statement in Seattle, that in substance, she had had a child named Tommy? A. She did.

Q. Now, your attitude, Mr. Montgomery, in all your talks to her was that you did not believe that statement?

A. Yes, it was and I insisted that she give me such information as would—whereby I could verify the facts that she was the mother of Thomas Atkins.

Q. Now, you gave her the benefit of all the information that you had gathered prior to going there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your judgment—your opinion was in talking to her that if she gave you a statement that was the truth, it would be a statement that she had not had any child named Tommy?

A. With the showing that I had before me, that is true.

Q. And it was in this connection that naturally you said to her that if you could—that if you make a statement now, and get into any trouble about having made false statements heretofore, I will do what I can to get you immunity?

A. That is true.

Recross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Who was in Seattle from this country at the time that you was seeking this—besides yourself? Mr. Robinson——Mr. Robinson, the Pinkerton detective, was there, wasn't he?

A. Mr. Robinson.

Q. He was employed by Buell, was he?

A. That is my understanding.

Q. And Sadie James was there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. At the same time that you were there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And who was the other one?

A. Buell—Garfield Buell.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, you say Mr. Mott was the first person to take this matter up with you?

A. That is my recollection.

Q. Yes, sir, about when did he do that?

A. Either the very last days of November or the first days of December 1914.

Q. You say at that time you had not heard anything about the Thomas Atkins case?

A. I only had, just in a—just in an intimation of the fact that it was included in a list of what we called fraudulent and duplicate allotments, in our office.

Q. In your office? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And in that time, did you know that about the middle of October, a month and a half before Mr. Mott came to you, that Judge Allen, as Creek National Attorney, had written a letter to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs, recommending that suit be brought to cancel this Atkins allotment?

A. I knew nothing of such letter.

Q. You didn't know anything of that? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know at the time that Judge Allen wrote that letter——

> The Court: Well, now, Mr. German, probably that, —unless you think that this witness knows, let's get that into the record in some other way.
>
> Mr. German: Well?
>
> The Court: If you believe—if you feel that he has that information or could reasonably have it, you may ask the question; otherwise, let's get it into the record some other way.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, your work as probate attorney does not call ordinarily for activity in the matter of work for the Creek Tribe as a Tribe, did it?

A. Up to that time practically all of my energies were directed toward Creek National affairs.

Q. You officed by the side of Judge Allen's office?

A. With him.

Q. With him? A. In his office, yes, sir.

Q. And he had frequently conferred with you concerning tribal matters? A. Continually.

Q. Continually? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when Mr. Mott came to you, do you know whether he was advised of that? A. I take it that he was.

Q. Yes, sir. And he took up with you the matter of taking some action in this case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, after Mr. Mott conferred with you concerning this matter and told you of a negro woman who might be seen in connection with it, state whether you conferred with any official of the United States Government.

A. I had an extended conference with Mr. Kelsey in regard to the matter.

Q. Regarding the matter? A. Yes, sir

Q. Was Mr. Mott present? A. I don't think he was.

Q. Did you get any of advice from Mr. Kelsey with regard to what you should do?

A. I did, and he framed a telegram to the Washington authorities, requesting that I be sent to Kansas City to make this investigation.

Q. Now, who was Mr. Kelsey?

A. He was the—in charge of the Indian Agency, Superintendent.

Q. Superintendent for the Five Civilized Tribes?

A. He had some sort of name; I don't know what it was.

Q. He was the head man—— A. Yes.

Q. Locally here, in the matter of the Five Tribes affairs?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you get any instructions from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs? A. I did.

Q. Pursuant to that telegram state whether in going to Kansas City, it was in pursuance to those instructions.

A. It was.

Q. And you say you met Mr. Buell and Mr. Robinson there? A. Yes, sir, and Mr. Bartlett, also.

Q. Were you authorized or instructed to confer with Sadie James by any communication from the Commissioner of Indian Affairs? A. I was.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, as United States Probate Attorney, then and now, during your term, who is the officer—to whom you are required to look for instructions?

A. The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has primary control over the Probate Attorney as I understand, and about this time, I think the Commissioner's office recognized authority upon the part of Judge Allen to direct the energies of the Probate attorneys in the Creek nation.

Q. Now, in your work in Kansas City, state whether you permitted any influence to be exercised by the Buell and Bartlett interests.

A. I guarded against every possible influence on the part of Bartlett and Buell.

Q. Now, when you went to Seattle, state at whose suggestion you made that trip to see Minnie.

A. At the suggestion of the Washington office.

Q. Had you made any suggestion to the Washington office that you make the trip or that she be interviewed?

The Court: That the Kansas City or the Seattle trip?

Mr. German: The Seattle.

A. On my return from Kansas City, I went into conference with Mr. Kelsey, and we then consulted Mr. Linebaugh.

Q. The United States Attorney?

A. Who was United States Attorney for this district, and Mr. Kelsey communicated with the Washington office with respect to my Seattle trip. That is the best of my recollection.

Q. In the conference between yourself and Mr. Kelsey and then with Mr. Linebaugh, you discussed the matter of interviewing Minnie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was authority from Washington obtained for you to make the trip? A. Yes, sir, it was.

Q. And you went pursuant to that authority?

Q. Yes, sir. If it please the Court, I would like to add right there, for my benefit, that during this time Judge Allen and the Washington authorities were clearly advised by me as to the attitude of Buell and Bartlett in this case.

Q. You didn't conceal any of that from them?

A. I did not.

Q. Now, on page 12 of your report, will you refer to it—on page 12 of your report, Mr. Hanford read among others, this statement: the interests of Mr. Buell in this case was fully and completely explained by me to Captain MacNab when I had my audience with him in regard to this case, although Captain MacNab, Minnie Atkins, C. E. Hanford, or none of the parties, knew that Mr. Buell, or Mr. Robinson, or Sadie James, were in the city up to the happening of the event which I now relate. I wish you would state to the Court to what event you then relate; what date the event you relate then occurred.

> The Court: The point being as to when it was in that Seattle situation that the presence there of Buell and Robinson became known to Hanford, Minnie Atkins, and the officer?
>
> Mr. German: Captain MacNab.

Q. Refer to your report and give the date.

A. Their presence was unknown to any of the parties mentioned until Friday.

Q. Until Friday of that week?

A. Yes, sir. Subsequent to the making of the written statement by Minnie Atkins in Captain MacNab's office on Thursday.

Q. Now, Mr. Montgomery, I call your attention to page 4 of your report, in that you state when I read to her—that is Minnie—the depositions taken at Leavenworth, she stated that she was subjected to the influences—I better not read that to you; I don't want to make a leading question. State what Minnie said when you read to her the depositions taken at Leavenworth.

A. She stated in substance that no one could get her to say that she was not the mother of Minnie Atkins.

Q. Now, what else in that connection did she state. If you need to refresh your memory——

A. I don't remember that there was very much said.

Q. Look at the middle of that page, the middle paragraph.

A. If the Court will permit me, I will read this.

The Court: Well, now, you have referred to a statement made as you have testified a few days after this occurred; is what you read there as you have purported Minnie said substantially what she said?

A. Yes, sir.

The Court: Alright.

Q. When I had read to her the depositions taken at Leavenworth, she stated that she was subjected to the influence of Page through Frank Long at the time that she was at Leavenworth, and that she knew none of the parties there, except Mr. Crilley, the liveryman, and stated that while she knew him, much that she testified to was not true.

Q. Let me interrupt you there to ask you a question. Had you read to her the depositions of Dennis Jones and Rube Smith and Sam Nash, and Walter Banks?

A. Very likely I had, I don't remember.

Q. They were among the depositions? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Go ahead.

A. She stated that she had been framed by Long and others to say that Tommy was born at Granny Letcher's and not at the hospital, and was emphatic in that no one could get her to say that Tommy was never born to her. I believe the balance of that is practically——

Q. Now, what day was it that she made those statements to you on? A. Monday.

Q. Was Monday the first day that you interviewed her?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. With reference to Minnie's statement to you, that an attempt was being made to prove that she was the mother of a darkey—do you recall her language on that occasion—that subject? A. No, I don't.

Q. Do you recall the substance of it, you stated instead of me doing so or Mr. Hanford?

A. I think Minnie was rather emphatic in her denunciation of any imputation of that character.

Q. Did she tell you where they had gotten the information that they were trying to prove that she was the mother of a darkey?

A. She may have done it but I don't remember.

Q. Did she tell it—did she tell you where she had gotten that information? A. I don't recall.

Q. Did she tell you who was trying to do that?

A. I am at a loss to tell you Mr. German, about those things.

Q. Do you remember whether she said it was Mr. Long or not? A. No, I don't think she told me that.

Q. Did she detail to you in that connection any occurrense at Leavenworth while she was there, on that subject?

A. She spoke to me and discussed her Leavenworth trip and mentioned the number of parties that she met in Leavenworth but I didn't charge my mind with that detail.

Q. Did you read over to her or call to her the names of all the witnesses who had given depositions at Leavenworth in October just before your trip. [A.] Crilley and—I named several of them and read over their testimony, but whether I included them all or not, I am not, I am unable to state.

Q. And it was in that connection that she told you Crilley was the only one who knew her?

A. The only one that she knew.

Q. The only one that she knew? A. Yes.

Q. You say on the Thursday morning when you went to the Captain MacNab's that he answered the telephone call and then came back and told you that Minnie would be up there? A. Yes, sir, that is my recollection.

Q. That is your recollection. Did you find out who it was calling? A. I didn't, I did not.

Q. What was it that Captain MacNab said to Minnie on that Thursday morning about her making a statement in connection with the subject as to what she should tell.

A. Captain MacNab substantially stated to her that any statement made by her would be taken against her and not for her, but that in any event, he wanted her to tell me the absolute truth about this situation, that it was time now that the matter was—that the ruth of the entire matter was brought out.

Q. Was that before or after she made the statement after waiting about twenty minutes?

A. I don't remember whether it was before making the statement when she was sitting on the sofa, or whether it was before signing the written statement prepared by me.

Q. No, in answer to a question of Mr. Hanford's, you stated this, that Minnie did not state prior to the time that she signed the statement that she was not the mother of Thomas.

A. Well, I am incorrect in that; she stated that down on the sofa.

Q. You mean prior to the morning on which——

A. Yes, prior to the occurrence at the time at which she made this confession.

Q. You told about Captain MacNab having been out of the room for quite a little while that morning; I didn't understand the connection in which that came; what are the facts there?

A. I think that Captain MacNab was there when Minnie first came in, and we all three—four of us—talked there for some time and he had to go out on account of some of his military duties and came back, I think about the time that she made her statement, or maybe afterwards, I don't know, but he was present at the time that we went up stairs to his office and remained with us until we left.

Q. What was Minnie's condition that morning, what was her appearance, what indication with reference to her frame of mind?

A. Well, Minnie always impressed me—— Well, Minnie was of a nervous disposition rather irratic.

Q. Always that way during your acquaintance with her?

A. Apparently, yes, sir.

Q. Was she any different that morning from the way she was the day before when she said she would not say she was not the mother of Tommy Atkins?

A. No perceptible difference.

Q. No perceptible difference? A. No, sir.

Q. After she signed this statement, how did it happen that you went down to her house with her?

A. It was lunch time and I ate lunch with them and went on to town.

Q. I am asking how it happened?

A. Well, it happened by reason of the fact that I wanted to help her get this money out of Oklahoma.

Q. Oh, that was mentioned while you were at the Captain's house? A. I think it was.

Q. Now, during that noon hour and the afternoon as long as you were with her, what did she say if anything about the statement she had signed that morning?

A. She expressed relief and satisfaction that the thing was over; and a hope that she would secure the money from Oklahoma before any legal process was gotten out to withhold it in this jurisdiction.

Q. Now, did she figure on the probability of a suit down in Oklahoma?

A. Well, that was more by suggestion from either myself or Mr. Hanford than any original business thought on the part of Minnie.

Q. Now, what had Mr. Hanford said about that?

A. Either Mr. Hanford or I made the original suggestion that the money be withdrawn, and both of us concurred in that being desired.

Q. Because of your information as to how it was paid, the condition on which it was paid?

A. Yes, sir, I take it all parties concerned were cognizant of that.

Q. Now, when did you next see after you left Minnie—where did you leave Minnie, at the bank or not?

A. At the bank I think.

Q. Was her husband with her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you next see Minnie or Mr. Hanford or Mr. Folk or Captain MacNab?

A. The next morning when I went to the Post, I don't know what time it was, it was before noon.

Q. Who did you first see? A. I first met Mr. Folk.

Q. Where?

A. Just where the little railroad station is close to the line of the Campus of the Fort.

Q. Did he talk with you? A. He did.

Q. State whether or not he told you in that conversation anything about Minnie desiring to retract the statement?

A. He said nothing about Minnie's desire to retract the statement.

Q. Did not. Now, where did you go from there?

A. I went to Captain MacNab's quarters.

Q. How long were you in going from where Mr. Folk was to Captain MacNab's quarters, about?

A. Oh, five minutes I suppose.

Q. Was the Captain in when you got there?

A. I think he was, I do not remember distinctly.

Q. How long before Mr. Hanford came in?

A. It wasn't but a short while.

Q. What did he say when he first came in?

A. I think he told me that Minnie wanted to see me.

Q. Did he say where he had been?

A. Yes, said he had been to see her.

Q. Been to see her and that Minnie wanted to see you, and then what did you do? A. I said all right.

Q. Did he tell you what Minnie wanted?

A. I believe he did but I am not sure about it. I think, however, he did.

Q. What is your recollection as to what he did tell you?

A. I think he stated that she had retracted.

Q. That she had retracted? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he say how long before? A. He did not.

Q. What was his manner when he came in?

A. He was in considerable of a hurry.

Q. Did he come in in a hurry? A. He did.

Q. And said that she wanted to retract the statement and wanted to see you? A. Substantially so.

Q. Then you went back out there and she retracted it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, what was it you said to her?

A. I expressed a disappointment at the situation having become again complicated, because I thought it was over with, she had made this statement, and likely expressed my regrets at having spent my time and money without having finally concluded.

Q. Did you express to her any belief on your part as to whether she did or didn't have Tommy?

A. I might have told her that I was glad it was over and that she had finally made up her mind as to just what the truth was, something to that effect.

Q. What was your belief?

Mr. Stuart: I object to that.

Mr. German: If he gave any expression of that view.

The Court: I expect I will have to finally conclude what all those circumstances led to.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, did the presence of Mr. Robertson and Mr. Buell in Seattle on that occasion and your work, your knowledge of their presence, in any manner influence you in connection with your work with Minnie?

Mr. Cruce: We object, if the Court please, as incompetent, calls for a conclusion, the Court will have to determine.

The Court: Overruled.

Mr. Cruce: Exception.

A. It did not.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Montgomry, that statement that Minnie Folk signed at that time was not sworn to was it? A. No, sir.

Q. Simply a signed statement? A. That's all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Now, Mr. Montgomery, at the time you took that statement you read it yourself? A. I did.

Q. And you thought you were writing down the substance of what you had come to Seattle to get?

A. No, sir, I was writing the substance of what Minnie Atkins told me about the birth of Thomas Atkins.

Q. Now, if she had stated to you—— If she had stated to you that she didn't know Sam Nash or Walter Banks or any of these other witnesses, why didn't you put that in your written statement?

A. Because I didn't think it was material. I took it as a proposition of law that the mother of a child had the best knowledge of its birth.

Q. Well, why didn't you stop your investigation then when woman—— Now, listen—— When this woman, having repudiated the statement and told you finally that she was telling you the God's truth; when she told you she had Thomas Atkins, why didn't you take that statement as final as well as the statement which you treated as final when she denied having been the mother of Tommy Atkins?

A. I didn't treat her statement denying that she was the mother of Thomas Atkins as an absolute finality.

Q. Well, didn't you testify a few moments ago, or did I understand you wrong, didn't you tell Mr. German that when she repudiated that confession that you expressed surprise and disappointment, that you had thought the matter finally closed? A. Well, I did.

Q. She did repudiate that statement? A. She did.

Q. And told you she was going to tell the truth about it if she went to prison? A. Yes.

Q. Why didn't you treat that statement—or rather, you didn't treat it as final did you? A. No.

Mr. German: I think that is argumentative.

Q. After she repudiated this so called confession, you had a conference at the hotel, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You went over there and met Mr. Buell? A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Robertson, the detective, Pinkerton Detective?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you talked the situation over? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what conclusion did you come to then?

A. We thought we would get the entire bunch together.

Q. What bunch do you mean, your bunch or the other bunch? A. All of them.

Q. I will ask you to refresh your recollection, because it has been some time since you made this report, if you didn't report—and by the way this report we have been reading from is not made to the Secretary of the Interior is it?

A. No, sir.

Q. That is a report to Judge Allen? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I will ask you to refresh your recollection, if that report doesn't read this way; if after talking about her repudiating the statement and that she said she did not know what she was talking about at the time, and that she made the statement for the purpose of pleasing me and that it was not true that she was the mother of Thomas Atkins: "I then went to the hotel where I had an audience with Garfield Buell, J. W. Robinson of the Pinkerton Detective force of Kansas City, Missouri, and after talking the situation over we concluded that we would try to find out the exact attitude of C. E. Hanford in the case." Is that correct?

A. That is substantially correct.

Q. What had you sent that telegram for when Minnie had told you at a prior time that she had sold out to Page. Why did you send a telegram to Creek County to get a confirmation of it?

A. Because I wanted to locate Mr. Hanford in this matter.

Q. Well, now, was it or not—— Cancel that question. You got the confirmatory telegram, you made it convenient that Mr. Hanford should get that information? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The purpose in that was to get Hanford angry with Page? A. Not primarily so.

Q. Well, was that one of the purposes?

A. That was one of the purposes.

Q. Who suggested that, Robinson or Buell?

A. I was the one that suggested it.

Q. Do you know how they happened to be in Seattle with you, Robinson and Buell?

A. They went—— It was arranged in Kansas City that they were going to Seattle.

Q. Who arranged it?

A. The general conversation between Mr. Buell, Mr. Robinson and I.

Q. And you had made up your mind you were not going to let them influence your mind in any way?

A. Not in the initial investigation or at any time as far as my duty toward the Government was concerned.

Q. If you were going there simply to interview Minnie, and you took pains to keep them away from Minnie, what services could they render you?

A. It was their suggestion that they went and not mine.

Q. They went on their own suggestion? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you don't know how many times they saw Minnie in your absence in Seattle? A. No.

Q. Now, you had also a meeting there in the hotel in which Buell and Robinson and Sadie James were present?

A. Well, that was preliminary to a meeting with Mr. Hanford.

Q. Who procured the room that Sadie was occupying?

A. She was in Mr. Buell's room.

Q. Mr. Buell's room? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was adjoining your room? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you arranged to have Mr. Hanford come down there? A. Yes, sir, to my room.

Q. And then did Mr. Robinson and Mr. Buell and Sadie appear on the scene?

A. I think when Mr. Hanford first came in Mr. Buell and Mr. Robinson were in there in my room and I introduced him and then some little surprise was expressed by Mr. Hanford when he appeared to feel like there had been some plot laid for him, and expressed the desire to have one of his friends present.

Q. It wouldn't be proper to state the conversation. I just wanted to show the circumstances. I believe that is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Did you have a conversation with Mr. Hanford there in the room? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he have anybody present?

A. He had a friend of his, yes, sir.

Q. He desired that a certain friend of his be called in before he talked? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he called a friend of his? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you held a conversation? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What date was that?

A. That was on Friday I think.

Q. Now, Mr. Montgomery, up to that time so far as your knowledge extended had Buell or Bartlett—— I mean Buell or Robinson or Sadie James during that week talked to Minnie Atkins? A. They had not.

Mr. Cruce: You mean so far as your knowledge is concerned?

A. Certainly.

Q. Are you a detective? A. I am not.

Q. Did you ever act in the capacity of a detective?

A. I have not unless it was on this occasion and that was a subterfuge.

Q. If you were a detective on this occasion it was your first experience? A. It was an imposition on me.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Mr. Montgomery, at the time you were there making this investigation, you knew that Mr. Hanford was Minnie Atkins' attorney? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you knew that he was representing her throughout that transaction as her attorney? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Stuart: That is all.

(Witness dismissed).

Mr. German: Your Honor, we desire now to offer the portion of the testimony of Mr. Hanford given on the Receivership hearing and appearing on page 340 of the printed transcript of that matter: "Q. Minnie made these admissions to Mr. Montgomery on Thursday afternoon, didn't she, or Thursday morning? A. I think it was in the afternoon; no, let me see. Q. Thursday morning? A. No, I think it was Thursday morning, yes, sir, just before noon. Q. She signed a written document, did she not? A. Yes, sir. Q. And it was turned over to Captain Hanford? A. Captain MacNab. Q. Captain MacNab, and the next morning you say Minnie came to Captain MacNab's quarters and repudiated? A. Oh, no. Q. What did she say? A. I said that Mr. Montgomery and I went down to Minnie's house and she repudiated. Q. At the house? A. Yes. Q. Where did you find Mr. Montgomery to go with him to the house? A. Captain MacNab's quarter's. Q. Where had you come from when you went to Captain MacNab's quarters for him? A. From Minnie. Q. You had a conversation with Minnie before you went up? A. Well, she talked to me. Q. Answer my question; you had a conversation with her? A. She conversed with me, yes. I said something to her when I came in. Q. I am asking you if you had a conversation with her? A. Yes."

Now, I want to—I guess I had better take the witness stand.

And thereupon, W. P. Z. GERMAN, being called on behalf of the United States, testified under oath as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Mr. German, were you present at the preliminary hearing, the Receivership hearing in this case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you conduct the case in chief on behalf of the Government? A. Principally, yes, sir.

Q. At that time, you may state whether or not the Government offered evidence to show that, or showing that Minnie Atkins gave birth to Robert Lee Peterkin, in July, 1886?

A. It did.

Q. At the home of Mrs. Woods, in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. It did.

Q. Was it—was that evidence offered before the affidavit of Minnie Atkins was filed or the testimony of Minnie Atkins given in that case?

A. Yes, sir, the evidence was offered—was introduced in chief and her affidavits and then the testimony following it on cross examination was offered by the defense.

Q. That evidence on behalf of the Government showed that Minnie Atkins was the mother of this child born at the home of Mrs. Woods, on July 31, 1886, I believe?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Stuart: Well, Your Honor, I object to that because it is leading in the first place, the evidence did not show that——

The Court: That is a conclusion as to what the evidence showed. I don't now appreciate the point that is being made here.

Mr. Allen: If the Court please, it is the short way of proving the fact that we would have to introduce another record to prove.

Mr. Stuart: Yes, Judge, but it's a very improper way to make a record.

The Court: Let me see if I understand it. Are you offering this now, for the purpose of avoiding putting in the evidence introduced at the Receivership hearing regarding what transpired at the home of the witness?

Mr. Allen: That is what we desire to prove, Your Honor. We desire to show following this that Minnie Atkins admitted that she had a child at the home of Mrs. Woods; that that was the first time that she had ever admitted having more than one child in Leavenworth.

The Court: Well, now, I gathered from this testimony that the point you were seeking to prove here by Mr. German, was merely the order in which the proof was presented at the Receivership hearing.

Mr. Allen: That is all.

The Court: And not what that proof amounted to.

Mr. Allen: No, sir.

The Court: Mr. German has now testified that the order of proof at Receivership hearing was this, that the testimony in regard to what transpired at the Woods place, of the birth of the child there, was offered before the affidavit of Minnie Atkins and her testimony.

Mr. Allen: That is all.

The Court: That is the only effect the Court can see that it can have.

Mr. Allen: That is the purpose at this time.

The Court: Cross examine.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Mr. German, your contention being all the time that Minnie had the Peterkin child at the Woods place, is that correct?

A. I beg your pardon, Judge, I didn't hear you.

Q. Your contention being all that time that Minnie Atkins had the Peterkin child at the Woods place?

A. We——

Q. Just answer my question?

A. No, not all the time, because we didn't know it until January.

Q. Well, it is your contention now?

A. Yes, sir, been that since we discovered it in January, 1916.

Q. And that the child born in 1886 to Minnie was the Peterkin child at the Woods house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is the Government's contention? A. Yes.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: Your Honor, we now offer a portion of the affidavit signed by Minnie Atkins, and filed and used in the Receivership case in the defense. I don't know whether it is necessary to read it or not. It appears——

The Court: You better read it, I guess. Read it right in the record.

Mr. German: Now, we offer this for the limited purpose of showing, and in support of our theory and contention, that the defendant, that group of defendants, had fabricated a case.

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, I would like to understand that; we offer this now as showing that the defendant offered a certain group of witnesses, as showing a certain state and condition, with reference to this Minnie Atkins——

Mr. German: No.

Mr. Stuart: Well, what?

Mr. German: To show that a group of defendants, Minnie Folk and her group, have a fabricated a case of the birth of Thomas Atkins; we are offering the evidence which they produced in the support of that, not vouching for its truth at all, and then we propose to prove that it was false and they knew it, and our proof relating to the falsity of it has already been partly introduced, and we will follow it with depositions. That is the purpose of it.

The Court: And this that you now offer is a part of the affidavit of Minnie Atkins produced at the Receivership hearing?

Mr. German: Yes, sir, in support of that, the same exactly as the theory and reason for our introduction of the depositions of Dennis Jones, Rube Smith and Walter Banks and Sam Nash.

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, I don't——

Mr. German: And the testimony of Minnie on two or three occasions.

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, I can't see any legal ground for the admission of that, if he wants to break down our case, he can either attack our witnesses on cross examination and present these statements as contradictory statements, or he can do it by any other method known to law; but he is now saying I am going to introduce a lot of depositions in evidence that you had in another case, and then attack that testimony that I now put in evidence. In other words I am going to attack a statement that you made out of court, before you make it in this court; that is just the proposition.

Mr. German: Exactly.

Mr. Cruce: There is this statement I would like to make in reference to that if the Court please——

The Court: I am not going to admit that as far as the Receivership hearing is concerned. I permitted you to introduce the depositions, but the Receivership case was closer related to this case now. That is, the court sitting here has heard that case. That comes too closely to taking the very evidence that is offered by the parties in this case now, and seeking to prove by that that they are fabricating a case. I must determine that from the apparent truth or falsity, and their knowledge of its truth or falsity, as it appears.

Mr. German: Yes, sir, but here is this, if I may make a suggestion——

The Court: Now, I am not going to encumber the record with anything offered for the purpose of building up the case so far as relates to the evidence in the Receivership case, for the purpose of building up a case and then breaking it down. If that evidencce is offered in this case now, you will be permitted to lead it with such evidence as you have to break it down.

Mr. German: May I make this suggestion to the Court? It appears in evidence that Minnie first stated when she first testified at Sapulpa, the first testimony that she gave, that she had given birth to one child at Leavenworth, and then she stated that its name was Thomas; that it was born at the Sister's hospital, and that it was born after she left the Stafford's; that she was carrying it at the Stafford's and gave birth to it at the Sister's hospital. Now, you will recall that the Stafford's was the third place that she worked at in Leavenworth. Now, it is in evidence that the defendants could not support that theory, found out the records did not support that theory at the hospital, but they came in contact with Mr. Peterkin; Mr. Peterkin knew of course of the birth of this child, Robert Lee, at Mrs. Woods, following Minnie's stay at the Stafford's, and that she carried him at the Stafford's; there upon and following that, they came in contact with Sadie James and Dennis Jones and those parties, and they changed the time of its birth to between the Hyde's, the first place she worked at, and the Grodevants, the second place she worked at; but still said nothing about Robert Lee, and she testified at Tulsa then, that she had given birth to one child, but one at Leavenworth, and that it was born at Granny Letcher's between the time she worked at Hyde's and the Grodevant's, and she worked at Stafford's following Grodevant's. Then at the Receivership hearing which followed the deposition she had given at Tulsa about three months, we proved as a part of our case in chief, the Robert Lee Peterkin birth. Then, Minnie testified that it was true she had Robert Lee Peterkin, that she carried him at the Stafford's and gave birth to him at Mrs. Wood's, as we proved, but she said that she also had Thomas, and that he was born at Granny Letcher's between the time she worked at the Hyde's and the Grodevant's. Now, I want to introduce her statement there for this purpose, among others, that she fixes the time and she testified at her own instance and that of the defendant, of the alleged birth of this child, anterior to the time when she admits that she gave birth to Robert Lee Peterkin. That is one reason; and then we have not only a concentrated showing, but we also have that testimony which we are prepared to show, as we view it, and as we believe, is not true.

The Court: Now, your testimony will show that; it will be a part of your case to show that if that is as you contend, refuting any contention which Minnie has made or may make in that record.

Mr. German: We merely want to show what she contended following the time of our proof as to Robert Lee Peterkin.

The Court: Well, I am not going to complicate this case with that now. Minnie Atkins is here; presumably she will be a witness; if she is, you can cross examine in regard to any conflicting statement she made or examine her in regard to one that she first made, and that will all come out.

Mr. German: I would like to make an offer of proof, without reading it at this time, but with the understanding that it will be copied in the record.

The Court: Alright.

Mr. German: I desire to state that we offer to prove, for the limited purpose for which I stated, the matters set forth in Minnie E. Folk's deposition, on pages 363, 364, and 365—affidavit, I should say, instead of deposition, of the printed transcript of record in the Receivership case, except the paragraph on page 363 beginning with words "I didn't tell anybody" and so forth; and except the three paragraphs on page 364, following right after the other, the first one beginning with the words "I have been married about eight years," and so forth; and except the last paragraph of the affidavit. Also the following questions and answers which she gave on her cross examination at the Receivership hearing beginning at on page 370 of the printed transcript referred to: "Q. Now, while you were at Mr. Hyde's, you said you were there six or seven months? A. I don't know just how long, quite a while though. Q. About that long wasn't it? A. Yes, sir. Q. Then, you went from Mr. Hyde's to the Grodevant's? A. No, I didn't go just right off.

Q. Now, how long until you did go? A. Well, I didn't go up to Grodevant's until I had Tommy Atkins. When I left Hyde's I was with him. Q. How long from the time that you left Hyde's until you went to Grodevant's? A. I don't know just how long. Q. Give the Court some idea. A. Well, I was there—I was down about a year in the city. Q. You went in the city about a year between the time that you left Mr. Hyde's and went to Grodevant's? A. Yes. Q. Grodevant's was at the Fort? A. Yes, Q. The Fort is about three miles from the city of Leavenworth? A. Yes. Q. You stayed at the Fort, then, until you left for Fort Logan, Colorado, did you, with the exception of just a little bit—well, I will ask you this. How long did you work for the Grodevants? A. Well, I worked there quite a while, too. Q. How long? A. About a year. Q. Then who did you work for? A. Then I left Grodevant's and went to Lieutenant Stafford's. Q. How long did you work at Lieutenant Stafford's? A. I don't know just how long I worked there. Q. Well, how much would you say? A. Well, I think I must have been about a year at Stafford's."

We offer to make proof of those things, Your Honor.

The Court: The record may show your offer and that it is excluded by the Court.

Mr. German: Exception.

And thereupon, GEORGE W. DOTTER, was called, sworn as a witness on behalf of the Government, and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. George Dotter.

Q. How do you spell Dotter? A. D-o-t-t-e-r.

Q. What is your age, Mr. Dotter? A. Forty seven.

Q. Where do you live? A. Ellenwood, Kansas.

Q. Did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. Yes, sir, I was born there.

Q. You were born there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know the place there known as 217 Seneca Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever live there?

A. Yes, sir, I was born there.

Q. Born there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did your father live there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long—— Well, I will ask you this: Who owned that property while you lived there? A. My father.

Q. What was your father's business?

A. He was a school teacher.

Q. Did anybody ever run a bakery at that place?

A. My father was also a baker before that time.

Q. When did you leave that property there?

A. We left there in 1884.

Q. What time of the year? A. July.

Q. What day in July? A. The 28th day of July.

Q. What was the occasion of your leaving there?

A. We moved to a farm from there.

Q. Was your mother living at that time? A. No, sir.

Q. Who was in the family besides you and your father?

A. My brother and sister, that is that wasn't married.

Q. State whether your father sold that property at that time? A. Yes, sir, he had sold it.

Q. When did you and your father and family move out of the property with reference to the time that he sold it?

A. Well, we left the property there that day and I recollect it the 28th day of July, 1884.

Q. When was it that your father sold the property?

A. I couldn't say, sometime previous to that but it wasn't very long.

Q. Now, how do you know that that is the date you moved out of the property?

A. Well, I know it of my own accord, and I have a paper in my pocket that my father had printed in the Ellenwood Leader where he kept his biography.

Q. Is your father living or dead?

A. He is dead, and my father always kept a diary and he took it from that I suppose, at any rate he has it in this paper. It is in German.

Q. In the German language? A. Yes, sir.

Q. State whether that article contains a statement as to the date you moved out of that property? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, they haven't identified the diary yet and he is testifying as to its contents.

The Court: No, here is a statement in the paper I suppose, I gather that it is a sort of biography of his father. Isn't it?

Mr. German: Yes, sir, he states it is.

The Court: Published in this paper at the time of your father's death?

A. No, sir.

The Court: What was the circumstances, did he publish it himself?

A. He wrote it himself.

The Court: And this witness supposes that he took that date which appears in this article from a diary which his father kept.

Q. Your father wrote the article? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did your father state in the article the date when he moved out to the farm?

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, we object to that.

The Court: You may answer that yes or no. Did your father state in that the date he moved from Leavenworth out to the farm?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, did you have an independent recollection of the date you moved out of 217 Seneca Street?

A. Well, I remember it to be that date, but I wouldn't be sure exactly but this is all I have.

The Court: Have you an independent recollection as to the year you moved out, regardless of that paper? Could you say without referring to that paper whether it was 1884 or 1885?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, before you found that paper were you able to say what date it was?

The Court: What do you mean, the day of the month or year?

Mr. German: Both.

A. Well, I would think it was that date, but I wouldn't say for certain, but I know it was the year.

The Court: You know it was the year regardless of the paper?

A. Regardless of the paper.

The Court: Regardless of the paper. Was it spring, summer, winter or autumn when you moved out?

A. Well, it was in July.

The Court: All right.

Mr. German: That is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Is your name Dossler? A. Dotter.

Q. Dotter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was this house located that you lived in?

A. 217 Seneca Street, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. Who lived right in front of you?

A. In front of us?

Q. Yes? A. No one, the street was in front of us.

Q. Who lived on the side of you? A. Mr. Seth.

Q. Did somebody live across the street in front of you, I didn't mean in the street?

A. Well, I couldn't tell you who it was.

Q. Who lived in front of you? A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know who lived across the street?

A. At the time, no, sir.

Q. Do you know who lived next door on the right?

A. Yes, sir, there was a lumber yard on the right side.

Q. Who was on the left hand side? A. The Seths.

Q. What business was Seth in?

A. He was a stone mason.

Q. How old were you at that time?

A. I was fourteen years old.

Q. Fourteen years old? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long ago has that been?

A. It will be thirty three years.

Q. Thirty three years. Now, you couldn't have told about that date or year with any accuracy without consulting that paper, could you? You were just a small boy?

A. Well, I wouldn't say that I could.

Q. That is it. In other words, you couldn't have been accurate upon what you knew about that when you was a boy fourteen years old, unless you could have consulted your father's article? A. No, I wouldn't say that I could.

Q. And you couldn't do it, it is your best judgment that you couldn't have spoken with any sort of certainty without consulting your father's article could you?

A. I think I could, but I couldn't say what to go by to say that.

Q. There isn't any other incident that fixes it in your mind except your father's article is there? No other incident? A. I don't know of any.

Q. You can't recall anything. That's all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Before you found your father's article, were you able to tell what date it was?

A. Well, I had it in my mind, that date, but I had nothing to go by.

Q. What date was it you had in your mind?

A. I had it in my mind the same date as my father, the 28th of July.

Q. What year? A. 1884.

Q. Now, Mr. Dotter, I show you what has been marked Government's Exhibit A-91, a plat or drawing, and will ask you to look at that and state whether that house appearing nearest the center of the plat is a correct representation of your faher's house?

A. Well, as near as I can tell any more than there was a little summer kitchen built up behind this.

Q. A little summer kitchen?

A. Probably twelve by fourteen or such a matter back of this part.

Q. Now, what about the tree?

A. Well, the tree looks natural any more than that tree was high enough that I could crawl on top of that house; I have crawled on there many a time.

Q. Whose house is represented in the right hand, on the right hand of the picture?

A. Well, the gentleman here asked me, I got it wrong.

Q. Well, say west of your father's house?

A. Well, west is the Seth house. That looks natural all right as far as I can tell.

Q. Mr. Dotter, what buildings were in the rear of your father's house toward the alley or next to the alley?

A. Well, there was nothing but an old shed stable; it wasn't fit for anything because we had abandoned it for at least ten years.

Q. Now, was that barn that you refer to, did it have any loft in it?

A. I couldn't say as to that whether it had or not.

Q. What was it used for?

A. Well, years before that my father used to run a bakery and he kept a horse, kept a horse in there and kept a delivery wagon.

Q. Was there a floor in the barn, in the barn used to keep the horse in?

A. As near as I can remember there was a floor where the horse stood and that is all, but I wouldn't be positive as to that.

Q. During the time you lived there was that barn ever used as a residence? A. No, sir.

Q. Was it used for—was it fit for residence purposes? A. No, sir.

Mr. Stuart: We object to that because it is a conclusion. Let him tell that.

Q. What doors did it have?

A. I couldn't say as to that either, I don't remember.

Q. Did it have any windows up stairs—or you say you didn't remember?

A. I don't think there was an up stairs to it but I couldn't say as to that.

Q. What was its condition when you moved away from there? A. Very poor.

Q. And it hadn't been used for ten years?

A. Not by us; we had rented it out years ago to some teamster around town there that kept a team in there for a while, I don't know just how long.

Q. Was there any residence or cottage or any house for residence purposes on that alley back of your father's house, or back of Seth's house?

A. I couldn't say, I don't remember what was back there.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Now, how old were you when you left Leavenworth?

A. Fourteen years.

Q. Fourteen years old, and that has been thirty years?

A. Thirty three years.

Q. And you were fourteen when you left. Of course you played around here when you were a boy where these houses were? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your recollection as far as you can be accurate of your own memory is that you moved out of there in July, 1884? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Stuart: That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Did your father take a mortgage on that property when he sold it?

A. I don't know, I think he did but I am not sure.

Witness dismissed.

Thereupon JOHN ROHR was called and sworn as a witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. John Rohr.

Q. Mr. Rohr, what age are you? A. Seventy past.

Q. Where do you live? A. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. Have you ever held any official position in Leavenworth County, Kansas? A. I have.

Q. Is Leavenworth the County Site? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What position did you hold?

A. I have been Register of Deeds of that county four years; under-sheriff of that county four years; Clerk of the District Court of that county four years.

Q. When were you clerk of the District Court?

A. 1883, four, five and six.

Q. Did you know a man by the name of Joe Malone?

A. Joe Malone, I knew Joe Malone, yes, sir.

Q. Did you know him in the eighties?

A. Yes, sir, he was a Deputy Sheriff in 1886.

Q. Now, did you know him intimately? A. I did.

Q. Did you know a woman, white woman, in Leavenworth by the name of Lilly White?

A. I didn't know her intimately but I met her and had been at her place.

Q. What kind of a place did she run?

A. House of prostitution.

Q. Where was she running that house the first time you ever knew her, ever saw her?

A. The first time I ever saw her I testified that I had been there the second time in November.

Q. You are referring to the fact of your testimony when you gave your deposition?

A. Yes, sir. I will answer that first. The first time was in May, 1885.

Q. The first time was in May, 1885? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you happen to go there?

A. Well, sir, if you will permit me to explain; I was going home one evening; I dropped into the saloon and got a glass of beer. Mr. Norby and Dick Mulvaney were in the place. I invited them to have a glass of beer and the conversation drifted on going to Lilly White's. I said that is a place I never have been, I will go. So, we took another drink and we concluded to go the three of us and I says, I have no money. And I goes to Mr. Haverlin and asked him to give me fifteen dollars. He says I refuse to give you the fifteen. I said why, won't you give it to me?

The Court: Let's just cut that short. You did go to Lilly White's did you?

A. I did.

Mr. German: Pardon me, your Honor, the little incident he is about to relate will bear upon the other testimony.

The Court: All right. Go on. He refused to give you the money?

A. I says there must be some reason for it. He says there is. He says to me, you owe me twenty six dollars for subscription to the German Frey Press; and he says my brother George asked you for the money which you refused to pay. I said no he may have asked me for the money but I never refused to pay it. I will tell you what I will do, I will give you a check now for forty dollars.

Q. Who said that?

A. I did. That will pay you the twenty six dollars I owe you for the subscription for the German Frey Press. And he gave me fourteen dollars and I gave him the check.

Q. Then, where did you go?

A. From thence we took a glass of beer and went direct from that place to Lilly White's.

Q. Have you got that check? A. I have.

Q. Let's see it. Is this the check which is now marked Government's Exhibit A-92 that you refer to?

A. Yes, sir, this is the check given to Ed Haberline.

Q. Is that check dated the date it was given?

A. Yes, sir, that same evening.

Mr. German: We offer this in connection with the witness' testimony, as Government's Exhibit A-92.

Mr. Hanford: We object to it, your Honor, on the ground that it is hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial. It is not a matter in this case whether he made a loan.

The Court: This witness is referring to that to refresh his memory. The record may show that he refers to a check to refresh his memory.

Mr. German: All right, we except.

Q. Now, what was the date of it?

A. 16th day of May, 1885.

Q. State whether having gotten that money you went to Lilly White's?

A. Directly to the place after receiving the money.

Q. Who went with you?

A. Richard Norway and Dick Mulvaney.

Q. Had you been to Lilly White's before?

A. Never in my life, before.

Q. Where was it?

A. On Seneca between Second and Third on the south side of the street.

Q. What part of the block?

A. I think it was on the west portion of the block.

Q. Did you know where Phillip Seth lived? A. Yes.

Q. Where was it with reference to Phillip Seth's?

A. Adjoining it.

Q. The next house?

A. Next house west, I think it was west, I am not sure.

Q. Now, what sized house was it that Lilly was living in?

A. It was a two story house if my memory serves me right.

Q. Were you ever at that house again? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many times? A. Once after that.

Q. When?

A. It was between—— I can't give the exact time; I testified before in September, but I positively was there between the first of June and the thirtieth day of September with John J. Malone.

Q. How do you fix that?

A. Because I have written him checks and I wanted to get the money. And I went to his place of business and he told me he didn't have the money but to take a walk with him, and we went up to Lilly White's.

Q. Was Lilly White and John Malone, what relationship existed?

A. I believe that John Malone was living at this place, or Lilly White was his mistress as far as I know.

Q. What did the payment of that money back to you have to do with this suggestion to go to Lilly White's?

A. Well, I went there and I didn't get the money until several years after. After he went to Tacoma he sent me the money.

Q. I will ask you to state whether Mr. Malone, whether the trip to Lilly White's had anything to do with the repayment of the money?

A. That is what caused me to go there with John J. Malone. I asked him for the money and he said I haven't got the money but I will pay you in a short time. And he said come and take a walk with me and we walked to Lilly White's. I stayed but a few minutes and went out and left him there.

The Court: That was still in 1884?

A. 1885. It was about a month or two after the other.

Q. The first trip was in what year? A. May 16, 1885.

Q. The same date as the check? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And when was the second trip?

A. Between the first of June and the thirtieth of September. I testified it was in September. I was there within those three or four months with John J. Malone.

Q. Have you any way of fixing that date?

A. Well, I have two other checks that I gave Mr. Malone and they kind of confuse me as to the time I was there. I have the checks here but I can't exactly tell. I know he owed me seven hundred dollars after he left there.

Q. When was this money that you let him have paid back, if ever paid back to you?

A. Well, it was to be most any time. I took no paper. I gave it to him on his word that he would pay me in a few weeks. Not later than a month, never.

Q. Now, where was Lilly living on that second trip?

A. Same place.

Q. On Seneca Street between Second and Third?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In this two story house.

Mr. German: You may have the witness.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Your memory proved very treacherous in this case at the last hearing, didn't it?

Mr. German: I object to that as argument?

The Court: Overruled.

Q. Your memory proved very treacherous at the last hearing, didn't it?

A. Yes, sir, well if a person is taken up—— has to go back thirty years in a few moments without a chance to recall anything.

Q. But you did have time enough to pull another check out of your pocket, didn't you, and present it in court?

A. Well, it happened so.

Q. And that check was dated August, wasn't it?

A. What?

Q. That check was dated August, 1884?

A. The $500.00 check?

Q. Yes. A. I believe it was, yes, sir.

Q. And that was the check that you swore before the Examiner that you gave to this man which enabled you to find this date, wasn't it?

A. Well, I can come very near to the date, now, yes, sir.

Q. Well, why then, did you quit that check and put this one in?

A. Well, I will tell you, I will explain; I worried over two months to recollect who the men were with me the second time and I finally recalled who was with me and then I remembered of that check. I never thought of the check of the time that that I was on the stand before.

Q. Now, Mr. Rohr, this is the check, then, that you want to stand on, then? A. Yes, sir, that is the check.

Q. That May check? A. The May check, yes, sir.

Q. Now, this is the one that you used now, to refresh your memory? A. Of course that one time.

Q. Wait a minute. To know that you were in Lillie White's in May 1885? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is correct now? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, the August check has identified the time you were at Lillie White's, and has refreshed your memory and you want to eliminate that from the case, don't you?

A. No, I don't care to eliminate that from the case for I might have been there in September.

Q. But not at this time; September, why, that check was in August, what are you talking about September for?

A. I am aware of that but it was due in September, the money.

Q. Mr. Rohr, what you want to tell the Court is this; that you can positively identify this as having been at Minnie White's in May, 1885, can you? A. I was there.

Q. You cannot positively [ ] this except from memory that you were there later, can you?

A. Well, only by those checks; I know I was there with John J. Malone, and it was only a short time after that, within three or four months.

Q. You say after this May check was given there, you are satisfied you were there sometime between June and September? A. Yes, sir, positively.

Q. Why did you give yourself such a wide latitude for your memory, right in there? What is the idea for that?

A. Well, I am not interested directly or indirectly in the case.

Q. I know that but why did you give yourself such wide—

A. And I don't care who wins it, I am trying to protect myself. I want to give myself time in those——

Q. That is it? A. In that time.

Q. Don't understand me as trying to contradict you or to wind you up.

A. I have no dates upon which I can give, only those dates.

Q. And therefore you put it between June and September for safety, don't you? A. I do, yes, sir.

Q. Without knowing with any definiteness whether it was June or September?

A. Well, I wouldn't swear positively.

Q. How long have you had this check, Mr. Rohr?

A. Had that 32 years.

Q. You keep them all, do you?

A. I have them, I always did keep them.

Q. Now, here is the part of that check written in ink and payee written in pencil?

A. Well, I wrote that check, I remember when I wrote it, and I couldn't write very well the date, so I took a pencil; I was drinking a little bit that night and I remember the whole transaction.

Q. You were drinking a good deal that night weren't you pretty full?

A. No, sir, I wasn't; I don't think I drank more than three or four glasses of beer.

Q. But this check you now refresh your memory with, written in ink every where except the payee's name——

A. I started that——

Q. I want you to answer my question—written every where in ink, except the payee's name? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that is written in pencil? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Does that check show that it were paid anywhere?

A. Well, it was not verified but I assure you it was paid.

Q. Is that verified anywhere?

A. I guarantee it was paid.

Q. It don't show it, does it?

A. Well, that——

Q. It don't show it has been paid by the bank, does it?

A. Well, I don't know.

Q. Look at it and see. A. I say it is not verified.

Q. Then it don't show on its face that it was ever paid by any bank, does it? A. Well, the bank——

The Court: Just answer the question. Does it show that it was paid, so far as the check is concerned?

A. No, sir, it don't show.

The Court: Alright, that answers the question, now.

Mr. Cruce: I would like the Court to look at that in view of the fact that first had the lead pencil. The date is first in ink, and then the name of the payee is in what is in seemingly lead pencil, and then follows the ink.

The Court: Just a moment, let me look at it.

Mr. Stuart.

Q. Were you ever in business with Mr. Malone?

A. Never.

Q. Never in partnership? A. Never.

Q. You are satisfied that the directory don't show you ever was in business with him?

A. Yes, sir, they had a Malone real estate business but I was not a partner in that business; the map shows.

Q. Your name was in it, though?

A. Malone and Company, and Rohr, yes, sir.

Q. Yes, sir, your name was in there.

A. Yes, sir, that was during the boom there.

Q. Yes, sir, your name was in there during the boom?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were not a partner, just let him use your name? A. I was in the office part of the time.

Q. What did you let him put your name into the partnership for?

A. I had no partnership outside of that map.

Q. What did you put your name in partnership with Malone for if you were not a partner?

A. He didn't—he done it himself and I didn't object and that is all there was to it.

Q. And checks were passing back and forth between you and Malone all the time, weren't they?

A. No, sir, not at that time.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Rohr, I show you Government's Exhibit No. 54 about which Mr. Stuart asked you, the check about which Judge Stuart asked you, dated August 18th, 1885; is that the check that you produced at Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When you gave your deposition?

A. Yes, sir, the same check.

Q. The same check. Now, why is that it that you say that you want the latitude from June 1st to September 1st? Have you any other checks? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Let's see them. Are these they? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, here is one dated July 14th, 1885, payable to John J. Malone; here is one dated May 28th, 1885, payable to John J. Malone; the first one for $200.00 and the second one for $300.00; and here is this date August 18th, 1885, payable to John J. Malone for $500.00. Now, when you went to collect one or the other of these checks—— A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is the date that you went to Lillie White's the second time, is that the——

A. When I went and tried to collect one of them, I don't know which one.

Q. Which one of the three?

A. No, sir, that is what confuses me, yes, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. All these checks show payment, don't they?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Every one of them? A. By the bank, yes, sir.

Q. Show they were paid by the bank? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And this last check you now refresh your recollection with does not show any payment? A. No, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Is Haberline dead?

A. No, sir, I think he lives in McPherson, Kansas.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Rohr, Mr. Malone was buying real estate there in that office, was he?

A. No, sir, that was after my terms of office expired that I was in with Malone.

Q. You were not in with him in 1885? A. No, sir.

Q. You are sure of that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He ran a gambling house in 1885, is that true?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were clerk of the District court?

A. I was.

Q. You were loaning money to him at different times?

A. I have loaned him money at different times, yes, sir.

Q. There were three or four months there in succession when you loaned him money? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you are not able to say which one of those checks it was that he went to Lillie White's with you in regard to, are you?

A. No, I never went with him—he never borrowed any money to go to Lillie White's with me but I loaned him this money and I went to collect this money from him, and I went to Lillie White's, after the money.

Q. And the first time you say you were ever at Lillie White's was in May, 1885?

A. Yes, sir, the 16th day of May.

Q. When was the next time?

A. Between the 1st day of June and the 30th of September, with John J. Malone.

Q. And when was the next time?

A. That is the only time I ever was in the house.

Q. The only time you were ever there?

A. Yes, sir, in that house.

Q. You have testified before in this case, haven't you?

A. Yes, sir, I have.

Q. And didn't you testify that you went to Lillie White's a number of times after that?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Didn't you testify that, at the beginning of the December term of court, along in the latter part of November, 1885, that you went to Lillie White's at 217 Seneca Street?

A. I did, and I want to correct that; I was not there in that month, that is a mistake I made.

Q. Didn't you testify—— A. I did. I made a mistake.

Q. That you went there with a number of men after court—— A. I did, I did.

Q. And didn't you testify that you were a young man then and used to sport around a bit and you went to her house frequently during that year? A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Mr. Rohr you have allowed yourself considerable lattitude as to the time that you went to collect that Malone check; in fact you have left yourself a latitude of three or four months; that is so, isn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So that it might have been in September or October?

A. No, sir, not October. I made my statement between the 1st day of June and the 30th day of September; not later than that.

Q. What was the date of that check that you gave to Malone? A. Which one?

Q. The check that you went to collect?

> The Court: All that has been gone over; the cross examination has covered all this, Mr. Hanford; let's not take up time.
>
> Mr. Hanford: Your honor please, I want this witness to come back tomorrow; I want to go over that deposition. I understand he was brought here to testify in lieu of the deposition.
>
> The Court: Well you can examine that in the mean time. Court will stand adjourned until 9:30 a. m., tomorrow morning.

And thereupon court adjourns until 9:30 o'clock a. m.

And thereafter, and at 9:30 o'clock A. M., May 9, 1917, court convened pursuant to adjournment, and further proceedings herein were had as follows:

JOHN ROHR, being recalled further testified as follows:

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Rohr, this $500.00 check is the only record that you have of the loan that you made to John Malone at that time, isn't it?

A. Well, that is the only check that I found at that time. I mentioned at the time that there was another check of two hundred which I remembered at the time I testified at Leavenworth but there was another check of three hundred that escaped my memory.

Q. But you do remember that it was the five hundred dollar check that you went with Malone to collect?

A. Well, it may have been that check.

Q. Five hundred dollars?

A. Yes, sir, but I am not positive but I think it was.

Q. You were positive that it was the five hundred dollar check when you testified before?

A. Well, I wasn't positive but I believe it was; to the best of my memory, it was.

Q. Did you have any trouble collecting that two hundred check?

A. The two hundred dollar check and the five hundred dollar check I collected seven years afterwards.

Q. Isn't it a fact that you had no trouble collecting the two hundred check, and therefore you made the further loan to him of the five hundred check?

A. No, sir, I never received that money until I received it all, seven hundred dollars.

Q. Now, you have testified before in this case?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I want to ask you about your former testimony.

A. Alright.

Q. Reading from the deposition of John Rohr, taken before Giles Penick at Leavenworth, in this case, in the transcript of depositions at 2505: "Q. The check is the only record you have of the loan, you didn't take any note you state? A. No, sir." A. That is correct.

Q. That is correct? A. Yes, sir.

Q. "So your recollection of speaking to him and calling his attention to it and then asking him finally if he would pay it, because you needed the money, is your independent mental recollection? A. Yes, sir."

A. Yes, sir, at that time it was.

Q. "Q. The loan was made according to the check August—the middle of August 1885? A. Yes, sir."

A. Yes, sir, the loan was made at that time.

Q. You did testify that way at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. "Q. So the matter of the payment ran on for a period of three or four months and you know that it was later than that that you took this walk with him to this house?

A. I took it with him thirty days after I loaned him the money, gave him the check, thirty days; it must have been some time in September." You testifiel that way?

A. Well, I believe it was some time in September or——

The Court: Just answer whether——

A. Yes, sir, I did.

The Court: He is asking you with regard to your testimony when your deposition was taken; all you need to answer is whether or not you testified that and you will be allowed to explain later.

A. Thank you.

Q. "Q. Well, you didn't ask him to pay the check right away after the loan was made? A. No, I let him have it for thirty days; he said he would probably pay me back in a couple of weeks; and I said, John, I must have this money within thirty days, and it was several years before I got it."

A. That is right.

Q. "Q. What I mean is, right after you gave him the money, you left him have the time on the loan before you spoke to him about it? A. I certainly did." Is that correct?

A. Yes, sir, that is my answer.

Q. Now, that was the loan made in the middle of August, and ran for thirty days or longer before you spoke to him about it? A. About that time, yes, sir.

Q. And reading from page 2506: "Q. Did you know her."—I will explain, that is speaking of Lillie White—"Q. Did you know her? A. I knew of her and met her once or twice there; met her there that night that I went with Malone." Is that correct? A. Correct.

Mr. German: Read the last of the answer, please.

Q. "And another time when I went there with a crowd of fellows, and took in the town as we call it."

A. Well, I testified to that but it was wrong.

Q. That is all I ask you. "Q. You were not averse in those days to going around? A. Not at all." Is that correct? A. Yes.

Q. "Q. You were a younger man at that time? A. Yes, sir, I was single and unmarried at the time, and was one of the boys." Did you so testify? A. I may have——

The Court: There is probably little controversy about his being a younger man at that time.

Q. And from page 2509: "Q. You don't know how long that would be after the time that you went there with Malone when you went with the parties? A. No, I can't say but it was in the same year." Is that correct? A. I guess it is.

Q. And from page 2510: "Q. It was before January, 1886? A. Yes, sir. Q. Probably? A. I can't tell, I can't tell the month, nor the day, nor the week, but I know it was before; it was shortly after that I had been there with Malone." Is that correct?

A. That is the testimony I gave.

Q. "Q. Just estimating the time, the number of weeks, about how long? A. I can't say." Is that your testimony?

A. I guess it is.

Q. "Q. Can't even approximate it? A. I can't approximate it, no, but it was within a month or two." Is that your testimony? A. Yes, sir.

Q. "I was just trying to find the approximate month by an estimation of the time, Mr. Rohr; if you can say whether it was a month or two or three months? A. Well, I can't tell. I went along with a crowd of boys and went from one place to another, and I can't tell exactly the time. It was, anyhow, between the 20th of September and the 1st of January. I will give you that latitude within the three months." Did you so testify?

A. I guess I did.

Q. From the same page: "Q. Now, thinking of that occasion can't you remember that it was—some or a definite number of months subsequent to that you went there? A. I can't say that I know it was two or three months after I went in there—whether it was a month or two or three I can't say, I wouldn't swear, but I am positive I was there once after the Malone instance." Is that your testimony?

A. It is.

Q. And from page 2511: "Q. And that would be in probably the month of November or the early part of December? A. Well, I can't state definitely what month it was. It was between September and the first of January. Whether it was October or November or December I don't remember. I know Court was in session, December term, and it was shortly before the Court went in session when I went around with the boys because when Court was in session I didn't have time." Did you so testify? A. I guess I did.

Q. And from the same page: "Q. It was during that time that you were with this crowd? A. Oh, well I think it was before. I think it was before Court convened." Is that correct? A. Yes, sir.

Q. "Q. So the nearest you can fix it is by the convening of that session? A. Well, that is near November, isn't it? That is as near as I can get." Is that correct? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: Your Honor, Counsel has examined this witness with reference to it being in the fall and that is clear, and I think that is all he possibly can develop.

Mr. Hanford: I can't see what objection counsel can have.

The Court: The Court has this objection to the reading of anything into this record that hasn't some value as cross examination. So far, I am inclined to think it is all right.

Mr. Hanford: Your Honor please, it is necessary to get this in to show that the witness was absolutely positive.

The Court: Now, you have pretty well covered his testimony with regard to those incidents. What I want to avoid Mr. Hanford, as you appreciate, is duplicating this record except so far as is necessary for proper cross examination.

Q. From page 2512: "What time did the December session convene, the first Monday? A. I don't know. The first Monday in December, I think. Q. That is as near as you can give me the month? A. Yes, sir."

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was your testimony? A. I believe it is.

Q. And from the same page, 2512: "And this man Malone was a gambler? A. Yes, sir. Q. Had you ever loaned him any money before? A. Why, I loaned him fifty and a hundred and amounts like that and he always paid it back." Is that correct? A. Correct.

Q. "How long prior to this loan on the 15th day of August, '85, was it that you had loaned him? A. I don't know. Q. The 18th instead of the 15th. When was the last loan you had made him prior to this loan you are testifying about prior to this five hundred dollar loan? A. Why, I don't know. I loaned one of his partners two hundred dollars and he paid it back. Q. When was that? A. That was prior to this. Q. How long Mr. Rohr? A. I don't know, probably three or four months. They always borrowed small amounts and always paid it back and finally got the five hundred and I waited." Is that correct? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is your testimony at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And from page 2513: "How many loans do you think you made Mr. Malone and his partner? A. Oh, I don't know. Made them a good many small loans. Q. Now, is it or not possible that the trip that you had to Lillie White's was with reference to one of the other loans? A. No, sir, he didn't owe me anything else but the five hundred at that time." Is that correct? A. I guess I made that statement.

Q. "I understand, but you had loaned him two hundred dollars once before? A. Yes, yes. Q. Now, is it possible that you went to see Lillie White after one of the other loans? A. I never troubled him with any of the loans prior to this one, never asked him for the money. Q. Is it a possibility, understand my question? A. Yes, sir. Q. Is it not possible for your recollection to be at fault as to that? A. No, sir." That is your testimony at that time? A. I guess it is.

Q. And that is the testimony you have come down here to correct? A. Yes, sir, that is part of it.

Q. Now, Mr. Rohr, have you refreshed your recollection any?

A. Yes, I had ample time to recall some things that I had forgotten in thirty years and I was worried considerably.

Q. And you mean to say at this time that you can't fix the time that you went to Lillie White's?

A. With Mr. Malone I cannot, but the other with Nordy and Dick Mulvaney I am positive——

Q. Mr. Rohr? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you learned since giving your testimony that the Government had discovered a petition in regard to moving Lillie White out of the house where she was on Seneca Street, so that she couldn't have been there in September at the time you put it, hasn't that something to do with changing your testimony?

A. No, sir, I didn't know a thing about that until I came to this building.

Q. But some one told you about that? A. No, sir.

Q. You just got to worrying about your testimony and got to thinking about it, didn't you?

A. I got to thinking about it immediately after; for a month I was worried after I had given that testimony; and I went to Kansas City and told the attorneys there I made a mistake in my testimony.

Q. You told a number of people? A. At Kansas City.

Q. You told a number of people at Leavenworth?

A. After I found that I was in error I did.

Q. You told them you had made it by putting Lillie White up there in the fall and now you had to correct it?

A. No, I said I was mistaken in my evidence, nothing said about Lillie White.

Mr. Hanford: That is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Mr. Rohr, do you know how the Government came to know that you knew anything about that baby? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How was it?

A. I was in the barber shop getting shaved, and Mr. Robinson came in and asked whether he knew anything about Lillie White's place; and the barber said there is a man that can tell you all about it.

Q. Is Mr. Robinson this gentleman here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you made some statement yesterday evening when you left office, you didn't leave office until 1887 did you?

A. January, 1887.

Q. You stated that you left in 1886, you made a mistake there? A. I don't remember saying I left in 1886.

Q. I understood you to say you did. You did not leave until 1887? A. Four years my term was.

Mr. Stuart: That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Rohr, at Leavenworth, you testified as I understand, that you loaned John Malone this five hundred dollars in August? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you have the check? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when did you get that check with reference to the time that you took the witness stand at Leavenworth?

A. About a half hour before.

Q. How did you come to get it?

A. You asked me whether I had anything to refresh my memory and I said yes I have a check at home, I guess I have if I can find it. And I brought that check; it was a short time and I only had about half an hour.

Q. And then you testified that same day, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir, as soon as I brought the check.

Q. Your testimony there was that you went with Malone to Lillie White's to this place on Seneca about thirty days after the date of that check? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that you went there one other time which was after that with the boys? A. Yes, but I wasn't.

Q. That is the part that has been troubling you most is it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you make your search for these other checks after your testimony up there? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. And you found this old check?

A. Haberline, that refreshed my memory and brought it all back to me.

Q. And then is when you knew it was in May?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That you was there first with the boys?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And about thirty days after one or the other of the three checks given to Malone in the summer time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That you were there the second time? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: That is all.

Mr. Stuart: That is all.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, WILLIAM P. FETH, produced and sworn as a witness for and on behalf of the Government, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. William P. Feth.

Q. Where do you live, Mr. Feth?

A. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. What is your business? A. Architect.

Q. How old are you? A. Fifty years old.

Q. When is your birthday?

A. Twenty fourth day of April.

Q. How long has Leavenworth been your home?

A. Well, with the exception of about four years, since the day I was born.

Q. Those four years where were you?

A. Chicago and Denver.

Q. Attending school or what?

A. In Chicago I was working and attending school at night. In Denver I had an office of my own.

Q. As an Architect? A. As an Architect, yes, sir.

Q. You have an office in Leavenworth now?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Feth, is your father living? A. No, sir.

Q. Is your mother living? A. No, sir.

Q. What was your father's given name? A. Phillip.

Q. What was your mother's given name? A. Catherine.

Q. Did they ever live on Seneca Street in Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where? A. No. 223 Seneca Street.

Q. Which side of the street is that?

A. Well, that is on the south side.

Q. Did you know the house as 217 Seneca Street?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is your father's house still up, still standing?

A. No, sir.

Q. Is this house 217 Seneca Street still standing?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know about how long they have been out?

A. No, I do not.

Q. What is there now? A. Lumber yard.

Q. About how long has it been there?

A. Well, it has been there a number of years.

Q. A number of years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, I will ask you if you know where Crilly's barn is? A. Yes, sir. The present barn?

Q. Yes, sir? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know how long he has been there where he is now? A. A number of years.

Q. Is that across the street from your father's property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you make a drawing of that Seneca Street approximately as it existed in 1884, '5 and '6, along in there?

A. I did.

Q. Did you draw it from memory? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I will ask you to look at Government's Exhibit A-91 and state whether that is the drawing you refer to?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, to distinguish one portion of your drawing from the other let's letter it "X" and "Y". What portion of this drawing presents Seneca Street as you recall it now, or did when you made the drawing as it existed in the eighties? The part marked X or Y? A. Both.

Q. Both? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, the part marked Y there represents certain houses more in detail?

A. Yes, sir, this is the elevation of it, or you might say perspective, and the other is the floor plans.

Q. And gives the street names?

A. Street names, yes, sir.

Q. Now, where was your father's house on this Seneca Street? A. Right here.

Q. Now, where was 217 Seneca Street?

A. This was the house right here, two lots in between, vacant lots.

Q. Where is Van Tyle's barn? A. Right there.

Q. That is at the corner of Third and Seneca?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was the so called Stella Forrest house?

A. Right here.

Q. That was a house of ill repute? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was Crilly's Barn, you have marked it Cranston and Crilly? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is the so called Seneca House?

A. To the east.

Q. East of Cranston and Crilly's Stable? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, where was Abernathy's furniture factory?

A. Abernathy's furniture factory?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Abernathy's furniture factory is at this corner, Second and Seneca street.

Q. Second and Seneca, on the north side of Seneca?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, where was Shawnee street?

A. South of Seneca.

Q. Is Shawnee street the main division street in the city, in numbering the property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What street is north of Seneca street? A. Miami.

Q. Where is Cherokee street? A. Cherokee street?

Q. Yes, sir. A. It is Seneca, Shawnee——

Q. Going south?

A. Delaware and Cherokee, going south.

Q. Cherokee is the fourth street south of Seneca?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is the business part of town from this Seneca street? A. At the present time?

Q. Yes, sir. A. Deleware street.

Q. What direction from this Seneca street block that you have drawn there? A. South.

Q. South and a little west? A. Southwest, yes.

Q. Two or three blocks. Is Shawnee—is Shawnee one of the streets that runs through the business part?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Cherokee is another?

A. Yes, sir, Cherokee is another.

Q. Delaware is another? A. Another, yes, sir.

Q. Fourth street, running north and south, which is the first street west of—is the main business street?

A. Fourth street?

Q. Yes. A. No, I should say not; Delaware street.

Q. Delaware, east and west? A. East and west, yes.

Q. Did you make any drawing——

Mr. German: I would like to offer that in evidence, Exhibit A-91.

The Court: It may be admitted.

Q. Did you make any drawing of a portion of the Post ground at Leavenworth, purporting to show the location of the old United States prison and some residences, including the Grodevant residence recently? A. I did.

Q. Did you base your drawing on your own information or information given you by others?

A. I based it on information given me by the Government and Captain Purcell.

Q. Is this that drawing which I show you now?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you make it approximately?

A. I should say two months ago.

Q. The drawing I have referred to, and which you have just testified to, is Government's Exhibit A-79. Mr. Feth, what age were you approximately in 1885? A. 15.

Q. 15; at that time, did you know—were you living in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. With your parents? A. Yes, sir.

Q. At this 223 Seneca street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you recall this 223 Seneca street property and who has lived in it so far as your knowledge extends?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who? A. John Dotter.

Q. John Dotter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was a white family? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, do you recall who next lived in that property?

A. I do not.

Q. Do you recall whether or not Lillie White lived in it at one time?

A. I remember mother telling me that Lillie White lived there.

Q. I see; on what occasion did she tell you that?

A. Well, I should think at the present time, on account of that petition I drew up for her in 1885, or for my father.

Q. Are you the author of that petition? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The so-called Lillie White petition? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Dated July 5th, 1885? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You drew that, you say? And how came you to draw that?

A. I guess at the request of my mother and father.

Q. You were then 15 years old? A. Yes.

Q. Now, you remember a family living in that 217 Seneca at one time by the name of Letcher? A. No, I do not.

Q. When did you move out of that property at 223 Seneca, finally, never to return?

A. It was either in 1888, or in 1889.

Q. That was when you went to Chicago? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When you were living there in the '80's, prior to '88 and '89, were you a young man? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were not of age? A. No, sir.

Q. Where were you working at that time?

A. Just state that question again.

Q. Where were you working at that time?

A. Prior to 1889?

Q. Yes, sir?

A. I was working with Mr. E. C. Carr, Carr and Grodevant at that time.

Q. What was Mr. Grodevant's name? A. Frank.

Q. You were an apprentice? A. Yes, sir.

Q. In their office? A. Yes, sir.

Q. They were architects?

A. Yes, sir, architects.

Q. Have you with you any memorandum or record from which you can tell when you were working for Carr and Grodevant as an apprentice? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you produce it, please. Is that it?

Q. When did you recently run across that?

A. Yesterday afternoon, about four o'clock.

Q. Where did you find it? A. At home.

Q. Are there any entries in that relating to your work for Carr and Grodevant? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did that in any manner refresh your memory as to just when you did work for them? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Prior to yesterday had you found any memorandum or anything which refreshed your memory as to just the time that you did work for them?

A. No, sir, I didn't look for anything.

Q. Until yesterday? A. Until yesterday.

Mr. German: Your Honor, when that petition is brought in, I would like to have the witness identify it; otherwise, I am through. Well, there is one other matter.

Q. In your diagram here, or your drawing I should say of Seneca street, I notice you have drawn in the rear of this 217 Seneca street, which you have marked or indicated, for instance you have indicated this way—Dotter, or Granna Letcher; in the rear of that house you have drawn a stable that is, you have drawn lines and marks indicating a stable?

A. Yes, sir, that indicates a stable. This is our stable here.

Q. Mr. Feth, do you recall—do you have any independent recollection about those two stables? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were they fitted up for residence purposes?

A. No, sir.

Q. Were they ever used for residence purposes while you were there? A. No, sir.

Q. What were they used for? A. For horses and cows.

Q. Take the stable in the rear of your father's house, who used it? A. A man by the name of Ludolph.

Q. Where is Mr. Ludolph now? A. He is dead.

Q. Was that a one or two story stable?

A. It was a story and a half.

Q. A story and a half?

A. Yes. It held about three horses and the above was for hay.

Q. Take the stable back of the so-called Letcher house; do you remember the condition that was in when the Dotters left that property? A. In poor condition.

Q. Do you know whether it was then being used for anything? A. I don't think it was.

Q. Was it fitted for residence purposes? A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Mr. Feth, how old were you when you say that you wrote this petition? A. 15 years old.

Q. 15 years old; had you been to Chicago prior to that time? A. No, sir, except on a visit.

Q. Just on a visit. When did you visit there prior to that time—Chicago?

A. Probably six or seven years; I had a sister living there, and I stayed——

Q. Six or seven years before that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were there quite frequently after you wrote this petition? A. Yes, sir, I worked there.

Q. Worked there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was the first time you went there after you wrote the petition? A. In the spring of 1889.

Q. The spring of 1889? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know what is claimed in the case to be the Granny Letcher place?

A. I should judge it was the 217 Seneca street property.

Q. Yes, you have drafted the whole business, haven't you, on paper? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, that place was west of your father's house?

A. Yes, sir,—east of my father's.

Q. Immediately east of your father's place?

A. Yes, sir.

By the Court.

Q. Let me get this location in my mind. Which side of Seneca—the north or south? A. South side.

Q. South side? A. If this was north.

Q. This is north.

A. Well, it was on that side of the street, south side of the street.

Q. South side of the street and east of your father's house? A. Yes, sir, my father's house faced north.

By Mr. Stuart.

Q. Did your father sign that petition? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you know he did?

A. It looked to me like his signature.

Q. He was living then, was he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You testified in this case before, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir, that is I was subpoenaed.

Q. Didn't you give a deposition in it, Mr. Feth?

A. I did, sir.

Q. You gave a deposition? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And didn't you state in that deposition that it was impossible for you to tell whether your father was living or dead at that date? A. I did.

Q. Well, why do you change your testimony now?

A. Because this little book here reminds me of the entire thing.

Q. That your father was alive at that date?

A. Yes, sir, 1885; he was buried from that same house.

Q. He was buried from that same house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You did, however, testify before—— A. Yes, sir.

Q. That it was impossible for you to remember whether your father was living or dead at the time that you prepared this paper, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir. Will you allow me to explain something?

Q. I will if you will answer my question. A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you say on your examination before when said you prepared the petition, that it was impossible for you to remember whether your father was alive or dead at that date? Did you use those words?

A. I don't remember that.

Q. Well, let's see.

> Mr. Stuart: I don't think, Mr. German, that our pages correspond with yours. It is on page 3164, Mr. Feth's testimony at Leavenworth.

A. I never testified in 1914, it was 1916.

Q. It reads this way—Mr. German asks: "Q. Whose handwrting is that? I notice the name of Phillip Feth; who was Phillip Feth?" "He was my father." "Whose handwriting was that?" "I should judge it was my father's." "Do you know whether your father signed the petition or not?" "I do not." "Was your father living at the time that petition was drafted by you?" "It would be impossible to tell whether he was living or dead at that date; I can't tell." "You don't know the date." "No." You testified to that, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, why was it that this petition made more impression on your mind than your father's death did?

A. Because it was in my own handwriting.

Q. Because it was in your own handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your mind was perfectly clear at that time about your writing the petition and what was in it but you didn't have any recollecteion whatever of the time that your father died?

A. No, sir, I didn't know that was in the petition until that was shown to me and that refreshed my memory.

Q. It was shown to you at this trial at the time that you testified here? A. I seen it before that time.

Q. You saw it before that time?

A. I am not sure of that.

Q. Now, might not this be a fact, Mr. Feth, that you wrote this petition before that date, before the date now which is on it; that of the name from time to time, and finally dated it when you had filled up the petition, might not that be true?

A. I don't think so.

Q. You don't think so. Are you certain that is not true?

A. I am.

Q. Now, Mr. Feth, I want to ask you, you have heard of this woman Lillie White, hadn't you? A. You knew that Lillie White afterwards bought this property, didn't you?

A. No, she bought the property, no sir.

Q. Well, did she live there? A. She lived there.

Q. In your father's house afterwards?

A. Never was in my father's house.

Q. Didn't Malone buy this property from your father?

A. Malone?

Q. A man named Malone?

A. I am not sure; there was a syndicate bought it.

Q. Syndicate?

A. The way I understand it; four or five men.

Mr. German: Do you refer to your father's house?

A. I am referring to my father's house now.

Q. Your father's property covered lots 20, 21 and 22?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't it? A. Only two lots.

Q. What were they?

A. I can't say; I think it was 21 and 22.

Q. Why, Mr. Feth, haven't you abstracted the property a half a dozen times; can't you tell me the number of the lots of your father's property?

A. No, sir, because I haven't abstracted them.

Q. You made that map, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You made it in reference to the location of the property, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew the number of the lots, didn't you?

A. There are 16 lots in the block, I didn't number them on this at all.

Q. Do you know whether the Feth property was sold in 1887 by Catherine Feth to John J. Malone?

A. I know it was sold in 1887 during the boom; I don't remember the date.

Q. One J. Malone—isn't Malone that same man who was in business with Mr. Rohr?

A. I don't know whether he was in business with Mr. Rohr or not.

Q. He was a gambler there? A. A saloon man.

Q. And gambler. You do know your father's property and your mother's property was sold to John J. Malone in 1887, wasn't it?

A. My understanding was it was sold to Malone and Judge Hook, of the United States court and several others at the time.

Q. Now, you were 15 years old, then? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you drew up this petition to put Lillie White out?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did they put her out?

A. I don't think they did. I think she stayed there for a while.

Q. How long did she stay there? A. I don't know.

Q. Where did she move to when she left there?

A. I don't know.

Q. Why, weren't you interested in seeing her get out of there?

A. I was interested in seeing her get out, I wasn't interested in where she went to.

Q. You were a boy around town?

A. Yes, sir, 15 years old.

Q. And Lillie White was a notorious prostitute there in the city? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Every [] knew her when they saw her?

A. Yes, sir, I think they did.

Q. You couldn't tell where Lillie White went to from your property? A. No, sir, I don't know.

Q. Never did find out? A. No, sir.

Q. Never did hear?

A. Never did hear and don't care.

Q. I know you don't care. The question is, did you find out? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't find out. Did you hear anybody say where she moved to? A. No, sir.

Q. When you got her out, she just passed out of your mind? A. Yes, sir that is all.

Q. You are certain that she got out? A. No, I am not.

Q. You are not certain that she got out at all?

A. No, the best of my recollection is that we had a hard time getting her out.

Q. You spoke of a stable back there. You say nobody ever lived in that stable at all?

A. No, sir, couldn't have lived in there.

Q. Couldn't possibly have done it? A. No.

Q. Are you certain of that?

A. Certain of that, yes sir.

Q. Certain no negroes were rooming in there?

A. Yes, sir, I am.

Q. And never did room in there?

A. No, sir, never did in the stable.

Q. Alright, the place you call the stable.

Mr. Stuart: Is that petition, in, Mr. German?

Mr. German: Now, I didn't want to interrupt you.

Mr. Stuart: That is alright, I wasn't going to ask any——

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Feth, I show you what has been marked Government's Exhibit No. 59, and will ask you to state what that is.

A. That is a petition to remove Lillie White—petition to the council for Lillie White to be removed from the premises at 217 Seneca street.

Q. Also covers Stella Forrest? A. Stella Forrest.

Q. Across the street at Third and Seneca? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who drew that up? A. I did.

Q. Is that in your handwriting? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Take the signature appearing on there of Phillip Feth one of the— apparently one of the signers; state whose signature that it.

A. I should say it was my father's handwriting.

Q. When did you draw that petition up?

A. July 5th, 1885.

Q. Do you remember where you drew it up?

A. I do not.

Q. Where did you get the information that you put in that?

A. I don't know it but I must have copied it from some form because it is more legal than a boy of 15 years of age——

Q. I see. Must have copied it from some form. Do you know at whose suggestion you prepared it?

A. My father and mother's.

Q. Do you recognize any of the other signatures on it?

A. I don't recognize the signatures, no, sir.

Q. When was this petition first called to your attention in recent years? A. It was last year some time.

Q. When with reference to the time you gave your deposition at Leavenworth? A. I don't know.

Q. Very long before?

A. I don't know whether it was before or after, I paid little attention to it.

Q. Well, you testified to it at Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. Now, had you recalled the fact of preparing that petition before it was called to your attention up there—the photographic, or typewritten copy, or the original, along about the time you testified? A. No.

Mr. German: We offer Government's exhibit No. 59 in evidence.

The Court: It may be admitted.

Recross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Now, Mr. Feth, who moved into your—into the house that Lillie White moved out of?

A. Some colored people moved in after Lillie White moved out.

Q. Was her name Granny Letcher? A. I don't know.

Q. Didn't you ever hear of Granny Letcher?

A. I have heard of Granny Letcher but not at that time.

Q. Never heard of Granny Letcher while you were there?

A. No, sir.

Q. And the first you ever heard of Granny Letcher was when this trial came up? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Never heard of her as a boy; never heard of Granny Letcher as a boy? A. As a boy, no.

Q. When you were a child there 15 years old, you never heard of Granny Letcher?

A. No, if I did, I have forgotten.

Q. Alright. Now, will you take hold of that paper? Whose house is that? A. The John Dotter house.

Q. Who lived in there? A. John Dotter.

Q. Who lived there afterwards?

A. After the next person that moved into it?

Q. Yes. A. I should say Lillie White.

Q. Lillie White. Now, that is the house Lillie White lived in? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that—this house right east of it, is the house your father lived in? A. West of it.

Q. West of it, the Feth house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, the Lillie White house, known as the Dotter house on this map had an attachment to it on the rear, didn't it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Those three windows, or a door and two windows? What is that? A. That is two doors and one window.

Q. Two doors and one window?

A. The way it appears to me.

Q. Will you tell me at the time Lillie White lived there, if any negroes were in that rear portion, do you?

A. I don't know.

Q. You won't say they didn't will you? A. No, sir.

Q. So that Lillie White might have occupied the front portion—that is the big part of the house, and negroes occupied the back portion and you not know it, mightn't they, as it now stands?

Mr. German: I object to that as argument.

The Court: So far as he knows. You know whether —you say you don't know whether they did or not?

A. Whether they lived there or not. They may have had colored servants.

Q. Well, you don't know? A. No, I don't know.

Q. Now look at this. That Seneca Street is marked on the map isn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what is this down here, south, north, or east?

A. That is south.

Q. Right south of that is an alley? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And between Seneca Street and the place named as an alley is located the Van Tyle Stable? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then the next place is a corn crib? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The next place Feth's house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then the stable? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then the next place is the stable right east of Dotter's?

A. South of Dotter's place.

Q. Where Granny Letcher is supposed to have lived?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. I will ask you, Mr. Feth, if between the stable, known as the Granny Letcher house, and the Granny Letcher house there wasn't a little two story frame building? A. No, sir.

Q. You say that positively? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You never saw it there and you know it wasn't there?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Stuart: All right. That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Where was that stable that you spoke of just then?
A. On the alley, southeast corner of the lot.
Q. Back of the Dotter house?
A. Back of the Dotter house, yes, sir.

(Witness dismissed.)

Mr. German: Your Honor, with relation to that original petition, we borrowed that from the City Clerk of Leavenworth and promised him that we would return it as soon as the trial is completed, if the Court would permit us to withdraw it; and we have a photographic copy here which we would like to substitute in lieu of that original.

The Court: Is there anything about this original petition as compared with the photograph here that makes it material that the original be kept rather than the photograph?

Mr. Stuart: Oh, I think not, your Honor.

The Court: All right, you may substitute the photograph. Just make the photograph an exact copy of the original.

Mr. German: In connection with the testimony of Mr. Dotter yesterday, we will offer as soon as we get it a certified copy of the deed from his father to the purchaser of the property to which he referred.

We now offer in evidence the deposition of Fred Metchan taken before Mr. Penick as Examiner, appearing in his transcript of depositions beginning on page 3011.

FRED METSCHAM, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Fred Metscham.
Q. Where do you live, Mr. Metscham? A. 621 Walnut.
Q. Leavenworth, Kansas? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What age are you? A. I am 39, past.
Q. Do you hold any official position with the city of Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir, I am city clerk.
Q. How long have you held that position?
A. It will be two years this coming December.

Q. As city clerk, do you have custody of any of the records, and files, belonging to the city? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you have custody of the records of the council proceedings? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you have custody of petitions that have been filed with the council—the present council and preceeding councils?

A. Yes, sir, all that you can find; a good many of them are stored away up in the garret.

Q. You have custody of those, too, haven't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Metscham, did you bring with you any of the—did you bring with you this morning, and have you here any of the records of the council proceeding—— A. Yes, sir.

Q. For what year?

A. The year starts from December 17th, 1884, and ends with December 21, 1887.

Q. I wish you would turn—is that the book you are now examining? A. Yes, sir, the council proceedings.

Q. I wish you would turn to the proceedings of the council for August 5th, 1885. Have you done so? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that book—where did you get that book?

A. From the city clerk's office.

Q. Who did you receive it from when you entered the office of the city clerk? A. My predecessor.

Q. Is that one of the permanent files and records of the office?

A. This is a regular record of the minutes—proceedings and minutes of the council.

Q. And recognized as such for the year 1885? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How is it numbered or lettered?

A. Record as council proceedings No. M.

Q. What page in the book are you—do the proceedings for August 5, 1885, appear? A. Page 146.

Q. Is there any minute, there, relating to a petition with relation to Lillie's White's operation of a bawdy house, or house of ill-fame?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

Mr. Allen: Do you object upon the ground that the book is not properly—that the minutes of that meeting of the council are not properly identified? Is there any objection to the identity of the proceedings of the council of that date?

Mr. Hanford: I make my object complete and include that objection as not properly identified.

A. There is one paragraph here about a petition being filed that reads as follows.

Q. Will you let me ask you another question that will call for the reading of it, please, Mr. Witness. There is a paragraph in the minutes of that date pertaining to a petition for the abatement of a so-called nuisance alleged to [] operated by Lillie White, as I understand you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On what different pages in the book do the minutes for the date August 5th, 1885 appear?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as wholly immaterial, irrelevant, hearsay, incompetent, and immaterial.

A. Pages 144, 145, 146, 147, 148, 149, 150, 151, 152, and 153.

Mr. German: We offer in evidence the minutes of the council proceedings of date August 5th, 1885, in so far as they relate to the opening of the session and that portion thereof, relating to the action of the council on the petition which has been referred to.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, and hearsay.

Mr. Cruce: On behalf of Mr. Page, we object because the testimony is incompetent, and it is hearsay.

Q. I wish you would read, please, Mr. Witness, the recitation with reference to the opening of the session of the council and the portion of the minutes pertaining to the petition referred to.

Mr. Cruce: The testimony is objected to on behalf of Mr. Page, on the ground that it is hearsay, incompetent, and it is proposed to introduce the entire minutes of the meeting.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as hearsay, incompetent, and immaterial.

Mr. Hanford: The same objections. I join in the objections of Mr. Cruce and Mr. Blakeney on behalf of the defendant Minnie Folk.

Mr. German: To obviate an objection made by Judge Cruce, we offer all of the proceedings of the council of that date.

Mr. Blakeney: We object especially now, to the offer of the whole, containing about eight pages, which obviously is disconnected with this case and encumbers unnecessarily the record and we object to any part of this offer, for the reason that it would be hearsay evidence, incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. Cruce: It is particularly hearsay testimony. If those petitioners had knowledge of matters, they can be brought as witnesses. Some petition they filed here some twenty years ago can not bind anybody.

Q. Mr. Witness, will you read the numbers which I asked you a while ago to read? A. The first part of them?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Leavenworth, Kansas, Wednesday August 5th, 1885, council met in regular session with Mayor Neely in the the chair. Room call—present—Biringer, Brunes, Bond, Cook, Przybylowitz, Miller, and Roach; absent, Richards. Minutes of the last regular and adjourned meeting were read and approved—read all of it.

Q. No, sir. Now, read that part with relation to the petition that has been asked about.

A. The petition of Philip Feth and others, to have two houses of ill-fame occupied by Lillie White, 217 Seneca Street, and Stella Forest, 303 Seneca Street, removed and the nuisances, caused thereby, abated, was read and referred to the city marshal with instructions to abate the nuisance.

Q. Now, I wish you would state whether you have a petition purporting to be signed by Phillip Feth*l* and others, with relation to the occupancy of 217 Seneca street, by Lillie White in 1885?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that—do you hold it in your hand? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you get that?

A. In the City Clerk's office.

Q. From what particular file did you get it?

A. 1885's file, petitions etc.

Q. Is this the file from which it came? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is the indorsement on this page—on this envelope?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. On the top there, is November petition, and December petition crossed out.

Q. Those words are crossed out? A. Crossed out.

Q. And what appears elsewhere?

A. On the edge it says petitions 1885, from June to July.

Q. Are there very many petitions in that envelope, or file case? A. Yes, sir, there is all kinds of them.

Q. Now, where has—where did you—where has that file case been kept?

A. In a regular wooden rack, right back of the vault.

Q. In the city hall? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the condition of that file case when it was found, or when did you get that to bring it here?

A. This morning.

Q. What was the condition to it with relation to whether it had dust on it?

A. Yes, sir, they are all dusty up there.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial; the amount of dust that might have been on it.

Q. Are you the custodian of that file? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And all the contents of it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you receive it?

A. Why, it was up there when my predecessor turned over the stuff.

Q. State whether that is kept where all petitions addressed to the council are kept—the later ones?

A. They are all filed in the city clerk's office.

Q. And this was among them? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, the petition which I ask you about, a while ago, I wish you would hand that to the Examiner.

Mr. German: I wish you would identify that, Mr. Examiner, as Government's Exhibit No. 59. I now offer in evidence a certified copy of the petition referred to, and asked that it be marked Government's Exhibit No. 60.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial and hearsay.

Mr. Cruce: On behalf of Mr. Page, I object to it because it is hearsay, and incompetent. It is the rankest kind of hearsay testimony; no man can be bound by the petitions that—miscellaneous petitions that appeared before the council twenty years—thirty years ago; not under oath, and I must express surprise at the thought of this testimony.

Q. Mr. Witness can you leave this exhibit No. 59, that original petition, here for a little while in the custody of the court if he will agree to re-deliver it to you during the day?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In the custody of the Examiner, I mean? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: Then Mr. Penick, we have not offered it. (Exhibit 59). We will not offer it.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Metschen is there an endorsement or any record to show when that petition, Government's Exhibit 59, was received by the clerk of the city council?

A. Not unless it is written on the back. Only way that you can tell is by the time it was read. The date of July 5th and read on—whenever the minutes show—the clerk evidently forgot to mark it.

Mr. Blakeney: We move to strike out the opinion of the witness that the clerk evidently forgot to mark it.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Do the petitions contained in the file from which—do the other petitions contained in the file from which you extracted Government's Exhibit No. 59 show on—by endorsement on them when they were filed?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and hearsay.

A. Most of the old records do not show that.
Q. Don't show that?
A. No, the petitions and things of that kind.
Q. But it is contained in the file indicating by the endorsement on the back of the file that it is a petition from a certain time to a certain time? A. Yes, sir.
Q. And what is the particular time in this case?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

A. From January to July, 1885.

Q. That includes the month of July? A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We now offer in evidence the deposition of Harry Seckler, taken before Mr. Penick as Examiner appearing in his transcript of depositions beginning at page 3178.

And thereupon HARRY H. SECKLER being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Harry H. Seckler.
Q. You live in Leavenworth, Mr. Seckler? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What age are you? A. Forty-three.
Q. I show you Government's Exhibit No. 59, a certified copy of which is Government's Exhibit No. 60. I will ask you to examine the signatures on that petition and state whether you recognize any of them and if so, which one or ones?

A. I do.

Q. Which one?

A. I recognize the signature of John Seckler.

Q. Who was John Seckler? A. My father.

Q. Is this his signature? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You know your father's signature when you see it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did your father live in 1885?

A. 206 Miami Street.

Q. City of Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is Miami Street, in relation to Seneca Street?

A. One block north.

Q. Then 206 Miami Street is one block north of the 200 block on Seneca Street? Is your father living or dead?

A. No, sir, he is dead.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Harry, did you know Lillie White? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know Mrs. Letcher? A. I did not.

Q. Did you know Jim Mayo?

A. No, I have a recollection of some one named Mayo, but I do not know——

Q. You don't know where they lived? A. No.

Q. Did you know Sam Nash?

A. I knew of Sam Nash, yes.

Q. Did you know when he lived up on Seneca Street?

A. No, I don't know where Sam Nash lived, I remember of him being around a livery stable up there; that Sam Nash and the livery stable were sort of connected when I was a small boy, because he worked there.

Q. Did you know the Seth family, the old lady and gentleman?

A. No, I knew Billy Seth in later years, but I didn't know the old people.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Did you know John Mettier? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did he live?

Mr. German: I object to this as improper cross examination.

A. On the northeast corner of Second and Shawnee Street; he had a bakery.

Q. Is that where he lived, or where he had a bakery?

A. He had a bakery there if I am not mistaken, if my recollection serves me right, it was several years ago, he lived up stairs over the bakery. The building is still there I think.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your occupation?

A. I am in the advertising department of the Leavenworth Times.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We now offer the deposition of William W. True, which I think is spelled by Mr. Penick, Krew, it is one or the other, which deposition was taken before Mr. Penick as Examiner and appears in his transcript beginning at page 2207.

And thereupon, WILLIAM W. KREW, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name?

A. William W. Krew is my name.

Q. What age are you, Mr. Krew? A. Sixty three.

Q. Where do you live? A. 601 Shawnee.

Q. Leavenworth? A. Leavenworth.

Q. How long have you resided in Leavenworth?

A. Ever since about 1883, about that, 1883.

Q. What business are you engaged in?

A. In the manufacture of furniture—furniture work and machine work.

Q. What do you call your occupation?

A. Machine operator.

Q. Who are you employed by?

A. Abernathy Furniture Company.

Q. Wholesale? A. Wholesale and retail.

Q. Manufacture furniture? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Here in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you been employed by the furniture company?

A. I think I commenced with them in eighty four, I think it was eighty-four, in the spring of 1884.

Q. Have you been in their employ ever since with the exception of——

A. Probably two years. Two years in ninety or ninety one—I think ninety one I was away from town.

Q. Mr. Krew, you are a white man? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know the property on Seneca Street between Second and Third where there used to be a frame residence known as 217 Seneca Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On the south side of the street?

A. On the south side of the street.

Q. Who was living in that house, according to your knowledge, who first lived in that house so far as you know?

A. Well, there was a great many living in the house. I don't know any of them personally, there was several of them that we talked about, you know, said that they lived there, parties that were pretty near right across the street from where I was.

Q. Where is the Abernathy Factory?

A. It is on Second and Seneca and Miami together.

Q. Now, where if the factory, with reference to 217 Seneca? A. Northeast, a little northeast of 217.

Q. Just across the street?

A. Just across the street.

Q. And a little east? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know a woman by the name of Lillie White?

A. Why, I knew her when I saw her, wasn't personally acquainted with her, no, sir.

Q. Did she ever live at 217 Seneca?

A. She was there, I believe, to the best of my knowledge, at the time that I was working there, I was night watching at the factory, and she was living in that property that is 217 that is occupied now by a lumber shed.

Q. How is it occupied now? A. Lumber shed.

Q. The old frame residence has been torn down?

A. That has been torn away, yes, sir.

Q. Who was the first person that you ever knew to live at 217 Seneca?

A. Well, that I don't remember, I remember of the talking of her and others, but I don't remember their names, there was a number of them there at the time.

Q. Was she a white woman?

A. She was a white woman, yes, sir.

Q. Well, was it not Lillie White who was one of the ones that you mention? A. How?

Q. Was or not, Lillie White one of the persons who lived there?

A. Well, that is the name that she went by.

Q. Do you remember a colored family living in that house, having lived in the house? A. I do not, no, sir.

Q. At 217 Seneca? A. I don't remember of it, no, sir.

Q. Did you know Granny Letcher?

A. I don't believe that I did, I remember the name but I can't place the person distinctly.

Q. Did you know Jim Mayo?

A. No, I don't remember him.

Q. Sam Nash, the one armed boy?

A. Sam Nash, I remember that, yes.

Q. Was he a colored boy? A. A colored boy I believe.

Q. Where did he live? A. Sam Nash?

Q. Yes?

A. Why, I think they lived on Kickapoo, I ain't sure whether he did or not.

Q. Now, this Lillie White, when she was living in that house, when was that with reference to the time that you came to Leavenworth?

A. Well, that was about eighty-four, 1884.

Q. Along there? A. Along there, yes.

Q. Was there any colored people living in that house with her?

A. Well, that I can't remember, I don't know.

Q. Now, did you know a woman by the name of Emma Moss? A. I have heard of her, yes.

Q. Do you know whether or not she lived there?

A. I can't say, positively, but it seems to me that she did, but positively, I can't say.

Q. Now, what was Lillie White's reputation?

> By Mr. Hanford: Now, we object to all this testimony as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, object to this question and all of this line of testimony.

A. Why it wasn't good.

Q. And you remember her? A. Yes, I remember her.

Q. Living there, you remember her very well?

A. A great many of them, I remember that she went to other places and finally married and went away.

Q. What other street did she go to?

A. Well, the last that I remember of her she was on Main street.

Q. Did she go to Choctaw Street?

A. She went to Choctaw Street, as well as I remember, from 217.

Q. From Seneca?

A. Yes, the last I heard of her she was on Main Street.

Q. Was she a very attractive woman?

A. There seemed to be a good many that thought a great deal of her.

Q. I mean her appearance.

A. She was a very nice looking woman, yes.

Q. About how long did she live on Seneca Street?
A. That I can't say, my memory doesn't serve me.
Q. What is your best judgment as to that?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as calling for a conclusion, the witness stated he doesn't know.

Q. She was there sometime, I knew she was there, how long before I can't state.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We now offer the deposition of C. W. Dassler, a lawyer, taken before Mr. Penick as Examiner, appearing in his transcript beginning page 2213.

In connection with the testimony of Judge Dassler, we offer in evidence a certified copy——

Mr. Stuart: Your Honor, I object to Mr. Feth being in the Court Room during the testimony.

The Court: Mr. Feth may go to the witness room. May Mr. Feth be excused and finally discharged?

Mr. Stuart: Yes, sir.

The Court: Mr. Feth may be discharged as a witness.

Mr. German: In connection with the testimony of Judge Dassler, we offer as Government's Exhibit A-93 a certified copy of a petition filed by him in the District Court of Leavenworth County on October 30, 1885, before John Rohr as Clerk of District Court in the suit entitled C. F. W. Dassler and L. G. Hopkins vs. Charlotte W. Calkins and others including Lillie White.

The Court: What is the point of that?

Mr. German: It is this, your Honor, Judge Dassler testified as to having filed a petition October 30, 1885, against Lillie White and others affecting the title to this Seneca Street property. And he explained in his testimony that Lillie White was not made a defendant except for the reason that she was in possession and he wanted to conserve the rents pending the suit. It was to foreclose a mortgage lien. And the object of introducing this is to fix the date with certainty.

The Court: Fix a certain time at which Lillie White was occupying that place?

Mr. German: Yes, sir, and coupled with our other testimony.

The Court: Now, is it necessary to encumber the record with the entire petition? Probably there is a lot of stuff in that petition which is not necessary.

Mr. German: Except for the allegation contained in it to show that she was not one of those liable on the obligation but was merely made a party because she was in possession.

The Court: Any objections to this?

Mr. Cruce: Yes, sir, if your Honor please, it is hearsay testimony. The witness in his deposition undertook to tell how he fixed this date. Now, to incorporate the statement he had made when he was not under oath is to make his unsworn statement testimony now.

The Court: Well, we are seeking now to determine the existence of certain facts thirty years ago. As a circumstance it might have bearing on this case. I don't like to encumber the record with a whole lot of immaterial stuff. The circumstances merely relating to the date at which this petition or action was filed; there possibly is some question with regard to the attitude of this Lillie White in the suit; and I suppose the witness has testified covering that. May the record show that the petition was the petition referred to by the witness?

Mr. German: Judge Dassler had the original with him.

The Court: And does his testimony show the date of the filing of that petition?

Mr. German: I think so, but it doesn't show the contents.

The Court: Now, you say you just want to get the date and the fact that it was charged in that petition that Lillie White was in posession?

Mr. German: Yes, sir; it isn't charged that she was an obligor. Coupled with his testimony it constitutes evidence of occupancy.

The Court: And covers the same things set up in his petition?

Mr. German: I think so.

The Court: Very well, we will not put it in.

Mr. German: Now, I would like to introduce a certified copy of a dismissal of that suit in November. It is very short and he didn't, as I remember it, recall when the suit was dismissed.

The Court: Does he testify with regard to this dismissal?

Mr. German: Yes, sir.

The Court: It may be admitted.

Mr. Hanford: Your Honor please, before that original petition is taken away, I didn't exactly join in consenting to allowing it to be taken away. At this time I want to interpose my objection to having that petition taken away or taken out of the files of this Court and a photographic copy substituted until the conclusion of the trial.

The Court: No, the original will be retained during the trial.

Mr. German: The original petition?

The Court: The original petition of Lillie White.

Mr. German: As Government's Exhibit A-94 we offer the dismissal which the Court has just admitted.

And thereupon, C. S. W. DASSLER, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. C. S. W. Dassler.

Q. Where do you reside, Mr. Dassler?

A. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. What is your business? A. Attorney at law.

Q. How long have you been practicing law?

A. Since 1873.

Q. At Leavenworth? A. At Leavenworth, yes, sir.

Q. You are the same C. S. W. Dassler who is the author of some law books? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is the name of the books, Mr. Dassler?

A. Oh, thirty or forty, I don't know. Principally statutes and digests and treatises on various subjects.

Q. Mr. Dassler, where is your office?

A. At 307 Edward St., in this city.

Q. Did you ever have any interest in a piece of real estate here in town which is known as No. 217 Seneca Street?

A. I don't remember the number, but I presume you refer to lots twenty-three and twenty-four, in Block 24, is that the property?

Q. That is correct. Where is that located?

A. On Seneca Street between Second and Third on the south side.

Q. About the middle of the block?

A. Close to the middle of the block, yes, sir.

Q. Did you know a family by the name of Dotter, the head of which was Gustav Dotter?

A. Yes, sir, I remember that family, yes, sir.

Q. Did they ever reside there?

A. Yes, sir, they resided there.

Q. Did you know about their having—the fact of their having sold that property to a woman named Emma Serrill?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And about Emma Serrill having executed some notes in part payment of the consideration? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever have any interest in those notes?

A. Yes, sir. I purchased some of them.

Q. Purchased some of them? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you those notes now with you?

A. Yes, sir, I think the whole batch is here. There are the notes.

Q. How many of those notes did you purchase?

A. Now, I will have to dig into it a little, I have here the paid notes, and also notes that were purchased.

Q. Well, I will not trouble you——

A. There were quite a bunch of notes, at the time I purchased, quite a number of them had been paid off and they were turned over to me afterwards.

Q. Then, I will not trouble you, Mr. Dassler, to go into the entire number; approximately how many in all were there?

A. I can get that by the serial number. Well, they are not in their regular order here.

Q. Well, there was approximately——

A. I see one here payable thirty eight months after date.

Q. Payable monthly were they?

A. Monthly notes, yes. One runs—appears to be dated August 1st, 1884, and I signed one here thirty eight months.

Q. The first one is payable one month after date?

A. One month and so on.

Q. In what denomination are they?

A. Fifty dollars each.

Q. Who was Emma Ferrill, a white woman or a colored woman? A. A white woman, yes, sir.

Q. Where did she reside, did you ever know?

A. Well, I don't know of my own knowledge, except that I supposed she resided at this property, I was told that she did.

Q. Now, you say you purchased some of those notes?

A. I did.

Q. Were they secured?

By Mr. Hanford: Just a moment, I wish to strike the previous answer on the ground that it is hearsay.

By Mr. German: I will consent that it may be stricken. It is hearsay.

A. By mortgage on this property.

Q. On the property? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you the mortgage?

A. I don't know whether that original mortgage is here or not, it doesn't appear to be here.

Q. Do you know when the Dotters moved out of that property? A. Not of my own knowledge, no.

Q. When did you purchase the notes that you purchased?

A. The first batch of notes that we purchased, was on November 22nd, 1885.

Q. Will you refer to your check again?

A. No, I beg your pardon that ain't the first one; October 27th, 1885.

Q. October 27th? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then when did you purchase some more?

A. October 29th another batch.

Q. And then when did you purchase——

A. November 27th, I think we got in the remainder the same year.

Q. 1885? A. All in 1885.

Q. How did you—— How do you fix those dates, Mr. Dassler? A. By checks given to pay for them.

Q. You have the original checks now in your hand?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't purchase all of them at the beginning?

A. No, sir.

Q. Were the notes that you purchased paid when due?

A. No, sir, they were not.

Q. Or were they past due when you bought them?

A. It seems to me that the first notes were past due or about due, possibly there was a default in one note, I think.

Q. Did you have any occasion to file any suit to foreclose the mortgage? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you file that suit?

A. The District Court of Leavenworth County, Kansas.

Q. I show you the files, Court files, or what purports to be the Court files in the case of D. W. W. Dassler, and others against Charlott W. Calkins and others. Was any one interested with you in the purchase of those notes and the ownership of them?

A. Mr. L. G. Hawkins, we purchased them together.

Q. L. G. Hawkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He lives here now, does he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The papers, the Court files, which I show you, I will ask you whether or not they are the files in the case you refer to? A. Yes, sir, they appear to be, I think they are.

Q. Who prepared the petition in that case?

A. It looks like my handwriting, I think I did. I did in fact, yes.

Q. I wish you would examine all the files there, please, sir, so that you may testify whether they are the files in the case that you refer to? A. Yes, sir, they are.

Q. On what date did you file that law suit? A. October 30th, 1885.

Q. Mr. Dassler, I notice that in the original Petition that yourself and Mr. Hopkins are plaintiff and that Julia W. Calkins, John Dotter, Gustav Dotter, Alonzo F. Callahan, Billy White, Emma Darrington, and James Darrington her husband, and John Mettinger were made parties defendant, and two other persons whose names are erased in the style of the case, but who appear to be Henry LaRamelt and Emma Farrell, were the parties defendant. Will you state, if you know why all those parties were made parties defendant?

A. Why, Charles W. Calkins had a prior mortgage on the property. John Dotter and Gustav Dotter were supposed to hold the notes that we didn't own; also Alonzo F. Callahan. We supposed he had some notes that we didn't own; Lillie White was supposed to be an occupant of the property; Emma Darrington and James Darrington was intended for Emma Ferrill and her husband. We afterwards ascertained that the names were not correct, that she married a man by the name of Cowfer, and as the records will show, the Petition was amended afterward. John Mettinger was a tenant in the property and Henry Randal, whose name is erased here, owned some of the notes which we purchased about the time this petition was filed. The Petition was probably prepared before we purchased the notes and then the name was erased.

Q. Now, was Process served upon the defendants, or do you depend upon the files for that?

A. We depend upon the files for that entirely, whatever the files show as to that.

Q. That lawsuit was settled, or dismissed, or how was it disposed of?

A. Here is a stipulation of dismissal, I think.

Q. When was it dismissed?

A. The stipulation is dated November 27th, 1885.

Q. How come it to be dismissed?

A. Why, Mr. Callahan, who represented the Calkins—Callahan, attorney, represented the Calkins Mortgage, and also represented the Dotters in this suit when we purchased from him the remaining notes and became the owners of all of them, why the suit was dismissed.

Q. Now, on what date did you purchase those remaining notes?

A. Let me see, the same date of that stipulation, November 27th, 1885.

Q. And you acquired the title to the property?

A. Yes sir,

Q. Right about that same time?

A. Well, we got the deed just about the same time.

Q. The record will show the date of the deed?

A. The record will show the date of the deed.

Q. I mean the place where the deed is recorded?

A. Possibly that deed is here.

Q. You may have the deed there?

A. Possibly.

A. Yes, these two deeds, the deed from Emma Cauffer and her husband to Frederick Werner, dated November 18, 1885, then Frederick Werner conveyed to Mr. Hopkins and myself by deed dated November 24th, 1885.

Q. Were you interested in any way in that property or those notes prior to the date of the first purchase of the notes by you? A. No, sir.

By Mr. German: We offer in evidence the notes referred to.

By Mr. Hanford: We will object to the notes as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, but agree that they may be read into the record instead of the introduction of the notes themselves.

Q. Now Mr. Dassler, those other checks that you refer to are the checks I now hold in my hand? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: We offer in evidence these as Government's Exhibits Numbers (three checks) 47, 48, 49 and we offer in evidence the deed of Emma Kaufer and others to Frederick Werner, dated November 18th, 1885, as Government's Exhibit Number 50.

Mr. Hanford: I wish to note my objection to all of those instruments, on the ground that they are incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Mr. German: And the deed dated November 18th, 1885, from Frederick Werner, a single man, to Charles W. Dassler and L. G. Hopkins as Government's Exhibit No. 51.

Mr. Hanford: Mr. German my objection is general to all of these?

Mr. German: I see. I am willing to that.

Mr. Bell: We offer the same objection Mr. German.

Mr. German: We will not introduce the original court files but we will introduce certified copies of them later on. All of the court files in that case. We will later offer certified copies of them.

Q. Mr. Dassler you collected rent from that property after you acquired the title, did you not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who were the tenants from whom you first collected rent?

A. Why Mrs. Letcher was the first tenant from whom I received rent.

Q. And who else? A. And Mettinger, I think it is.

Q. John Mettinger? A. John Mettinger, yes, sir.

Q. When did you collect that rent? The first money that you ever collected?

A. That was received on November 28th, 1885.

Q. From whom did you collect rent on that date and in what amount?

A. Why I received from Mr. or Mrs. Mettinger the sum of $6.00, and from Mrs. Letcher the sum of $13.00, and from Mr. Mchale the sum of $10.00.

Q. Who was Mr. Mchale?

A. Mr. Mchale at one time owned some of these notes and he was a real estate agent with office up here on Seneca Street and he appeared to be in charge of the property when we first became interested in it.

Q. He in some way got hold of $10.00?

A. When Mrs. Letcher paid me $13.00 she informed me she had already paid $10.00 to Mr. Mchale on that same month's rent and afterwards Mr. Mchale paid that over to me the $10.00.

Q. How much rent a month did Granny Letcher pay?

A. The rent at that time was $25.00 a month for her portion of the house.

Q. And do you remember how much for the Mettinger portion? A. $6.00 a month.

Q. How did you get at those dates, Mr. Dassler? How do you know these are the dates?

A. Well, from the account book I kept of receipts of rent from this property together with other property.

Q. Do you know by reference to your book there the rent during every month for months and months? Do you know when was the end of Granny—of Molly Letcher's rental month?

A. Her month ran apparently from the 2nd of the month to the 2nd.

Q. 2nd to the 2nd? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she pay you—she had paid $23.00 then?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. On November rent? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she ever pay the other two?

A. Paid that on December 5.

Q. December 5? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Does your record indicate whether that was to fill out the month or not?

A. Well the next month's record does.

Q. Shows the end of her rental month was the 2nd of the month? A. The 2nd day of the month.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bond.

Q. Did you go through your record to see when she stopped paying rent?

A. Well, I can in a little while. She stopped in about the month of April, 1890.

Q. And when did she commence again according to your record?

A. Well, she was away from the building then and she commenced——

And thereupon the witness is dismissed until 9:30 o'clock A. M., and an adjournment of the taking of testimony is had herein until 9:30 o'clock A. M., March 1st, 1916.

And thereafter and on March 1st, 1916, at 9:15 o'clock A. M. further testimony herein was taken as follows:

C. F. W. DASSLER being recalled further testified as follows:

Cross Examination by Mr. Bond.

Q. Mr. Dassler will you please state what your book shows with reference to the date that Mrs. Letcher paid rent and when she did not pay rent?

A. The book shows that she stopped paying rent about the month of April, 1890, and again commenced paying rent in September, 1894, the first payment being September 20th, 1894.

Q. How long does she continue then?

A. Then she remained in until her death, I think. I think she died there.

Q. About when?

A. I don't know. My records only go while I was interested in the property and I don't know whether I was interested at the time she died or not or whether Mr. Hopkins had it alone. We afterwards divided up our interests and whether she died when he was sole owner I don't know. But my record shows I got rent until some time in 1899, the last payment of rent I got. Not in this record but later record in 1899.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. I want to ask another question, one or two on direct examination which I had overlooked. Mr. Dassler did you have a list of the names of the persons who held leases on that property or notes? A. At the time I speak of?

Q. Yes, sir, at the time you testify about in 1885?

A. In 1885?

Q. Yes, sir, in the fall when you became interested and when you filed the suit?

A. Well, I expect I had that in this way. Mr. Hopkins is an abstracter of titles and he probably looked it up and I filed the suit on the information that he gave me with reference to that.

Q. Lillie White was not one of the note holders or lien holders?

A. No, sir, neither a note holder or a lien holder as far as I know.

Q. Now Granny Letcher, I don't know whether you knew her as Granny Letcher or not?

A. My books just show Mrs. Letcher.

Q. Mrs. Letcher resided in the house continuously so far as your knowledge extends, from the time that you received rent on November 28, 1885, until in the spring of 1890?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How would you collect the rent?

A. Why Mrs. Letcher would either bring it down in person or send it down by her boy or sometimes she would send it down by a woman that perhaps lived there. Just came in and paid the rent. It was very seldom that I went up there to collect rent excepting when she would begin to get short and I would run up and dun her once in a while.

Mr. German: Pursuant to the stipulation yesterday in reference to the notes referred to by Mr. Dassler I will briefly describe them. There are thirty-five notes, each dated August 1st, 1884. The first one is payable four months after date and the others are payable monthly, one each month; the last one being payable thirty-nine months after date. They are each in the sum of $50.00, executed by Emma Serrell, and payable to the order of John Gotter, and bear interest at the rate of eight per cent per annum. Several of them have a note on the margin indicating that they are secured by mortgage. They are all endorsed John Gotter. Some of them have further endorsements.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bond.

Q. Your testimony is given principally from what you find in your memorandum book and from the papers you have concerning this transaction?

A. Altogether. I have no independent recollection as to dates at all.

Q. You said that the first rent that your book showed was November? A. November 28th.

Q. Was November 28th? A. Yes, sir, 1885.

Q. And at that time a man name McHale paid you $10.00?

A. Yes, I received from Mr. McHale $10.00 which Mrs. Letcher said she had paid to him on that month's rent and he paid it to me afterwards.

Q. You made certain parties in your suit there parties defendant, your suit being filed on October 30th I believe?

A. Well, whatever those papers show.

Q. You obtained the names other than the lien holders as you could, I suppose, from different parties?

A. Yes, sir, from inquiries I made. Mr. Hopkins would find—He really knew more about that matter, I guess, than I did. He knew more about as to who was on the premises than I did and that——

Q. You don't want to give the impression here do you Mr. Dassler that Granny Letcher was not at that house prior to the time that you bought it?

A. I don't know. I don't know—I don't know who was there prior to that time.

Q. She might have lived there four years prior to this as far as you know?

A. Yes, I wouldn't know whether she did or not.

Q. And the first that you knew that she was in the house, even after you had bought it, was when Mr. McHale and she came to pay you some rent, is that right?

A. Mr. McHale didn't come to my office. Mrs. Letcher came there probably. I went up to the house after we got our deed and found Mrs. Letcher there and she then told me that she had paid $10.00 to Mr. McHale on this month's rent and promised to—and I told her that Mr. McHale had no authority to collect rent for us, that is meaning Mr. Hopkins and myself, and then she came down to the office either the same day or the next day and paid this $13.00 and in the meantime on the same day, according to this record here, I went to see Mr. McHale and he paid the $10.00 back to me that he had gotten from the tenant there.

Q. And so far as you know Mr. McHale might have been collecting rent from her for a year prior to that?

> Mr. German: I object to that as argument and improper cross examination.

A. I don't know what Mr. McHale did prior to that time.

Q. You don't know who in fact did physically occupy the house do you? A. No, sir. You mean at that time?

Q. At that time?

A. No, I don't. Of my own knowledge I do not.

Q. And you don't know who had slept in the house and lived there of course prior to the time that you got it?

A. I do not.

Q. Now you filed the original suit October 30th, 1885?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Naming several parties, parties defendant?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. On November 23rd of the same year you filed an amendment to your petition didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And at the time that you filed that amendment you didn't make Mrs. Letcher a party defendant did you?

A. No, I did not.

Q. And your books show from what they show that at the time you filed your amended petition she had paid rent to Mr. McHale for living in that house dating back from November 2nd, I believe you say?

> Mr. German: I object to that question as assuming a fact which is not proven, which the witness has not stated; that his books showed that and that McHale had collected from Granny Letcher.
>
> Mr. Bond: I will withdraw that question.

Q. As I understand your testimony given from your books that the money—that the first rent that you collected Mrs. Letcher in the last of November was for the month of November, dating from November 2nd?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. So that when you filed your amendment to your petition she had been a tenant so far as your books are concerned for several weeks?

Mr. German: I object to that as purely argumentative and calling for an opinion and conclusion of the witness.

Q. That is correct isn't it?
A. My books show that I received the $10.00 and the $13.00 on the 28th day of November.
Q. In other words, Mrs. Letcher might have been living right in that house when you filed your petition, isn't that right, and you didn't make her a party defendant.

Mr. German: I object to that question as argumentative.

A. She might have been.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Mr. Dassler, Mr. McHale was real estate man here wasn't he?
A. Yes, sir. Had an office right over here on Seneca Street between Third and Fourth.
Q. And didn't you get inference when he paid you the $10.00 that he had been collecting rent from Mrs. Letcher?

Mr. German: I object to that as calling for a conclusion and opinion of the witness. Let him state what was said.

A. I don't remember that Mr. McHale told me from whom he had received the $10.00.
Q. Don't remember that he did? A. No.
Q. All you know is that Mrs. Letcher told you she paid Mr. McHale $10.00? A. On that month's rent.
Q. Did you know of your own knowledge what authority McHale had for collecting rent?
A. No, I didn't, of my own knowledge excepting that he had some of these notes we bought from him.
Q. And you bought some of those notes from him?
A. Before that time, yes, sir.
Q. Before you began your foreclosure suit? A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. You have no recollection as to what Mr. McHale may have told you as to where he got that $10.00?
A. Oh, no, I have no recollection as to—from what person he got it except it was rent from that property.
Q. Now who was the agent of Emma Ferrell here in town at that time?
A. I can't say that she had an agent but Alonzo F. Callahan apparently was representing the Gotters and her also.

Q. When was your first connection with this property or any lien or note against the property, when you bought these notes you described?

A. When the first purchase of notes was made.

Q. You had no interest in it before then?

A. None whatever, absolutely none.

Q. When you prepared your papers for that suit or just before doing so did you make inquiry as to who the occupants of the property were?

A. Well, I naturally would make an inquiry.

Q. Did you learn then that John Mettinger and Lillie White were the tenants?

A. Some one must have told me that.

Q. That was your information at least from some source?

A. Yes, from some source. I don't know where it came from.

Q. What was your object in making Lillie White and John Mettinger parties defendant to the suit, they not being lien holders?

A. It was because I supposed that they were living on the premises.

Q. Was it your practice in such suits to make the possessor of the property, the actual possessor, a party defendant?

A. Yes, sir, whenever we intended to apply for a receiver as we did in this case.

Q. You applied for a receiver? A. No, we intended to.

Q. So you could preserve the rents? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Pendente lite? A. Yes, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Did Mettinger use and occupy the whole of that premises? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't he sub-lease it to others?

A. Mr. and Mrs. Mettinger simply occupied the ell only at the rear of the premises; there was no connection between that and the front except one door, as I remember it.

Q. And the other part of it he sub-leased?

A. He didn't sub-lease it. He was only paying for the two rooms, I think, that he occupied.

Q. Now, who was in the other part of the house when you filed the suit?

A. Why Mrs. Letcher must have been there because I received rent from her. As to who else was there I don't know.

Mr. German: I move to strike that answer on the ground that it is hearsay, irrelevant, immaterial and argumentative.

Q. Well then the first rent that you did receive from that house after you got your deed was from Mrs. Letcher and McHale and Mettinger?

A. Yes, sir, from those people.

Q. The three?

A. Yes, sir, the money came from the three persons.

Q. $13.00 from Mrs. Letcher, I understand? A. Yes.

By Mr. German: Let's let him read that and the next into the record.

Q. Now, what was the rent of Mrs. Letcher?

A. Well, what my books show you want is it?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, my book shows this is headed Lots 23 & 34, Block 24, 1885, November 28th, received from McHale $10.00.

Q. Is that John C. McHale?

A. Yes, sir, John C. McHale. Same date received from —it is Meninger—it should be Mettinger, to pay to December 19, '85, $6.00. Same date received from Letcher $13.00; December 5, received from Letcher, two dollars; December 7, received from Letcher account of December rent $15.00; December 18, received from Letcher, account of December rent $5.00; December 22nd, received from Menninger to January 19, '86, $5.00; December 22nd, received from Letcher $5.00; this pays to January 2nd, eighty-six. Do you want to go any further?

Q. No, I do not.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Yes, read the next line?

A. January 6th, received from Letcher $11.00. Now, the next item doesn't belong to this property; that was another property.

Q. Just omit it then.

A. January 22nd, received from Letcher $12.00; January 29, received from Menninger $5.00, paid to February 19, '86; February 6th, received from Letcher, paid to February 2nd, '86, $2.00.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Now, when you referred to Menninger there, do you understand from your own knowledge that that means John Mettinger?

A. I don't remember the first name, but it means—he was quite an old gentleman, I know at that time, and his wife was quite an elderly lady at that time.

Q. And the rent that you have just designated there is the rent that you received after you became in possession of the property by your deed?

A. Yes, after we got title to that property.

Q. Before that whoever collected the rents you know nothing about? A. No, I do not.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bond.

Q. Will you refer now to April, 1890, and tell us, according to your books, who took the place of Granny Letcher in that house when she moved out, as I believe that is the date that you say your book shows she stopped paying rent?

A. She stopped paying rent, my book shows, April 15, 1890. That is the last payment. In 1889 that property, the basement to that property caved in and the premises became untenantable for a time. The next person who occupied the premises was a Mrs. McPherson, who made her first payment of rent on June 6th, 1890.

Q. You were asked by Mr. German if you attempted to make all of the tenants of the house parties defendant. I call your attention to your amendment to the petition, filed November 23rd. I will ask you to state whether or not you made Mrs. Letcher a party defendant in that paper?

A. No, I did not.

Q. And so far as your recollection goes and your books show, she was at that time an actual occupant paying rent in that building, and had been several weeks, is that correct?

> By Mr. German: Now, wait a minute. I object to that question, because the witness, by his testimony already given, has shown that he had no actual knowledge, acquired no actual knowledge of the occupants of the property until the 28th day of November. That is acquired no knowledge from a tenant or from observation as to who the actual occupant was until the 28th of November.

A. The suit was filed October 30th, 1885, before I had had any dealings with Mrs. Letcher with reference to that property. I haven't the date of the filing of that amendment here, at the time the amendment was filed, I had no dealings with Mrs. Letcher with reference to this property.

Q. And yet, your best judgment is that she had been a tenant at least for several weeks?

> By Mr. German: I object to the question because it is argument, witness having already shown that he had no dealings with her until November 28th, no actual knowledge of her occupancy until that time.

A. I can answer that by saying that I did not have any dealings with Mrs. Letcher with reference to this property until the date she made the first payment, November 28, 1885.

Q. And at that time, as I understand you, she paid rent herself, and McHale paid rent for her, dating back to November 2nd?

A. He paid me ten dollars, repaid me ten dollars that he had collected on that month.

Q. From Mrs. Letcher? A. Well——

Q. At least that is what Mrs. Letcher told you?

A. Yes, she told me that it was paid on that month's rent.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Dassler, Mr. Bell elicited this argument from you a moment ago to the effect that Granny Letcher must have been in the property the date you filed the suit, judging from the knowledge you acquire from your books and with reference to the rent. I call your attention to the fact that the books show that the end of her rental month was the second day of the month and that in the month of December on the 22nd, your book indicates that when she paid five dollars it was to pay to January 2nd, 1886. Then, was not the rent the sum of two dollars which you collected on December 5th, 1885, from her thereby completing the twenty-five dollar payment, was it not a payment for the month ending December 2nd, 1885?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then the ten dollars which she told you she had paid McHale and the ten dollars that McHale paid to you would be the first payment on a month's rent beginning November 2nd, 1885, would it not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, have you any information as to any rent paid by her prior to that time at all? A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. Then, you don't know whether she was or was not in possession, so far as your knowledge is concerned, before that?

A. No, I do not.

Q. So, you wouldn't say now, since those facts have been called to your attention, that she must have been in possession on October 30th, would you? A. No, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. You wouldn't say that she was not in possession, would you?

A. Well, I can't say that, and I rather think she was not, because we had no information, that is I had no information that she was a tenant at the time I filed the suit.

Q. You did though, receive rent from McHale and her that had accrued there, from Mrs. Letcher, before you filed the suit in November? A. The suit was filed in October.

Q. You amended in November? A. Yes.

Q. And before the amendment the rent that she paid you had accrued before your amendment to that petition was filed, wasn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bond.

Q. In going through your book, it shows, as a matter of fact, does it not, that the rent paid you by Mrs. Letcher was paid in driblets at different times?

A. Oh, yes. There is not a single instance where she paid the rent in full.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: Now, Your Honor, we offer the deposition of L. G. Hopkins taken before Mr. Penick as examiner, appearing in his transcript of depositions at page 2235.

And thereupon, LA BAN GARDNER HOPKINS being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name?

A. My full name is La Ban Gardner Hopkins.

Q. What is your age, Mr. Hopkins?

A. Well, as they say of the horses, rising seventy-seven. I am between seventy-six and seventy-seven.

Q. Where do you live?

A. My residence is 328 Third Avenue, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. How long have you resided in Leavenworth?

A. I arrived in Leavenworth April 13th, 1868.

Q. What business are you engaged in?

A. Attorney at law, abstracter of titles, not abstracting anything else.

Q. Were you ever interested with Mr. Dassler in the property known as 217 Seneca Street?

A. Yes, I don't know that that is the street number, but I know the property you mean.

Q. It is the property there on Seneca, between Second and Third on the south side? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which was at one time occupied by Mollie Letcher, a colored woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You and he acquired the title to that property in November, 1885? A. Well, about that—of course——

Q. The deeds will show?

A. Yes, we didn't acquire a thorough title of course until the foreclosure suit was finished, but we took possession of the property before that.

Q. Now Mr. Hopkins, you and he purchased some of the notes that were against this property, did you not?

A. Yes, that is the way we first acquired possession, started to acquire possession.

Q. And then you had occasion to file a lawsuit, yourself and Mr. Dassler as plaintiffs?

A. Yes, sir, it was an ordinary foreclosure.

Q. Who handled the suit, you or Mr. Dassler?

A. Mr. Dassler entirely.

Q. At the time of the filing of that suit, Mr. Hopkins, was there in contemplation an application for receivership?

A. My recollection is that there was. I was under the impression that that was prayed for at the time in the petition, but I don't recall about that now; it was in contemplation when we brought the suit but I don't recall. I know the application was not made and I think I was under the impression that it was prayed for but I may be mistaken on that point.

Q. Do you remember the fact of having made Lilly White a party defendant to the suit? A. Yes.

Q. And John Mettinger? A. Yes.

Q. They were not holders of any notes or liens, were they?

A. No, not as I recall, I know that I looked up some other parties of course in my abstract work for Mr. Dassler.

Q. Mr. Hopkins, do you remember anything in reference to an effort on the part of the white occupant of the premises at or about that time to purchase the property and a complaint of any person against such tenant purchasing the property?

A. Well, my recollection is that in my discussions about it with Mr. Dassler, that was the only way I had anything to do with it, or acquired a knowledge. My recollection is that there was a woman by the name of White and she was in the property at that time, if I remember right, and I suppose from what he said and so on, that while there was no direct offer to purchase or anything of that kind, the impression was on our minds I think that possibly we might have sold it to her.

Q. Did you know Mrs. Seth, who lived the next door?

A. I did.

Q. She was a kind of complaining woman sometimes I suppose. A. She was a holy terror.

Q. She was a white woman too?

A. Yes, sir, she lived in what was originally the calaboose, city prison, it was not at that time, it had been used as a residence but that was the original calaboose of the city.

Q. Mr. Hopkins, did you ever hear of her complaining against the sale of the property to the White woman?

A. No, sir, I never did hear her complaining about the sale of the property to the White woman. I was present on one occasion when she was making complaint about the woman in that house, for throwing bricks at her, she produced some of them.

Q. Did you see the brick? A. Yes, sir, it was a tile.

Q. Where was she?

A. At that time Mr. Martin Smith, an insurance agent, and myself had offices together and of course all those women used to come with their troubles and woes and she appeared there one day and he had not arrived, she had this brick wrapped up in a newspaper, and of course when he came she commenced a conversation and unwrapped this, as I recall it, was more of a tile than a brick, and she claimed that this White woman on the other side of the fence had thrown this brick at her into her house. I don't recall that she said that she hit her or anything of that kind, but she had made this attempt to injure her, and I recall Mr. Smith heard her relate that part of her trouble and he laid back an roared; that is what first attracted my attention to the interview and he explained it afterwards.

By Mr. Bond: I move to strike out all the witness has said as being incompetent, immaterial, and as hearsay.

By Mr. Bell: I join in the same motion.

Q. Do you recall when that was with reference to the time that you acquired an interest in the notes? Or do you know?

A. Well, this interview in the office of course was some little time after we had acquired the notes, some little time after the— Well, I can't say exactly, but I don't know but what the suit was pending, I don't know, maybe we had gotten judgment, I can't fix the date of that.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bond.

Q. To refresh your recollection, I will ask you whether or not that Mrs. Seth was not complaining, and afraid that Lilly White would be able to get this property under your foreclosure and that she didn't want her to be a next door neighbor under buying in at a foreclosure sale?

A. Well, of course I suppose from what was said that was her idea, but I only knew from what she said, it being in German, from what Mr. Smith told me, of course I was present, it was all a part of the res gestae of the affair, but from what Mr. Smith told me that was her complaint.

By Mr. German: You say it was all in German?

A. The conversation between her and him yes, the conversation between Mr. Smith and Mrs. Seth.

Q. I believe you said that Mr. Dassler had personally charge of the bringing of the suit? A. Oh, yes.

Q. And collecting the rents? A. All at that time, yes.

Q. Pertaining to the property?

A. He had the entire charge, of course I aided by giving him what information I got from the record, he had the entire charge and brought the suit, the papers show that themselves, all in his own handwriting.

At this time, a telegram from the Clerk of the United States District Court of the Eastern District of Oklahoma, is received, showing that Dennis Jones has been entered as attorney of record for Charles Page, the telegram being addressed to Mr. C. B. Stuart.

By Mr. Bond: If I appear as attorney of record for Minnie Atkins in this case, it is an error, as I know no such person, and only represent Charles Page.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Hopkins, were you ever a party to any negotiations for the purchase of the Seth property? A. No, sir.

Q. Next door, do you have any recollection?

A. No, sir, I have no recollection of anything of that kind.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We now offer the deposition of Joe A. Malone taken before Mr. Penick as examiner, appearing in his transcript of depositions at page 2934.

J. A. MALONE being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. J. A. Malone.

Q. What age are you, Mr. Malone?

A. I am 54, going on 55.

Q. Where do you live? A. Tacoma, Washington.

Q. Did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas? A. I did.

Q. Where were you born? A. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. How long did you reside there after your birth?

A. Until 1889; I left there for Tacoma.

Q. Did you ever hold any official positions in Leavenworth County, or city? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the first official position that you held?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. I was guard at the Kansas State Penitentiary.

Q. At Lansing? A. At Lansing.

Q. Where is that from Leavenworth? A. Right south.

Q. About how far?

A. Two and a half, or three miles, I guess.

Q. When did you act in the capacity of guard at the State Penitentiary at Lansing?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. 1884 I went there.

Q. What was the next official position that you held there, either in the city, county, or state?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection; immaterial.

A. I went on the police force.

Q. In the city of Leavenworth? A. City of Leavenworth.

Q. How long had it been since you were guard at the penitentiary that you went on the police force?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. Immediately, I think; went from one position to the other.

Q. Were you a policeman, or what was the name of your position on the police force?

A. I started in as special policeman and was regular policeman before long.

Q. Then, what was the next official position that you held?

A. I went in the sheriff's office—deputy sheriff.

Q. Of Leavenworth County? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go immediately from the police force to the sheriff's office? A. I did.

Q. Then, when did you discontinue your position as deputy sheriff? A. In 1889.

Q. Did you know a white woman in the city of Leavenworth by the name of Lillie White? A. I did.

Q. What kind of business did she conduct?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as immaterial.

A. She run what we call a sporting house.

Q. Where was she running a sporting house when you first knew her? A. On Seneca Street.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as immaterial unless he specify the time. I withdraw my objection.

Q. Between 2nd and 3rd? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On which side of the street? A. South side.

Q. What official position were you holding when you first met Lillie White? A. I was on the police force.

Q. Where was it that you met her?

A. In her house there.

Q. On Seneca street? A. On Seneca street.

Q. What time of the year, do you recall?

A. I wouldn't be positive about that: I wouldn't like to say.

Q. What is your best recollection as to that, or have you —are you able to indicate whether it was winter, summer or fall?

A. No, I wouldn't like to say as to that because I might be wrong; I am not positive.

Q. I see. Now, what was the occasion of your meeting her on the occasion—at the time when you first met her?

A. Well, I just dropped into the house and met her. She was the one—and got to talking to her, and during our conversation, we talked along about different things. She finally told me she was going to Kansas City on the four o'clock train.

Q. Four o'clock in the morning or four o'clock in the afternoon?

A. Four o'clock in the morning. It seemed to be kind of quiet around there because she left—she said she was glad we came in and stalled along with her because it killed the time— she was lonesome.

Mr. Johnson: The defendant Henry Carter objects to this line of testimony because it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

Q. Was it day time or night when you entered her place and met her?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. Johnson: The same objection.

A. Night.

Q. About how long did you stay at her place that night?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. Well, the nearest—my recollection is, probably about two hours; maybe an hour and a half—something like that.

Q. Were you ever in her place of business on Seneca street after that?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

Mr. Johnson: Let them objections go for Carter.

A. Not to my recollection.

Q. About what time in the night was it that you left her place?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

Q. On the occasion of your first acquaintance with her?

A. Oh, it was some time, way after midnight.

Q. Were there any colored folks in that house?

A. None that I saw.

Q. Who was in charge of that house?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. Lillie White.

Q. Did she afterwards live elsewhere in the city of Leavenworth, or rent a place elsewhere? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where? A. On Choctaw street, close to Fourth.

Q. Do [] know of her leaving the city of Leavenworth?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. Yes.

Q. Where did she go to? A. Kansas City, Missouri.

Q. Where did she go to from there, if you know?

Mr. Hanford: The same objections.

Mr. Johnson: The same objections as to Carter.

A. From Kansas City?

Q. Yes. A. She went to Tacoma, Washington.

Q. Did you ever see her in Tacoma?

Mr. Hanford. The same objections.

Mr. Johnson: Objected to.

A. Yes.

Q. You said you left Leavenworth, as I understood you a while ago, in '89? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you go to? A. Tacoma, Washington.

Q. Was she at Tacoma, when you got there?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. Yes.

Q. Is she now living or dead? A. Dead.

Q. Do you know about when she died?

Mr. Hanford: Same objection.

A. Yes.

Q. When? A. June 1894.

Mr. Hanford: Mr. German, may we agree that a general objection on the ground of irrelevancy, and immateriality shall go to all this testimony regarding Lillie White?

Mr. German: Yes, provided when you have a technical objection to a question, that you make it the objection as a form.

Mr. Hanford: The general objection on the ground of relevancy and materiality.

Mr. Johnson: Do you agree to the same on behalf of Henry Carter?

Mr. German: Yes.

Q. Mr. Malone, did you know a woman, a white woman in Leavenworth by the name of Ella Abbott?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial.

A. I did.

Q. When did you first know her? A. In 1890.

Q. You stated a while ago that you left Leavenworth in 1889, do you remember what time of the year?

A. In August.

Q. Did you return to Leavenworth afterwards?

A. I returned to Leavenworth in 1890—the last day of October.

Q. How do you fix that time?

A. Because I went down town that night and there was —oh, a lot of cutting up, and one thing and another, and I said to someone, what is the matter—everybody crazy in this town, and they laughed and said, don't you know it is Halloween?

Q. How long did you stay in Leavenworth at that time?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as immaterial.

A. I stayed until Christmas evening about seven or half past seven.

Q. In 1890? A. 1890.

Q. Where did you go to?

A. I went back to Tacoma, Washington.

Q. Did you return to Leavenworth after that?

A. I did.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. When.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. In 1894, in March.

Q. How long did you stay in Leavenworth at that time?

A. I stayed until some time in September.

Q. Where did you go to then?

A. I went to Tacoma, Washington.

Q. Did you return to Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. When?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial.

A. I recall along that fall.

Q. Fall of '84? A. Yes.

Mr. Hanford: '94?

Q. '94, I mean? A. Yes, '94.

Q. How long did you stay in Leavenworth, or live in Leavenworth on that occasion?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. I stayed there until '95.

Q. What time of the year?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. Well, I think I stayed there all of '95 until '96, probably; I went in business there.

Q. You were in business there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you say that you first met Ella Abbott in 1890?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and leading.

Q. Where, Mr. Malone?

A. On Choctaw Street, in a brick house, a two-story brick house.

Q. What was her business at that time?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial.

Mr. Johnson: The same objection.

A. She told me that night that she was going to take this house and run it.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant, incompetent, and immaterial and move to strike on the ground of hearsay?

Q. What kind of a house was that?

A. Sporting house.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. Did she do so?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

Q. Did she take the house? A. She did.

Q. Did you visit her place there very frequently during the two months of the year 1890 that you were in Leavenworth?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as immaterial.

A. I did.

Q. About how often?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. Well, I don't know just when it was that I met her there but after I did meet her there, I was there pretty nearly every night; after I met her, quite often.

Q. In 1894 when you came back to Leavenworth, where was Ella Abbott living?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial.

A. She was living on the corner of 3rd and Cherokee, upstairs in Abel's building; over the drug store. Abel's had the drug store and she was up stairs over it.

Q. What kind of business was she engaged in then?

A. Sporting business.

Mr. Hanford: Same objection.

Q. Did you visit her place very frequently while you were there in '94?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. I did.

Q. Then, as I remember it, you stated that you left Leavenworth in September '94 and returned again that year?

A. I think along during the year.

Q. In the latter part of the year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then resided in Leavenworth through the year '95? A. Yes.

Q. Did you visit Ella Abbott's place very frequently during the time you were there then?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

Q. From the latter part of '94 and throughout the year '95? A. I did.

Q. Where was her place of business then?

A. Same place, Third and Cherokee.

Q. Over Abel's drug store? A. Over Abel's drug store.

Q. How often were you in her place of business in '94 and '95 during your residence in Leavenworth?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. Approximately how often? How often would you go there? A. Well, I was there very often—very often.

Q. Well, were you acquainted with the people who were members of her household there? A. Yes.

Q. Now, state whether or not 1890, when you knew her, and in 1894 when you knew her, and in 1895 when you knew her, when you were at her place of business, state whether or not there was any child there—boy child there by the name of Tommy, or Indian Tommy, or Thomas Atkins.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and leading.

A. I never saw any boy there of that description at all.

Mr. Hanford: Move to strike as not responsive.

Q. Did you ever hear Ella Abbott, during those years, say anything about there being such a child there?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial, and calling for hearsay testimony, and leading.

A. I never heard her say anything about it.

Mr. Johnson: Mr. German; this is in the general objection and we will specify whether we want any objection in the record now?

The Examiner: I so understand.

Q. Was there any Indian boy in that household during the time—in Ella Abbott's place—during any of the time that you were a frequenter of her place?

A. I never saw any?

The Examiner: You never saw any?

A. No, that is, any Indian child.

Q. Prior to the time that you first met Ella Abbott in 1890, you say you had the various offices that you have related; state whether or not you—whether or not you were acquainted with, in the city of Leavenworth, with the various sporting persons who operated sporting houses—that is, know of the persons who operated sporting houses?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant, immaterial, and incompetent.

A. I did.

Q. Had Ella Abbott operated a sporting house prior to the time that you left Leavenworth in the '89, in the city of Leavenworth?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant, incompetent, and immaterial.

A. No.

Q. Mr. Malone, you recently received a letter from Ella Abbott, did you not? A. I did.

Q. Has Mr. Hanford been to see you?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. The gentleman sitting there—recently? A. Yes.

Q. About how long ago?

A. I should judge about 6 weeks ago, maybe less—maybe more.

Q. He saw you in Tacoma? A. Yes.

Q. Have you the letter which you received from Ella Abbott with you, Mr. Malone? A. I have.

Q. May I see it, please sir. Mr. Malone, I show you what has been marked Government's Exhibit No. 56. I will ask you to look at that please sir; where did you get that?

A. In Tacoma.

Q. How? A. By mail.

Q. By mail?

A. It was left at my residence; I wasn't there at the time.

Q. And I show you Government's Exhibit No. 57, and will ask you to look at that and tell what that is.

A. That is a letter to me.

Q. Is that the letter which Ella Abbott wrote to you?

A. It is.

Q. How did you receive that? A. By mail.

Q. Is now you Government's Exhibit No. 58, and ask you what that is? A. It is an envelope.

Q. How did you get that? A. By mail.

Q. What came in it? A. This letter.

Q. No. 57? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: We offer these three in evidence (56, 57, 58).

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as immaterial and not properly identified. I make my objections to run to each one.

Mr. Cruce: I don't know what the purpose of the letter is, but on behalf of the defendant Page, we object, to it, because it is hearsay testimony and incompetent. The same objection to the three Exhibits offered.

Q. In your conversation with Mr. Hanford, Mr. Malone, without going into detail, state whether you related substantially the same matters that you have related here on the witness stand.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. I did.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Malone, in your conversation with me at Tacoma, which Mr. German referred to, you were not able to give me dates and times with the exception of the date when you first went to Tacoma in 1889 and the date when you went back to Leavenworth the last time as the year of the—mid-winter fair. You didn't have a recollection of the other dates at that time, did you?

A. Substantially what I told here, I told you.

Q. I am referring to the matter of specific date—I say you were not able to give me the specific date and times at that time?

A. I told you that I left Leavenworth in '89 and returned in '90—1890.

Q. Yes, and the last time you returned was the year of the mid-winter fair?

A. I came from California from the Fair, I told you.

Q. The date that you were guard at the Penitentiary and on the police force, and in the Deputy Sheriff's office, those years you didn't recall at that time?

A. I told you that I went to the prison in 1884, and I left the sheriff's office in 1889, so that——

Q. Is it your recollection that you remembered those years at that time? A. What?

Q. I say is it your recollection now that you remembered those years now, and named the years, when you were talking to me?

A. I don't remember whether you asked what year I went to work at the prison, but I am sure if you did, I said 1884 that I worked there.

Q. Just to refresh your memory, Mr. Malone, let me ask if you didn't tell me that you didn't remember those years at that time; that you remembered how long about that time you were a guard at the penitentiary and were later on the police force and then, became a deputy sheriff under Churchill?

A. Yes.

Q. But that you couldn't at that time name the exact year?

A. I don't remember of talking to you that way; in fact —we talked——

Q. Well, didn't we fix the date that you were deputy sheriff by the fact that you were deputy sheriff under Churchill, and whenever he was sheriff, that is when you were deputy sheriff? A. Yes.

Q. And prior to that you were policeman? A. Yes.

Q. And prior to that you were a guard at the penitentiary? A. Yes.

Q. And since I talked with you, Mr. Robinson has been to see you again? A. Yes, he has.

Q. And he went over these dates with you, didn't he?

A. Well, we talked the matter over, yes.

Q. And he told you that since he was first out there, he had come back to Leavenworth and looked up those dates, and got them for you, didn't he? A. No.

> Mr. German: I want to object to the question and move to strike the answer on the ground that witness has fixed no date save only the date when he commenced as guard at the penitentiary, and the date when he left the sheriff's office so far as his official positions were concerned.

> Mr. Hanford: I except to the form of the objection as manifestly one for the information of the witness, and not the ground of objection; doesn't state a legal ground or premises for an objection.

Q. Mr. Robinson, the Pinkerton Detective, who is working with the Government in this case, was out there to see you before I was there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And after his first visit he returned to Leavenworth and then came back again?

A. I don't know where he went, he came back out there.

Q. Well, you knew he had been to Leavenworth and looked up these matters, didn't you?

A. No, I didn't know. I believe I did ask him if he saw so-and-so in Leavenworth, and I believe he said yes.

Q. Now, who do you refer to as so-and-so?

A. Well, I asked him if he saw friends of mine there; such as Tim Foren, and John Beechler. The way that came up, I asked him if he saw them, and said did you tell them boys that you saw me, and he said yes; that is the way the conversation came up.

Q. Mr. Malone, how do you fix the year that you began as guard at the penitentiary as 1884?

A. Well, how I fixed it that I was a guard there in'84, was that I remember that it was Cleveland's first election and that there was a big demonstration at Leavenworth, and lot of us boys got off and went up there to see it—this demonstration that night—parade and things like that.

Q. That demonstration was shortly after you became a guard?

A. I think it was; I know I was a guard at that time for

I went from Lansing up there—the prison—to see that parade and celebration.

Q. How long were you guard at the penitentiary altogether?

A. Well, all the time I was there, I was there altogether—but I don't know just exactly how long I was there. I couldn't say off-hand how long I was there—it is so long ago, but I know I was there maybe eight or nine months; maybe a year, and maybe longer than that.

Q. And you went direct from there to the police force?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were a special policeman first? A. Yes.

Q. Then a patrolman? A. Yes.

Q. And then, what?

A. I went to the sheriff's office after I left the police force.

Q. From the position of patrolman? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know how long, altogether, you were on the police force? A. No, I can't say.

Q. Approximately?

A. I can't say just exactly how long I was on.

Q. What were you doing, Mr. Malone, before you became a guard at the penitentiary?

A. Well, I—a short time before that I was working for the Government driving a six-mule team. Before that I was working for the telephone company, after I was driving the six-mule team; just before I went to be a guard, for a time, I worked for the Bell Telephone Company at Leavenworth.

Q. What did you do for the Telephone Company?

A. We built a line at Marysville, Missouri, and repairing.

Q. Outside work? A. Yes.

Q. Did you work for the quartermaster's department when you drove the six-mule team?

A. I hired at Leavenworth to drive a six-mule team at Fort Garland, Colorado; it was the time of the Ute out-break.

Q. You were then— —

A. I hired to haul supplies and things.

Q. You went from Leavenworth?

A. We went from Leavenworth and the team.

Q. Overland?

Q. No, railroad. Went to Fort Garland by railroad.

Q. When you got back from that expedition, you went to work for the telephone company?

A. Yes, I went to work for the telephone company and worked in the bridge shop, and new foundry at Leavenworth, helping the blacksmith.

Q. Then, after you got back from the expedition, you worked for the Government some time before you went to work for the telephone company?

A. When I got back, I had quit the Government.

Q. Did you work in the foundry at Leavenworth?

A. Yes.

Q. That was after the up-rising? A. Yes.

Q. Then you didn't quit the Government right away?

A. Quit what?

Q. Quit the Government?

A. Quit before I got back to Fort Leavenworth; came to Pueblo, and on back to Leavenworth.

Q. What—when you got out, how long—you came back to Leavenworth—how long were you there before you got your position with the Telephone Company, and went to work?

A. I wasn't out any of the time after I got back.

Q. But you didn't get me. I am trying to get the interval of time between your job with the Government and the Telephone Company—did you go to work for the Telephone Company right away in Leavenworth?

A. Oh, I was probably around there sometime; I got back in '80. Went to work for the Government in '79, and got back in '80, and I was around there; that was my home.

Q. Then, you were around there several years before you went to the penitentiary?

A. To the prison to work, yes, sir.

Q. Now, you don't know that you worked at the penitentiary except that it might have been more than a year?

A. I think it was more than a year.

Q. Now, you don't know how long you were special policeman—how many months?

A. Oh, I had several positions there; I was special policeman and collecting toll passengers, and I was helping the guard there handling prisoners, and finally went on as special policeman.

Q. Was it several years that you were on the police force?

A. It looks like it was several years to me because I worked under two chiefs.

Q. What two chiefs were they?

A. Shellcross was chief when I went on, and Joe Walters was the other chief.

Q. Who was the chief when you went to the sheriff's office, when you quit the police force? A. Walters.

Q. And those were the only two chiefs that you worked under? A. Only two.

Q. Did you go on the police force when Shellcross was made chief?

A. Oh, no, he had been on some time when I went there.

Q. Now, you went in the sheriff's office when Churchill was sheriff? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go under him when he was elected and took office? A. When he was first elected?

Q. Yes? A. No.

Q. He was sheriff, then, before you were appointed deputy? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know how long he was sheriff before you were appointed deputy?

A. Well, he was sheriff for two terms and if I remember rightly, it was while he was serving his second term when I went on.

Q. And how long were you a deputy sheriff?

A. Oh, I think from '87 to '89.

Q. About two years, then? A. Something like that.

Q. And you were in his office at the time that you went to Tacoma?

A. I left his office; he had resigned and we all had resigned, too.

Q. No, Mr. Malone, you stated that you first met Ella Abbott in a brick house on Choctaw street; had you known her before you met her there at that time? A. No.

Q. Do you know where she came from?

A. Only what she told me.

Q. You never knew her outside of Leavenworth—before she came there? A. No.

Q. Did you know who she came to Leavenworth with?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Didn't she come with you?

A. Come to Leavenworth with me?

Q. Yes? A. No.

Q. You mentioned Tim Foren a moment ago; who is he?

A. Well, he is a young man of Irish descent that lives in Leavenworth, that I was raised with.

Q. Do you remember when he was a bar-tender at the National hotel? A. I do.

Q. Well, I don't know; I wouldn't like to say positively when it was but I was there at the time, in Leavenworth.

Q. You sort of ran with him at that time, didn't you?

A. Well, we were raised probably in the same neighborhood, you know, and we kind of jumped together—that is, we were very great friends.

Q. Intimate? A. Intimate friends.

Q. And you were intimate with him at that time when he was working there at the National hotel bar? A. Yes.

Q. At that time, you and he were both friendly with Ella Abbott, weren't you?

A. No, I don't know as he was very friendly with her. Tim was a fellow that never went around much, at them places; he knew her.

Q. Well, didn't he have Ella Abbott before you did?

A. Well, not to my knowledge; not to my knowledge.

Q. You know that he did from what he told you, or she told you? A. I know it?

Q. Yes? A. No.

Q. You know what other places she lived at before you knew her? A. No.

Q. About Lillie White, Mr. Malone. You say that you were in her house one time when you [ ] a policeman; wasn't that one time when you were a guard at the penitentiary?

A. No, I think I was on the police force.

Q. Are you sure about that, Mr. Malone? Wasn't that one time when you came in from the penitentiary?

A. No, I——

Q. When you were a guard?

A. It was after I left the penitentiary, I am almost sure. It was after I came in from the penitentiary.

Q. Going back to your conversation with me, Mr. Malone, just to refresh your memory, don't you remember telling me that you came in from the penitentiary one night and you were in town; you were all from the penitentiary, and you knew that Lillie White was in that Seneca street house because at that time, that night, you went to her place on Seneca street, and saw her there, and that it was one night when you came in from the penitentiary?

A. No, sir, I didn't tell you anything of the kind.

Q. But your recollection now is that you were a policeman at that time?

A. My recollection is the same all the time; that is what it was then.

Q. You were in uniform?

A. No, no, I never wore uniform when I was on the police force.

Q. Wore plain clothes all the time?

A. Blue suit but no uniform.

Q. Do you know what year that was? What year that would be?

A. To the best of my knowledge, it was in '85.

Q. And the next you knew of Lillie White was when she was down on Choctaw street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that was 326?

A. It was right next to the corner of Fourth street, on the north side of the street—a brick building on the corner.

Q. A brewery there?

A. A bottling company; she was right next to that.

Q. A frame house? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know how long she remained there at that place?

A. No, I don't know how long she was there but I know that I was in the sheriff's office when she left there.

Q. That is when she left to go to——

A. She left Choctaw street.

Q. Did she go from there direct to Tacoma?

A. From Leavenworth?

Q. Yes? A. No, she came to Kansas City.

Q. She was in Kansas City a while before she went out there? A. Yes.

Q. You didn't know her intimately until after she moved to Tacoma?

A. Oh, yes, I knew her in Leavenworth.

Q. I mean you knew her very well?

A. Well acquainted with her; knew her name and she knew my name and knew who I was and everything.

Q. Mr. Malone, when you went to Tacoma the first time in 1889, how long did you stay that time?

A. I stayed until October 1890.

Q. It would be about a year then?

A. Yes, I guess it was a little more than a year. I left Leavenworth in June—not June, but August, 1889, and I came back in October, 1890.

Q. Were you in business in Tacoma during that time?

A. Not at that time; I was in business, I think, during that time in Seattle.

Q. Is that the time that you went to Fairhaven?

A. Yes—no—let's see; I guess it was that time that I went to Fairhaven.

Q. And you were out there a little over a year? A. Yes.

Q. And you came back to Leavenworth? How long did you stay?

A. I arrived on the last day of October—Halloween night.

Q. Stayed until Christmas?

A. Stayed until Christmas Eve.

Q. And then you went straight back to Tacoma?

A. Yes.

Q. When you got back to Leavenworth in '94, did you go into business then?

A. Not then; not just when I got back, but sometime in the fall, I did—in '94.

Q. It was during that visit, though?

A. Well, I went back again, and stayed a short time in Tacoma, and then went into business.

Q. What did you do in Leavenworth at that time?

A. In Leavenworth?

Q. Yes? A. Saloon business.

Q. Ran a saloon? A. Yes.

Q. By yourself?

A. No, I had a partner; to start with but I wound up by myself. I started with a partner but he didn't last long.

Q. You stated that you didn't know any boy named Thomas Atkins at Ella Abbott's? A. No.

Q. Did you know any boy there at all?

A. No, not around the house but as I believe I told you when you were out there, I have a kind of a hazy recollection of a boy.

Q. A kid?

A. Two or three years old; a colored child, I thought.

Q. Didn't you refer to it as a little negro—a little niger?

A. Well, I don't know as I did, Mr. Hanford; I don't remember.

Q. Do you remember a little kid that you referred to as a little negro that sometimes annoyed you by following you?

A. By following me?

Q. Yes?

A. No, I never was annoyed that way that I know of.

Q. Don't you recall ever telling Ella Abbott to stop that little nigger from following you or you was going to get after her, or get after him, or something of that kind?

A. Never remember anything like that at all.

Q. Do you recall that he had a nickname and was called Commodore, or something like that? A. Who was this?

Q. This kid?

A. No, I don't remember anything like that.

Q. Don't remember any nickname of Commodore, or any boy that was called that? A. No, I don't.

Q. After you first met Ella Abbott at this place,—the brick—how long after that was it that she took the brick herself?

A. I think she had it the next day. I met her that night and she took it the next day.

Q. Do you know how long she had it?

A. No, I don't; she had it when I left town.

Q. Then you don't know where she was or what she was doing in between then and the time that you came back and she was at Cherokee? A. No, I don't; I never inquired.

Q. You don't know anything about when Lillie White moved down to Choctaw, and when she went in business there?

A. No, I don't remember just the time; I know that I was there but I can't recall just the time, but I remember when she lived there because I was in her house.

Q. You know what house it was that she was in, on Seneca? You don't know the number?

A. No, I don't know——

Q. All you know it was between 2nd and 3rd?

A. It was between 2nd and 3rd, yes; next to a stone house. I remember it was a brown house, at that time, if I remember rightly.

Q. Do you know the Feth house? A. Feth house?

A. That was a stone house there, yes.

Q. She was next to that? A. Next to that.

Q. And next to the Van Tuyl's livery barn?

A. Well, if I recall, recall right, the stone house was next to Van Tuyl's. I know this house of hers, where she lived, was next to the stone house; so the stone house must have been next to Van Tuyl's. Of course, it is a long while since I saw it, or have been near there, but that is my recollection.

Q. You recall who was in the house after she was?

A. Who was there after she was?

Q. Yes? A. No, I don't.

Q. That is—I mean after Lillie White was in that house?

A. It appears to me that there were colored people living there sometime after that.

Q. You don't know who they were or the name?

A. No, I don't; I don't remember.

Q. When Ella Abbott lived there on 3rd and Cherokee, you went there to see her? A. Yes.

Q. Went there in the evenings? A. Yes.

Q. You didn't live right there? A. No.

Q. Her business she was in, was of course, separate and her own? That was no concern of yours?

A. Absolutely none; none whatever.

Q. She would simply be referred to as your girl?

A. Well, I guess she was referred to as that there, while I was there.

Q. Mr. Malone, do you remember who—any of the other people were who were in Ella Abbott's house there on Cherokee? Can you name the—— A. Girls?

Q. Women that were there, yes?

A. Yes, I of course, knew all of them, but I don't remember that I can just remember their names, their names have kind of slipped, you know, but all the time I was around there, I knew everybody that was there; everybody that came I got acquainted with them.

And thereupon, a recess is taken until 1:30 o'clock.

And thereafter, and at 1:30 o'clock, further testimony is taken herein as follows:

Additional appearances: C. B. Stuart, Esq.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Malone, going back to the time that you were a policeman, you were a policeman during two administrations under Shellcross and Walters?

A. Part of the time of both I guess.

Q. Who did you serve the longest? Shellkross or Walters? A. Well, I wouldn't be positive about that.

Q. You left the police Department while Walters was in office I believe? A. Yes.

Q. And you went into the Department under Shellkross?

A. Yes.

Q. And you don't know who you served under the longest? A. No, I don't.

Q. All you remember is that you were a policeman several years? A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember how long you had been a policeman at the time that you visited Lillie White's on Seneca Street?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Was that shortly after you left the penitentiary and came in to town on the fourth?

A. Well, I went right on the fourth after I left the penitentiary but I can't say how long that I was on the fourth at the time.

Q. Do you remember which Chief was in office at that time? A. No, not now, I can't say that now.

Q. Do you remember how long—— Oh, you went into Churchill's administration during the second term, I believe. Do you know how much of his second term he served before he resigned?

A. He resigned in August if I remember correctly, it was in August that he resigned.

Q. He took office in January and resigned in August?

A. Eighty-nine.

Q. Then, you were a Deputy Sheriff only a few months?

A. Why?

Q. Well, if you took office in his second administration, he was only in office a few months on his second administration, he was only in there from January to August?

A. No, he was in there a year and a half I guess on his second administration. At least that is the way that I figure it.

Q. He was elected first in '86, was he not, and took office January 1st, '87, and served his term in '87 and '88, two years, and in '88, he was re-elected and took office in January, '89?

A. He went right along, he was in the office and he went right along.

Q. Yes?

A. And I think it was shortly after the election that I went in, after the election if my memory is correct, after his election the second time.

Q. Then, you were only in from January to August?

A. I could have been right after the election, couldn't I?

Q. Yes, but then it would only be a few months, would it not?

A. Well, I think I was in there a year and a half, or two years, something like that in the Sheriff's office, I can't say now, it was so long ago.

Q. You are sure you went in there in his second term, or his first term?

A. I am almost sure that it was the second term that I went in.

Q. Mr. Malone, do you remember the different elections, you remember when Shellkross was elected, or appointed Chief of Police, or whatever he was?

A. Yes, I was there when he was appointed Chief of Police.

Q. Now, estimating from the time he was appointed Chief of Police, do you know how long he was in office before you were—you went on the Police Department?

A. Well, I think all the time that I was at the prison that he were Chief of Police in Leavenworth.

Q. And you were at the——

A. At the Penitentiary, I mean.

Q. And you were at the Penitentiary about a year?

A. Yes, or over, maybe over or maybe less, I don't remember.

Q. Can't you say how long you served then under Shellkross, do you remember how long you were there? Just look back and think of him as Chief of Police and see if you recollect how long you were under him?

A. No, I can't. No, I can't. I remember of more distinctly about being under Walters when he was Chief of Police. The reason I remember that was it was—— The Police force was made Metropolitan Police, and that was when I was on a regular policeman.

Q. Regular Patrol? A. Yes.

Q. And that was under Walters?

A. That was under Walters.

Q. Now, do you remember whether you were a regular patrolman or a special policeman? I believe you said you were a special policeman that time that you went to Lillie White's. Is that right?

A. Well, when I first went on I went on as a special policeman, and then I was changed around.

Q. Well, what I was getting at, I was trying to fix the time that you went to Lillie White's a house on Seneca Street? I believe you said you were a special policeman there then, and it would be when Shellkross was chief?

A. Well, I don't know, I wouldn't say who was Chief.

Q. Well, you recall that you were a special policeman at that time?

A. Well, I recall that I was a special policeman when I first went on, yes.

Q. Well, I mean at the time of your visit to Lillie White's was that during the time that you were a special policeman?

A. Yes, I am pretty sure it was.

Q. Well, then after the Metropolitan Police was organized, and Walters became Chief, you became a regular patrolman, a regular policeman? A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall how long it was after you resigned as a Deputy Sheriff, that you went to Tacoma?

A. It wasn't but a short time.

Q. Resigned in August, and I believe you went to Tacoma in October? A. No, I went in August.

Q. Oh, in August? Immediately after? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your brother, John, had preceded you out there?

A. Yes.

Q. You went out there to join him?

A. Yes, on a visit.

Q. Now, Mr. Shellkross was beginning his term as Chief of Police in April, 1883, do you recall if that was right?

A. No, I don't.

Q. You don't know the date? A. That he went in, no.

Q. That he went in? A. No.

Q. Do you recollect how long he continued as Chief of Police?

A. No, I can't say as to that, I was there all the time.

Q. To refresh your memory wasn't it a little more than two years? A. Sir?

Q. To refresh your memory, wasn't it a little more than two years? A. Yes, I think it was.

Q. I believe you stated that you didn't know the time of year it was that you visited at Lillie White's on Seneca Street?

A. No, I can't hardly say what time of year it was.

Q. Mr. Malone, this little kid that you spoke of having a hazy recollection of, do you remember anything about him?

A. No, I don't. The only thing I remember of, it is awfully hazy, but it appears to me that I saw this little kid down stairs in the kitchen, where the kitchen was, if it belonged to Ella Abbott's establishment, I used to go down the back stairs and go out the back way and go out, and going out you could look into the kitchen and see anybody in there, and it appears to me there was a child running around there, but to my recollection it couldn't have been over two or three years old, a colored child, and that is very meager, and that is the only child I ever remember of seeing around there.

Q. Do you remember the board run way up back of her place on Cherokee Street, a sort of a back porch? A. Yes.

Q. A back stairs? A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember of any kid playing around up there on the back stairs?

A. I can't place it, can't remember it.

Q. You don't know what that little kid was called?

A. No, I don't.

Q. What his name was?

A. No, I don't. I never saw it up stairs, only saw it down stairs in the kitchen.

Q. Mr. Malone, the Government has introduced an Exhibit 57, letter to you from Ella Witt, which the envelope has a post mark, Leavenworth post mark, May 12th, 1916, in which he writes as follows: "Pardon my writing you, but I ask you for old friendship's sake to give no deposition or to talk to this oil company until I talk to you, for there may be things come out that neither of us would want the public to know", and then she goes on and wants to know if she can see you. Do you know what she has reference to when she refers to things that you might not want the public to know about?

A. Absolutely no idea what she means by that.

Q. There are some things, and one thing in particular between you and she that is private, is it not?

A. Nothing that I know of, nothing that I know of.

Q. Do you recall the time that Ella Abbott was shot?

A. I do.

Q. You are present? A. When she was shot?

Q. Yes? A. No.

Q. There has always been an understanding between you and Ella in regard to that matter, has there not?

A. Understanding?

Q. Yes? A. In what way?

Q. In some private way? A. None at all.

Q. Is there anything else between you and Ella?

A. Nothing at all.

Q. Of a private nature? A. Nothing at all.

Q. Dating with your relation with her in Leavenworth?

A. No.

Q. Mr. Malone, you are living at this time in Tacoma?

A. Yes.

Q. That is your permanent residence? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are simply in Kansas City to attend the taking of this deposition? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You arrived here today? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who got you to come? A. I was subpoenaed.

Q. Mr. Robinson, the Pinkerton operative, went to Tacoma to get you? A. He went there to see me.

Q. Did he come with you? A. I came with him, yes.

Q. You came with him? A. Same train with him.

Q. He pay your expenses? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew that he was co-operative with the Government in this case?

A. Well, he explained himself that he was a Pinkerton man when he came out there.

Q. That was when he went out a few weeks ago?

A. Yes.

Q. Then he came back this time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he tell you who he was employed by? A. He did.

Q. Or did I tell you that?

A. Well, I don't know, I think he told me that, he stated the case to me.

Q. The first time? A. The first time, yes.

Q. Who did he tell you he was employed by?

A. Why, he was employed by the Pinkerton Detectives himself, but he said he was working for Mr. Buell, and that I think that is what he said.

Q. Did he tell you what Mr. Buell's relation to the Government was in this case?

A. He explained what the Government—what the Government wanted to prove. He talked about this, about this here, about not being a Tommy Atkins, I think, and also told me that the Government would subpoena me.

Q. Did he tell you who was paying his expenses and your expenses to come back here? A. Yes.

Q. Who did he state? A. Mr. Buell.

Q. Mr. Buell, did he mention Mr. Bartlett with Mr. Buell?

A. Mr. Bartlett, if he did I don't remember it.

Q. You don't recall the name Bartlett?

A. I remember his mentioning Buell, but I don't remember Bartlett.

Q. You stated that you thought it was '85 when you went to Lillie White's on Seneca Street, what makes you think that it was that year, Mr. Malone?

A. Well, because it was, I know that in '84 I was working at the prison and I know—what makes me think that it was eighty-five that she was there, because I think after that she was on—Lillie White had moved from Seneca Street to Choctaw Street. I was also in her house on Choctaw Street after she moved from Seneca Street. So, that is what makes me think it must have been in '85.

Q. When you were in her house on Choctaw Street, you were a Deputy Sheriff at that time, under Churchill, were you not? A. No, I was in the Police Department.

Q. You were in there when a policeman?

A. Yes, I was in her house several times on Choctaw Street and it was while I was connected with the Police Department, and I probably was in there when I was in the Sheriff's office too, because I was in the Sheriff's office when she moved over there.

Q. You stated, Mr. Malone, that you didn't recall how long it was that you had been on the Force when you went to Lillie White's. Now, if you were at the Penitentiary in '84, do you know that you were on the Force in '85? A. Yes.

Q. You don't know when you went to work at the Penitentiary, what time of the year?

A. No, not positively. But what makes me know I was there was on account of going up town to that celebration I spoke of.

Q. That was late in the year, in the fall?

A. Yes, I don't know how long I was there then, but I was there then.

Q. You don't know how long you staid after that election, do you, at the Penitentiary? A. No, I don't.

Q. So that, if you went to work at the Penitentiary about the time of that election in '84 and were there more than a year, that would take you up to '86?

A. But I don't think that is a fact. I think I had been there sometime when this election came up.

Q. You think you had been there sometime? A. Yes.

Q. But you haven't any idea how long you staid there after that election

A. No, because I hadn't—I don't remember it and I haven't tried to look up the facts, you know. I can't get them—I can get them facts by going up there.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Mr. Malone, how long did you live in adultery with this woman Lillie Abbott? A. In adultery?

Q. Yes, sir? A. Oh, well, I don't know.

Q. Well, how long?

A. Off and on close to two years, probably, different times.

Q. You were a policeman? A. Not at the time, no.

Q. You were an officer at the time?

A. I wasn't no officer at the time that I knew her.

Q. When did you quit living in adultery with her?

A. Probably in '95 or '6.

Q. Did you answer this letter that has been introduced by the Government? A. No, sir.

Q. Who did you first show that letter to?

A. Why, I showed it first, I think it was—I don't see the gentleman here. I showed it here.

Q. Who? A. I showed it here in this building first.

Q. You brought it from Washington here?

A. Stuck it in my coat pocket, yes. I got it the day I left.

Q. Why did you bring it with you?

A. Well, I generally put letters, after I read them, put them in my pocket and look them over again, read them over again.

Q. How many other letters have you in your pocket that you brought with you?

A. I don't know, I tore some letters up on the train coming here.

Q. You didn't tear it up? A. No, sir.

Q. Who did you first show it to after you got to Kansas City? A. I showed it to some gentleman.

Q. Mr German? A. Yes.

Q. How came you to take it to Mr. German?

A. He asked me to see it.

Q. How did he know you had it?

A. I guess Mr. Robinson told him I had it.

Q. How did Mr. Robinson know you had it A. I told him.

Q. Then you told Robinson at first before you got to Mr. German?

A. I told him I got a letter, yes.

Q. Didn't show the letter to Mr. Robinson? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you tell him what was in it?

A. I told him the substance of it.

Q. Told him the substance of what was in it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What are you getting for your wages for this trip?

A. Getting my expenses.

Q. And how much a day? A. Three dollars.

Q. Three dollars a day. Have you any business in Tacoma?

A. Well, I have got some property there that I look after.

Q. Have you any business there?

A. I am not in business now.

Q. How are you making a living?

A. Well, I am collecting rents from an apartment house I have got there.

Q. An apartment house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is it rented for a house of prostitution? A. No, sir.

Q. What is it rented for? A. Private families to live in.

Q. You make you living then by collecting rents?

A. From my property.

Q. Is your income as much as three dollars a day there?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. And you left that income and came all the way to Kansas City on three dollars a day and expenses?

A. I could—I came because I was subpoenaed by the Government.

Q. Who subpoenad you?

A. A Deputy Marshal in Tacoma.

Q. Have you the subpoena with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was that subpoena served on you?

A. It was served on me last Monday morning.

Q. How come you to demand three dollars a day and expenses? A. I didn't do it at all.

Q. He told you he would pay you that? A. Yes.

Q. Said he would pay you three dollars a day?

A. And my expenses.

Q. Do you know the ordinary witness fee is a dollar and a half a day? A. I was told so.

Q. And you understood you were to get twice the legal fee for testifying in this case?

A. That is what he told me.

Q. Did he buy you a ticket? A. Yes.

Q. He didn't tell you he was representing the Government? A. Sir?

Q. I say he didn't tell you he was representing the Government?

A. He told me he was working for the Pinkerton's.

Q. Working for the Pinkerton's. Do you keep a diary?

A. No, sir.

Q. You have been testifying about dates then simply from recollection? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know who was Mayor of Leavenworth in 1882?

A. No I can't say that right off.

Q. Can't say that right off, do you know who was the United Senator from Kansas in 1889, the year you testified about? A. No.

Q. Do you know when Mr. Roosevelt was first inaugurated as President of the United States?

A. That was after McKinley's death wasn't it?

Q. I am asking you, you are the witness?

A. Yes, I remember that.

Q. Well, when was it? A. I don't know the year, no.

Q. You don't know? A. I don't know the year.

Q. But notwithstanding you cannot name these dates, you are willing to swear diefinitely and positively as to the dates of 1889 and 1894 that you have fixed in your testimony?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And kept no diary of it? A. No, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Malone, did Mr. Robinson tell you that you were to get three dollars a day for testifying or three dollars a day for your time? A. For the time.

Q. For each day that you consumed while you were gone?

A. For the time.

Q. And your expenses? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When Mr. Hanford was out there, did he say anything to you about whether you would need to obey a subpoena served on you?

A. Yes, I asked him, I asked Mr. Hanford if the Government could compel me to come back here.

> By Mr. Cruce: On behalf of Mr. Page, we object to that testimony, because it is incompetent.

A. I asked Mr. Hanford if I would be compelled to come, and he told me no. I told him I didn't want to come, I didn't want to come back here at all. I explained to him why that I didn't want to come back, that I didn't want to come back and be going over all these things that happened when I was a young man, and that I wasn't very proud of. That was the conversation.

Q. Now, when was it, the first trip of the second trip of Mr. Robinson, that you say you think he told you about the three dollars a day? A. The second trip.

Q. On the first trip that Mr. Robinson made to see you, that was before Mr. Hanford had seen you, wasn't it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you have already testified, I believe, that you told Mr. Hanford when he was to see you, substantially the story that you have related here on the witness stand? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, was Mr. Hanford's trip to see you, was that before or after Mr. Robinson's second trip to see you?

A. It was before the second trip.

Q. Then, you received this letter, which you have identified here as Government's Exhibit No. 57, from Ella Abbott, shortly after Mr. Hanford had been to see you?

A. No, it was the day that I left there, a week ago today, no it was Tuesday

Q. Last Tuesday a week ago? A. Tomorrow.

Q. This coming Tuesday? A. Yes, sir.

Q. A week ago tomorrow? A. Yes, sir.

Q. It has been six days ago?

A. Yes, sir. It was the day I left there I received it.

Q. How long ago was it that Mr. Hanford had been to see you?

A. It was probably three weeks or such a matter, somewhere along there, I am not positive.

Q. Now, the first time you saw Mr. Robinson, or rather the first time Mr. Robinson saw you was about how long before Mr. Hanford saw you

A. It was probably a month or five weeks, somewheres in that neighborhood.

Q. Now the first time Mr. Robinson saw you, state whether or not you told him substantially the things, the same state of facts that you have related here on the witness stand?

A. Yes, sir, the same as near as I can.

Q. Referring to this letter from Ella Witt, signed Ella Witt, Exhibit No. 57, which has already been offered in evidence, I will ask you whose handwriting that handwriting is in? A. Ella Abbott.

Q. Do you know her handwriting? A. I do.

By Mr. German: Unless the letter has not been sufficiently identified, I offer it in evidence again as Government's Exhibit No. 57.

By Mr. Cruce: On behalf of Mr. Page, we offer the same objection that we originally offered.

By Mr. Hanford: And I renew my original objection and make the same objection to this offer at this time.

Q. Did you have any other letter from Ella in reference to this Atkins matter

A. No. Oh, I did, yes. Not from Ella, but from—It wasn't from Ella, no, it has been sometime ago.

Q. Was it from an oil company?

A. Yes, it was from the Gem Oil Company.

Q. Who signed it, do you remember? A. No, I don't.

Q. Whose name was signed to it?

A. I wouldn't swear to it, because I don't remember.

Q. Have you that letter? A. No, sir.

Q. What did you do with that letter? A. I destroyed it.

Q. When was it that you received that letter about?

A. Oh, it was sometime ago, it was along about—it was along while ago.

Q. Was it before or after Mr. Robinson saw you the first time?

A. Oh, it was a long while before that, long while before that.

Q. Do you remember what that letter contained, what it said?

A. Well, it is—It was asking me some questions.

By Mr. Cruce: We object in behalf of Mr. Page as incompetent testimony.

By Mr. German: I withdraw the question for the present.—I will renew my question.

Q. What, if you remember, was the statement contained in that letter?

By Mr. Cruce: On behalf of Mr. Page, the same objection, incompetent testimony.

A. No, I can't remember it.

Q. Did it make any statements in reference to Ella Abbott?

A. There was something concerning her.

Q. Did the letter purport to tell you what Ella Abbott would say in this case, what she would testify to or not?

A. It appears that they were trying to get some information from me was what they wanted.

Q. Concerning what matter?

A. Concerning this case, I guess.

Q. Did they ask you about any Indian woman or any Indian boy named Tommy, or boy named Atkins?

A. I can't remember what it was they asked me, but I know that I answered the letter then tore it up, the one that I wrote tore it up.

Q. And didn't mail it? A. And didn't mail it.

Q. Do you remember the substance of the letter that you received signed the Gem Oil Company? A. No, I don't.

Q. You say that was quite a little while before Mr. Robinson came to see you the first time? A. Oh, yes.

Q. About how long? A. Shortly—A year or more.

Q. You say that you have an indistinct recollection of seeing a child around Ella Abbott's, what was the nationality of that child? A. Colored.

Q. Colored? When was it that you saw that child there?

A. I think it was when I was going around there, I didn't see it often at that. I don't think I saw it over once or twice.

Q. Where was Ella living at that time?

A. Third and Cherokee.

Q. Then, that was in 1894 or '5 that you saw that child?

A. Yes, '95 I think.

By Mr. Cruce: That question is objected to because it is leading.

Q. How old do you say that child was?

A. Between two or three years old.

Q. Did Ella keep any colored help? A. Yes.

Q. Men or women?

A. A woman, she had one colored man in there as porter.

Q. Did you know who the mother of the child was?

A. No, I didn't.

Q. Who was the child with?

A. With the woman that was cooking down stairs.

Q. In the kitchen?

A. Yes, I suppose it was the mother, the cook.

By Mr. Stuart: Don't state what you suppose.

A. I naturally judge that was the mother of the child, while I didn't know who the child was with or who it belonged with.

By Mr. Stuart: Well, put it that way.

Q. You saw it in the kitchen? A. Yes.

Q. And that is where the colored cook staid? A. Yes.

Q. Was the colored cook in there when you saw the child in there? A. Yes.

Q. Now, if Ella Abbott had been in the bawdy house, or proprietor of a bawdy house before 1889, in October, or while you were an officer there in the town, would you have known it?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and suggestive and argument.

By Mr. Cruce: Objected to for Mr. Page on the ground that it asks for a conclusion of the witness in a matter that the Court must determine.

A. Yes, August, 1889, I left.

Q. Prior to the time that you left the Sheriff's office in August, 1889, state whether Ella Abbott ran a sporting house or was in a sporting house in the City of Leavenworth?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. No.

Q. Did Ella Abbott ever become a dope fiend, Mr. Malone?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Q. While you knew her? A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever have occasion to seek to cure her of that habit?

By Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. Yes, I discovered she was taking it and I talked to her, advised her to let it alone and she said she would. She sent for her sister here in Kansas City, and her sister came up and she wanted to go to Hot Springs, Arkansas, to a doctor there they said could cure her.

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and not responsive.

Q. And she went to see him on account of this habit?
A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent.

Q. Was that the reason she went? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Malone, while you were on the Police Force, while you were Deputy Sheriff, did you, in the performance of your duties, have occasion to have a wide acquaintance with the houses of ill repute in the City of Leavenworth?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as irrelevant, and immaterial, and improper redirect.

A. I did.

Q. Was there any woman in any of those houses, or elsewhere in the town, so far as your knowledge extended, by the name of Minnie Atkins or Indian Minnie?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial and leading.

A. I never heard of her.

Q. Was there any in any of those houses?
A. I never heard of her or saw her.

By Mr. Hanford: The same objection and move to strike the answer if it was made before the objection could be interposed.

By Mr. Johnson: The same objection for Carter.

Q. Did you know any Indian boy in any bawdy house or house of ill fame, while you were on the police force, by the name of Tommy Atkins, or Indian Tommy?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. No.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Mr. Malone, did you ever hear of a girl in that town at all by the name of Indian Minnie? A. No, sir.

Q. Never was such a girl there that you know of?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. As Indian Minnie? A. Not that I know of.

Q. Did you ever hear of an Indian girl being around Granny Letcher's? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever hear of an Indian girl working for a man by the name of Hyde? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know Hyde? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew where his place was well, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Never heard of this Indian girl? A. No, sir.

Q. You never heard of Granny Letcher, did you?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. When did you hear of Granny Letcher?

A. Oh, a long while ago, I don't just remember.

Q. What year was it that you first knew Granny Letcher, Mr. Malone?

A. I can't say that, I was born and raised there and don't know what year it was.

Q. Figure on that the best you can and give us the year that you knew Granny Letcher?

A. Well, I can't say, I was raised up there and knew pretty near all the people you might say.

Q. Well, you can give us some idea in the year, can't you, some idea of the year that you knew Granny Letcher?

A. Probably in the eighties, I judge.

Q. What eighties?

A. I don't know what time of year it was.

Q. Well, did you know her in eighty-three?

A. I think I did.

Q. Did you know her in eighty-five?

A. If she was there.

Q. Did you know her in ninety-six? The truth is you don't know when you knew her, do you?

A. I know that I did know her, I knew her son too.

Q. I didn't ask you anything about her son. You can't fix any definite time that you knew Granny Letcher?

A. Well, I can't say for fear I might be wrong and I am trying to tell the truth.

Q. I assume that, you are trying to tell the truth, I assume that. If you are, you tell me, you can fix any definite year that you knew Granny Letcher?

By Mr. German: Objected to on the ground of repetition.

By Mr. Stuart: I guess I can repeat a little on cross examination.

Q. Go ahead and tell us now just about what year?
A. Well. I ain't going to try to say.
Q. Did you know a fortune teller in that town?
A. A fortune teller?
Q. Yes, an old woman fortune teller? Did you ever hear of that fortune teller there, celebrated fortune teller down there next to that livery stable?
A. If I have I have forgotten it.
Q. You have forgotten all about the fortune teller. You know where Crilly's barn was? A. Yes, sir.
Q. You knew that whole country in there well, didn't you?
A. I never heard of a fortune teller. I say if I had, I have forgotten about it.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. There wasn't any fortune teller in any of those bawdy houses that you knew anything about, was there, Mr. Malone?
A. No, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Who else was running a bawdy house there in 1889?

By Mr. German: How many counsel are representing one party?

By Mr. Cruce: Two apiece.

By Mr. German: I want to make the objection that we object to more than one counsel representing one party examining the witness.

Q. Mr. Malone, how many women were running bawdy houses in 1889 in Leavenworth? A. Oh, I don't know, 1889?
Q. Yes?
A. I don't know just exactly how many there was.
Q. Couldn't give that? A. Oh, I knew a lot of them.
Q. Now, you are testifying, have testified that Ella Abbott was not running one in 1889?
A. No. I testified that I didn't see her and didn't know her until '90.

Q. Well, you don't know whether she was running a bawdy house in '89 or not? A. If she did, I didn't know it.

Q. Who shot her? A. She shot herself.

Q. She did? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How do you know?

A. Well, because there wasn't anybody in the room with her when the shot went off and the bar tender down stairs ran up and found her in the room alone.

Q. Mr. Malone, didn't you shoot that woman?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't? A. No, sir.

Q. Would you admit it if you had shot her?

A. Yes, sir, I would.

Q. How many times was she shot? A. Once.

Q. Through the throat?

A. No, she was shot through the breast. She took poison several times.

Q. To get rid of you?

A. No, sir, to get rid of herself, I guess.

Q. To get out of your life? A. No, sir.

Q. Was it because of your conduct toward her that she took poison and tried to poison herself? A. No, no.

Q. You don't know why?

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Do you know how the hole in her neck came to be there?

A. Yes, the doctor put a silver tube in there so that she could breathe or something.

Q. Was that hole made by a gun shot?

A. In her throat?

Q. Yes? A. No, by the doctor.

Q. Made by a doctor? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know how it happened that the doctor had to make that hole?

A. No, I don't; the doctor that treated her thought that was necessary to put a tube in there.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We now offer the deposition of W. B. Shaughnessy taken before Mr. Penick as Examiner, appearing in his record of transcript at page 3033.

And thereafter W. B. SHAUGHNESSY being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name, age, and residence?

A. W. B. Shaughnessy; 39 years old; residence, Leavenworth.

Q. What official position do you occupy in the city of Leavenworth at this time? A. Chief of Police.

Q. As chief of police, are you the—have you the custody of the books and records pertaining to the Police Department?

A. Yes, sir; that is, the Captain takes care of the books, you see, but they are all in our Department.

Q. All under you? A. Yes.

Q. Are the books showing the officers of the Police Department during the year—during the '80's in your possession? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you a record showing when J. A. Malone was first put on the force as a special policeman? And the term he served as special policeman?

A. Joseph Malone—I don't know whether his initial are J. A.—Joseph Malone.

Q. Have you that book? A. Yes, sir.

Q. With you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you please produce it?

A. There are two books here.

Q. What is the book you now have in your hand?

A. That is what they call the Roll Call Book.

Q. Does it show the names of the different officers of the Police Department including the special policeman?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the dates that they were on duty?

A. Yes, sir, shows there the specials.

Q. Have you examined the other records of your office to determine the date when Joe Malone first went into the service as a special policeman?

A. No, we haven't any record, only this roll call book that we have been able to find.

Q. How far back does that Roll Call Book go?

A. For Mr. Malone?

Q. For the Police Department.

Q. This is the 1872, this one.

Q. It includes the officers for that Department from 1872 up to and including what year? A. 1886, December 1886.

Q. What is the first date shown by that book when Joe Malone commenced working for the city as special policeman?

Mr. Hanford: Object to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and to the form of the question as stating a conclusion.

Mr. Allen: I withdraw it.

Q. On what page of that book, does the name of Joseph Malone appear?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial, and hearsay, there being no law authorizing such a book, and it not being competent, for evidence for any purpose.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. This page—what page is it, the pages are not numbered here?

Q. Under what date?

Mr. Blakeney: Objected to for the same reason; object to all the evidence of this witness on the ground scheduled in the last objection so far as relating to this record.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. This is June, 1885. I guess that is an eight, alright.

Q. I wish you would read all of the entries off that page in so far as they pertain to the name of Joseph Malone.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. Cruce: On behalf of Mr. Page, we object to it on the ground that the testimony is incompetent, and not binding.

A. Do you want——

Q. Just read it just as it is.

A. 1885, Joseph Malone—this is the number of men on there—number 14, Joseph Malone; he is a special. He was collecting road tax—special number 14—Joseph Malone, road tax, number 17.

Q. The date he began service?

A. That looks like the 25th, doesn't it?

Mr. Hanford. Wouldn't that last date begin the service?

A. Looks like the 25th.

Q. Have you examined the records to see whether this book shows that he was regularly in the service of the city from that time on?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and calling for a conclusion of the witness.

Mr. Allen: Now, Mr. Hanford, to you three gentlemen representing the defendants, if that objection is insisted upon, of course we will have to introduce all of the book, so far as the records pertain to this party, covering a period of five or six years, and we will do that, but we wish you would examine it and waive that objection.

Mr. Blakeney: I will agree to the first page; I don't care for the whole batch. I will agree to the special policeman, letting the records show that there were 17 regular policemen at that time—16 or 17—16 I believe it shows—one line being vacant, and 14 special policemen on the June 1st, 1885, their names being as follows: the only name that I am particularly caring about, number 9, Dennis Jones, and Joseph Malone. Malone as to showing that he commenced working on the 24th of June 1885, and he continued as a special policeman until August 1885, first day of August his name appears as Jos. Malone—his office day—and he continued to work but in September, went on as an assistant guard; and in October Joseph Malone, assistant guard, S. P., commencing the first and working continuously during the month as shown by this book, and continued during November in the same capacity. In December 1885 is shown Joseph Malone, S. P. guard, during the entire month. Same during January 1886, same during February 1886, and same during March 1886, same during April 1886 and same during May 1886, same during June 1886, same during July 1886, same during August 1886; now, in September 1886, entries shown as follows: Joseph Malone, north beat, night, during the entire month. In October, entry shows that Joseph Malone, day, during the entire month; in November it showed Joseph Malone, middle beat, night, during the entire month; in December 1886, it shows Joseph Malone, south beat, at night during the entire month, and that he continued as a regular policeman until the 11th day of April, 1887.

Mr. Allen: Now, gentlemen, do you all agree to the correctness of the record identified by the witness as read by Mr. Blakeney?

Mr. Cruce: We agree that Mr. Blakeney read the record correctly but we object, of course, to the competency of the testimony.

Mr. Hanford: I want it to be shown that on the first page, where Joseph Malone's name appears, it is the last name under the list specials, and that he is designated as a special under the list of specials, and that his service or station is designated as special road tax, and in the month of April, there were six specials but no special road tax collectors; for the month of May, on page immediately preceeding—that is for the month of May, the record—the book shows 12 specials, of whom 6 are special road tax, and shows the name of Dennis Jones as number 9, his employment commencing on May 13, 1885.

Mr. Allen: That is alright.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We now offer the deposition of John T. Beechler, taken before Mr. Penick as Examiner, appearing in his transcript at Page 2169.

And thereupon JOHN T. BEECHLER, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. John T. Beechler.
Q. Where do you live, Mr. Beechler.
A. I reside at 319 Delaware now.
Q. Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

A. About three years.
Q. What business were you in there?
A. Real Estate and Loans.
Q. What business are you in now, Mr. Beechler?
A. None at present.
Q. When did you first live in Leavenworth?

A. Well they tell me I came here about 60, the latter part of 60, I was six months they claim, when I first came here.

Q. How long have you lived here continuously?

A. This always been my home, always considered it.

Q. You were here in the in the 70's and 80's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And 90's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever know an Indian woman here by the name of Indian Minnie or Indian Mary?

A. I knew one by the name of Indian Mary.

Q. When did you first know her? A. About 75.

Q. 75, where, and in what part of town was that in?

A. The North part of town.

Q. When you speak of the North part of town, where do you mean?

A. I mean north of Shawnee and East of Fifth.

Q. You mean in the—— A. First ward.

Q. How long did you know that woman to be around this town? A. I can't say.

Q. Did you know her in the 80's to be here in the 80's?

A. I have seen her.

Q. You have seen her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. In the 80's. Where did you see her in the 80's, where particularly?

A. My best recollection is on Second Street.

Q. On Second Street? A. Yes.

Q. What year was that, if you remember?

Mr. Blakeney: We object to all inquiry regarding Indian Mary as not relevant to the case.

Mr. Hanford: We make the same objection.

A. 83.

Q. 83? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say that was on Second Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where else did you see her in town?

A. Well, she used to buy wood from Mr. Apperson.

Q. You would see her there? A. I have.

Q. Where else would you see her?

A. Well, I would—she was a chorister that lived in North Leavenworth, I have seen her.

Q. Around at different places? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What kind of a looking woman was she, describe her?

A. In height about five foot four or five, I should judge.

Q. What was her complexion?

A. Well, yellow, I guess.

Q. Was she an Indian?

A. I can't say, Spanish or an Indian; she wasn't a white woman.

Q. She wasn't a white woman; was she a negro?

A. That I can't say.

Q. What was she called? A. Indian Mary.

Q. How did she dress, anything peculiar about her dress?

A. Well rather flashy colors.

Q. Was she a neat dresser or otherwise?

A. I don't think so.

Q. You didn't think so; didn't she wear any shawl, or anything of that sort? A. Why, I don't know.

Q. You don't remember. Did you ever know about her having a baby? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't know about that. Didn't she—did you know of a Fortune Teller here in town in the 80's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did she live?

A. This one I knew I had seen, her place of business, was on Second between Delaware and Cherokee.

Q. Was this Indian woman around her any?

> Mr. Blakeney: We object to the expression, Indian woman.

Q. Well, this Indian Mary? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know of this Fortune Teller living elsewhere than on Second Street?

A. Why, I never was in her place of business, only what I have been told.

> Mr. Blakeney: We object to his being told, as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. Did you hear about that time of any other place where the fortune teller lived?

> Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial and hearsay.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where? A. On Seneca.

Q. On Seneca? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What part of Seneca? A. Between Second and Third.

Q. What place between Second and Third, if you know?

A. The number I can't give——

Q. Which side of the street?

A. The North side of the street.

Q. Was Indian Mary around her any there?

A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know?

A. I have seen her on that street.

Q. You have seen her on that street. When do you remember to have been the last time that you ever saw that Indian woman, they called Indian Mary?

A. Well, I would say later than 83.

Q. How much later would you say? A. A year or so.

Q. Did you know a white woman here in town in the early 80's by the name of Lillie White? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did she first live when you first knew her?

> Mr. Hanford: We object to this interrogation in regard to a Lillie White, on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

A. On Seneca.

Q. On Seneca, what part? A. I can't give the number.

Q. What house was it? On which side of the street?

A. On the South side of the street.

Q. South side? What house was it in?

A. Well, it was called the old Dotter property.

Q. What kind of a house was it, as to being frame, or stone, or what? A. Well, the front part of it was frame.

Q. What was the other? A. Well, I don't know.

Q. Which part of it was frame? A. The front part.

Q. What size house was it? A. A two story.

Q. Do you know where the Feth's lived? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was it with reference to the resident of Feth's?

A. East of that.

Q. The first house?

A. A vacant lot between them.

Q. Do you remember the old Seneca house on the north side of that street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Between Second and Third? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was it with reference to the old Seneca House?

A. Right across the street, right opposite on across the street.

Q. Right across the street from the old Seneca House?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did any one else live in that house with Lillie White?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who?

A. The only one I really knew was a woman by the name of Emma Moss.

Q. Were they white folks? A. Yes, sir, white people.

Q. White people or colored? A. White.

Q. Did you know about the Dotters having lived in the house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who lived there first, the Dotters or Millie White?

Q. How came you to know that the Dotters and Millie White lived there?

A. Well, I expect they called that a sporting house at that time.

Q. The Dotters didn't run it as a sporting house, did they?

A. No, sir.

Q. They were nice people? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had occasion to visit that house when Lilly White and Emma Moss were living in it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Frequently? A. Oh, probably once a week.

Q. How long did Lilly White continue—which one was the head of the house, Lilly White or Emma Moss?

A. I think Lilly White was.

Q. How long did they continue to reside there?

A. About a year, I think it was. Probably a year and three months, I don't remember the exact time.

Q. Do you know who succeeded them in the house, whether it was colored folks or white people?

A. I think they were called colored people.

Q. Did you know the name? A. Yes.

Q. Who was it? A. Mrs. Letcher.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. How do you spell your name?

A. Beechler, B-e-e-c-h-l-e-r.

Q. Beechler. A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say you were in the real estate business in Oklahoma City? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When? A. Four years ago.

Q. Did you live there four years ago?

A. Yes, sir, about that time.

Q. And how long were you in the business—real estate business there? A. About three years.

Q. What was your firm name? A. Barnett & Beechler.

Q. Who? A. Barnett & Beechler.

Q. Where was your office? A. Main and Harvey.

Q. Main and Harvey, what building?

A. Hale owned the building.

Q. The State National Bank Building?

A. No, that is on——

Q. On the street west? A. Robinson and Main.

Q. The street west? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you familiar— Do you know Oklahoma City?

Q. Yes, sir. A. Roach & Veasey's Drug Store, Room 504 and 505, Security Building.

Q. What floor were you on? A. Fifth floor.

Q. You sold real estate there?

A. I was in the real estate and loan business.

Q. Do you know Johnny Garrett? A. Yes.

Q. What was he doing there when you knew him?

A. If it is the Garrett I mean, I think he was a gambler.

Q. Well, you were well acquainted with him?

A. Not so very well.

Q. Were you associated with him in any business enterprise? A. No, sir.

Q. You mean to tell the court that you were in a legitimate real estate business? A. I do, sir.

Q. What real estate did you sell?

A. Well, mostly in the loan business, real estate.

Q. What loans? A. Well, mostly chattels.

Q. You would file them of record, would you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. In whose name did you make those loans?

A. The firm was Bennett & Beechler, I filed them in that.

Q. You put it in the firm name? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Bennett & Beechler? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you usually filed them for record? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many loans did you make? A. I don't know.

Q. Well, during the four years now, how many would you say you made?

A. Well, I could get my books, they are in Oklahoma City, I could refer to them.

Q. Just only an estimate?

A. I can't give you an estimate.

Q. Name some of the people that you made loans to?

By Mr. German: I object to the question as improper cross examination, incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and useless detail about an immaterial matter.

A. I could get my books and look them over.

Q. What did you do before you went to Oklahoma City?

A. Why, I lived in Leavenworth.

Q. You had been living here in Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you left Oklahoma City, you say, about four years ago, that was in 1912? A. Yes, that is about right.

Q. And you stayed there about three years, you went there about 1909? A. I was there about three years I think.

Q. Then, prior to 1909, you had been living in Leavenworth? A. California a year. San Francisco.

Q. That was before coming to Oklahoma City?

A. No, after.

Q. After you went to Oklahoma City? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, was that in that four years all together?

A. It was after I was in Oklahoma City.

Q. What did you do in California? A. Nothing.

Q. Nothing at all? A. No, sir.

Q. You carried on no business occupation of any kind, lawful or unlawful? A. No, sir.

Q. What were you doing in Leavenworth before you went to Oklahoma City? A. Running a gambling house.

Q. Running a gambling house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long had you run it? A. A good many years.

Q. Approximately how long?

A. The records will show, I can't say.

Q. Well, give us your estimate of it? A. I can't do it.

Q. Well, thirty years? A. No, sir.

Q. Twenty years?

A. Well, I can't answer that question, because I was off and on in business here for a good many years. We were open and closed at times, I can't say how long I was in business.

Q. Were you connected with any of that kind of business in Oklahoma City? A. No, sir.

Q. In Frisco? A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bond.

Q. You say, I believe, you were born in——

> By Mr. German: I object to Mr. Lee Bond's cross examining the witness, or questioning the witness, on the ground that he is not an attorney of record in the case, and not an attorney of record in the Eastern District of Oklahoma, and for the reasons assigned yesterday.

> By Mr. Hanford: I will state that Mr. Bond is an attorney of record, and that his appearance is on file in the office of the clerk of the court of the Eastern District of Oklahoma, at Muskogee.

> The Examiner: Since there is objection to Mr. Bond's appearance in this matter, and in view of the fact that the certified copy of the appearances in this case, furnished by the court of the Eastern District of Oklahoma, does not show Mr. Bond as an attorney of record in this case, Mr. Bond will not be permitted to examine witnesses in this case at this time.

> By Mr. Hanford: I wish to state further that in the absence of Judge Stuart, Mr. Bond represents defendant Charles Page.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Have you got a recent photograph of yourself?

A. Sir?

Q. Have you a recent photograph of yourself?

> By Mr. German: I object to the question on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and improper cross examination.

A. I have not.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Are you a member of any lodge Mr. Beechler?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. What lodge? A. The Eagles and the Elks.
Q. Where is your membership in the Elks?
A. 417 Oklahoma City.

By Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Beechler, you stated you were in California for a year? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Just prior to going to Oklahoma City?
A. After I was in Oklahoma City.
Q. After you were in Oklahoma City? A. Yes, sir.
Q. And it was about four years ago that you went to Oklahoma City? A. No, it has been longer than that.
Q. Well, what year was it that you went to Oklahoma City?
A. I can't say, I can definitely though in a little bit.
Q. Well, how many years ago?
A. Six or seven possibly.
Q. Six or seven years ago you went to Oklahoma City?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And stayed there three years? A. About three years.
Q. About three years? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Then, where did you go?
A. I went to California— No, came to Leavenworth.
Q. How long did you stay in Leavenworth?
A. Sixty or seventy days.
Q. Then, where did you go? A. San Francisco.
Q. How long did you stay there? A. Stayed there a year.
Q. And all the rest of the time prior to that you lived in Leavenworth? A. I came back to Oklahoma City.
Q. And prior to going to Oklahoma City, you lived in Leavenworth did you all the time?
A. This has been my home, no I haven't lived here all my life.
Q. Well, where else have you lived?
A. I have been all over the west.
Q. State where? A. Well, I have been.
Q. Give me the places you have lived in the west?
A. Albuquerque, Las Vegas, Denver, Tacoma, Washington, that is the only places I have lived, I have been all through the west, though.

Q. You have been all through the west. When were you in Albuquerque?

A. A good many years ago, I can't tell, thirty years ago or longer, I have been there recently.

Q. You have been there recently? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say you were out there thirty years ago or longer?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Give me the year? A. I cannot.

Q. How long were you there?

A. About a year this time.

Q. Were you there about a year this time? When you were out there, I am asking you when you were out there first, how long were you there? A. About a year.

Q. About a year, now, what year was that?

A. I am only saying about thirty years ago, it has been quite a while, might have been longer and might have been lots less, I hardly think it was less though.

Q. About the middle of the eighties, then, was it?

A. Can you tell me when Garfield died?

Q. You were out there when Garfield died?

A. I was in Las Vegas at that time.

Q. I am asking you about Albuquerque?

A. I could tell you then about the year.

Q. How long were you in Las Vegas?

A. About, pretty near a year, I guess.

Q. About a year. You went there from Albuquerque?

A. I went to Las Vegas first.

Q. You went to Las Vegas first? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were there about a year?

A. Possibly not that long but around a year.

Q. But around about a year? A. Yes.

Q. And you went there when Garfield died? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What business were you in there?

A. I was in the hotel business.

Q. Hotel business, what hotel?

A. Mr. Harvey at the Montezuma.

Q. You were at the Harvey house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you do, run it? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you work for Harvey? A. For a while.

Q. For a while? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who else did you work for? A. There?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. That is about the only man I ever drawed a salary from that I know of.

Q. What work did you do when you didn't draw a salary?

A. Well, I guess I gambled.

Q. You gambled, did you? A. Yes.

Q. Now at Albuquerque, you went there from Las Vegas?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go any place else first?

A. I went directly to——

Q. You were in Albuquerque about a year?

A. Yes, probably a year.

Q. What did you do there?

A. Well, I run a new restaurant.

Q. Who for?

A. It was for a— I don't know, I think the lady's name was Gadner, who used to live here.

Q. How long did you work for her? A. Not very long.

Q. How long were you there, about a year?

A. About a year, yes, sir.

Q. Did you work for that woman a month?

A. No, sir.

Q. Two months? A. I can't say.

Q. A short time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What else did you do?

A. I went to working, tending bar I think.

Q. Who were you tending bar for? A. Zigler.

Q. How long did you work for him?

A. Four or five months I suppose.

Q. You gambled at Albuquerque, didn't you? Answer the question? A. Yes, sir.

Q. From Alburquerque, where did you go?

A. I went to Leavenworth, I think.

Q. Went to Leavenworth, how long did you stay in Leavenworth? A. I don't know.

Q. Were you here a year? A. I expect so.

Q. Were you here more than a year?

A. I can't say how long I was here.

Q. What did you do while you were here? A. Nothing.

Q. Didn't do a thing? Did you gamble?

A. Occasionally I did.

Q. Did you run a house? A. No, sir.

Q. Just gambled? Where did you live when you were here in Leavenworth? A. 226 Delaware.

Q. 226 Delaware, you lived there all the time you were here? A. That was supposed to be my home.

Q. Who did you rent from?

A. I lived with my mother, roomed with her.

Q. From Leavenworth, where did you go then?

A. Well, I stayed around here.

Q. What year was that? A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know the year, about what year was it?

A. I can't say.

Q. You can't say, was it 1887?

A. I was here in Leavenworth in 1887.

Q. You were here in Leavenworth in '87?

A. Yes, I didn't leave until about——

Q. Was that the year that you came back from Albuquerque?

A. No, I got back from Albuquerque previous to that quite a while.

Q. After you got back from Albuquerque and lived in Leavenworth, how long do you say you lived here?

A. I don't know.

Q. Did you live here two years? A. Yes.

Q. Two years, you are sure of that? A. Or longer.

Q. Longer, three years?

A. What year is this that you gave—eighty-seven?

Q. You went from Leavenworth to Las Vegas, is that right? A. The first time?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then to Albuquerque? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then from Albuquerque you came back?

A. I might have come back from Las Vegas to Leavenworth.

Q. I thought you went right to Las Vegas. Which did you do, go from Las Vegas to Albuquerque, or come back to Leavenworth? A. I went to Las Vegas.

Q. And stayed there about a year?

A. I might have been there about a year, I don't know.

Q. Now, when you came back to Leavenworth, how long did you stay?

A. I don't know, I might have been here a year.

Q. Do you know what year it was? A. I do not.

Q. Did you stay one year or did you stay five years after you came back from Albuquerque? A. I can't say.

Q. Where did you go from Leavenworth?

A. I guess I went to Albuquerque.

Q. Did you go back to Albuquerque?

A. I am now at Albuquerque, I am there.

Q. Then after Albuquerque, you came to Leavenworth?

A. I think so.

Q. Now, how long did you stay in Albuquerque?

A. About a year.

Q. And came from Albuquerque to Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you stay in Leavenworth that time?

A. I don't know.

Q. Did you stay a year? A. Yes, sir, maybe longer.

Q. Did you stay two years?

A. I can't state how long I was here, I never kept any memorandum.

Q. One year, or two years, or three years?

A. A year or more, I will say.

Q. Might have been five years, mightn't it?

A. Oh, no.

Q. Might have been all of that, mightn't it?

A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know, where did you go from Leavenworth?

A. Tacoma. I think I went to Tacoma in 1889.

Q. To Tacoma, Washington, in 1889, what did you do there? A. I gambled.

Q. Gambled? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long were you there? A. A little over a year.

Q. Where did you live in Tacoma?

A. I think it was on C Street.

Q. What else—C Street and what?

A. It was in the middle of the block, Gleason Hotel, I think that was the name.

Q. Were you there all the time?

A. Supposed to room there, I always had a room there.

Q. You were there about a year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you gamble? A. The street number?

Q. Yes, where did you gamble? A. Pacific Avenue.

Q. Did you go to Seattle? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What kind of a city was Seattle then?

A. Not much of a town.

Q. Not much of a town? A. No, sir, just had a fire.

Q. Just had a fire, you were there the year of the fire?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long after the fire, how long before the fire did you arrive there?

A. About the time they had the fire, eighty-nine, I don't know what month it was in.

Q. You got there about the time of the fire? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And stayed there about a year? A. In Seattle.

Q. And in Tacoma?

A. Yes, sir, off and on, I was in Seattle.

Q. Did you live in Seattle? A. A little while.

Q. Was that part of the year you say you were in Tacoma?

A. No, I think I was in— Well, I was in Tacoma about a year and a half including the time I was in Seattle, or longer I will say.

Q. That was in 1889? A. The latter part of 1889.

Q. The latter part of '89?

A. Whenever the fire was, I can't tell.

Q. Where did you go from Tacoma? A. Went to Seattle.

Q. From Seattle where did you go? A. Tacoma.

Q. Back to Tacoma? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then where did you go from Tacoma?

A. Leavenworth.

Q. What year did you get back to Leavenworth?

A. The latter part of ninety, I think.

Q. How long did you then stay in Leavenworth?

A. Nineteen or twenty years I guess.

Q. About nineteen or twenty years, stayed in Leavenworth all the time then, did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when did you live in Denver?

A. I think it was eighty.

Q. Lived in Denver in 1880, how long did you live in Denver? A. About a year, I judge.

Q. About a year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you go to Tacoma? A. Eighty-nine.

Q. Did you go to Denver before you went to Las Vegas?

A. Afterwards.

Q. You went to Denver afterward? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you sure that you went to Denver in 1880?

A. I think that was the year.

Q. That was the year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were in Las Vegas before that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you go from Denver, back to Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Tell me some of the other places that you lived?

A. Well, that is about all I guess, I have been all over the country.

Q. Have you ever been in Portland? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Portland, Oregon? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long were you there?

By Mr. German: I object to this line of examination.

A. About three or four weeks the last time.

Q. Three or four weeks the last time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long the first time?

By Mr. German: I object to this line of examination, on the ground that it is improper cross examination, incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Q. How long were you in Portland the first time?

A. I don't know.

Q. A year? A. No.

Q. Six months? A. Maybe a day.

Q. Maybe a day? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, was it a day? A. I don't know.

Q. Was it a day or a month?

A. I was traveling, I didn't know how long.

Q. You were traveling. Did you ever gamble in Portland? A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you live in Portland?

A. With a relation—a relative.

Q. You lived with a relative? A. I stopped there.

Q. Is that relative still living, you stopped there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you won't say whether it was a day or a month?

A. This time I was there a couple of weeks, I think, maybe longer.

Q. Which time, the first time?

A. I don't know, I have been there a good many times.

Q. Been there a good many times? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have traveled a good deal, haven't you?

A. I don't know.

Q. How many times have you been in San Francisco?

A. Five or six.

Q. Five or six times?

A. I don't know, I judge five or six, more than twice I will say.

Q. Have you ever been in New Orleans? A. No, sir.

Q. How long did you live there? A. No, sir.

Q. Never been there? A. No, sir.

Q. Been in San Antonio? A. No, sir.

Q. Been in Los Angeles? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you live in Los Angeles?

A. I never lived there.

Q. How long did you stay there?

A. I stayed there four or five times, possibly two or three weeks at the longest.

Q. How long did you live in Butte?

A. I never lived in Butte.

Q. You ever lived in Butte? A. No, sir.

Q. Have you ever been there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Gambled any there? A. No, sir.

Q. Never gambled there? A. No, sir.

By Mr. German: I object to counsel following the route that we took on the taking of our western depositions.

Q. What year were you in Butte? A. I don't know.

Q. Now, this Indian Mary, how old a woman was she the last time you saw her? A. I don't know.

Q. You can't say? A. No, sir.

Q. You first saw her in what year?

A. It might have been seventy-six or something.

Q. How old was she then? A. I don't know.

Q. Was she a young girl?

A. Well, I wouldn't call her a spring chicken.

Q. She was a middled aged woman?

A. I don't know how old she was.

Q. Along about forty years? A. I don't know.

Q. Forty or fifty wasn't she? A. At that time?

Q. Yes?

A. I wouldn't judge that. I am not a good judge of ages, I don't know how old she was.

Q. You are sure she was a middled aged woman?

By Mr. German: We object to that as assuming something to which the witness didn't testify.

Q. That is what you said?

A. I didn't state her age, I don't know how old she was.

Q. Now, this fortune teller, you say she lived on Second, between Delaware and what? A. Cherokee.

Q. Between Delaware and Cherokee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever visit her there? A. No, sir.

Q. How did you know that she lived there, did you see her around there? A. Sir?

Q. Did you see her around there?

A. She lived there I guess.

Q. You saw her there did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many times did you see her there?

A. I don't know.

Q. How do you know that she was a fortune teller?

A. I am under the impression that she had a sign out there or something. I was told so, and I think she had a sign out there if I am not mistaken.

Q. Do you remember what she looked like?

A. No, I don't, I wouldn't know whether she was an Indian or Spanish.

Q. Tell me what she looked like.

By Mr. German: Who are you referring to, Indian Minnie or the fortune teller?

Q. The fortune teller, what kind of a looking woman was she?

A. Well, she was a colored woman, I never was in there.

Q. Just know that she was a colored woman?

A. Just know she was colored, I don't know whether a colored woman, Mexican, or Spanish, or whether she was of Indian blood, I never spoke to her in my life, I wasn't acquainted with her.

Q. You knew she was there, didn't you?

A. It was all appearances and somebody was there, and I have seen her at the door.

Q. You knew she was there if you saw her there, didn't you?

By Mr. Allen: I object to that as argumentative.

A. Well, I saw a woman there.

Q. What kind of a looking woman did you see?

A. Well, I didn't pay much attention to her.

Q. You didn't pay much attention to her at all? A. No.

Q. You don't know whether she was a large woman, a short woman, a fat woman or a thin woman, do you?

A. I can't give you a description of her, I wasn't interested in her, I never had occasion to go in there, and I never spoke to her nothing in my life.

Q. Just state that you saw her standing at the door?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What kind of a woman did you see standing at the door? A. Can't describe her now.

Q. The only thing you remember is that she was a colored woman?

A. She was colored, I don't say a negro. Would that be a negro, a colored woman, she was colored.

Q. She was colored?

A. Yes, sir, she might have been an Indian and might have been a Spaniard.

Q. What would you say, just an ordinary sized woman?

A. I can't say, I don't remember whether she was—I wasn't acquainted with her.

Q. Whether she was fat, thin, short, or small?

A. I never paid any attention to her.

Q. Never paid any attention to her at all, now you say you saw her on the street? A. I didn't say so.

Q. You didn't say that you saw her on the street?

A. No, sir.

Q. Well, you saw her at Seneca Street, didn't you?

A. I don't remember of having seen her there, I never knew her.

Q. You never knew her? A. Personally, no.

Q. The only place that you remember seeing that fortune teller was on Second Street between Delaware and Third, is that right? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is the only place you remember of seeing her?

A. Yes, sir, I might have seen her on Seneca, I knew there was a fortune teller there, but I never had occasion to go in there, so I didn't know her.

Q. What other fortune tellers do you know of in Leavenworth? A. None.

Q. You know that there are three here, don't you?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't know that? What was the name of that fortune teller? A. I don't know.

Q. Only what you were told?

A. Oh, I heard the name frequently years ago, I think they called her Mrs. Teeters, I don't know her by that name, that is the name she went by I think.

Q. Mrs. Teeters, now you are sure, are you, that the fortune teller that you knew on Second between Delaware and Cherokee is the same fortune teller that was in the old Seneca House up on Second between—up on Seneca between Second and Third, and you wish to testify to that fact, do you?

A. It looked like her.

Q. It looked like her? A. Yes.

Q. Or then you did see her on Seneca Street?

A. I said I might have seen her.

Q. Well, what did she look like?

A. I don't just remember.

Q. What did she look like?

A. Well, I can't describe her.

Q. You remember what she looked like?

A. Well, I know what I was told, I never was in the place at any time.

Q. I am not asking about what you were told but what you know? A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know, can't give me an idea of what she looked like, can you?

By Mr. Blakeney: Which one is that, the one on Seneca Street?

By Mr. German: He is talking about the Teeters woman.

By Mr. Hanford: That is just what I am inquiring about.

By Mr. German: I was answering Mr. Blakeney's question, he hadn't been listening. He was talking to me, Bell, Mr. Bond, or some one.

(Witness dismissed.)

And thereupon, the witness, JOHN T. BEECHLER, who was just dismissed from the witness stand, is recalled, and further testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Beechler, when did you learn that you were going to be called as a witness in this case? A. I think Friday.

Q. Friday night?

A. No, I think it was in the afternoon.

Q. Who notified you?

A. I was notified from this office. I think Mr. German.

Q. Mr. German notified you?

A. I don't know who notified me.

Q. You had talked to Mr. German prior to that?

A. Yes, sir—No, sir.

Q. You hadn't prior to that time?

A. Not before I was notified as a witness, after.

Q. Who called you as a witness? A. Sir?

Q. Who notified you you were going to be a witness?

A. I think Mr. German telephoned me, I don't know, but it was over the 'phone.

Q. The first time you talked with Mr. German was after you were notified you were going to be a witness?

A. I came up here, I was notified to come up here.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Beechler, some one called you on the 'phone?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And asked you to come up to the Postoffice Building on the second floor? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That there was a man wanted to see you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know who that was that called you?

A. No, sir.

Q. When you came, you found me up here with John Meserve, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And we talked with you, and that was in the afternoon of Friday? A. Yes, sir. Three or four gentlemen here.

Q. Had you talked with anybody about the case at all before that?

A. No, sir, that is, only incidentally.

Q. Nobody had talked to you of your knowledge of the facts? A. No, sir.

(Witness dismissed.)

Mr. German: We now offer the deposition of Mrs. Alice O'Day taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript at page 2662.

And thereupon, an adjournment is taken until nine-thirty A. M., April 7th, 1916, at Kansas City, Missouri, at the United States Grand Jury Room.

And thereafter, and on April 7th, 1916, at nine-thirty o'clock A. M., at the United States Court Grand Jury Room, Federal Building, Kansas City, Missouri, further testimony herein was taken as follows:

On behalf of the complainant:

MRS. ALICE O'DAY, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. You may state your name? A. Mrs. Alice O'Day.

Q. Where do you reside, Mrs. O'Day?

A. 800 Lydia Avenue.

Q. In Kansas City, Missouri?

A. Kansas City, Mo., yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. Yes, sir, I was raised there.

Q. You say you were raised there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you ever engaged in any business there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What kind of business was it?

A. Dressmaking and hair dressing.

Q. Where was your business located at Leavenworth?

A. 208 Shawnee Street, I think it was 208 or 210, I am not exactly sure about that, I don't remember, it is so long ago.

Q. Anyhow, between Second and Third?

A. Between Second and Third on the north side of the street in the middle of the block. I also had business in the south side.

Q. On the south side of Shawnee?

A. 610 South Fifth Street.

Q. That was after your Shawnee store?

A. No, that was before.

By Mr. Cruce: We object as leading.

A. No, that was before.

Q. That was something new to me, that was before you had your Shawnee establishment?

A. Yes, sir, that was before.

Q. You had your place of business on what street?

A. Shawnee.

Q. No, on Third Street?

A. First on South Fifth Street.

Q. That was the same kind of business?

A. Same kind of business, yes, sir.

Q. Where was that Shawnee Street place of business with reference to 217 Seneca Street? A. Where was it then?

Q. Yes, where was it with reference to 217 Seneca Street?

A. Well, now, I should judge, I don't remember exactly the number, it has been so long ago, but I should judge it was about 208 or 210, the way the numbers run there.

Q. Then, it would be across the alley?

A. Yes, across the alley.

Q. From 217 and maybe a little east?

A. Yes, I may be a little wrong, but I think it was about midway of the block.

Q. When did you establish your Shawnee Street hair dressing and dressmaking establishment?

A. In the spring of '85.

Q. In the spring of '85?

A. Yes, sir, in the spring of '85.

Q. Did you know Lillie White? A. Yes, sir.

Q. A woman named Lillie White that lived in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you first get acquainted with her?

A. When I moved there.

Q. When you moved where? A. On Shawnee.

Q. When you started that store? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you happen to get acquainted with her?

A. In a business way, dressmaking and hair dressing.

Q. I beg your pardon I didn't hear you?

A. I did dressmaking and hair dressing for some of her inmates in her house.

Q. She ran a house of ill fame? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was Lillie White's house when you started that dressmaking and hair dressing establishment?

A. It was almost opposite my back gate.

Q. Across the alley from you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember the occasion of C. S. Dassler repairing that property where Lillie White was living or had lived?

A. Yes, sir, I remember the time that—about the time that he got that.

Q. Did you know Mr. Dassler?

A. Yes, I knew Mr. Dassler well.

Q. Did you know his wife? A. Yes.

Q. Was there any complaint made after you started your store on Shawnee Street, so far as you knew, against Lillie White being in the house she was in across the alley from you?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, hearsay, and asking for an incompetent conclusion.

By Mr. Cruce: We object as immaterial.

By Mr. Hanford: I join in the objection of Mr. Blakeney and Mr. Cruce.

A. Why, yes, before that and at the time I was there.

Q. In what form was that complaint, what occurred that brought it to your attention? A. At that time?

By Mr. Cruce: We object as immaterial.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object for the same reason.

A. At that time, I think there was a petition got up.

By Mr. Blakeney: Move to strike that.

By Mr. Cruce: I didn't hear that.

A. There was a petition at that time got up to have her dispossessed. I will not be exactly positive, but I am pretty sure of it. Yes, I know there was. There was a petition at that time got up to dispossess her, and also another woman on the corner above.

Q. At what time, Mrs. O'Day?

A. Well, I think that was along about the middle of the summer.

Q. About the middle of the summer?

A. Yes, quite a time after I had moved in there.

Q. Of '85? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was the petition or not presented to you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you sign it? A. No, sir.

Q. Why? A. It wasn't business policy for me.

Q. How did it interest you for Lillie White to have her place?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object to that as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, the witness not a party to the case up to the present time.

A. I felt in one way that it was a business proposition with me, I was doing business with them, and another thing they didn't bother me, if they had been the next door to me I don't think I would have signed the petition, because they attended strictly to their own business.

By Mr. Cruce: Wouldn't have disturbed you?

A. Didn't disturb me, and I would have incurred the enmity by doing it.

Q. Why did they do business with you?

A. I was doing dressmaking and hair dressing.

Q. Mrs. O'Day, where did you live at the time you opened up your establishment on Shawnee Street?

A. With my mother.

Q. Where was your mother's?

A. The second door from the corner of Second and Shawnee.

Q. The second door from the corner of Second and Shawnee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Between Second and Third? A. Second and Third.

Q. On the north or south side?

A. North side of the street.

Q. Was that a hotel? A. Boarding house.

Q. Boarding house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was running it? A. My mother.

Q. Had she been running that boarding house very long?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How? A. Some three or four years.

Q. What was the name of it, or did it have any particular name?

A. Didn't have any name, Howard House, I till take that back, she had her cards out as the Howard House, although there was no name on the door.

Q. Did you— How long did you run your hair dressing and dressmaking establishment?

A. Well, as near as I can remember, I should judge it was over two years.

Q. Did you make any dresses that you remember anything —remember about for the inmates of Lillie White's house?

A. Yes, I made summer dresses, kimonos and silk dresses, and such as that.

Q. Do you remember what time in the summer you made those dresses?

A. Well, that was along about July, the latter part of June and July, and possibly August. It was all along through those months, and I did a great deal of hair dressing.

Q. For those girls? A. Yes.

Q. Do you now recall the names of any of her girls?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Do you remember, to refresh your memory, whether there was one there by the name of Emma Moss?

A. The name is familiar, but I wouldn't want to say positively that it was one of those girls. It has been so long and I am an poor hand to remember names, I can remember faces, but I am an awful poor hand to remember names unless it is some one I was thoroughly familiar with.

By Mr. Cruce: You don't remember names and dates?

A. Well, some dates that I can fix exactly; that is, as near as I could fix the dates the time that I lived there.

Q. Mrs. O'Day, who did you rent the building from that you had your place of business in on Shawnee?

A. I can't tell you, a German name, a market gardener on the south side, I don't remember his name, he was near Pilot Knob on the south side, what his name was I don't know.

Q. Did you change the plan of the store any or remodel it, or do any improvements there before you entered?

A. Yes, sir, it was just a store building and they made it into four rooms, partitioned it and made it into four rooms.

Q. Remodeled?

A. There was a three-room cottage between my part of the house and the alley, that was rented separate.

Q. You rented that also?

A. Well, I rented the whole property, and I re-rented to a party across the way, I don't remember what his name was, he had a barber shop across the street on the south side.

Q. You— While you were running this hair-dressing and dressmaking establishment, you were married, were you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have any children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many?

A. I had two at that time and one was born while I was there.

Q. Born while you were there? A. Born and died there.

Q. When was that child born?

A. The 15th day of January, '87.

Q. When did it die?

A. The 14th day of February, '87, I got the records of that.

Q. Couldn't be any question about that?

A. Couldn't be any question about that.

Q. When did you move out of that store?

A. In October following my baby's death.

Q. Then, it was in October, '87? A. Yes, sir.

Q. While you operated this store, did a colored woman named Mollie Letcher move into this house that had been occupied by Lillie White?

A. I never knew her as Mollie Letcher, we called her Mary.

Q. Was she ever called Granny? A. Yes.

Q. Did you know her before she moved into this house?

A. Yes, for several years.

Q. You had? A. Yes.

Q. Where had she been residing?

A. On Cherokee Street part of the time she was on Cherokee Street, part of the time she was on Choctaw Street, but I don't—I can't fix any time exactly about that, but she was on Cherokee Street for quite awhile, she worked for my mother, washed for her and she washed for me also for several years, while she was living on Choctaw.

Q. How long had you been operating your hair-dressing establishment there on Shawnee at the time your child was born?

A. Well, that was very near a year, it was the spring before that that I opened up there.

Q. Then, you opened up in '86, did you?

A. Oh, no, two years before that, two years before that. No, I was there over two years before I moved out of the building, I was there for two years or more.

Q. Now, after you made these dresses for Lillie White's girls that summer, did Lillie White move out of that house?

A. Well, yes, yes.

Q. Who moved into it?

A. This colored woman, this Mrs. Letcher that you speak of.

Q. How had you known her prior to the time that she moved into that house?

A. She was my mother's laundress for quite awhile, I didn't know her as Mollie, called her Mary Letcher.

Q. After she moved into this Seneca Street house, did she do any work for you?

A. Yes, sir, she had been washing for me about six months before I moved there, and washed for me all the time I was there. She also took care of me in confinement and took care of my child until it died.

Q. Were you ever over at her house after she moved over on Seneca? A. Yes, often.

Q. How did you happen to go over there?

A. Well, I might have wanted a piece of linen for the children most likely to get a piece of clothing for the children, or something for the—and apron or something that I needed. I never went further than he- kitchen, just went right through the back way into her kitchen.

Q. Run across the alley?

A. Yes, right through my back gate into her kitchen.

Q. And she was frequently over to your place?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object.

By Mr. Cruce: Leading, we object.

By Mr. German: I withdraw that question

Q. Mrs. O'Day, was she doing your laundry work?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And waited on you while you were ill? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you confined?

A. Right in this building across the alley from her where she was living, across the alley from her.

Q. On Shawnee? A. Yes, between Second and Third.

Q. At your store building?

A. Yes, we had three rooms, family rooms in the store building all in this building.

Q. And she waited on you during your confinement?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have occasion to talk to her very often?

A. Oh, when she was in my house, yes.

Q. Do you know what children or persons, grown or young, that she had in her family?

A. She had a son and a grandson.

Q. What were their names?

A. Why, Mayo, I think was her son, Jim, and her grandson, I think his name was Sammy.

Q. Did she have two rooms?

A. No, had one room.

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

By Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as leading, and we insist that the whole examination of this witness has been leading and suggestive.

Q. Now, was [] any other member of her family?

A. Yes, she— Well, I don't know whether she ever raised him until he was grown or not, because after I left there I don't know anything about him, but she had a little boy that a woman who cooked for my sister died and left a little boy. He roomed with Aunt Mary and Aunt Mary I think took charge of him. There was no one else to do it.

Q. What was that woman's name?

A. I think her name was Banks.

Q. Do you know what the boy's name was? A. Walter.

Q. Walter? A. Yes, I remember it was Walter.

Q. Now, was there any other boy there older than the Banks boy? A. Not that I know of.

Q. Was there any boy there in the Letcher family by the name of Indian Tommy or Tommy Atkins?

A. I never heard the name.

Q. Speak out, please madam?

A. No, I never heard of that.

Q. Do you know of any woman ever being in her home by the name of Indian Minnie, or Minnie Atkins?

A. No, I don't know of any one like that.

Q. When did you move away from Leavenworth?

A. October, 1887.

Q. October 9th, '87? A. 1887.

Q. Or October, 1887? A. Yes.

Q. Where did you move to? A. Kansas City, Kansas.

Q. Have you ever resided in Leavenworth since?

A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Where was that place on—in the south side of town?

A. I lived at 610 South Fifth Street, right opposite the Public Library.

Q. Who owned that place?

A. Well, I don't know who owned that building, I was raised in that building.

Q. You don't know who you rented it from?

A. No, I don't know, my mother I think paid the rent to a man, to a Mr. Moss, but I don't think he was the owner of the building.

Q. Did your mother move to the corner of Second and Shawnee at the same time? A. No, sir.

Q. That you opened up?

A. Oh, no, she had been living on Shawnee quite a while before I opened the hair dressing place on Shawnee Street.

Q. Then, when your mother——

A. I hadn't been in business for quite a bit when I moved over here and opened up the hair dressing place on Shawnee.

Q. Now, then, where did you live prior to the time that you opened up on Shawnee?

A. I had been living with my mother on Shawnee, second door from the corner.

Q. So you moved with her when she moved? A. Yes.

Q. And just lived with her at the place on the corner?

A. Yes, lived with her.

Q. And then you opened up? A. Opened up on Shawnee.

Q. Do you remember what month it was when you opened up?

A. No, I wouldn't exactly say, but I judge somewhere near the latter part of May.

Q. Some place near the latter part of May?

A. Yes, I wouldn't be positive about the dates, because I don't absolutely remember the dates.

Q. Then, Lillie White and her girls were customers of yours?

A. Some of the girls were, I didn't work for Lillie White at all, I worked for some of the girls.

Q. You just knew that they were some of the girls that lived with Lillie White? A. Yes, they told me that, yes.

Q. You didn't visit at the house, at Lillie White's house?

A. No.

Q. You didn't know who was in there of your own knowledge? A. No, only the names that came to the house is all.

Q. And they always came to you? A. Yes.

Q. How long did you work for those girls?

A. Oh, several months, I couldn't say exactly how long.

Q. Did you do any work for them after that, after Lillie White moved? A. No, no.

Q. Did you do any work for any girls of that character after that time? A. Yes, I did work for several.

Q. Did you know where they all came from?

A. Where they came from?

Q. What houses they were inmates of?

A. Oh, no, I don't know as I knew all of them. Some of them were with Stella Forest, I remember that, on the corner.

By Mr. German: On what corner?

A. Second and Seneca.

Q. And some of them were girls from Lillie White's?

A. Well, those I worked for. Lillie White's were before she moved.

Q. What I am asking is, after Lillie White moved away, these girls that had been customers of yours, did they drop right off or come back?

A. No, I think most of them disappeared as far as I knew.

Q. You don't know where Lillie White moved to?

A. Well, I don't know that positively, I heard she moved to Kansas City, but whether she did or not, I don't know, I don't remember.

Q. So at the time these girls came to you, all you knew about them was that they were girls from Lillie White's?

A. Yes.

Q. And you don't know anything about Lillie White after she moved?

A. No, not after that. I don't remember a thing about it, only I heard that she had moved to Kansas City.

Q. What was in that place where you opened up before you got it? A. It was an empty store building.

Q. Just an empty store building?

A. An empty store building and my husband partitioned it, put four rooms in it.

Q. It was standing there an empty store building and you simply took it? A. Yes.

Q. How long had it been a vacant store building before you got it?

A. Well, I can't say that, how long it had been—sometime, I think.

Q. There was no indication of what had been in there before you moved in?

A. Well, I don't think it had ever been used for anything only store purposes, some kind of business.

Q. What makes you think that it was the month of May that you opened up?

A. Well, it was not right in the early part of the spring, that is as near as I can place it, I was thinking it was about the latter part of May, I wouldn't attempt to fix the time, because it was later than the early spring.

Q. Well, it might have been earlier?

A. Yes, it might have been earlier.

Q. Now, about this petition, you say there had been petitions prior to the time you moved in there about Lillie White?

A. Well, not only Lillie White, but with all of those places there had been complaints made because it was a residential district.

Q. That was in what is called, in police terms, a licensed district, that is where they allowed those kind of places?

A. Well, I don't know whether they licensed them or not.

Q. I don't mean in the real sense of licenses, I mean it was in a place where those places were allowed?

A. No, that couple of blocks there was residence districts, most all of them German people, and they objected on that account, they owned homes there.

Q. And that agitation finally resulted in forcing Lillie White to move?

A. Yes, sir, it did, I think if I am not mistaken, I am sure about that, but I think there was others that was requested to move about the same time, because it was there in the residential district, but I won't be sure about that.

Q. Where were those other places located?

A. Well, all over Choctaw and Cherokee, and the lower part of Shawnee, some of them on Seneca. Stella Forest. I think was on the corner of Seneca and Second.

Q. Did she move?

A. Yes, she moved. I understood she moved to Kansas City, but whether she did or not, I can't say.

Q. Did she move before or after Lillie White?

A. I think it was after.

Q. Now, you never visited any in Granny Letcher's home as a visitor? A. Oh, no, I had no occasion to visit her.

Q. You were not on familiar terms other than that she was a servant? A. Oh, no, other than she was a servant.

Q. You didn't inquire into her household affairs?

A. Oh, no.

Q. Or boarding house affairs?

A. She had spoke to me about keeping roomers, she always did do that ever since I knew her.

Q. You didn't inquire who the roomers were? A. No.

Q. You weren't interested in that? A. No.

Q. Granny Letcher had a number of children around there a number of times?

A. Well, I don't know only those three.

Q. You didn't inquire and find out? A. No.

Q. Those were the members of her family?

A. Well, the only members that she had in her family were her son and grandson that I knew anything about, only this little boy—my sister—she cooked for her several months and my sister had to turn her off, and I knew Granny kept him because there was nobody else to take him.

Q. And you didn't know of any other children?

A. No, and I believe if Granny had had it she would have said something about it.

By Mr. Hanford: I move to strike the latter part of the witness' answer as not responsive to the question, purely voluntary and an opinion and conclusion and uncalled for.

Q. You didn't know any of the patrons and other inmates of her house at all? A. No.

Q. Or who was there? A. No.

Q. You didn't know whose children she had care of and nursed?

A. I don't know, as I say, I didn't know but these three.

Q. You didn't know any girls that she attended in childbirth besides yourself? A. No.

Q. You didn't know of any girls that came to her house to give birth to children? A. I never heard of it.

Q. Those things were all outside of your interests?

A. Yes, outside of my interest and what I knew.

Q. Did you care— Did you do any advertising for your place of business?

A. No, I didn't need to have any advertising.

By Mr. Blakeney: Just answer it yes or no.

Q. You simply opened up and it was known that you had the place where your friends patronized you?

A. Well, I had been in business previous to that on the other side of town, as I told you, and my customers knew that.

Q. There was an interim when you didn't have——

A. Yes, interim when I didn't have any business. After I was married I hadn't done any hair dressing work until I did that.

Q. You were married when you lived on South Fifth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the date of your marriage?

A. The first day of January, 1880.

Q. Then, it was about five years before you went into business again? A. Yes.

Q. Where did you live during that five years?

A. Well, there was a year that I still lived on South Fifth

Street, and then my husband opened a confectionery and ice cream parlor on Fifth Street just south of Choctaw.

Q. Did he have that place when you were married?

A. No.

Q. How soon did he open that up after you were married?

A. About a year afterwards, a little over a year.

Q. A little over a year after you were married? A. Yes.

Q. Were you living on South Fifth when he opened that up? A. Yes, yes, and we moved from——

Q. Was that— So that after you married you were more than a year then on South Fifth?

A. Yes, just a little over a year.

Q. How soon after he opened up that confectionery did you move to Shawnee?

A. Well, we only had that just a few months and we sold it in the height of the season, we opened that in the spring.

Q. How soon after you sold it did you move to Shawnee Street?

A. I moved right, just as soon as I sold that I moved right out to my mother's, Second and Shawnee.

Q. That is when you went out to her?

A. Second and Shawnee, yes.

Q. Then, you didn't move to Shawnee Street at the same time that your mother moved, she moved ahead——

A. Oh, yes, my mother was right with me at the time, but she opened this boarding house, I had nothing to do with that. She opened the boarding house and my husband was engineer for Kelley-Lyle Mill, and after an explosion they had he went to Waldron, Mo., and I was out of the city at that time.

Q. Was that the time that the Kelley-Lyle Mill burned down?

A. Yes, right after it. He had a position with them after we sold out this confectionery and after the explosion, when the mill burned; they bought the mill at Waldron, Missouri, and he went there, but I didn't go with him right away. My mother opened this house at Second and Shawnee and I went later, I don't remember the date I went down there.

Q. Then, after he went to Waldron, you remained at Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. Then, how long did you remain in Leavenworth before you moved to Kansas City after that?

A. Oh, I moved to Kansas City in '87, that was in '82.

Q. That was in '82? A. Along about '82, yes.

Q. When the mill burned?

A. Yes, eighty-one or two, but it was about eighty-two when I came back from Waldron and moved in with my mother.

Q. Then you moved back from Waldron and moved in with your mother? A. Yes.

Q. Then, how long did you stay in Waldron?

A. Only just about two months.

Q. Only just about two months?

A. Yes, I was down and they brought me home and I didn't go back any more.

Q. Now, let me see if I got this straight. You were married January 1st, 1880? A. '80, yes, sir.

Q. And about a year or so after you were married, your husband bought this confectionery place?

A. Yes, he furnished it himself, he didn't buy it out, he furnished it.

Q. He set up the confectionery place? A. Yes.

Q. And then he had that for several months?

A. Yes, but that was after the fire, that was after the mill fire.

Q. Oh, that was after the fire?

A. Yes, as near as I can bring dates, I don't remember the date of that, but as near as I can get to that was the time of the heavy storm—the cyclone that killed those girls in the Academy there. Our house the whole roof of it was torn to pieces at that time. If I am not mistaken that was in May, sometime along there, because the children were all killed here in Kansas City, and nearly——

Q. Lathrop School? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Cruce: Eighty-one?

A. Eighty-one I think, because I know we had the '81 flood right close to the same time.

By Mr. Hanford: I move to strike the remark as uncalled for from the sidelines.

By Mr. Blakeney: I would like to have counsel designate. I didn't hear any remarks.

A. That was the time that I was in the confectionery.

Q. That was the time that you were in the confectionery?

A. Yes, sir, and it was soon after that that we sold it out.

By Mr. German: What was the motion of Mr. Hanford, the last motion that you made?

By Mr. Hanford: I withdraw my motion to strike.

By Mr. German: About the '81 flood, that is what you were talking about, wasn't it?

By Mr. Hanford: I think the witness volunteered something I hadn't asked her yet, and I wanted to lead up to it.

A. Well, they were both close together.

Q. Now, at the time of this cyclone, you were in the confectionery store? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it was long about——

A. The building was in the Southwest corner of Choctaw and Fifth.

Q. Just a minute, let me direct your attention to what I am asking you. You sold out shortly after that time, or was that the time that you opened up?

A. No, sold out shortly after the storm.

Q. Did that storm do any damage to your place of business?

A. Yes, tore the roof all off, and awnings on the front, and the building to the side of me——

Q. Was that influential in causing you to sell out?

A. Oh, no.

Q. You simply remember that it damaged that place?

A. No, just had a chance to sell it out and make some money.

Q. It put you to considerable expense repairing the damage before you sold?

A. Oh, no, we didn't have anything to do with that. The landlord did that. We didn't have anything to do with that.

Q. Now then it was about that time that you moved to Shawnee Street?

A. Shawnee and Second.

Q. Then how long did you say you lived at Shawnee before you opened up this place of business?

A. Well that was from '81 to '85 when we moved up there right after we sold the restaurant.

Q. Now let me call your attention to the question. I am not asking you the year I am asking how long about you lived at Shawnee Street with your mother before you opened up your place of business?

A. Well, I can't say exactly that, how long it was. I should judge it was a couple of years.

Q. It was at least a couple of years?

A. Yes, somewhere in the neighborhood of that.

Q. I thought you stated a while ago it was three or four years.

A. No, you asked me how long my mother lived there.

Q. Just a minute. And you know it was at least a couple of years? A. Well it was near that. Somewhere near that.

Q. Now do you remember the year of that storm?

A. Well, I am not positive.

Q. You don't remember of your own knowledge?

A. No, I am not positive. No I wouldn't say positive of the year, at the same time—— That is as near as I can fix it, soon after that storm.

Q. And you remember at the time of that storm there were a number of people killed in Kansas City? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the school children in that school were killed?

A. No, they were killed [] St. Mary's Academy. There were one or two girls killed there. I am not positive about the storm in Kansas City and the storm in Leavenworth being the same night. I don't know for sure about whether it was the same night or not. I won't be positive about that but if I am not mistaken that storm was at the time that we had a terrible cyclone there and as it runs in my mind I think it was at the time that the girls were hurt there in the academy but I don't aim to fix the date.

Mr. German: Out of the town?

A. At Leavenworth but I wouldn't be positive about it. To fix dates I wouldn't do that.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Mrs. O'Day is your husband living or dead?

A. He is living so far as I know.

Q. Are you living with him? A. No, sir.

Q. How long since you lived with him? A. Since '87.

Q. Since '87? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was it you——

A. No I take that back, '88.

Q. '88? A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember when Granny Letcher lived on Seneca Street? A. No, I don't.

Q. Do you remember who lived at Number Two on Seneca Street between Second and Third?

A. At Number Two?

Q. Yes mam. I mean at this time when Granny Letcher lived there?

A. At Number Two Shawnee Street?

Q. No, I mean Seneca Street?

A. No, no. I don't know. I told you I didn't remember the numbers. I knew quite a few that was in the block but I don't remember the numbers.

Q. Do you remember when Governor Francis was elected Governor of Missouri?

Mr. German: I object to that as improper cross-examination.

A. No, I don't know. I don't pay attention enough to politics to know that.

Q. Do you remember when the present governor was elected Governor of Missouri?

Mr. German: The same objection.

A. Well, no, I won't say anything about the date because I don't know. I don't pay attention enough to it.

Q. Do you remember when Mr. Wilson was elected President of the United States?

A. No I expect it was about four years ago as near as I can tell anything about the newspapers.

Q. When was he elected President of the United States?

A. I can't tell you that because I don't know. I don't pay any attention to politics.

Q. When was it that you went over to Granny Letcher's and found out the members of her family?

A. I never did to find out the members of her family.

Q. Then you don't know then who were the members of her family?

A. I certainly do. I certainly knew her son well. Knew the grandson.

Q. Well where was Tommy Atkins living when you were living there?

A. I don't know anything about Tommy Atkins.

Q. When did you find out that he was not a member of her family?

A. I never knew him to be one.

Q. I say, when did you find out that he was not a member of her family?

A. I say, I never knew him to be one.

Q. Do you know now that he was not a member?

A. No, sir, I don't know that he was or was not.

Q. You have no information about that?

A. No, sir. I said I never knew anything about him.

Q. Well you had been over there hadn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had been over there to find out who the members of the family were?

A. I didn't go to find out who the members of the family were. I went to get pieces of linen or something for the children. She washed for me.

Q. How many times did you go over there to get pieces of wash?

A. I can't tell you anything like that. She did my family washing. I didn't keep record of anything like that.

Q. Do [] remember now any particular time that you went over there to get some of your washing?

A. No, only when she was living there I went across the alley occasionally.

Q. What year was that, '81 or '82?-

A. No, '84 or '85?.——no '87.

Q. '87?

A. Yes, sir. When she was doing my laundry there.

Q. She didn't do any laundry for you in '85 or '86?

A. Yes, she did.

Q. But you didn't go over after any washing in '85 and '86? It was '87 that you went?

A. No, she was doing my washing but she was living in the other end of town.

Q. When was it you went over there to get the pieces of linen? A. '87.

Q. '87? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many times in '87?

A. I can't tell you that sir.

Q. Have you any idea? A. No, I haven't.

Q. You don't know whether it was one time or a dozen times?

A. No, I don't think it was a dozen times, a few times.

Q. What pieces of washing was it left out that you had to go to get?

A. Wasn't any left out. She hadn't brought the laundry home and I needed a piece of laundry for the children. That was the only time that I was in her house.

Q. You walked across the alley did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go in her house?

A. Only to the kitchen.

Q. Only to the kitchen? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well did she have all her family gathered in the kitchen?

A. I don't remember seeing them. Might have been there and might have not.

Q. Did you ask her who the members of her family were?

A. No, I didn't.

Q. Then you don't [] whether there was a Tommy Atkins or not, do you?

A. No, sir, I don't. I didn't say I did.

Q. There might have been a Tommy Atkins there?

A. There might have been.

Mr. German: Wait a minute. I object to that question and if the witness answered it before the objection I ask to strike the answer on the ground it is argumentative and speculative.

Q. There might have been a Tommy Atkins there that you didn't see, Mrs. O'Day?

Mr. German: The same objection.

Q. Is that right?

A. There might have been. I don't know.

Q. Well what became of Minnie Atkins?

A. I don't know that. I didn't know her.

Q. You were not well acquainted with her as you were with Granny Letcher?

A. No, sir. I didn't know her at all.

Q. Well were you ever about the military post?

A. I couldn't have been raised in Leavenworth and not have been very well

Q. Were you pretty well acquainted about the military post?

A. Enough to go up and go around it, is all. Nobody particularly, personally, that I was acquainted with there. There were some.

Q. Did you know a soldier up there named Peterkin?

A. No, sir, I didn't know no soldiers.

Q. Well did you know any Indian woman that stayed in Leavenworth? About those days?

A. No, sir, I didn't. Never heard of it.

Q. You never heard of there being? Mrs. O'Day when did you first begin thinking about who the members of Granny Letcher's family were in 1887?

A. Well, I don't know that I commenced to think anything about it. It didn't interest me at all only that she worked for my mother for years and I knew the boys. Didn't any of us but knew the boy in town, grew up with them.

Q. How came you to be a witness?

A. Subpoenaed is all I know.

Q. Did any one talk to you before you were subpoenaed?

A. Yes.

Q. Who?

A. An attorney. A gentleman came to see me and asked me if I knew these parties in Leavenworth and I told him I did.

Q. Do you see any of the gentlemen that came to see you?

A. Yes.

Q. Who? A. There is one of them.

Q. Me?

A. No. There is one of them over there. That one right there. That is that one.

Q. Mr. Buell? A. Yes.

Q. Who else?

A. That one right there. The red-headed one.

Q. Mr. Meserve?

A. No. He can't deny being red-headed.

Q. No I don't think he can. And who else?

A. This gentleman here.

Q. Mr. German?

A. I don't know what their names are. I had an introduction to him but I don't remember.

Mr. German: He is pointing to German if it is not clear.

Q. This old gentleman at my right, Mr. Blakeney, didn't come to see you?

A. I don't know. There was another gentleman but I won't swear to it.

Q. You mean another man. Mr. Buell was the first man that came to see you?

A. That gentleman over there.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Mrs. O'Day I want you to go back and see if I can get some of your earlier history in Leavenworth straightened out in my mind. You went to Leavenworth when?

A. When I first went to Leavenworth?

Q. Yes?

A. '70 when I was a child. That was when we first moved to Leavenworth.

Q. How old were you? A. Seven years old.

Q. Seven? A. Yes.

Q. Born in 1863? A. No, '62.

Q. How old are you now?

A. That is a leading question. You should not ask a lady that. I will be fifty-four the first of May. I am not ashamed of it a bit.

Q. I was asking you merely to see your mathematical education and computation and you was married at what age?

A. I was married in '81. No 1880, the first day of January. Just about such a day as this.

Q. You don't know how old you were when you were married?

A. I was only about seventeen. I think—I am not positive.

Q. You married Mr. O'Day? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I believe you said about the first year that you were married that your husband worked at the mill? A. Yes.

Q. And how long did you say he was at the mill after you were married?

A. Well, I don't know exactly how long it was. He worked at the mill there until it burned whenever that was.

Q. Until it burned?

A. Yes. A little over a year. It might have been longer. I wouldn't be positive.

Q. Now I believe you said this fire resulted from an explosion of a boiler or something?

A. No, it was spontaneous combustion. That is what they called it.

Q. Where did you live in reference to the—where the mill was? A. Oh, I lived quite a ways from the mill.

Q. You didn't live close to the mill? A. No.

Q. And you were not acquainted around the mill?

A. No, there wasn't anything around the mill but factories to amount to anything.

Q. You remember there were some negro shanties around the mill? A. Yes, there was quite a few.

Q. Do you remember that negro shanty where the negro Scott lived? A. No, I don't.

Q. Mary Anthony lived there. You remember that?

A. Mary Anthony?

Q. Yes, or Antherny?

A. He didn't live near the mill.

Q. He? Who are you speaking of?

Mr. Cruce: Mary she is speaking of?

A. Oh.

Q. Mary Anthony, a colored woman? A. No.

Q. You remember Mary Anthony that lived there—had the child that Granny kept a while, don't you?

A. Annie is all I remember of.

Q. Annie? A. Yes.

Q. She lived down at the mill?

A. No, she lived on Choctaw Street.

Q. She lived at the mill that burned down and came up there to Granny Letcher's the day of the fire?

A. I don't know anything about that.

Q. Annie who?

A. This child Granny Letcher raised—this Walter.

Q. You are talking about the mother of Walter?

A. Yes. I don't know about these other parties at all.

Q. You didn't know about any nearly white looking colored child? A. No.

Q. A little girl being raised there at Granny's?

A. No, I don't know. The only one that I know about, Aunt Mary, is what I heard her talk of. She had always, I told you, roomers. Most of these women worked and Aunt Mary would take care of their children while they worked for them out in town. I don't know that Aunt Mary raised any.

Q. Did you know of this woman?

A. No, I didn't know them.

Q. You lived right across the alley, didn't you?

A. Only this Walter is the only one I knew anything about.

Q. You just said that Aunt Molly did keep children while these women were working. Did you know the children?

A. I didn't know those children, no.

Q. Didn't know them and lived right across the alley?

A. Well, I don't, none but this Walter Banks.

Q. Walter Banks lived there before you came?

A. Walter Banks didn't live there before I came. Walter Banks was the youngest child she had. The mother of that child worked for my sister in the hotel.

Q. You knew Walter Banks' mother?

A. Yes, I knew the mother.

Q. Did his mother work for your sister? A. Yes.

Q. You knew the woman was working for your sister and had the child? A. Yes.

Q. And you knew the child was being taken care of in the day time by Granny Letcher? A. Yes.

Q. But there were women that worked for other people that you didn't know who had their children with Granny Letcher?

A. No, the ones that I heard of Granny Letcher speaking of keeping, the one that I remember, she was a cook for my sister.

Q. Another woman cooking for your sister?

A. Yes, Margaret Chase and I understand she left her girl with Granny when she was working out.

Q. Well you understand. What do you mean by that?

A. What I heard them say. The mother would say the child was with Granny Letcher.

Q. Didn't you see it across the alley?

A. No, she wasn't across the alley from me at that time. That was before that.

Q. Before they moved? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You went down to get clothing or to get an apron before she moved?

A. Never did go to her house except when she was on Seneca Street.

Q. Never did go to get an apron nor—for your child before Granny lived up there? A. No.

Q. Never had seen the child?

A. Yes I seen that child of course because its mother had it at my sister's.

Q. Granny had that child?

A. Granny had the child.

Q. You didn't understand the question. I asked if you saw that one there? A. Yes, I saw it.

Q. Where was it? A. At Granny's.

Q. Where was she then? A. On Seneca Street.

Q. She did have this child on Seneca Street then?

A. She had this Walter Banks.

Q. Were you talking about Walter Banks?

A. You asked me if I knew about the children that she kept in the house. That is the only one that I knew about.

Q. Didn't you say your sister had another woman that cooked for her who had a child that Granny kept a while?

A. Yes, but you didn't let me finish that.

Q. Didn't you understand I was inquiring about that child?

A. I don't know. You were inquiring about children and you didn't give me a chance to tell how I knew them.

Q. I wanted you to tell me what you saw.

A. I can't say that I saw this girl there at Mary's house because I wasn't there.

Q. What year were you married in? A. '80.

Q. Why have you said '81? A. I didn't say '81.

Q. You never said that?

A. I don't think so. I was interested enough to know when I was married. I would have that date.

Q. How many children have you had during your married life that lived? A. Three, sir.

Q. Three that lived?

A. No, sir, I have got three living and one dead.

Q. What are the names of your children?

A. Clarence, Charles and Clara.

Q. Who is the older? A. Francis.

Q. Francis the oldest and who is the next?

A. Charles.

Q. What is the next one?

A. Clara is the third one.

Q. When was Francis born? A. '81.

Q. What time? A. The second of April.

Q. When was the next one born?

A. In '82 while I was in Waldron at the mill. While my husband was engineer at the mill then at that time.

Q. How long did your husband run that mill at Waldron? A. Why he wasn't there very long.

Q. Where did he go to from——

A. I don't know exactly how long.

Q. Well approximately how long?

A. Oh I should judge about six or seven months, somewhere in there.

Q. Where did you go from there? A. To Leavenworth.

Q. Where did you live when you came back to Leavenworth?

A. I lived at my mother's, Second and Shawnee.

Q. How long did you live with your mother then?

A. Oh I should judge it was in the neighborhood of two years, before I left her again.

Q. Where did you go to then?

A. I opened a place for myself then there on Shawnee.

Q. On Shawnee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where abouts on Shawnee?

A. Well as near as I can figure, and the rest of you figured—I figure it was '85. I can't exactly state the date.

Q. Who else has figured it that way?

A. Why you people have right here, when you were talking. Fixed it about that.

Q. Have I fixed it at '85? A. No, you haven't.

Q. Who has?

A. Well the ones that were asking questions. From the questions as near as I could make it '85.

Q. Who suggested '85 to you in this room?

A. Nobody suggested it any more than the questions that has been asked. I said that the nearest that I could fix that date that I was in that building was from two years before my child was born. I should judge it was some months over two years. I can't fix that date because I don't remember it.

Q. Where was your child Clara born?

A. Right in this building between Second and Third on Shawnee.

Q. Between Second and Third on Shawnee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What child? A. Clara.

Q. Clara, that was your oldest child?

A. That was my oldest child, yes, sir.

Q. And your first child was born where?

A. No sir, she was born in South Leavenworth.

Q. South Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your first child Francis was born in South Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your second child was born at Waldron?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your third child was born at Second and Shawnee?

A. Not at Second and Shawnee, no sir. At the middle of the block between Second and Third.

Q. Well I mean between Second and Third on Shawnee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who asked you to determine just how long it was that you had gone into business there? A. Why nobody.

Q. Before your last child was born? A. Nobody.

Q. Never suggested it to you? A. No, sir.

Q. No date was ever suggested to you?

A. No, sir. I can't say that anybody ever suggested anything to me about it.

Q. You said that the best you could figure it?

A. Well the question was asked me, when I moved there.

Q. And you just figured it out on the stand?

A. As near as I could. I was there a little over two years and I figured it from my child's birth and death. That is the only thing I can figure it from.

Q. Who asked you the question?

A. I think that gentleman there.

Q. Pointing to whom?

A. This gentleman right there.

Q. Pointing to Mr. Hanford? A. Mr. Hanford.

Mr. German: Mr. Hanford.

Q. And then you have done your figuring since you came on the stand?

A. Why should I figure it before? This doesn't interest me a bit.

Q. Please answer my question, yes or no? A. Why no.

Q. Well when did you figure it?

A. Well just from the dictations of the questions that have been asked me is what I am trying to get at. I am answering it as near as I know how.

Q. Now you knew didn't you that Granny Letcher didn't move up to Seneca Street until 1886?

A. She moved there while I was there.

Mr. Allen: I want to object to the further cross-examination of this witness by counsel representing Henry Carter and now enter our protest of objection to the counsel—more than one counsel representing the interests of the Page-Carter-Atkins side of the case as they have been in conference. Their interests are identical and it is unfair for more than one of them to cross-examine the witnesses upon the same questions.

Mr. Blakeney: If the right to cross-examine is denied me I will ask the court to strike out all of the evidence of this witness because this right and privilege has been denied me.

Q. How about two years before the child was born, your last child was born, you had closed out your dressmaking establishment and had gone to live with your mother?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now Mrs. O'Day you say about—it might have been a little longer or a little shorter?

A. Well, I think it was. You mean from the time I closed out my business?

Q. Yes, until your child was born?

A. Oh, it was more than any two years. I will put it more than that.

Q. It was more than that? A. Yes.

Q. How long would you say it was now?

A. I was in Waldron but a couple of months myself.

Q. What child are you referring to then now? Or do you understand that I am referring to?

A. The one that Mary Letcher took care of and me in my illness at the time.

Q. Which one was that?

A. That was the youngest one, the one that is dead.

Q. Named Clara? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you living when Clara was born?

A. I was living there between Second and Third on Shawnee.

Q. On Shawnee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you had been living there about two years or more?

A. Yes, sir, I think possibly a little more than two years.

Q. Now after reflection what would be your best recollection?

A. Well I don't know. I can't exactly place that but I know that I was there from the time that I was left—my mother left Leavenworth—after I came back from Waldron, it was just a little over two years that I was in that place after I came back from Waldron. It must have been two and a half from the time I opened up there. It was along about two and a half possible four.

Q. Two and a half years?

A. It is a guess. I can't exactly state, dates because I don't remember.

Q. I am not expecting it accurately but try to give your best recollection?

A. I expect about two and a half years. Possibly more, possibly less.

Q. Your judgment would be it would be between two and a half and three years? A. Yes.

Mr. Allen: We obect to that and ask that the answer be stricken because the question is not based upon the testimony of the witness, assuming testimony that the witness has not given.

Q. When did you go to Waldron with reference to the time that you moved to your mother's place?

A. Why I couldn't say that. That must have been in September in '82 when I went to Waldron.

Q. '82 when you went to Waldron? A. Yes.

Q. And you stayed at Waldron?

A. A couple of months.

Q. A couple of months and then you came back to your mother's place and then your husband came and joined you?

A. Yes.

Q. What did he do then?

A. He went to work for the gluecose works.

Q. Glucose?

A. Yes, they called it the sugar factory.

Q. How long did he work there?

A. He worked there until we left for Kansas City.

Q. Permanently for Kansas City? A. Yes.

Q. About how long was that? A. We left there in '87.

Q. About how long did your husband work in that from the time that he went to work?

A. Well I judge about five years.

Q. About five years?

A. Yes, in the neighborhood of it.

Q. Now after you came back from Waldron and your husband went to work for the glucose company what did you do? A. What did I do?

Q. Yes?

A. Stayed with my mother until I opened up that place of business.

Q. Stayed with your mother until you opened up your place of business in South Leavenworth?

A. Yes. No it wasn't South Leavenworth. On Shawnee between Second and Third.

Q. On Shawnee between Second and Third? A. Yes.

Q. And how long did you stay in business there?

A. Two and a half years; between two and three.

Q. On Shawnee Street?

A. Yes, sir. My husband was here working at the glucose factory.

Q. How long was it after your husband went to work at the glucose factory before you started your place on Shawnee Street? A. I can't state that.

Q. About?

A. Well, it was in the spring following. He came back at Christmas.

Q. He came back?

A. Yes, from Waldron. He came back at Christmas, along about Christmas time.

Q. Christmas week? A. Yes, Christmas week.

Q. And in the spring following that you started the business there on Shawnee Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you stayed there two or three years?

A. It was between two and three years. I won't say positively whether it was that spring or the spring following. The latter part of that spring. I can't be positive about that.

Q. I know, but I understand you know he came home Christmas?

A. He came home Christmas week and never went back to the mill any where any more.

Q. You are not sure whether it was the spring after Christmas or the next spring?

A. It was the spring following after the spring he came home.

Q. After you closed up at Shawnee Street did you go up to Seneca Street?

A. No, sir, I moved to Kansas City, Kansas.

Q. You did what?

A. I never did live on Seneca Street. I moved to Kansas City, Kansas.

Q. You never lived on Seneca Street? A. No, sir.

Q. You lived down on Shawnee? A. I lived on Shawnee.

Q. And lived there about two and a half years, or three?

A. Yes, sir, nearly three.

Q. And Granny lived there across the alley from you?

A. Yes, sir, just before I lived there Granny lived across the alley.

Q. From Shawnee Street? A. She was on Seneca.

Q. She had been on Seneca but she moved?

A. No. She was on Choctaw Street when she moved up there.

Q. And moved up where? A. On Seneca.

Q. Where was that place of business?

A. I was right there on Shawnee Street when she moved in there.

Q. When she moved up on Seneca you were on Shawnee Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now which direction did your house face?

A. I faced south.

Q. You faced south? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Granny faced north?

A. Yes, sir, her house was facing north and mine south when she was taking care of me in my illness there.

Q. What kind of house was she living in?

A. Two story house.

Mr. Cruce: Brick or stone?

A. I think it was part brick and part stone. One part of it I think was brick. I am not sure of that.

Q. Which was brick, the second story? A. No.

Q. Of stone?

A. No. It wasn't stone I don't think.

Q. You don't think so?

A. No, I won't be positive about the house at all.

Q. Do you remember that it was an old story and a half building?

A. It was an old building. I don't know. I am not positive about that whether it was stone or frame. I wouldn't be sure because I didn't pay no attention to it at all. I didn't live there long enough and wasn't interested in the street at all. I wasn't off of the street in fact. I was with my mother and was busy and I don't remember exactly about that.

Q. Now how long did you continue to live there after Granny had moved over there?

A. Well I don't [ ] exactly how long it was from the time she moved in there but I moved over there in October after my child died and she was living there then and cared for me through my illness.

Q. In October 1887?

A. Oh, no, that is when I moved over there.

Q. October, '87?

A. Yes. She took care of me in January and February, '87.

Q. '87? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She took care of you in January and February of '87?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now can you say how long she had lived in there before that? A. No I can't.

Q. And you moved away from there in October of '87?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your child was born in January of '87?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now you said something about this Lathrop School?

A. Well that was in regard to something asked me where I was living before I lived on Shawnee Street.

Q. Well what did you know about any Lathrop School?

A. Well that Lathrop School, we knew that from the papers.

Q. What was it you knew about it?

A. The time of the cyclone and killing the children.

Q. Where was the Lathrop School? A. That was here.

Q. Kansas City, Missouri? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was quite a well known event? A. Oh, yes.

Q. Was it?

A. He asked me where I was living at the time.

Q. I am not talking about him. I am not on speaking terms with him. Let's forget him. A. Well.

Q. I am asking you what you recall about the Lathrop School? A. About the cyclone is all.

Q. A cyclone came and destroyed the school and killed a lot of the school children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it was a matter of general public sympathy and sorrow? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you remembered it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well they didn't have any cyclone or any storm at that time at Leavenworth did you?

A. Well, no, I don't think the storm was at that time. I don't recall whether the storm that was at Leavenworth was at that time or not, but we had a cyclone and also injured children in school.

Q. Had a cyclone there at Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Killed one child in your school at Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Blew the roofs off of some buildings there?

A. Yes, sir. Quite a bit of the town.

Q. And part of the roofs off? A. Yes.

Q. And you remember that incident? A. Yes.

Q. Now you remember it mainly because it blew some of the roof off of your own place? A. Yes.

Q. And after the storm had done its havoc it was reported as sweeping over Indiana and Illinois?

A. I don't know about that.

Q. Didn't follow it that far in its course? A. No.

Q. You said, I believe, that that occurred while your husband was working down at the mill?

A. No, I didn't say anything like that—I don't think I did.

Q. Oh I beg your pardon.

A. The gentleman asked me where I was living at that time and I told him.

Q. It was when your husband was in the confectionery business?

A. He was in the confectionery business, yes.

Q. And your husband was in the confectionery business a year after you were married?

A. Oh, no—— Yes, a year after we married.

Q. So you did know that the storm occurred in 1881?

A. That was in 1881 I think, when the storm was. I am not going to be positive about that but I think though.

Q. Well you are positive your husband didn't stay in the confectionery business any spring except the spring of '80 and '81?

A. No, he was not in the business there but a couple of months.

Q. A couple of months? A. Yes.

Q. And what year was it?

A. As near as I can remember I think that was in '82.

Q. In '82? A. I won't be positive though.

Q. Then you think the storm was in '82?

A. I think so, '81 or '82. No, I think it was '81.

Q. '81? A. Yes.

Q. That is what you said at first and what you still think?

A. Yes, that is when we had the confectionery.

Q. Which impresses that storm most on your mind? The fact that it blew the roof off of your house or the fact that it killed little children here in Kansas City?

A. I think that I came very nearly losing my child I thought.

Q. Your child was killed in Leavenworth and you knew a large number of children were killed here in Kansas City?

A. I don't know about those two storms being the same or not.

Q. The same night?

A. The same night. I don't say that at all.

Q. Well were they the same year?

A. I am under the impression they were but I am not positive about it.

Q. You are in doubt only about it because of these objections interposed by counsel aren't you?

A. No they didn't concern me at all. Any of them don't concern me at all any more than answering the questions as near as I know how.

Q. Now, did you hear of any storm there that frightened the horses and a couple of horses ran away and tore the vehicle or anything like that?

A. No, I don't think any horses were out that time of night.

Q. You never heard of anything of any such storm as that, did you? A. No, no.

By Mr. Cruce: Of course, she is just testifying as to her recollection, and we are taking up a great deal of time here.

By Mr. Allen: We object to side remark of counsel.

By Mr. Cruce: Of course, that is not in the record. Just suggested that for your benefit as well as my own.

By Mr. Allen: We don't appreciate the——

By Mr. Blakeney: I want the record to show that I entirely agree that counsel remember it.

By Mr. Cruce: I don't think anybody can remember twenty eight years ago very much.

A. When you are not interested in it.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mrs. O'Day, how long did you say you were in the business there on Shawnee Street?

By Mr. Allen: We object to further cross examination of this witness by counsel representing the associated defendants in this case, and upon the ground that he has cross examined this witness at length and that upon the very questions that he is now proceeding to cross examine her, she has been examined and cross examined at length by both he and Mr. Cruce and Mr. Blakeney.

By Mr. Hanford: I didn't finish my cross examination of the witness and Mr. German agreed that I could continue my examination.

By Mr. German: Yes, I did, and I had forgotten until he just mentioned it.

By Mr. Allen: In view of the fact I made the objection——

By Mr. German: Why not strike the objection. Let me state in the record that Mr. Hanford discontinued his examination evidently before he had concluded it on account of a little incident which need not be related.

Q. How long did you say you had been in business, Mrs. O'Day? A. Where at?

Q. Well, where you closed out on Shawnee Street?

A. Where?

Q. On Shawnee Street?

A. Between two and three years.

Q. How long before you moved to Kansas City did you close up the place? A. From February to October.

Q. When your child died you closed up?

A. Yes, when she died, I left there in October.

Q. Now, you lived in that neighborhood before you opened up there?

A. Yes, lived at the corner, next to the corner of Second and Shawnee.

Q. Did you have any trade from that section prior to the time that Lillie White moved in there?

A. No, I was not working at no trade, I was not working at anything after I was married until I opened that.

Q. Until you opened that place?

A. Yes, although I had had a business before I was married.

Q. Did you live in this house where your business was, in the building, or did you live with your mother?

A. I lived in the building.

Q. Right in the building? A. Yes, sir.

Q. All the time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know who owned that property?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't know anything about that?

A. No, all I know he was a market gardner in the south end of town.

Q. I mean the place where Granny Letcher lived?

A. There was a baker that lived in there but I can't recall his name, he owned it, I think, in the first place, but I can't recall the man's name. They lived there a number of years, a German baker, and I understand Mr. Dassler acquired it after that, I don't know whether there was any one between them or not, but I know Mr. Dassler owned it at one time or controlled it, I wouldn't say positive.

Q. You got no trade from the baker, that is in your place of business from his family?

A. No, they weren't there, I had no occasion to have any business with them.

Q. Then, how long did you have this trade from these girls that lived there?

A. Well, I can't say exactly how long that was. It was along in the middle of the summer until they moved from there.

Q. Then, it was as long as two or three months?

A. Well, I should judge about two months, possibly a little longer.

Q. Between two and three months? A. Yes.

Q. Then, you wouldn't say it was as long as four months?

A. No, I wont.

Q. Your recollection is that it was a short time?

A. That it was a short time, yes, sir.

Q. And after they moved away you got no more trade from them?

A. No, only Aunt Mary Letcher, I sewed for her, my mother sewed for her for eyars.

Q. But from these girls I mean you got no more trade?

A. No not any from the girls at all.

Q. What was your sister's name?

A. That lived in Leavenworth?

Q. Yes? A. Mrs. Jennie Blankenship.

Q. What was your husband doing at the time that you ran that place on Shawnee Street?

A. Working for the glucose works.

Q. Working for the glucose works?

A. Yes, sir, part of the time. I think when he left there, I think he was for just a short time was at the Elevator near the North Leavenworth Coal Mine.

Q. Who did he go to work for after you sold the confectionery?

A. He came back to work for Kelley & Lyle's.

Q. Went back to work for Kelley & Lyle's?

A. Yes, they put the mill out at Waldron, Missouri, and he went up there.

Q. That was after the explosion? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it burned? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And they continued business in Leavenworth at that time?

A. No. Well, I think they had business at the plaining mill, but they put this mill at Waldron, the Waldron mill was a flour mill and I think they had both the plaining mill and the flour mill.

Q. What I want to get at is, after you left the confectionery shop until you moved to Kansas City, who did your husband work for? A. He worked for Kelley & Lyle.

Q. A part of the time?

A. A part of the time, and a part of the time for the Glucose Works, but I don't know who it was.

Q. A part of the time at the Elevator north of Leavenworth?

A. No, he worked at the Glucose Works after he came from Waldron, but I don't know who was running the Glucose Works at all, I don't remember.

Q. I am talking about after you sold your confectionery?

A. Well, you asked me that and I told you he went to work at the Waldron mill, but we moved from there to Second and Shawnee, my mother was with me at Second and Shawnee.

Q. When you sold your confectionery you didn't move directly to Second and Shawnee, you went directly to Waldron?

A. Oh, no, we moved to Second and Shawnee and we moved from there to Waldron. He went prior to the time I did.

Q. Prior to the time you opened up your dress making establishment? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He went to Waldron as soon as you sold the confectionery? A. He went to Waldron before I did.

Q. You stayed there three or four months?

A. I stayed there with my mother.

Q. I mean you stayed at Waldron?

A. I was in Waldron not quite two months.

Q. How long was he at Waldron before you joined him?

A. He was in Waldron until Christmas week.

Q. Until Christmas week? A. Yes.

Q. From summer?

A. No, he went there in about September.

Q. He went there in about September? A. Yes.

Q. You joined him Christmas week?

A. Joined him Christmas week.

Q. And you stayed there possibly two months?

A. I wouldn't be positive about that, he came home Christmas.

Q. He came home Christmas?

A. Yes, sir, I went to Waldron wasn't very long after he went after we sold the confectionery.

Q. Not very long after he went? A. Yes.

Q. And he went in September?

A. No, I went in September, and I came back in November and he came back in December.

Q. Then, when he came back he went to work for whom?

A. The Glucose Works, but who run it I don't know.

Q. Yes, but he went to work for the Glucose Works?

A. I don't remember.

Q. After you came back from Waldron, how long was it before you opened up your place of business?

A. I think it was the spring following, no, it wasn't that early, it wasn't that early, it was in that—— Close to the time I came from Waldron.

Q. How long was it after he started to work for the Glucose Works?

A. He went to working for the Glucose works as soon as he came home, we were with mother and a little bit before I opened this place on Shawnee Street.

Q. You think it was as long as a summer following?

A. No, I believe it was longer than that, I wouldn't be positive.

Q. Let me call your attention to how long you lived at your mother's without doing anything?

A. I think it was the following year after we came back from Waldron if I am not mistaken.

Q. About a year?

A. If I am not mistaken, as near as I can think back.

Q. Have you thought about how long you were idle at your mother's there?

A. Just give me time to think and I will get as near to it as I can. I may have made a false statement a while ago because I said it was the spring following that I came from Waldron, but it was longer than that, because my son was born at Waldron, and I know it was at least a year before I opened that business.

Q. About a year? A. Yes.

Q. Then you opened the business on Shawnee Street? A. Yes.

Q. For yourself? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you remained in business there you think about three years before you moved to Kansas City? A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mrs. O'Day, let's get down now to something that is related to your business there on Shawnee. Before you opened up that business you were living with your mother the second door west of the corner of Shawnee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That house that your mother was running is a boarding house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You and your children and your mother—was your father living at the time? A. No.

Q. Were living there together? A. Yes.

Q. There were no houses of ill fame on that street, were there?

By Mr. Cruce: Leading.

A. Well, if there was, I don't remember it. It was near Main street, if there was.

Q. Where were the houses of ill fame—that is, in what direction from that street?

A. Well, there was one at Second and Seneca, and this one of Lillie White's that I call to mind. There was quite a few on Choctaw Street.

Q. Now, what direction was Choctaw Street from Shawnee Street?

A. Second Street south and I think there was one on Cherokee Street, but I don't know positive- about it. I think it was near the corner of Second Street on the south side of the street, but who run it I don't remember.

Q. Were there any business houses on Shawnee Street at the time your mother was running this boarding house?

A. All business houses, lower floors were all business houses. Mine I think was the only single store business in the block.

Q. The one that you rented and put your business in?

A. Yes.

Q. You say that you started your hair dressing store in the spring of the year? A. I think so, yes.

Q. Whatever year it was it was in the spring?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

A. Yes, the latter part of the spring.

Q. The latter part of the spring? A. Yes.

Q. Now, where was Lillie White living in the spring of the year before you started your store, before you started your store?

A. She was on Seneca in the same block on Seneca.

Q. Between Second and Third on Seneca, in the same block with your mother, in the same block that your mother was living in? A. Yes.

Q. And only across the alley and up west a piece?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know how long Lillie White had been living in that Seneca Street House before you started your store?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Who lived in that Seneca Street house that Lillie White had occupied, before Lillie White lived in it?

A. Well, the only one I know of, the party that owned it was a baker, I can't recall his name now.

Q. To refresh your memory, was it Dotter, Gustav Dotter? A. I think that is the name, Dotter.

Q. Was he a musician? A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know? A. No.

Q. Do you or not know when Dotter moved out of that house? A. No.

Q. You don't know when? A. No.

Q. Do you know how long Lillie White had been living in that house? A. No.

Q. Just a minute. Before you started your hair dressing store? A. No, I don't.

Q. Who did you buy your material from to renovate or rebuild the inside of the store building that you went into?

A. Well, we bought our paint from John Madden, two brothers there the second door from me.

Q. The second door from you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What direction? A. West.

Q. You spoke of there being a little house on the lot on which the store building was situated that you put your hair dressing establishment in? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was that little house used for at the time you rented the property? A. Why, it was empty.

Q. Who had occupied it?

A. I don't know, I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember?

A. No, I don't remember who had that.

Q. Do you know—— Well, was it occupied, had it been occupied?

A. Well, I can't say how soon it had been occupied or not.

Q. When you established your business there in the spring, whatever year it was that you did establish it, where was Lillie White living? A. She was living on Seneca.

By Mr. Hanford: We object to that as leading.

Q. Where with reference to your place of business?

A. On Seneca back of me.

Q. Back of you? A. Yes.

Q. Now, after you established your business there, the inmates of Lillie White's house patronized you, I believe you stated?

A. Some of them, not all I don't think, just part of them.

Q. When was it that the petition to bring about the removal of Lillie White from there was circulated with reference to the time that you started your business there?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object, of course as not redirect, and purely repetition, no reference made to it in cross examination.

A. Well, that was along in the summer before, after the birth of my child.

Q. You think it was after the birth of your child?

A. Yes, I think so, I won't be positive about that.

Q. Well, I will ask you this. Was it before or after you started your business there? A. Oh, no, it was after.

Q. After you started your business? A. Yes.

Q. And you don't remember when?

A. I don't remember exactly what time.

Q. Well, it was before Lillie moved out, wasn't it?

A. Yes, quite a little bit before she moved out. The papers and everything was stirred up, not only about her but about other parties in that neighborhood.

Q. Now, how long were you in business there all together, with your hair dressing and dress making establishment?

A. Two or three years, I wouldn't in any way establish just what time between two and three years.

Q. And you closed it out, you say in October, 1887?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, let's refer to some matters that counsel asked you about on cross examination. You say your sister, Mrs. Blankenship ran a hotel? A. Yes, sir.

Q. In Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What hotel? A. Leland.

Q. Had she run another hotel? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was it? A. They were both called the Leland.

Q. Both called the Leland? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was the first hotel that she ran located?

A. Right where the new Union Depot there is now. Along the trackage rather between the old depot and the new one, the building sat right there.

Q. Where was the second one run?

A. Second and Shawnee, a vacant lot was at the corner and she was after that.

Q. Between Second and Third? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which side of the street? A. South.

Q. Was she running either one of these hotels while you were engaged in the hair dressing business?

A. There on Shawnee?

Q. Yes?

A. Yes, sir, part of the time, she sold out and went to Carrolton, Missouri.

Q. You spoke of a storm having occurred which injured the house which you were living in while you were living in Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. Which one of your children—— How many children did you have at the time of that storm? A. One.

Q. One? A. Yes.

Q. That was your only child? A. Yes.

Q. That was your oldest child? A. Yes.

Q. What was its name? A. Francis.

Q. Do you remember how old she was?

A. Oh, she was a very young child just learning to walk, just barely could walk.

Q. When was that child born?

A. The second of April, '81.

Q. '81? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The 2nd of April, '81? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say that child was just learning to walk?

A. Just learning to walk.

Q. Now, where did that storm do any damage of any material——

A. Oh, there was damage done all over the City different places.

Q. Of Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You spoke of St. Mary's Academy, where was that?

A. Well, I think this storm, I think that was the same time the storm injured the girl at St. Mary's Academy.

Q. At where?

A. At Leavenworth. I won't be real positive about it, but I think so.

Q. Now, you spoke of—— On cross examination when counsel asked you about the storm that did so much damage in Kansas City, do you know when that was?

A. Well, when he asked me in reference to that, I said I wouldn't be positive about that storm in Leavenworth and the one in Kansas City being that same date.

Q. I see, they were different storms? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Blakeney: Object to that as leading and suggestive.

Q. I mean you don't know whether they were different storms or not, is that what you mean?

A. That is what I mean.

Q. The Kansas City storm you don't mean to connect with any storm in Leavenworth?

By Mr. Cruce: Leading and suggestive.

By Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as leading.

Q. You do not mean to connect the Kansas City storm that killed so many children with any occurrence in Leavenworth? A. That happened at the same time?

Q. Do you, or not, undertake to connect any occurrence that happened in Leavenworth with the Kansas City storm that did so much damage? A. No, I wont.

Q. You spoke of the mill in which your husband worked burning, whose mill was it? A. Kelley & Lyle's.

Q. Where was it located?

A. I think it was on Second Street, South Second Street.

Q. South Second Street? A, South of Choctaw.

Q. Now, what caused that fire?

A. Well, it was supposed to be a spontaneous combustion in the dust room.

Q. Did it destroy the building or not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On Second Street? A. Yes.

Q. After that did Kelley & Lyle, at any time after that, operate another mill in Leavenworth?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading.

A. Well, I think they still owned the planing mill in Leavenworth.

Q. Where was it located? A. On Cherokee Street.

Q. Where on Cherokee Street?

A. Between Second and Third.

Q. Did you ever know about that mill burning?

A. No, I don't remember that.

Q. Do you say you left Leavenworth?

A. I don't remember yet I know of it burning, yet I don't remember of the time, whether it was before I left or after.

Q. Do you know from——

By Mr. Cruce: Objected to as leading.

Q. To refresh your memory of the fact, after you left Leavenworth, did you hear of the burning of the so called Kelley-Lyle Planing Mill, in fact? A. I don't remember.

Q. In fact, in January, 1889?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading and suggestive and calling for a hearsay testimony.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading, suggestive, and its leading characteristics are more apparent than the preceding leading questions to the witness.

By Mr. German: I withdraw the question and stop objection.

By Mr. Cruce: She said she doesn't remember.

By Mr. Blakeney: The objection had been completed when the question was withdrawn.

Q. Mr. Hanford asked you a while ago on cross examination, if after you started your store your friends didn't patronize you? A. Why, certainly.

Q. And you said yes. Now, from whom did you get patronage in the city?

A. Why, from lots of people, I would have to think of the whole details and think them all up, I don't know whether I could remember them all.

Q. Was that patronage in any way limited to these names?

A. No, that is the only ones I did have of that class of people.

Q. Just the Lillie White people?

A. Yes, the only one woman that I sewed for, Stella Forest, run that house there at Third and Seneca.

Q. Do you not mean Third and Seneca?

A. Yes, up stairs, there at Third and Seneca, but what her names was I don't remember, I don't remember any of the names as far as that is concerned, but my business was confined to a better class of people. I didn't turn any of them down as long as money was in it.

Q. Judge Cruce asked you if there might have been a child named Tommy Atkins at Mary Letcher's and you not have known it. I will ask you this, if there had have been a child there by that name——

By Mr. German: I am just getting back at Judge Cruce. I withdraw that for the present.

And thereupon, an adjournment is had until 1:30 o'clock P. M., and thereafter, and at 1:30 o'clock, P. M., further testimony herein is taken as follows:

MRS. O'DAY, being recalled, further testified as follows:

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mrs. O'Day, have you talked to anybody during the noon recess about the facts in this case?

A. No, sir, I didn't. Nobody to talk to.

Q. Any of the lawyers?

A. I didn't see one of you after I went out of here, I don't like you anyway.

Q. Mrs. O'Day, while you were running your store, what did you call that, what did you call—— did you call it a store or what?

A. Well, it was a hair dressing, Fancy Goods, and Dress Making.

Q. Would you call it a store? A. Yes, sir.

Q. While you were running your store and prior to the time that Lillie White moved out of the Seneca Street House, did you ever notice her girls in her back yard?

A. Well, I did while she was there.

Q. That is what I mean? A. Yes.

Q. You did? A. Yes.

Q. In the summer time or cold weather or what?

A. No, they would sit out in the back porch and back yard sometimes.

Q. How was the back yard kept?

A. Just about like anybody else's, it was a lawn, part of it.

Q. Now after Lillie White moved out and Mary Letcher moved in, did you notice the boys or children around the house any?

By Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as leading.

A. I can't say that I do know anything about it.
Q. Did you see Walter Banks very often?

By Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as leading.

A. Well, yes, I have seen him often, I made shirt waists and various articles of clothing for the boy, for Walter.
Q. For Walter? A. Yes, sir.
Q. At that time, about what aged person was this one armed Sam, the Sam Nash?
A. Well, I don't know, I could have taken him to have been from seventeen, sixteen or seventeen, possibly eighteen, stripling of a boy.
Q. Did you make any clothes for him?
A. I did when he was small, I made shirt waists for him.
Q. Did you after you started your store?
A. No, no, he was a big boy, too big a boy then.
Q. Did you make any clothing of any sort for any other boy at the Letcher home? A. No.

By Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as not redirect.

Recross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. How many negro women had their dresses made at your place?
A. Well, I wasn't sewing for anybody but him.
Q. Madam?
A. I wasn't sewing for anyone but Mary Letcher.
Q. How many dresses did Mary Letcher ever have made there?
A. That is something that I can't begin to tell you.
Q. Give us an idea?
A. I sewed for her for several years, I can't begin to tell what the woman wore.
Q. She was an extravagant woman?
A. No, had her dresses made in the spring and fall like anybody else.
Q. Can't you remember any special dress that you made for Granny Letcher?
A. I don't know as I can remember any special one, made so many of them I didn't pay any attention to them.
Q. Just made dresses for her like any other people?
A. Yes, sir, certainly.

Q. You don't remember the color of any of the dresses?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or style of any of the dresses?

A. No, sir. Certainly not.

Q. She wasn't an associate of yours?

A. Certainly not.

Q. You are a white woman? A. Certainly.

Q. And you and Mary Letcher were in——

A. Certainly not, only in a business way, she was my laundress and I charged her like anybody else in her position.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. How long had you been sewing when you moved up into this dress making and hair dressing establishment?

A. Oh, my mother had a dress making shop there for years. I sewed in the shop at home, sewed for Mary Letcher before she was ever on Seneca Street at all.

Q. How long before had you been sewing for Mary Letcher? A. Several years.

Q. Two, three, or four years? A. Yes.

Q. Longer? A. Maybe longer than that.

Q. How long?

A. I should judge eight or ten, somewhere along there, ever since I have known her, and it seems I have known her ever since I was in Leavenworth. She used to be my mother's laundress when I was a girl growing up.

Q. It wasn't the laundress, I was asking about sewing?

A. I said she was my mother's laundress and my mother sewed for her.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mrs. O'Day, what was your second child's name?

A. Charles.

Q. And what was the date of his birth?

A. The 13th of November, 1882.

Q. And the date of the next child's birth?

A. The 15th day of January, 1887.

Q. That child died in February?

A. Died in the February following, yes, sir, the 14th of February.

Q. That was when you closed up your shop on Shawnee Street? A. Closed the shop up after that in October.

Q. Then, you moved to Kansas City? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was Charles born? A. In Waldron, Missouri.

Q. He was born over there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was the time you went over to join your husband? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was about a year before you opened up on Shawnee?

A. Well, about that. Might have been longer, I couldn't say positively about that.

Q. Your best recollection is around a year? A. Yes.

Q. It would not be six months, wasn't as short as that?

A. No, I don't think it was as short—— No, it wasn't as short as that, because I was with mother quite a while before that, at home with mother.

Q. That long, ten or twelve or thirteen months?

A. It was nearly a year, it might have been longer, I can't say.

Q. How much less or longer?

A. Well, I should judge it was about a year or a little over.

Q. That is, you had this second child and you took care of him for about a year?

A. No, that second child, I went home directly after his birth, and I was sick for quite a while there before that, and I don't know—— I should judge it was along in the neighborhood of a year after my husband came home in December that we opened this place.

Q. You think that you lived at your mother's house about that length of time?

A. Yes, in the neighborhood of that.

Q. You are sure that it was not as long as two years or three years?

A. As, I say, I won't be sure about it all because I haven't the recollection.

Q. Your recollection is that it was near that time?

A. That is as near as I can get what I can think of.

Q. Now, the first child's name was what?

A. Florence.

Q. She was born April, '81? A. April, '81.

Q. That is the child that you thought was in danger?

A. Lost in the storm.

Q. When the storm occurred? A. I certainly did.

Q. She was just learning to walk then?

A. Yes, just partly able to totter, just barely able to totter across the floor.

Q. About a year old? A. No, she was hardly that.

Q. Did she learn to walk early?

A. Oh, not any earlier than any other children.

Q. Well, that would be about a year, most children learn to walk in about a year, don't they?

A. Eight or nine months, something like that.

Q. That was—— Your recollection of that storm is about what it did in Leavenworth?

A. Well, now, I will tell you, we had three or four real hard cyclones along in those years, the few years before I left Leavenworth, and I won't be positive about the exact time of the storm, but we had one just before we moved into that building, not long before that, and we had one in that building, and one while——

Q. You do remember it took the roof off of your house?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And awnings?

A. Yes, sir, and blew my baby away in the buggy, she didn't get out of the house but went the full length of it.

Q. The baby was out in the baby buggy?

A. Yes, it was a long building, the floor—the store building and she went the full length of the building to the plate glass windows.

Q. What time of day was that?

A. That was in the night, middle of the night.

Q. The baby was sleeping in the baby buggy?

A. She was, the storm struck the back end of the house and the back door was open.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mrs. O'Day, you say that your son, Charlie was born in '82? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And in what month? A. November the 13th.

Q. Now, you were then residing at?

A. Waldron, Missouri.

Q. Waldron? How long after the birth of that child was it that you came back to Leavenworth?

A. About two weeks.

Q. Then, where did you live?

A. As soon as I was able to move——

Q. Where did you live?

A. At my mother's next door to Granny's, on Second and Shawnee.

Q. How long had your mother been living there at that time?

A. She hadn't been there but just about a year possibly a little longer.

Q. Now, was your mother still living at that same place when you left Leavenworth in '87? A. No, sir.

Q. When did your mother move away from that place, in reference to the time that you started your store on Shawnee? A. Why, she was there when I started my store.

Q. And she moved away from there while you were running the store? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did she move to?

A. Across the street in front of me.

Q. Now, you recalled your store—— I understood you to testify in the course of the cross examination that you operated this store between two and three years? A. Yes.

Q. And that you left Leavenworth in October, '87?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That at that time you closed your store there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Discontinued it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, when would you say that you opened your store?

A. Well, it was two or three years before that.

Q. Before you left?

A. Yes, sir, before I left there. Now, I wouldn't like to state any special month because it would be impossible for me to do it.

Q. Was it in the spring, summer or fall that you saw those inmates of Lillie White's house in the back yard of her home or on the back porch? A. Summer.

Q. In the summer time? A. Yes.

Q. How were they dressed?

A. Oh, sometimes they were dressed in street gowns and sometimes in kimonas, they were in respectable garb; every lady you would pass was wearing kimonas around the house.

Q. Summer or winter clothing? A. Summer clothing.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Did you have any employees? A. No.

Q. You ran the place yourself?

A. I ran the place myself.

Q. Did anybody ever work for you there at all?

A. Yes.

Q. Who?

A. Well, not right in the shop, I gave out a good deal of my work.

Q. You gave it out on the outside?

A. Yes, I gave work on the outside.

Q. Did you ever have any hair dressers there besides yourself?

A. No, I did the work myself, my husband and I did the work, he did a great deal of it himself at nights.

Q. Did you close up your shop when you were sick with your second son?

A. My business had to stop, I wasn't able to attend to it.

Q. How long were you sick?

A. I don't know, a month—three weeks or a month before I was able to attend to business.

Q. Your mother was living at Second and Shawnee when you moved to Kansas City?

A. No, sir, she was living across the street from me at that time.

Q. Did you stay with her any time before you moved to Kansas City? A. No, sir, I moved right from my own place.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. How old was Charlie.

Q. How old was Charlie when you started your store there? A. A little tad in dresses.

Q. About three years old?

A. Just in dresses, I don't think he was quite three years old.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. How long did you say that you closed your store at the time Charlie was born?

A. At the time Charlie was born, I didn't have no store.

Q. Well, you didn't have any store? A. No, sir.

Q. Then, you didn't understand the question that Mr. Hanford asked you?

A. He asked me how long I closed that store at the birth of my child.

Q. Which child?

A. I suppose he meant Clara, my youngest one.

Q. Clara was born there, Clara wasn't born there at all was she?

A. Yes, sir, born right there and died right there.

Q. Clara was born right there and you were still running the store? A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We now offer the deposition of A. L. Schott, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript at Page 3189.

And thereupon, A. L. SCHOTT, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Your initials are A. L.? A. A. L.

Q. Mr. Schott, you have been on the witness stand before here? A. Yes.

Q. Have you any records there pertaining to the burial of a child by the name of Clara Estelle O'Day?

A. I have. You asked me if I have anything regarding this burial?

Q. I asked you if you have any record showing the item pertaining to—— A. Yes, I have the item here.

Q. You are and were then in the undertaking business?

A. No, sir.

Q. What is your business?

A. My business is Secretary and Treasurer of Mount Munsey Cemetery.

Q. Is this book which you have here one of the records of interment at Mount Munsey Cemetery?

A. It is. I have here two books.

Q. What is the one you are now looking at that is open?

A. This is the register, this book contains the original burial certificate.

Q. The other book contains the original burial certificates? A. Yes.

Q. Have you the original burial certificate in reference to Clara Estelle O'Day? A. Here it is. I have.

Q. Who made the entries there, Mr. Schott?

A. These entries were made prior to my office by the former clerk of the Association.

Q. Are those books and papers in your custody?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have they been in your custody?

A. Since 1908.

Q. Where did you receive them?

A. I received them from the former Secretary and Treasurer of the Association.

Q. Where are they kept?

A. They are kept partly in the city, 401 Delaware, and partly at the cemetery. The certificates are kept at the cemetery, and these records are kept in the city office.

Q. Mr. Schott, will you please state what the records show with reference to the date of the birth, date of death, and date of interment of Clara Estelle O'Day?

Mr. Hanford: I object on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and will ask you, Mr. German, to agree that my objection go to all of this testimony relative to these entries, but not to the form of the testimony, that is, the testimony of the contents in lieu of the records themselves. You agree to that, Mr. German?

Mr. German: Yes. You will not object on the ground that the best evidence is not introduced before the Court?

Mr. Bell: Oh, no.

A. I will read the certificate as I find it here?

Q. Yes?

A. The certificate for Mount Munsey Cemetery, No. 4367. Name of deceased, Clara Estelle O'Day, white—this is the color of the race—— Place of nativity, Kansas; late residence No. 218 Shawnee Street; the date of the birth is January 15, 1887; the date of death is February 14th, 1887; date of interment, February 16th, 1887, two o'clock, P. M.; single person; parents names, William F. and Alice O'Day; buried in the section of single graves, Section No. 11, row No. 1, grave 37. Signed W. D. Bidwell, physician.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We now offer the deposition of Joseph A. Eckert, taken before Mr. Penick as Examiner, appearing in his record at Page 2466 and again at Page 2529.

JOE A. ECKERT being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

A. What is your name, age and place of residence?

A. Joe A. Eckert, sixty-two years, Leavenworth.

Q. What business are you engaged in, Mr. Eckert?

A. Tailoring business.

Q. How long have you been engaged in the tailoring business?

A. Well, I started to learn the trade in seventy-six, I have been in it forty years, a little over.

Q. Have you been actively engaged in that business during all of that time? A. All of that time, yes, sir.

Q. Did any of your people run a business in which you were afterwards engaged before you began the tailoring business?

A. My father was running the business, I was with him and learned my trade under my father.

Q. How many people were working in your establishment in 1884 and '85? A. Eighty four, and five, and six?

Q. About how many?

A. We run all the way from twelve to eighteen men.

Q. That business was conducted at that time where it is now, in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. Well, we were then at that time in the Fitz-Williams block. We had the two rooms on fourth where the cigar and telegraph office is now.

Q. Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. We had that from '76 to '93.

A. Where were you born?

A. I was born in Philadelphia.

Q. How old were you when you came to Leavenworth?

A. About three years old.

Q. Have you lived here since that time?

A. Since that time, yes, sir.

Q. In 1884 and '85, did you know a woman by the name of Lillie White?

A. I did, eighty-five, eighty-four, eighty-five, eighty-six.

Q. Do you know when you first saw her or met her to know her?

A. I met her, I think it was in eighty-three or the spring of eighty-four, I wont say for sure, but I think it was the latter part of eighty three or the spring of eighty-four.

Q. Did you go away from here in 1884? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you go? A. I went to Chicago.

Q. On what mission?

A. Well, I went there to go to work, but then my first trip there was—— Cleveland, during the Democratic Convention in Chicago, in '84. I belonged to the band here at that time and I worked at my trade, and I belonged to the cornet band, and we went a week in Chicago and played and a week engagement——

Q. Did you return to Leavenworth in 1884?

A. The week I was in Chicago, and we had three engagements here on account of the campaign, and I went back to Chicago and came back the latter part of October, the following fall I came back in October, Halloween day is when I lit in Leavenworth in 1884. I spent those three months in Chicago, three or four months, July, August, September, and October.

Q. Upon your return to Leavenworth, did you again see Lillie White? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was she living at that time?

A. Living on Seneca Street.

Q. At what place on Seneca Street?

A. Well, between Second and Third on the south side of the street; there was a stone house, I guess it is there yet, and I haven't been up there for so long, but there was a frame house next to it, and she lived in that house.

Q. It was, with reference to George Crilly's barn——

A. Now, let me see. Well, just about like that, I don't know, it might be. Well it might be a little bit south and east.

Q. Across the street from——

A. Across the street from Crilly's barn on the south side of the street.

Q. Which one of those houses did she live in, the stone or the frame? A. The frame.

Q. Do you know who afterwards lived in that house?

A. That, I couldn't say, I wouldn't swear to it.

Q. Were they white or colored?

A. I think there was a colored family that moved in there afterwards, I am not sure as to that, I wouldn't swear to that.

Q. During the summer of 1885 were you around that Lillie White house on Seneca Street that you have just described? A. Quite often in the early part of '85.

Q. What was the occasion of your going there at that time, I mean by that, where would you be going to or from?

A. Well, now, my occasion of going there—— Well, like all young fellows that go and come, I went there on—just for certain purposes for sometimes and for a joke sometimes.

Q. Were you there at any time during the base ball season? A. Yes, sir.

Q. In 1885? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object to that as leading.

Q. Tell the circumstances under which you would go there then?

A. Well, of course, it is just a question like this——

Q. In other words, how do you remember that you were there during the summer of 1885?

A. Well, those were the palmy days, times were good, I used to make a whole lot better wages then than I can now, and I would go to the base-ball game, I didn't miss an afternoon, didn't hurt me at all to miss it, and I would go in with the bunch, and we roomed over here on Shawnee Street between Second and Third, and I would go to their rooms, and if we didn't have beer in those rooms at that time, we would go up to Lillie White's or go to Laura Ward's and get it, or down at the other places and get it. Days isn't like they were then, I wish they were.

Q. After the base-ball season closed, state whether or not you continued to go there?

A. Yes, I went there off ond on.

Q. About how long after that did she live in that Seneca House after the base-ball season?

A. Well, I don't know. I think she got out of there that fall, or that winter, or the early part of '86, she moved down on Choctaw Street.

Q. It was in the fall or winter of '85 or early in '86 that she moved? A. Or early in '86, yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You continued to go there up until the time that she moved?

A. I went there, and I went down to the other place, because I was a young fellow and I was going around, I was chasing them all, I moved around.

Q. You went to different places?

A. Oh, certainly, I wasn't confined to no one place.

Q. And you remember the other places that you went to?

A. I do. She wasn't the only one place in town, there were several of them.

Q. Did you go to her place after she moved?

A. I told you that, yes, sir.

Q. Where did she move? A. On Choctaw Street.

Q. What part? What number?

A. I don't know the number, never paid no attention to the number, it was right next to that brick house, the Slitz Broom Company had it at that time, the frame house was right next to it.

Q. Well, it was 326, wasn't it?

A. Well, I don't know whether it was 326 or what it was, not about that, right down adjoining that brick building.

Q. It was just east? A. Of that brick building.

Q. Of Fourth Street, just east of Fourth Street?

A. And next to the brick building.

Q. The brick building was on Fourth? A. Yes.

Q. And this was right next to the brick building?

A. Right next to the brick building.

Q. It was tucked in under the wing of the brick building?

A. Wasn't no wing, no wing on the brick building, the frame house was pretty near as high as that brick building, no wing to it, it was built right next to that frame house, the frame house was there before the brick building was put up, there was no wing there at all.

Q. But it was about that distance from Fourth Street, make it about that number?

A. Well, two blocks from Fourth Street.

Q. That would be about 326, wouldn't it?

A. Oh, I don't know, I think so.

Q. You don't recollect that that was the number, do you?

A. I am not sure as to the number, because I never looked at the number, I went in the doorway.

Q. Now, when did you start going to her place on Fourth Street? A. Right after she moved.

Q. Right after she moved? A. Yes.

Q. And when was that?

A. I think that was the——I wouldn't say, I think it was the latter part of '85 or the early part of '86.

Q. Well, can you say which?

A. No, I wouldn't swear to it, it was about that time.

Q. But you do recall that she was at Seneca Street all together more than a year?

A. Yes, I think so, pretty sure of it. I think she was there in '83, and part of '84, and '85. She might have been there longer than that so far as I am concerned, I wouldn't say that she was there in '83 positive.

Q. Two years or a year and a half?

A. She might have been there a year and a half, yes, on Seneca Street.

Q. What is your best recollection, about eighteen months?

A. Well, that I can't——I never kept no diary of that in those days, but my best recollection is that she was there about a year or a year and a half.

Q. Do you remember anybody that was there with her?

A. Well, I remember two or three girls that were there with her.

Q. What were their names?

A. One was Bee Randolph, and there was Francis Randolph. Bee Randolph, she is dead and gone, and her sister is dead and gone too. Of course, there is no use of bringing that in there now, they are all dead.

Q. How many did she have there?

A. She had five or six girls there at one time.

Q. All in that house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many rooms were there in that house?

A. That I can't tell you now, I never kept tab on it, eight or nine rooms, seven or eight rooms, something like that; they built awful small rooms at that time.

Q. How many stories did it have?

A. A story and a half house, you might say. You might call it a two story house, but I think a story and a half house.

Q. Do you remember how many rooms it had up stairs?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you remember how many rooms it had down stairs?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did it have parlors down stairs?

A. Yes, sir, the front room was a parlor.

Q. Do you remember of going there after the ball season of 1885?

A. Yes, not after the ball season. Well, that winter, yes, that fall.

Q. That fall and winter?

A. Yes, that fall. I don't know whether it was late in the winter or not now, I wouldn't say that, but that fall in eighty-four or eighty-five, and in part of eighty-six we used to go around there, used to go down there.

Q. You didn't go there in the ball season of '86?

A. No, in '86 I think we went down on Choctaw Street, because she was there when I went away from here in the latter part of '86, and lived there for quite a while before that.

Q. Was anybody else in the house with her except her girls and herself? A. There was a time, yes.

Q. I mean anybody else living there occupying the same premises?

A. No, not that I know of. I thought she was running the house, she was the boss, she was the land-lady.

Q. And she had girls living there?

A. Oh, sure, you are getting—you know what the girls were for, don't you. What use is there in quizzing me about that?

Q. I say she had these girls?

A. Yes, that is what I told you.

Q. And they were the only occupants in the house?

A. Yes.

Q. They lived there?

A. Yes, they roomed there for a purpose.

Q. And she had about six or eight?

A. At times. I didn't say she had eight. I said she had about six.

Q. About six?

A. Yes, there were about six girls in that house at one time that I know of, because Bill Buffington and I had two of them over there one night.

Q. Do you remember the names of any of the other girls? A. No.

Q. Just those two?

A. Those two, because we associated with them two.

Q. They were the only ones that you did associate with?

A. Yes.

Q. Didn't see any of the others?

A. Oh, we saw them, yes, but I don't remember their names now. This has been a long time ago.

Q. Where were some of the other places that you went during that same time? A. Went to Lou DeVore's.

Q. Lou DeVore's? A. Yes.

Q. Where was she?

A. In that frame house this side of Third Street on Seneca.

Q. When did she move in there?

A. I don't know, I think she moved there, probably she was in there in eighty-three, and eighty-four and eighty-five. That is where we—— That is where I got acquainted with Lillie White, because Bill Buffington and I had those two girls over there, and Lou DeVore had them arrested and we took them over to Lillie White's, that is how I got acquainted with Lillie White.

Q. Took those two girls from Lue DeVore's down to Lillie White's? A. Yes.

Q. And left them there?

A. It was just a case like this. They couldn't stay further at Lou DeVore's any more and they wanted to go to Lillie White's and they went to Lillie White's.

Q. You didn't go to Lou DeVore's any more after that?

A. No, I got mad at her.

Q. Where else did you go?

A. Oh, well, I don't know. There has been so dog gone many of them.

Q. You went all around to the different places in town, didn't you? A. I was a rounder.

Q. Would go any place?

A. From one place to another, yes, sir, wasn't tied down to no particular place.

Q. There is nothing to call your attention to the affairs of Lillie White any more than any of these other places?

A. None whatever.

Q. You were impartial in your patronage?

By Mr. German: I object to that as calling for a conclusion and opinion of the witness.

A. Now, that will be all right, I will pass that up to you.

Q. And your recollection is just the recollection in passing from one place to another? A. Yes.

A. And you have your impressions of the length of time and places and names and things?

A. To the best of my recollection for a man who hasn't paid no attention to it and never kept no diary, and didn't figure on what the past was at all.

Q. Let's see, that was thirty one years ago? A. Yes.

Q. And you have outgrown those days sometime past, haven't you? A. Yes, I couldn't keep that gait up now.

Q. You have no particular desire to want to remember those things?

A. No, I would rather have them pass by if I could let them go by I would forget it, I try to forget a whole lot of it.

Q. So your recollection of the years are simply the impression that you have now of thirty one years ago?

A. Yes, that was my time and I was there at that time, and here and there.

Q. And you are certain that Lillie White was in that house on Seneca from October—or was she there in October in 1884 when you came back from Chicago, wasn't she?

A. Yes.

Q. You don't know when she moved in?

A. No, I wouldn't say.

Q. And she was there until——

A. There until probably the latter part of eighty-five or the early spring of '86, because when I——

Q. That is all you can be sure of?

A. Yes, but I will say this, she was down on Choctaw Street in '86, the latter part of '86.

Q. The latter part of '86?

A. Yes, and in the summer of '86, but what time she moved there, I don't know.

Q. The only thing you do know, it was the latter part of '85 or the early part of '86? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you do know that she was not on Seneca Street during the winter season of 1885? A. 1885, yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You are able to recollect that you were at Lillie White's place in 1885, because you went there during a base ball season with the base ball players?

A. Yes, that was the season that we went there. We were young fellows at that time that would go, a bunch of us; that is we did go.

Q. This place was a house of prostitution, wasn't it?

A. No.

Q. It was not? A. No.

Q. What was it?

A. We used to call it the house of ill fame. There was no prostitution going on there.

Q. You never knew of any prostitution going on there?

A. No, I never paid no attention to that part. We used to call it the house of ill fame. Prostitution you know is a pretty dirty word. When we call a person a prostitute, you know that is pretty bad.

Q. You say you had two girls there? A. No, sir.

Q. Or assisted two girls in getting there? A. No, sir.

Q. What did you say about you and Bill Buffiington?

A. I said that Bill Buffington and I—— Those two girls were arrested, was fined, and was taken from Lou DeVore's house, and Bill Buffington and I had—said we will go on down to Lillie White's house and they rented a room at Lillie White's house the same as they had at Lou DeVore's.

Q. Why did they leave Lou DeVore's?

A. Because Lou Devore got mad at them.

Q. What kind of place was Lou DeVore running?

A. A house of ill fame.

Q. It wasn't a house of prostitution either?

A. No, they were all the same in that time, house of ill fame. We switched them from one place to another. We used to have a bunch of them here at that time. They ain't gone now. I guess we have got more now than we had at that time.

Q. You and Bill Buffington had two girls that had been fined at the DeVore's place? A. Yes.

Q. You paid their fines? A. Yes.

Q. And they moved then to Lillie White's?

A. Yes. That was in '85.

Q. What were they fined for?

A. Well, they were—had gotten drunk and disorderly now, they were fined for drunkenness.

Q. Were you with them when they committed the offense for which they were fined? A. No.

Q. Where were they fined? A. What?

Q. Where were they fined?

A. Up in the Police Court. In the Police Court, but they were taken up and there was a five dollar—they were put under a five dollar bond.

Q. At Police Court?

A. At the Police Station that night. They were arrested that evening, and they were put under a five dollar bond.

Q. And you put up the bond?

A. Buffington and I put up the two bonds for the two girls.

Q. What were the names of the two girls?

A. Bee and Francis Randolph, I believe.

Q. Which one did you put up for?

A. Bee, and Buffington put up the other one, five dollars for the other one.

Q. Where did the girls go after they were released that night?

A. Then, they went right down to Lillie White's place, that was where I got acquainted with Lillie White.

Q. Did you go down with them after you put up the fine?

A. No, they went down there and we went afterwards.

Q. You went down that night?

A. Yes, we went down that night afterwards.

Q. How long did you stay there that night?

A. Stayed there until about one or two o'clock.

Q. What were you doing there?

A. Drank a couple of bottles of wine.

Q. Who were you drinking with? A. All of them.

Q. How many girls were there at that time?

A. Five or six girls there at that time, with these two that we brought in.

Q. Was there any other men there besides you two?

A. Well, I don't think it is wise for me to mention names of men that were there, do you think so? Do I have to answer that question, mention names of the men that were there?

Q. You have to answer the question or decline to answer it, or something. A. What?

Q. You will have to answer the questions or decline to answer it.

The Examiner: Answer the question, Mr. witness, or decline to answer it.

A. Of course, if it is necessary, I could mention it. Two of them are dead. I suppose it wouldn't hurt to mention them.

By Mr. Cruce: No, don't mention them, but mention living men.

A. I rather mention those that are dead.

Mr. Cruce: No, we can't call them to contradict you.

A. I will tell you as far as that is concerned, as far as my recollection is concerned, there is only one that is living out of the four or five men that were there with me that night and that is a fellow named John Thompson.

Q. Where does he live?

A. I don't know where he is living now.

Q. Where was he living the last time you knew him?

A. He was in North Leavenworth.

Q. What was he doing?

A. He was a painter at the time, I don't know whether he is living up there now or not.

Q. How old were you at that time?

A. I was about twenty-two years old or twenty four.

Q. Twenty-two, three or four years of age?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old are you now?

A. Fifty three, will be fifty four years old in September; I was born in '62, and at that time, '85, that would make me about twenty-three years old at that time.

Q. What time of the year was it that this transaction occurred?

A. It occurred in—well I can't say exactly, but I think it was the spring of eighty-five. I—well, it was somewhere around the winter of eighty-four and the spring of '85 when it happened.

Q. Have you ever been married? A. Sir?

Q. Are you a married man?

A. I am now, I wasn't then.

Q. How long have you been married?

A. Twenty eight years.

Q. Now, after these girls went over there, when was the next time that you was back to Lillie White's?

A. Well, probably the next night, I don't know, I might have. No, I didn't go the next night, but I went there two or three nights a week.

Q. Now, you said probably the next night, do you have any recollection of going the next night?

A. No, not particularly, I ain't got that—I ain't got that memorized or haven't kept tab on it, I might have went the next night. I went afterwards, I don't know——

Q. Why do you say might?

A. Well, because——

Q. Merely because, or was it your habit to go every night or so?

A. My habit was to go every night or so, my habit was to go first one place or another, I was a young man going around and had nothing to do at night, and I went from here to there.

Q. Where else did you go at the same time?

A. I went to all of them.

Q. Let's have them?

A. This one and that one, down on Choctaw Street down on Cherokee Street, I don't know who was keeping them now.

Q. Give us the names of any of the other places that you went to?

A. Well, there was a couple of places down on Cherokee Street. I don't know who run them.

Q. Where on Cherokee Street?

A. Between Third and Fourth.

Q. What kind of places were they?

A. On the same plan.

Q. Two story buildings? A. Yes.

Q. Brick or wood? A. Brick.

Q. Both of those places on Cherokee Street between Third and Fourth were brick buildings? A. Yes, sir.

Q. They had a Madam in charge? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You don't know who the Madam was?

A. I don't remember now.

Q. What girls were in there?

A. That I can't tell you, I didn't pay much attention to them.

Q. What did you do at those places?

A. Just went in and got a bottle of beer and walked out.

Q. How frequently did you visit those places?

A. Oh, I don't know, once or twice a week probably.

Q. Can you give the names of any of the girls that were in those places?

A. I can't now, no, sir. That has been a long time ago.

Q. No longer since you went to those places than when you went over to Lillie White's was it?

A. Because I was more closely associated with her and her friends than I was with those other people.

Q. You went to Lillie White's oftener than you went to those places on Cherokee? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. You only went to those places on Cherokee Street once or twice a week, during that time?

A. Maybe not that often.

Q. But Lillie White's you went oftener? A. Oftener.

Q. Who went with you to those places on Cherokee?

A. Well, sometimes I would meet some of the boys Thompson, Christelle Cosgrove, and such as that, Ed Wells, those boys that used to be going around here at that time.

Q. What were they doing? A. Working here in town.

Q. What kind of work did they do?

A. One run a wholesale liquor house, one worked at the Furniture Mill, one was a painter, planing mill and different jobs.

Q. What was Buffington doing?

A. Buffington was a sport.

Q. What kind of a sport? A. A gambler.

Q. How long did you know Buffington?

A. I knew Buffington about six or seven or eight years, I guess or more than that.

Q. Did you run with him during that time?

A. No, no, I never run with him much, I never was a gambler, never gambled in my life, never played a card for a five cent piece in my life.

Q. In the daytime he run a gambling house, did he?

A. Yes, and at night too.

Q. He ran the house at night?

A. Yes, all gambling houses run at night. There is where they get the money.

Q. Did he work at his gambling house at night?

A. He did.

Q. Where did you get him? A. I didn't get him.

Q. Where did you and he meet when you put up this money for the fines? A. That night?

Q. Yes? A. Met him at the shop.

Q. Who met you there? A. Buffington.

Q. He came up and told you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The girls had been arrested and come and go up?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you went up with him and put up the five dollars? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the girls were turned loose? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you followed them down?

A. No, we didn't follow them down, we went down after he got through with his work?

Q. About what time? A. About twelve o'clock.

Q. And just stayed an hour?

A. About an hour and a half. I had my home to go to then, I had a home.

Q. Where was your home?

A. Out on Third and Atchison.

Q. What occupants did you have in your home?

A. Father and mother and two sisters.

Q. And you left there about one-thirty?

A. Yes, I guess it was about that time, I don't know.

Q. Did you get drunk that night?

A. I never got drunk.

Q. Never?

A. No, sometimes I would get pretty full, but never got drunk.

Q. Just sort of three sheets in the wind?

A. Yes, about three sheets and a half.

Q. Three sheets and a half?

A. Yes, the other one fluttered.

Q. Did the girls get three sheets and a half or four, that night?

A. I don't know, didn't have no sheets at all that night, they had just moved.

Q. Just moved? A. Yes.

Q. How do you know whether they had any sheets or not?

A. Didn't see none.

Q. Were you up in their rooms?

A. I don't know. You wouldn't put up five dollars for a girl without going to her room, would you?

Q. Well, what did you do?

A. I went up to see her room and I didn't see nothing fluttering, that is why I didn't stay long.

Q. Then when was the next time you say you were back?

A. Sir?

Q. When did you say the next time you were back after this? A. Oh, a night or so after that.

Q. What did you do that night?

A. Oh, I had to go and get even.

Q. What did you do that night?

A. Had a couple of bottles of beer.

Q. Beer, at a dollar a bottle?

A. Sometimes at that, sometimes I paid a dollar a bottle for beer.

Q. What did you pay for those? A. Fifty cents.

Q. Fifty cents? A. Yes, I got good rates.

Q. You had a sort of stand in with the girls, didn't you?

A. Oh, yes, certainly.

Q. Where did you do that drinking, in the parlor, or did you go up in the room?

A. In the parlor, because they all had to come in on that you know.

Q. Had the rooms been fixed up then that night by that time? A. Up stairs you mean?

Q. Yes?

A. I don't know whether they were or not that night, wouldn't say about that, I didn't pay much attention to it.

Q. You mean by that you didn't pay much attention, or you weren't in condition to notice very much?

A. Oh, I was in condition to notice, because we went there for that proposition, I didn't pay much attention to the room that night.

Q. How did you go up stairs? A. Up the steps.

Q. Went up the steps? A. Yes.

Q. What room did you go to?

A. The first room up the landing.

Q. The first room after you got to the landing? A. Yes.

Q. What did you drink that night? A. Beer.

Q. Was that all you drank? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you stay?

A. Oh, I don't know, maybe an hour or so.

Q. You saw Bee that night, did you? A. I did.

Q. What was Frances doing?

A. I don't know what she was doing, Buffington was in there that night with me.

Q. Well, you didn't see Buffington that night at all?

A. No, not that night at all.

Q. Well, you knew that Buffington was sort of keeping Francis didn't you? A. Well, I didn't know that no.

Q. Well, Buffington was doing just about the same for Francis as you understood you were doing for Bee?

A. We put the five dollars up for them, that is all there was to it. As far as the other part of it is concerned they never got nothing out of me. Of course, once in a while I had to divy up.

Q. How long had you known Bee at that time?

A. About four or five months.

Q. Where had you first met her?

A. Up at Lou Devore's.

Q. You were rather well acquainted at DeVore's then, weren't you?

A. Pretty well. She was a nice woman for a while here in this town and she got pretty gay and started a hoar house—house of ill fame. That is what she done. Her husband was a nice man and she was a nice woman.

Q. Did you get acquainted with her soon after she started? A. Yes, I knew her before she started it.

Q. You knew her before and you visited her after she did start?

A. Yes, I never visited her before she did start though.

Q. I say you visited her after she started this house?

A. Yes, of course I went there because I knew her.

Q. Now, what was the second time you went over there. You described the second visit,—describe the third visit?

A. I can't describe the third visit.

Q. Well, who went with you?

A. I went by myself most of the time. Sometimes I would go with a bunch of boys who would come up with me, we were going through the rounds, going to do the rounds and would go from one place to another.

Q. Well, how long did you keep Bee there at Lillie White's?

A. Not very long. She went away from here with a fellow [] Kay Norris.

Q. About when did she leave?

A. She left in the latter part of '86, fall of '86.

Q. In the fall of '86? A. Yes.

Q. She stayed there until she left, didn't she? A. No.

Q. Where did she go?

A. Kay Norris took her and married and took a room previous to that.

Q. Previous to that?

A. Yes, they lived in town here about three or four months in a room. After that I never saw her.

Q. In the summer of '86 Bee married Norris?

A. I think so, about that time, I don't know whether she married him or not, she was living with him anyhow.

Q. She commenced living with Norris as a married woman? A. Yes.

Q. Where was she living just before she started living with Norris?

A. I think she was at Lillie White's previous to that.

Q. She left Lillie White's and went over to Norris' room?

A. Yes, and went to living with Norris.

Q. When did Norris begin beating your gait?

A. About the spring of '86.

Q. About the spring? A. Yes.

Q. Who did you pick up then?

A. I picked up no one then, I had enough.

Q. You quit them all then?

A. I quit them all. I got tired of it.

Q. That was the Spring of '86? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when you quit in the spring of '86, you knew that Norris was going with Bee—was sort of lying up with Bee? That is what you call it, isn't it, sort of laying up with her?

A. I guess so, yes. That is coming right out flat footed, yes.

Q. Norris commenced laying up with Bee in '85?

A. No, in '86, I think in the spring.

Q. In the spring of '86? A. Spring of '86.

Q. And he commenced laying up with her before you quit, or did he just beat your gait to it and you quit?

A. Well, it was mutual.

Q. You discussed it with him, did you? A. Yes.

Q. He came for her?

A. Yes, I told him he could have her.

Q. That was in the spring of '86?

A. I think it was about that time.

Q. Was that the last time then that you had been over to this Seneca place?

A. No, I wasn't over there at that time at all, the spring of '86 Lillie was down on Choctaw Street.

Q. The spring of '86, she was down on Choctaw?

A. Yes.

Q. You abandoned your claim to Bee when Lillie was down on Choctaw Street? A. Well, previous to that.

Q. Where was Lillie White living at the time you quit Bee?

A. Well, now, I don't know whether Bee was at Lillie White's, I think that is in the winter—fall or winter of '85, or spring of '86. Of course, I don't know exactly. Anyhow, we didn't hook up after that and she went to living with Kay Norris, and I think that was in the winter of '85 or spring of '86.

Q. Where was Lillie White living when you quit Bee?

A. I didn't—— When I quit Bee?

Q. Well, didn't quit her, she quit me, both quit mutual. Kay Norris and I had an understading, I don't know what month it was exactly or what year it was exactly what month it was but it was '85 or '86.

Q. What was that understanding you had with Norris?

A. He wanted her and I didn't want her, and he said all right Joe, and I sold him two suits of clothes on top of it.

Q. He bought a couple of suits of clothes? A. Yes.

Q. And you turned Bee over to him? A. Yes.

Q. Did he turn anything over to you?

A. Yes, I made him two suits of clothes.

Q. He turned his girl over to you?

A. He had none then.

Q. Who was Kay Norris?

A. A young farmer that came in from the farm out here, nephew of Dick Kitchen, of Omaha.

Q. Who was Dick? A. Dick Kitchen?

Q. Yes?

A. Any old timer knew Dick Kitchen, the hotel man up in Omaha.

Q. Well, Norris was a sport, wasn't he?

A. Well, they were all sports in those days as far as we could go. Well, he had the money to go on.

Q. He was always a sport as long as the money lasted?

A. Yes, I met him in '88 and his money was all gone.

Q. You took him then around and showed him the old sites?

A. No, I wasn't here, I was in Colorado—Lamar, Colorado, I didn't show him no sights, he knew more about them than I did.

Q. Did he take you and show you the sculptures at that time?

A. No, I didn't have to be shown. I was out there on business.

Q. Now, in the fall of '85 it was that you took Bee over to Lillie White's?

A. I think it was, I don't know whether it was—about that time, yes.

Q. In the fall of '85?

A. Yes, something about that time, yes.

Q. Wasn't it the fall of '84?

A. No, I don't think it was, because I hadn't been back long enough to get acquainted so very well, with Bee.

Q. Then, after you got acquainted you took her over to—

A. I came back from Chicago in October '84, and I hadn't met her except probably on one or two occasions previous.

Q. You didn't commence being the best fellow with her until the spring or summer of '85?

A. About that time, yes, after I got acquainted with her.

Q. And then some three or four months afterwards, you took her over to Lillie White's place? A. Yes.

Q. In the fall of '85?

A. Something like that, about that time, that is the best of my recollection.

Q. You played her during the winter and spring?

A. I what?

Q. I say you played her during the fall, winter, and spring? A. Played her?

Q. Yes?

A. I don't know exactly the term of that word play; I didn't play with her, I was dead on the square, no playing with me.

Q. How long did that relationship continue during that fall and winter?

A. Oh, probably three or four or five months.

Q. You say about four or five months? A. Yes.

Q. And the next spring the base ball fellows——

A. No, that fall.

Q. What? A. That fall.

Q. That fall?

A. Yes, '85 and part of '86, and part of '86 we had it—— Of course in '86 we had it—Town Ball.

Q. Where was the ball ground in '85?

A. Out on Oliver St.

Q. And you didn't get in with the ball team until the fall of '85?

A. Of course I was always with the ball team. I was always a crank on the ball team.

Q. You was a fan?

A. Yes, I was always the ball team.

Q. And you knew the boys? A. Always.

Q. And after the work was done in the evenings, you associated with them? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had the—— Made the rounds of the town with them? A. Like a bunch of young fellows would do.

Q. They were a pretty gay gang, wasn't they?

A. Just about as gay as you ever make them They were a good bunch at that time.

Q. And you commenced that in the——'85?

A. I commenced it previous to that.

Q. After this Chicago trip? A. Oh,——

Q. You didn't know the team very well in '84, because you were gone a part of that year?

A. Well, they didn't have no team here to amount to anything in '84.

Q. In '85 they had what?

A. The Western League Team.

Q. Had a Western League Team in '85? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that was the first year they had a Western League Team? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you took up with the boys and associated with them that summer?

A. That summer and that fall, yes, sir.

Q. That season?

A. A part of that winter, some of them stayed here.

Q. And the next year they opened actively as a member of the league?

A. Yes, sir, I was with them just the same; I knew pretty near all of them. As soon as they got in town a stranger base-ball player, I met them.

Q. And you run with them that summer? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The summer of 86? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were with them at nights? A. Yes, sir.

Q. All of you would go off and get drunk together?

A. No, sir, I never said that; I told you I didn't get drunk.

Q. You would not get drunk, but you would get three and a half sheets in the wind with them?

A. Yes, but I never got drunk.

Q. I beg your pardon? Did they get any more than that?

A. They?

Q. Yes?

A. They always right with me, once in a while one might get knocked out. They were the kind that could stand it.

Q. Now who was in that team in 85? A. In 85?

Q. Yes, who managed it?

A. Well, now I won't say, but I have got a picture down there of the team of '85—Hawkins.

Q. You have got a picture of the team of '85?

A. Yes, sir, if I could just find that. Cahill and Hawkins and Twinam, Tub Wells, he came in '86, I believe. Bagley came here in '86.

Q. Who was the manager in '85?

A. Well, Linn Creder, managed the team a part of '85. Will Sargent managed it a part of 85. They are both dead; they were sports; they are all dead. I am the only one sport now out of that bunch that is living and living right, trying to live right.

Q. What do you mean by that expression, trying to live right? A. Why I am here on top.

Q. On top of the soil? A. Yes, and going.

Q. Still however keeping your sheets primed up to about three and a half, aren't you?

A. No, sir, about two and a half now.

Q. That is all you have had today, about two and a half?

A. Only had one.

Q. Only had one today?

A. Yes. Wouldn't mind getting another one if I could but not in Kansas.

Q. You keep the sole about worn off walking over to Drydale, don't you?

A. No, no, I haven't been to Drydale for about seven months. Wouldn't believe that, would you. If a man was to ask me where that sidewalk is built on that bridge, I wouldn't know on which side it was on, to tell you the truth about it; Drydale and I don't mix.

Q. It has got to be wider than that to mix with you, hasn't it?

A. Yes, sir, I go to Kansas City to get mine, I ought to have been down there yesterday, I suppose I would have got about half shot yesterday over the election; the way the election went I would have had a good time. Well, laying all jokes aside, that is the fact. No I haven't been over in Drydale for seven months, but I would like to go this afternoon. I think I will just lay off this afternoon.

Mr. Allen: Just answer the question.

Q. You are not putting it all down now, are you?

Mr. German: I want the record to show that Mr. Blakeney has been in conference with J. Coody Johnson, and that the witness has been rather drifting during the latter part of his answer and testifying with the rest of us.

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out from the record Counsel's statement; it is not necessary to cite the facts with reference to it, because I think it is irrelevant.

Q. Name the girls that were up at DeVore's place, what was the names, DeVore, up at DeVore's place?

A. Name them?

Q. Yes?

A. I can't name them now. Those two that were there Bee and Francis were sisters, and there was another one, oh, I can't call their names.

Q. Do you know when the DeVore's opened up there at that place? A. Not exactly, no, sir.

Q. Don't know the year? A. No, sir.

Q. Before you went to Chicago?

A. I think so, or it might have been while I was in Chicago, I can't say that.

Q. Now you are not pretending to try to say that you can recall after 30 years the dates of your visits to houses of prostitution? A. No, sir.

Q. In Leavenworth? A. No, sir.

Q. You just made an approximation of it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You might be a month off, or might be longer?

A. No, I wouldn't be six months off, probably be four or five weeks off, but not six months off, because I was here all that time.

Q. Yes, you were here all the time, but couldn't be more than four or five weeks off?

A. No, in that neighborhood, might be off four or five weeks, something like that.

Q. Then you can say with absolute positiveness that Lillie White was on Seneca Street at least as late as the first day of January 1886?

> Mr. Allen: We object to that as not predicated upon any statement that witness made, or upon any testimony that this witness has given.

A. I won't say at least that late, but in that neighborhood. She was there in the fall of '85 and she moved in '85, early spring or the winter of '86.

Q. Then there would be six months difference between the fall of '85 and the spring of '86, wouldn't there? A. No.

Q. Well when do you refer to that she must have moved?

A. She might have moved in December, and she might have moved between December and March, and that is only about three months.

Q. Between December and March? A. Yes.

Q. Then you can say with positiveness that she did move between the first of December '85 and the first of March '86?

Mr. Allen: We object—I withdraw that.

A. No, I won't say that. I said she was there the fall of '85, what time she moved I can't say, because I wasn't there at the moving.

Q. Now then you can't fix the date within two or three or four weeks?

A. No, I can't because I didn't keep no tab on it; that is a long time ago.

Q. You can't even say she was there the 1st of November 1885? A. Yes, sir I can.

Q. You are sure of that?

A. Yes, sir, she was there in the fall of '85.

Q. I said nothing about the fall, I said the 1st day of November? A. That is fall isn't it.

Q. Will you say positively she was there the 1st day of November?

A. I think so, yes. Oh yes; I am pretty sure; yes, I wouldn't swear to that part of it either, so far as that is concerned; but she was there in the fall of '85.

Q. How long did you know of Lillie White being at that place before you took Bee over there?

A. I knew that for probably several months, I don't know.

Q. Had you been there?

A. I think I was there once previous to that, yes, I wouldn't swear to that either; I think I was though because I knew Lillie White, knew her personally; knew the man she was held up by.

Q. Who was keeping Lillie at that time?

A. Oh, I don't like to bring those recollections up; the man is dead, and what is the difference; I don't think it is necessary to tell those questions. The man is dead and gone.

Mr. Allen: That is answered it now.

A. Do I have to answer it. Of course he is dead and gone; she is dead; of course if I have to answer it I will answer it, but I don't want.

Mr. Hanford: I insist that you answer it.

Q. Everybody knows that; Dennis Jones knows who that was. You know who that was.

Mr. Allen: Don't talk to outside witnesses.

Q. Who was in her house at the time that she moved?

A. I wasn't there at the moving.

Q. How long were you there before she moved?

A. Oh, I don't know; I may have been there a month or so before she moved.

Q. Then you wouldn't know within a month of when she did move?

A. Yes, not just about a month, but something like that. She moved in—I don't know, she moved sometime between the latter part of '85 and the early part of '86, because I know I was down to her house on Choctaw Street in the early part of '86.

Q. You don't mean to say that there was ever a month passed that you weren't at Lillie White's house during that time? A. Yes.

Q. A whole month?

A. Yes, three months one time I didn't go at all.

Q. That was when you were in Chicago, wasn't it?

A. Sir.

Q. That was when you were in Chicago, wasn't it?

A. No, sir, I was sick.

Q. Sick?

A. Yes, wasn't feeling very good and didn't go out.

Q. When was that? A. The winter of '85 and '86.

Q. Were you treated by a doctor? A. I was, yes, sir.

Q. Who treated you? A. Doctor Brock.

Q. Is he dead? A. All these doctors are dead.

Q. He is dead? A. Yes.

Q. Where did you get your drugs?

A. Got my drugs from Fritsche's.

Q. Across the street here?

A. It was up on Shawnee street then. Didn't need many drugs, I was just knocked out, was all.

Q. Have any prescriptions filled?

A. I believe I had three or four.

Q. Now when do you say that was?

A. I think that was in '85, winter of '85, or '86.

Q. The winter of '85 or early part of '86?

A. I had what they called the grippe, I didn't get out much, I wasn't in bed.

Q. Where was Lillie living now the last time that you visited her place before you got sick?

A. Well, the last time I was in her place I think was ——

Q. Before you got sick?

A. Now I don't know; if I remember right, let me see, November '85. In December I was away for two weeks, I think the last time I was in her place was in November.

Q. Just before you got sick? A. No, no.

Q. How long before you got sick?

A. Oh, I may have—to get down to that about that, I might know, I haven't got it here, but in '85 I made a trip to Dodge City in '85, on the 7th day of December, I think it was, I left here and was gone two weeks to Dodge City.

Q. Where was Lillie living when you left now?

A. I think she was living there then.

Q. On Seneca?

A. Yes, and when I got back, after I got back from Dodge City, and I didn't go around then for a couple of months and then she was living down on Choctaw Street.

Q. Now when you left then on the 7th of December, she was living then on Seneca? A. Yes, I think so.

Q. When you came back you were sick? A. Yes.

Q. And didn't go about her place for a couple of months?

A. For a couple of months.

Q. And when you got well you went next time to the place——

A. When I got out, I wasn't so awful sick, but I didn't go around much—didn't go around much.

Q. After you did get out a couple of months she was living then out on Shawnee Street?

A. I think it was on Choctaw Street.

Q. Then she must have left in the—— A. Between times.

Q. Between December 7th and the 1st of March?

A. Yes, not December 7th, because I probably wasn't there for two or three weeks before I went to Dodge City.

Q. Then she must have left within two weeks of December 7th, or while you were gone to Dodge City?

A. At least that is the best of my recollection, but I made that trip to Dodge City and was gone two weeks, and I came back, and I didn't go out at all because I had a lot of business to attend to.

Q. What record have you made to show you went to Dodge City? A. Measurements on a book.

Q. Have you got that so you can give it to us?

A. I think so, if I didn't throw it away.

Q. I wish you when you leave the stand would get this book showing the measurements of Dodge City, and the measurements for the two suits that you sold this man that you gave this girl to—Bee?

A. That I can't find now, because I threw a whole lot of those books away since father died.

Q. You wouldn't say whether you threw that away or not? A. I wouldn't say for sure, I may have.

Q. When did your father die?

A. The 5th of January?

Q. What year? A. This year.

Q. You have thrown a lot of them away since that time?

A. Yes.

Q. Where did you throw them?

A. Threw them down in the cellar and the furnace, I guess.

Q. I wish you would make an examination and see if you have the measurements for those two suits now that you say you sold to the fellow who took Bee from you, and the measurements that you took at Dodge City?

A. I may have them.

Q. And the picture of the baseball club that you say you had for '85?

A. I may have that too, I wouldn't say for sure, I think I have them.

Q. If you have you will produce them, will you?

A. Allright, yes, sir.

Q. When Lillie White was living in this place Granny Letcher wasn't living there, an old negro woman?

A. I don't think so, I never saw anything like that.

Q. Wasn't any old negro woman in charge of the place?

A. Not that I know of.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Lets see if I understand you, Mr. Eckert. After you got acquainted with this Bee, or put up this bond for her, how many months was it that you stated that you were associated with her before Norris took her?

A. Oh, it was only two or three months.

Q. Two or three months?

A. Something like that, yes.

Q. And you weren't around this White girl's place much after that?

A. No, oh, I used to visit them all, as far as that is concerned.

Q. I know, but after that you didn't visit that place you didn't have any regular girl, anywhere, didn't visit that place any more than any other place of the same character? A. No.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You say you started going to her house when you had that room—girl down there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was the attraction? A. Yes.

Q. You had no occasion to go there?

A. I knew Lillie White previous to that though.

Q. You didn't frequent her place until the Randolph girl went down there? A. No.

Q. Up to that time you had been going to Lou DeVore's and didn't know anything about Lillie White's place until [] quit the DeVore's?

A. I went down there, and I was a little more at home there than I was at the others.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Where was this you say you went about the 7th day of December '85? A. Dodge City.

Q. And how long before that was it that you saw Lillie White?

A. I think about a couple of weeks before, it may have been a month.

Q. What was the name of this man whom Lillie White went with?

A. Well, I just refuse to answer that question, Judge. Do I have to answer that?

Q. Yes. A. Well, John Malone, was his name.

Witness dismissed until 1:30 o'clock P. M.

And thereupon, JOE A. ECKERT being recalled, further testified as follows:

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Mr. Eckert, you were on the witness stand this morning? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And were asked by Mr. Blakeney to get some records? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The record of the sales made by you when you went over to Dodge City? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You said that you thought that was in 1885? A. '85.

Q. Have you that record now? A. I have.

Q. Have you it with you? A. I have.

Q. Let me see it.

A. There is a copy of these pictures that I said in regard to the base ball team in 1885.

Q. Well, just about the record?

A. That was one that he asked for too.

Q. Is this your book of original entries in which you entered——

A. That is the book that I brought back when I came back from Dodge City I——

Q. Is this the book of original entries where you entered the orders that you received at Dodge City on the occasion that you referred to?

A. Yes, sir, that is when I came back when I put those measurements in the book, part of them, it is not all of them.

Q. Refreshing your memory by that book, when do you now say that you went to Dodge City?

A. About the 7th or 8th of December.

Q. What year? A. '85.

Q. Who did you take orders from for clothes at Dodge City on that occasion, as shown by your books? A. Well——

Q. Just read off the names there?

A. I don't have to read them off that book. The first man I sold was Ben Daniels, and then I sold Joe Northcrab, I sold Lou Wallace, I sold George Reynolds. Jim Kellev, Neal Brown, Bill Pilgran, E. F. Kellog, Roy Drake, Lee Collins, and there was several others that I don't remember their names now, but I haven't got them all in that book, but I have got their names down in another book that I had, a further one previous that I had there.

Q. Most of the names that you have given are shown by this book? A. No, I won't say all of them.

Q. I say most of them are?

A. Yes, most of them are. You will find Ben Daniels, Northcrab, Warren——

Q. That is enough. Are the dates that you made these entries shown by this book, were these entries made on the dates that this book shows they were made?

A. They were made after I got back.

Q. How long after?

A. Just about the same day that I got back, that was about the 20th or 21st, I guess, of the months. I left here on the 7th and was gone two weeks.

Q. Was that in '85? A. '85, yes, sir.

Q. What date does the book show you made the entry?

A. I guess it is '85, I don't know.

> By Mr. German: Let the record show that the witness had not the book in his hand when he made that answer.

Q. When I ask you about the entry, refresh your memory by the book, Mr. Witness, what date does the book show you made those entries? A. '85.

Q. What date?

A. This was—— That was before that, previous. If you will get the book there and look over on the other side, you will find out the dates of these measurements was later.

Q. Well, what date?

A. The 26th, you will find that these measurements——

Q. 26th of what? A. December.

Q. What year? A. '85.

Q. Is that book in the same condition now that it was in then?

A. All except the outside cover is off of it, it has never been changed.

Q. You testified this morning about a ball team that you had a picture of, the team of '85? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you the picture now of the team of '85?

A. I have the—— This is the wind up of the '85 team, and they came here in '86 and got their picture taken; in the latter part of '86 there wasn't but two men of that team in the ball team of '86. This was the '85 team and they were lined up in the spring of '86.

By Mr. Hanford: I object on the ground that it is not responsive to the question.

Q. Don't make any further explanation than is necessary in order to answer the question. Mr. Eckert, you say that that picture that you have now, at this time being examined by counsel for Mr. Page, is a picture of the team of '85? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. German: We tender to counsel for the defendant, the book and the photograph for examination.

By Mr. Hanford: You don't mark them in evidence, Mr. German?

By Mr. German: No.

By Mr. Cruce: Mark the photograph, please, sir. (Marked Defendant's Exhibit 2).

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Defendant's Exhibit 2, is a photograph about which you have been testifying, is it? A. I think so.

Q. And you state that is a photograph of the team in 1885?

A. That is the balance of them, some of them that was taken in 1886, according to the way that picture was taken in the spring of '86.

Q. Will you find something on that card that indicates that it was taken in the spring of '86? A. Will I?

Q. Yes, sir, look at it and see what there is on it to indicate that it was taken in the spring of '86?

A. Yes, sir, Leavenworth Red's of 1886.

Q. What is there on that that indicates that photograph was taken in the spring of 1886?

A. Because I—— There was a bunch of those boys, I will say this: Bagley was in Klinely's place, Swartzell in place of these two batteries, Robinson was in here, only at the last turned out of the bunch; this one wasn't here, Cahill wasn't here, and we had a new team altogether in the latter part of '86.

Q. You took that photograph?

A. No, sir, I didn't, I am not a picture taker.

Q. Was you present when it was taken?

A. No, sir, but I know it was taken.

Q. You have sworn now that this picture was taken in the spring of 1886, haven't you?

A. No, sir, I don't swear it was taken then.

Q. What are you doing, you understand you are under oath when you swore a moment ago?

A. I said I thought the picture was taken in 1885.

Q. You swore you thought it was taken in '85?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't you swear a while ago that this picture was taken in the spring of 1886? A. I didn't swear that.

Q. Well, do you say so?

A. I said it must have been taken in the spring of '86, because in the fall of '86 none of these fellows were in the team at all. O'Donnell, and all these fellows were not in the team at all. I can prove——

By Mr. Cruce: I want to introduce that picture.

Q. How many times have you been to Dodge City to take orders for your tailoring establishment? A. Once.

Q. Only in 1885? A. I went once, yes, sir.

Q. And that was on—— A. December, '85.

Q. What time in December?

A. The first part of the month.

Q. What names were there that you gave just a few moments ago?

A. Ben Daniels, Joe Northcrab, Lou Warren——

Q. Pick out Ben Daniels?

A. You can find the name there.

By Mr. Allen: Find that, Mr. Witness.

Q. Find the first name that you have just mentioned.

A. Right here?

Q. What name is it? A. Ben Daniels.

Q. I will ask you if that doesn't appear under the date of December 26th? A. It does, yes, sir.

Q. Why did you swear then that it was in the first part of December?

A. I didn't swear that, I put that down there on the first part of December, I left here the first part of December, and I came back, and when I got back I put these names down.

Q. You didn't make these entries then when you took your orders?

A. No, sir. When I got back I put them down, I didn't carry that book with me when I went out on the trip.

Q. Did you keep all of these entries in your head then and put them down in your book when you came back?

A. No, sir, I had a smaller book, measuring blank that we used to carry.

Q. These measuring blanks were the entries made at the time you took the orders? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were wrong a while ago when you swore this book was a book of original entry, were you?

A. No, I wasn't wrong.

By Mr. German: I object on the ground that the witness is not qualified as an expert lawyer, and therefore not qualified to know the meaning of the term "book of original entry."

Q. Did you answer on direct examination some few moments ago that these were the original entries? A. No, sir.

Q. You did not?

A. I don't think I did. They were the entries after I got back from the trip.

Q. What do you understand by original entry?

A. Now, you are too strong for me, because I don't understand that. Original entry I suppose when I took the measure and put it down, is that the original entry? If that is it, then this is not the case at all because I put them down after I got back.

Q. Whatever name besides Hagerman, did you take over there?

A. I didn't mention Hagerman's name at all there.

Q. Will you look on this book then for the name of L. C. Hermann? A. Yes, I will look on that.

Q. And tell what date you took that order?

A. There is L. C. Hogmer, I didn't take that order at all.

Q. It appears on your book, doesn't it as an order?

A. Yes.

Q. Taken on the 26th day of December?

A. I know that probably was when I got back. Ben Daniels was the first order I took at Dodge City and I brought back and put on this book.

Q. Turn to a page on that book where the name Ben Daniels appears? A. Right next to it.

Q. Where did Houserman live? A. Lived in town.

Q. What town? A. Leavenworth.

Q. This entry then that you are testifying about is an original entry, the name of Ben Daniels, of Fort Dodge, or Dodge City, and L. C. Houserman, of Leavenworth, representing both orders to have been taken on the 26th day of December '85? A. Yes, sir, according to that book.

Q. Is there anything on this book that indicates where Ben Daniels lived?

A. No, sir, but everybody knew where Ben Daniels lived, anybody that knew him at all.

Q. Where did he live? A. In Dodge City.

Q. There is nothing to suggest in this book where he lived is there? A. Not according to that, no.

Q. You are relying simply upon your recollection as to where he lived? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What other evidence have you?

A. I have got it in my mind because I took his measurement in Dodge City, and everybody that ever knows of Ben Daniels, knows that he lived in Dodge City.

Q. I say you are relying upon your recollection as to where Ben Daniels lived?

A. No, sir, not relying on my own recollection, but relying on my own personal measurements.

Q. Where did White live?

A. Ain't got no White there.

Q. Whitelaw?

A. Lived in Dodge City, lawyer there in Dodge City.

Q. What day of the month did you take this order?

A. About the same day I said, between the 8th and 9th of December up until the 25th I took all those measurements.

Q. You took orders there from the 7th or 8th of December up until the 25th of December?

A. I think in that neighborhood, I won't say up until the 25th, but when I came back I put these measurements down, I came back home the day before Christmas or a couple of days before that, and I put these measurements down in the book.

By Mr. Cruce: If the Court please, we want to introduce this book, pages 220, 221, 223, and 224.

By Mr. Allen: No objection. The pages offered in evidence are torn from the book in which the pages are contained.

Q. Where did Mr. Tom Welsh live? A. Tom Welsh?

Q. Yes? A. He lived in Leavenworth at that time.

Q. Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir? That is previous to these measurements.

Q. His name appears under date of December 25th?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where did D. C. Milton live?
A. He lived at Dodge City.
Q. Where did Neal Brown live?
A. Anybody that lived in Kansas, Dodge City, of course.
Q. Where did John Rawlins live? A. Dodge City.
Q. Where did James H. Kelley live?
A. Old Doc Kelley lived in Dodge City, was Mayor of Dodge City four years. Old Jim Kelley—Harve Kelly, as I called him, he was my best friend.
Q. Where did George Anderson live? A. Dodge City.
Q. George Reynolds? A. Dodge City.
Q. Jack Keeler? A. Dodge City.
Q. Sam Blonger? A. Dodge City.
Q. Where did E. R. Garland live? A. Dodge City.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Mr. Eckert, you say you have lived here since you were three years old? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Have you ever been away for any length of time except the time that you were in Chicago?
A. Yes, two or three occasions.
Q. Short trips? A. Yes.
Q. Mr. Eckert, have you ever been arrested in your life?
A. Arrested?
Q. Yes?

By Mr. Cruce: We object to that as immaterial, if the Court please.

A. No. By Gosh! I never was. Thank Goodness, I never was!

(Witness dismissed).

Mr. Cruce: We have no objection to the introduction of this exhibit.

Mr. German: That is Government's Exhibit A-93.

The Court: All right if you gentlemen have no objection I will admit it.

And thereupon, WILLIAM JACKSON was produced, sworn and examined as a witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. William Jackson.

Q. Where do you live? A. Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. How long have you lived there?

A. I have been in Fort Leavenworth ever since '61.

Q. Sixty one? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What has been your business there, your occupation or profession?

A. Well, I have been driving a team for the prison since seventy three, first went to work in the Quarter Master's department in seventy and was transferred to the prison department in seventy three.

Q. Do you have charge of the Commandant's stables?

A. Now, yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Jackson, were you living there in eighteen eighty three, four, five and six? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know Herbert Grodevant?

A. Perfectly well, yes, sir. Lived a few doors from him.

Q. You lived how far from Herbert Grodevant's?

A. Just the second door.

Q. I hand you Government's Exhibit A-79, which is a sketch, and ask you where your house was located with reference to the home of Mr. Grodevant?

A. Right here. I lived in the second house. My brother lived in the first house next to Mr. Grodevant and I lived in the second.

Q. Where were you working at that time with reference to your home?

A. Right down in here, right in front of Mr. Grodevant is the prison corral.

Q. Just in front of Herbert Grodevant's home?

A. Just straight west of Mr. Grodevant's a hundred yards.

Q. What is that community known as? A. Bluntville.

Q. Was it known as Bluntville at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many families lived in Bluntville, about how many? A. About twelve or fourteen families.

Q. Was that inside of the Post?

A. Well, it was just north of the Post joining the prison wall.

Q. Was it a part of the Government Reservation?

A. Yes, sir, yes, sir.

Q. You were married at that time in 1884, '5 and '6?

A. Yes, sir, indeed before that time.

Q. Was Mr. Grodevant married?

A. Yes, sir, he came there after I moved there and he was married.

Q. Where do you live now with reference to where Grodevant lived then?

A. I live just north of that in the same house that Mr. Grodevant lived in then.

Q. How long have you lived in that house that Mr. Grodevant lived in at that time? A. Some twenty years.

Q. Were your family and the Grodevant family friendly?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did they visit each other at that time?

A. Well, we would all gather out in front on the lawn, always very friendly.

Q. Do you remember the occasion of an Indian girl coming to work for Mr. Herbert Grodevant in 1884? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was that girl?

A. Well, as we used to know her, Indian Minnie; an Indian girl, some used to call her the Indian girl and some used to call her Indian Minnie.

Q. How long did she stay there in the Grodevant home?

A. Well, it was late in the fall of ’84, or in the—yes in the fall of ’84, and she was there during the winter of ’85, and along in the early spring.

Q. In the winter of ’84 and ’85? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then how much longer?

A. Well, it was somewhere along in the spring time that she left there, and I don’t just remember what time it was; along in fine weather.

Q. About how long was she there, do you remember?

A. Well, I should judge it was something like a year, in that neighborhood.

Q. Were you thrown in company with her any during the winter of ’84 and ’85?

A. Well, nothing further than just in the winter months that the families around there would get together and go around the hill a coasting, and Minnie would join in with the crowd and sleigh ride down the hill on a bob-sled.

Q. How frequently would you see her during the time that she was at the Grodevant home?

A. Well, in the position that I was in driving that ambulance and express wagon, sometimes I would pass the Grodevant house four or five, and probably a half a dozen times a day, and I would very often see Minnie out in the yard, or out on the porch, or in the window, or something like that; dusting, or something like that.

Q. State whether or not she was in a family way at any time during her stay [] the Grodevant home.

A. No, sir; never was in it that I ever heard of it. Never heard that remark, no, sir.

Q. Did she give birth to any child during the time that she worked at Grodevants?

A. No, sir, never heard of it, never in the world.

Q. Was she ever in the employ of the Grodevants more than the one time, about a year that you say that you saw her there? A. Not to my judgment, no, sir.

Q. Did any of the other neighbors of yours have any servant girl at that time?

A. No, sir, they wasn't able to keep one; wasn't able to have a servant girl.

Q. State whether or not there was any other Indian girls around the Post there?

A. Well, we had one more in the neighborhood by the name of Hubbard—married to a sergeant there. She was a northern woman.

Q. She was married to Sergeant——

A. Sergeant Hubbard, yes, sir.

Q. Was any other servant girl than Minnie around the Post? A. Not in Bluntville—not in Bluntville.

Q. Did the Hubbard woman ever serve as a servant girl?

A. No, sir, no, sir.

Q. Did she ever work as a servant girl? A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Is your memory as good now or better than when your deposition was taken?

A. Well, sir, I think it is just about as good now as it ever was.

Q. I mean was your deposition taken in this case?

A. Yes, sir, I think it was.

Q. And was your memory as good then as it is now?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you knew as much about the case then as you do now? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when you testified before, you testified that you didn't pay any attention to this girl, didn't you?

A. I said I never had any interest in her.

Q. Just answer my question. Didn't you say that you didn't pay any attention to her whatever?

A. Well, that is the way I meant it, I never bothered with the girl.

Q. Didn't you say that you merely glanced at her in the yard? A. That is all.

Q. And that is all you knew about it?

A. Yes, sir, I had been out sleigh riding.

Q. You didn't tell that before, did you?

A. They never asked me that question before.

Q. You were asked to tell all you knew about this case?

A. Those things came to me since.

Q. How did they come to you since?

A. Since I was on the stand, I was giving this matter this thought.

Q. Was there anybody helped you with it? A. No, sir.

Q. Who talked with you about it since you were on the stand?

A. I never talked with nobody, only some lawyers asked me if I knew her is all.

Q. But you have since giving your testimony, given the matter serious consideration? A. Yes, sir, I have.

Q. And in that consideration, it occurred to you that you had gone out sleigh riding? A. Yes, sir.

Q. During that period? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, let's see. You were asked on page twenty two hundred and seventy something—I don't know what it is, I will ask you if you didn't say this on direct examination: "I have seen her out in the yard and going back in the house, yes, sir.", answering Judge Allen's question? A. Yes, sir.

Q. "State whether you saw her very frequently?

A. Well, I can't say just how often it would be; just whenever I would be passing there. If she was out, I naturally saw her, you know, not paid any attention her at all, just merely seeing somebody in the yard." Did you swear to that?

A. Well, I knew it was her.

The Court: Did you swear to that?

A. Yes, sir, I seen her in the yard.

Q. "During the time that you saw this Indian woman, state whether or not you ever saw her showing any signs of being in a pregnant condition?" A. Never did.

Q. Wait a minute.

The Court: Wait until he gets through with the question.

Q. I am asking you if you swore to this: "No, I never did; never noticed a thing of that kind. No, sir, I never did. I never noticed her being that way. I never heard of it." Is that what you testified to? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, on page 2376, Mr. Jackson, did you testify to this: "Mr. Jackson, you had no reason to question how long Indian Minnie worked for the Grodevants, did you? A. Why, no, gentlemen, I wasn't interested in Indian Minnie at all; I never paid any attention to the girl. I seen her." Is that what you said? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Again: "She was simply a servant in the house of the Grodevants and your relations were with the Grodevants and not with their servants, that is true, is it not? A. Yes, sir. Q. You made no attempt to employ her or keep track of their domestic affairs? A. None whatever. Q. Or observed their servants? A. No, sir. Q. Or their physical condition as to whether they were in pregnancy? A. No, sir. Q. You didn't pay enough attention to the girl to look into any such a matter? A. I was not interested in the girl at all." You swore to that, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, again: "You simply remembered that the Grodevants had a servant girl named Indian Minnie and she worked there along about those years? A. Yes, sir, along about that time. Q. And you didn't keep track of her goings and comings, and what her habits were? A. No, sir. Q. Or how long she was there or whether she was away for some time? A. No, whether she was away or went back, I never paid any attention to her. Q. Where she went after she left, you didn't know? A. No. Q. And where she came from you didn't know? A. No, sir. Q. Your observation of her was in the way you describe, casual observation of a neighbor's servant? A. That is all; just passing by and happened to see the figure out in the yard and maybe happened to glance that way. Q. Do you think you would know her if you saw her again? A. I don't believe I would know her; I don't think so. That is quite a while ago and I presume she was quite a young girl at that time and now she must be quite large and there is lots of changes in that time. I don't believe I would know her if I was to meet her out on the street." Now, did you testify to that portion? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And this sleigh ride of yours, you have remembered since you left the stand? A. Yes, sir.

Q. As a matter of fact, you didn't pay any attention to that girl at all, did you?

A. Not to any great extent, no.

Q. You had no interest in her?

A. Not a bit on earth.

Q. And you had social acquaintance with her, did you?

A. Not a bit.

Q. Not a bit in the world? A. No, sir.

Q. And you didn't notice her as to whether she was pregnant or not, did you?

A. Well, I never noticed anything of that kind. If she had of been, I probably would have known it.

Q. If she would have shown it, you would have known it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. But you don't say she was not pregnant while she was there, do you?

A. No, sir, I don't say she wasn't; I don't think she was.

Q. You never paid any particular attention to that matter at all, did you? A. No, sir, not like that.

Q. And when you state that you simply glanced at her in the back yard from time to time in a casual way, that is your testimony now, in addition to what you have said with reference to the sleigh riding? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that is the only addition that you want to make to your testimony? A. That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. You were married, you say at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many children have you? A. I have eight.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, JOHN M. PURCELL, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. John M. Purcell.

Q. Where do you live? A. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. What official position do you hold at this time?

A. Captain of the watch, United States penitentiary.

Q. At Leavenworth?

A. Leavenworth, Kansas, yes, sir.

Q. How long have you held that position?

A. Since December 1909.

Q. Were you ever an enlisted—were you ever enlisted in the Army? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you enlist?

A. On the 3rd of November, 1881.

Q. Where were you at that time? A. New York.

Q. Did you thereafter go to Fort Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you go to Fort Leavenworth?

A. The 16th of December and I left Davis Island about the 12th of December and got into Leavenworth, Kansas, on the 16th of December, 1881.

Q. What were you doing in 1884-5?

A. 1884, from December 16, 1881, until the 6th of October, 1884, I was in Company A, Fourth United States Infantry, at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and I was transferred to the provost guard, general service, on the 6th of October, 1884.

Q. And continued in that service through 1885 and '86?

A. Well, until November 2nd, 1886, I was discharged and re-enlisted on the 2nd day of December, 1886, in the provost guard, and remained continuously in the service there until the 1st day of September, 1885, when I was mustered out of that service to take the present position as a guard at the United States Federal Penitentiary.

Q. And you were guard then, at the United States Penitentiary until you became a captain of the guard?

A. Until December 1909.

Q. So you have been in the Government service continuously since 1881? A. Yes, sir.

Q. During the year—years 1884 and '85, did you see an Indian girl at the home of Herbert Grodevant?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know Herbert Grodevant? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew where he lived?

A. Knew where he lived, yes, sir.

Q. State the circumstances under which you saw that girl at that time?

A. We were detailed to take some prisoners out to do some kind of repair work.

Q. Talk a little louder, Captain.

A. We were detailed to take some prisoners out to do some kind of repair work and we took them to Mr. Grodevant's house. There was another guard and myself. He was on the north side of the house—a little north and west, towards the barn and I was on the south side of the house, on a little raise, and the men were employed doing some work there, the nature of it, I do not know. They had some pieces of timber and some workmen were there and this Indian girl came out on the back porch of Mr. Grodevant's house, walked along the porch to the end of the porch, and looked around and had a saucer in her hand, or a plate, and she threw some article out of it onto the ground, looked around, looked toward the west or toward the east, and then went back in the house. I would see her several times passing in and out during the day; that is around the house there, just coming out of the door.

Q. What time of the year was that, Captain?

A. Well, that was in the—I should judge that was in the early summer.

Q. What year? A. In 1885.

Q. Did you see her after that during the summer of 1885?

A. I seen her frequently on the street, on the walk, passing around in company with a man.

Q. Where? At the Fort? A. At the Fort, yes, sir.

Q. What man did you see her with?

A. Well, he was a solldier, I didn't know his name at that time.

Q. Did you learn his name later? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was it? A. I learned his name was Oliver.

Q. Did you ever [] Oliver with her around the Grodevant's, or inside of the Grodevant home? A. No, sir.

Q. Where would you see them together?

A. Back of the prison wall where Mr. Grodevant lived, there was a walk that came around the west side of the prison and around the Commandant's residence, towards the front of the prison, and over around the corner of the hop room into the main post. I saw them, I think, on three different occasions, coming up there late in the evening, walking together.

Q. Was that in the prison section?

A. It was on a walk between the prison section and the Post section.

Q. It was on the Government Reservation?

A. It was on the Government Reservation.

Q. How was Minnie dressed usually, was she neat or otherwise?

A. Always dressed neat, the first time I ever saw her, she was dressed neat and trim.

Q. State whether or not she was in a pregnant condition at any time when you saw her.

A. Not to my knowledge she was not in a pregnant condition.

Q. Was any appearance of pregnancy?

A. Nothing to indicate it to me.

Q. Do you remember the building there in the Post called the Bats Nest?

A. Yes, sir; called the Beehive. We called it the Bats Nest or Beehive.

Q. What was it?

A. It was the quarters occupied by teamsters and some families that lived in there that was employed around the Post. There was a lady that kept a boarding house there for the teamsters; what they termed the teamsters mess.

Q. Did you ever see Minnie at that place with Oliver?

A. No, sir, I never seen her at the place with Oliver but I seen her up on the porch there and going into that place on several occasions.

Q. Do you know whether Oliver stayed there or not?

A. That I can't say; I never seen Oliver coming from there

Q. When was that in reference to the time that you saw her at Grodevants?

A. Oh, that was later on after I saw her at Grodevants.

Q. How much later?

A. Well, that was probably a couple of months later.

Q. Did you ever see her after she left the employ of Herbert Grodevants?

A. I don't know what date she left the employment of Grodevants.

Q. Did you ever see her after the fall of '85? A. No, sir.

Q. I hand you Government's Exhibit A-95, and ask you what it is?

A. That is the Grodevant residence at that time.

Q. Which part of the residence?

A. Well, that is the front part here and this is the side view.

Q. I hand you Government's Exhibit A-96 and ask you what it is?

A. That is the front porch of the Grodevant residence.

Q. Can you point out the place where you saw Minnie from Government's Exhibit A-95? A. Along on that porch.

Q. It was on that porch that you saw her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The first time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you say she was standing there on the porch at that time?

A. She came out, oh, probably a couple of minutes or three minutes.

Mr. Allen: We offer in evidence Government's Exhibit A-95 and A-96.

The Court: They may be admitted.

Q. Captain Purcell, I call your attention to Government's Exhibit A-79, where at that time did Herbert Grodevant live? Is the location of the home as shown upon that exhibit correct?

A. Yes, sir, this is the Grodevant residence, the Jackson residence—Henry and then William Jackson's residence; Fossman and Mrs. Hubbard's; Northwoods, Leonard's, Readman's and Collins. This is the present front here. This is Fokensteins; this is number 1——

Q. Number 1 is marked the Beehive; is that the house where you say you saw Minnie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Going into several times?

A. Yes, sir. This is the walk here that came right along to the front of the prison, and over across here to the hop room; and they came this walk and crossed over and this is the Military Reservation.

Mr. Allen: We offer in evidence, the Government's Exhibit A-79. I believe that has not been offered before.

The Court: I think it is already offered in evidence, if not, it will be admitted.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Captain, how old were you at the time this transaction occurred that you speak of?

A. About twenty four years old.

Q. You had never known this Indian girl personally at all, had you? A. No, sir.

Q. And one day while you were walking by Grodevant's house you looked over there and saw an Indian girl standing on the porch for about two minutes?

A. I wasn't walking by the house.

Q. Well, you looked over there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And saw her for about two minutes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had no particular interest in the girl did you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't know her, merely glanced at her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You found out afterwards that she was Indian Minnie? A. No, sir, I had heard of her before that.

Q. You don't mean to say, Captain, at that distance at twenty four years of age, your eye was so practiced that you could tell whether a woman was pregnant?

A. Yes, sir, it was.

Q. Your eye was good enough at that age? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, Captain, they were making some repairs on the Grodevant house weren't they? A. Some kind of repairs.

Q. Up stairs? A. I don't know what they were.

Q. Now, Captain, what time of the year was that, you can't be positive can you? A. It was in the early summer.

Q. Captain, I will ask you whether or not it may not have been about the first part of July after the beginning of the fiscal year? A. That I don't know.

Q. You can't say?

A. Well, I am more inclined to think it was in May or June.

Q. Did you testify before that you couldn't be positive about the date? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it might have been after the beginning of the fiscal year? A. I don't think it could have been.

Q. But it was in the early summer? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You know that to be true, don't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you saw her after that in the summer, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What month? A. Along during the summer months.

Q. You saw her after that in July and August?

A. June, July and August.

Q. What time in June did you see her, Captain?

A. I couldn't say positively the date.

Q. Do you mean to say you saw her at all in the month of June. A. Yes, sir, I believe in the latter part of June.

Q. But you didn't see her towards the middle of June, you don't remember that? A. No.

Q. And you don't remember of seeing her at all the first of June?

A. No, sir. I don't remember at that particular time.

Q. You don't know how long, if she was away at all from Grodevant's, how long she was away?

A. I wouldn't know anything about that.

Q. Captain, she could have been away two or three weeks and you wouldn't know?

A. Yes, sir, I didn't go there every day.

Q. You had no interest in the girl?

A. None whatever.

Q. None whatever? A. No, sir.

Q. Had no personal acquaintance with her? A. No, sir.

Q. You simply noticed her as an Indian? A. Yes, sir.

Q. At the time you saw her at Grodevant's, the grass was green? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the earth was covered with verdure, wasn't it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Captain, when did you first begin to go back through the years and try to remember these facts; when was it first called to your attention? A. In regard to this?

Q. Yes?

A. I was called on by some lawyer in regard to it and asked questions.

Q. And then it was you began to try to think as best you could? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What you saw? A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cobb.

Q. What did you say the soldier's name was you saw Minnie with? A. I learned his name was Oliver.

Q. I wish you would describe the personal appearance of this man Oliver?

A. Well, I saw him at a distance and in the evening. I believe he had a kind of dark mustache and he had a soldier uniform on and a campaign hat.

Q. About how tall was he?

A. Well, I judge a man about your height.

Q. What would you judge to be his weight?

A. Well, I judge him to be about a hundred and fifty pounds.

Q. Did you notice the color of his hair and his eyes?

A. No, sir, I was never that close to him.

Q. Was he inclined to be thin or fleshy?

A. Well, square built.

Q. A man my height weighing a hundred and fifty pounds would be rather tall wouldn't he?

A. Well, I judged that at a distance.

Q. Can you describe his complexion?

A. No, sir, I was never close enough to judge his complexion.

Q. You didn't know him personally?

A. Didn't know him personally, no, sir.

Q. Just saw him at a distance? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you learn his name?

A. Well, hearing some of the guards talking about it in connection with his leaving and I don't exactly recall what the conversation was.

Q. Was there some particular fact connected with his leaving the Post there?

A. No, sir, he was discharged I understood.

Q. About that time? A. Later in the fall.

Q. There was no particular significance you say to his discharge in any way? A. Only what I heard talking.

Q. Well, did you hear the talk at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was it?

A. In regard to Peterkin going with Minnie and that Oliver was discharged.

Q. He and Peterkin had had some trouble about Minnie?

A. Well, I don't know about that.

Q. Well, that is the reports?

A. No, that is not what I heard.

Q. Well, in what connection did his discharge have to do with his trouble with Peterkin?

A. I don't know that he had any trouble with Peterkin.

Q. I failed to understand you awhile ago?

A. I said that Oliver was discharged and that Peterkin was going with his girl.

Q. The discussion came up and that is how you learned his name? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had never known his name before that time?

A. No, sir.

Q. And the matter of his relations with Minnie and Peterkin, relations with Minnie were discussed at that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Captain Purcell, I hand you Government's Exhibit A-97 and ask you what it is?

A. That is a residence that a Mrs. Wood lived in; that is on Eighth and Osage on the corner—not Eighth and Osage but Eighth and Chickapoo.

Q. Anyway, it is the home that Mrs. Wood lived in?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that the home that Mrs. Wood lived in 1886?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who lived in that home with her? A. I don't know.

Q. Did she have any daughters?

A. She had a daughter Maggie and a daughter Mary.

Q. Maggie, is that Margaret Morton? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what is the other daughter's name?

A. Mrs. Allen.

Q. Did you in 1886, or did you ever hear of this Indian girl giving birth to a child at the home of Mrs. Wood?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When, with reference to the time that you saw Minnie at the Post?

A. Well, it was about probably a year after.

Q. Did you ever hear of her giving birth to any other child than the one at the home of Mrs. Wood? A. No, sir.

Q. How many children have you, Captain Purcell?

A. Five, I am the father of eight children.

Q. Father of eight children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Five living? A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. Allen: We offer the deposition of Patrick Collins, appearing in Mr. Penick's transcript of depositions at page 2279.

And thereupon PATRICK COLLINS being called on behalf of the United States and sworn under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Please state your name, age and place of residence?

A. Patrick Collins, sixty-eight, 606 Kickapoo, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. Mr. Collins, where did you live in 1884?

A. Fort Leavenworth.

Q. Fort Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Collins, did you know Herbert Grodevant?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you live with reference to Herbert Grodevant? A. Diagonally across the street from where he lived.

Q. And where is Fort Leavenworth with reference to the City of Leavenworth, is it close to Leavenworth?

A. Well, I should judge about close on to three miles.

Q. Do you know which direction? A. North.

Q. How far do you now live from Fort Leavenworth?

A. About three miles, I guess, close to it.

Q. How long have you been living where you now live?

A. Eight or nine years.

Q. Prior to that time, since 1884, where have you lived?

A. Since 1884?

Q. Yes, sir? A. I have lived in Fort Leavenworth.

Q. At the place where you were living when you lived diagonally across the street from Grodevant? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What position, at that time, did you hold with the government?

A. Quarter Master Sergeant and Provo Sergeant of the Military prison.

Q. What government position have you held since that time?

A. Captain of the Guard of the United States Federal Penitentiary.

Q. And are you now holding that position? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. At Fort Leavenworth. It is on the reservation.

Q. On the reservation? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When were you married with reference to the time that Grodevant married?

A. I guess a couple of years after Mr. Grodevant married.

Q. Where did Mr. Grodevant live after the time of his marriage?

A. Right at the same place. When I got married and was living close to him.

Q. Do you know who built the house in which he lived at the time he was married? A. He built it himself.

Q. Mr. Collins, did you know an Indian girl called Minnie Atkins that worked for the Grodevant's?

A. There was a girl that they use to call her by that name.

Q. What did you say?

A. I say there was a girl living there that they called by that name.

Q. Do you know how long she stayed there with the Grodevant's?

A. I guess close to a year. I don't know exactly the date, but I should judge close to a year.

Q. Was your family and the Grodevant's closely associated? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You visited back and forth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How frequently did you see this girl during that year?

A. O, I might have seen her once or twice or three times some days, and some days I would not see her at all.

Q. Was there ever any considerable length of time that you did not see her at all?

A. No, sir. May be a day or so would elapse without my seeing her.

Q. Did you know her during all of this time that she worked for the Grodevant's?

A. Yes. I seen her move around the yard and around the house.

Q. I mean—I don't mean by that that you met her or had any acquaintance with her, but you know who she was when you saw her? A. Yes, yes.

Q. Was she an Indian girl?

A. She looked to me to be that.

Q. State whether or not she was in any pregnant condition at any time during the time that she worked for Grodevants? A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Did she ever appear to be in that condition?

A. Not that I know of, sir.

Q. Did you ever hear of her being in that condition or giving birth to a child?

Mr. Blakeney: We object, as same is hearsay and incompetent.

Mr. Hanford: Same objection.

A. I never heard a word about it.

Q. What kind of people were the Grodevants?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Mr. Blakeney: Objected to for the same reason and asking for a conclusion as to the competency of the witness.

Mr. Allen: Do not answer that.

Q. What position did Grodevants hold at the Fort?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. He was foreman of the carpenter shop.

Q. Do you know what his standing was among those who resided there?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, calling for hearsay and conclusion of the witness.

Mr. Blakeney: The same objection.

Q. You may just answer that yes or no.

A. Well he——

Q. Just answer that yes or no whether you know what his standing was or not. A. Yes.

Q. What was his standing?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Mr. Blakeney: The same objection.

A. His standing was good.

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike the answer as not responsive and as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. Was he a man of high class, medium or low class?

Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as asking for a conclusion of the witness, incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and leading.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. High class.

Q. What was his wife in that respect?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and as calling for a conclusion of the witness.

Mr. Blakeney: The same objection.

A. Very high.

Mr. Cruce: Without incumbering the record, I ask you to note the same objection for Mr. Page.

Mr. German: Just put down Mr. Cruce's statement.

Q. What kind of a community was this that you and Mr. Grodevant lived in at that time? A. Very good.

Q. With reference to the people who lived there?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and calling for a conclusion of the witness.

Mr. Blakeney: We object for the same reason.

A. Very good.

Q. About how many houses were there in that immediate community?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial.

A. About eight or nine, or may be ten.

Q. Did that particular community have any name to distinguish it from the balance of the community?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading and immaterial.

A. Did it have what?

Q. Was it known by a name in that particular community than Fort Leavenworth?

A. Yes, it was known by the name of Bluntville. That was the name of the little place.

Q. Are you speaking now of that particular little community in which this nine or ten families live? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say there were about nine houses in that?

A. There may be more or less now, I don't remember for certain.

Q. Were they occupied by private families? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On the reservation were there any other neighbors known by other names—a community known by other names?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. Blakeney: The same objections.

A. Yes, there were some other little cluster of houses scattered through the Fort.

Mr. Blakeney: That is not responsive, and I move to strike out the latter part.

Q. Do you know about when Grodevants left that community?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

A. I can't say.

Q. Was there ever any other Indian girl or any other girl named Minnie who worked for Grodevants?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and asking for a conclusion of the witness.

Mr. Blakeney: We object for the same reason.

A. That was the only one Indian girl that I know of.

Q. Have you been sick recently, Mr. Collins?

A. Yes, sir, I just got out of a sick bed yesterday.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. When did you go to work at the prison?

A. In May, 1877.

Q. 1877? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you live in the house that you spoke of that you were living in in eighty-four? A. Yes.

Q. From eighty-seven until that time?

A. No, sir, no I didn't.

Mr. German: You mean from seventy-seven until that time?

Q. From seventy-seven until that time?

A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. When did you move into that house?

A. I don't know when I did move into that house.

Q. Where did you live before you lived there?

A. I lived at the prison.

Q. At the prison? A. In the barracks.

Q. You were married in eighty-three wasn't you?

A. Yes, I was married in eighty-three.

Q. What was your wife's name before you married her?

A. Mary Ann Stanton.

Q. Did she live at the Fort?

A. She was living there for quite a while, but she was living here in town when I married her.

Q. You say there were eight or ten houses in Bluntsville when you lived there? A. I think about that.

Q. And Grodevants lived out on the bank overlooking the river, didn't they? A. No, sir.

Q. Where did he live?

A. He lived diagonally across the street from where I lived.

Q. What street did you live on?

A. Well, sir, it was only the one street and that had no name.

Q. Has Bluntsville been changed materially in the arrangement of streets and houses since that date?

A. A great deal.

Q. A great deal?

[A.] Yes, a great deal. Some of the houses have been torn down and others put up in their places.

Q. Did you visit in the Grodevant house often?

A. Yes, I visited several times.

Q. Did he visit in your house?

A. Well not very often, but he has been there several times.

Q. Your duties were at the prison, were they not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You went from your house to the prison? A. Yes, sir.

Q. To work? A. Yes.

Q. You were sergeant of guards at that time? A. Yes.

Q. How long were your tours of duty?

A. From seven o'clock until five.

Q. Seven o'clock in the morning until five in the evening?

A. Until five in the evening.

Q. How far is the prison from Bluntsville?

A. Well, the walls of the prison from where I lived to Mr. Grodevants would not be over a hundred yards, but going to the prison, it might be three hundred yards.

Q. You have to go up around the prison wall? A. Yes.

Q. Upon the hill? A. Yes.

Q. To go in at the front entrance? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the prison is surrounded by a high stone wall?

A. Yes.

Q. That is right, is it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. From the prison yard you don't see down into Bluntsville?

A. No, sir, you cannot see anything when you are in the prison yard out on the outside.

Q. It is completely enclosed? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So that you can't see over the wall? A. No.

Q. Did you have any duties at the prison at night?

A. Not without probably called on on some special occasion.

Q. You spent the evenings at home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What were your habits? Did you remain at home, or did you spend your evenings out?

A. Well sometime I would visit.

Q. In town? A. No, sir.

Q. You spent your time at Bluntsville?

A. The most part of it, yes.

Q. Who lived next door to you in Bluntsville?

A. O, there were several people, since I have been living there.

Q. In 1884 and 1885 who lived next door to you?

A. There was a man by the name of Mr. Redmon and a man by the name of Mr. Snider and a man by the name of Mr. Leonard and a man by the name of Mr. Purcell. I don't know whether there was any more or not.

Q. Who lived next door now, in 1884 and 1885?

A. Well, those two years, no.

Q. I am asking you who lived next door to you, in 1884 and 1885, who lived on the left?

A. I don't know which one of those men lived there in those years.

Q. Who lived next door to you on the left?

A. On the left?

Q. Yes?

A. Well that is just what I am talking about.

Q. Any one of those that you have named? A. Yes.

Q. Someone of these? A. Someone of those.

Q. Did they have servants working for them? A. No.

Q. Did you have a servant working for you?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Did any one else in Bluntsville have servants working for them? A. No, none except Mr. Grodevant.

Q. Only Mr. Grodevant? A. That was all.

Q. Who was Mr. Curry? A. Mr. Curry?

Q. Yes? A. I don't know.

Q. Never heard of him?

A. I don't know anything about Mr. Curry, I think you mean Mr. Kingsley.

Q. Mr. Kingsley, who was Mr. Kingsley?

A. He was an engineer at the prison.

Q. Where did he live?

A. Kind of diagonally across the street from me.

Q. Where did he live with respect to Mr. Grodevant?

A. He lived on the same side next to Mr. Grodevant, on the side of the street north.

Q. Did he have any servants?

A. I think they did their own work.

Q. Did they have any daughters? A. Yes.

Q. How many?

A. Two. At least his step-daughters, and he had a daughter of his own.

Q. What were their names?

A. I think Maggie and Mary, and he had a daughter of his own.

Q. Did you know Maggie? A. Yes, I knew her.

Q. Did you know her very well?

A. Well, I spoke to her and often she was in my family.

Q. Just in passing? A. Yes, and often at her house.

Q. Do you know when she worked for Mr. Grodevant?

A. No, sir, I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know that she did not?

A. No, sir, I can't say.

Q. Do you know whether she worked for Mr. Grodevant in 1885?

A. I don't know whether she worked for Mr. Grodevant at all, sir. I haven't any recollection.

Q. Do you know when Minnie Atkins worked for Mr. Grodevant? A. Yes, I think it was in 1884 and 1885.

Q. 1884 and 1885?

A. I think it was a part of '84 and part of 1885.

Q. Was it the fall of eighty-four to the fall of eighty-four?

A. I think she worked the part of eighty-four and a part of eighty-five, if I am not mistaken.

Q. What makes you think that? Has anybody told you that recently? A. No, sir.

Q. How do you fix that date?

A. Well, I guess she came there the latter part of eighty-four, I think.

Q. How do you remember that year? What fixes that year in your mind that she came there?

A. Well, now, I am only giving you this as the best of my information.

Q. That is simply your guess at this time?

A. Yes, that is the best of my information. I am not giving you this as the facts.

Q. What other servants did Mr. Grodevant have?

A. None, that I remember.

Q. You can't remember any others?

A. No, sir, he might have had them, though.

Q. During that time that you say that Minnie Atkins worked there, from the fall of eighty-four to the fall of eighty-five, you are sure he did not have anybody else there?

A. Well not that I know of.

Q. None that you know of? A. None that I know of.

Q. You are sure that Minnie was not away from there though more than a day or a two at a time?

A. I don't know. Can't say.

Q. Can't say how long she was away from there?

A. No, sir.

Q. She might have been away from there a month and you might not have known it?

A. Well, yes, could have been.

Q. Wasn't it a fact that she was away from there for a considerable time and Maggie Curry, Mr. Kingsley's step-daughter, took her place at Mr. Grodevant's house while she was gone?

A. If she did, I don't know anything about it.

Q. Not a thing? A. No.

Q. You were not inquiring into Mr. Grodevant's domestic affairs, were you? A. No, sir.

Q. Were not keeping track of his back door, were you?
A. No, sir.
Q. You weren't watching his servants go and come?
A. No, sir.
Q. You were not intimate with his servants and watching them? A. No, sir.
Q. You were a home-loving man and attentive to your own affairs, weren't you? A. Exactly.

Mr. German: I don't object to counsel's question only as to the tone of his voice.

Mr. Hanford: Will you take that down?

Q. Now, Mr. Collins, what was this girl's name?
A. Which girl do you refer to?
Q. The girl that worked for Mr. Grodevant?
A. The Indian girl?
Q. Yes?
A. Well, all I know about her they called her Minnie.
Q. They called her Minnie? A. Yes.
Q. That is the only name you ever heard her called?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Just Minnie? A. Yes.
Q. The same as they called any servant by their first name? A. Yes, the same as they called any servant.
Q. You knew that they had a servant named Minnie?
A. That was all.
Q. Did you observe and watch her closely?
A. No, sir, I did not.
Q. Just saw her in passing? A. That is all.
Q. Just saw her in passing back and forth?
A. That is all.
Q. Occasionally? A. Occasionally.
Q. Did you ever examine her closely to determine whether or not she was pregnant? A. No indeed.
Q. You were not looking for that?
A. No, I was not looking for anything of the kind.
Q. Then if she was in that condition you may not have noticed it?
A. Well, I may not have noticed it. It would be a pretty hard matter for her to be that way for any length of time and somebody in that neighborhood not notice it.

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out pretty hard and all subsequent to that.

Mr. Hanford: I move to strike that answer as not being responsive and uncalled for.

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out all that after 'would be pretty hard' of the answer as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial and hearsay, and not responsive.

Mr. Cruce: The same objection from Mr. Page.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Mr. Collins, when did you say you were married?

A. I didn't say. I haven't got the year.

Q. You haven't got the year? A. No.

Q. Have you been married more than once? A. No, sir.

Q. Are you still living with the woman you married? Is she alive, in other words? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are unable now to give the year that you were married in and you can state with some positiveness the year that you saw some servant working for the neighbor's family, is that true?

Mr. German: I object to that question on the ground that it is argumentative.

A. Yes, that is I cannot state positively you know, but the best of my information I am giving——

Q. This opinion is a result of the notoriety that this case has gotten in the last two months? A. What?

Q. This opinion, I say, is the result of the notoriety this case has gotten in the last few months. In other words, before you heard of this case, could you have recalled that you had [] a girl working for the Grodevant family by the name of Minnie? The year that you had seen her working?

A. Well, I just thought—when I was subpoenaed for this court here I give a guess about that time.

Q. When you was subpoenaed several days ago? I don't care for the date.

A. Well, it was the last month. I was subpoenaed today.

Q. You were subpoenaed before our adjournment last month? A. Yes.

Q. Had you ever talked to anybody before you were subpoenaed? A. About the case?

Q. Yes? A. No.

Q. I say you never had talked to anybody about this case? A. About this case?

Q. Yes, about this case.

A. Yes, I talked to him.

Q. Who did you talk to? A. I talked to Mr. Allen there.

Q. Judge Allen? A. Yes.

Q. When did you talk to him?

A. Few days before I was subpoenaed.

Q. He told you what the government was trying to prove, didn't he?

A. He came to my house and he asked me did I know anything about this Indian woman.

Q. Well, was that all he said?

A. Well that was about all as far as I know.

Q. Well he asked you if you knew anything about an Indian woman that worked for Grodevant in 1884 and '85, didn't he? A. Yes, he didn't mention no years.

Q. Didn't mention any years? A. No.

Q. You didn't know whether he was talking about the one that worked there in 1884 and '85, or '86 or '87 or when?

A. Well, when he commenced to speak about this Indian girl, well I commenced to think about the time she was working and those are the years——

Q. Tell us how your mind worked out. Give us the process of your mental conclusion?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as argumentative.

A. It would be just like if you asked me a question about some man here, if I knew some man in town and I would tell you that I did that you saw him and you asked me about the time it was or the year it was, I would get to thinking and then I would give you the best of my information about the time I thought it was.

Q. You had no fixed facts about what you could determine when Minnie worked there?

A. No, sir, not a bit. I happened to—never given her a thought.

Q. Then you had to go back some thirty-three or four years, some thirty years?

A. Yes, I had to go back until I got possessed of my opinion that that was the year that she was working.

Q. And you do not take much notice of servants being hired by the neighbors or the length of time they work, do you?

A. The time that servants are hired by neighbors?

Q. Yes?

A. No, and I could not swear—positively swear now that this was the exact time that she was working for them, for Mr. Grodevant.

Q. Well, you mean by the exact time that you cannot say whether it was in the fall of '84 or the winter of '85?

A. Or 1885. Now it may be 1883 for that matter, but I am giving you the best of my opinion of what I think.

Q. Did Judge Allen tell you or ask you if you know anything about this Indian girl, Minnie, that worked there for the Grodevants? A. Yes.

Q. Is that all that he said?

A. That is all that I can remember.

Q. Well did he say anything about Minnie, about Minnie except that one question?

A. Well he might have asked me where she was, or if I knew where she had been since she left.

Q. Did he ask you that?

A. No, but he may now, I can't tell you.

Q. You mean you are not positive about that?

A. No, no.

Q. This conversation occurred about a month ago and you can't remember positively about what took place in that?

A. No, I have not paid any attention to the thing at all. I did not even know what he was asking about.

Q. Did he ask you anything about how much Indian blood Minnie seemed to have in her? A. No, he didn't.

Q. Did he ask you whether or not she appeared to be an Indian?

A. Why, he asked me if I thought she was an Indian, yes. I think he did now, but I wouldn't say for certain.

Q. Your best recollection is he asked you that?

A. Well that is the best of my opinion—

Q. Did he tell you what he wanted you for a witness for?

A. No, he didn't tell me until he subpoenaed me.

Q. Yes, but didn't he tell what he was wanting to prove by you? A. No, he did not tell me anything of the kind.

Q. You didn't know until you took the stand whether he was going to ask you whether you had ever seen her pregnant or not?

Mr. German: I object to that question as argumentative and as calling for—as not being based upon the facts.

Mr. Allen: The witness never having testified——

Mr. German: Never having covered the matter in his inquiry.

Mr. Blakeney: I want to suggest that counsel is trying to pump the witness.

Mr. Allen: We object to that as improper and not justified by anything that we have said.

Mr. Blakeney: I want to especially note that now in the records.

A. Well he asked me if I had noticed her in that way.

Q. What did you tell him?

A. I told him that I hadn't noticed.

Q. And you hadn't noticed it? A. I had not, no.

Q. You knew that the government was trying to establish that Minnie did not have a child didn't you?

A. I didn't know anything about it until I came here what the government was trying to do.

Q. It was not explained to you? A. It was not what?

Q. It was not explained to you at all what the government was trying to do?

A. Nothing only what I had read in the papers.

Q. You had read it in the paper? A. Yes.

Q. Then you did know from the paper that Judge Allen was trying to prove that Minnie didn't have a child at that time?

A. I didn't know that Judge Allen was for the case or against the case until I came here to the court house.

Q. You didn't know whether Judge Allen was talking to you about it?

A. No, I didn't know that Judge Allen was prosecuting the case or whether he was——

Q. He told you what official position he held?

A. No, he did not.

Q. Did you ever talk to anybody else? A. W[illegible]?

Q. You about the case?

A. He said that some lawyer was looking or hunting up Minnie Atkins.

Q. When did you learn that some lawyer was looking up Minnie Atkins.

A. Just when Mr. Allen called me.

Q. That is the first time that you knew anything about it? A. That is the first time, yes.

Q. Who was with Judge Allen? A. Nobody.

Q. Nobody? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever meet Mr. McMillan?

A. I wouldn't know the gentleman.

Q. Did you ever meet a Mr. Cook?

A. I would not know him.

Q. Did you ever meet the handsome gentleman that sits behind you, J. Garfield Buell?

A. No, I don't know that I met him.

Q. Describe Minnie Atkins, will you, as you remember her?

A. I can't do it, as I never paid very much attention to her.

Q. What was the color of her hair? A. I can't tell you.

Q. What was her complexion?

A. Well, kind of red, like any other Indian.

Q. She was a pronounced Indian?

A. That is what they called her, what I heard everybody call her.

Q. Let's forget these callings, I didn't ask you that. From her appearance, as you remember her, was she a pronounced Indian? A. Well, I can't say.

Q. You could not tell by looking at her that she was an Indian? A. She looked like one.

Q. Looked like one? A. Yes.

Q. About what blood of an Indian did she have?

A. I can't tell you.

Q. She was not a full-blood? A. I can't say.

Q. About what size woman was she?

A. I can't tell you that, I hadn't paid attention enough for it.

Q. She always wore a mother-hubbard working around there?

A. She might have worn any other kind, so far as I know.

Q. In other words, you don't remember anything about the character of costume that she wore?

A. No, I do not. I saw her dressed the same as any other servant.

Q. Are you on active duty now, you say you are still Captain of the Prison Guards? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you on active duty? A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Was Minnie Atkins a little woman or a large woman?

A. I can't tell you, sir, I didn't pay that much attention to her.

Q. You don't recall her appearance?

A. No, sir, I can't. I simply paid no attention to the woman at all.

Q. Mr. Collins, you say that I talked to you in your home about your recollection of this girl?

A. Yes, I think you made some remarks to that effect.

Q. Who was present when I talked to you?

A. I think it was my wife.

Q. Any one else? A. No.

Q. You——

Mr. Hanford: Mr. Examiner, has the rule been changed as to the appearance of parties in the room?

Mr. Allen: Do you mean Mr. Codding?

Mr. Hanford: Yes.

Mr. Allen: Let the records show that. Do you make objections to Mr. Codding?

Mr. Hanford: I object, yes.

Mr. Allen: For several weeks here——

Mr. Blakeney: We object to any speeches being put in the records.

Mr. Allen: For several weeks here Mr. Long has been permitted to remain in the room over our objections.

Mr. Lee Bond, who was not attorney of record was permitted to remain in the court room, having been employed by Mr. Page, and I want to say now that Mr. Codding is employed by me as attorney for the Creek Nation by authority of the Secretary of the Interior, and is associated with me for the government in this case so far in the taking of depositions here is concerned.

Mr. Hanford: Upon the statement of Judge Allen I will withdraw my objection on the same reason and consent to his being present for the same reason, that we have our objections to the presence of Mr. Meserve and Mr. Robinson and the other parties who are here in connection with this case in the co-operation with the government, and J. Garfield Buell.

Q. Mr. Collins, you say that you lived sometime after your marriage in the same community with Grodevant, and these other eight or nine people? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were intimately acquainted with the people who lived in that community? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Knowing the Grodevants as you knew them, what would you say as to whether or not they would have permitted a servant to have remained in their employ after they had discovered that she was in a pregnant condition?

Mr. Hanford: We object to that as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, calling for a conclusion of the witness, and as improper re-direct examination.

Mr. Blakeney: I want to interpose the same objection that Mr. Hanford did.

Mr. Cruce: Mr. Page interposes the objection that it is incompetent testimony.

A. Why I don't think they would have retained her, I don't think they would keep her if they knew anything about it.

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out the answer as argumentative.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. Allen: We now offer the deposition of Margaret A. Collins, appearing at page 2298 of Mr. Penick's transcript.

And thereupon, MARY A. COLLINS, being called on behalf of the United States, being sworn, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Please state your name? A. Mary A. Collins.
Q. Age? A. Fifty-six.
Q. Where do you live?
A. 696 Kickapoo street, Leavenworth.
Q. You are the wife of Mr. Patrick Collins, who has just left the witness stand? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Mrs. Collins, when were you married?
A. On the 26th of November, 1883.
Q. Where did you live after your marriage?
A. I lived in Bluntville, Fort Leavenworth?
Q. Is that the community on the reservation at the Fort?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. About how many families lived in that community called Bluntville at that time?
A. O, about fifteen, ten or fifteen.
Q. Were they all private families? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Private residences? A. Private residences.
Q. Did you know Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Grodevant?
A. Yes, sir, I knew them very well.
Q. Do you know about when they were married?
A. Well, I think they were married about '81, but I am not positive.
Q. They were married before you were? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Were they living in that community when you were married and living in the house that you lived in for a long time? A. Yes, they were there.
Q. About how long did you live in that house?
A. About twenty years, twenty or twenty-one, about twenty-one, I think.
Q. Where did you live with reference to where Mr. Herbert Grodevant lived? A. In Bluntsville.
Q. I know, but on which side of the street from him?
A. On the east side, I think.
Q. He lived on the west side of the street? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you live straight across the street from him, or where? A. No, diagonally across the street.
Q. Did you know a servant girl that worked for the Grodevant's in 1884 and five?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

A. Yes.

Q. What was her name?

A. Minnie, Minnie Atkins, I believe.

Q. Do you remember about when she worked for the Grodevants?

A. Well she worked for them in '84 and part of '85, I believe.

Q. About how long did she work for the Grodevants?

A. About a year.

Q. Did you and the Grodevants visit back and forth?

A. Yes, sir, quite frequently.

Q. About how frequently would you see the servant girl?

A. O, I would see her whenever she would appear, when I went there. Sometimes every day and sometimes every week, I saw her when I——

Q. You stated that her name was Minnie Atkins?

A. I think it was Atkins, Minnie, she was an Indian girl I know.

Q. Mrs. Collins, was she ever in a pregnant condition during the time she worked for the Grodevants?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent.

Mr. Blakeney: The same objection.

Mr. Hanford: I move to strike the answer which was made before my objection could be interposed.

Q. Please state whether or not she ever appeared to be in a pregnant condition?

Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as leading and suggestive and incompetent.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. No, she never did.

Q. Do you remember the appearance of this girl?

A. I think she was a stout girl, about twenty-three or so, a quite robust girl, I don't know whether I remember just how she appeared.

Q. Did the other families in that community at that time keep servant girls?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.

A. Did the other girls keep servants?

Q. Did the other families keep servants?

A. I don't think they did.

Q. About how long did the Grodevants live in that community after they moved there?

A. Five or six years, I believe, I don't know which, I believe five or six years.

Q. During all of that time did you and Mrs. Grodevant visit back and forth?

A. Yes, sir, while they lived there we did.

Q. Did you ever hear of this Indian girl being in a pregnant condition, or giving birth to a child while she worked for the Grodevants?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and calling for hearsay testimony.

Mr. Blakeney: We object, because it is leading, irrelevant and immaterial, and calling for hearsay evidence.

Mr. Hanford: And I want to object on the ground that it is leading.

Q. Please state whether or not you ever heard of this fact?

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

Mr. Blakeney: The same objection and leading.

A. No, I never did. I never heard of it at all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Did you visit with Mrs. Grodevant or with this servant? A. With Mrs. Grodevant.

Q. You didn't visit the servant?

A. No, of course, I didn't.

Q. You knew her very intimately?

A. Well, just to see her in Mrs. Grodevant's house. I never visited the servant.

Q. Were you in the kitchen?

A. Well, I went in the kitchen.

Q. What did you say this girl's name was? A. Minnie.

Q. Minnie? A. Minnie Atkins.

Q. Minnie. A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is what they called her?

A. That is what they called her.

Q. Did you ever hear her called anything else?

A. No, sir, just Minnie.

Q. Just Minnie?

A. Well, Minnie Atkins, they called her that.

Q. Called her Minnie Atkins?

A. Yes, sir, I think they did.

Q. You think they did, are you sure?

A. Yes, they called her Atkins.

Q. They called her by her full name?

A. They called her Minnie.

Q. The same as any other servant, by her first name?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you can't say of your own recollection that her name was Atkins?

A. No, I think that is what they called her, Minnie Atkins, but I can't say now.

Q. Your memory is refreshed by the name in this case, is it not? A. Well, a little, yes.

Q. So that you know that the name Atkins was her last name? A. Yes.

Q. Just hearing about this case?

A. No, I think Minnie Atkins is what Mrs. Grodevant called her, but she always addressed her as Minnie. That was her name like any other girl's sir-name.

Q. Now who else in that neighborhood had servants?

A. Well, there wasn't anybody that kept servants regularly there then, but the Grodevants.

Q. Did Mrs. Grodevant always have a servant?

A. Not all the time.

Q. Did she have any other servants besides Minnie?

A. Yes, sir, she had two that I know of, one Francis Roff and another, Julia Forkay.

Q. How often did you see Minnie at Mrs. Grodevants?

A. I don't know just how often I saw her, but I saw her when she lived there whenever she would appear, I don't know just how often.

Q. You did not keep track of her going and coming?

A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. And what she did? A. No, sir.

Q. You just remember that Mrs. Grodevant had a servant named Minnie? A. Yes, sir, yes, sir.

Q. Minnie Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That you heard that she was an Indian?

A. Yes, sir, I knew that.

Q. That she was an Indian girl? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she look like one? A. Well she did, yes.

Q. She was a large girl you say?

A. Yes, she was a large, dark complexioned girl, had Indian features.

Q. Kind of stout? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever examine her and notice her closely?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. You would simply see her the same as any other servant? A. Yes.

Q. That you would notice in the house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you never looked especially to see whether she was in a pregnant condition? A. No, I did not.

Q. You did not look to see how she wore her clothes, or anything of that kind, did you?

A. She wore her clothes just like anybody else. She was kind of a slovenly like girl.

Q. Kind of loose and slovenly? A. Loose.

Q. How long did she work at the Grodevants?

A. I think about a year.

Q. About a year? A. I think so.

Q. During the time that she worked there about a year you know of any other servants that Mrs. Grodevant had?

A. She did not have any other servant then.

Q. Did anybody else ever work in her house during that time? A. During the time that Minnie worked there?

Q. Yes? A. I don't believe they did.

Q. Are you sure of that? A. I don't think they did.

Q. Would you of known it if they had?

A. Well, I think I would.

Q. Do you know whether or not Maggie Currie ever worked in her house?

A. Maggie Currie lived next door to her and she may have helped her out, but I don't think that she was hired to her.

Q. Isn't it a fact that Maggie Currie worked in her house in '85 for several weeks?

A. I don't know, she may have, I don't know that she was hired.

Q. Didn't she work for Mrs. Grodevant at different times in '85? A. I don't know. Maggie Currie?

Q. Yes, Mrs. Kingsley's daughter?

A. I know her very well.

Q. But you don't remember of her working for Mrs. Grodevant there at different times in 1885?

A. No, sir, I do not. I often saw her at Mrs. Grodevant's but I don't know that she hired her to work for her.

Q. Did you see her in Mrs. Grodevant's at the same time Minnie was there? A. No, I don't think so.

Q. Then you won't say whether Minnie was gone from Mrs. Grodevant's for several weeks in 1885, and Maggie Currie worked for Mrs. Grodevant at that time?

A. No, I don't know whether she did or not.

Q. You did not keep that close track of Mrs. Grodevant's affairs did you? A. No, I didn't I——

Q. You did not keep close track of Minnie Atkins?

A. I did not keep close track of any of them, only I knew when I seen them there.

Q. She might have been gone and you did not know anything about it? A. Yes, she might.

Q. Might have been gone for a month? Mrs. Grodevant was a good housekeeper, was she not? A. Yes, she was.

Q. She did lots of her own work didn't she? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She was known as a cook, wasn't she?

A. She was a very good cook.

Q. Minnie Atkins was there as a sort of helper, wasn't she? A. She did general house work.

Q. She was an assistant to Mrs. Grodevant? A. Yes.

Q. And Mrs. Grodevant took pride in doing her own house work, didn't she? A. Yes, sir, she did.

Q. And there were periods of time when she was by herself and did all of her house work? A. Yes, she did.

Q. You have not kept track of those times and periods?

A. No, I don't know when she was without help, but she kept servants.

Q. They gave her a great deal of annoyance, didn't they?

A. She didn't complain.

Q. There were times when they were gone?

Mr. Allen: We object to that question as not based upon the evidence, that this witness has given and as testimony of counsel and not of the witness.

Q. You don't remember those periods of times when they occurred and what year or month? A. No, I don't.

Q. So you cannot say how long Minnie Atkins was gone or stayed away?

A. She only worked there about a year. I don't think—she was gone hardly any time while she was there.

Q. Are you positive of that?

A. Well, I didn't notice her around her after a year or may be in that year.

Q. But in that year are you positive that she may not have been gone?

A. No, I am not positive as to how many days she was gone.

Q. You did not keep that close track of her?

A. No, I did not keep that close track of her, or anybody else that she had.

Q. You did not attempt to keep track of Mrs. Grodevant's domestic affairs, the affairs of her servants? A. No, I did not.

Q. Mrs. Grodevant was a very kindly woman?

A. A very kind lady.

Q. And very good to her servants?

A. Yes, sir, she was.

Q. Took a great deal of interest in them, didn't she?

A. Yes.

Q. Mr. Grodevant was employed at the prison, was he not? [A.] He was an architect there.

Q. At the prison? A. Military prison, yes.

Q. In the carpenter department? A. I think so.

Q. Who did the work around his house, the heavy work?

A. He had a parole man.

Q. Parole man? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He worked around there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who composed Grodevant's family?

A. Mr. and Mrs. Grodevant?

Q. Just the two? A. Yes, sir.

Q. They lived there during those years that you spoke of, 1885?

A. Yes, 1883, '84 and '85, and I think they moved there in 1889 or '90, I can't say what year.

Q. Until their children were born they lived alone?

A. Well, they had no children when they lived at the Fort.

Q. You are sure there were just the two?

A. Just the two and his brother stayed with them part of the time, Mr. Frank Grodevant.

Q. How long did he stay with them?

A. I can't tell you. He stayed four or five years, I think.

Q. Then according to your recollection, there were periods of time when the only servants that they had was this parole and trusty working around? A. Yes, sir, that was all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Mrs. Collins, who was that parole man?

A. O, I don't know who he was, a prisoner, some prisoner.

Q. White or black?

A. Well, I can't tell you, nearly always white.

Q. Ma'am?

A. White prisoner, I believe, nearly all the time. I never paid any attention to the prisoners.

Q. Same prisoners?

A. O, no, they would just come for several months at a time and then would have a new one.

Q. The prisoner would not stay at the house at nights?

A. No, he would not stay at the house at nights, he came in the morning.

Q. He came in the morning and worked during the day?
A. Yes, sir.

Q. The same prisoner did not work continuously, but they were changing from time to time? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know whether any prisoners were working there at the same time Minnie was?

A. Well, I suppose there was a prisoner there when Minnie was there.

Q. When you say 'suppose', I want your recollection. Do you know whether the prisoners were working there at the same time Minnie was? A. I don't know, I suppose there was.

Q. You don't recall, you mean? A. Yes.

Q. At the time you suppose they were there together, but you don't recall not?

A. Well, there wasn't more than a few times that they wouldn't have a prisoner, may be a day or two they would parole somebody else for them. They weren't very long without one.

Q. You paid no particular attention to these paroles than you did to the servants? A. No, sir.

Q. Did Mrs. Gredevant ever have any other servants besides Minnie? A. Yes, sir, two other girls.

Q. What were their names?

A. Francis Roff and Julia Forkay.

Q. Who was the first servant that you remember she had? A. Francis Roff, and I am sure she was——

Q. How long did Francis work for them?

A. I couldn't say, I don't know how long.

Q. Well about how long?

A. About a year or two, I guess.

Q. About a year? A. I think so and she married.

Q. Francis Roff was working there when you moved up into that neighborhood? A. Yes.

Q. And continued about a year?

A. I don't know how long.

Q. I said about?

A. Yes, about, she must have left there that year that Minnie came in 1884.

Q. How do you know Minnie came in 1884?

A. Well, I remember when Minnie was there.

Q. Well, how long ago has that been?

A. About thirty-two years or three.

Q. Been about thirty-two years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you can remember after thirty-two years just the year a person worked for her as a servant for one of the neighbors?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as argumentative.

A. Do you want me to say yes?

Q. I want you to say whatever is true.

A. Well, I think I can.

Q. But you can't say when Francis Roff quit working?

A. No, I can't.

Q. You can't say how long she worked?

A. I think Francis worked there almost a year.

Q. Well you think that because you have got to put Minnie commencing there in the fall of '84?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as argumentative and improper.

A. It is very easy to find out how long Francis worked for her.

Q. I am trying to find out the best I can. I say you don't recall?

A. No, I don't recall the month she left or how long she was with Mrs. Grodevant, but she was there when I moved there.

Q. You put it about a year? A. Yes, I think so.

Q. In order that Minnie might commenced working in that same year?

A. No, sir, that is not the reason.

Mr. Allen: We object to that as incompetent, improper and argumentative.

Q. How long did you say Francis worked there now after you came?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as repetition.

Q. Answer the question? A. What was it?

(Question read).

A. I think about a year.

Q. And you moved up there when?

A. I moved up there in 1883.

Q. What time in '83? A. The 26th of November in '83.

Q. Did you know the Grodevants before you moved up there? A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Then your recollection is that Francis worked right up to the time that Minnie came?

A. Well I don't know whether she did or not, they may have been without a girl for a month or so, I don't remember whether she did or not, but I know she was there, then Francis was there when I moved there.

Q. Francis a white girl? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did Francis stay when she was working for the Grodevants? A. Well, she stayed out there.

Q. At Grodevant's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did Minnie stay? A. She stayed there too.

Q. Do you know where they stayed, what part of the premises?

A. Well, Minnie had a room upstairs, but I don't know just where it was, right over the kitchen, I think.

Q. Were you ever in that room?

A. I have been through the upstairs, yes, sir, in Mrs. Grodevant's house. I think it was right over the kitchen, I believe.

Q. Don't you know that Minnie had a cot that she made down in the kitchen and took it up in the day time?

A. No, I don't.

Q. And that was true that you never saw the cot?

A. I never saw the cot.

Q. After Minnie left there where did she go?

A. I don't know.

Q. Who constituted that village or community?

A. Why, civilians and men who were employed at the prison. Sergeants and men who were entitled to quarters, or at least had gotten quarters in the prison. Mr. Grodevant, Mr. Henry Jackson and Billy Jackson, and quite a number of enlisted men, I don't remember their names.

Q. You say Mr. Grodevant had a brother who stayed there part of the time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was he there when you came?

A. No, he wasn't there then.

Q. How long would you say after you moved there was it before he came?

A. O, a couple of years after, I think, I don't know just when Frank came.

Q. What is your best recollection?

A. About two years, I believe.

Q. About two years. Was he there—was Minnie working for them at any time at any time his brother was there?

A. I don't know whether she was or not.

Q. What is your best recollection about that?

A. Well I think she must have been. Minnie must have been there then.

Q. You don't have any recollection about it and you are reasoning it out, is that what I understand?

A. That is it, I don't have any reason to be interested in it.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. You say you were married on November 26th, 1883?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was there ever any considerable period of time that you missed Minnie Atkins in the Grodevant's home?

A. No.

Q. During the time that she was working for the Grodevants?

Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as leading and indefinite.

A. I never missed her at any time.

Q. Was there ever any change in her appearance from the time that you first saw her until you last saw her?

A. I never noticed any.

Q. Mr. Hanford asked you about the habits and customs and the characteristics of these Grodevants, and especially of Mrs. Grodevant. What do you say as to whether Mrs. Grodevant would have kept this girl—— A. I don't think——

Q. If she had believed that she was not a good girl?

Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and based on a wrong conclusion, the apology is not positioned justification for the question and calling for hearsay and for an opinion of the witness.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and called for a conclusion of the witness, and especially it is not competent.

Mr. Cruce: The same objection.

A. I don't think she would.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Mrs. Collins, when did you next hear of Minnie Atkins after she left the Grodevants?

A. I never heard of Minnie any more.

Q. Never did hear of her until this case?

A. Yes, I heard of her last summer. We saw in the paper——

Q. During all of that time you never heard of her having given birth to an illegitimate child?

A. No, sir, never did.

Q. Never did? A. No, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: I want to move to strike out answer to the last question of counsel as calling for hearsay, a conclusion incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Did you know Lieutenant and Mrs. Stafford at Fort Leavenworth? A. No, I did not.

Q. Where was Bluntsville with reference to the officers' quarters?

A. Bluntsville was right back of the prison, right back of the prison wall and is a little village where the employees live.

Q. Was the military prison between the army officers' quarters and Bluntsville?

A. Well there was a part—you mean the officers of the prison?

Q. No, the army officers.

A. O, it wasn't in any part of the fort. The army officers were off quite a distance from the prison.

Q. Quite a distance from Bluntsville?

A. Yes, some of them were. The garrison was right near the prison though, but Bluntsville is——

Q. If Minnie Atkins went over to some officer's home to work you never heard of it?

A. No, I never knew of her only when she worked at Mrs. Grodevant's.

Q. Mr. Cruce asked you if you ever heard of her giving birth to a child after she left Grodevants?

A. No, I never did.

Mr. Blakeney: That is not the question, you had not finished the question when she answered it.

Q. Did you ever hear of her being in a pregnant condition while she was working for Grodevant's or before that time?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and asking for hearsay evidence and a conclusion of the witness.

A. I never did.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. Allen: We now offer the deposition of William E. Dawes, taken by Mr. Penick and appearing in his transcript at page 2343.

WILLIAM E. DAWES, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Mr. Dawes, please state your name, age and residence?

A. William E. Dawes, 1113 North 8th, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. What business are you engaged in, Mr. Dawes?

A. I am a carpenter and builder.

Q. How long have you been engaged in that business?

A. Oh, I guess for the last 20 years, ever since I left the Fort.

Q. Did you at one time live at Fort Leavenworth?

A. No, I never lived at the Fort.

Q. Did you work there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What year did you work at the Fort?

A. My first work at Fort Leavenworth, I went to work in October 1882, for the Quartermaster's at Fort Leavenworth, and in July 1883, I went to work for —I went to work at the Military Prison, under Col. Blunt.

Q. Were you associated with any one there in that work under Col. Blunt?

A. Yes, I was Assistant Foreman to Mr. Grodevant.

Q. What Grodevant was that?

A. H. D. Herbert was his name.

Q. Do you know where Mr. Grodevant lived at that time?

A. When I first went to work there?

Q. Yes, sir, when you first commenced working as his Assistant?

A. He lived with his father-in-law, down on the river side, Mr. West.

Q. Walt? A. Mr. West, I think his name was.

Q. Where did he live after that?

A. Why Col. Blunt built him a house back on a place called Bluntsville, back of the prison, and he moved in there.

Q. Did you have anything to do with the building of that house?

A. Yes, I built it; he got out the stuff in the shop and I erected the building.

Q. He constructed the frame work and got out the material in the shop?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Collins at that time?

A. No, I didn't—not as Mrs. Collins. I knew her as Miss Stanton before she was married.

Q. Do you remember when they were married? I don't mean the year, or day or month, but the occasion, the occurrence of their marriage?

A. Yes, married about the same year that I was, '83, if I remember right.

Q. Do you know where they lived with reference to the Grodevants? A. Right across the street.

Q. Straight across the street?

A. Right opposite, I built the house after I built Mr. Grodevant's, the same year.

Q. Did you build both of those houses? A. I did.

Q. During the year of 1884 and 5 were you still Assistant to Mr. Grodevant?

A. I was Assistant from 1883 until December 1884. December 1884, and January and February, 1885, three months I was away, and then about the 1st of March, I went back, and then I was there until 1887 continuously.

Q. Were you around Grodevant's home much of the time during the fall of 1884 and the year of 1885?

A. Yes, I was around there on several occasions, doing work for Mr. Grodevant. I did all the outside work.

Q. Before you went away in December of '84, did you see any Indian girl working around Grodevant's home?

A. I did, they had one girl working there.

Q. Was she—what race of people did she belong?

A. Well, I thought she was a colored woman—that is what I thought she was, I didn't know.

Q. What did they call her?

A. They called her Indian Minnie, that is the name she went by, and that is why I knew her so well, they called her Indian Minnie.

Q. What kind of looking woman was she?

A. She wasn't a bad looking woman; she was a pretty good size; she wasn't no slim woman.

Q. They called her Indian Minnie?

A. That is what they called her.

Q. Did you see that woman when you worked for Grodevant's in March 1885?

A. I believe I did; I think I did. If I remember rightly, Mr. Pursel—he was sentry—he had taken three prisoners and I did some work there in March, the first work I done when I went back to work for him, I think in connection with the stable I had done for Mr. Grodevant—he started it and I finished it—she was there when I went back to work.

Q. During the rest of that summer, did you see her?

A. I saw her occasionally; I was working and went up there.

Q. During any of that time, Mr. Dawes, did she ever appear to be in a pregnant condition?

A. No, not to me—I can't say so; she didn't look it.

Cross Examniation by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Dawes, you say that you were the assistant to Mr. Grodevant? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He was the foreman?

A. He was the foreman of the carpenter shop.

Q. The prison carpenter shop?

A. And I was his assistant on the outside; I done all the outside carpenter-shop——

Q. Did you do any work in the shop? Supervising?

A. Only when he was sick. I run the shop for a month when he was sick, and I used to go in there occasionally, myself, to get out from work when he was busy.

Q. Do you remember the occasion of Mr. Grodevant's illness?

A. No, I don't; I think he got a cold, or something.

Q. Fever, wasn't it?

A. Something, I guess, and Colonel Blunt told him to stay in the house and he put me in the shop, and I run the shop. I don't know whether it was a month or not—three or four weeks.

Q. He had the grippe, or fever, or something like that?

A. Something like that; he never was strong, I don't think—he never looked like it.

Q. The time of Mr. Grodevant's illness was along about this time, was it not?

A. Well, I can't say now. I was there for five years; now I can't say positively when it was. I don't think it was the first year or two that I was there.

Q. You was there from '83 on?

A. From '83 to '87; I was there practically steady, except for three months.

Q. Now, in 1885, Mr. Grodevant was ill with the grippe, fever, or hard cold, and was in bed at his home for several weeks, or about a month?

A. For several weeks or about a month; I may be——

Q. Wasn't that about two years after you were there?

A. I don't know.

Q. After you went there in '83?

A. I don't think it was as soon as that. I know when I first went there, I had an awful lot of work outside—I don't remember; I can't say just when it was, but I know he was sick. Both of us had to work pretty hard. We had to put up a lot of new buildings there, and I know I was kept pretty busy, and he, too, and he got sick and I had to do it all, then.

Q. That was along about that time?

A. '85, or '86, some where along there, I guess.

Q. What was the nature of your outside work?

A. Why, putting up buildings. I put up two buildings on the Riverside; one was a set of officer's quarters.

Q. Buildings? A. Dwellings, yes.

Q. All prisoners under you?

A. All prisoners; I didn't have no civilians at all—all prisoners. I usually had twelve or fifteen men.

Q. And you built officer's quarters?

A. In the prison department.

Q. In the Garrison Department, too?

A. No, prison department; down on the Riverside—that was the prison.

Q. Some of those houses are along Scott Avenue, aren't they—leading up to the Prison?

A. What they call Riverside—that was all prison property, and I built one house on the west side of Riverside. That was the only house that was there; that was built for the chief clerk, Mr. Ripley.

Q. Now, where was that house with respect to the prison itself? A. Mr. Ripley's?

Q. Yes.

A. It was southeast from the corner of the prison wall, and it looked over the present road down that way.

Q. Then it was down below the prison wall?

A. Oh, yes, a way down.

Q. And where was that house with respect with the Grodevant's house?

A. The Grodevant's was directly north of the prison—quite a ways.

Q. But it was in the same locality?

A. It was in the prison grounds, yes.

Q. When was that house built for Mr. Grodevant?

A. I started that house, to put it up, on the foundation—the first of August of '83.

Q. And then it was built during that year?

A. Yes, he moved into it along about the holidays.

Q. What houses did you build after that?

A. I built one for Sergeant Collins, right across the street, a little one-story house; Grodevant's was two-stories.

Q. Then Mr. Grodevant's was the last house you built except one? A. While I was there, you mean?

Q. In Bluntsville?

A. Yes, that is the—that is the only two houses I put up; put additions on others, but they is the only two houses I built in Bluntville.

Q. The Grodevant's house, and then Sergeant Collins'; the Grodevant's is the only two story house?

A. Story and a half it was.

Q. Well, there was an up-stairs part?

A. Yes, two rooms up stairs—three, I believe.

Q. The additions that you built on were—what houses?

A. Well, that I can't say. I think I put on a room on three different houses back there in Bluntville; I can't tell which one of them. There was two rows.

Q. Well, were they put on about the same time that the Grodevant's house——

A. No, they were put on later; I don't think I built any that year, or the next, because we built a big building in the yard—forty by a hundred feet—and the next year I was pretty busy on that all the summer. I think it was in 1886 or '87, that I done that work out there—yes, practically all the building we built then, and then we done repair work, and fixed up the old houses.

Q. So that, after the Sergeant Collins house was built, there wasn't much building down there until you came to put these additions on other houses?

A. No houses built down there by me after that.

Q. Well, I mean there wasn't much building of any character? A. No.

Q. Except when you came to put these additions?

A. No, there was nothing built down there.

Q. Mr. Dawes, you lived in Leavenworth, did you not?

A. Yes.

Q. And you would go back—

A. I drove up and down; I had my horse and buggy.

Q. You had your own horse and buggy? A. Yes.

Q. And drove out and back? A. Yes.

Q. Out in the morning and back at night?

A. Everyday.

Q. Did you ever stay nights out at the Post?

A. No, never stayed nights.

Q. All the time in here?

A. All the time in Leavenworth.

Q. Did you go out and make visits at the Grodevant's home?

A. Yes, we were up there several times of an evening.

Q. That was in the evening? A. Yes.

Q. You went out with your wife? A. Yes.

Q. Did you always see Indian Minnie when you went there? A. No.

Q. You didn't go to see her?

A. No, I never saw her while my wife—my wife never saw her—she wasn't there while we visited because it was in '86—the latter part of '85 we went up there. We had a little one, you know, and it was after her first trip out. We used to go up there occasionally, and Mrs. Grodevant used to come down to our house.

Q. So you didn't go out prior to the latter part of '85?

A. No, it was the latter part of '85 that I went up there; two or three trips with my wife, just for a drive.

Q. So that your observation of the Grodevant home during that time was during the time that you were working there? A. When I was working, yes.

Q. Passing by? A. Yes.

Q. Did you know this Indian girl personally?

A. No, sometimes I would know another servant girl at the officer's quarters and say good morning—never got acquainted with her no more than I would bid the time of day.

Q. So that she didn't attract your attention? A. No.

Q. And your observation of her was in that casual way?

A. That was a respectable working girl—that is what I took her to be. She appeared to be neat and clean and that is as far as I ever noticed her.

Q. You made no particular observation to determine whether she was in any condition of pregnancy? A. No, sir.

Q. You say that you were away awhile prior to March 1885; I didn't catch when you said that you were away.

A. They ran out of money in the latter part of '84, December first, and the Colonel sent me a letter and said——

Q. No funds?

A. Would have to dispense with my services for a while, but he said, don't put yourself so that I can't get you—I want you again. So, I had a chance to build a house here in town, and I told them it satisfied me, alright. I was away three months, December '84 to first of March '85, and they sent for me and I was back there till '87, when he left.

Q. You think this Indian girl was at the Grodevant's when you went back in March '85?

A. March '85, she was there.

Q. You made no observation to determine her goings and comings? A. No.

Q. Or whether she was there continuously?

A. No, sir, I don't know anything about it.

Q. At the various times? A. No.

Q. So you can't say that she was there continuously, or—— A. No, I——

Q. Or off and on? A. Certainly can't.

Q. Do you know when she left the Grodevant's?

A. I do not.

Q. Know where she went after she left the Grodevant's?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. You know nothing about her except what you saw?

A. I saw her there, that is all; I don't know what ever became of her.

Q. Do you know who composed the Grodevant family, Mr. Dawes? A. At that time?

Q. Yes?

A. No; just him and her, and his brother. I think his brother had an office here in town, and used to go up and down every day; I think he boarded with her.

Q. That is Frank? A. That is Frank.

Q. He used to do the same as you except in the opposite direction? A. Yes.

Q. He came in here in the morning and went back out at night? A. Yes.

Q. You went out there in the morning and back in at night? A. Yes. I understood he boarded there.

Q. He built some buildings here in town, didn't he?

A. Yes. I built several.

Q. I say Frank Grodevant—didn't he build some here?

A. He drew the plans for them; I built the buildings myself.

Q. He drew the plans? A. Yes.

Q. But his work was all in the city of Leavenworth?

A. Yes, he never done much at the Fort. He re-modeled General Pope's quarters; they wanted me to take that job, but I couldn't get away from the prison. He made the plan to re-model that roof: I wanted to get off from the prison and couldn't get off. I could have made a thousand dollars there, within two or three months. The General wouldn't let me go. He done that one place, only, at the Fort.

Q. Did you know Mrs. Grodevant's mother? A. No.

Q. Did you know Mrs. West?

A. No; I don't know that I ever saw her. I guess she was living there—I knew Mr. West; he was chief clerk—that was her father.

Q. Did you know where Mrs. Grodevant was from—what state? A. No, I didn't.

Q. Or Mr. Grodevant?

A. Mr. Grodevant was from Syracuse, N. Y.; that is what he told me when he came there—his home.

Q. Where did you say that the Grodevant's lived when they first married?

A. They were stopping with Mr. West, with her folks, before I built the house.

Q. Well, then, you did know Mrs. West's mother?

A. Oh, I knew that her father and mother lived there at the Post; he was working at the prison—he was chief clerk.

Q. Do you remember when he died? A. No, I don't.

Q. Do you know where Mrs. West went after his death?

A. No, that I can't say.

Q. Did you ever know of Mrs. West ever living at the Grodevant house, or visiting them?

A. Not to my knowledge, no.

Q. Or Mrs. Grodevant visiting Mrs. West after she went away?

A. She may have went away; I don't remember of her being away from home while I was there—that is, from the Post.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. Allen: We now offer the deposition of Louis Young, taken by Mr. Penick and appearing at page 2354.

And thereupon LEWIS YOUNG, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Please state your name, age, and place of residence.

Q. My name is Lewis Young; 55 in July; Leavenworth.

Q. Where did you live in 1884 and '85, Mr. Young?

Q. I lived adjoining the reservation, on the north side of Fort Leavenworth.

Q. During those years, or after that time, did you know a family living in Bluntville, by the name of Grodevant?

A. I knew Mr. Grodevant, yes sir; I knew of him—knew where he lived.

Q. You knew where he lived? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What business were you engaged in at that time?

A. In what year did you say?

Q. During the time that you knew the Grodevants and knew where they lived.

A. Well, I first knew Mr. Grodevant when I was driving a team in the quartermaster department, in '82, and I don't remember how long I did stay there in the quartermaster department, but I was raised at Fort Leavenworth—practically raised until I was quite a big fellow, and we lived adjoining the West Side there, and worked for the Government off and on.

Q. Do you remember about the time that Grodevant's moved to Bluntville?

A. Why, I don't remember exactly the time that he moved there, sir.

Q. I don't mean the day; I mean the occasion of him moving there.

A. Oh, he got there without my knowing the time. When I first—when I was knowing he lived there.

Q. Were you around his place much, afterwards?

A. Oh, I passed in front of the house quite often.

Q. Did you see any Indian girl around his place there, about '84 or '85?

A. Why, I wouldn't be positive of the time. I seen an Indian woman there that everybody spoke of and called her Indian Minnie.

Q. About how long was she there at Grodevant's home?

A. Oh, I can't tell you that.

Q. About how long did you see her there?

A. I think it was, if I remember right now, to the best of my judgment, I think she was there—oh, I can't positively say—I can't say how long; she was there quite a little spell, I should judge.

Q. For quite a while she was there?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

Q. What did you mean by spell, Mr. Young?

A. Oh, she might have been there a summer, or something like that; I don't remember that it was in the summer, now—I think it was in the summer I seen her there. I used to see her out in the back yard.

Q. How frequently would you see her there?

A. Oh, that would be hard to say because I was just like —passing along the street—why, I might pass along often and not so often at other times; sometimes driving along the street.

Q. Would she ever appear to be in the family way when you would see her there?

A. No, not as ever I noticed or heard of; I never heard of it.

Mr. Blakeney: I moved to strike out heard, as supposition.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. When did you commence driving for the quartermaster department, do you remember, Mr. Young? A. '82.

Q. '82? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old were you at that time, do you remember, Mr. Young? A. I was born in '51; twenty-two years old.

Q. You were grown up at that time? A. Yes.

Q. What team did you drive for the quartermaster?

A. For the quartermaster?

Q. Yes?

A. I drove a two-mule jigger-wagon, they used to call it —a baggage wagon and we hauled everything.

Q. It is what would correspond in civilian parlance a delivery team? A. Yes, sir, something of that order.

Q. Your business would take you around and about the Post? A. Yes, sir.

Q. At different places? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your duties were all in the day time in that community?

A. Oh, not necessarily so; sometimes we would have a trip after night. About wherever you were sent around the Post—that is where you would go.

Q. Pick up a trunk, or something like that?

A. Not so much a trunk; haul the wood—they didn't issue coal then—had to deliver wood around; anything that they had to haul. Lots of times, we would go to town for stuff.

Q. You lived west of the Post?

A. At that time we moved west of the Fort, yes, sir; west of the Fort reservation. My father worked at the Fort ahead of me before I was old enough to work there.

Q. Where was that with respect to Mr. Grodevant's house? A. Where we lived?

Q. How many miles west?

A. Oh, that would be right on a line, I guess. Mr. Grodevant's was right due west over Arsenal drive—down the valley, there, I supposed would be about two miles—just about two.

Q. And you continued to live there all this time that you were working for the quartermaster's department?

A. Oh, no, my folks lived close, but when I was driving the team, I was boarding there and sleeping there. I wasn't married at all.

Q. Where did you board?

A. We had a mess called the teamster's mess at that time.

Q. Near the quartermaster's corral?

A. Oh, no, we had a teamster's mess where the prisoners and—you are thinking about that enclosed ground, now. All them houses have been moved back; they used to stand up close to the prison, and the prison is enlarged. They have been pushed back.

Q. By an extension of the wall north, the prison has taken in the ground where the mess formerly stood?

A. That mess house, and our quarters have been torn down, years ago. I lived in this place Bluntville from '89 up to—no, I went there to live in '95, after I got married. I got married in '90, and the Military prison was turned over to the Fort.

Q. That was a long time after this girl was at Grodevant's? A. Oh, yes.

Q. What did you say she was called?

A. I aimed to tell you about this very business with the Government. I went to work for the male prison in '89; continued until '95. In July '95, it was turned over to the Federal Department. I was with the Federal Department until here in December.

Q. Now, Mr. Young, that is all subsequent to the time that this girl was there?

A. Yes, sir, now you want to know from '82 up until '89?

Q. Yes.

A. I went to work for the Government in '82, in the Quartermaster's Department; that is the different——

Q. How long did you work there?

A. I was thinking I worked something like two and a half years, or three years; something like that.

Q. Then, where did you work?

A. I went back on my father's place in the valley.

Q. And you then worked out there?

A. Well, I was in and out the Fort; went in there several times.

Q. What did you do on your father's place? Was that the farm?

A. Yes, sir; that farm joined the reservation at that time.

Q. Were you assisting your father in farming the place?

A. Oh, when we was idle, us boys, we would go home and work, yes, sir. Fort Leavenworth was a home to us. We went to school in Nevada and we would go back and forth.

Q. You would go back to the farm and work the farm with your father and brothers?

A. My father worked at the Fort during all his lifetime since I can remember.

Q. So that the farm was either left to you boys, or was carried on in addition to your other work—just kept up as a home farm, or as a farm home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, what did you say this girl was called that worked for—— A. Grodevant's?

Q. Yes? A. Indian Minnie.

Q. Did she always go by that name? A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever hear her called anything else?

A. What?

Q. Did you ever hear her called anything else?

A. Not that I know of; lot of them around there that were nicknamed around the Fort.

Q. Did you ever hear her full name, or right name?

A. I don't believe I ever did; if I did, I have forgotten it.

Q. And when you saw her there at the Grodevant's, you knew that she was this character that you heard called Indian Minnie?

A. Folks would say, there is Indian Minnie. I never spoke to the woman in my life that I remember of.

Q. Didn't know her personally? A. No, sir.

Q. And what you saw of her, would be in only driving past?

A. Just exactly; like you would drive along that street and look in the yard here.

Q. She didn't attract your attention in any personal way at all? A. No.

Q. You made no personal, or close observation of her appearance? A. Oh, no.

Q. And your observation of her was purely casual in the way that you have described? A. Precisely.

Q. You never discussed her with the Grodevants, or anybody that knew anything about her?

A. No, I never did discuss her; no, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. What is your name? A. Lewis Young.

Q. What are you doing?

A. At the present time, I am guard down here at the State Prison.

Q. Guard at the State Prison at Lansing? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Under Warden Codding? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew Mr. Codding was one of the attorneys in this case, didn't you?

A. I never heard him say so; I don't know, sir. He has never spoken to me about it.

Q. Now, you tell the Court, now; did you ever hear of a woman named Indian Minnie until this case got into the newspapers around Leavenworth? A. How is that?

Q. Did you ever hear of a woman called Indian Minnie until this case got into the newspapers around Leavenworth?

A. Why, certainly I have, sir.

Q. You say you have?

A. Yes, sir; I know what I am talking about.

Q. Over some thirty years ago, you remember seeing a girl who was a domestic in a family around Fort Leavenworth, just before you left to go somewhere to remain a few months?

A. I have heard of Indian Minnie, sir, and seen her.

Q. And you can fix the time over that lapse of that period that was just before you left to go somewhere, to be gone several months?

A. I never went anywhere; just moved adjoining the reservation there.

Q. You quit working for Grodevant's?

A. Quit working for who?

Q. You quit working as a carpenter for Grodevant?

A. I never worked for Grodevant.

Q. You quit working as a teamster for the Grodevants?

A. No, sir.

Q. You had been working with him? A. No, sir.

Q. For him? A. No, sir.

Q. What were you doing?

A. Driving a team for the quartermaster's department.

Q. You had no relation with him at all? A. No, sir.

Q. And you remember servants that he had in his family after a thirty-year period?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as argument.

A. I remember a party working there that they called Indian Minnie.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Mr. Young, you never made any ex-ray examination, or examined this woman to see whether she was pregnant or not? A. No, sir.

Q. You have never found that necessary in order to discover pregnancy?

Mr. Blakeney: We object to it as asking for a conclusion; incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. No, sir.

Mr. Hanford: We object on the ground that it is improper re-direct; incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Q. You can tell when a woman is pregnant after she has developed far enough, to have it to show, can't you?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as calling for a conclusion of the witness.

Mr. Blakeney: The same objection.

Mr. Allen: We will withdraw it.

Q. Mr. Young, did you know until you came on the witness stand here, and Mr. Blakeney so advised you, that Mr. Codding had any connection with this case?

A. I never heard Mr. Codding, no, sir; I didn't know he was in anyway connected. I didn't know anything about the case until Saturday evening.

Q. Did you ever talk to Codding? A. About this case?

Q. Yes?

A. No, sir. I had spoken to him this morning and he brought me up in the automobile, and I asked him what case he wanted me on, and asked him if that Indian Minnie case and he said, yes, sir; he never asked me no questions.

Q. Never talked to you about it in any way or——

A. Only I asked the question what case did he want me up here on.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. There was nothing to attract your attention to this girl any more than to any other girl in the neighborhood?

A. No, sir; that is the idea.

Q. You don't remember, now, of any other woman, who was pregnant, in that community, in '85, do you? A. Oh, no.

Q. Or '84, or any other year, practically, except it might be your own family? I mean, any of the neighbors?

A. No; I don't remember, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. This was an Indian girl, wasn't it?

A. Oh, yes; she resembled an Indian girl to me. If I remember right, they called her Indian Minnie. Quite a few of them around the country at that time.

Q. Was she or not, an attractive looking woman?

A. I can't remember now whether she was a good looking woman or not. I never paid much attention to her.

Q. Was there any other servant-girls in the community that you ever saw? A. Not as I remember of.

Recross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. There was nothing to make you suspect an Indian girl of pregnancy any more than any other girl, was there?

A. Not a thing, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. Allen: We now offer the deposition of Mrs. Margaret Jackson, taken before Mr. Penick and appearing in his transcript at page 2364.

And thereupon, MRS. MARGARET JACKSON, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Mrs. Margaret Jackson.

Q. Your husband's name is William Jackson?

A. William.

Q. Where do you live, Mrs. Jackson?

A. Well, No. 22, Bluntville, Fort Leavenworth.

Q. When did you and Mr. Jackson marry?

A. Well, I am not sure of the year; I think it was either '80 or '81.

Q. How old is your oldest child? A. She is 34.

Q. What month is her birthday? A. This month.

Q. Now, if she is 34, has her birthday come this month yet? A. It will be the 8th.

Q. The 8th? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that when she is 34? A. 34.

Q. How long have you been living at Fort Leavenworth?

A. An awful long time.

Q. When with reference to the date of your marriage, did you move there?

A. Oh, I was up there a couple of years before, I think.

Q. Before. Have you been living there ever since?

A. Nearly ever since.

Q. How much time have you not lived there?

A. Well, I really can't tell just the time.

Q. When was it that you didn't live there? About—where did you live elsewhere than at the Fort?

A. I lived in Leavenworth.

Q. In Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember how long?

A. Oh, three or four years I should think.

Q. When was that if you remember?

A. Well, I don't remember.

Q. Did you know the Grodevant family—Herbert Grodevant? A. Yes.

Q. Were you living at the Fort at the time they lived there? A. Yes.

Q. You were? A. All the time.

Q. All the time? A. Yes.

Q. What place inside of the reservation—what was the name of the little community in which you lived?

A. Bluntville.

Q. Bluntville. About [] many homes were in Bluntville, in the earlier days, along of the '80's—the latter part of the '80's?

A. Well, there weren't very many, but I never did count them.

Q. I beg your pardon, I didn't hear you.

Q. I say there weren't very many but I never counted them.

Q. Where was Bluntville located with reference to the Military prison?

A. Just about 500 feet from the south-side of where it is now.

Q. Now, which was south—the prison or Bluntville?

A. The prison was south.

Q. The prison? Where did you live with reference to where Herbert Grodevant's family lived?

A. I lived two doors north.

Q. Do you remember who built the Grodevant's home?

Q. Do you remember of its being built?

A. I remember of it being built.

Q. Were you living in the home which you spoke of?

A. Same place, yes.

Q. At the time the Grodevant's home was being built?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever live in the Grodevant's house?

A. I live there now.

Q. Oh, you live there now?

A. Yes; not before they lived there, though.

Q. After they moved out? A. After they moved out.

Q. How long after they moved out, was it, until you moved into their home?

A. Well, I should think it was about two years after.

Q. In order for you to get to town—to Leavenworth—in those days, or to get to the—any portion of the reservation that was occupied and used, would you or not, have to pass the Grodevant's home?

A. Yes, sir, I had to pass it nearly every time.

Q. Did you ever know of their ever having in their employ, a servant girl—an Indian girl, a young woman?

A. I remember something about it.

Q. Do you remember the girl?

Q. Well, I don't know whether I would remember her now or not. I don't know whether I would know her if I were to see her.

Q. What she was called?

A. Why, we called her Indian Minnie.

Q. Do you know how long she was in the employ of the Grodevant's? A. No, sir.

Q. How frequently did you see her, Mrs.——

A. Well, really, I can't tell you that. I have seen the girl but I don't know how often.

Q. Did you or not see her right often?

A. I think I have seen her, you know, going back and forth in my back door; I probably have seen her but I didn't pay any attention to the girl.

Q. Did you see her as you would pass in front of the Grodevant's home? A. I probably did, I don't know.

Q. During that time, and your observation of her, was she or not, or did she or not, show any condition of pregnancy?

A. No, sir, not to my knowledge.

Q. Was there any other family there in Bluntville who had a servant girl? A. No, I don't think there was.

Q. This Grodevant family was the only one? A. I think so.

Q. What was the standing in that community of the Grodevant family?

> Mr. Blakeney: We object on the ground that it is incompetent and hearsay, and seeks hearsay evidence, and is wholly immaterial.

A. They were considered—were nice people; at least I thought they were nice.

Q. Did you hear in the community of Minnie Atkins having been in a family way—of this Indian Minnie having been in a family way?

> Mr. Hanford: Objected to as calling for hearsay testimony, incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

> Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial; asking for a conclusion, and seeking to bet hearsay statements.

A. No, sir.

Q. There used to be an old hospital out there?

A. Yes, I think there was. Not in Bluntville.

Q. No, it was not in Bluntville. A. No, sir.

Q. Where was it located with relation to the Military Prison?

> Mr. Blakeney: We object.

Q. It wasn't related to the Military Prison in any way.

Q. Where was it from the prison—what direction?

A. Well, the old hospital I think that you have reference to, was over west of the Fort road; next to the old Catholic church.

Q. What direction from the Military Prison?

A. Sort of southwest.

Q. Was that ever used for student officers quarters?

A. Well, really I don't know.

Q. You were not around there? A. No.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mrs. Jackson, your knowledge and observation of this Indian girl was simply that of one of the servants of a neighbor? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She was a servant in the home of the Grodevants?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The Grodevants were friends of yours? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your neighborly connection, or social connection, was with the Grodevants and not with their servants, was it?

A. That is right.

Q. You didn't attempt to keep track of the Grodevant's domestic affairs. A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't watch or pay attention to the goings or comings of their servant? A. No, sir.

Q. It was of no matter of interest to you how long they had a servant or who they had? A. No, sir.

Q. Or what the physical condition of their servant might have been? A. No, sir.

Q. So your memory of this girl is simply the memory after thirty or thirty-one years of your casual observation of her at that time? A. Yes.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Do you remember any other lady in that community that was pregnant in 1885? A. That was what, sir?

Q. That was pregnant in '85? A. No, sir.

Q. Or '86? A. No, sir.

Q. Or '84? A. No, sir.

Q. Children were born out there, however, weren't they?

A. Oh, I guess they were but I never kept track of them.

Q. You didn't keep track of Minnie, either, did you?

A. No, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mrs. Jackson, did you notice anything wrong with Minnie's conduct? A. No, sir.

Q. She was the only servant girl in that—in Bluntville—in that time she worked there, I believe you said?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading.

A. Yes, I think she was; I don't remember of another.

Q. Did you ever remember of any other Indian girl?

A. No.

Q. Who was a servant at Bluntville?

A. No, I never have.

Witness dismissed.

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF OKLAHOMA.

PLEAS AND PROCEEDINGS BEFORE THE HONORABLE RALPH E. CAMPBELL, JUDGE OF THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE UNITED STATES FOR THE EASTERN DISTRICT OF OKLAHOMA, PRESIDING IN THE FOLLOWING ENTITLED CAUSE:

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
Equity vs. No. 2131
MINNIE ATKINS, et al.

VOLUME III.

Statement of the Evidence (Continued).

Mr. Allen: We now offer the deposition of Mary N. Cunningham, taken by Mr. Penick and appearing in his transcript at page 2379 and recalled at page 2423.

And thereupon MARY N. CUNNINGHAM being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. State your name, age and place of residence.
A. If I told my age Judge. It is a terrible thing to ask a woman.
Q. You are more than twenty-one?
A. Yes, I was born in sixty-three. Leaves me somewhere on the sunny side of sixty.
Q. Your name? A. Mary N. Cunningham.
Q. Where do you live Mrs. Cunningham?
A. Fort Leavenworth.
Q. Where did you live in 1884 and '85?

A. 1884 and five, well? I lived part of the time in the City of Leavenworth and Fort Leavenworth most of the time. I have been in Fort Leavenworth, not continuously, since '82.

Q. Did you know the Grodevants while they lived in Bluntville? A. I did.

Q. Were you ever by their home? A. I was.

Q. About how frequently?

A. Well, that of course I can't say how often I would pass there. I passed several times but I can't say the number of times.

Q. Do you remember an Indian girl that worked for the Grodevants in '84 and five? A. Yes.

Q. Or about that time? A. I do.

Q. Do you know what her name was?

A. Her name was Minnie.

Q. About how long did she work there?

A. Well, that of course I can't say just how long she worked there. I can't say that. I really don't know how long she worked there. I can't say that because——

Q. About how many times do you think you saw her there?

A. Well, that would be a pretty hard thing, Judge, to say. I can't say how often I saw her. I can't say how often. I saw her passing several times and I saw her on the street going around by the prison there about two or three at the very most that I had ever seen her. I don't forget a person. The garrison has changed some but the prison is pretty near the same.

Q. Where were you living in reference to the Grodevant home?

A. Well, I was living for a while in '85—I was for a short while right down at the prison right below the commandant's house, right there by the prison and then I was with friends in Leavenworth a great deal, a family by the name of Craton, [ ] and Broadway.

Q. Was your sister at the Fort at that time?

A. Yes, my sister was at the Fort and I went up to see her.

Q. Where was she living then?

A. In this place I mentioned—the first house right down the steps from the commandant's, frame house. I think it stands the same yet, on this side, facing the commandant's.

Q. Where was that with reference to the prison?

A. Where was that? I don't quite understand that.

Q. With reference to the prison. Which direction from the prison and about how far?

A. Well, it is facing east. You go right down the steps, that faces the east and their house faces the west. West of the commandant's. That is the way they are situated I think.

Q. Now how far was that house where your sister lived and where you visited here from the Grodevant home, Mrs. Cunningham?

A. Well that distance I can't just say how far it is but you just turn right around the wall and I can't tell the distance. Quite a little ways back of the wall down to where the Grodevants lived. I can't say the distance but it is not very far.

Q. You lived between the Grodevants and where the officers lived, didn't you?

A. No, this way on the— It is now Officers Row. It is right on the Officers Row.

Q. Where your sister lived?

A. Yes, on the Officers' Row.

Q. And was the prison between you and Bluntville?

A. Well, the prison, yes, it was in a way. Of course the wall run right around. The house is below the wall and you go right around the wall in the direction where the Grodevants lived.

Q. That is the one——

A. The only thing between those wall right around was a barn. I don't know whether it is there now or not, but I believe it is. A barn between this house——

Q. And Bluntville?

A. Yes, and this house back of the prison a family lived in named Few and Mr. Henry Jackson, he lived in the first house back of the wall, that is because I remember——

Q. Then who lived next to Jackson?

A. Next to that place, to their house?

Q. Yes?

A. Now, I don't remember whether there was a house came in between that or not but the Grodevants I believe came next. There may have been a little house but that I have forgotten.

Q. Any way they lived right there close to Henry Jackson's?

A. Yes, they lived there right down from Jackson's in a two-story frame house and I think that house stands as it was at the time.

Q. Where did Henry Jackson live with reference to where the Grodevants and Mr. Billie Jackson lived?

A. They lived on you might say——

Q. I mean was Billie Jackson between the Grodevants——

A. It is so hard to think of that when I thought so little of it. Last night got me to thinking of those things.

Q. Henry Jackson was living between Billie Jackson's and Grodevants?

A. Yes, between—on this side next to the prison. Well, before you get to the Grodevants in a large house that is torn down now, a family by the name of Hughes I think. I know they lived there and Henry Jackson lived in the house and I know there was a house. I don't [] whether a house came in between that or not. A little brick was built in there afterwards. I think that was moved since that. I haven't been back to the prison for years, although I lived in the Fort for years. I don't go around enough to know new buildings that are built at the Fort, just like a new city to me when I—when anybody asks me about the Fort.

Q. During the time that the Grodevants were living in this place you describe, you say you saw Minnie Atkins a number of times—Minnie a number of times at that place?

A. Well, I saw her quite a few times. I wouldn't like to say a number of times but I saw her enough to know who she was. She was a girl pointed out to me as Indian Minnie, they called her. And the only thing I remember distinctly on one occasion was in May——

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent.

Q. Now, Mrs. Cunningham did you see her in the spring or summer of 1885? A. Yes, I did.

Q. Please state the circumstances under which you saw her at that time. Where were you and what were you doing?

A. Well, I remember on this particular occasion of going out to pick flowers, wild flowers, and I believe they were crab-apple blossoms, and we strolled down the old Missouri Pacific Railroad tracks and walked up the hill and came in back of the Grodevants house. As we came around the house Mrs. Grodevant was speaking to me—started to say—sister wasn't talking to me and I don't know what the conversation was now. I have forgotten but in the meanwhile this girl, we saw her in the yard and it seems to me she was hanging something on the line and I believe it was dish-towels and my sister asked if she employed colored help and she said no, and she said we thought she was colored help and she said no, she was an Indian girl, so few colored [] were employed in the Fort and she said no, she is an Indian girl. That occasion I remember but that is just a few occasions that I remember seeing her and knowing she was this Indian girl.

Q. You say that was in May?

A. That was in May. I can't say the day in May, in '85. What makes me remember that distinctly the 20th Infantry met in May, 1885, and that is what makes me remember that particular occasion.

Q. Now Mrs. Cunningham did you see her before and after that occasion?

A. Well, I am pretty sure that I saw her in the winter of '84, we used to coast a good deal down the prison hill there and I saw her on that road coming in from the prison.

Q. And then did you see her after the time that you were picking flowers there in 1885?

A. I think I saw her probably once or twice but can't say the number of times. I wasn't back of the prison after that.

Q. State whether or not during any of the time you saw her she appeared to be in a family way, Mrs. Cunningham?

A. Well, of course not thinking of anything at that time I never thought of anything like that but from her appearance I should not think so, and I should think if anything of that kind happened the entire prison would know it and if they didn't they would be a funny——

> Mr. Hanford: We object to the statement of this witness as to personal conclusion is not responsive to the question, purely voluntary statement.
>
> Mr. Blakeney: In addition to what counsel says, it is irrelevant, irresponsive and immaterial.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mrs. Cunningham, at that time you spoke of in 1885 your sister, you say, was living in this house which was just across and was east of the entrance?

A. It was east of the entrance, yes.

Q. And to get to that house you would pass in front of the prison at the top of the hill?

A. Yes, and down a couple of steps. A few steps. I don't know how many steps.

Q. Well, isn't it quite a hill, the first hill down to the——

A. Well, a level place and then you come down a second hill.

Q. The second hill into Bluntville and pass around the corner of the prison wall.

A. Well that is going around to the prison but this house is right direct down the walk.

Q. Where your sister lives? A. Yes.

Q. But going down into Bluntville?

A. You go right around.

Q. Let me ask you this—if I can describe it correctly. You come first in front from the prison gate up above down this first hill to the level where the commandant's house is?

A. Yes, I can't say that it is much of a hill. It is a very small incline. No hill running from the gate down to the commandant's house that I can remember. It is just a little incline. We don't call it a hill.

Q. Well, with your correction, we go down to the commandant's house? A. Yes.

Q. Then that level stretch and his house is there?

A. Yes.

Q. And the commandant's barn you spoke of is on the same level? A. Yes, right there.

Q. And then this frame house where your sister lives and then going from there you go down another hill and around the prison wall and that takes you down into Bluntville?

A. From her house, you mean? It is not necessary to go down from her house, to go down—you go by the steps to go [] the prison. There are three or four steps. The house is right down in a low——

Q. You have never been down the road that leads——

A. Yes, I have been all over the road everywhere. You can go down that road to the commandant's and you go up the steps to go around to the prison and you can go the other way.

Q. But I want to get the description of the place so as to show in the record that the house where your sister lived was between the commandant's and Bluntville when you would have to go around the wall?

A. Yes, yes, certainly.

Q. And after you left your sister's house and came around the wall——

A. I was in that house myself for a while of course.

Q. What was your sister's name?

Q. Her name was Helen Cunningham.

Q. Now, you state that you can't name the number of times that you saw this girl? A. No, I can't.

Q. You were not personally acquainted with her?

A. I wasn't acquainted with the girl.

Q. Didn't know her personally?

A. Just seeing that she was an Indian.

Q. Just knew that she was a servant?

A. Servant at Grodevant's, all I know about her.

Q. Your observation of her was just casual?

A. Yes, I never heard anything wrong about her in my life.

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike the question and answer as incompetent for the reason it is conclusion, hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and not responsive.

Q. Your observation of her was in a casual way?

A. Yes, that is all. That is all I know.

Q. She was no prominent character in the life of the Fort or anything that would——

A. No, I never heard——

Q. That would attract attention to her?

A. No, I never heard anything like that.

Q. How large a woman was she?

A. Well, sir, now she was a woman of my size, not quite as large as I am now, but she was quite a stout woman and she usually wore her hair in two braids. Some times she combed it in one braid.

Q. You say she was a pretty good sized woman?

A. Yes, I can't say her age.

Q. A stout woman and wore her hair in two braids?

A. Yes, sometimes, not all the time, sometimes.

Q. You were not married at that time?

A. I was never married, unfortunately.

Q. So you didn't pay any attention to questions of maternity on the part of other women or approaching maternity?

A. I never heard that.

Q. You didn't examine the girl closely enough to see whether she was in that condition?

A. I never had occasion to.

Mr. Blakeney: I would like to have the officer instruct the witness that we are not asking her what she heard but what she knows. I want to object to the question of Dame Rumor here and putting it in the record.

Mr. Allen: I suggest that the answer of the witness was perfectly proper.

Mr. Blakeney: I call attention to Judge Allen's statement to show probably why the witness is giving the incompetent evidence.

Q. Miss Cunningham perhaps you will tell us why you keep repeating that you never heard anything about—as to whether this woman was pregnant or not?

Mr. Blakeney: I object to any effort to get hearsay evidence in the record as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

A. Why do I repeatedly say that?

Q. Yes.

Q. For the simple reason you had asked me if I had noticed anything to that effect.

Q. But what you heard you seem to direct your testimony to that one particular point. Has that matter been discussed with you? A. Never.

Q. Prior to the time of your testifying here?

A. Never. You simply asked me if I had known of that.

Q. You have been reading the newspapers have you?

A. No, I have never read it, never. I saw the heading but paid no attention to the other part.

Q. You know what you are called here to testify to?

A. Yes, sir. This came up all of a sudden and you asked me——

Q. You had been thinking it over last night?

A. Yes, I have been thinking it over. Of course if I had time there is a great deal more but I can't— You know it came up too sudden about the prison and everything.

Q. You know the point to which your testimony is directed is whether or not this woman was ever in a condition of pregnancy at that time?

A. As I say I never have heard anything like that or never heard of any such remark of that kind.

Mr. German: I object to that as argumentative.

Mr. Blakeney: We move to strike out the statement that she never heard as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial and hearsay.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Where were you living at that time in eighty-three, four, five and six?

A. Eighty-three, four and five. Well, I was living in the Fort; part of the while I was living in town and my home was at Easton. That is on a farm near Easton, Kansas. I can't remember all this time where I was and what place I was. The Fort has changed around a great deal. We have lived up there more or less since '82 but I was not continuously there.

Q. What do you mean by we?

A. Well, I mean my sister when I say we. I guess I say the wrong thing again.

Q. You mean yourself and sister?

A. Myself and sister, yes.

Q. Did you live with your sister at the Fort the greater part of the time during these two or these years?

A. No, I did not. I lived with myself. Shall I say what I did?

Q. Yes.

A. I was in charge of the officer's mess as I am now.

Q. You were in charge of the officer's mess?

A. Yes. I was housekeeper at the time. Several times I have been in charge of the officer's mess. I am in charge of the post mess now.

Q. When did you take charge of the officer's mess?

A. Well, I say in those days I was housekeeper.

Q. Well as housekeeper then?

A. Well, as I say, I just can't just remember the time.

Q. Well, give us the year? You ought to remember that, don't you, as well as you can about apple blossoms.

Mr. German: I object as argumentative.

Q. Well, that is all about the apple blossoms.

A. I remember the apple blossoms for the reason——

Mr. Allen: We object to that as argument and as insulting.

A. Those I have of course forgotten.

Q. Just a minute now. Just answer the question. I asked you to give us the year that you went up there to work in the officer's mess.

A. The year that I took charge of the officer's mess was in '88 but this was in years before in '83 and two. I didn't take charge of the officer's mess until '88, but I rented a house and had charge of the house on a salary but not as I am doing now, but I can't just call what house we were in. The places are torn up so that I just can't remember because I wasn't here continuous in eighty-two, three and four—I was in after years but in eighty-four and five I was not all the while in Fort Leavenworth, just at times but I can't tell just how long, I have forgotten that.

Q. In eighty-two and three you were there continuously?

A. No, I wasn't continuously.

Q. Only occasionally? A. Only occasionally.

Q. Eighty-three and four only occasionally?

A. Eighty-three and four only occasionally.

Q. Eighty-five? How?

A. Eighty-five? I was there for a while, not continuously.

Q. But occasionally? A. Occasionally.

Q. Eighty-six?

A. In eighty-six I was only there occasionally.

Q. Eighty-seven? A. Occasionally.

Q. Eighty-eight? A. All the while.

Q. All the time in eighty-eight?

A. All the time, yes. No I wasn't all the time in '88. I was from the time they went away in '98—I was out of the Fort a while.

Q. I am not speaking about 98?

A. You said continuously.

Q. I mean for the year, for that year?

A. No, not in '98, I wasn't.

Q. '88?

A. Oh, '88 I was. I was there continnously in '88. I said I couldn't say.

Q. Now, let's go back in '82 and three, you were housekeeper? A. Well, I was there then.

Q. When did you first go to the Fort?

A. When did I first go to Fort Leavenworth?

Q. Yes? To work?

A. Oh, to work, I don't know exactly when I did go but I remember that it was Centennial year.

Q. Seventy-six?

A. Yes, seventy-six, so I am an old soldier, been there a long time.

Q. When did you go to work, just the best you can give us?

A. Well, let me see. Well, I am pretty sure that I went to work in the fall of '76. I am not sure.

Q. How old were you when you went to work?

A. Well, that I don't know how old I was.

Q. Well, just now as you look back?

A. Well, I will tell you now.

Q. Wait a minute. Look back now over the picture in your memory of the time you came to work in Leavenworth, about how old were you?

A. Oh, I was a small girl. I was small. I can tell you.

Q. Can you tell me about your age?

A. I can't say just the age at that time. I would have to look that back——

Q. You remember I am asking about your age?

Mr. Allen: What date are you directing——

Mr. Blakeney: She said '76.

A. But that was years afterwards. That was the first time that I was in Fort Leavenworth.

Q. You were in Fort Leavenworth in '76. How long did you stay there?

A. I can't say. A short while, I can't say.

Q. Less than a year?

A. Oh, yes, less than a year.

Q. A month or two?

A. It was longer than that I think. I just was there a short while. I just came up for a short while. I didn't start to work. You asked me when I first came to Fort Leavenworth. I was here in '76, I remember that. Was in Fort Leavenworth until '82, along in there. So I have forgotten it. I can't bring that to my memory.

Q. Were you as a girl rather large for your age?

A. No, I was very small, very slight. I think I was about eleven or twelve. Something like that. Just a little bit of a girl.

Q. Miss Cunningham, you, I believe, stated that you went back to work at the Fort in about '82?

A. Somewhere along there, yes, sir. I can't remember. I wasn't there continuously.

Q. At that time you went to work in the mess hall?

A. No.

Q. What did you go to work in?

A. I was working in a family I think at that time but I can't just place where we were.

Q. The first work that you did then after you returned in about 1882 was to work in a private family?

A. I took my sister's place.

Q. Yes or no. The first work that you did after you went back to work in 1882 was in a private family? A. Yes.

Q. How long did you work in a private family?

A. Well, that I can't say. I have forgotten that.

Q. What did you next go to doing?

A. Well, I didn't work up there then for some time but I can't say the length of time.

Q. Did you leave that neighborhood and go back to your farm?

A. I went back to the farm awhile and was in town awhile. Whenever I felt like going up and back and that is part——

Q. Excuse me. I am [] trying to be impolite. Did your father live on the farm?

A. My father wasn't living at that time.

Q. Did you have a mother living there? A. Yes.

Q. And when you would go to the farm you would go out to see your mother? A. Yes.

Q. You stated something about at times you would go up to, you mean the City of Leavenworth itself?

A. The City of Leavenworth, yes.

Q. You went to the city? A. No.

Q. You were merely visiting in the city? A. Yes.

Q. Now in eighty-three commencing with about the first of the year where were you? A. I was in Leavenworth.

Q. You mean by that the City of Leavenworth?

A. That is Leavenworth and my home is Easton.

Q. Did you go to work in Fort Leavenworth that year?

A. I don't remember but I don't think I did. I have really a recollection of that. I don't think I did.

Q. About when then did you go to work at the Fort? After the time we are inquiring about now? After eighty-three?

A. In eighty-four.

Q. About what time in eighty-four?

A. It was the fall of eighty-four.

Q. You was then grown? A. Yes.

Q. According to the age you have given us you would have been twenty-one years of age?

A. I don't know whether I would have been that or not.

Q. You were born in sixty-three? A. Yes.

Q. And this was eighty-four, would have been twenty-one year?

A. Yes. Whether it would be that I don't know. As I say I would have to look it up to see.

Q. What work did you commence doing then in eighty-four? A. I took my sister's place.

Q. And what had your sister been doing?

A. She had been doing housekeeping, was housekeeper in this place.

Q. Housekeeper in the officers' mess?

A. No, it wasn't the officer's mess, it was a family.

Q. A private family?

A. A private family, if I remember rightly, yes. Not the officer's mess.

Q. Do you remember whether it was about the first of the year that you commenced working there?

A. It was in the fall.

Q. Fall of '84?

A. Fall of '84. I am pretty sure if I remember rightly. It was the fall of '84. I don't know just what time in the fall. Is that too much?

Q. No, that is enough. Who was that family?

A. I think the name was Townsend. I am positive it was.

Q. Who were they? A. Captain Townsend.

Q. A captain in the United States Army?

A. Yes, I don't know much about that but he was there.

Q. They lived in the quarters of the officers at the Fort?

A. Yes.

Q. How long did you work there?

A. Well, I can't say. I was there just a short while.

Q. Did you work there all of the winter? A. No, I didn't.

Q. Where did you next go to?

A. Well, that I have forgot. After that of course I took up cooking for the officers but I can't just tell at what time.

Q. What is your best recollection now? Think it over and see if you can tell us your best recollection as to whether you left this Captain—who? A. Townsend.

Q. Captain Townsend's place and went to cooking for the officers' mess?

A. Right at that time, I did not. I can't just say when I started; between the time and '82, but I can't tell you just when.

Q. Now, can you give any approximate time, whether it was a few months or as much as a year?

A. Oh, it was quite a while, I know that; it was quite a while. Well, let's see, it was— Oh, I can't say the number of months because I was there in the fall, but how late in the fall I can't say, I can't tell how long I was there but not very long.

Q. Can you give us an estimate of how long it was?

A. I cannot, no.

Q. Between the time that you left this captain's place and the time you commenced working at the officers' mess?

A. Well, it was not called really the messes in that day, it was just a few of them.

Q. Well, I was not asking with reference to the names but as to the time? A. Well, that is one thing I can't remember.

Q. Calling your attention again, can you give us an estimate of the time——

A. No, I can't give you that, I can't remember, I know I was in Leavenworth a great deal of that time.

Q. In the City of Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. What were you doing in the city?

A. I was visiting friends and I was at home.

Q. You never work in the city during that time?

A. Not in that time, no.

Q. Did you visit home during that time? A. I did, yes.

Q. When you would visit home, how long would you stay?

A. Well, that I can't say; until I would get tired; I can't say that either, just as long as I cared to.

Q. You still treated the farm and where your mother resided as your home? A. Yes.

Q. Now, I believe you say you can't say whether it was a year after you quit the captain's place or not?

A. I know it was a long time.

Q. Before you went to work at the officers' mess?

A. Yes.

Q. And you can't say whether it was more than a year or not?

A. Well, I don't believe it was more than a year, but I can't say as to the time.

Q. Well, if it was nearly a year, it must have been sometime in '85?

A. Well, in the summer of 1885, I was not working there in '85, I was up here.

Q. I am just trying to get my answer?

A. I was up in the Fort, but I was not working there.

Q. I am just trying to see now as you have thought it over, by this examination we have had, whether you can say now it was sometime in the latter part of 1885 that you took charge of the Officer's Mess.

A. No, I didn't work at the Officer's Mess in 1885.

Q. Didn't you work at all?

A. I can't remember, it has been so long in those messes, I declare to goodness, I don't know one from the other.

Q. When you would go up there in '85, you would visit your sister and visit the other families there on the Reservation? A. Yes, there were several families I knew of course.

Q. Would you go up to the mess?

A. No, there was no mess, no I wouldn't go near the mess.

Q. Well, you hadn't worked in the mess then prior to the time that you worked for this Captain at all?

A. I hadn't worked—no, not in the—I can't just remember when I started first, I suppose they would call it that, I never heard it termed that in those days, I can't remember when I started.

Q. What did you call it in those days?

A. Well, I never heard mess until later years. Well, they would call it a mess I suppose too, they would mess together.

Q. Just a term or mess to fit your idea as to what I am referring to? A. Yes.

Q. Three or four officers that had their meals together there in this building? A. But I can't remember——

Q. Wait a minute, I say that word——

A. Yes, but I have forgotten all of that.

Q. Please try to give me with some certainty——

A. Well, I tried to think that, but I can't think of that.

Q. When you started to work in the Officer's Mess?

A. When I started to work in the Officer's Mess?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, I told you before, I thought that I took charge of the Officer's Mess in 1888, but that was a year afterwards, independent——

Q. You understood my last question, didn't you, when you went to work in the Mess?

A. I just can't tell the year.

Q. About how long did you work there before you took charge in 1888?

A. Well, those times, I just can't tell how long I worked there, I forgot, I can't say that positively.

Q. When you worked at the mess then, before you took charge now, what were your duties, not in detail but generally?

A. Well, in general, ordering and looking after things, and I assisted of course.

Q. Did you do the actual cooking?

A. No, I didn't do the actual cooking.

Q. You had employees to cook?

A. I didn't, they did.

Q. They did? A. Yes, sir.

Q. They had employees to clean the building?

A. Well, I have forgotten, it seems to me there was a man, I have forgotten that, just how that was, I have forgotten that.

By Mr. German: I object to each of the questions that will hereafter be answered, with Mr. Blakeney's permission, on the ground that it is unnecessary detail, repetition, and improper cross examination. You object to it going to each of your questions? It will save time.

By Mr. Blakeney: Yes, sir, you will probably withdraw that objection when you see the purpose of it.

By Mr. German: Well, he consents to it. Go to it.

Q. Now, what time did you go to work, you know the time now that I am referring to now, the time that you worked at the Mess before you took charge of it?

A. Well, I can't tell.

Q. Did you hear my question? What time did you go to work in the day time?

A. Oh, I was right in the house there, I didn't go to work, I was right in the building, lived in the Post.

Q. Did you live in the Fort Building in which you did your work?

A. I did, yes, but I can't remember what building, that is what's bothering me; been around so many places in that Fort, I can't tell you anything about that building, I don't remember that at all.

Q. Now, did you have time, when you were working there, to go to the City and visit around?

A. Yes, I didn't visit very much, I came to the City whenever I wanted to, yes; I knew how to manage to do that.

By Mr. Allen: Mrs. Cunningham, I wouldn't go into details with those answers.

A. I don't know what to tell him.

Q. Your work was not so exacting then that you had to remain at the building all day? A. No.

Q. After the evening dinners were served, was your time at your own command? A. Yes.

Q. Were you fairly well acquainted with—not personally acquainted now, but by sight, did you know the women, the men, the children that lived around the Fort?

A. Very few, no, I didn't know but very few people.

Q. I mean did you know them by sight?

A. Well, of course, I knew some by sight.

Q. Did you know many of them? A. No.

Q. By sight? A. No.

Q. But you can now, after this examination——

A. No, I can't.

Q. You cannot now, after this examination, say about how long you worked there before you took charge?

A. No, I cannot.

Q. Was it more than a year? A. I can't say that.

Q. Can't say whether it was five years?

A. Oh, it wasn't five years, I know that.

Q. Three years, can you say it was not three years?

A. No, I will not say that either.

Q. During all that time now, however long or short it was, while you were there working at the Mess, you never saw Minnie Atkins, or Indian Minnie? A. At the Mess?

Q. Well, while you were working at the Mess you never saw Indian Minnie?

A. I didn't see any Minnie at the Mess. No. When I worked at what they called the Mess, that was in '88, I didn't see Indian Minnie.

Q. Was there anything in my last question that said——

A. You said the Mess.

Q. You heard counsel's statement here a minute ago, didn't you, in which he said you said you had not worked at the mess until '88. Did you hear counsel make that statement here just a minute ago?

By Mr. German: I submit that the witness so stated in her last answer, and that that answer was given before Judge Allen's remark, to which the counsel refers.

By Mr. Allen: And I was merely asking the Examiner to record that answer.

By Mr. Blakeney: I would like for the Examiner to make this statement into the record: That neither counsel interposed any objection, they were just trying to coach the witness.

By Mr. Allen: We submit the record is an absolute refutation of the statement of counsel.

By Mr. German: I want to add to Judge Allen's statement, that counsel's suggestion is false in point of fact. You said we were trying to coach the witness, I deny it.

By Mr. Blakeney: I want more proof.

And thereupon recess is had until 1:30 o'clock P. M.

And thereafter, and at 1:30 o'clock P. M., further testimony herein is taken as follows:

MARY N. CUNNINGHAM, being recalled, further testified as follows:

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Since the examination this morning, and during the recess or adjournment for the lunch hour, have you been able to think that over so that you could say any more definitely than you did this forenoon, when you went to work at this private mess of officers up there in the Fort?

A. Yes, I have thought over it a little bit, it was in 1888, but how many months I can't say. I had charge of the Mess in '88, and I worked for the officers when they ran their own mess.

Q. Before '88?

A. It was in '88, the latter part of '88, I had charge of the Mess myself you understand, running it independently, they paid all the expenses but I oversaw it.

Q. How long did you work while they ran it?

A. Well, that I can't say, I don't remember the length of time, but several months.

Q. Not as much as a year?

A. No, not quite a year, pretty near a year, I thought that out afterwards.

Q. Then the latter part of '88, now you say you took charge?

A. Yes, I don't know what time, in '88, I can't say.

Q. You are reasonably sure it was the latter part of '88?

A. Yes, somewhere along there. I took charge of the mess in '88, the latter part.

Q. And how long did you run the Mess?

A. Well, I can't exactly say how long I run the mess until it was closed down, I can't remember. You know as the school changes, the mess at that time would close. I can't say how long I ran that mess, I have forgotten that.

Q. Well, can you give us any idea?

A. No, I can't, but I should think, judging from the best of my knowledge, it was about probably two years, or a year and a half, I think the class was for two years at that time.

Q. What class do you refer to?

A. Well, I can't tell you that.

Q. What do you mean?

A. Well, it was in 1888. I don't know whether the class was not leaving in 1888, but it seems to me that the class, if I remember right, left that fall, but I am not positive.

Q. A new class came in the next year?

A. Well, I can't say exactly.

Q. Well, can you name any of the persons who were in that class at that time? A. The first mess?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, I can mention some of them.

Q. I wish you would do that?

A. There was Captain Scott, and I don't remember whether Lieutenant Rice was in it or not, he is at the present time, but he was in that mess, but what time I can't say. Of course, a great many of them I have forgotten.

Q. Captain Stouts isn't here now?

A. No, he is perhaps a general or colonel by this time, years ago.

Q. Do you know which he is?

A. No, I don't know whether he is dead or is a colonel; I think I heard he died, I am not sure.

Q. Name somebody else in that mess?

A. Lieutenant Farber, of the Eighth Infantry, I think; there was Lieutenant Benjamin, I think that he belonged—I don't know whether he belonged to the First Infantry at that time or not, but he was in the First Infantry—Lieutenant Benjamin, I don't know whether he was in the First Infantry at that time or not. I have forgotten, but I believe he was in the First Infantry. Those are some of the men, the others I have forgotten their names.

Q. Those are some of the men that were taking meals at the mess after you took charge?

A. No, those men were in before I took charge.

Q. While you were working there?

A. While I was working there.

Q. Who preceded you there working?

A. That I can't tell you.

Q. Now, from 1883, when you say that you worked there a short time for some Captain?

A. I don't remember saying that I worked there in 1883 or in '84.

Q. In '84, who was it you worked for?

A. Captain Townsend. I was just there a short time taking the place of my sister, she was ill.

Q. From the time that you worked for Captain Townsend, up until you went to work at the private mess in 1888, what did you do?

A. Well, I worked in the Fort at all of that time, only came up here occasionally. I don't remember whether I—I don't remember what I did after that, I don't remember whether—I don't think I was in the Fort much of that time.

Q. You were staying at your home?

A. I was at my home and in town.

Q. You would merely make visits in town?

A. Yes, my home was in Easton, near Easton river, a little country town out here.

Q. How far is Easton from Leavenworth?

A. I should judge about fifteen miles, fifteen or sixteen miles.

Q. How far did you live from Easton?

A. About a mile I think, it may be a mile.

Q. You stayed out there with your mother's family most of the time then following '84 up to '88?

A. No, I was in and out of there so much, I was in town a great deal, remained with a family, Mr. C. W. McCorbin. He was Register of Deeds in Leavenworth.

Q. Was he Register of Deeds at the time that you stayed with him? A. Part of the time he was. This was like home.

Q. How long? A. I don't remember how long.

Q. How long would you stay when you visited them?

A. I don't remember. I just stayed until I felt like leaving, and went home and came again, I don't remember.

Q. You didn't work for them?

A. No, I didn't work for them.

Q. Would you say that you just went to visit there and stayed as long as you wanted to? A. Yes.

Q. And came as frequently as you wanted to?

A. As frequently as I wanted to, yes.

Q. Don't know how long you stayed and how frequently?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Can you give any period of time that you did stay there?

A. I don't remember.

Q. But you were not up to the Fort very much during that time? A. Not much of the time during that time.

Q. How often could you say you were up to the Fort during that time?

A. I don't remember these years, I forget now, the years eighty-seven and eighty-eight, where I had been.

Q. You would go up there very frequently and visit your sister wouldn't you?

A. No, not very frequently, wouldn't go up there very frequently.

Q. Wouldn't you go there and stay three or four weeks at a time with your sister? A. Oh, no.

Q. Your sister was keeping house, wasn't she?

A. I have forgotten what she was doing at that time.

Q. When was your sister married?

A. I have gotten mixed up, she was married in 1902.

Q. 1902? A. Yes.

Q. Married fifteen years? A. I think about fifteen.

Q. About fifteen years? A. Yes.

Q. And until that time your sister was working around the Fort?

A. I don't know where my sister was, she can tell you more about that than I can know.

Q. Up until '84 to '88, was she working around the Fort?

A. Yes,—from what time?

Q. From '84 to '88?

A. I don't know whether she was working continuously or not.

Q. You took her place when she was sick?

A. A short while in the fall when she had typhoid fever. I have forgotten about the place, let alone how long I was there.

Q. You are pretty sure it was in '84?

A. I am pretty sure it was in '84; I could be mistaken about that but I think it was '84.

Q. After she got well of the fever she came back and took her place?

A. I don't remember, I believe she did.

Q. And you went home?

A. Yes, I don't remember whether I went home or went to town, that I don't remember.

Q. When you worked there for Captain Townsend, did you stay at his house at night? A. Yes.

Q. And your sister stayed at the house at night? A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever go back there, then, and stay with your sister at Captain Townsend's?

A. Well, perhaps over night; I don't remember but it seems to me I did go up there and stay perhaps over night, sometimes, that is all.

Q. Your recollection is that you would be up there at night?

A. No, just probably once in a great while at night.

Q. You have a recollection, do you, that you did go up there once? A. At least once, I think I did.

Q. Well, how long after you quit working?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Had you been home before you made that visit?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Where did your sister next work?

A. I don't remember that.

Q. Where did you next visit her? At work? A. What?

Q. Where did you next visit her at work?

A. That I don't remember.

Q. Do you remember whether you visited her any more for the next three or four years?

A. I suppose I did but I don't remember. I didn't tax my memory with that and it is awful hard to go into that. That has been just like a dream to me, the whole thing; if I could think it up——

Q. This whole case seems to be just like a dream to you?

A. Well, that is—not the whole case.

Q. What is in the case that doesn't appear to be a dream?

Mr. German: I object to that as argumentative.

A. Well, of course, I can remember since 1888, and a great many things I can't remember.

Q. Answer the question; what is there in this case that doesn't appear to be a dream?

Mr. German: Object to that as argumentative and as calling for a conclusion, and as incompetent.

A. I don't remember.

Q. You can't now recall any place that you went up there to visit your sister after she quit working for Townsend?

A. No, I don't remember; I suppose I have, but I don't remember.

Q. You are not sure, even, that your sister worked up there during the next two or three years?

A. Well, I think my sister worked there, but I can't recall when or where.

Q. You can't recall that you went up to see her?

A. I can't recall that either, but I suppose I did; naturally I suppose I did, but I can't recall when or what time.

Q. Do you remember—you say this trip—that you remember going up there to see her when she worked for Townsends, to see her and stayed all night—do you remember whether that was soon after you left, or a long time?

A. No, I do not.

Q. Don't remember that? A. No, I don't.

Q. You remember where you saw your sister; whether you saw her down town or went up with her?

A. I didn't go up with my sister; if I went, I went alone. I don't remember whether I met her in the store or not—I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember if you saw her out on the street? A. No.

Q. At that time, I say? A. No, I don't remember that.

Q. And you don't remember the time that you visited your sister up there? A. No, I don't.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Miss Cunningham, do you know what regiment relieved the 20th? A. Relieved the 20th?

Q. Yes? A. I do.

Q. Which one?

A. The 18th came down here and then—I may be wrong—it seems to me that they came down here in June '85.

Q. The 20th went away? A. In May.

Q. They left a small detachment here? A. Yes.

Q. At the Post until the 18th came here? A. Yes.

Q. And there was some weeks before the 18th arrived and that small detachment of the 20th went away to join the rest of the regiment?

A. Yes, they joined the regiment, you see——

Q. Well, I am speaking about the detachment that was left back? A. Yes.

Q. They stayed here until the 18th came? A. Yes.

Q. Can you recall how long it was from the time the 20th left in 1885, until the 18th arrived?

A. No, I don't but to the best of my knowledge it seems to me that they came in the fall, or June of '85. Of course, that I wouldn't say——

Q. Now, Miss Cunningham, the time that you were gathering these wild flowers, or crab-apple blossoms that you spoke of, was just at the time that the regiment departed, was it not? At the time the 20th went away?

A. Yes, but not the day the 20th departed; it wasn't the day that the 20th left.

Q. Was it before or after?

A. Well, that I don't remember; whether it was before or after.

Q. But it was the same year?

A. It was the same month, and I wouldn't remember that but for the 20th going away—we were all down seeing the 20th off, I remember that very distinctly.

Q. And you were staying at the Post at that time?

A. No, I wasn't staying at the Post at that time.

Q. The occasion that you speak of, when you were gathering the flowers, was that matter approximately when the 20th left? A. Yes.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. When did you say the 20th left?

A. The 20th left in May, '85, if I remember distinctly; then, there was an Infantry—another regiment here. Of course, a few other companies were here at the time.

Q. Miss Cunningham, you have—was your father in the Army?

A. My father, I really don't know whether he was or not; I don't believe he was.

Q. Your uncle was, wasn't he?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial.

Mr. Allen: Alright; I withdraw it.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon MARY N. CUNNINGHAM being recalled further testified as follows:

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. About what is your weight, now?

A. Well, I really can't say but I should judge about 150 —I can't say. Really, I haven't weighed, you might say, in an age; funny thing to say that I don't know how much I weigh, but I don't.

Q. Do you think you weigh about 150 pounds?

A. I judge about that but I don't know.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. Allen: We now offer the deposition of Helen Beeler, taken before Mr. Penick appearing in his transcript at page 2410.

And thereupon, MRS. HELEN BEELER, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Where do you live? A. Where do I live at present?

Q. Yes? A. With my sister, Fort Leavenworth.

Q. What is your name?

A. My given name or my husband's full name?

Q. Your name? A. Helen Beeler.

Q. Mrs. Beeler, was you at Fort Leavenworth in 1884 and 1885? A. I was.

Q. Did you ever have typhoid fever? A. I did.

Q. When was that?

A. In August 1884, or possibly September, but I remember it was in the early summer or fall month.

Q. Did you know Herbert Grodevant who lived at the Fort? A. I remember the family, yes.

Q. Where were you living when you had typhoid fever?

A. I was living at the first house down from the commander's—commander of the prison—the first house facing east.

Q. Whose home was that?

A. It was Captain Townsend's.

Q. How far was that from the Grodevant's home?

A. Oh, well it was—you would have to go around the prison wall—go north quite a distance, then west about a half, then north about a half a block. No, in all, I judge it was about five blocks from where I lived.

Q. Were you around the Grodevant's in the fall of '84, and the summer of '85?

A. Not to my knowledge in the fall of '85, but I often went down that way. I was down aroumd that locality in the spring of '85.

Q. Did you see at that time, at any time that you were at Grodevant's, an Indian girl named Indian Minnie?

A. I saw a party in the yard one evening. As near as I can remember; it was an evening in May.

Q. Will you tell how you fixed that date?

A. I will as near as I can; I remember it from this instance. The 20th regiment left Fort Leavenworth in May, 1885, and during that time, whether it was before, now, but I think it was after the regiment left, that I and my sister walked out one evening to gather flowers, and we went down northeast as far as the river by the old wagon road, and around, and gathered flowers, and I know it was in May, for the simple reason that there was apple and crab-apple blossoms bloomed at that season. We came around by the little park and in there where the Grodevant's resided, and passing the Grodevant and her husband were sitting on the front porch, and I stopped and talked with them a few minutes—I didn't go in, I never was in the house—and while standing this, as I supposed at the time, a colored girl, step- out in the back yard, hanging up some clothes that looked like tea-towels, and I just remarked to Mrs. Grodevant, do you employ colored help now, and she said, no, I don't—she is an Indian girl.

Q. After that did you see her around the Grodevants?

A. No, not around the Grodevants, but twice.

Q. Did you see her at any other places?

A. I did; I saw her coming that road from the Grodevant's, just as though she was going to the prison wall—going down to the Missouri Pacific Depot, which was the main way for going to the town. A great many people went that way; it was the shortest way to go to town. I have seen her go in that direction twice; that is all.

Q. Do you know how she was dressed when you saw her at the Grodevant's home?

A. No, I do not. To be candid, I don't, but I know very ordinary, like anybody of the kind that was working and more so, than the other class of help, you know—clad in a very ordinary gown.

Q. In a tight fitting, or a wrapper?

A. No, sir, just as anybody—no, not in a wrapper. I don't remember the color of the gown but I remember her being dressed just as a servant would go down here—common clothes with that class of people.

Q. Who was with you at that time?

A. When seeing her pass?

Q. Yes?

A. Why, I can't tell you sir; but on one occasion, my sister was with me—we were walking one evening.

Q. I mean on the occasion of you being out gathering wild flowers?

A. Oh, my sister on that occasion; I thought you had reference when she was going as I supposed to the Missouri Pacific Station. I don't know where she was going.

Q. You just saw her pass?

A. On the walk, and the walk was as near as that place—like that.

Q. You mean about five or six steps from you?

A. You know they had to pass through the lines.

Q. Would it be about five or six steps as much as you would——

A. No, further than that; just about the length of this room.

Q. About thirty-five feet? A. Yes, sir, about that.

Q. During any of the time—at any of the times you saw this Indian girl, did she appear to be in a condition of pregnancy?

A. No, sir, she was not; not at any time.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mrs. Beeler, at that time, you were not a married woman? A. No, sir, I was not.

Q. You were just a young girl?

A. I was just about 18, as near as I can remember.

Q. And your observation of this girl was simply the observation of somebody else's servant? A. Yes.

Q. Purely casual? A. Yes, yes.

Q. You had no particular interest in her?

A. None in the world.

Q. You were not inquiring into, or observing to determine matters approaching maternity on the part of other women? A. Not at all.

Q. So that you had no reason to look for anything of that kind?

Mr. German: I object to the question as argumentative.

Q. When did you say that the 20th Infantry left?

A. Maybe some time in May.

Mr. German: And as calling for a conclusion.

A. '85.

Q. Are you certain of that month?

A. I am not. While one person says it was June, I say it was May; it was a number of years, and I was no—I remember it distinctly as May. I may be mistaken there, but it was May, or the early part of June.

Q. Mrs. Beeler, you mentioned the 20th Infantry leaving in connection with this time that you were gathering flowers?

A. Yes.

Q. What is the connection between those two events?

A. For the simple reason that I have read of this Minnie case coming on. I never associated her in any manner with one of these women I had seen in the Grodevant's house, until parties asked me and tried to insist upon me—that I must have remembered this girl, and then I sat down, naturally, and began to recall these numerous years, and then I remember this—that in '85, the 20th Infantry left, succeeded by the 18th. I knew where I was at the time, and I remembered going over on the old Arsenal and seeing the regiment away. I remember having typhoid fever the fall before, and I was in the same house the fall before until sometime in the summer, I don't know when, until '85.

Q. Mrs. [] you don't quite understand my question. I asked you this; what is the connection between the gathering of the flowers and the 20th Infantry?

A. Because it happened in the same year and the same month, as near—if there was a mistake, it was that the 20th might have gone in June, but I say they went in May; and I know that the day that we gathered the flowers, was the first time I had ever seen that Indian girl, and would not have seen her then, if we had not gone by the Grodevant's house, and saw her in the yard.

Q. Then it is purely a coincident that you remember gathering these flowers about the time the 20th left?

A. For the reason that the first time I had seen Grodevant's house——

Q. But she had nothing to do with the gathering of the flowers?

A. Not at all, but it was the first time I had ever been in that neighborhood. I had often heard of them living in this new house but never knew anything more about them.

Q. Now, this house that the Grodevant's lived in, was in what is called Bluntville?

A. Yes, I believe it is; I don't know whether it was then or not, but it is now.

Q. And one of the new houses?

A. One of the new houses at that time.

Q. It has recently been built? A. By Mr. Dodge.

Q. You remember that he built that?

A. I do remember him well—having seen him.

Q. That was prior to the time that you saw this Indian girl? A. Prior to the time?

Q. Yes?

A. No, the house was built then, she was living in it.

Q. How long had the house been built?

A. I can't say, sir, but I think it was about '83 that house was built. I am not sure about that.

Q. Who said '83——

A. The old residents—you must remember that I have been there all my life; have been away three years.

Q. That is what you heard just recently?

A. Just like anybody else knowing there was a house back there, and didn't have to see it to know it was there.

Q. I mean your recollection of the year '83, is what you have refreshed your memory recently?

A. Well, I have no knowledge about it then; no, I have not.

Q. Mr. Dawes was able to confirm your memory as to the year?

A. He was not, sir; he didn't have to tell me that. I have known Mr. Dawes—know his first wife—lived upon Potawatomie street, some place—they were great friends of a friend of mine that has gone years ago—my first knowledge of him, but I knew what he was doing up there.

Q. Knew that he lived in this house right near the Commandant of the prison? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And were you working for him at that time?

A. I was, sir.

Q. That was Captain Townsend?

A. Yes, sir, they called it working; called me the housekeeper, but I know I was doing a lot of good work.

Q. And you had your duties there as housekeeper?

A. I did, but they kept prisoners—paroled men—did the laborious work.

Q. You had that all to over see?

A. Yes, sir, and to supervise the meals.

Q. And do the ordering?

A. Yes, that was mv occupation, and housekeeping.

Q. Generally? A. Yes.

Q. Were any of your particular associates located in the village people? A. No. Well, I don't remember that, sir.

Q. So, you had no occasion to go down there except——

A. No- at all.

Q. In the way that you passed through when you were gathering the flowers?

A. No, people moved around so like a city, an Army Post —people were moving in and out, and it is pretty hard to recall the number of people that have been there since they have—the regiment, let alone the people.

Q. What I mean to say—your particular friends that you visited with and associated with, were people who lived in the city, and your sister, and not the Garrison itself?

A. Yes, I never have made a habit of visiting—no one can ever say—for thirty-three years——

Q. I understand.

A. They can't say that we ever went to visit with people according to our position at the time—understand that.

Q. What I was trying to get at was, that your family lived in Easton? A. Yes.

Q. And your sister?

A. Was here in town and when we went any place, we went home.

Q. And your friends were there and in town?

A. Yes, there and in town.

Q. So that you were not called upon to——

A. No, I didn't know anybody.

Q. Down at Grodevant's and places like that?

A. No, I never was at Mrs. Grodevant's in my life.

Q. And you certainly had no association, or no personal acquaintance with this Indian Minnie, as you call her?

A. I certainly did not, no, except as she was such a curiosity I wouldn't have seen her then; she was the first one I ever saw.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You say she was the first Indian you ever saw?

A. Ever saw to know.

Q. Weren't there a lot of Indians around that Fort at that time?

A. I suppose there were, but they might be just a little bit before my time.

Q. Wasn't there a tribe of them? A. There was not, sir.

Q. Part of a tribe kept there as a sort of prisoners?

A. I remember that they were in the Guard House, now that you speak about it; had a couple of chiefs there in the Guard House but I never did see them.

Q. You didn't understand that they kept them actually confined? A. Don't know.

Q. You know Indian Molly, don't you?

A. No, sir, I never heard of such a person.

Q. You say that you didn't associate with the people out there around the Fort?

A. I did not, sir, to any extent; I was a young girl and I knew nobody—didn't pay any attention to nobody but my business.

Q. I believe that you said that while you lived there all your life, you could scarcely tell the number of regiments that have come and gone?

A. I could scarcely tell them, I did say that, Mr., but that is up to that present time that you are referring to.

Q. What ever time you are referring to?

A. Referring to that time, but since then, of course, I know lots of people.

Q. Up to that time, had there been a number of regiments? A. Of course, there was, but I didn't know it.

Q. I mean to your knowledge? A. Up to that time?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, no, the 20th Infantry, I think, was my first knowledge.

Q. And they were succeeded by the 18th Infantry?

A. By the 18th, as I remember.

Q. How do you remember that was '85?

A. Well, I remember it for several reasons. I remember that in the fall of '84, I was ill. I was out to my brother's during that time; I came back late, possibly along in November, and I was in this place, along until sometime in the summer of '85—during that time the regiment left, and during that time, I either went home—that is how I remember, just as anybody would remember.

Q. You continued to work there?

A. I did, up until that summer.

Q. What did you do then?

A. I can't remember. I may, if I have a little time; you must remember this is 24 hours thinking up. Let's see—I think I went home—in fact I know I did— —

Q. You think you went home? A. I did; to Easton.

Q. How long did you stay home?

A. Well, I don't remember.

Q. Well, now, think up a little and tell us to your best recollection.

A. Well, I can't remember how long I stayed at home.

Q. I don't mean exactly; I mean approximately—a few weeks, or a few months?

A. My next knowledge of the Post was, as near I can remember, in '83—no, '83—no, I do remember, it was in the fall of '85, but I don't know how late—that was the same year.

Q. Is the same year?

A. The same year but it was late in the fall, yes. Now, I am not certain about that; it might be the spring of '86—I am not certain about that. How long I was home I don't know.

Q. Let's see if we can work it out more accurately.

A. I don't think you can unless I had more time to think.

Q. Now, Captain Townsend, what regiment did he belong to?

A. I don't know, sir, he was assigned to—attached to the prison.

Q. He was not transferred when the regiment was transferred? A. No, sir, he was not.

Q. Did you work on with Captain Townsend after the transfer of the 20th regiment?

A. I certainly did, until sometime the next summer.

Q. About how late into the summer?

A. Well, now, that is exactly what I don't remember, but I remember it was in rather warm weather, and I went home and came back late in the fall, again, but now, I am not sure about that, Mr. It was in the cool weather—whether it was late in the fall, or spring.

Q. Captain Townsend is living now?

A. I don't know a thing about him from the time that he left here; I don't he——

Q. He left here, did he?

A. Yes, he left here years afterwards; they was there a long time.

Q. Who else was working for Captain Townsend?

A. Well, a girl named Eliza; another named Nellie.

Q. Don't knew the last names?

A. I do not; I did know. The girl Eliza was from New York; she went with the family when they left—I am quite sure that she did.

Q. What was the other girl's name?

A. Her name was Nellie.

Q. Nellie who?

A. I don't remember what her name was. If I am not mistaken, she is dead. I think she married a Sergeant, and died—I don't remember her name. I know she was not there very long.

Q. You was sick, I believe you said, of typhoid fever? In August or September of '84? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have a physician? A. Well, yes, I did.

Q. Who did you have?

A. Well, now, I don't know who I had, but I will think that up in time. I wouldn't want to be positive; it has been so many physicians there since. I had a physician; I know I came very near dying. Whether it was Dr. Rice, the prison doctor—and I believe it was——

Q. Where is he now? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. Is he here?

A. He is not. Shortly about that time, I think he left here; I think it was Doctor Rice.

Q. Where did you get your medicine at that time?

A. Well, right at the prison, at the hospital.

Q. The prison hospital?

A. I should guess so, but I can't even answer that. I don't think I paid for it; I think it was furnished as they usually do—the Government furnishes medicine.

Q. Do you know whether or not any record was made for that? A. I do not, sir.

Q. You have no record that you might even refer us to?

A. To my illness?

Q. To your illness, to fix that date?

A. No, sir, only just as I tell you. It was in the early fall; I remember taking a chill, and from that on, it was six weeks that I knew nothing, hardly.

Q. Early fall, either August or September?

A. Well, I remember it was warm weather, you know, extremely warm, and I know I was ill a long time, that is all I know about it.

Q. And from that, after you went on back to work, for the Captain, after you got better?

A. I did, after I got better.

Q. And you can recall in '85 that you saw Minnie?

A. Yes, I can, and during absence, my sister was there in my place.

Q. And helped you to recall the date?

A. Beg your pardon?

Q. I said that helped you to recall the date?

A. I can't tell you anything about the date, but I know my sister was there in my absence.

Q. You do recall the date—you say '84?

A. Yes, but not the date, of course, but I am telling you the year.

Q. What kind of flowers were they that you gathered?

A. Oh, those old May-apple—not May-apple blossoms, but crab-apple and such blossoms that grew on the trees in May.

Q. Grew wild on the river?

A. Well, on the river—old fashioned crab-apple and blooming blossoms—pink and the white flowers; we used to go and gather them.

Q. You don't remember particularly what kind of blossoms they were except from the month that you gathered them?

A. Yes, just remember it was along in May.

Q. White, yellow, or red?

A. No, sir, white and pink. One tree would have been white—old as I am, I don't know whether the crab had white, or the other tree—but I know it was a combination of flowers you gather along in May, and sometimes in April, according to the seasons, whenever the spring happens to be.

Q. In this country, sometimes as early as March?

A. Well, I have seen them in February, some years ago; blossoms in February, and everything was frozen and frostbitten. They are in blossom now—not with us up here.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mrs. Beeler, your recollection about the flowers is that it was the spring flower?

A. Yes, spring flowers, and that is all the recollection that I have, but I knew it was along in May when the grass and everything was beautiful and green, and we walked in this Avenue like anybody would, to see that part of the Post.

Q. And when people naturally came out to gather flowers? A. Yes.

Q. When the blossoms came, you came out?

A. Yes, a very natural consequence.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. Allen: We now offer the deposition of John F. Bierly, taken before Mr. Penick and appearing in his transcript at page 3024.

JAMES F. BIERLY, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. James F. Bierly.

Q. Mr. Bierly, what is your age?

A. I will be 74 in September.

Q. You are living now in Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir, have been here for forty years, and a little over.

Q. You have lived here for over forty years?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you living—in what part of the city, in 1863-4-5-6?

Q. I wasn't in the city; I was working at Fort Leavenworth

Q. What years were you at Fort Leavenworth?

A. From '83 until '90?

Q. When you say you lived here during the last forty years, you mean it has been in Leavenworth and Fort Leavenworth?

A. Leavenworth, Fort Leavenworth, and Lansing, Kansas—Penitentiary. I was three years out there. Not a convict, but a guard.

Q. What were you doing at the Fort?

A. From '83 until '90, I was driving a six mule team at the Military Prison.

Q. Did you know Herbert Grodevant?

A. Certainly, he was Post Carpenter at the Military Prison.

Q. When did you get acquainted with him?

A. Well, I got acquainted with him almost quick as I began driving the team in '83; I was under him in the duties I was performing.

Q. You were working under him, were you?

A. No, I was directing under Henry Jackson. I was driving a team and Mr. Grodevant was the boss carpenter, but I drove the team and knew everybody.

Q. He was the boss carpenter at the Military Prison where you were? A. He was boss carpenter.

Q. From the stables where you kept your horses, could you see the home of Mr. Grodevant?

A. I could; wasn't horses, however. I was driving mules; didn't use horses for that purpose.

Q. During '84 and '85, did you see an Indian woman around the Grodevant home? A. I did.

Q. Do you know what her name was?

A. Called her Indian Minnie.

Q. How long did she stay at Grodevant's?

A. I think she was there a year or a little more. I ain't positive how long, but I know she was there fully a year.

Q. Do you remember the time that she commenced working there? I don't mean the date, but about the time?

A. I don't exactly but I think it was about the winter of '84 and '85, or the early part of '85. I am not positive about the time she came there.

Q. I am not speaking of the date, but do you remember the time she commenced working there? The occurrence of her starting to work there?

A. The first I recall, it must have been early in '85.

Q. I am not speaking of the date, now, but the time of the year.

A. Well, what I mean, as near as I can get to the time, it was early in '85; I don't recollect the date but as near as I can remember.

Q. I understand that you don't remember the time of the year that she commenced working there.

Mr. Blakeney: We object, now, to that statement because witness says he does.

Mr. Cruce: We object to that.

Q. About how long had she been working for Grodevants when you first saw her?

A. Well, I don't suppose she was there—she might have been there a month before I first got to know her, and know who she was, and might have been there longer than that, and might have been less. I am not positive exactly of the time.

Q. During the year, or about a year that you saw that you saw her at Grodevant's, how often would you see her there?

A. Well, I would see her twice or three times a day, or sometimes it would be days that I wouldn't see her at all; wouldn't pass there with my team. Sometimes I would pass two or three times a day with the team.

Q. Would there ever be as much as two weeks that you wouldn't see her?

A. No, sir, maybe four or five days I wouldn't see her, and then see her a couple of times a day.

Q. Were you well acquainted with her?

A. Well, I wasn't well acquainted with her but knew her well enough to talk to her.

Q. Did you talk to her frequently or not?

A. Well, every once in a while I talked to her. I can't say how often.

Q. State whether or not during the time she worked for Grodevant's she was ever in a pregnant condition.

A. Not to my knowledge; I never thought she was.

Q. Did she ever appear to be in a pregnant condition during the time she worked for Grodevant?

A. No, I didn't at any time think the girl was pregnant, at any time that I knew her; at least, nothing caused me to think so.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Did you see this girl as you would pass the house with your team?

A. Yes, and I would often see her outside; we could see the house from the corral.

Q. You would be up there to get the mules?

A. Yes, sir; the Prison stable.

Q. You see her from the—at the house?

A. Yes, sir; a little south diagonally, a little south of the stables, on a rise.

Q. How old was this girl?

A. I suppose she was about 16 years of age at the time—

Q. About 16?

A. That is what I suppose. I can't say—in fact, I never asked her her age, but I don't think she was over 16 or 17.

Q. How big was she?

A. To my recollection, she was a medium sized girl, not large. I suppose a girl about 5 foot, 2½—something like that.

Q. Short?

A. Short; rather heavily built; not too heavy from her appearance—strong built girl, though.

Q. Plump? A. Plump, yes, plump built girl.

Q. How long ago was that that you used to see her there?

A. How long ago?

Q. Yes? A. In 1885.

Q. Thirty-one years ago. Do you remember servants for any other people around there?

A. Not there; know servants any other places.

Q. At that time? A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever see this girl afterwards? After you saw her at Grodevant's?

A. Yes, I saw her several times when she was working for a lieutenant; I forget the Lieutenant's name, now.

Q. An Army officer?

A. An Army officer, yes, sir. She went from the Grodevant's to the Army officer's.

Q. Was she pregnant then?

A. I can't say; I never was real close to her—close enough to see. She was with a soldier everytime I seen her after that.

Q. Well, you don't know about her being in a pregnant condition?

A. I only know that she had a baby sometime in '86, up on Eighth street.

Q. How do you know that?

A. Party that seen her there, and told me so.

Q. Did you know it then, or just know it now?

A. Oh, no, I have known that for some time. I always knew she had a baby at Mrs. Woods, but I had it awhile in my head that Mrs. Woods remained at the Fort after I moved to town.

Q. When did you find out the difference?

A. Well, I didn't think it was necessary.

Q. I say, when did you find out different about Mrs. Woods moving to town?

A. Well, after I got to recalling, I knew she moved to town but I had forgotten it. She lived right up stairs over us when her husband died. I was thinking——

Q. This Indian girl was nothing to you when she worked at Grodevant's? You just knew that she was a servant there?

A. I knew she was a servant.

Q. And saw her when she passed and didn't give any more particular attention to her than any other servant?

A. Not any more than any other servant. I would talk to her some times.

Q. You never inquired to find out whether she was in a pregnant condition? A. No, I didn't.

Q. It was no concern of your's?

A. No concern of mine, directly.

Q. You say this girl was an Indian girl?

A. Well, I thought she was a half breed; I didn't think she was a full blood Indian.

Q. She showed her Indian blood?

A. Just enough to show a little Indian in her; I have seen enough of Indians in my time that I never thought she was a full blood.

Q. You knew she was not a full blood, in fact, didn't you?

A. Yes, I knew she was not a full blood Indian.

Q. Could you tell that from her looks? A. Yes.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, ROY REYNOLDS was produced and sworn as a witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Roy Reynolds.

Q. What age are you, Mr. Reynolds? A. Thirty four.

Q. Where do you reside? A. Washington, D. C.

Q. What do you do?

A. Clerk in the United States Census office.

Q. Clerk in the United States Census office of Washington City? A. Washington City.

Q. How long have you been Clerk in the Census Office?

A. Since 1900 with the exception of two years, two years 1902 and 1903.

Q. Mr. Reynolds, do they keep in the office where you are employed the files—I mean the census—what do you call them? A. Censuses.

Q. Is there a plural to that? A. They do.

Q. Do they have there the censuses taken of the City of Leavenworth taken in 1890? A. They have.

Q. State whether you examined the census of Leavenworth taken in 1890 in search for the name Thomas Atkins?

A. I did.

Q. When did you make that examination?

A. Well, I made two examinations for my satisfaction. The first one was the latter part of 1916, and then after the first of the year.

Q. After the first of this year? A. Yes, sir, 1917.

Q. State whether you examined—what do you call the sheet? A. Schedules.

Q. What is a schedule, explain that. I don't know that I quite understand that?

A. Well, the schedule for the census 1890 was a family sheet and each family has the, shows the number of names.

Q. Did you or not examine every schedule covering the City of Leavenworth for 1890? A. I did.

Q. State whether or not there was in any of those schedules the name of Thomas Atkins? A. There was not.

Q. State whether there was the name Tommy Atkins?

A. There was not.

Q. Was there the name Tommidore anybody?

A. There was not.

Q. Did you search for the name Tommidore as a given name? A. I did.

Q. And as a surname? A. Yes.

Q. Was that name there? A. No.

Q. Was there any Commodore appearing in that record anywhere as a given name? A. No, sir.

Q. As a surname? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you searce for the name Indian Tommy?

A. I did.

Q. Did that appear in there anywhere? A. No, sir.

Q. I show you Government's Exhibit A-98, a certified copy of the original returns for the family of Mollie Letcher, made by William H. Hyden Enumerator in Ward 1, Leavenworth County, Kansas, at the Eleventh Census, 1890, and will ask you if that is one of the schedules you refer to?

A. Yes, this is one of the schedules that I made a search for but it is with reference to a certain address that I made search for.

Q. You made a search for that particular address?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: Now, in this connection, we offer Government's Exhibit A-98 and will state that it is a schedule of the family of Mollie Letcher for 1890.

The Court: I suppose she is identified in the record as Granny Letcher?

Mr. German: Yes, sir, clearly.

The Court: It may be admitted.

Mr. German: This is for Street Number 119 North Third Street.

Q. Mr. Reynolds, do these schedules show the nationality of the persons whose names are on them? A. They do.

Q. State whether you made a search through there for every person who was listed that having Indian blood?

A. I did.

Q. Was certified copies of all of all of these schedules of persons having Indian blood then made? A. Yes, sir.

Q. If those certified copies are shown to you will you be able to state whether they are all the schedules showing persons of Indian blood? A. Yes, sir.

And thereupon Court adjourned until two o'clock P. M.

And thereafter, and at 2 o'clock P. M., court convened pursuant to adjournment and further proceedings herein were had as follows:

Mr. Cruce: If Your Honor please, Judge Allen informs me that they made a formal offer of Government's Exhibit A-98; that was the report from the census.

The Court: Yes.

Mr. Cruce: I overlooked the matter that it was formally offered, and we have examined it since, and we would like to reserve an objection to the introduction of that, and now move that it be excluded as hearsay testimony.

The Court: Overruled, and your exception will be noted. It is merely admitted as one of the circumstances in this case. You have your exceptions.

And thereupon, ROY REYNOLDS, being recalled, further testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. You are the same Mr. Roy Reynolds who was on the stand before lunch? A. I am.

Q. Mr. Reynolds, you say you have been in the census office for a number of years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And have worked in the matter of census schedules? And records? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you familiar with the regulations and practice of the office with relation to taking the census—the various censuses? A. Yes, sir.

Q. From time to time? A. Yes, sir.

> Mr. Hanford: Just a minute, Mr. German. Does that question relate to the time that this census was taken?
>
> Mr. Hanford: I understand he says that he is familiar with that?
>
> Mr. German: Yes, sir.

Q. You have become familiar with it by your work in the office, intimate association in the office? A. Yes, sir.

Q. In the old as well as the new returns? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, in 1890, what was the practice with relation to entering on one schedule all the persons at a particular address?

A. In 1890, the office used what was known as the family or dwelling schedule, and on that was entered the names of all persons residing in that dwelling.

Q. Children, adults, and all persons whether the members of the head of the house or not, that is by relation—blood relation? A. Oh, yes.

Q. That is by relation, by blood or marriage?
A. Yes, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. This census card shows that this is the returns for the family of Molly Letcher—Molly Letcher's family—that is what that is for, isn't it?

A. Shows the people residing in that house at that number.

Q. No, but what does it show on its face?

A. I haven't seen it.

Q. Read it on the face.

A. I hereby certify that the annexed is a true [] of the original returns for the family of Molly Letcher.

Q. That is all; family of Molly Letcher.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, LARRY BROWN, a witness produced and sworn as a witness on behalf of the United States, testified as follows:

A. Yes, sir.
Q. They did at that time? A. Yes, sir, he said.

Mr. Pinson: Now, if Your Honor, please, we plead surprise at this witness; on being interrogated by us on last evening, he testified to the contrary. May I lead him a bit here and ascertain?

The Court: Yes, go on, we will see what he knows about it.

Q. Now, who was it you talked with at that time about the enrollment of the members of your band?

A. He said he told them that I was the one that made the roll.

The Court: I don't understand, Mr. Brown, he told them what?

Mr. Brown: He told them that I was the person that made the roll.

Mr. German: That you, Sam Brown?

Mr. Brown: Yes, Sam Brown.

Q. Did they ask you anything about—did they ask you about any particular persons by name who were members of your town?

A. He says that he don't recollect that part of it.

Q. Don't you know old man Tom Atkins used to be at the head of the Light Horse way back there?

A. Not that I know.

Q. Away back there? A. No, sir.

(Witness excused.)

Mr. German: We desire to offer the deposition of Joseph G. Callahan, taken before Mr. Penick, his testimony appearing in Mr. Penick's transcript, beginning at page 2193.

And thereupon JOSEPH H. CALLAHAN, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Joseph H. Callahan.

Q. Mr. Callahan, what age are you?

A. I am now sixty the 5th of next month.

Q. Sixty the 5th of March? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where do you live, Mr. Callahan?

A. 113 North Fifth.

Q. In Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is your business?

A. At present, city fireman.

Q. City fireman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which fire station do you—— A. No. 1.

Q. Are you assigned to? A. No. 1 fire department.

Q. What is the name of the fire chief?

A. Michael Bahlor.

Q. How long have you lived in Leavenworth, Mr. Callahan? A. The 5th day of February, 1884.

Q. You came here in 1884? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was your occupation when you first came here, what did you do?

A. I was a discharged soldier— My first employment here, do you mean?

Q. Yes, sir?

A. Building a street railway here for Tom Stivers, I was fireman and he was manager.

Q. You had to do with the building of that street railway? A. Yes, sir, I was fireman.

Q. What did you next do?

A. Went to work for the Pacific—United States Express.

Q. About when did you go to work for them?

A. Why, it was around August or September in 1884.

Q. How long did you work for them?

A. Until about October, 1885.

Q. What did you do then?

A. I went as watchman out at the Sugar Factory.

Q. Did you ever work for the Wells-Fargo Express Company? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you begin your work for them?

A. The 12th day of January, 1887.

Q. Now, while you were working for the Pacific Express Company, I believe you said the Pacific Express Company, United States, didn't you?

A. Joint companies, yes, sir. C. G. Mandler was the man that hired me, but the agent, Westlake, and I worked for both of them.

Q. While you were working for those companies, did you know George H. Hyde?

A. Yes, sir, president of the German Bank.

Q. Did you ever see any Indian woman at his house?

A. Well, I did once or twice, I wouldn't say whether she was an Indian woman or not, a woman used to come to the door, and I seen her out in the yard hanging clothes, I used to go to the Hyde house once or twice a week to deliver packages; he had a family of a wife and two or three daughters, and used to get packages from Kansas City, and I used to deliver packages out to his house.

Q. Had you ever seen any Indians before you came to Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where?

A. Out west when I soldiered, stationed with them.

Q. At what point?

A. Mescalori Indian Agency in New Mexico, that is about two days march from Fort Stanton, one day to Woods Ranch and one day to the Indian Agency, about thirty-six miles I believe from Fort Stanton, they called it.

Q. You say you saw this woman at Mr. Hyde's?

A. I did, yes.

Q. Did she look like an Indian?

A. Why, she was, I can say that she looked something like an Indian, but of course this fine woman, well built, and coal black hair was rolled up on her head, and she would come to the door and I would see her out in the yard.

Q. About what height woman was she?

A. Oh, I can't very well describe, I am five foot seven, and she looked about my height; I am five seven and three quarters, and something, about my height.

Q. Did you ever see her any where else?

A. I seen her in the carriage down at the express office with Mrs. Hyde, drove up to the office with Mrs. Hyde to come to send a package away or something like that woman's build, [] [Q.] How was she as to her build?

A. She was a straight woman, straight up and down, that is, she wasn't no fleshy, didn't look to be any surplus meat on her bones, ordinarily built woman but not no robust.

Q. Did you ever know— Was she an Indian or what was her nationality? A. I can't tell.

Q. What did she look like?

A. She looked like an Indian, I couldn't tell her nationality.

Q. Looked like an Indian?

A. Just looked like an Indian, you know.

Q. What was her color?

A. Light color, not a red copper like an Indian, more like a mulatto, that is yellow complected, copper of course, Indians are mostly copper colored.

Q. Did you ever learn her name?

A. No, I didn't never know her name.

Q. You say she had straight black hair?

A. Straight black hair as far as I could see, it was rolled up in a ball on her head several times when she came to the door.

Q. Now, Mr. Callahan, did you ever see any other Indian woman in Leavenworth?

A. Only when I was working for the Wells-Fargo, supposed to be an Indian woman too.

Q. When was it you commenced working for the Wells-Fargo? A. The 12th day of January, 1887.

Q. Where did you keep your team?

A. Van Tyle's stable.

Q. You kept your team at Van Tyle's stable?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was that stable? A. Third and Seneca.

Q. Here in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What corner of the street? A. The southeast.

Q. The southeast corner or the southwest corner?

A. The southeast corner.

Q. The southeast corner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which side of Seneca Street was that on? A. South.

Q. South side, which side of Third Street? A. East.

Q. When would you take your team there?

A. A little before twelve, used to take them there. We fed at dinner time, and we were out before seven o'clock in the morning and got our wagons, two single wagons.

Q. Did you take them there at night?

A. Yes, sir, around about a quarter of six when we got through.

Q. When was it you saw this other Indian woman?

A. Seen her with a child on her back with a kind of shawl, she used to [ ] by the back door and I seen her all around there, across the street at a family they called Roaches, I seen her there all the time. He was a stone cutter, worked at Burke & Campbell's stone yard, and I seen her over there; they used to keep a couple of boarders and the boarders would be talking to the little one.

Q. There at Roache's? A. At Roache's, yes.

Q. Where did Roache live?

A. Lived on Third Street and between Seneca and Shawnee on the corner of the alley, northwest corner of the alley, two frames I believe were there, but they are torn down now.

Q. Between Seneca and Shawnee?

A. Between Seneca and Shawnee, northwest corner of the alley.

Q. You say she was an Indian woman?

A. Supposed to be an Indian woman. They used to call her Indian Mary, or Indian something around there.

Q. Now, about what height was she?

A. Well, she was an Indian woman, I should judge, five foot four, or five or something, fleshy built woman, straight black hair, and used to wear it in two braids down her back, very heavy black hair.

Q. How did she dress?

A. Well, I can't tell very well, she dressed ordinary, I don't know what you would—skirt and waist.

Q. Did she wear anything on top of her head, hat or anything?

A. Every time I seen her she always was bare headed.

Q. I believe you stated she had a baby with her.

A. She used to have a little baby.

Q. How did she carry it?

A. She used to carry it up on her shoulder in a shawl. That is what first attracted my attention. Being a soldier out west and seeing the Indian women carrying babies that way; that was the first one I had seen in Leavenworth or since that carried a child that way; that was what first attracted my attention.

Q. You had seen them carry them that way out west?

A. Out west, in Arizona and New Mexico both.

Q. What kind of shawl was that she had?

A. Well, it was a plaid shawl that used to be worn in those days, red colored. Might have been some other color mixed with it; I didn't pay much attention to the colors, a red shawl, might have been blocked off in squares, I didn't pay much attention to it, the time has been so long ago, I know she had a red shawl; I seen her take it down and stand the little fellow up in the Union Depot building in about eighty-seven, and she was down at the new depot, she had the child down there, eighty-seven, that was in the summer of eighty-seven.

Q. When do you remember to have been the last time that you ever saw her?

A. Sometime during that summer, I don't believe—I just naturally was driving up or down the street and seen her, might have been later and might not, and paid no attention to her.

Q. About how old was that baby that was with her?

A. I don't know, the little fellow was standing on his feet, about a year old, I judge.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You say you used to see this woman that was at Hyde's drive up to the office with Mrs. Hyde?

A. No, sir, I didn't say that.

Q. What did you say?

A. I said she was in the carriage with Mrs. Hyde, I never seen her drive up.

Q. She came in the carriage with Mrs. Hyde?

A. Came in the carriage with Mrs. Hyde, yes, sir, to the express office.

Q. How long were you with that Express Company?

A. I was with it fourteen months.

Q. When did you leave it?

A. I left that company about October 18th, 1885.

Q. When did you go to work for them?

A. I went to work for them about August or September, 1884.

Q. August or September, 1884? A. Eighty-four, yes, sir.

Q. And how long after you went to work for them was it that you saw her come up in the carriage with Mrs. Hyde?

A. Well, I can't very well state, you see I was delivering packages for this express [] to people at the house, I can't say whether it was three months, two weeks or six weeks, couldn't testify.

Q. How long did you see her at Hyde's?

A. I saw her once or twice at the house when I delivered packages, I seen her in the carriage when Mrs. Hyde came down to the office.

Q. When did you see her at the house?

A. When I delivered the packages?

Q. When was that?

A. Well, I can't possibly state, sometime during the time that I was in the employment of the company, during eighty-five, it might have been during eighty-four, I can't specify any time, sometime when I was with the company.

Q. She didn't look like the Indians that you knew out west? A. No, sir, she didn't.

Q. She was a finer looking woman?

A. Well, that is as far as I can explain.

Q. She had a finer complexion and better looking?

A. She was a better looking woman and was neat in her appearance.

Q. Had better features? A. Had better features.

Q. Was there a common type that you were with——

A. No, a lighter complexion than the ones that I had seen, I had seen the Apaches and people like that.

Q. Those other Indians that you saw, she looked more like the Indians?

A. More like the Indians, and her actions were more like the Indians.

Q. She carried a baby on her back?

A. That is the way she attracted my attention.

Q. So she was called Indian Mary, or something?

A. Indian Mary or Indian Minnie, or something like that, I can't specify what her name was called or what she was.

Q. How old a looking woman was she?

A. She was, I should judge, looked to be about twenty-four or something like that, I can't say, twenty-four or five, I can't tell or anything like that.

Q. Twenty-four or twenty-five, and might have been thirty for all you knew? A. For all I knew, yes, sir.

Q. Now, how long did you see her about there?

A. Well, I seen her at different times during that summer.

Q. During the summer of 1887?

A. Yes, sir, eighty-seven.

Q. She was about there all the time?

A. She would live around there I think somewheres because I would see her with the child and see her without the child. I seen her over at Roache's with the child, with the little one and had the little one with her, and then I seen her come out of there by herself, whether the little one was in the house or not, I don't know; looked like she might have worked for Mrs. Roach, wash dishes or something.

Q. That is the only place you saw her going past the barn?

A. That is all, and I seen her at the Union depot, was there working on the retaining wall or the depot either one.

Q. How many times did you see her down there?

A. I can't tell you, I would go out on the wagon and drive up and down and noticed this person.

Q. Several times?

A. Several times, I can't tell you how often or when was the last or anything.

Q. You saw her take the child and stand it up on the ground?

A. Stand it up on the ground, looked to be about a year old, I judge.

Q. A little infant?

A. A little infant, I don't know whether it was a boy or girl or what it was, just a little baby.

Q. When were you discharged?

A. Discharged from where?

Q. From the army? A. In 1884.

Q. What were you in the service?

A. No, sir, the 13th Infantry.

Q. And your service? A. Five years.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. How did you come to be a witness in this case?

A. How did I come to be a witness in this case?

Q. Yes, sir.

A. Why, Mr. German, I believe that is—that gentleman understood that I had been employed in the Express Company around through Mr. Taschetta, the postmaster of this building, and came up to ask me if I had been employed around the Express Company and around that stable, and I said I had; and he asked me if I had seen anything of an Indian woman anything like that and I said I had.

Q. A negro woman?

A. An Indian woman, at any time, he said just the same to me as I am telling you now.

Q. Now, when did you first see this girl, this Indian girl?

A. First see her?

Q. Yes? A. Sometime during eighty-seven.

Q. Eighty-seven? A. Yes, sir, the first time.

Q. Where did you first see her?

A. Van Tyle's stable on Third and Seneca.

Q. Van Tyle's stable? A. Yes, sir, see her going by.

Q. Did you know where Granny Letcher's was?

A. I know where it was, yes.

Q. Tell me where it was?

A. About the second door east of Van Tyle's stable on the south side of the street as near as I can recall. There was a man lived in there before Granny Letcher, I think named Dotter.

Q. What was the man's name?

A. Professor Dotter or Otter, something like that.

Q. You say you saw this woman put the child down on the floor when it was a year old?

A. Stand it up on the walk.

Q. The child was a year old?

A. It looked like about a year old to me.

Q. It would stand up?

A. Not without her assistance when she had it.

Q. Who was with her when she had that child?

A. I never seen nobody with her, she was always alone, it was in the daytime when I seen her, when I was driving the wagon around, I never seen her anywhere else except with that little one.

Q. She was called Indian Mary, wasn't she?

A. I just said, I don't know whether it was Indian Mary or Minnie, something of that kind.

Q. How did you get the word Minnie?

A. How did I get the word Minnie?

Q. Yes?

A. It just came to me, I never heard her called that or anybody call her, I never heard her called anything. I read these things in the paper and I suppose that is the only thing.

Q. You got your information from what you read in the paper, is that right? A. No, sir.

Q. You say you read this stuff?

A. I read about Indian Minnie, I said, in the paper, I don't know what her name was, I said that a half a dozen times.

Q. Tell us what her name really was, Indian Mary or Indian Minnie? A. I don't know.

Q. Can you tell us what the name was, Indian Minnie or Indian Mary? A. How could I tell you?

Q. You heard her name called, didn't you?

A. No, I never heard anybody address her, I never heard anybody call her.

Q. Now, wasn't her name Sadie? A. I don't know.

Q. Indian Kate? A. I don't know.

Q. You remember Indian Kate used to be here?

A. Not in my time, I never heard of her.

Q. Did you know a girl named Indian Mollie?

A. No, sir, none.

Q. You didn't know that? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know a fortune teller here by the name of Indian Mollie? A. No, I didn't.

Q. Did you hear of Indian Mollie?

A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. Did you ever hear of a fortune teller there right next to Crilly's?

A. There was a fortune teller, I don't know who she was, in the Seneca House, I don't know who she was or anything about her, just there is all.

Q. Did they call her an Indian?

A. I don't know what they called her.

Q. Where did you see this fortune teller.

A. I never seen this fortune teller to know her.

Q. The truth is you never saw any of these people until about eighty-seven, did you?

A. Eighty-seven, yes, sir, that is about when I went to work for the Wells-Fargo Express and had my wagon up there.

Q. This girl that worked for Hyde's in eighty-seven?

A. No, sir, I didn't say that girl, I said there was another girl.

Q. Another girl?

A. Yes, sir, another woman; I said a woman worked in eighty-three or eighty-four or eighty-five at Hyde's.

Q. Was it the same woman that you are talking about?

A. No, sir, wasn't the same woman at all, a different woman.

Q. A different woman all together? A. Yes.

Q. An Indian woman worked at eighty-four at Hyde's who was called Indian Minnie, wasn't there?

A. I don't know what she was called I never heard that, I don't know except just sometimes would come in here and deliver a package and go about my business again.

Q. The girl that you knew in 1884 at Hyde's was a dark haired girl, wasn't she?

A. Yes, sir, dark complected and hair like any——

Q. She would— She wore her hair braided down her back?

A. No, sir, that woman at Mrs. Hyde's didn't.

Q. Didn't you say a few moments ago——

A. I said she wore her hair up on the back of her head in a knot or roll.

Q. How old was this girl that worked at Hyde's?

A. I don't know how old she was, I can't tell.

Q. How often did you see her there?

A. Why, going to the door and delivering packages.

Q. How old a girl was this girl at Hyde's?

A. I don't know, I can't tell you how old she was, couldn't tell you how old only I seen her on Seneca Street, went by because——

Q. Now, the girl that you saw at Hyde's and the girl that you saw in eighty-seven were different people?

A. Yes, sir, different people.

Q. Not the same girls at all?

A. No, sir, quite different, different people.

Q. And the girl that you saw with the baby in 1887 was not the girl that you saw at Hyde's in 1884?

A. Yes, sir, not the same girl.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. How old did you say you were?

A. I will be sixty the 5th day of March coming.

Q. You came to Leavenworth when?

A. On the 5th day of February, 1884.

Q. Now, you don't seem to have in your mind distinctly whether the girl you saw in eighty-seven was called Indian Mary or Indian Minnie or Indian Mollie?

A. I can't tell, I don't know what she was called, only she was an Indian woman, that is as far as I know, I don't know what she was called, Indian this or what.

Q. You don't know that you ever heard the other name?

A. Not that I know of. If I had I have no recollection of it.

Q. Don't you know that there was an Indian named Indian Mary that was rather a distinguished character by her vices or other qualifications around Leavenworth, who got killed on Sheldon's drive just about the time that you came here or a little before? A. I heard of that after I came here.

Q. After you came? A. After I came here.

Q. You always heard that was Indian Mary?

A. I heard that name mentioned, yes.

Q. Heard Indian Minnie had been killed, had her head cut off?

A. Yes, sir, had a soldier arrested, Dave Keller was sheriff, that happened about the time I came here.

Q. That woman you always heard referred to as Indian Mary? A. Heard that name, yes, sir.

Q. And whether you ever heard any other called Indian Minnie, you can't say? A. I don't know a thing about it.

(Witness dismissed.)

Mr. German: We desire to offer the deposition of Eli Nirdlinger, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in Mr. Penick's transcript beginning at page 2210.

And thereupon, ELI NIRDLINGER, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Eli Nirdlinger.

Q. What is your profession?

A. I am a practicing attorney.

Q. What age are you? A. I am fifty-five.

Q. Have you ever held any official position here? A. Sir?

Q. Did you ever hold any official position here?

A. Well, I held official positions without pay.

Q. Were you ever judge of the District Court?

A. I was, yes.

Q. How long? A. A term.

Q. Temporary judge? A. Yes.

Q. Where do you live? A. Where do I live now?

Q. Yes, what place in the city?

A. I live at 402 Ottawa Street, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. You resided in Leavenworth how long?

A. Since 1882.

Q. Where did you first live in the city?

A. I lived on North Third Street between Miama and Osage on the east side of Third Street.

Q. Between Miama and Osage? A. Yes.

Q. The main dividing line or rather the street from which they began the numbering is called Shawnee, is it not?

A. I don't know, I think that is the dividing line.

Q. You think that is the dividing line?

A. I think it is.

Q. Then what is the next street north of Shawnee?

A. Seneca.

Q. Then, what is the next one north of that? A. Miama.

Q. Then, what is the next north of that? A. Osage.

Q. You say you were on Third Street between Miama and Osage? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is where you first lived?

A. That is where I first lived, yes, sir.

Q. How long did you live there?

A. I lived there until about the summer of 1883.

Q. Where did you move to then?

A. I moved to 506 Pottawatomie.

Q. Now, while you lived on Third Street, between Miama and Osage, did you know any Indian woman here in town?

A. Yes, I knew several of them.

Q. Did you know any that——

A. That is, I saw them, I wasn't acquainted, several of them, but I knew one particular woman.

Q. How did you happen to know her?

A. Well, she lived down the alley, lived right down the alley from me about a half block.

Q. Did she do any work at your house?

A. Yes, sometimes.

Q. What was her name? A. Her name was Mary.

Q. That is they called her Mary, did they have any Indian attached to her name?

A. No, they didn't call her Indian Mary, but she was an Indian woman, they claimed she was an Indian woman.

Q. What kind of an Indian woman was she?

A. Well, she was a woman about five foot five inches tall, and she weighed about a hundred and fifty or sixty pounds, she was a plump, well developed woman, Kentucky fashion.

Q. About what age?

A. Her age, I took her to be between twenty-six and thirty years of age.

Q. How did she wear her hair?

A. Well, that I am not positive about.

Q. What kind of hair did she have?

A. She had black hair, straight black hair, she had a mole on one side of her face right on the top here on her cheek.

By Mr. Hanford: Pointing to the right cheek there.

A. I don't know whether it was on the right cheek or on the left cheek, I can't say, I don't remember that, but I remember she had a mole on her cheek.

Q. Do you know whether she was ever intoxicated?

A. Oh, she felt pretty good sometimes, this woman?

Q. Acted as though she had been drinking sometimes?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you know whether she was ever in police court any? A. That I don't know.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Do you remember when she died?

A. I don't know whether she died or not. I can't tell you. I moved away from that place on Third street and I don't think I saw her more than once or twice afterwards.

(Witness dismissed.)

Mr. German: We desire to offer the deposition of Katherine Williams, taken before Mr. Penick, it appearing in his transcript beginning at page 2240.

And thereupon, KATHERINE WILLIAMS, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Katherine Williams.

Q. Where do you live, Mrs. Williams?

A. 730 Cheyenne.

Q. What is your husband's name? A. Peter Williams.

Q. You and Mr. Williams, what is your nationality, what is your blood, Mrs. Williams?

A. Why, he is German, I am Irish, I guess.

Q. You are Irish? A. Yes.

Q. You are white folks?

A. Yes, never was any other in Ireland but white folks.

Q. Mrs. Williams, what age are you?

A. Well, the best of my information I am I guess sixty-eight or sixty-nine, I may be more.

Q. You don't know how old you are?

A. No, I don't really.

Q. You have some grown daughters?

A. I have got five daughters and five sons here all around Leavenworth.

Q. Have you any grown children?

A. Yes, sir, I am a great grandmother, too.

Q. A great grandmother? A. Yes.

Q. Mrs. Williams, do you remember years very well?

A. Well, I remember a good deal but I can't remember—

Q. When things happened? A. Sir?

Q. Can you remember when things happen very well? Can you tell the years things occurred very well?

A. Yes, I can tell you——

Q. Did you ever live on the Reservation here at Fort Leavenworth?

A. Well, I lived at the Fort, it was called the Reservation where we lived in the woods when we were there nearly, called the reservation then.

Q. What was your husband doing then?

A. He was a blacksmith then, he was a soldier when we married, and he was a blacksmith then up there.

Q. What did you do while you were inside the Reservation?

A. Done nothing but take care of my children and work for them at home, kept house, that was all.

Q. How many children did you have, Mrs. Williams?

A. We had eleven, ten of them all around town here.

Q. Did you know an Indian woman on the reservation, Mrs. Williams, did you ever know an Indian woman on the reservation?

A. I knew this Indian Mary, I knew her very well.

Q. You knew Indian Mary well? A. Yes.

Q. Was she called any other name?

A. I never heard nothing only Indian Mary.

Q. Did anybody ever call her Indian Minnie?

A. Well, I heard other people say it after that, after we came to town, but I never heard it at the Post only Indian Mary; after I came to town here I heard them say Indian Minnie and I said I never heard them call her that.

Q. When did you move off the Reservation?

A. Well, I guess about thirty-five years in town now.

Q. You did not— Did you not move off of the reservation in 1883? A. Well, I can't really tell that.

Q. Your husband will know?

A. He can tell, I ain't very smart that way, not for the years, but I know it ain't over thirty-five years since we left there.

A. And how long was it after you were off the Reservation that you also heard her called Indian Minnie?

A. Well, I suppose a couple of years, I heard some talk that she was found dead. Lots of soldiers used to go down to see us, my husband was a soldier and they told us she was found dead out at Salt Creek, but I don't know whether it was so or not.

Q. What sort of woman was this Indian Mary?

A. Well, she almost looked like any other squaw to me, I can't tell, she was kind of stout built then to the best of my information.

Q. How did she wear her hair?

A. She used to wear her hair sometime hanging down and at other times plaited, sometimes she wore a red shawl, I didn't much notice, the neighbors kicked against her up there.

Q. What was she doing up there?

A. She lived in the woods as far as I knew about her. Whenever she wanted anything to eat she would come and get a cup of coffee.

Q. Get a cup of coffee from you? A. Yes, often.

Q. Did she have any perfumery on her?

A. Yes, sir, she gave me a bottle one time.

Q. What did she say about this perfumery matter?

By Mr. Hanford: I object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and hearsay.

A. I don't like to tell that.

Q. You say you don't like to tell that? A. No.

Q. Tell us what it was?

A. I told you the other night.

Q. Yes, tell us what it was?

A. Well, she used always to carry—she would always have whiskey with her and she wanted me to take whiskey and I said no I don't want it, I want to take care of my children; and she said, you are a good white woman and men like to smell it, I will give you a bottle of cologne.

Q. Did you ever know her to work for anybody at the Fort?

A. No, she told me one time she had lots of money coming to her and sometimes I will come around and give you some money because you have been good to me, I got lots of money coming to me.

By Mr. Hanford: I move to strike that on the ground that it is hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. Did you ever see her drink any?

A. Well, she used to yes, I give her some milk sometimes, I had a cow and I would give her milk and she generally would put some whiskey in the milk and would drink it.

Q. Did you ever see her around saloons?

A. No, I never seen her in the town at all, only at the Fort because I hardly ever came to town.

Q. Do you know whether she was arrested or in Police Court or not?

A. No, I don't remember ever hearing of her being arrested, she usually would go to Salt Creek, I don't know about her being in town but I heard she was in town.

Q. Did you ever hear her say anything about ever having had some children?

A. No, one time she told me she had a boy but the boy got drowned at the first Bridge as you go to the Fort, somebody drowned him she told me.

Q. Did she say anything about where the boy was?

A. No, just said he got drowned.

> By Mr. Hanford: Objected to on the ground as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, calls for hearsay, and I move to strike the previous answer on the ground that it is hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and not responsive to the question.

Q. What did she say about her boy, what was it she said about her boy?

> By Mr. Hanford: Objected to on the ground that it is irrelevant, incompetent, and immaterial and hearsay.

Q. She just used to worry about him and say that somebody drowned him, but I never did pay much attention to her talking that way.

Q. Did she say anything about where she had raised the boy or where he had stayed? A. No, she did not.

> By Mr. Hanford: Objected to on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial and calling for hearsay.

Q. Did she say anything about her having any trouble keeping the boy or other people wanting him?

By Mr. Hanford: Same objection.

A. No, sir, she didn't.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mrs. Williams, what kind of looking woman did you say this Indian Mary was?

A. Well, I forgot almost, but she seemed like any other squaw almost.

Q. She was brown skinned?

A. Yes, brown skinned and kind of heavy set.

Q. Dark in color?

A. Yes, near like a mulatto, but she was an Indian, regular Indian, I know that.

Q. How old a woman was she?

A. Well, she didn't look old then. I can't tell how old she was, but she didn't look old.

Q. About thirty? A. I think so.

Q. How old was you at that time? Was she about your age?

A. I think she was, I guess I was about the same age at that time, I might be a little older.

Q. When did you stop living on the Reservation?

A. I guess it was about thirty one, I don't know whether it was that long or not when we came to town I think it was over thirty one.

Q. Over thirty one years? A. I can't really tell.

Q. That is the best of your recollection?

A. But now, if my husband wasn't sick he would come down with me and he can tell better than I can, I really can't tell, I know over thirty years in town here.

Q. Do you know what became of that Indian Mary?

A. Only what I heard, she was found dead out at Salt Creek in a ditch there, from friends of mine that came from the Fort.

Q. She was found with her head cut off?

A. No, I never heard about that, but that she was found dead laying in the ditch, didn't hear about her head being cut off.

Q. Did you hear about a trial about a soldier being tried for having killed her?

A. I heard a soldier killed her, I didn't hear about the trial, they said she died of drunkenness.

Q. You never saw her in town here?

A. No, I didn't but I heard about her being on Cheyenne Street, up here where I lived around some stables.

Q. You never heard about an Indian Minnie?

A. No, I never heard about an Indian Minnie, never heard of her at all, I used to say to my children, this Indian Mary, I never heard of Indian Minnie.

Q. You never saw her in town? A. No.

Q. When did you say that to your children?

A. Just when I heard at the time. A fellow was around looking for Minnie, I said, that was Mary she is dead. About a year ago some fellow came to our place to look, that was the first time I ever heard of Indian Minnie.

Q. Did she tell you how old this boy was when he got drowned?

A. No, she didn't tell me, just said her boy got drowned, that somebody had threw him over the bridge up at the Fort, between here and the Fort.

Q. He got drowned before you knew her?

A. Yes, yes. No, she told me when she came in to see me, said my boy got drowned, and I wouldn't believe her, thought she was just telling stories. I had never seen the child with her, but I heard other people that did though. Of course I never seen him.

Q. Was he old enough at that time to run around, the boy? A. I can't say.

Q. She said he was a boy? A. Yes, boy.

Q. Didn't say her baby? A. No, she said her boy.

Q. Her boy? A. Yes.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bond.

Q. How many years had you known her when she told you that her baby—her boy had been drowned?

A. Well, I can't tell that, because she used to just wander around up there, and several months she would come around there and she would go away again and come back.

Q. Was it a year or two after you first knew her up there or saw her, when she then came in and said her boy had been drowned?

A. Yes, when she used to come to see us, I guess it was two or three years?

Q. Two or three years that you had known her before she came and told you her boy was drowned?

A. Yes, she used to come in and see us, go away and come back.

Q. You never saw her with the boy?

A. No, just herself alone, not with the boy.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Were you living——

By Mr. German: I object to Mr. Bell cross-examining the witness. He is not an attorney of record in the case so far as the certification of the Examiner is concerned.

By Mr. Blakeney: All right, I will examine her.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. What is your name? A. Now?

Q. Yes? A. Katherine Williams.

Q. How old are you?

A. I can't hardly tell my exact age, I am I guess I am about sixty seven or sixty eight, I may be more, I can't hardly tell. I sent home to the old people for my age and I can then tell better.

Q. Have you grand children?

A. Yes, I am a great grand mother, too.

Q. You have great grand children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old are your great grand children?

A. Why, he is going on two year old.

Q. How long have you lived in Leavenworth?

A. I lived here I guess over fifty years.

Q. Where did you come from to Leavenworth?

A. From Ireland.

Q. From Ireland? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You married when you came to Leavenworth?

A. No, I was only sixteen years old.

Q. Sixteen years old? A. Yes.

Q. You married in Leavenworth, did you?

A. Yes, married at Fort Leavenworth.

Q. At Fort Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. Whom did you marry? A. My husband.

Q. I know, but his name?

A. Pete Williams, he was a soldier.

Q. You married Mr. Williams, a soldier? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever know a girl here known as Indian Minnie or Minnie Atkins? A. No, I never.

Q. You were not acquainted with her?

A. Never heard of her until I heard of her lately, no.

Q. Never heard of her? A. No, never.

Q. And then you came to Fort Leavenworth then in about 1866? A. I guess so.

Q. After the war?

A. The war was ending when I came here I think.

Q. Did you say you came just after the war?

A. No, the war wasn't over then, I remember they said Price was going to come and kill every woman and child in Leavenworth, it wasn't ended then at all, my husband he was down south fighting.

Q. Did your husband, after the war, become stationed at Fort Leavenworth? A. Yes, he got work there.

Q. Not as a soldier but as an employee?

A. No, he worked in the blacksmith shop there.

Q. How long did he work in the blacksmith shop there?

A. Well, we were there a long time, I really can't tell that, all my children were raised up at the Fort, only two here in town.

Q. Were there any Indians around the Fort?

A. Yes, you bet, lots of them around my house.

Q. Were they what you call civilized Indians?

A. Yes, some of them, some of them wild ones.

Q. Men and women and children? A. Yes.

Q. A band of Indians there were war prisoners?

A. Yes, Sitting Bull, I saw him.

Q. Many years after that though?

A. Well, they had them in the Guard house and the guards would walk them around and bring them around where we lived.

Q. That was in the eighties that you saw Sitting Bull, massacre of Custer in Missouri—in Montana?

A. Yes, I had a friend killed with Custer.

Q. What other tribe of Indians did you have there besides these two Indians? A. I can't tell that.

Q. You knew that Sitting Bull belonged to the Sioux, didn't you?

A. Yes, I could tell, we were scared of them.

Q. Were there any Comanche or Apaches?

A. I don't know, I can't tell their names, lots of Indians there.

Q. Now, there was however, a band of Indians there in the early seventies, wasn't there?

A. Yes, I remember we used to go to see them on the parades around, I can remember.

Q. A good part of the Fort was laid out where the Indians had their tents?

A. Yes, near the race track, down near the river they ha them.

Q. A good many Indians were in the town of Leavenworth? A. Yes, lots of them around there.

Q. Did you get acquainted with any of those Indians?

A. No, I was always scared.

Q. You were always scared of anything that you knew was an Indian?

A. Yes, like we lived, the citizens all lived at a place called Happy Hill, and they would come to the Commissary, and they would come around us looking for feathers and some times we shut the door when we seen them. Some of them were wild but they were not, they had an interpreter with them.

Q. While you was knowing these Indians, you knew an Indian named Indian Mary? A. Yes.

Q. Did you know what tribe she belonged to?

A. She didn't belong to any.

Q. What?

A. She didn't belong to any when I knew her, only out in the woods herself.

Q. What was she wearing, a blanket?

A. She had a red shawl plaid shawl.

Q. A red plaid shawl?

A. I don't know whether it was a blanket or shawl to my notion.

Q. She had the habit of what we called "A Blanket Indian?" A. I don't know. I couldn't tell that at all.

Q. She lived out in the woods in a tent?

A. No, she had no tent. She was what we called her, a prostitute.

Q. Oh, she was just an Indian prostitute?

A. No, she wasn't counted anything, she never run with the Indians.

Q. Didn't even run with these Indians?

A. No, she was——

Q. She was from your Fort life what you understood to be a Reservation prostitute?

A. Yes, that is what she was.

Q. You never knew her cooking for any white folks?

A. No, never.

Q. Or doing any legitimate work?

A. No, not a thing.

Q. And was finally killed? A. That is what I heard.

Q. You didn't see her after she was killed?

A. No, just heard that she was found in a ditch at Salt Creek laying in the ditch, somebody said that some soldier found her there.

Q. With her head cut off? A. No.

Q. You didn't hear how she was killed? A. No.

Q. Well, you heard that she was killed away back in the early eighties? A. Sir?

Q. How long ago was it that you heard that she was killed?

A. Oh, I can't tell you that. I believe I have told all I know about it.

Q. Twenty five or thirty years ago?

A. Yes, maybe more than that.

Q. You don't think it is less than thirty five?

A. No, I know it ain't, we had come from the Fort, we were here maybe thirty five or maybe thirty six years that we left the Fort. I was in town when I heard it, living up here in the——

Q. How long you say it was after the close of the war when your husband came back and went to blacksmithing?

A. I don't know, I can't tell that either.

Q. I know you can't tell exactly, can you tell within five or ten years?

A. After he was discharged he went to work in the Fort and we lived there.

Q. How long after that was it that you heard that Indian Mary had been killed?

A. Not until after we came to town, we lived at the Fort a good many years, after we came to town here.

Q. You heard that after you came to town? A. Yes.

Q. How long after your husband was discharged was it that you came to town?

A. I can't tell that either. We had six or seven children born at the Fort.

Q. How long ago was the youngest of the——

A. He is going on thirty.

Q. What?

A. The youngest boy he is going on thirty, my youngest boy.

Q. And you came to town after he was born?

A. No, he was born here in town.

Q. Now, what was the last child born in the Fort?

A. My youngest daughter, Kate.

Q. How old is Kate?

A. I believe she is thirty two.

Q. She was born at the Fort.

A. Yes, she was born at the Fort I can't tell you their exact ages now. I am only guessing, but I know——

Q. You do know that some thirty years ago you came to town to live?

A. Yes, about thirty six or seven as near as I can guess.

Q. And soon after you came here to the city, Mary was killed?

A. Yes, just heard from some friends of ours from the Fort, said that old Indian Mary was found out at Salt Creek in the ditch.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You have eleven children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Six or seven of them were born at the Fort?

A. Yes, I think so, there was two born in town. One died you know.

Q. You said you had three children in town?

A. No, just two.

Q. Just two?

A. Yes, one lived in town a little while when one was born.

Q. And two in town that lived? A. Yes.

Q. And one that died?

A. No, two in town, and one about ten month's old when it died.

Q. What is the name of the children born in town?

A. Edward and Frankie.

Q. Edward and Frankie?

A. Yes, Frankie is dead you know.

Q. Now, Edward is going on thirty? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who is the next one to Frankie, the next older?

A. To the one that is dead?

Q. Yes? A. Edward——

Q. He is the youngest?

A. He is the youngest boy I have.

Q. Now, who is the oldest, the next oldest to Edward?

A. Kathryn.

Q. Where was Katheryn born?

A. She was born at the Fort.

Q. And how much older is Katheryn than Edward?

A. Well, of course I will have to tell it, she was only seven months.

Q. She was a seven month's child? A. Yes.

Q. How much older was she than Edward?

A. I think she is a year, thirteen or fourteen months I am not sure now, as near as I can go, she is the one seven months you know, I just can't tell their ages, I may be telling some stories but I am going to do the best I can.

Q. So your children that were born were Katheryn, she was born at the Fort?

A. She was born at the Fort, yes.

Q. Then, Frankie? A. Frankie was born in town, yes.

Q. And then Edward? A. Edward was born in town yes.

Q. And Edward is going on thirty?

A. He is going on thirty yes, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Do you say you could be able to show their age?

A. My old man has got all of their ages down.

Q. Where is that record? A. Out at home.

Q. Out at your home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You could bring that, could you after dinner?

A. Yes, he is smart, I aint very smart, I got no memory, I could have it but I——

Q. Could you send that down to us and not come yourself?

A. Yes, I could, I could send it down, my daughter lives right down here, I could send it to her.

Q. I wish you would send it by your daughter and ask your daughter to let Blakeney see it?

A. Well, all right.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Joseph A. Cranston, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript beginning at page 3019.

And thereupon JOSEPH A. CRANSTON being called on behalf of the United States and being first duly sworn on oath testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Joseph A. Cranston.
Q. Where do you live, Mr. Cranston?
A. I live at 308 Fifth avenue.
Q. Leavenworth, Kansas? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What business are you engaged in?
A. Livery business.
Q. Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where is your place of business?
A. 320 and 322 Cherokee.
Q. What age are you Mr. Cranston?
A. I am sixty-five.
Q. Were you ever engaged in the livery business in the city of Leavenworth with Mr. George Crilly? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Were you and Mr. Crilly ever located on Seneca Street? A. Yes, sir.
Q. With your business. What particular place on Seneca?
A. It was I think, 220 and 222 Seneca, north side of the street.
Q. When were you located there?
A. Well I don't remember that. A long while ago.
Q. You don't remember when? A. No.
Q. When were you married, Mr. Cranston?
A. Married thirty years ago last December.
Q. Then you were married in December, 1885?
A. That is what my wife says. I don't remember.
Q. You do know it was thirty years ago last December?
A. Yes, thirty years ago.
Q. Mr. Cranston where were you in business at that time?
A. Well Crilly and I were together at that time on Cherokee and also on Seneca.
Q. Both places?
A. 319 Cherokee, across the street from where I am now. We had a branch there.
Q. When you had your business on Seneca Street were you running the place of business? A. Yes, oh yes, sir.
Q. Actively engaged there in the operation of the business?

A. Yes, sir, that is Crilly or I was there most all of the time.

Q. How? A. One of us was there most all the time.

Q. About how much of your time did you spend there on Seneca Street in connection with your business?

A. Oh, I can't say.

Q. Well, were you there daily?

A. Yes, sir, every day and every night.

Q. Practically all the time during the business hours day and night? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Except when you were at home?

A. Well I had no home then.

Q. Oh, you were not married? A. No.

Q. Well after you married?

A. I was still there. I lived up north then a couple of blocks of the barn.

Q. How long after you were married did you continue to have this business on Seneca Street?

A. Oh I don't know. Quite a while. We got burnt out there you know. I don't remember the year we got burnt out. I wouldn't say when.

Q. After you were burned out did you continue to operate a business there on Seneca? A. No, sir.

Q. But you did operate it up until that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Before you married and on after your marriage until you burned out? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Wasn't it in 1889 that you were burnt out?

A. I can't say.

Q. '87 or—— A. Oh, no, it wasn't '87 I know.

Q. It was later than '87? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now Mr. Cranston you remember—do you remember of there being a colored family living across the street at Number 217 Seneca Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Across the street from your business?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the name of the woman? A. Letcher.

Q. Molly Letcher? A. Molly Letcher, yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember who preceded her in the occupancy of that property? Who lived in the house before she did?

A. Why two different families, while we were up there—I think—I don't remember who the first family were, when we moved up there but then there was a woman named Lillie White moved there. I remember her.

Q. She lived there before Granny Letcher?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You don't remember the name of the family that lived there before Lillie White? A. No, sir.

Q. To refresh your memory, was it Mr. Dotter—Gustav Dotter?

A. I am unable to say, two or three families, one next to the barn and one across the street in the stone. I don't remember the name. Mr. Seth. I remember Mr. Seth lived right across the street.

Q. That is immediately west of the Letcher home?

A. Yes.

Q. Then in the place that Molly Letcher finally moved into there were, as I understand you, two families that preceded her in that home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Lillie White and some other family whose name you don't recall? A. Yes, sir, I don't recall.

Q. This other family whose name you don't recall, were they white folks? A. Yes, sir.

Q. White? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Cranston did you know of any Indian woman around this Letcher place by the name of Minnie or Indian Minnie? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Minnie Atkins? Did you know of any Indian woman around there at all?

A. No, sir, never saw or heard of any.

Q. Did you know of any boy around there or young male child by the name of Indian Tommy? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Thomas Atkins or Tommy? Or Commodore?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or Tommodore? A. Never heard of him.

Q. Did you see any Indian boy around there? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever see an Indian boy around your barn?

A. Never did as I remember of. Never did.

Q. On that street? A. Never did.

Q. Or any boy around your barn by any of the names that I have called? A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Cranston you say you had two places at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. One on Cherokee and one on Seneca? Now how far apart were those two places?

A. Well one was on Cherokee and the other was on Seneca, about five or six blocks—about four or five blocks.

Q. You ran the Cherokee Street place didn't you?

A. Yes, we both run it, yes, sir.

Q. Did Mr. Crilly run that? Was he ever down there in charge of that place?

A. Oh, yes, we were both in charge. I was up there and down there and he was both places too.

Q. Isn't it a fact Mr. Cranston when you had those two places that Mr. Crilly was superintending the Seneca Street Street more and you the Cherokee Street?

A. Why I put in more time at the Cherokee Street place than I did above but I was at both places, so was he.

Q. Now do you know the names of any other people in that block other than you have named—— You named Mr. Seth I believe? A. Yes, I remember Mrs. Seth.

Q. Do you remember anybody else around there?

A. I think there was a family name of Jordan lived west of the barn.

Q. Did they have any children?

A. They had grown daughters, I believe. One I know of, maybe more. I wouldn't say.

Q. Did you ever see any children around the street or around the barn on Seneca Street?

A. No, I don't remember of any children around there.

Q. You can't give the names of any children at all around there? A. No, sir, no.

Q. There might have been there?

A. Oh, they could have been there while I was away of course, probably.

Q. Without you noticing them?

A. But there wasn't any lived around there that I know of. Only one I know of was this colored boy.

Q. Did you ever go to Molly Letcher's house?

A. No, sir, never went around there.

Q. Do you know who lived in her house?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Didn't pay attention to that? A. No, sir.

Q. You weren't concerned with her or her affairs?

A. No, sir.

Q. You don't know what children she had?

A. Yes, I know of some boys that she had.

Q. Which ones?

A. Well, the one armed boy and the other, I have forgotten his name, he was by a former husband I guess.

Q. Jim Mayo?

A. Jim Mayo, yes. I know him quite well. A one armed— He was a negro.

Q. That was Sam Nash? A. Sam Nash, yes, sir.

Q. There were three at her house were they?

A. Well I seen them around there, yes, sir. Know them.

Q. You didn't know who else was there?

A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. What children or whose children they were?
A. No, sir.
Q. Did you know any of the women that came and went?
A. No, sir.
Q. Didn't pay any attention to that? A. No, sir.
Q. Did you keep books, Mr. Cranston? A. Yes, sir.
Q. At that time? Have you still got those books?

A. No, sir. You mean the firm books. No. Looked for one the other day. They are gone.

Q. You have looked for them? A. Yes.

Q. Have you got any old books? How far back did you go?

A. I haven't got any since Crilly and I dissolved, whenever that was, at the time of the fire.

Q. You spent the summer of 1885 in Denver, Colorado, did you not?

A. I was there a part of the summer, yes, sir. I don't know whether it was '85 or what the year was.

Q. You know you were there it snowed on the 4th of July?

A. Yes, I was there the year it showed whatever July that was.

Q. You went up there for your health, didn't you?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Was that the year you were married?
A. Yes, sir, I was married that fall.
Q. Married that fall? A. I think so; I am not sure.

Q. Mr. Crilly, you remember that was the year you were married?

A. I think it was; I think I was married that fall.
Q. Mr. Cranston—I beg your pardon.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Charlie Hudson, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 2584.

CHARLIE HUDSON being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. State your name. A. Charlie Hudson.
Q. Where do you live, Charlie?
A. Parsons, Kansas.
Q. What age are you? A. I am fifty-one.
Q. Charlie did you ever go by the name of Daniel?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Daniel what?

A. Daniel Hudson.

Q. How come you to be called Daniel?

Q. Why a boy by the name of Will Parker give me the name of Daniel.

Q. Where? There in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. Leavenworth, Kansas?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you first live in Leavenworth?

Q. Well it was in '84.

Q. What time of the year? A. Along in the fall.

Q. Did you know a woman there by the name of Molly Letcher? A. I did.

Q. Did you live with her in her house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was she living in Leavenworth when you first knew her? A. Living on Cherokee street.

Q. Between what two streets? A. Second and Third.

Q. On which side of Cherokee? A. On the South side.

Q. Did you room at her house any while she lived on that street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she move off of that street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where to?

A. I can't just remember whether it was on Seneca or on Delaware street but I know she was there. I think she went from Cherokee to Delaware. I ain't sure now. I won't say positive but I know—and then from there I think to Seneca, if I ain't mistaken.

Q. Now what year did she move on Seneca street?

A. Well I can't say positively.

Q. What time of the year?

A. Well I can't quite say.

Q. When did she move off of Cherokee street?

A. Well, I don't remember.

Q. How long had you been living in Leavenworth? Say you came there in the fall of '84? A. Yes.

Q. When did she move off of Cherokee street?

A. When I first went to Leavenworth I stayed at my uncle's house, maybe three months, might have been two months and then I left over there down to—went to staying at Granny Letcher's and I stayed there.

Q. Were you staying at Granny's when she moved off of Cherokee? A. Well, not all the time.

Q. Well I mean were you rooming at her house at the time that she did make the move off of Cherokee?

A. Well, yes, sir, I think I was.

Q. Now how long—about how long, if you remember, did you live or room at Granny's house on Cherokee street? About how long did you room at Granny's house on Cherokee street?

A. Well I guess off and on, I guess about three or four years.

Q. Well, I mean while she lived on Cherokee street?

A. Well, I can't tell you that for sure because I don't remember.

Q. Now, you say you first roomed at your uncle's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When you came to Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And roomed there about three months, you say?

A. About that time.

Q. And then you went to rooming at Granny Letcher's on Cherokee street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What season of the year was it, whether it was spring, summer or fall or winter, that Granny moved off of Cherokee street?

A. Well, I think it was in the fall. I ain't sure but I think it was in the fall.

Q. Now she moved there to Delaware or to Seneca from Cherokee and you think it was to Delaware, I believe you say?

A. Yes, sir, that is what I think. I know there was some moving done there, at one of them places but I disremember whether it was at Seneca or Delaware street.

Q. Now when she did—she did move to Seneca street?

A. Yes, sir. I know that.

Q. And when she moved there did you room with her there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Very irregularly? A. Pretty regular, yes, sir.

Q. Did you get married when you were living in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who to? A. Woman by the name of Mattie Oldan.

Q. Lottie Oldan? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you rooming at the time you married Lottie?

A. At the time I married her I was rooming at Granny Letcher's and then we went from there out to her father's.

Q. You and Lottie, your wife? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you stay at her father's?

A. Well, I don't suppose we stayed there a year.

Q. Where did her father live?

A. He lived out on Cherokee street, way out.

Q. Way out? A. Yes, sir.

Q. West? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you go to from her father's?

A. Went back to Granny Letcher's.

Q. You and Lottie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how long did you live there at that place with Lottie?

A. I don't remember how long it was but I know what made me quit it.

Q. What made you quit her place?

Q. Why she wanted me to give her money to go to St. Joe and I wouldn't do it and she stuck a knife in my side and I left her.

> Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out the statement what made him quit as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and couldn't object to the question because we didn't know whether it referred to the case or not.
>
> Mr. Hanford: The same objection on the further ground that it is not responsive to the question.

Q. Now Charlie do you know how long you had been living on Seneca Street at Granny's before you and Lottie married? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Had you been living there regularly or not from the time—— A. Not regular.

Q. From the time you went on to Seneca street?

> Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as leading?

A. Not regular.

Q. Until you married her, had you roomed there very much?

A. I went there sometimes when I wanted to and when I didn't I roomed somewheres else. I don't know exactly how long.

Q. Well, how much of the time after she moved on to Seneca street before you married was it that you did room there?

A. Well, I can't say because I didn't keep a record of it. If I had kept a record of it I could give better answers but I didn't keep a record of how long; in fact, I didn't keep a record how long we lived together.

Q. I am speaking of before you married Lottie?

A. Sir?

Q. I am speaking of before you married Lottie on Seneca street. Did you room at Granny's regularly or not?

A. Not very regularly.

Q. About how much of your time did you room there?

A. Well, I can't say.

Q. Did you room there very often or very long at a time or not?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading and suggestive.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. I was just like any other young man. Sometimes I would stay there and sometimes I wouldn't.

Q. When did you leave Leavenworth?

A. Well I think it was in '89. I ain't sure.

Q. How long after you and Lottie had the trouble?

A. Oh, it was quite a bit.

Q. Did you continue to room at Granny Letcher's after you and Lottie had the trouble? A. No, sir.

Q. What year did you and Lottie marry?

A. I can't say that.

Q. What time in the year? A. I can't say.

Q. What business were you—what was your occupation there? A. Cooking.

Q. Where did you cook? A. Cooker for Myers.

Q. What was his given name? A. E. D.

Q. A. D. Myers? A. E. D.

Q. E. D. Myers? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did he run? A. Restaurant.

Q. Where was it located?

A. On the corner of Fifth and Shawnee.

Q. Did Granny Letcher have any children?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who? A. Boy by the name of Jim. Jim Mayo.

Q. Jim Mayo. What other boys, if any, were in her family?

A. Well, a boy by the name Sam Smith. He was related to her. I forget now just what relation he was, and another one named Arch, Archie, and then there was a boy there, a little boy, five years—he must have been about four years old, named Walter.

Q. Walter Banks? A. Yes, sir, I think that is his name.

Q. During the time that you lived there at the Letcher home and knew the Letcher family was there any child in that family by the name of Tommy or Indian Tommy?

A. Not as I remember.

Q. Was there any Indian woman or girl in that family by the name of Minnie or Indian Minnie?

A. Not as I remember.

Q. Or Minnie Atkins? A. Not as I remember.

Q. Was there any boy in the family by the name of Thomas Atkins? A. Not as I remember.

Q. Did you know a fellow there by the name of Scott Rector? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did he do? A. He was my second cook.

Q. Did he ever stay with you or room with you at the Letcher home?

A. I don't think he did. He might have went down and stayed with me once in a while but I don't think he roomed there. I won't say positive that he did because I think he stayed with his mother most of the time then.

Q. But he might have gone and stayed all night with you? A. Yes, sir, he might have did that.

Q. Was there any other boy beside the ones you have mentioned who lived or stayed at the Letcher home while you were there at any time? A. Not as I remember.

Q. What did Molly Letcher call you?

A. What did she call me?

Q. Yes? A. Called me Son.

Q. Called you Son? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know how she happened to call you Son?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial.

A. No, sir, I don't. She just taken a liken to me and called me Son all the time.

Q. Did you eat meals at her table any?

A. Yes, sir, after I quit Mr. Myers I ate there most of the time.

Q. When did you quit Myer's?

A. I don't remember exactly when.

Q. About how long before you left Leavenworth?

A. In fact now, I didn't quit him. He went away to work for Fred Harvey.

Q. Mr. Myers did?

A. Yes, sir, and while he was gone I didn't do any cooking.

Q. And did he come back while you were there?

A. Yes, sir, I suppose it might have been a year or year and a half or such a matter.

Q. That he was gone?

A. Yes, sir. He first bought the old Colonel Jimison place and he run that. He went away a year or a year and a half or maybe two years and he then hired me to hunt him a location. He was coming back to Leavenworth and start him up a restaurant and I got a location between Dustin and Hosman's butcher shop.

Q. Where? A. There in Leavenworth.

Q. Where is that place?

A. That is between Fourth and Fifth, on Shawnee.

Q. Now where was Granny living when Myers left to go to work for Harvey? A. Living on Seneca.

Q. So for about a year and a half or such a matter, you took your meals at Granny's house? A. Yes, sir, more or less.

Q. Ate at her table? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Granny? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was there any boy who ate at that table besides the ones that I have mentioned?

A. Well now there might have been. I can't say for sure.

Q. This Archie—Archie Taylor, is that his name?

A. Yes, sir, I think that was his name. He was a one-eyed boy.

Q. Sam Nash, did he have two arms? A. No, sir.

Q. He was one-armed? A. One-armed.

Q. And during that year and a half——

A. Might have been.

Q. Whatever length of time it was there was no child there by the name of Tommy or Indian Tommy or Thomas Atkins? A. Not that I recall of.

Q. Would you have known it if it had been?

Mr. Cruce: We object as a conclusion.

Q. I don't remember. He might have been there and he might not have been there.

Q. He didn't eat at the table where you ate?

Mr. Cruce: I object as leading.

A. I don't remember.

Q. You never heard that name called there—— You never heard anybody called that name there?

Mr. Cruce: Objected to as leading.

Q. Did you hear anybody called Tommy or Indian Tommy, a child—young child, boy?

A. I don't remember whether I did or not. I don't remember that Indian Tommy or Indian Nellie there, whatever her name is.

Q. Minnie? You have no recollection of such persons being there. A. No, sir, I don't.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You say you worked for Myers? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Cooked for him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you cook there pretty steadily? A. Sir?

Q. I say did you work there pretty steadily?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. While Myers was there you worked for him all the time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. While he ran a restaurant? A. Sir?

Q. While he ran a restaurant? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And would you be there throughout the day cooking?

A. Who? Me?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What were his hours? How long did he keep open?

A. He kept open day and night. That is, at the restaurant there on—between Dustin and—the other man, the mean man, I forgot. Dustin and Hosman, I think his name is Lou Hosman.

Q. That is when he—— After he came back from Fred Harvey's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now where else did you room around Leavenworth, some of the other places? Did you room at different places?

A. Yes, sir, I roomed some places and some I didn't.

Q. You can't remember all the places now? That is too long ago to remember all the places?

A. Yes, sir. I know I stayed at Granny Letcher's more than any.

Q. You would stay there at night? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sleep there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. These boys that you have named, you say are the other people that you remember that stayed there?

A. Only as I can remember of, yes, sir.

Q. There was a number of other people that stayed there at different times? A. Sir?

Q. I say she kept a rooming house didn't she?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And there were a good many other people that stayed there a good many times? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't know all those people or know who they were? A. Not all of them, no, sir.

Q. You didn't keep track of them? A. No, sir.

Q. These people were nothing to you? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't pay any attention to them, who came and went? A. No, sir.

Q. Or that roomed there? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't pay attention to Granny Letcher's business and household affairs, did you?

A. No, sir, not particularly.

Q. Now you say lots of other children were around there at different times?

A. I don't know. There might have been.

Q. You didn't pay much attention to that? A. No, sir.

Q. Your attention was particularly directed to your work as cook?

A. Well I didn't pay no attention to their cooking when

I wasn't there. When I was in the kitchen I paid attention to my work and when I am out I don't let it bother me.

Q. When you were out you would go to places where you would meet other men and do other things the same as other men? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then go home and go to bed?

A. Sometimes I would and sometimes I wouldn't. I would set up there and play cards with the boys. Sometimes I would go to bed early and sometimes I wouldn't.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Where are you living now? A. Parsons, Kansas.

Q. How long have you lived there?

A. About nineteen years.

Q. What are you doing?

A. I am working for the Foley Railroad Printing Company now.

Q. Working for what?

A. Foley Railroad Printing Company.

Q. What are you doing.

A. I am porter there now. Doing a little of everything.

Q. Been working there—Been living there you say nineteen years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And where did you go from to——

A. Went from Kansas City, Missouri.

Q. How long did you live in Kansas City?

A. Oh, I can't say, maybe a year and maybe not so long.

Q. What did you do in Kansas City?

A. What did I do here in Kansas City?

Q. Yes? A. Well I worked for a colored [ ] by the name of Jim Claybrook.

Q. What kind of work? A. Attended to his horses.

Q. You say about a year?

A. Might have been and might not have been that long.

Q. Well might it have been longer? A. Might have.

Q. You just really don't know how long it was?

A. No I don't to tell the truth about it.

Q. Where did you go from Kansas City?

A. Where did I go from?

Q. Yes? A. Leavenworth.

Q. How long did you say you lived in Leavenworth?

A. Well, I don't know. I judge it must have been somewhere about '89, somewhere along there.

Q. Eight or nine years?

A. No, sir, in '89, when I left Leavenworth.

Q. You left Leavenworth, you think, somewhere about '89?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well how long did you live in Leavenworth, is my question? A. Well I went there in '84.

Q. How long did you live in Leavenworth?

A. About five years, I guess Four or five years I guess. May have been a little longer.

Q. It may have been a little less?

A. Shouldn't have been any less.

Q. Well are you just reasoning it out or do you remember?

A. Sir.

Q. Are you just reasoning it out or do you remember?

A. No, I don't remember exactly the date when I left there.

Q. Where did you go from Leavenworth?

A. Where did I go from Lawrence, Kansas?

Q. How long did you live in Lawrence?

A. I don't know.

Q. Well about? A. Three or four years, I guess.

Q. What did you do in Lawrence? A. Cooked.

Q. Where did you go from to Lawrence?

A. Independence, Missouri.

Q. Were you born in Independance? A. No, sir.

Q. How long did you live in Independance?

A. I was practically raised there.

Q. Well about how long was that, that you were practically raised at that place?

A. Well I guess I must have been about fifteen or sixteen years old, somewhere like that.

Q. You mean fifteen or sixteen years old when you left Independence? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how old were you when you went to Independence?

A. Came from Independence?

Q. How old were you when you got to Independence?

A. I guess about fifteen or sixteen years old.

Q. Do I understand you that you were fifteen or sixteen when you came to Independence? A. No, sir.

Q. That is what I asked, how old were you when you came to Independence?

A. I was a small boy then. Riding on a horse behind my mother.

Q. Four or five or six or seven?

A. About that, I guess. About six or seven years old.

Q. Six or seven years of age and you stayed there until you were fifteen? A. Yes, sir I guess about that.

Q. When did you go to work, about what age did you go to work?

A. I don't know how old I was when I was working around. I worked around Independence.

Q. What did you first do?

A. Worked in private families.

Q. What kind of work?

A. Well I was principally house boy.

Q. How old are you now? A. Fifty-one.

Q. What year were you born in? A. In 1864.

Q. What month? A. '65 I meant to say.

Q. What month? A. July 3rd.

Q. Can you read and write?

A. I can't read. I can't do much writing.

Q. Did you ever go to school? A. Not much.

Q. You have to depend entirely upon memory as to incidences that occurred thirty-five years ago? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You kept no records, diary or memorandas of anything?

A. No, sir.

Q. And you have nothing now in your possession made by you or any other person to fix a date thirty or thirty-five years ago? A. No, sir.

Q. When did you first have your attention directed towards Granny Letcher's place in the last few years?

A. Sir?

Q. When did you in the last few years have your attention directed towards your neighbors at Granny Letcher's?

A. When did I have——

Q. You attention here. When was it called to your attention in the last year?

A. It has been about three or four weeks ago I guess.

Q. Who talked to you about it?

A. With me? That gentleman over there.

A. Mr. Buell, Garfield Buell? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He came to Parsons and saw you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And talked to you about it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Pay you anything? A. No, sir.

Q. Promise you anything?

A. No, there is one thing though I am expecting?

Q. What is that? A. My expenses.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. From Parsons up here and back? A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. What expenses are you expecting?

A. I am expecting my expenses, railroad fare and my expenses while I am here.

Q. How much do you think that will amount to?

A. Well, I don't know. I haven't give it a thought.

Q. Well how came you to expect that if they didn't promise you anything?

A. Nobody promised me anything only the gentlemen were down there to serve a subpoena told me my—Didn't only tell me—He told my boss that my railroad fare and my expenses would be allowed. Didn't say where from or who.

Q. Say who would pay it? A. No, sir, he didn't.

Q. Now let's get back. One thing I didn't understand. What year did you say you married? A. I didn't say.

Q. You said you didn't remember? A. No, sir.

Q. You don't remember what time in the year it was you got married? A. No, sir.

Q. How long did you live with your wife?

A. I don't know, sir. It might have been a couple of years and might not have been so long.

Q. Where were you married?

A. I was married in the courthouse at Leavenworth.

Q. Now when you were rooming at Granny Letcher's house, Charlie, what did you pay a month for your room?

A. Well now when I was cooking I paid her a dollar a week. When I wasn't working I didn't pay her anything. Stayed there. Just made it my home.

Q. You and Granny were pretty thick? A. Sir.

Q. You and Granny wasn't thick? She wasn't a sweetheart of yours?

A. No, sir, she wasn't no more sweetheart o' mine than she was of yours.

Q. So there wasn't any reason why you should take any special interest in her family to see who she was taking care of was there?

Mr. German: I object to that as argument.

A. Of course I would be just like you or any one else if you was there and you made it your home. You would kinda help her along. Do the best you could while you were there.

Q. I say, was there any reason why you should try to find out who the members of her family were?

Mr. German: The same objection. Go ahead and answer.

A. No, I don't see why I should.

Q. Was she a charitable woman or not?

A. She wasn't to everybody, no, sir.

Q. She was to some?

A. She was to me. She treated me nicely while I was there.

Q. How many months did you board there, Charlie, before she moved off of Cherokee Street?

A. Well I can't say.

Q. I understand it has been a long time but just give us your best judgment? A. I can't say how long.

Q. Was it three months, would you say? A. I can't say.

Q. Was it as much as four months? A. I can't say.

Q. Have no idea?

A. Have no idea how long I was down there on Cherokee Street with her. I got no idea.

Q. Now Charlie we are just trying to—we realize it has been a long time and we are trying to get your best judgment—nobody can be accurate about things that happened thirty years ago. Give your best judgment.

Mr. Blakeney: I object to the statement after the Captain testified.

Q. What is your best judgment, think a minute, and think whether you were there on Cherokee Street three or four months?

A. I wouldn't like to answer that question for the reason why I can't remember so long. That far back, how long I was there and I know I was there, but I can't say for sure, two months, three months, five months or six months or a year.

Q. Would you say you were there as much as a year?

A. No, sir, I wouldn't.

Q. Don't think you were there a year?

A. Not before she moved away from there.

Q. Just your best judgment now, do you think you were there as much as six months before she moved off of Cherokee?

A. I don't remember.

Q. You don't think so?

Mr. German: He didn't say that.

Q. What did you say? A. I say I don't remember.

Q. Well, haven't you any idea about it? A. No, sir, I haven't to tell the truth about it.

Q. Then your recollection about the whole thing is a little hazy, isn't it?

Mr. German: I object to that as argument.

Q. Is it or not?

A. You know one thing, you know me nor anybody else twenty-eight or twenty-nine years ago can remember every little things of that kind.

Q. I agree with you there?

A. And I didn't—I don't see why you want me to make a statement of something I tell you I can't remember, so far back.

Q. Well, will you explain to the Court how you remember this was in 1885 then? A. In 1885 what?

Q. That you stayed with Granny Letcher?

A. Well, I know I went there in '84.

Q. How do you know that?

A. Because I know I did at the time of the re-union there in Leavenworth, and another thing was Grover Cleveland's election.

Q. In 1884? A. I think so.

Q. Did you vote for Grover? A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. Now what time of year did you go there to room with Granny before Grover's election or after?

A. It might have been after, I think it was after.

Q. After? A. I stayed up at my Uncle's quite a bit.

Q. Well he was elected in November '84, wasn't he?

A. I think so.

Q. Was this September or November? A. November.

Q. Now he was elected in November '84, and just after he was elected you think you went to Granny's?

A. It might have been a month or two months or such a matter, somewhere along there.

Q. If it were two months that would put it up into '85 when you went there wouldn't it? A. Yes, sir, I guess it would.

Q. So you went there in 1885, then, and not in 1884?

Mr. German: I object to the question on the ground that it assumes a thing not testified to by the witness.

Q. What was the answer?

Mr. German: He is not answering the question.

Q. Let's see if I understand you? You are willing to say positively the year that you went to Granny Letcher's, and yet you don't remember the year or the time of the year that you got married, do you swear that?

Mr. German: I object to the question on the ground that it assumes a fact not testified to and as argument.

Q. Will you answer that question? A. How is that.

Q. You are willing to swear positively as to the year that you went to Granny Letcher's to board or to room, and you don't remember when you were married or the time of the year you were married?

Mr. German: The same objection.

A. I still say that I don't remember the exact time that I went to Granny Letcher's, whether it was in '84 or '85, but I know I went there; I told you that all the way through.

Q. Well was it '85 or '86 that you went there?

A. I don't remember that.

Q. Might have been '86 that you went there, is that right?

A. It might have been, I am not even—I don't know for sure.

Q. Well, might it have been 1887 that you went there?

A. Well I can't say positively which year.

Q. Can't say positively? Well, which was the most important event in your life, marriage or your wife, or the day that you went to Granny Letcher's to room?

Mr. Allen: I object to that as argument.

Mr. German: And calling for an opinion and conclusion of the witness.

A. Well, no man would think that a married life would be the most valuable to him at times.

Q. But I thought the marriage was a more important event, you remember the other event rather than the marriage, the date of it?

Mr. German: I object to that for the same reasons.

A. How is that?

Mr. German: As implying a fact not testified to by the witness.

Mr. Blakeney: We want to especially object to the form of objection made by Counsel, not in legal form but for the apparent purpose of coaching the witness.

Mr. German: I designedly avoided making suggestion of the—signifying the matter to which I referred to in order to keep from suggesting anything to the witness.

Q. Are you ready to answer the last question?

A. I didn't understand you.

Q. Please read the last question? (Question read.)

A. Well as I told you at first I didn't remember the exact date when I married; I don't remember it today.

Q. Did you at any time that you were rooming at Granny Letcher's undertake to determine who the members of her family were? A. I knowed three, yes, sir, there was.

Q. Just answer my question. Now see if you understand it. I want to be fair with you. I want to know if at any time while you were living at Granny Letcher's rooming there, it occurred to you to find out the members of her family?

A. Well I know the members of the family as far as they told me, I knew them.

Q. Did it occur to you—Now see if you understand this question. Did it occur to you at the time while you were rooming there—not now, but during the few months that you were rooming there in '84 or '85, did it occur to you then to ascertain who the members of the family were?

A. I think it did.

Q. When did it occur to you?

A. When I was staying there.

Q. When you first went there or afterwards?

A. After I went there.

Q. How long after you went there before you determined to find out who the members of her family were?

A. I don't know how long I had been there.

Q. What caused you while you were living there to think it was important to find out who the members of her family were?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as argumentative.

A. If you go to a family you would want to know who the family was, wouldn't you?

Q. I am asking you what caused you?

A. Well, nothing caused me in particular.

Q. But you do state to the Court that while you were there you thought it was necessary to find out who the members of her family were, is that right?

A. Well, I don't understand that very well.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You say that Granny moved up on Deleware street first? A. I think she did, I won't say for sure.

Q. You remember how long she stayed there?

A. No, sir, I don't. She either moved up there—I know it was either her moved up there at the time, or Jim; one of the two moved up there; I thought, though, that Jim moved up there and she went on to Seneca Street; Jim run a kind of a restaurant there.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. What is your nationality, race or color?

A. Why I am a negro they call it.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Laura Thomas, taken before Mr. Penick appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 2785.

And thereupon, LAURA THOMAS being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. State your name and place of residence.

Q. Laura Thomas. I live in Luray, Kansas.

Q. How old are you?

A. I was born in 1865, the 25th day of December, 1865.

Q. Laura, did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. I was bred and born there.

Q. Were you reared there? A. Sir?

Q. Were you reared there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you leave there? How old were you when you left there?

A. When I left Leavenworth?

Q. Yes? A. Oh I had been married when I left there.

Q. You left there after you were grown? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know a colored woman named Molly Letcher or Granny Letcher? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did she live when you first knew her in Leavenworth?

A. She lived down on Cherokee Street between Second and Third.

Q. Between Second and Third? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On which side of the street?

A. On that side of the street in a frame house.

Q. Which is that side, south or north?

A. I can't tell over here.

Q. Well did she live on the south side of the street or north side of the street?

A. She lived on that side of the street.

Q. Well that is south, isn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Cruce: We object as leading.

Mr. Hanford: Object to as leading.

A. It was on the south side of the street I think.

Mr. Allen: We think the record ought to show in view of the record of counsel that she pointed south.

A. It was on that side of the street. On account of being turned around here——

Mr. Cruce: She is pointing east.

Q. Did you go to her house any when she was living on Cherokee Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Very often? A. Well I was there quite often.

Q. Did she move off of that street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where to?

A. Well she moved from there up on Seneca between Second and Third.

Q. Between Second and Third on Seneca?

A. Yes, sir. And that was on that side of the street.

Q. The same side of the street that she had lived on down on Cherokee?

A. Yes, sir, it was that side of the street.

Q. Do you know where Crilly's barn was up there?

A. It was right across the street from Crilly's barn.

Q. Did you go to her house any after she moved to Seneca Street? A. I lived there.

Q. You lived there? A. Yes.

Q. When did you commence living there?

A. Well I will tell you I just can't tell, when I commenced living there. I can't keep a date or anything like that.

Q. Well how came you to commence living there?

A. How come me to commence living there?

Q. Yes?

A. Well I just went up there and got a bedroom and commenced living there——

Q. Got a room?

A. Yes, sir, and commenced living there.

Q. How long had she lived on Seneca Street when you commenced living there?

A. Well she hadn't been up there very long when I went up there. She had flowers and everything out like that.

Q. Was that the first flowers she had put out after she had moved up there? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: We object to the knowledge of the witness, leading the witness. It is not shown that she knows.

Q. Did you visit her house up there after she moved on Seneca Street before you went to living with her?

A. No, sir.

Q. When you first went there then after she moved on Seneca you began to live with her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know Dan Hudson? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was he living?

A. He lived there. That was my husband.

Q. That was your husband? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you marry him before or after she moved up to Seneca Street?

A. I married him after, Charley Hudson.

Q. Charley Hudson, was it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What? A. His name was Charley Hudson.

Q. Were you around her house after she moved on to Seneca Street before the time when you married Charley? Did you go up there to see her any before you married Charley? After she moved on Seneca?

A. I was there once or twice but I didn't stay but just a little while.

Q. How did you happen now before you married Charley how did you happen to go to her house? What did you go there for? A. What did I go there for?

Q. Yes? A. Why my husband was there.

Q. I am speaking of before you married him, how came you to go there?

A. Why he told me to come up there. He wanted to see me.

Q. Well would you just go up there to see him?

A. Yes, I would go up there to see him. Of course Molly and him were all there together. We called her Granny.

Q. What were you going to say about Granny?

A. I say I just went up there to see Granny you know and my husband was there.

Q. You mean your sweetheart, don't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Before you married him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did they have any parties or socials up there?

Mr. Hanford: I object as leading.

Mr. Blakeney: I object to that as leading.

A. Why they didn't have any parties that I know of. Only our family folks you know, like I would go to your house or something like that.

Q. Did they have any singings?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

Mr. Blakeney: Object to it as leading.

A. On sometimes.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. Sometimes Sam and Jim was there. That was her son.

Q. Jim who? A. Jim Mayo.

Q. And Sam who? A. Sam Nash.

Q. Were they members of her family? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know a boy by the name of Walter or Walter Banks? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did he live? A. Lived there.

Q. When did you commence living at Granny's house with reference to the time when you got married to Charley?

A. We commenced living there right away.

Q. After you married did you live at your house any, your father's? A. I went out to my father's house.

Q. How long did you stay?

A. I can't tell just how long. Been so long ago I can't tell but I stayed out to my father's quite a while.

Q. Well about how long? A. I can't say.

Q. One month, two months, three months, a year, or what?

A. No, we didn't stay out there—— About a month. Something like that, at my father's and then we came back to Molly's.

Q. How long then did you live at Molly's?

A. Well I stayed at Granny's all that summer and all that winter.

Q. Then where did you go to? A. Where did I go to?

Q. Yes? A. I went up to Fourth and Seneca.

Q. Were you back at Granny's any more?

A. Oh, yes, I used to go down there all the time. I used to go down there every day.

Q. Were you around there—— When you were down there would you go through her house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Would you see the people that were around there?

A. Well most in general. Most in general I would go down and see anybody that was around, anything like that.

Q. Do you know who lived in her house regularly? Do you know the names of the people who did?

A. Well some I do and some I don't.

Q. All right, tell us now the names of the people who lived with her regularly while you knew her.

A. While I knew her?

Q. Yes?

A. Well Mrs. Scott lived there with her family. A woman lived there name of Mary.

Q. Mary—Molly or Mary Ford?

A. I don't know what Mary's last name was. Worked up at the Delmonico Hotel.

Q. Mary Anthony?

Mr. Cruce: Don't lead the witness please.

Q. Go ahead? A. And Jim.

Q. Mayo?

A. Yes, sir. I didn't keep track very well you know. In a rooming house you can't run through everybody's room and see who everybody is like that.

Q. Did you know all of the children that she had living with her? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as calling for a conclusion of the witness, and move to strike the answer which was made before my objection could be stated after hearing the question.

Q. During all the time that you knew her and were around her house was there any child there by the name of Indian Tommy or Tommy Atkins? A. I don't know.

Q. If there was did you know anything about it?

A. No, sir. I don't know anything about that woman or that child.

Q. When you say that woman, do you mean Minnie Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew of no woman there by the name of Minnie Atkins?

A. No, sir, I didn't know nobody by that name there at that time you are all talking about.

Q. If there had been any such woman there would you have known it?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as calling for a conclusion and opinion of the witness, leading and incompetent.

Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as calling for a conclusion of the witness and incompetent.

Mr. Cruce: Objected to as calling for a conclusion.

A. Yes, sir, if there had been a woman there I would have known it.

Q. If there had been any boy there by the name of Indian Tommy or Tommy Atkins would you have known it?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and asking for a conclusion.

Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. Yes, sir, I would have known it.

Q. Was there any boy there younger than Walter Banks?

Mr. Blakeney: We object to the competency of the witness.

A. Why, yes, there was a child there younger than Tommy Atkins along——

Q. Younger than who?

Mr. Cruce: Tommy Atkins she said.

Q. What did you say? A. Now listen.

Q. I want to question this witness. I protest against interruption.

A. Now listen here. There was a child there—— It was my sister's baby and he was six weeks old.

Q. He was younger than what child?

A. My sister's baby was there and he was six weeks old.

Q. Now he was younger than what child?

Mr. Blakeney: I would like for the Court to read—

Mr. German: I admit that the witness inadvertently used the name Thomas Atkins.

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out counsel's statement as not being under oath as to whether it was inadvertently or not and I object now to this method of cross-examination and browbeating the witness.

Mr. German: I move to strike the last statement of counsel as purely improper and not called for by any condition existing. I ask that the Examiner read the witness's answer wherein she used the word Thomas Atkins so that I may ask her again about it.

Mr. Blakeney: I object to the Examiner reading the answer to the witness in order that counsel might ask her questions when counsel shows in his request that he knows what the witness testified to.

Mr. German: I will withdraw that request and ask her a question.

Q. Laura, a moment ago you said that there was a child there younger than Thomas Atkins, that it was named—that it was your sister's baby? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now did you know any child there by the name of Thomas Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. What boy did you refer to when you used the name Thomas Atkins?

A. Listen. The only child there was there when I was there was my sister's baby was there. She was six weeks old. her name is Annie Nelson now. She has been married. That was the only baby was there and this Walter—Walter Banks was the next biggest child there and that is the only small children around there at the time. Now I don't understand this court or anything like that.

Mr. Blakeney: I object to the statement of the witness as not responsive.

Mr. Allen: Let her go ahead and finish that.

Q. When you used the word Thomas Atkins a while ago and you said that the only child there younger than Thomas Atkins did you mean to use the words Thomas Atkins?

A. No, sir.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to.

Q. What did you mean to say?

A. I meant to say my sister's baby and you all were talking to me about this Thomas, and you all talking to me about this Atkins woman and got that on me here and I don't know the woman. I never seen the woman or the baby in Granny Letcher's house.

Mr. Allen: We want to enter our protest against the action of counsel representing Henry Carter, Minnie Atkins and Charles Page, each in a threatening manner, jumping at this witness.

Mr. Cruce: I want to state to the counsel that unless a man is crazy he wouldn't jump at this witness.

Mr. Blakeney: I want to examine the witness first because I want to draw out some matters that the probabilities are that Mr. Hanford and Mr. Cruce will desire to cross-examine her on. If counsel, however, objects I am willing that they proceed first.

Mr. Hanford: I would like to proceed first with the witness.

Mr. Cruce: I am willing for you to go ahead.

Mr. German: I want to put this in the record. I object to Mr. Blakeney's examining her or cross-examining her at all unless he is going to make her his witness.

Mr. Blakeney: I will yield to Mr. Hanford.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. What was your name when you married Dan Hudson? A. My name was Lottie Olden.

Q. How do you spell Olden? A. Olden.

Q. A-l-d-e-n? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your father had a place out side of Leavenworth at that time? A. Had a place at 917 Cherokee Street.

Q. 917 Cherokee Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was it that you went to live with Dan, as you call him, when you first married?

A. I wasn't living with him.

Q. Well when you married him where did you go to live first? A. Went out to my mother's.

Q. Where is that? A. Out on Cherokee Street.

Q. Way out west? A. Yes, sir, it was out that way.

Q. Way out toward the end of Cherokee?

A. Yes, sir, 917.

Q. 917 Cherokee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You went there when you were first married to him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you married?

A. I was married at the courthouse in Leavenworth, Kansas, and Judge Hawn married us.

Q. And how long did you stay out there?

A. I think we stayed out there about two weeks. I don't know how long we did stay, been so long. We didn't stay out there.

Q. You remember whether it was a long time?

A. Not a very long time, maybe longer, something like that. But we came back to Molly's to stay. We went out to Molly's you know. It was very satisfactory you know so we came back up to Molly Letcher's.

Q. After you came back there to Molly Letcher's house how long did you continue to live together?

A. Oh we stayed at Molly's all that summer and all that winter.

Q. All that summer and all that winter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So that it was about six months?

A. Longer than that because when I went there she was putting out the flowers in her yard and the flowers bloomed and I stayed there all that winter. The next following spring me and my husband parted.

Q. You say that she was putting out flowers? That would be the springtime?

A. Yes, sir. It was spring.

Q. And you were there all the rest of that spring?

A. Yes, there all that summer.

Q. All the summer? A. Yes, I stayed all the summer.

Q. And fall?

A. And stayed there all that winter, and next.

Q. So you were there about nine months or the best part of a year?

A. Oh, more than a year. I was there more than a year.

Q. With Dan? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You and Dan had a quarrel and separated?

A. We had a room upstairs and lived there.

Q. And lived there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then you separated? A. Yes, we separated.

Q. Did you leave him or did he leave you?

A. I left him.

Q. You left him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you went away from Molly Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And where did you go?

A. Well I went down on Cherokee Street.

Q. Now was this woman there that you spoke of, this Mary, was she there while you were there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. In the same house?

A. They had two rooms off on the porch back that way and Mrs. Scott and them all worked up at the Delmonico Hotel.

Q. And were you living with Dan at that time?

A. Yes, sir, I was living upstairs but Mrs. Scott and Mary Anthony and their children had two rooms back and I seen Mary and I seen the folks every day you know.

Q. Who was living at Granny's first? Were you living there?

A. I wasn't there when Mrs. Scott moved up there. Mrs. Scott lost her husband and then she moved up there and brought her children.

Q. And how long had you been living there when they came.

A. Well, Mister, I just can't tell you how long because I didn't keep no dates or anything like that about the time.

Q. Well do you remember how long you stayed at Granny's after they left?

A. After Mrs. Scott and them left?

Q. Yes?

A. Oh I stayed there a long time after they left.

Q. So they came there then not very long after you went to Granny's? A. Mrs. Scott?

Q. Yes?

A. Yes, they came there while our garden was coming up you know, something like that, and they stayed there until it commenced to get cold, along in the fall.

Q. In the winter or fall? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Didn't they come up there when they got burned out down at the——

A. I don't know anything about it.

Q. You don't recollect?

A. Well I don't know how come them to come, nothing like that. I just know they moved up there—because when I came home——

Q. Now did you ever leave there? You didn't live there before you went there to live with Dan at Granny's house?

A. No, sir.

Q. That was when you first went to living at Granny's?

A. When we were up on Seneca Street?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember anybody else that lived at Granny's besides those people? A. Who?

Q. The six and that Mary?

A. I know lots of people that used to live there outside of me and my husband.

Q. Who were some of those people?

A. Well Nettie lived there and Belle lived there and then I had my sister there.

Q. What was her name?

A. My sister's named Annie Nelson now.

Q. Annie Nelson? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did she live there?

A. I don't know just how long. I took her up there. She was sick.

Q. Do you remember anybody else?

A. That has been so long, really I just can't remember.

Q. Well Granny had boarders, didn't she?

A. Yes, sir. And they was in and out. In and out all the time you know, and my sister was there too with the child, and I don't just remember how many roomers and everything was up there.

Q. You say you don't know all the people or children or anything else that were around there all the time that you were there?

A. Well I know about all the children because Walter waited on me a good deal, Walter Banks.

Q. How big a boy was Walter?

A. Walter was about that high.

Q. Good sized boy?

A. Yes, sir. He could run to the grocery and places, you know, and to get milk for my sister and I washed down stairs you know, and this here Scott, Mrs. Scott's children was good sized children, you know. I don't know just their age but they were big enough to run around, you know, and take care of themselves. Stay there all day by themselves.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. What did you say your name was at that time? The time you lived at Granny Letcher's?

Mr. German: Let the record show that we object to any other counsel by the allied defendants cross-examining this witness.

Mr. Cruce: We are not allied. He is our enemy.

Mr. Blakeney: I would like to let the record show that the Government with two attorneys aided by the assistance of Judge John B. Meserve and two detectives spent months looking up this case and now object to my representing my client by asking any question of a witness that takes the stand.

Mr. German: We don't object to counsel examining them if he is the sole cross-examiner.

Mr. Blakeney: I have nothing to do with the other gentlemen and can't govern their examinations.

Mr. Hanford: Counsel for complainant brought the suit and made the parties to the suit. Parties defendant are those that are made by the bill of complaint.

Q. What did you say was your name before you went to live with——

A. Before I married Charles Hudson?

Q. Yes? A. My name was Lottie Olden.

Q. Olden? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Counsel asked you if you had gone up there to dances, gone up to parties or singings at Granny Letcher's. You went up to Granny Letcher's to drink beer and to sleep with Hudson, didn't you?

A. No, sir, no, sir. I never slept with that man until I was married to him.

Q. Did you go up there with other men? A. No, sir.

Q. You never did? A. No, sir.

Q. Then what were you doing when you went up there?

A. When I went up to Molly Letcher's I visited her like you would go to see your mother and your sister and treated everybody nice and sat down and went on back home. And this man took me back home.

Q. Was he your mother or sister?

A. No, sir, but Charley boarded with this woman. He boarded with this woman.

Q. At that time you were what is known as a chipey or prostitute?

A. No, sir, I wasn't a chipey and wasn't a prostitute. I was living at home with my mother and father, Mary Olden.

Mr. Allen: We object to the question as insulting and to arouse the anger——

A. I was a young girl, quite young.

Q. You knew the character of Granny Letcher's place didn't you? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't?

A. Mister, I didn't know no more about that place than you know and I don't think you know.

Q. You know that place was regarded in Leavenworth as an assignation house?

A. I didn't know nothing about that place. The first time I went in that woman's house I was a young girl. I didn't know nothing about the place at all.

Q. When was the first time that you went in it?

A. I went down to the hall one night, down to the Benevolence Hall and to the church and I came over and set down there.

Q. Who did you go with?

A. Oh, I went with a woman named James Caney Hoy. They were older than I was. My father came down there after me and whipped me and took me home.

Q. Your father came and whipped you for going there?

A. Yes, sir. He met me on the street.

Q. He told you what kind of place it was, didn't he?

A. My father didn't tell me nothing because he didn't allow us to go away from home. We kinda lived out in the country like and when we came to town and came into the hall if we got a chance we run off like anybody would. Somebody say, come on, and I came on and went.

Q. You run off to Granny Letcher's?

A. I run off down there.

Q. Is that the only time that you were ever down there?

A. That was the only time I was ever down there.

Q. Before you married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I am just trying to get track that you ran off and went to a place on Cherokee Street?

A. We were on Cherokee Street between Fourth and Fifth, right across from the Continental Hotel where we went to the lodge meeting.

Q. And you left? A. Went down the street to Molly's.

Q. Molly who?

A. Molly Letcher, we called her Granny.

Q. Where was Molly Letcher at that time living?

A. Down on Cherokee Street.

Q. And you met Hudson there? A. Did I?

Q. Yes? A. I seen him before I went down there.

Q. You went down there because Hudson was there?

A. No, I didn't say that.

Q. Well I——

A. I said I seen him before I went there.

Q. You saw him before you went? A. Yes.

Q. Did you go with him?

A. No, I went down there with Jane, Kate and Ada.

Q. Well did he go? A. He was down there.

Q. He was down there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You saw him down there and you went down there to see him, is that right?

A. I didn't go particularly to see him but the girls asked me to go and of course I went down there.

Q. What girls?

A. Jane and Ada. He was kinda my beau you know and went to see him.

Q. Jane who? A. Jane Cain and Ada Rowl.

Q. Jane and Ada? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Colored girls?

A. Yes, sir. We were all raised up together there in Leavenworth.

Q. Who were they?

A. Friends of ours, raised up together there in Leavenworth?

Q. When you got down there who did you find?

A. Lots of people down there.

Q. What?

A. Lots of people down there. Sadie Harris and her mother lived down there.

Q. Sadie Harris? Is that Sadie James now?

A. Yes, Sadie James now.

Q. She was there?

A. Yes, sir, she and her mother lived there.

Q. Who else? A. I can't tell you who all were there.

Q. Any men there? A. Yes, sir, a house full of men.

Q. A man for each of the women?

A. I don't know but we seen them all in there you know. We were out like that would be that room——

Q. You were not in the room where the crowd was?

A. No, sir.

Q. You went into another room?

A. We were right back—young girls like.

Q. Who is we? A. Jane Kane and Ada Bowl (or Howl).

Q. And you three girls were in the back room?

A. We were all sitting back there; went down there and we sat back there and talked and Granny was talking to us and she called Dan.

Q. Were you in the same room with the crowd?

A. No, sir, we didn't go in the room with the crowd.

Q. You were in a back room? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who else was back there besides you three girls?

A. Me and Ada and Jane and Granny and Granny sent and got Charley; Charley was my beau.

Q. Then you sent and got Charley? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was Charley?

A. He was back over in that other room.

Q. He was where?

A. He was back over in the other room with the people.

Q. He was in the room with the crowd of people?

A. Yes, sir; we didn't go in there, you know; because I wasn't allowed in such places as that, you know; down town like that.

Q. What was the matter with the place?

A. I don't know. Anything like that, my father was very strict on us, and he didn't allow us to go down town. I was going to school.

Q. You were going to school at this particular time?
A. Yes, sir, I was going to the highschool.
Q. Did Hudson come back? A. Sir?
Q. Did your sweetheart come back?
A. Yes, sir, he come back.
Q. When he got back, what did you do?
A. He just talked to me and took me on back up to the hall.
Q. Where did you go when you got up to the hall?
A. He took me back up to the hall and stopped at the steps and talked a few minutes and I went in up.
Q. You stayed there in that room and did your talking, did you?
A. Yes, sir, just like we all sitting right here, and we were sitting there talking and Charley told me something, and I said I could——
Q. Charley told you something? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What did he tell you?
A. That got anything to do with this case?
Q. I don't know; I will see; what was it he told you?
A. He made a date with me.
Q. Made a date with you? A. Yes, sir.
Q. When was the date made for?
A. He told me to meet him on Sunday night.
Q. Sunday night? A. Yes, sir.
Q. He made the date with you for Sunday night?

Mr. German: I object to this as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. Charlie was my beau. That hasn't got anything to do with this case, has it? That is all, there was improper, anything like that, about it.
Q. Why do you object to me examining you about if there was nothing improper?
A. You can examine me, ask me any question you want to. I wouldn't done anything wrong, because I was a girl then.
Q. When did you commence doing wrong?
A. After I married Charley Hudson.
Q. After that you got to be rather notorious, didn't you?
A. Well, do you see anything notorious about me? Have you heard anything notorious about me?
Q. I am not testifying; I am asking you.
A. Well, I am asking you.

Mr. Germain: I object to the question on the ground that it is not justified by anything that the witness has stated, and is an improper question.

A. I don't understand court.

Mr. German: And is immaterial evidence.

Q. Well, I believe I asked you if after that, if you didn't come to be a sort of notorious girl around there, around town.

Mr. German: I object as incompetent and immaterial.

A. No, sir.
Q. You didn't?
A. No sir; I didn't. When I married Charley Hudson I lived like a woman and I have lived ever since——
Q. You have always lived like——
A. I have always tried to live like a woman and tried to be a woman and what I do I am not ashamed for you or anybody to see, and where they came and get me out here in Kansas, they can prove my record and everything else.
Q. You stuck a knife in Charley, didn't you? A. Who?
Q. You? A. No.
Q. Didn't you stick a knife in Charley?
A. No, Emma Woods did.
Q. Who was Emma Woods?
A. One of his old sweethearts; I didn't see it, I heard it.
Q. Didn't he leave you on account of your sticking a knife in him? A. I told you.
Q. Answer it yes, or no, didn't he leave you because you stuck a knife in him? A. No, sir.
Q. Didn't you want some money to go to St. Joe?
A. No, sir.
Q. And asked him for it and he didn't give it to you?
A. No, sir.
Q. And you stuck a knife in him? A. No, sir.

Mr. German: I object.

A. If my father was here I could tell you.

Mr. German: I object to this as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and improper cross-examination.

A. No, sir, I can't tell you.
Q. Now how long after this first time that you were with Charley was it before you saw him again?
A. Me and my husband, when I left Charley——
Q. No, I am talking about before you married Charley, you saw Charley the first time after you run away from the lodge? A. Oh, I would see him every day.
Q. Saw him every Sunday, did you?
A. Yes, I would see him nearly all the time.

Q. Charley worked nearly all day, didn't he?

A. Sometimes he was on day watch and sometimes on night watch. When he was on day watch I would see him at night, and when he was on nights I would go up there to Lige Myers and see him, that was the man he worked for.

Q. Now, how long was it after this first trip that you went up to Granny's place before you married him?

A. How long before I went up to Granny's.

Q. No, how long was it after you ran away from the lodge and went up to Granny's to see Charlie, was it before you married Charley?

A. We were down to the lodge on Tuesday night, and I met him on Sunday night and the next following week I followed him up there.

Q. Came up where?

A. Came up where I was working; he told me to come home tonight, I was a young girl, and I said all right I will be home; I always called him dad, I said, I will be home tonight, Dad, and I didn't know what was going on, so he goes to work——

Q. Is this answering the question I asked you, how long it was from that time that you run away from the lodge to see Charley until you married Charley?

A. Well I guess it was about two weeks, two weeks before we married.

Q. And after your marriage you went up to live at Granny's? A. I went out home.

Q. Did you go home first?

A. Yes, sir, my father took us and made us marry, my father made Charley Hudson marry me.

Q. What for? A. What for.

Q. What did your father make Charley marry you for?

A. I don't know; I guess because he did mean and ugly.

Q. That is the only answer you have now?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now after you married Charley did you live at Granny's, or at home? A. No, sir, I went out home.

Q. And how long did you stay home?

A. Oh, I stayed out there two weeks or more; it has been so long I don't remember just how long I did stay home.

Q. About how many times did you see Charley from the time you ran away from the lodge until you married him?

A. Well it was the first of the week, and then you know I seen him the next Sunday night.

Q. The next Sunday night?

A. And then the next following week father made him marry me.

Q. Had you ever stayed all night now at Granny Letcher's up to that time? A. No, sir.

Q. You had never been to Granny Letcher's but twice?

A. No, sir, I just went down there that night with Jane and them; I never stayed down there, anything like that; I never stayed with Charley until we were married.

Q. And you hadn't been to Granny Letcher's now but the one time before you were married? A. Just that night.

Q. Now then, after you were married you went out to your own father's place and stayed two weeks and then came back?

A. I don't know; it might have been longer than that.

Q. Well about two weeks, and then you came back to Granny's?

A. Yes, sir, I told them I wouldn't live out there.

Q. And you came back to Granny's?

A. Yes, and lived at Molly's.

Q. Please answer yes or no? A. Yes, sir.

Q. After you came back to Granny's you stayed there during the day time as well as at night?

A. I stayed there all the time.

Q. Well, after you were married you were not working, were you?

A. No, sir; after I was married my husband didn't allow me to work for a while.

Q. For a while you weren't working? A. No, sir.

Q. You stayed about the place day and night?

A. Yes, sir, I was there during the day and during the night just like you would be home.

Q. Just like any other married woman would stay in her place?

A. Yes, sir, after I was first married I didn't work out for a long time.

Q. Who was at Granny Letcher's during that time?

A. Who was there?

Q. Yes?

A. Sam, and Arch and Walter and Jim. Jim was her boy, Jim Mayo, that was supposed to be her boy. I don't know nothing about who alls you know.

Q. Well, was these Scott's there? A. Who?

Q. Scotts?

A. No, sir, they hadn't come up there then.

Q. How long were you there before they came?

A. Well, a long while.

Q. Well, about how long?

A. Well, I don't know just how long; I never kept no tab about anything like that, like I do now.

Q. Did you say when Mr. Hanford was examining you that you were there a month of more?

A. Before the Scotts came.

Q. Yes?

A. I think it was about November; we were planting flowers and things outside.

Q. You have no special reason for guessing the exact time?

A. Yes; listen, I never kept no time of nothing, I didn't have to keep no time on nothing.

Q. Your best recollection is it was about a month?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who came when the Scott's came?

A. When the Scotts moved up there?

Q. Yes? A. Mary Anthony.

Q. Who else?

A. That is all, Mrs. Scott's children.

Q. Mrs. Scott and her husband came?

A. Mrs. Scott's husband was dead.

Q. Mrs. Scott and her children came? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Mary Anthony came?

A. Yes, sir; they all worked up there at the Delmonico Hotel.

Q. Now, at that time Mayo was living with Belle, was he?

A. Yes, sir, upstairs.

Q. Was Belle related to the Anthony woman?

A. That was Jim Mayo's woman.

Q. Who was Jim Mayo's woman?

A. You asked me who was up there, and I said Belle Wright.

Q. Belle Wright was Jim Mayo's woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was you striking at, me or the stenographer, when you waved your arm around that way? A. This way?

Q. Yes?

A. I didn't strike at nobody; I didn't strike at nobody.

Q. Now, was there any other woman there besides those that you have named?

A. Mister, I want to tell you it was a rooming house and they were in and out and I didn't pay no attention much to came in and went out.

Q. Did this Anthony woman have a little girl there?

A. Yes, she had a little girl, a great big child.

Q. How big?

A. Well, it was a pretty good sized child, big enough to walk around and suck a bottle.

Q. Suck what? A. Suck a bottle.

Q. Big enough to walk around and suck a bottle?

A. Yes, sir, Mary Anthony's child.

Q. Didn't somebody keep that child there before Mary Anthony came up there?

A. No, sir, not that I know of; I don't know what Granny done before I went up there.

Q. Not before you went up but before Mary came up?

A. If Granny had that child there I didn't see it. When the Scotts moved in there they all come in together.

Q. The first time you saw the child there was when the Scott's moved in there?

A. Yes, sir. And listen, when the Scott's moved in there they had been there a week before I seen them.

Q. Now, who else was there then when these Anthony's moved in there—when Mary Anthony moved in there, any other woman?

A. I was there, and Belle was there.

Q. I mean other than those two that you named?

A. Listen, I didn't run all over the house to see who was in that rooming house.

Q. Now do you know what year that was?

A. Well, Mister, really I can't tell; it has been so long, you know, and I have been away from there.

Q. It has been about 26 years ago, hasn't it?

A. Yes, sir, longer than that.

Q. Longer than that?

A. Yes, sir, because I ain't been to Leavenworth for 30 years.

Q. You haven't been to Leavenworth?

A. For 30 years. Molly Letcher, and Jim and all of them died since I left there.

Q. You haven't been to Leavenworth for 30 years?

A. I haven't been to Leavenworth for 30 years.

Q. How long did you live in Leavenworth after you separated from Scott? A. Charley?

Q. Charley Hudson?

A. I stayed there about a week after that and I went to Colorado Springs.

Q. And you went to Colorado Springs? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say about 30 years; has it been more than 30 years since you went to Leavenworth?

A. No, I think it has been about 30 years.

Q. Just about? A. Yes, sir.

And thereupon adjournment was had until 9:30 o'clock A. M.

And thereafter and on April 8, 1916, at 9:30 o'clock A. M. further testimony herein was taken as follows:

And thereupon the witness under examination at the adjournment yesterday afternoon, being recalled, further testified as follows:

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Laura, have you seen anybody that is connected with this case since the adjournment last night?

A. No, sir, I haven't.

Q. Haven't seen anybody?

A. No, sir; I went home and went to bed last night, didn't go out anywhere.

Q. Didn't go anywhere last night?

A. No, sir, I haven't seen anybody at all connected with this case.

Q. I believe the last question I asked you yesterday was how long it has been since you had separated from your husband and left Leavenworth, and you stated, I believe, about 30 or 31 years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you any way of fixing the time?

A. No, sir, I haven't, it has been so long.

Q. Just a mere matter of memory?

A. Yes, sir, it has been so long since I have been to Leavenworth.

Q. What year is this? A. This is 1906.

Q. 1906? A. Yes, sir, now?

Q. Yes? A. This is 1906.

Q. 1906? A. Yes.

Q. What month is it? A. April.

Q. April? A. Yes, sir.

Q. April, 1906? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then if you separated 30 years ago you separated in 1876?

A. Along somewhere about that time. Of course, if Judge Harn was along I could know better.

Q. Judge Harn?

A. Judge Harn, that is the man that married me in Leavenworth, and I could tell better.

Q. You was only married about a year?

A. We was married quite a while, and stayed around at Molly's.

Q. Well, I understood you to put it about 10 months when you were being examined by Mr. Hanford, is that right?

A. What is that?

Q. Didn't you say that you had lived with your husband about 10 months?

A. I told you yesterday that I lived with my husband, in planting the flowers, I lived there all that summer and lived there that winter.

Q. Well, you planted flowers the first few months you were married? A. Yes, we were up at Molly's.

Q. You didn't plant any flowers the last months you were married, did you? A. No, sir.

Q. You were breaking crockery over each other's head?

A. How is that?

Q. You were breaking crockery over each other's head?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't do anything like that?

A. No, sir, we never had any quarrels, me and my husband didn't.

Q. I want to get that right in your mind now, the best I can. I wish you would think and tell me about how long you had been married when Mary Anthony came up there to live at Granny Letcher's?

A. Well, when Mary Anthony came up there I had been there quite a while you know, and Mrs. Scott she came there with the Scott's folks; I had been there quite a while; I can't tell you dates, you know, nor anything like that.

Q. And you lived with your husband then how long after Mary Anthony came?

A. Well we stayed there—they moved away.

Q. Mary Anthony moved away?

A. Mrs. Scott, and Mary Anthony and all moved away.

Q. And how long did you stay there after they moved away? A. I stayed there all that winter.

Q. That winter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, when did the Anthony's come?

A. Well, they came along in the spring, when we were planting flowers, and things like that.

Q. Well then they came about the same time you did, you came there in the spring, you said? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So they came about the same time you did?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was these flowers being planted; in the house or——

A. Oh, no, out in the grounds, in the yard; you know how they plant flowers in the ground. Of course, I will tell you Mister, when I went there, Molly, like in the spring of the year, they were planting flower gardens and things like that, and we planted our flowers out there, and we always called Molly Granny.

Q. Well then, Mary got there before you got done planting flowers, didn't she?

A. No, they came right in I guess a week or so after.

Q. And they stayed there then along——

A. Along until it commenced to get cold weather.

Q. They stayed there until winter time?

A. No, along about cold weather.

Q. What time do you call cold weather, cold enough to freeze water? A. We began carrying out coats.

Q. Until it got fall or winter?

A. And Mrs. Scott moved away then.

Q. And Mary lived with her?

A. They all went together.

Q. Did the baby go? A. What baby.

Q. Mary Anthony's baby?

A. They all moved together when they went away.

Q. Mary had her baby?

A. They was all living there together. Mary stayed with Mrs. Scott.

Q. The question was did Mary take her baby off with her?

A. Yes, sir, they all moved together when they went away; moved to South Leavenworth.

Q. You are sure now that the baby didn't stay there after Mary left? A. No, sir.

Q. And you are sure that the baby wasn't there before Mary came? A. No, they all moved there together.

Q. They all moved there together?

A. Yes, just like a family, you know; colored people moving to a place, they all come in together you see, and they all worked at the same place, Mrs. Scott and her daughter, and Mary Anthony; I don't know whether she was an orphan girl or not. They all moved in together and brought Ada there with her.

Q. Yetta? A. Yetta, a little child of Mary Anthony's.

Q. Yetta? A. Yetta.

Q. I believe you said Sadie James was living there at Granny's? A. Who?

Q. Sadie James? A. Sadie Harris.

Q. Sadie Harris?

A. Yes. Well, she was married to Scott.

Q. Yes, she was married, but she had lived there?

A. Well, she lived on Cherokee Street with Granny.

Q. On Cherokee Street with Granny?

A. She didn't live up there on Seneca, not as I know of; she was not living up on Seneca with Granny.

Q. Well, you didn't know anything about who was living with Granny down on Cherokee? A. No, sir.

Q. All you know is what you have heard since?

A. No, sir.

Q. You——

A. I know that Sadie lived there with Granny.

Q. How do you know it? A. Because I went down there.

Q. On Cherokee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go down to Granny's on Cherokee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you happen to go down there?

A. Well, we were at the hall one night, pavilion, the Netherland's Hall, one night, and we went down there to Granny's.

Q. Who went down there with you at that time?

Mr. Allen: We want to the cross examination of this witness by counsel representing interests allied with the interests represented by other counsel who have cross examined the witness on questions this witness has been cross examined about. I want to state now in the record that the object of the prolonged examination of this witness is to prevent the Government from taking the testimony of other witnesses now in attendance, and we are going to insist on a night session being held so that these witnesses may be examined before adjournment. We would like to inquire now of counsel if that is the object.

Mr. Blakeney: I have no objection to a night session, if counsel wants it. The object is to let the court see this witness as we see her.

A. Jane Cain and Ada Hoy, two sisters.

Q. You went from the hall?

A. Yes, sir, we went from the hall..

Q. And that is where you saw Charley?

A. We went from the hall down to Molly's.

Q. Then you saw Charley down there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, was that on Cherokee Street, or Seneca Street?

A. That was on Cherokee Street, on that side of the street between 2nd and 3rd.

Q. Then, if you said in your examination yesterday that you went up to Granny's on Seneca Street from the hall, to see Charley——

A. No, I didn't say no such thing.

Q. If you did say it you were mistaken?

A. I didn't say no such thing. The man has got the statement written down there. You know what I said yesterday.

Q. Now, let's see then; you went down to visit Granny when she was living on Cherokee Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was on Tuesday night? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you made a date with Charley for the next Sunday? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And during the week you and Charley were married?

A. No, I didn't say that.

Q. What did you say?

A. I said I went down there to meet him on Sunday night.

Q. Yes? A. We wasn't married that week.

Q. Oh, you wasn't married that week?

A. No, we wasn't married that week.

Q. Then if you said you were married that week, you didn't tell the truth about it?

A. I didn't say no such thing; we wasn't married that week. We wasn't married until the fourth of March.

Mr. Allen: I want to protest against counsel stating in his questions as a fact things about which this witness has not testified.

Mr. Blakeney: I will stake my right arm on the statement that she said the week following that Sunday she was married.

Mr. Allen: She never stated that she went from that hall to Granny's house on Seneca Street, as your question a minute ago implied.

Mr. Blakeney: I said she said that, but she corrected that now and I am taking the question now.

Q. How long after this trip that you made down from the hall on Tuesday night was it until you married?

A. Well, I think it was about—say like it would be this week and then the next week, then my father came up there and made me marry this man. It had been about two weeks, I think.

Q. About two weeks?

A. Yes, I think it had been about two weeks; I just can't tell, it has been so long. I just can't tell you, no—if I had kept the records and everything like that I would have known. Of course you can get the records from Judge Harn of Leavenworth, where I was married at. I was married in the courthouse at Leavenworth, and he married me, and my father and my husband was there when I married.

Q. Was your husband there when you married?

A. Well, how do you think I would get married if he wasn't there, just ask me that, how do you think I could marry you and you'd be some place else?

Mr. Allen: We object to this manner of cross examination of this witness, and insist that counsel ask the witness proper questions, and that he proceed to conclude his examination.

Q. Now, I have it now that you went down from the hall to Granny's place on Tuesday? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And within two weeks of that time——

A. I was married.

Q. You were married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you married? What particular place were you married?

A. I was married in the courthouse at Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. In the courthouse? A. Judge Harn married me.

Q. And then you went from the court house to Granny's place?

A. I went from the courthouse to Molly Letcher's on Seneca Street.

Q. Molly then had moved in the meantime?

A. She had moved up there.

Q. Had moved from Cherokee Street to Seneca Street?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Had she moved anywhere else between that time?

A. No, sir, she moved from Seneca—from Cherokee up there.

Q. Up to Seneca Street?

A. Yes, sir, right across from Crilly's & Cranford's barn.

Q. Where she lived a great many years after that time?

A. Oh, she lived there a long time. I left from there.

Q. Now, you are sure about that?

A. Why sure I am sure.

Q. You are sure that that statement now——

A. I am sure of that statement. I left Molly Letcher's living on Seneca Street.

Q. I don't mean that. You are sure that you went down to Molly's place on Cherokee Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that within two weeks after that you were married? A. I was married.

Q. And you went to her place on Seneca Street?

A. She lived up there on Seneca Street.

Q. Just answer? Are you sure now of that statement?

A. Yes, sir, I am sure of that. Of course, if my father was here, or the judge he could tell you, either one.

Q. Your father attended the wedding?

A. My father was there with me, my father and Sallie, I believe that was all that was there when I was married, that was all there was there.

Q. Did you go up there with Sallie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did your father go with both of you?

A. We all three together, went from Lige Myers.

Q. You had what they call a military wedding, didn't you?

A. No, we didn't had what they call a military wedding; that doesn't look like a military wedding, does it; that doesn't look like a military wedding being married in the Justice of the Peace.

Q. Your father marched Charley up there with a gun, didn't he? A. No, no, sir, my father doesn't use a gun.

Q. How did your father make Charley marry you?

A. I don't know; if he was here he could tell you.

Q. Can't you tell me?

A. Why, no, I can't tell you.

Q. Then when you had been at Granny's a few months or a few weeks, I believe, Mary Anthony came there?

A. No, Mary Anthony didn't come, Mrs. Scott came.

Q. Well, Mrs. Scott?

A. Mrs. Scott came there and rented a room from Granny, two back rooms.

Q. And they lived in one, and they——

A. No, they all lived together, like a family.

Q. The Scott family? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You got married and went over to Granny's and stayed a short time and then went out to your father's place and stayed didn't you?

A. I stayed at my father's a little while after I was married.

Q. The first time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how long did you stay at your father's?

A. I don't know how long I stayed out there. I was out there quite a bit; I didn't like the country, you know, I didn't like it.

Q. Account too slow for you, wasn't it?

A. Yes, sir, like it would be for you; I came in town.

Q. You had had a taste of the lamplight of the city, hadn't you?

Mr. German: I object to that as improper cross examination, speculative and——

Q. Well, how long did you stay at your father's?

A. Well, I don't know just how long.

Q. Well, you stayed about two weeks, didn't you?

A. Two weeks or a little more. I don't know just how long, I was not keeping track of the time.

Q. I know, but you know whether it was two weeks or two months?

A. I don't think it was any two months, I didn't stay any two months.

Q. You didn't stay two months? A. No.

Q. Then your best judgment is it was about two weeks?

A. Yes, sir, about two weeks. We stayed out there and then we came back down to Molly's.

Q. Came back to Molly's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was the first time you had been to Molly's after you were married, wasn't it? A. No.

Q. Had you been to Molly's before that, after you married? A. I had been to Molly's down on Cherokee Street.

Q. And you were not married then?

A. No, sir, I wasn't married then, I was quite a girl then.

Q. Where was Lilly White living? A. Lilly White?

Q. Yes? A. I don't know her.

Q. You didn't [] Lilly?

A. No, sir, I didn't know anybody by the name of Lilly White.

Q. You never heard of Lilly White?

A. Never heard of her.

Q. Now, you knew Ida Foster? A. Who?

Q. Ida Foster, you knew Ida Foster, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you know her? A. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. You didn't know her before you were married?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. You knew Ida before you were married?

A. Yes, sir, she was a little girl.

Q. How big a girl?

A. Oh, she was a good sized girl, we all went to school together, Leavenworth school.

Q. She was about your age?

A. I guess she must be older than I am.

Q. She was older than you were? A. I guess she is.

Q. When you and Ida had gone to school, Ida was in the class above you? A. Oh, no.

Q. In your same class?

A. We all went to Della Armstead in the same class and we went to another woman, Malinda Montgomery.

Q. You both went to the same teachers?

A. And we passed out of this room to the next room, and we all went into the same class the next year.

Q. You and Ida went right through the classes together?

A. Me and Ida Foster went right through and on to the high school.

Q. Ida go to the high school with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Ida go through the high school?

A. I don't know whether she did or not.

Q. Did you?

A. No, sir, I didn't go through the high school.

Q. How far did you go in the school?

A. North Leavenworth School; I went to Professor Waldron.

Q. What grade did you finally finish?

A. I was the 6th grade; that was the last grade in that school, and you go up to Professor Waldron, that was the last grade.

Q. That is the ward school, what you call now a ward school, it was not the high school, the high school was situated somewhere else up in the city, wasn't it?

A. Yes, sir, the high school was on 7th and Oak.

Q. You finished the ward school?

A. I finished that school there and the next year you to that high school.

Q. But you didn't go? A. No, sir, I didn't go.

Q. Did Ida go? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. Ida and you finished that school together?

A. Yes, sir, we finished that school together.

Q. How long was that before you married?

A. Oh, a long time.

Q. Four or five years?

A. I don't know, but it was a long [ ] though.

Q. A long time? A. You know I have got to quit.

Q. Did you see Ida any more after she quit school?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did Ida do? A. I don't know what she done.

Q. What were you doing? A. Working.

Q. What kind of work?

A. What you call general housework.

Q. And you don't know what Ida was doing during that time? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Well you saw her frequently?

A. Oh, once in a while.

Mr. German: I object to this as improper cross examination, incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and move to strike this answer and all the answers pertaining to Ida Foster, and all the questions pertaining to her.

Mr. Cruce: For the further reason that it is trying on a man's patience.

Q. About how frequently did you see Ida Foster?

A. After we quit school I hardly ever seen her, you know I hardly ever seen her.

Q. But did Ida run with—— A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know Ida's associates? A. Sir.

Q. You didn't know Ida's associates, you didn't know who associated with Ida? A. Oh, no, no, I didn't.

Q. Do you remember seeing Ida Foster around Leavenworth with a rather tall, heavy set—not heavy set—but rather robust woman about 18 or 19 years of age, with just a little bit colored?

A. Now, let me tell you something. I worked up to Cunningham's and I hardly ever seen that woman, because she was in—like this was South Leavenworth and that would be North Leavenworth, and she lived down this way.

Q. In South Leavenworth? A. Down that way.

Q. Don't point that way, you are pointing east?

A. South.

Q. You are trying to point south, are you?

A. She lived kinda in south, you know.

Q. South Leavenworth?

A. On down in there somewhere, I don't remember just where.

Q. And you worked in North Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you live?

A. I stayed right where I worked, at the Cunningham's.

Q. Did you stay there all the time?

A. Yes, only when I came home, you know.

Q. Where was home, in the country?

A. Pretty near in the country, 917 Cherokee Street.

Q. Now how long did you work for Cunningham?

A. I worked for him three years.

Q. Then who did you work for? A. After that?

Q. Yes? A. I left there after that.

Q. You left where? A. Leavenworth.

Q. You left Leavenworth after working for Cunningham?

A. Yes.

Q. Cunningham was the last person you worked for?

A. Cunningham's was the last people I worked for in Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. Did you work for them before or after you married?

A. Before.

Q. Before you married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You never worked any at all after you were married?

A. No, sir, I never worked for anybody, Charley didn't allow me to work.

Q. Who, during the years that you were married, did you ever see Ida Foster——

A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. Never saw her at all?

A. No, sir, after me and Charley married I never seen her at all.

Q. Never saw her around Granny's?

A. No, I never did see Ida up at Granny's.

Q. You saw Ida on Cherokee that night you were down—

A. If she was I didn't see her.

Q. You didn't see her that night?

A. No, sir, I didn't see her that night.

Q. Who was the beaux of these two girls that you went down to Granny's on Cherokee Street?

A. Well, one of them was named Charley Taylor, and Jane's husband was named Ed King.

Q. Jane's husband? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She was a married woman, was she?

A. Yes, a married woman and had children.

Q. When you went down to Granny's that night?

A. When we went down there from the hall, you know; I was quite a young girl then.

Q. Well, about how old were you?

A. I don't know, I was quite young, like any other old country girl.

Q. You were a country girl then? A. No, sir.

Q. You had got city broke, though, hadn't you?

A. No, sir, I wasn't use to coming into town, anything like that; my mother and father brought us into the hall; we would have to stay with them and I run off that night.

Q. That was the first time you ever run off?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had to meet Charley Scott—Hudson?

A. I went down there, yes, sir.

Q. And you knew him when you went down, didn't you?

A. No, I had seen him.

Q. Where had you seen him?

A. Seen him out on the streets.

Q. You had passed him on the street, had you?

A. I had seen him out on the street.

Q. Where did you get acquainted with him?

A. Up at the Methodist Church in Leavenworth.

Q. Methodist Church? A. Yes, sir.

Q. While they were preaching?

Mr. German: I object to that as immaterial.

A. That is what I think so, myself. I am certainly getting tired of you.

Q. You met Charley at the Methodist Church?

A. Has that got anything to do with this case?

Mr. German: I object to that on the ground of repetition.

Mr. Blakeney: It was repetition, but counsel had muddled the mind of the witness, trying to get it back to the point of inquiry.

Q. You met him at the Methodist Church?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How often did you meet Charley up there?

A. Well, has that got anything to do with this case?

Q. Tell me.

Mr. German: Now, answer his questions.

A. Yes, sir, I met him at the Methodist Church, a revival meeting going on there; like all other young girls I seen him up there.

Q. Did you ever see him at church again?

A. Yes, I seen him at church lots of times.

Q. Saw him at church lots of times. Where else have you ever met Charley?

A. I told you that I met Charley down at Granny Letcher's.

Q. Now, you told me that you didn't think you met him at the church?

Mr. German: I object to that as not supported by the witness' statement.

Q. Now, I want you to tell me where else you had ever met Charley except at our Methodist Church?

A. Down at Granny's.

Q. Down at Granny's? A. At Granny's.

Q. You only met Charley once at Granny's?

A. That is the only place I could meet him at.

Q. What?

A. That is the only place I could meet him at.

Q. Then, you only met him once?

A. I met him once down at Granny's.

Q. And you met him at the church?

A. I met him at the revival.

Q. Had Sallie gone up to the mourner's bench?

A. That isn't got anything to do with this case.

By Mr. German: I object.

Q. Well, I want to know.

A. No, she hasn't gone up to the mourner's bench.

Q. Well, have you gone up there? A. I didn't go.

By Mr. German: Let the record show that counsel and witness laughed heartily.

By Mr. Allen: I want to suggest into the record that the object of this prolonged cross examination is to delay the taking of——

The Examiner: I want you to stop talking when these gentlemen are making objections. You haven't anything to do with what they say. You just answer the questions and stop.

By Mr. Blakeney: I object to the officer instructing the witness.

By Mr. German: I want to state further into the record that the Examiner will have to adjourn the taking of the testimony this evening, because of other engagements for next week, and we have now in attendance on the Court six or seven other witnesses whose depositions ought to be taken today; and we now serve notice that the costs of this unnecessary cross examination, covering the whole immaterial details, be fixed against the client represented by counsel conducting the examination.

By Mr. Allen: Let the same objection go to each and every question.

By Mr. Blakeney: Let the record show that I am willing to stay until the Government examines every witness that they desire to examine.

By Mr. Allen: I want to say into the record that Mr. Blakeney has announced that he would leave at noon, and obviously is prolonging the examination of this witness until that time, and I will serve notice on you now that we will let the record show it if he does appear at noon as he has expressed his intention to do.

Q. Well, now, when did you meet Sadie Harris?

A. I met her in Luray, Kansas, she came cut there.

Q. Met her where?

A. I met her in Luray, Kansas. She came out there.

Q. Was Ida Foster with her?

A. Why, no, wasn't nobody with her but the cab man brought her out there.

Q. Do you mean in the last few weeks you met her, do you? You are referring to meeting her recently? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I mean, when did you meet her in Leavenworth years ago? A. Oh, I met her lots of times.

Q. When did you first meet her? A. Well, at school.

Q. She went to school with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Sadie and you and Ida Foster went to school together?

A. Well, I don't know how long Ida and Sadie went to school.

Q. Well, she and Ida went as long as you did?

A. I don't know, she missed out of school you know, and I don't know how long she went to school, or anything like that. I didn't keep no track of her because that wasn't none of my business.

Q. Well, you was well acquainted with her?

A. Oh, yes, I was well acquainted with her.

Q. Was Sadie down at Granny's when you went down to see Charlie?

A. They lived there. Sallie Chase was her mother and they lived there at Granny's.

Q. Were they there when you went down to the place on Cherokee? A. They lived there.

Q. But was she actually there, did you see her that night?

A. Sure, I seen her.

Q. You saw her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you find Ida Foster down there?

A. No, I didn't see Ida Foster, I didn't go into the room where the people were.

Q. Well, you saw in the room?

A. There were so many there I didn't look to see. Let me tell you another thing, I didn't go to work to see who was there, that wasn't my business around there that night.

Q. You just wanted to get off and see Charlie, is that right? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, didn't you go to Granny's more than that one time? A. Not down on Cherokee.

Q. Didn't you go down there frequently?

A. No, sir, I didn't, I didn't. I didn't go to Granny's with no man at all, I never did go there.

Q. Did you meet men there?

A. No, sir, I never met no man in Granny Letcher's house.

Q. You never saw Sadie at Granny Letcher's place except the one time?

A. Her and her mother lived there, Carrie Chase.

Q. But you didn't see her at the house that you knew of after that? A. They lived there.

Q. Yes, but you only saw her there once?

A. Yes, but I know where they lived. We all went to school like children together to school, and we came in from my home, and I would go to see her in school days, in North Leavenworth, but I don't know anything about them people down there.

Q. When you came to your place from school, you wouldn't pass Granny Letcher's place on Cherokee?

A. No, we didn't come by down that way.

Q. But Sadie told you at school that she was living at Granny Letcher's? A. I know she was living there.

Q. I say Sadie told you that?

A. She told me where she lived.

Q. And you saw her there once? A. I saw her there once, we didn't go that way.

Q. Who was Sadie's beau at that time?

A. I don't know, I don't know whether she had any beau because she was too little at that time.

Q. She was as big as you, wasn't she?

A. No, she wasn't, she was a little bit of a girl when I first seen Sadie, she was about that high, looked like a girl ten or twelve years old.

Q. How high were you?

A. I was a pretty good sized girl.

Q. Well, you were about fifteen or sixteen?

A. Oh, I was a pretty good sized girl, I always was tall and slim.

Q. Well, how old were you when you first saw Sadie about ten years of age? A. About how old was I?

Q. Yes? A. I guess I was a great big girl.

Q. Well, we can't tell about your age from your size.

A. About fifteen years old, I guess.

Q. About fifteen years old? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how long did you go to school with Sadie?

A. Well, I went to school in Leavenworth about six years.

Q. Then, when you went down to Granny's you were about twenty years of age——

A. I was about nineteen years old.

Q. About nineteen years old? A. Yes.

Q. When did you next see Sadie after you saw Sadie at Granny Letcher's on Cherokee Street that night?

A. Where did I next see her?

Q. Yes?

A. I seen her away down in South Leavenworth.

Q. South Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. When was that?

A. Oh, it was that summer sometime. We was going out to the park some day and we would go by there and Carrie was sitting out there by the house.

Q. Carrie was living out there?

A. Yes, that was her mother.

Q. Who was that you say would go by there?

A. Me and May Chives, that is a cousin of mine. We were going to the park.

Q. Just a crowd of girls were going out to there?

A. Yes, sir, we were going out to the park.

Q. That was after you were married? A. Yes.

Q. Was Charlie with you? A. No, I wasn't with him.

Q. What man were you with?

A. Nobody, wasn't no man with us at all.

Q. You say you saw Sadie out there?

A. We went past there, we got off the car and stopped.

Q. Stopped at Sadie's place? A. Stopped at Carrie's.

Q. Sadie went out with you? A. Sadie didn't go out.

Q. You saw Sadie? A. Yes, saw Sadie and her mother.

Q. Did Sadie go out there with you?

A. No, Sadie didn't go, we didn't stay out there but a little bit.

Q. Sadie, was how big then?

A. A great big girl. It has been so long I can't remember. She was like all school girls, we were all wearing short dresses.

Q. Wearing short dresses when you were nineteen?

A. We were all wearing short dresses at that time.

Q. You are assuming that we are talking about Sadie?

A. Yes, sir, I was wearing short dresses.

Q. After you were married you were wearing short dresses?

A. Didn't wear very long dresses after I was married.

Q. When you were up at Granny's you were wearing a kimono, wouldn't you?

A. No, sir, I wasn't wearing a kimono, I didn't never wear anything like that. That got anything to do with this case?

By Mr. Allen: I would like to make one more objection. I want to observe into the record, I asked counsel and he stated last evening that he could conclude the examination of this witness in less than five minutes; that he has now been cross examining her on immaterial matters, going over the same matters he went over yesterday for more than an hour this morning. Counsel for the Government believes that it is an attempt to prevent the taking of the testimony of other witnesses who are now in attendance upon the court, and whose presence have been observed by the attorneys and agents representing the allied defendants; this, in view of the fact that the announcement has been made that the taking of depositions will be adjourned after today until the 22nd of next month.

By Mr. Cruce: On behalf of the defendant Page I want to state that he is allied with no one in this case, and that the charge that he, in conjunction with anyone else or upon his own account, is trying to delay the taking of testimony, is an unjust one.

Mr. Blakeney: I want to object to this record being encumbered by stump speeches, either by counsel for the Government or counsel for Page. The record in the case disclosed with whom Henry Carter is allied in this case.

Mr. Allen: I want to say one more thing, that in the event that this is prolonged much longer, that I intend, upon my own responsibility, to wire Judge Campbell, asking that he direct the Examiner to proceed with the taking of depositions here until the testimony of the witnesses in attendance has been concluded.

Mr. Cruce: In behalf of Mr. Page, I want to make this statement——

Mr. Blakeney: I want to object to time being consumed by these frivolous objections.

Mr. Cruce: Judge Allen has repeatedly made the statement that he has witnesses in attendance. In behalf of Mr. Page, I will state that I am willing to write out the testimony of all witnesses he has in attendance, and let them sign it, and make it part of the record, without any cross examination by Mr. Page.

Mr. Allen: You know very well the other defendants will not agree to that.

Q. Now, after you saw Sadie that day, where did you next see her? A. Luray, Kansas.

Q. Luray? A. Yes.

Q. What were you doing in Luray?

A. I work out there. I work four miles and half out in the country.

Q. What do you do out there in the country?

A. General house work; what do you expect people to do out there in the country?

Q. Where is Luray?

A. Sixty-five miles northwest of Salina, Kansas.

Q. How far from Kansas City? A. Really, I don't know.

Q. You don't know what the railroad fare is from Kansas City? A. Seven sixty-six.

Q. What? A. Seven sixty-six or six sixty-six.

Q. About six or seven dollars?

A. It is six sixty-six or seven sixty-six, I don't know just which now.

Q. You say Sadie came out there to see you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was that the first time now you had seen her since you had seen her that day at her house when you were going to the park?

A. Yes, sir, the first time I had seen her for years, and she called me up and was talking to me over the 'phone, I didn't know, I had done forgot the woman and then she came out; she got a man to bring her out and she came out there and she stayed all night and all day with me.

Q. She first telephoned you?

A. Yes, sir, she telephoned me and told me she was coming.

Q. Did she tell you where she was?

A. She was down at Luray at the union station.

Q. She was in town when——

A. Yes, sir, she was at the depot at Luray.

Q. At Luray?

A. Yes, sir, and I was four miles and a half from there and she said she was coming out.

Q. She 'phoned you from Luray that she was coming out?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she came out that day?

A. She came out that night. The train comes at seven thirty and she came out that night.

Q. What time did she get out there?

A. I guess it must have been about nine o'clock, maybe. My folks had gone to church, the train don't get out there until about seven-thirty, two trains a day.

Q. Who are your folks?

A. M. O. Morris, that is the folks I work for.

Q. Was it Sunday night?

A. No, sir, it was Friday night.

Q. Friday night? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you sleep there at that place, did you have a room in the house?

A. Yes, sir, sure I had a room in the house. Where did you think I had a room, out in the yard. I had a room in the house—here is the kitchen and here is my room.

Q. And you occupied that room?

A. Me and Sadie slept right together.

Q. What did Sadie say when she came in first, the first thing she said. A. When she came in to see me?

Q. Yes? A. Me and a little white girl was there.

Q. A little white girl was there with you?

A. Yes, sir, a little white girl about nine years old, my folks had gone to church.

Q. Who was the little white girl, Mr. Morris' little girl?

A. Left me and the little girl there on account of Sadie saying she was coming out, and when she came and knocked on the door, I opened the door and I looked at Sadie and it had been so long since I had seen her I looked at her and she said, you don't know me do you, and I said no, I don't know you, and this white man came in and sat down—this taxi driver, and she kept looking at me and talking. And she said——

Q. Kept talking to you?

A. Yes, sir, and she said, you don't know me, and I said no, I don't, and she said I am Sadie Harris, it had been so long——

Q. Then you knew her?

A. It had been so long I had forgotten her.

Q. What did the white man do? A. Just sitting there.

Q. Did he stay there all night?

A. No, sir, just sat there.

Q. How long did he stay?

A. About as long as you and me been talking, just a few minutes, he brought her out and he took his car and went on back to town and left her there.

Q. Now, the little girl was staying there with you?

A. Yes, sir, she stayed right in there with me until I took her up stairs and put her to bed.

Q. How long did she stay there now after Sadie came until you took her up stairs and put her to bed?

A. The little girl?

Q. Yes?

A. She stayed until I—I told you—until she went to go up stairs.

Q. Just a few minutes or hours?

A. Wasn't very long, I took the little girl up stairs and put her to bed.

Q. I don't care about that. You took the little girl up and put her to bed and then you came back and had a visit with Sadie? A. I came back and came into my room.

Q. Sadie was in your room then? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What had you and Sadie been saying before you took the little girl up stairs, tell all that you and she said?

A. She asked me did I know her and I said no, it has been so long, and she said I am out here on business you know, and I said what business, and she said, well I wanted to talk about a land case, and I said what land case. You know I thought it was something from my mother and father, and I said what land, and she went on to tell me. I disremember just what Sadie did say that night.

Q. She told you that night, didn't she, that she was working for the Government, trying to help——

A. She said she was working for the Government, but she said she was working for a man named Walter Banks.

Q. Working for a man named Walter Banks?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew Walter Banks, didn't you?

A. Sure, I know Walter.

Q. And she said she was working for Banks?

A. Yes, sir, and I said, Sadie what is it. I didn't know nothing about it.

Q. Were you and Walter Banks good friends?

A. Oh. Walter was a child when I left Leavenworth.

Q. Just a child?

A. Yes, sir, big enough to go down to the store and get milk for my sister, he was a child. I have seen him since, he is a man now.

Q. Well, no particular friendship between you and Walter Banks? A. No, sir.

Q. Sadie said she was working for Walter Banks?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sure you got the name right?

A. Sure, I got the name right.

Q. Didn't she say Garfield Buell?

A. No, she said Walter Banks.

Q. What did she say to you about Mr. Buell?

A. Didn't say anything to me about Mr. Buell.

Q. Didn't she say that Mr. Buell was giving her three thousand dollars to——

A. No, sir, we never talked on no money matters or nothing like that.

Q. She told you a lot of niggers were going to be sent to the penitentiary didn't she? A. No, she didn't.

Q. Didn't tell you that? A. No, sir, she didn't.

Q. Now, what did she tell you after she said she was at work for Walter Banks?

A. I said what are you doing out here, and she said Walter is got some money coming to him, or some land out here in Oklahoma, or something like that; and she said, you know when you and Charles lived up there, and I said yes I remember all things like that; and she asked me about them and I didn't know you know, I had done forgotten you know, didn't know anything about it, but she never talked to me about any money matters, about any other part at all.

Q. When was that now that she was out there?

A. Well, really, Mister, I can't tell you. It was along about—let me see. I went home Christmas and then about the 18th of January, I think, I was called home. My father was awful sick and I was called home and when I went back she came out there.

Q. This last January? A. This last January.

Q. About two or three months ago? A. Last January.

Q. This is April. Three months between January and April? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Two or three months ago?

A. Well, in January she was out there, because I was home on the 18th of April.

Q. The 18th of April?

A. I was called home the 18th of April, I was called home.

Q. Last April? A. This last April, I was called home.

Q. Oh.

A. I went back, and I think it was the third or fourth.

Q. Third or fourth of what, May?

A. March, you know it ain't May.

Q. That is what I thought, you were mistaken about the month? A. Now listen, let me tell you something——

Q. Well, tell me?

A. I was home on the 18th day of April.

Q. April or January? A. April.

Q. Why this is April and we haven't reached the 18th yet. Now was it January or April?

A. I was home on Christmas.

Q. Christmas, that is December?

A. Yes, I was home and stayed ten days, and I went home the 18th of—must have been January.

Q. Well, you said January at first?

A. Yes, it must have been January. Listen: When we got back, me and my sister, it was the first of March.

Q. You went back after you got home in January?

A. Yes, sir, I went back.

Q. And how long did you stay there then?

A. I have been there ever since until we came back over to Wichita. Listen: If I had brought my book with me I could have showed you.

Q. Well, we can straighten it up so we can understand it. Where did you come from to Court? A. Luray, Kansas.

Q. When did you leave Luray?

A. I left Luray last Thursday morning.

Q. Last Thursday morning? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you been at Luray since you have been up here when your father was sick? A. The first of March.

Q. You have been at Luray since the first of March until you left to come to Court?

A. Yes, when the man came for me.

Q. A little over a month?

A. About five weeks, we go by Wednesdays. Say we go to work tomorrow, week is not up today. That is the way we go.

Q. You go by the weeks? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So this is about five weeks? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, just before the first of March when you went out there, where had you been? A. To Wichita, Kansas.

Q. That is where your father is?

A. Yes, sir, 1821 North Wabash, Avenue.

Q. You had been to Wichita, Kansas, between the 18th of January until the first of March?

A. Yes, sir, I stayed ten days.

Q. That would be six weeks?

A. I stayed ten days in Wichita.

Q. Then you stayed ten days, you must have left Luray—

A. And we went on back and the first day of March——

Q. Wait a minute now, because I have got to get you straightened out. You left Wichita for Luray on the first of March?

A. No, sir, I never done no such a thing, I didn't tell you that neither. We went to work the first day of March, me and my sister.

Q. You didn't understand me, did you?

A. I don't think I did.

Q. I say you came back from Wichita to Luray to go to work about the first of March?

A. We were there the first day of March, like this would be the first day of the month, we went to work and we have been there ever since.

Q. You came back from Wichita to Luray then on the first day of March and went to work?

A. Oh, I didn't say that, we went to work the first day of March——

Q. You came back before the first day of March and went to work the first day of March?

A. The first of March.

Q. You had a lay off of ten days?

A. Yes, sir, been in Wichita, Kansas.

Q. And then you got to Wichita about the 18th or 19th of February?

A. Don't you know what day of the month is the last day of the month?

Q. Yes? A. Well.

Q. I am talking about when you went to Wichita, you stayed ten days? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So you went to Wichita about the 18th or 19th of February? A. I think it was about the 18th or 19th.

Q. Where did you go to from Wichita?

A. Where did we go to?

Q. Yes? A. We came back to Luray, Kansas.

Q. When you left to go to Wichita, where did you leave?

A. Went from Luray, Kansas.

Q. To Wichita? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long had you been to Luray then?

A. Since the 4th of last November.

Q. Had been there since the 4th of November?

A. And stayed up to Christmas and then I went home Christmas Eve and home Christmas and stayed ten days.

Q. And stayed home and came back about the 4th or 5th of January? A. I think it was the 6th.

Q. All right?

A. I think it was the 6th of January.

Q. You went back to Luray then on the 6th of January and you stayed up until February?

A. I stayed until they called me home for my father.

Q. Up until the middle of February?

A. It was the 18th.

Q. About the 18th of February, and during that time Sadie James came to see you?

A. No, Sadie never come to see me until after I went home and seen father.

Q. Then, after you had returned from seeing your father, on the first day of March, Sadie came out to see you?

A. Oh, no, Sadie wasn't there the first of March.

Q. I said after the first of March?

A. Sadie wasn't there the first of March, Sadie had done been there and gone.

Q. Well, when did Sadie come?

A. That is it, I don't remember the date.

Q. Did she come before you went to see your sick father?

A. I had just been back home just a week the day Sadie came.

Q. You had been back a week from seeing your father?

A. Yes, sir, when Sadie came.

Q. And you came back to work the first of March?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, Sadie came the 7th or 8th of March?

A. I don't know just what date.

Q. Well, a week from the first of March would be the 7th or 8th, wouldn't it? A. Yes—— Listen——

Q. Answer that yes or no?

A. We had been there a week, we had been back home a week when Sadie came, because her week is up on Tuesday and mine is up on Saturday.

By Mr. German: I will admit in the record that this witness is not good in the matter of the recollection of dates nor the length of time, if that is what he is after.

By Mr. Blakeney: Now, we have had so much stump speech making in this record now, we see absolutely the purpose of these objections, and I am trying to fix the date, when I am trying to fix the date that they think is damaging, they want to object in that regard in order to discredit the examination.

By Mr. German: What date do you want Sadie to be out there, I think I will admit it.

Q. Did you just stop talking because the Examiner ordered you to? A. Did I stop talking because he told me?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, he told me to just answer you all his questions.

Q. How many times has he told you that in your examination?

By Mr. German: I object to that as immaterial.

A. What has that got to do with this case anyhow? I thought you was examining me, I didn't think you——

Q. How many times has the Examiner had to tell you to quit talking, just answer the questions.

A. Has that got anything to do with this case?

The Examiner: Answer the question.

A. I don't know. Because he has told me so much I don't know.

Q. Now, just as you went to bed that night, did you sleep with Sadie? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. German: I want to make objections—I desire to show in this record that Mr. Blakeney stated to Judge Allen this morning that if he, Blakeney, consumed the morning in the cross examination, that he thought Mr. Hanford would consume the afternoon.

By Mr. Hanford: I insist upon my privileges to speak for myself as to my intentions.

By Mr. Blakeney: I want to say that I haven't seen Mr. Hanford since the adjournment of Court yesterday to speak to him.

Q. What did you and Sadie talk about the next morning? A. The next morning after she got up?

Q. Yes?

A. We didn't—— We were talking about Leavenworth people you know.

Q. You were talking about the Leavenworth people?

A. Yes, sir. First one and another, like you would say do you know so and so, like that, and Mr. Monrey and Mrs. Monrey were talking to her. We were talking about anything just like old acquaintances.

Q. Well, Sadie told you about her being a witness in this case? A. No.

Q. Didn't Sadie tell you that these lawyers up there had had her on the witness stand for about a week?

A. No, sir. No, sir. No, sir, I never heard——

Q. Didn't she tell you that when you got on the stand to watch that red headed lawyer?

A. No, sir, she didn't. We didn't talk about no business like that at all, we didn't talk about no business like that at all; and another thing, we didn't have no discussion about courts.

Q. Not any at all? A. No, sir.

Q. Just talking about whether any Tommy Atkins was around there and if there was not——

A. No, sir, that name wasn't mentioned out there.

Q. Wasn't at all?

A. No, sir, wasn't mentioned like Tommy Atkins, anybody like that.

Q. When was that name mentioned to you?

A. I never seen the name until I saw that name on the paper that man brought out there.

Q. Where is that paper?

A. Here it is in my pocket book, Mr. Frost handed it to me.

Q. The first time then that you had seen anything about Tommy Atkins was when—— A. I don't know the people.

Q. I know you don't know Tommy Atkins, you say you don't. A. I don't know the woman.

Q. The first time you heard of him was when this paper was served on you?

A. The first time I heard anything about Tommy Atkins, I don't know whether this man——

By Mr. German: I would like in this connection, Mr. Examiner, to have the document identified as Government's exhibit.

By Mr. Blakeney: I object to counsel now trying to interrupt my examination by proposing to introduce some exhibit. I think it is merely done for the purpose of delaying my examination.

By Mr. Cruce: I think it will be well enough to suggest that Mr. Blakeney has now in his hand and is examining the witness about a paper counsel for the Government is seeking to introduce as an exhibit.

By Mr. German: To have it identified, I am not seeking to introduce it now.

Q. The first time you ever heard then of Tommy Atkins was when this paper was served on you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When you were subpoenaed?

A. Yes, sir, the man that came out there, Mr. Frost he called himself.

Q. Is this the paper that he referred to that I now hand you? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Blakeney: I ask to have that marked as an exhibit for identification.

Q. That is it, is it? A. Yes, that is my paper.

Q. I hand you a paper that the Examiner has marked Defendant Carter's Exhibit No. 11, and ask you to state if that is the paper that you say was served on you?

A. Yes, sir, Mr. Frost brought that paper out to me.

Q. You have answered it then now. The first time then that you had ever heard of Tommy Atkins was when this paper was served on you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did the gentleman, who served this paper on you, talk to you about this case? A. No, sir.

Q. He didn't say a word to you? A. No, sir.

Q. Just asked you your name?

A. No, sir, he just knocked on the door and Mr. Monery got up and opened the door.

Q. And asked for you?

A. No, sir, he just opened the door and said good evening, and said I am a United States Marshal and I am looking for Laura Thomas, and I said here I am and he said Mr. Monery I got a paper to serve on her, and he took the paper and read just like you know it on the paper, and I said give me that paper let me look at it, and Mr. Monery, I ain't got a very good education, and he read it.

Q. That is the first time that you ever heard anything about Tommy Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You couldn't read the paper, can you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Show me anything in that paper that says anything about Tommy Atkins?

A. I don't know nothing about it, I don't know nothing about these people at all, it says Minnie Atkins.

Q. Minnie Atkins?

A. Yes, sir, it says the plaintiff's Minnie Atkins, something about defendants or something like that, I don't understand it. I don't see no name on here about that boy's name.

Q. You don't see anything? Who was that boy they called Commodore around Granny's there? A. Who?

> By Mr. Blakeney: I withdraw the question until the witness makes any further examination that she desires of the paper referred to.

Q. Have you made all the examination you desire now of that exhibit? A. I guess so.

Q. Now, who was that boy they called Commodore?

A. I don't know.

Q. You knew a boy around Granny's there that they called Commodore? A. No, sir.

Q. You don't remember that kind of a boy?

A. No, sir. All the people I remember around there were Sam and Jim and Arch.

Q. Well, they were the girls Sadie talked to you about?

A. Sadie didn't talk to me about—— She didn't have to talk about no Court or nothing while we were out there.

Q. Do you still think you are testifying to help Walter Banks?

A. I don't know what is Mister, I don't understand it.

Q. Well, you were wanting to help Walter— You would want to help Walter, wouldn't you?

A. I don't want to help— I don't understand it at all.

Q. I know, but you would like to help Walter, wouldn't you? A. I don't know nothing about it.

Q. Answer the question. Would you like to help Walter if you could?

A. I would help anybody, I don't know nothing about it and I don't know, and I don't want you to get me "jimmed up" with nothing I don't know nothing about. I don't know nothing about these people.

By Mr. Blakeney: I want this exhibit offered in evidence. (Defendant Carter's Exhibit No. 11).

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Mollie, I want to get some dates—— Laura, What year was it you were married, in '85? A. Sir?

Q. What year was it you were married?

A. It has been so long Mister I done forgot. I was married in Leavenworth, Kansas, but it has been so long I never kept no date.

Q. January or April, or——

A. March, married in March.

Q. Where was Granny Letcher living then?

A. She had moved, she was living on Seneca then.

Q. She was living on Seneca then?

A. I think she was moved up on Seneca then. Yes, she was on Seneca, because we come from the bus and went up there.

Q. She was living in the house next to the——

A. She was living in the house next to Mrs. Woods.

Q. Do you think that was '85?

A. Well, really I can't say, but of course if you get Harn or something like that——

Q. Get your marriage license you could tell?

A. The Court House burned down, there is a man from my home that might tell pretty much.

Q. Who?

A. Mr. Jones, he could tell pretty much when the Court House burned down or anything like that.

Q. Anyway, when you were married in March Granny was living over on Seneca Street? A. Yes, sir. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, Luray, Kansas, is in what county—Russell?

A. Luray, I don't know.

Q. You know where Russell is don't you?

A. No, sir, but Osborn City is on the county side, there is where the bank and everything is over there.

Q. Is your sister here with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who paid your way out here?

A. I don't know, a man name of Mr. Frost, he come out there and subpoenaed us.

Q. Mr. Frost?

A. Yes, sir, he said he was United States Marshal, and he come out there and got us, you know.

Q. Did he pay your way?

A. I don't know, he handed us the tickets, went to the ticket office and handed us the tickets.

Q. Have you seen that gentleman since you have been here? A. No, sir, I haven't seen him.

Q. Where did you stop when you got in town here?

A. They have got a place, 1117 Walnut.

Q. You say they have got you, who do you mean?

A. This man, he is one of the gentlemen brought us up.

Q. What is his name?

A. I don't know what his name is, but he brought us up there.

Q. Mr. Anderson? A. Mr. Anderson.

Q. Does he pay your——

A. I don't know, I didn't see no money transactions going on.

Q. Who paid your board bill? A. I don't know.

By Mr. Hanford: I would like for the record to show that the witness pointed to Mr. Robinson.

By Mr. Cruce: Yes, I called him Anderson instead of Robinson.

A. I don't know anything about it.

Q. You don't know who is paying your board bill?

A. No, sir I don't know nothing about it at all.

Q. Have you got a ticket home?

A. No, sir, we haven't got anything, haven't got no money.

Q. Are they going to make you walk home you think?

A. I never walk home. I will telephone to Mr. Monery tomorrow if the- don't treat me——

Q. They promised you a ticket home?

A. Haven't promised us anything, promised us a ticket home you know.

Q. Who promised you?

A. This man that come out there told Mr. Monery, said they would take care of us, and everything, while we were down here.

Q. Are you just going to get your railroad fare?

A. I don't know nothing. Don't ask me because I don't know nothing.

Q. Are they going to pay you anything?

A. I don't know anything.

Q. Don't you expect anybody to pay you anything?

A. I don't know.

Q. Don't you think you ought to have something for your time?

A. I think like this, they brought me away over from my work out there and I could have been out there and better satisfied than sitting up here in the court house.

Q. How much do you think they are going to pay you?

A. I have no idea.

Q. Are they going to give you any interest in this oil land?

A. I don't know nothing about this oil land, nothing like that.

Q. Your sister is here you say?

A. Yes, sir, she is here.

Q. Now, when Sadie came out there to see you, she said she had some papers with her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What papers was it did she say?

A. She got to talking—— Whenever we talked about court or anything like that, just talked about me living up to Granny Letcher's and my husband.

Q. Did she tell you when Granny died?

A. She didn't tell me just the day, the day of the month and when.

Q. Did she tell you when Minnie died, Indian Minnie?

A. She—— I never heard that name, I never seen that name until I seen it on the paper. We weren't talking about that, but she told me about Jim being dead.

Q. Jim who? A. Jim Mayo, that was Granny's son.

Q. When did she say Tommy Atkins died?

A. She never called that name, I never seen that name until I seen it on the paper.

Q. You didn't see Tommy Atkins at all until it was on the paper?

A. We were never talking anything about it.

Q. You didn't talk much about the case when she was out there?

A. We didn't talk about the Court at all while she was out there.

Q. Well, she just came out there to pay you a visit?

A. Yes, and I said to my sister, I called my sister up over the phone and I said say, Sadie Harris is out here, and she said what is she doing out there; and we thought she was trying to get my mother—my mother is an Indian woman you know, and we thought some land—because it lays like that—and I thought Sadie was out there on that business and I never found out until this Mr. Frost come out there and brought this paper.

Q. You never did find out what Sadie wanted from what she said? A. No, she never told me.

Q. You haven't seen Sadie since?

A. I haven't seen Sadie since, I thought I would see her here, but I haven't seen her since I have been here.

Q. You thought you would see her here?

A. Yes, after this man said it was United States Court, I thought I would see her here.

Q. What made you think you would see Sadie here?

A. I have seen so many people from Leavenworth since I have been down here the last day or two I thought she would be here.

Q. You haven't been around to see Sadie up in town?

A. I wouldn't know where to go to find her, I don't know anything about her.

Q. Now, have you any way that you could fix the date that you were married without going back to get your license?

A. Well, I could call up there at Leavenworth and find out.

Q. Will you do that?

A. You can find out if you want to, I can but it would be more business like for you to call up than me.

Q. What?

A. It would be more business like for you to call up than me. Judge Harn is the man that married me.

Q. Do you think that was in eighty-three, eighty-four, or eighty-five? What is your best judgment? Don't you think it was in '85? A. I know it was the 4th of March.

Q. 4th of March?

A. And we never went back you know to get the certificate, what you should get from the Court House. Since I have been away they say the court house has been burned down and they said all papers were filed——

Q. You are not willing to say that your best judgment is that it was in March, '85?

A. It has been so long I have done forgot you know.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You are just—— Laura, I just want to ask you one or two questions. You say you worked for Cunningham, is that the name? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who else did you ever work for in Leavenworth?

A. In Leavenworth?

Q. Yes? A. Judge Latter, but he is dead now.

Q. Judge Latter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that the name? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who else? A. I worked for Cunningham.

Q. Judge Lavick? A. Yes, sir, but he is dead now.

Q. I just want to get the names of the different people you worked for. Judge Latta and Mr. Cunningham?

A. Yes, sir, they are both dead now.

Q. Who else besides those two?

A. I worked for the Cunningham's and then I worked there on Seneca at the Washington House, me and my husband were there together.

Q. Who else did you ever work for?

A. I never worked out very much, I didn't have to work.

Q. When you worked at Judge Latta's did you live at his house? A. I stayed at home.

Q. Stayed at home?

A. Stayed at home and went to school.

Q. That was before you were married?

A. Yes, sir, stayed home and went to school and got there every morning, and would go there every morning.

Q. When you worked at the Washington House, where did you stay?

A. I stayed there, me and my husband stayed there.

Q. Have a room? A. Yes, sir, had a room.

Q. Was that out in the back part or up stairs?

A. Up stairs over the kitchen.

Q. How long did you work for Judge Latta, do you know?

A. Worked there a long while, back and forward like school girls after school.

Q. How long did you work at the Washington House?

A. It has been so long really I can't tell how long we did stay there. Stayed at the Washington House quite a while.

Q. Now, after you and Dan Hudson separated, you say you went to Colorado? A. Yes, sir, I left and went out there.

Q. How long was that after you and he separated?

A. Well, I just can't tell.

Q. I believe you said yesterday it was a couple of weeks?

A. Yes, sir, then I went away, my father sent me and I went out there.

Q. Your father sent for you when he heard you and Dan had separated?

A. I wrote to him and told him I was in a little trouble.

Q. So he told you to come home?

A. My father sent for me. There is a man, my father.

Q. How long did you continue to live together?

A. About two years. Oh, I am so tired.

Q. After you were married you think you lived together about two years?

A. We lived together about two years.

Q. Now, yesterday, you said you thought it was about a year, which was it?

A. I lived with Charlie Hudson about two years after we were married.

Q. About two years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then you separated?

A. Yes, sir, we separated and I went out west. My father sent for me.

Q. Your father sent for you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, the only place that you can remember that you ever worked in Leavenworth was for Judge Latta and Mr. Cunningham?

A. And Fourth and Seneca there at the Washington, yes, sir.

Q. The only other places you ever worked?

A. The only places I worked, I never worked out much.

Q. Only those three places?

A. Only places I remember working out, I didn't have to work.

Q. Wasn't there some other places you worked in Leavenworth?

A. I might have worked out by the day, something like that, been so long ago I have forgotten.

Q. I thought you might remember the names of people and places?

A. People I worked [] here I done forgotten them.

Q. You say you have done forgotten the names of people that you worked for?

A. Yes, never worked out very much.

Q. Then, you may have worked for other people there by the day off and on in Leavenworth?

A. Oh, I may have done lots of little jobs, places like that, but I never kept track.

Q. But the longest you ever worked was at the Washington House? A. And at Latta's.

Q. And at Latta's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you work for Mr. Cunningham?

A. I worked for him in warm weather.

Q. It was warm weather, I don't mean the year, but was that after you were married? A. Before I was married.

Q. Before you were married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you working when you and Dan separated, just before you went to Colorado?

A. Where were I working?

Q. Yes? A. I were not working anywhere.

Q. You were not working any place then?

A. No, sir, I wasn't working anywhere, I stayed at Granny Letcher's then, I was not working at all, he didn't allow me to work.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Laura, what was the name of the Lodge you have been talking about there in Leavenworth?

A. The Benevolent Lodge.

Q. Were you a member of it?

A. I was a Juvenile, yes, sir.

Q. Juvenile?

A. Yes, sir, children. I belonged to the Juvenile Lodge in Leavenworth, Kansas—— Juvenile.

Q. Did you attend the Lodge very much?

A. We had nearly every week.

Q. Nearly every week?

A. We went every week, it met once a week.

Q. Did you go to the lodge any after you got married?

A. No, sir.

Q. Were you a member of the Lodge when you were going to school? A. Yes, sir, all of us girls were.

Q. And after you quit going to school did you go to the Lodge? A. Yes, I went a little while.

Q. How old were you when you got married?

A. Oh, I was about nineteen years old.

Q. How old are you now?

A. I am fifty some years old, I was born in 1865, 25th day of December.

Q. Were you married more than once in Leavenworth?

A. No, sir.

Q. Just married to Dan? A. Charlie Hudson.

Q. Charlie, I mean? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go to the Lodge from Granny Letcher's house with any girls or boys? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many different times?

A. I went down there that night.

Q. How?

A. I went down there that night and made a date with Charlie.

Q. After that, did you go from the Lodge to Granny's with any boys? A. No, sir.

Q. What street was the Lodge building on?

A. On Cherokee Street between Fourth—between third and fourth.

Q. When did your father find out——

A. I don't know.

Q. Wait until I finish my question. Where was Granny living when your father made you marry Charlie?

A. Up on Seneca between Second and Third.

Q. Do you know how long she had been living there?

A. No, sir, I don't know just how long she had been living there, but she had planted flowers and things out like the spring——

Q. Well, do you know how long, or do you not know how long? A. I don't know.

Q. Had you been to the Lodge after Granny moved up on Seneca Street? A. No, sir, I hadn't.

Q. You say your father got after you for going down to Granny's that night?

A. I didn't see nothing of the man.

Q. Where were you at the time your father got after you?

A. I went out home one day.

Q. What?

A. I went out home one day and then he come up there and got after Charlie.

Q. Come up where and got after Charlie?

A. Up to Lige Meyers.

Q. What did he get after Charlie about? A. About me.

Q. Where was Granny living at that time?

A. Up on Seneca Street.

Q. What—— Was that before you were married or after? A. Well, that was before we was married.

Q. How long was that after you had gone from the Lodge down to Granny's? A. Oh, about two weeks.

Q. What?

A. About two weeks I think, just about two weeks.

Q. Now, after you went to Granny's from the Lodge and Dan made the date with you for the coming Sunday——

A. I didn't go to see him.

Q. Did you fill that date?

A. I didn't go to see him that Sunday night.

Q. You didn't? A. No.

Q. Why? A. Pa kept me home.

Q. What?

A. My father kept me home, I didn't go to see him on Sunday night, and two weeks after that we got married.

Q. Now, where did you say Granny was living when you went from the lodge to Granny's?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as repetition.

A. She was living down on Cherokee Street.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object to this obvious effort of the Government to kill time.

Q. Laura, where did you live—— You were living at home at the time that you went down to Granny's and the date was made between you and Dan for the next Sunday?

A. Yes.

Q. When was it that you worked——

A. Washington Hotel.

Q. No, at the Latta's. Was it before or after that that you worked at Latta's, before or after your father wouldn't let you fill that date with Dan?

A. Oh, I was going up mornings, you know, and doing my work and go on to school.

Q. Oh, you were working at Latta's while you were going to school?

A. Going up mornings and doing whatever chores the white people wanted me to do, and would go back in the evening.

Q. Back where? A. Back to Latta's and go on home.

Q. Then, you worked for Cunningham some? A. Yes.

Q. Was that before or after you were married?

A. That was before too.

Q. You were going to school when you worked for Cunningham? A. No, I never worked anywhere after I married.

Q. I say you were going to school when you worked for Cunningham? A. I was staying home.

Q. Was that when you finished school?

A. I was going to school. I would go back and forward to do my work and would go on to school, you know, washed some dishes.

Q. So you were going to school when you worked for Cunningham too? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You finally quit going to school, what did you do between the time you quit going to school and the time you married Charlie? A. Stayed at home.

Q. At nine hundred and something Cherokee?

A. Yes, sir, my father had a big place and I stayed at home.

Q. Did you go to Granny's after she moved to Seneca Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Before you married? A. Before I married?

Q. Yes?

A. I was up there once or twice, but wasn't in the house, you know.

Q. After she moved to Seneca? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many times did you go to Granny's while she was living on Cherokee, do you remember?

A. I went down there that night, went down there to see Charlie.

Q. Well, did you go there any more?

A. No, I never went down there any more, this woman just took me down there you know.

Q. Was Ida Foster a white woman or a colored woman?

A. I don't know what kind of a woman she was.

Q. Well, was she some mixed breed?

A. I don't know what she was, Mister.

Q. Well, was she black or white?

A. No, she wasn't white, mixed breed woman.

Q. Was she light or dark?

A. No, sir, she was a light woman, real light woman.

Q. Laura, yesterday evening when Court adjourned, did you have any money for street car fare to go over to your hotel? A. No, sir.

Q. See that red headed man right there, Judge Allen?

A. Yes, sir, I have seen him.

By Mr. Blakeney: I object to that method of addressing a member of this Court.

A. What do you want to know about him?

Q. I want to know if you got any change from him?

A. Did he tell you he give me any change?

Q. No, but did you get any change from him to carry you on the car? A. No, sir, he didn't.

Q. Did you sister? A. No, sir, he didn't.

Q. If he gave your sister a dime, you didn't see it?

A. There was somebody else out there in the hall and I said that I didn't want it, I said, no I didn't want that dime.

Q. Now, after you lived at the Letcher home, after your marriage to Dan, you say you never knew any child there by the name of Tommy or Indian Tommy?

A. No, sir, I didn't know the people.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. When did your father go to Colorado?

A. He went out there years and years ago, been so long I don't remember it, but he went out there before my sister's baby was born, and that has been twenty years, thirty years ago, because my mother went and they had to bring my mother back.

Q. How long did you live in Colorado?

A. I was there three months.

Q. And where did you go from Colorado?

A. I came on back to Newton. I brought my mother. I went out after my mother, you know. I left here and went after my mother and brought her to Newton, Kansas.

Q. Have you been in Kansas ever since?

A. Yes, first one place and then another.

Q. And when did your father go to Colorado, before you were married, or after you married?

A. Oh, my father was gone after I was married, you know.

Q. He went after you married?

A. Yes, sir, my father and mother left early you know, after mother went, this child, my sister's baby was born, and then we brought her back, she came back.

Q. And then how long did she go out there before your sister's baby was born?

A. Oh, she was born at home.

Q. Born in Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir, the baby was born in Leavenworth.

Q. Did they go to Colorado before the baby was born?

A. After. My niece was born right at home. She was born and we have her record and everything like that.

Recross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. One question, Mollie, was your husband a white man or colored man?

A. Was my husband a white man or a colored man? My husband was a black man.

Q. He was a black man?

A. Yes, sir, he was here yesterday.

Q. What? A. He was here yesterday.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You say you went out home and your father found out something that he decided to make——

A. I didn't say—I didn't tell you no such thing as that about my father about me being married.

Q. What was it your father found out that made him want him to marry you?

A. I don't know what he found out. Like all girls do out in the country, we live out, we don't live close to town.

Q. What was it that made your father——

A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever have any children?

A. Yes, sir, I had children.

Q. How many have you had?

A. That got anything to do with this case. I had four.

Q. You had four? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have any of them before you married Scott?

A. No, sir.

Q. Not Scott, but before you married Hudson? Did you have any before you married Hudson?

By Mr. German: She didn't understand.

Q. Did you have any children before you married Hudson? A. No, sir, I didn't have any at all.

Q. What? A. No, sir, I didn't have any children.

Q. Did you have any children while you were living with Hudson? A. Sure.

Q. How many? A. All my children are big children.

Q. Well, how many? A. Four.

Q. Did you have four children by Hudson? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Turn around and look at me please, where were they born? A. At Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. Did you have four children born at Leavenworth, Kansas. A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were they twins? A. No, sir, none of them.

Q. None of them twins? A. No, sir, just all——

Q. Where was the first one born?

A. The first one was born down on Second and Atchison, down there, Dr. McKelvey was my doctor, and Dr. Brock was the next door doctor and he is dead now.

Q. What was your first child's name?

A. We didn't name it.

Q. What? A. Didn't give it any name, didn't name it.

Q. Didn't name it, was he born dead?

A. Died just a few minutes after he was born.

Q. Was it a full child? A. I guess so.

Q. A full nine months child? A. I guess so.

Q. Well, did you make an abortion or did you have a regular birth? A. Just be a regular birth.

Q. No abortion? A. No, sir.

Q. Was that child born before or after you were married?

A. Why, it was after I was married. What was I doing having children before I was married. Just ask me another question like that so I can tell you.

Q. Well, I mean after you married Charlie Hudson?

A. Charlie Hudson was the father of all my children. They are all dead.

Q. Well, how long after this first one was born was it before you had your second child? A. Pretty near two years.

Q. How many?

A. Pretty near a year, or something like that.

Q. Excuse me, I can't hear you?

A. He was telling you something is the reason you can't hear me.

Q. All right, how long after your first child was born until your second child was born? A. It was quite a while.

Q. Well, tell me how long?

A. All I know is it was long enough to get that way again, is all I can tell you.

Q. Then, it was at least a year, was it?

A. Yes, I don't how near get that way again.

Q. I am not trying to be abusive, you understand, to you. I am not trying to be offensive in any sense to you.

A. Listen, has this got anything to do——

Q. Maybe I can show you if you will just answer these things. Tell us now how long after your first child was born until your second child was born? A. Oh, a long time.

Q. A long time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You will say at least a year, will you? Will you say at least a year? A. Just about, I guess.

Q. Now, where were you living when the first child was born? A. I was living at home.

Q. Living at home?

A. Yes, sir, I called home—I went out home after I was sick, you know.

Q. And the child was born at home?

A. Yes, sir, I went out home to be sick you know. We were staying at Mollie's you know.

Q. You were staying at Granny Letcher's?

A. We were staying at Granny Letcher's, and when I got sick I went out home you know.

Q. Where was your father living now when you went out? A. He was living at 917 Cherokee Street.

Q. He was still living out in the country, as you call it?

A. Yes, we called it pretty near out in the country, pretty near the edge of town.

Q. He was still living out there?

A. He was still living out there when I went out there.

Q. What did you say a minute ago, did you say the child was born some place else?

A. I didn't tell you no such thing.

Q. Well, maybe I misunderstood it?

A. I said my boy was born at home.

Q. And about a year after that another child was born?

A. A still child.

Q. A still child, what do you mean by that?

A. Still born.

Q. It was still born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was it a nine months full child?

A. I don't know whether it was or not.

Q. Where was that child born?

A. Born down on Delaware Street.

Q. Born on Delaware Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you living when the next child was born?

A. Where was I?

Q. Yes?

A. I came over home. I had been living up to Mollie's you know. I stayed at Granny's two or three years.

Q. Two or three years?

A. Yes. You know I stayed there a long time, you know.

Q. You were mistaken when you said you stayed there about ten months, yesterday?

A. Oh, I made my home up to Granny's.

Q. Let's go back. You were living at Granny's and you went out home to have this child? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you—— Where was home then?

A. Out on Cherokee Street.

Q. Did you go back to Delaware to have the child?

A. I didn't tell you no such thing as that.

By Mr. German: I want the record to show our objection to Mr. Blakeney's examination a while ago before he turned this witness loose, and it goes to all of these questions, all of this cross examination.

A. I am getting tired of you.

By Mr. Blakeney: I want to ask counsel now if he regards this as killing time.

A. Sure it is killing time.

The Examiner: You keep quiet.

By Mr. Blakeney: Please put down what the Officer said. I would like to have the tone of voice the Examiner said it in.

Q. Now, let's see, you had the second child then, that was born you said out at your home away out in the country, is that right?

A. What did you say? Are you talking to me?

Q. Yes? A. What did you say?

Q. You had your second child out at your home?

A. On Delaware Street.

Q. Delaware Street?

A. Yes, sir, I came down there and got sick before they could get me home.

Q. Then, I was not mistaken when I said that you said you had your second child at Delaware Street?

A. We went up to Mollie's——

Q. Are you trying to keep from telling the truth in this examination?

A. Why, no, why would I keep from telling the truth. This has got no bearing on this case anyhow.

Q. Now, when was the next?

A. I am so tired of you I don't know what to do.

Q. After this second child, when was the second child born?

A. Wasn't no child, it was a legal—— It was born dead.

Q. You mean by a legal, a child born dead?

A. Yes, that is what I mean.

Q. The third child was born dead? A. Yes.

Q. Where was it born? A. Up on Delaware.

Q. On Delaware Street? A. Oh, I am so tired.

Q. The third child was born on Delaware Street at the same place? And the second child was born—— A. Yes.

Q. Why didn't you go out home that time?

A. Why didn't I?

Q. Yes? A. Because I didn't want to go.

Q. The second time you wanted to go and you got sick before you could get home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. But the third time you didn't want to go home?

A. No, sir.

Q. What place on Delaware?

A. Well, you wouldn't know the place anyhow, between Seventh and Eighth.

Q. Between Seventh and Eighth on Delaware?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who run the place?

A. Oh, just a colored woman living there name of Mrs. Bailey.

Q. Name of Mrs. Bailey? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What kind of a place was she running?

A. Wasn't running no kind of a place. Just lived there.

Q. Did she have anybody else living there?

A. Her mother and sister.

Q. Your sister? A. No, her mother and sister.

Q. Well, did she have a husband?

A. No, her husband was dead.

Q. How did they make a living?

A. She took in ironing and washing.

Q. Was that a house where men and women would meet?

A. I didn't see the men and women there, didn't see no men and women meet there.

Q. But you knew it had that reputation?

A. No, sir, Mary Fields didn't have no men meeting at her house.

Q. Did Mrs. Bailey, I believe—— Was she a nice woman or not? A. She didn't have nobody meeting there.

Q. Was this third child a full nine months child?

A. I don't know, you ought to ask the doctor.

Q. Who was the doctor? A. Dr. McCormick.

Q. Who? A. Dr. McCormack.

Q. Is he dead or alive?

A. I don't know whether he is dead or alive, been so long since I was in Leavenworth, I can't tell.

Q. How long was it after that before you had the next child? A. Nine months like anybody else.

Q. Nine months after the third one died you had the——

A. Had this other legal child.

Q. Had the other one? A. He was born dead, yes, sir.

Q. How long was it between the second and third child?

A. Nine months like anybody else.

Q. Did you have a doctor attending you on that child?

A. Dr. McCormack.

Q. Where was the fourth child born?

A. Where was my fourth child born?

Q. Yes?

A. Where was my fourth born. He was a legal child born up to Mollie's.

Q. I can't hear you? A. Up to Mollie Letcher's.

Q. The fourth one was born at Mollie's was it?

A. Yes, sir, wasn't nobody there but the doctor, it was a legal child.

Q. The fourth child was not a full grown child?

A. No, sir.

Q. Now, how long was it between the time the first child was born and the fourth child was born?

A. Nine months like any other woman.

Q. Wait a minute, between the first child and the fourth child? A. Nine months like any other woman.

Q. Just nine months between the time the first one was born? A. Yes, sir, about.

Q. Well, two other children were born between that?

A. I have children awful fast.

Q. You mean by that that you have children every nine months. The last question was, you mean by that you have children every nine months?

A. You ask*ed* the doctor and see.

Q. I have got to ask you?

A. Well, ask the doctor, he is the one.

Q. You don't know?

A. He is the one. It might have been a little longer you know, don't you see?

Q. Well, now the first one was born at your father's place? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the other and the new two were born on Delaware Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the last one at Granny Letcher's place?

A. Yes, sir, it wasn't a child.

Q. It was just a miscarriage? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And when was the next one born?

A. How many do you think I was going to have, I told you I had four. My God! Must think I was having children every two weeks, don't you? I am tired.

Q. Where were any of them buried? A. Mount Munsey.

By Mr. German: Did you get her statement that she was tired?

By Mr. Allen: How old are you?

A. I am fifty years old.

By Mr. Blakeney: I object to being interrupted.

Q. Where were any of those children buried?

A. Mount Munsey.

Q. Where? A. Mount Munsey, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. Did you name them to bury them? A. No.

Q. What name were you going under at the time they were buried? A. Laura Hudson.

Q. Laura Hudson?

A. Yes, sir, that was my husband. Oh, I am just so sick of you I can't——

By Mr. Allen: I insist that the witness be given a recess. She says she is sick and tired.

A. Yes, I am tired and have to go out.

By Mr. Allen: She says she is sick and got to go.

A. Yes, I got to go.

By Mr. Cruce: Let the record show that the witness abandoned the witness chair and left the room, Mr. Blakeney claiming that she was sick.

By Mr. Allen: She said that she had to go out immediately, that she was sick.

(The witness leaves the room)

By Mr. German: Let the record show that the witness has reappeared and taken the witness stand.

Q. Can you just tell us now any of the names under which your children are buried? A. They had no names.

Q. You cannot in any manner now designate in any way by which we could find from the records the date of the burial of your children?

A. Oh, I suppose if you would go to Carley, the undertaker up there, something like that, in Leavenworth, that is the only way you can find it, you see.

By Mr. Hanford: Is that name Carthouse?

A. Carthouse, that was the name. We buried them out at Mount Munsey, my father and mother had a lot out there.

Q. Were they buried in your father's and mother's lot?

A. Yes, sir, they was all small, you know. Didn't have any names at all. None of my children didn't have no names.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. How long had you been living at this Mrs. Bailey's or Dailey's when your second child was born there?

A. I didn't live there.

Q. You didn't live there?

A. No, sir, I just went down there and was sick, and was caught there, caught down there.

Q. You went down there to be sick?

A. There is where I was sick.

Q. Why did you go there to be sick?

A. I didn't know it at the time, just like you started somewhere, I was living at home and I went to Mrs. Dailey's.

Q. You went to Mrs. Dailey's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was the second child? A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Elizabeth Bradford, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 2022.

And thereupon, ELIZABETH BRADFORD being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Gordon [German].

Q. What is your name? A. Elizabeth Bradford.

Q. How old are you, Elizabeth?

A. Fifty-seven the 11th day of last October past.

Q. Where do you live?

A. I live on Third Street, 808 South Third.

Q. In Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you been living in Leavenworth?

A. Since eighty-three, since 1894 I have been regularly here, but I have been in and out of here since eighty-three.

Q. Did you know a colored woman in this town who was called Granny Letcher? A. Mary Letcher, yes, sir.

By Mr. Stuart: We would like to request of the Examiner now to permit a short-hand reporter to come in and take the evidence of this witness.

The Examiner: Is there any objection, gentlemen?

By Mr. Allen: I object to it. We object to the request in the presence of the witness, and to an outside reporter coming in here and taking the testimony of this witness in the presence of the witness, because it is a means of intimidating the witness and will have that effect upon the witness.

The Examiner: In view of the objection of counsel, the request will be denied.

And thereupon, the witness retires from the room.

By Mr. Stuart: Now, Mr. Examiner, put this down. Mr. McMillian, a representative of the Government, has been here from day to day taking down the testimony in this case without objection from the defendant counsel. Defendant counsel have made no objection of any kind to any person appearing here to take down the evidence in this case. I now ask that this evidence be taken down because it is impossible for the Examiner to transcribe the evidence as it is given now within a reasonable time, and we desire to have a transcript of the evidence of this witness made as the case progresses.

By the Examiner: Mr. McMillian was in the room without objection on the part of any one present, he may have made notes, but at times when I happened to look at him, he was not making a report of the evidence. There was no objection at the time to his presence and if there had been he would have been excluded. On objection of counsel to the presence of a stenographer for the purpose of taking a report of this particular witness' testimony, the request will be denied.

By Mr. Stuart: The defendants now ask that a stenographer be permitted to be present to take down the evidence of the witness now introduced upon the stand, the witness being Mrs. Elizabeth Bradford.

By Mr. Allen: If you will have the stenographer sit back of the witness, so it will not have the effect of intimidating her, we will withdraw our objection.

By Mr. Stuart: All right.

And thereupon, the witness is recalled to the witness stand.

By Mr. German: Judge Stuart, I shall object to this Stenographer taking it. I want a man who is not interested as an active worker for the defendants.

By Mr. Stuart: Your suggestion is quite proper.

By Mr. German: And we are willing to adjourn until after lunch until you can get some one else.

By Mr. Stuart: I want to keep tab on some things here.

By Mr. Allen: We want that remark to go into the record and our objections to it in the presence of the witness.

And thereupon, a recess is taken until one-thirty o'clock.

And thereafter, and at one-thirty o'clock, P. M., February 28th, 1916, further evidence is herein taken as follows:

By Mr. German: I desire to suggest into the record that the testimony of the witnesses, as disclosed by the record, shows the active participation on the behalf of the defendants, Page and others, in this case, of Lee Bond as an attorney for said defendants, and that Lee Bond holds the office of United States Commissioner; that he resides at Leavenworth, and maintains his official office as United States Commissioner at Leavenworth where these depositions are being taken, and where a great number of the witnesses, who are long time acquaintances of his, reside; and that he has been active among the witnesses for both sides, and that his active participation serves to embarrass the Officers of the Government in consulting with their witnesses and procuring their attendance; and that, therefore, he should not appear as an attorney for said defendants, nor should he participate in this case on their behalf, and we object to his further participation.

By Mr. Stuart: Now, Mr. Examiner, I wish to make this statement: L. Q. C. Lamar, one of the greatest men that America has ever produced, made this statement once on the floor of the United States Senate: "That is an insinuation that no proud man would stand, and no brave man would bear". That is all I have got to say.

By the Examiner: At this time, Mr. Bond is not in attendance at the taking of these depositions. When Mr. Bond appears if there is objections to his remaining in the room where these depositions are being taken, the matter may then be called to the attention of the Examiner.

And thereupon, MRS. ELIZABETH BRADFORD, being called, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

The Examiner: Gentlemen, this record is not complete. There was a request as to a stenographer to take the testimony of this witness.

By Mr. Allen: We now renew our objections to the presence of a Stenographer to take this testimony of this witness.

By Mr. Stuart: Let the Stenographer retire. We don't want him. Let the objection appear that they object to a Stenographer taking down this evidence.

Q. You say that you first came to Leavenworth in eighty-three? A. Yes, sir.

Q. But didn't leave here until the beginning of ninety-three? A. Ninety-three.

Q. You say you knew Granny Letcher?

A. Yes, sir. From ninety-three to ninety-seven— From eighty-three to 1897.

Q. Did you have a daughter or an adopted daughter who lived here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was her name? A. Georgiana Payne.

Q. When did she come to Leavenworth?

A. That was in the early ninety's that she came here. Of course I am not an educated woman and I don't know just the date she came and what time to tell you, it was in the early ninety's and she was here about nine or ten months before I came.

Q. You mean before you came here to live? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you live from eighty-three to ninety-three, where was your home? A. In St. Joe, Missouri.

Q. Where was it that Granny Letcher lived in eighty-three when you first met her?

A. It was on the west end of Shawnee street where she was living then.

Q. Here in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see Granny Letcher after eighty-three when you first met her and before ninety-three when you moved here? A. I often saw her.

Q. Where?

A. In Leavenworth here, I saw her often.

Q. At her home or where?

A. I saw her at her home and around the streets here.

Q. Did you know what—— Who were the members of her family? A. Jim.

Q. Jim, who?

A. Jim Mayo. Jim Phillips they called him, Walter Banks and Sam Nash.

Q. When you came here in ninety-three you say you came here to live? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was your daughter living at that time, or your adopted daughter, Georgia?

A. Down on the South side of Delaware Street.

Q. Who with?

A. Her and Jim called themselves in business down there, a kind of a restaurant, I came here and helped them start up with that.

Q. Did your daughter and Jim ever live at Granny's home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now state if you know about how often you would be at Granny Letcher's between eighty-three and ninety-three?

A. Between eighty-three and ninety-three?

Q. Yes, before you moved here?

A. Well, I was here about once a month, usually spent Sundays; I would come down in the interest of the girl.

Q. In the interest of the girl? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was the girl here then?

A. Yes, she was here whenever they could get away from me.

Q. I don't understand you, Elizabeth?

A. You don't understand me?

Q. No, sir?

A. I say, whenever he could persuade her to dodge me me she was here and I would come after her.

Q. Who? A. Georgiana, before she married him.

Q. Who is it you refer to when you say when he could persuade her? A. Jim. Jim Mayo.

Q. Jim Mayo? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was your daughter up here prior to the time she married him? A. Yes, sir, back and forth.

Q. Did she ever married him?

A. They were said to be married in Atchison, Kansas.

Q. When did that occur? A. In the nineties.

Q. How long before had she been here?

A. Ten month before I came. I came in ninety three.

Q. During all the time that you knew Granny Letcher and were around her home or at her home, state whether or not you knew of any boy living with her whose given name was Tommy?

A. No, sir, I never knew of any one of that kind.

Q. Or Thomas Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Indian Tommy? A. No, sir, James.

Q. How?

A. Jim, and Sam, and Walter was all the children that were around there to my knowledge.

Q. Did you know of a woman during that time, or at any other time who was at Granny Letcher's home or lived there or visited there by the name of Indian Minnie?

A. No, sir, never saw her around the place.

Q. Or Minnie? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Minnie Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know Mr. Lee Bond? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know whether or not he holds any office, whether he is an officer of any kind?

A. I don't know it, but I was told that he was State Commission or something to that effect. Of course, I am not an educated woman and don't pay much mind.

Q. For the Government? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he ever call to see you?

A. Yes, sir, he came out to my house not long ago.

Q. Did you at that time know whether he was a United States Commissioner? A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. Did you know he held any office at that time?

A. No, sir, I just thought he was a lawyer.

Q. A lawyer?

A. Yes, sir, just the law and the big law when he came in the house, the way I knew him when he came in, the law and the big law. I knew him when he wore knee pants.

By Mr. German: There may be one other question a little later, but I don't want to ask it now.

By Mr. Stuart: I think you better ask it now.

By Mr. German: I haven't decided whether to do it or not.

By Mr. Stuart: Well let it go.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. When was—— When did you say you first made up your mind to be a witness in this case?

A. It was in 1915, I didn't make up my mind to be a witness.

Q. Who first found you? A. Sadie.

Q. Sadie James? A. Yes, she came out.

Q. Where did Sadie find you?

A. At my home, she came out.

Q. What did Sadie tell you about this case?

A. She didn't tell me anything about it, she simply asked me did I remember anything about—of the—that went on at Granny's house; and I said, don't say Granny to me. I tell you just what I said to her, I said to her, say Mary Letcher.

Q. Tell everything.

A. She said do you know where Georgia is, and I said I don't, the girl I raised. I said I don't, she said, will you write to Georgia, I will leave you my address, and will you let me know, and I said yes I will do that, and I wrote and didn't get any answer, so I didn't write to Sadie. She didn't tell me anything about this case.

Q. Tell me the questions she asked you?

A. She asked me did I remember what went on at Granny's, how many boys were there when you were around there, she said you were in and out nearly every day, Aunt Lizzie, how many boys were around there? I said Sam, Walter and Jim was all that ever I saw around the place, and she said, do you know anything about Indian Minnie, and I said I never saw her in my life that I am sure of only the time that I met her when we were down looking at the torch light processions at the foot of Cherokee Street, and I said that is the woman you said was Indian Minnie, but——

Q. Go on and tell all you know about it?

A. I said she didn't tell me anything about it, merely asked me questions what went on, did I remember what went on and who was there, and she asked me was I sure. I am not an educated woman and I am not sure, because I didn't carry any of these things around in my head. She said a good deal, went on, they say a good deal went on, and I said, well if Granny had anything like that there she must have had it in a box, I didn't see it, and I said why what is it? And she said I will tell you later.

Q. Did she tell you later?

A. No, sir, she ain't told me later.

Q. Never has told you at all? A. No, sir.

Q. Kept it to herself? A. Whatever it was.

Q. You haven't told all that Sadie said to you?

A. I would be talking a week if I told everything that Sadie said.

Q. We want a week's talk?

A. She didn't say anything particular, just asked me did I remember it, and I said no I never saw any child around the place except Jim, Walter—Pike we always called him, because he——

By Mr. German: I don't want to interrupt counsel's examination, but I thought of another matter.

By Mr. Stuart: Go ahead now.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Did you know in the early days here a woman, an Indian woman, did you ever see an Indian woman here in the earlier days known as Indian Mary or Indian Minnie?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever see an Indian woman here at the Torch Light Procession once?

A. That is the woman they said was Indian Minnie, about eighty-three or four when I first came here.

Q. Where was it that you saw it?

A. At the foot of Cherokee Street next to the river, between Second and Third where I saw her, but I can't tell what the woman looked like, they said that was Indian Minnie, but I wouldn't say it was.

Q. Who was she with? A. With some soldiers.

Q. White soldiers or black soldiers?

A. Yes, sir, white soldiers.

Q. What was going on at that time?

A. Drinking and carousing everybody seemed to be drunk around there.

Q. You say that was on the occasion of a torch light procession? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Drunk? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did she have on, how was she dressed?

A. I never paid no attention, but she had no extraordinary dress about her, just an ordinary citizens clothes.

Q. Had on woman's clothes?

A. Yes, sir. just ordinary.

Q. How was her hair fixed?

A. Well, her hair was all down.

Q. You say her hair was long or short?

A. Long hair, her hair was long.

Q. What was the color of it? A. Black.

Q. Black? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What sized woman was she?

A. She was a woman that looked like she would weigh about a hundred and forty pounds maybe, or heavier, short.

Q. Short woman? A. Shorter than I.

Q. How tall are you?

A. About five foot eight or nine, probably.

Q. About how much shorter than you was this woman?

A. Considerably shorter, maybe six inches, maybe more.

Q. When did you say this was? A. In eighty-three.

Q. The first year that you ever came here?

A. Yes, sir, my first year.

Recross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Now, witness think a minute. There was a girl here named Indian Minnie, wasn't there

A. Yes, sir. there was but I never seen her.

Q. You always heard of her here in the city?

A. I always heard of her but I never knew her.

Q. Indian Minnie? A. Yes, sir, she was here all right.

Q. And she was regarded and an Indian Girl here in the City? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Black hair? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Black eyes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Braided her hair down her back?

A. I never saw her braid her hair, her hair was all down when I saw her.

Q. Do you think that was in eighty-three?

A. Yes, sir, it was in eighty-three.

Q. Are you sure about that?

A. No, sir, I am not sure it was in eighty-three.

Q. Might have been eighty-four?

A. Yes, sir, might have been eighty-four.

Q. And might have been eighty-five?

A. Yes, sir, it might have been, yes, sir.

Q. A long time ago, hasn't it been?

A. Yes, sir, a long time ago.

Q. A long time ago? A. Yes, sir.

Q. This was known as a girl—as Indian Minnie?

A. Yes, sir, I never knew her.

Q. You saw her at the torch light procession?

A. Yes, sir, I just saw her.

Q. Do you remember when Mr. Blaine was running for the Presidency? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Eighty four, wasn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is the time that you saw the torch light procession, isn't it? A. That is the time.

Q. That is the time that you saw Indian Minnie, isn't it?

A. That is the time I think. It was a torch light procession.

Q. Jim Blaine was running for the Presidency?

A. I remember that, and everybody was drunk but me.

Q. You remember that well? A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What time of the year was that torch light procession, summer, winter, early spring, or fall, or when?

A. Spring, it was in the spring.

Q. It was in the spring, was it? A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. You never lived at Granny Letcher's did you?

A. At Granny Letcher's, no, sir.

Q. Yes? A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Auntie, you remember that night when they had the torch light procession was when they elected some big man, wasn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. It was election night?

A. It was election night, yes, sir.

Q. You say it was in the spring, are you sure it was in the spring? A. Well, I am not sure.

Q. But you are sure it was an election?

A. I am sure it was an election night, I am satisfied of that.

Q. Now, Auntie, did you ever stay at Granny Letcher's house?

A. I never staid at Granny Letcher's house but one night in my life and I slept in a chair by the side of Jim Mayo's wife's bed.

Q. That was Georgiana? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You ran down from Atchison to find her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you found her sick at that house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you came down several times from Atchison to Granny Letcher's house, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir. I come down right along to the interest of—

Q. And you just went there to get your Georgiana?

A. I just went there to look after that girl's interest. I had no other interest in the place.

Q. You were trying to keep her away from Jim Mayo?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you know of the people that were around Granny Letcher's house, do you? A. No, sir.

Q. You never staid around there long enough to find out?

A. I didn't make their acquaintance to go there.

Q. Now, Auntie, that night when you went down to that drinking place Georgiana went with you, didn't she?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. She came and got you and asked you to go down there with her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she wanted to go down there and get Jim, didn't she? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she was mad at Jim because he was running after Minnie, wasn't she?

A. She said that he was running after a woman and I asked her what she wanted with such a man as that, and she—and I went with her down there.

Q. Didn't she say that she was going to get after Minnie, that she was going to knock her in the head or something of that kind? A. No, sir, she wasn't that kind.

Q. But she was suspicious of Minnie?

A. Minnie didn't need to fear her, they feared me, the old hand was the one that kept her eye on.

Q. And it was Minnie that Jim was after, wasn't it?

A. I don't know that he were.

Q. Or that Georgiana was suspicious of?

A. Minnie was with the soldiers when I saw her.

Q. With a couple of soldiers?

A. A couple of dozen it looked to me.

Q. A couple of soldiers were trying to get her to go away with them some place?

A. A couple of dozen I would say was trying to get her to go to the dummy and go to the fort where she belonged.

Q. And Georgiana told you that that was Indian Minnie?

A. Georgiana and several others told me that that was Indian Minnie.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Now, you say that Georgiana taken you down there?

A. Yes.

Q. Was that after she and Jim are supposed to have been married? A. No.

Q. How long before they were supposed to have been married, was it?

A. Now, I just got the right man to talk to now, because you know these things, you know that Jim had that girl running back and forth.

Q. Just answer my questions. How long before they were supposed to be married was it that they taken you down to this drinking shop?

A. That was in eighty-three, eighty-three or four, along in there somewhere that we were down there.

Q. And when was it that you seen Indian Minnie?

A. That is the night I saw her, that election night.

Q. How is that?

A. That was before Jim was married to Georgiana.

Q. How long before? A. I don't know.

Q. Was it—— Were you here in eighty-four? A. Sure.

Q. How often?

A. I lived right here at 763 on Seneca Street.

Q. How often were you up Mother Letcher's or Granny Letcher's?

A. I was there every night or every day while Georgia was there.

Q. Georgia was at Granny Letcher's from 1883——

A. No. I didn't say that.

Q. Now, I want to try to refresh your memory?

A. All right.

Q. Do you mean 1884 or 1893 or 1893?

A. I mean that I came to Leavenworth first, last, and all the time, first I met Granny Letcher was in 1883.

Q. And you remained here?

A. No, I didn't. I knew Granny Letcher from then to 1890 and to 1897.

Q. Did you live here during all that time?

A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you live at?

A. Lived in St. Joe and in Atchison.

Q. And how often did you return back to Leavenworth while you were in St. Joe and in Atchison?

A. In 1893 I came here and stayed ten months.

Q. Where did you live in 1884?

A. Down on Seneca Street here.

Q. Where did you live in 1885?

A. In Seneca Street on John Madden's house.

Q. Now, was Georgiana here during those years?

A. Georgiana was here when I lived here.

Q. Was she living at Jim Mayo's house during that time?

A. Cherokee street between between Bruce's grocery and that frame. and she worked down on Choctaw on Cheyenne Street up stairs over Abel's store—over Abel's Drug Store for those sporting ladies.

Q. You lived here since 1893? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Regularly? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Haven't been away?

A. Yes, sir, been away six years since that.

Q. Georgiana came here six or eight months before you came here in ninety three?

A. Yes, sir, as near as I can think of it.

Q. And when she lived on Cherokee Street across from the old Continental Hotel there, it was in 1892 or three, wasn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Just before you came back here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, at the time that Georgiana taken you down to this drinking shop to get Jim Mayo, you had returned back here in 1893, wasn't it? A. No.

Q. When was it? A. No, it wasn't.

Q. Well, when was it? A. It was before I moved here.

Q. Well, how long before?

A. It might have been as much as two years before.

Q. As much as two years? A. Yes.

Q. Then, it would have been about 1890, wouldn't it?

A. Yes, about.

Q. 1890 then? A. Yes.

Q. Then, instead of being in 1884 or '83 that she taken you down to this drinking shop it was 1893, wasn't it?

A. Ninety-three?

Q. Yes, ma'am?

A. No, sir, it was before I moved here that I saw that woman down there.

Q. I want to know how long before, whether ten years or two years?

A. No, it wasn't no ten years, it wasn't two years.

Q. But you did move here in 1893?

A. Yes, sir, I did move here until ninety seven. In 1897 I moved away from here.

Q. And you want to say that the woman they pointed out to you as Indian Minnie you seen in 1893 or four when you returned back here to live? A. No, I didn't say that.

Q. What did you say?

A. I said it was between eighty-three and the time that I moved here before Jim married that girl I saw that woman.

Q. Eighty three and between the time you moved here, 1893, would be ten years, wouldn't it?

A. Yes, sir, or eleven.

Q. Was it eighty-four? A. No.

Q. Eighty five? A. No.

Q. 1886? A. No, sir.

Q. 1887? A. No.

Q. Was it 1888?

A. I am trying to think now where I lived in 1888?

Q. What did you say?

A. I say I am trying to think. No, it wasn't 1888. Jim married that girl in the nineties. I will stick to it. I don't know what year, but it was in the early nineties that he married that girl.

Q. But I am trying to get fixed the time that she taken you down to this drinking shop.

A. That time that she taken me down to that was one of the times he had caused her to come down here and I came after her.

Q. But you don't know what year it was?

A. No, I don't, it was in between that.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Auntie when you came down from Atchison, you usually came down on Sunday?

A. I usually came oftener than Sunday, any time anything went wrong with that child I was here regardless of the day of week it was I was here.

Q. How long did you stay, Auntie?

A. A week at sometimes, and probably a couple of weeks. I worked all day and came down in the morning, kept that up for weeks.

Q. Auntie, when you first moved down here in ninety-three, where did you go to live, do you remember?

A. I went down on the corner of Eighth and Seneca, paid rent to Judge Windors.

A. I don't know, I paid the rent to Judge Windors.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. When Mr. Lee Bond came down to your house, who was there with him? Will you point out the man, is he here in this room?

A. I think that is the man right there, am not sure, but he had on——

By Mr. Hanford: Mr. Hanford?

A. Wasn't it you?

By Mr. Hanford: Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Auntie, when we came down there to see you, you told us the same thing you told here?

A. I am aiming to tell you the truth as near as I know how.

Q. And what you told us was just what you told here today? A. Yes, just the same thing.

Recross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Auntie, when did you first learn that Mr. Bond was the United States Commissioner?

A. They were out there just a short time ago.

Q. Who told you about it?

A. My husband told me, he told me not to talk too much, he said you got no education and got no remembrance, and you will tell something that is not right directly.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Auntie, when was it that Sadie James came to see you?

A. I can't tell you on my life, but in 1915, sometime during the year.

Q. Sometime in 1915? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you sure it wasn't 1914?

A. No, sir, I think it was last year.

Q. Last year? A. I think so.

Witness dismissed.

Q. Don't know what year Will Parker left you?

A. He left me? I left him.

Q. What year? A. Wait a minute I can tell you.

Q. All right. A. Where is Mr. McLain?

Q. I don't want you to ask him, I want you to tell me.

A. I can ask my sister.

Q. I don't want you to ask your sister, I want you to tell me.

A. That is the only way I can tell you by asking her what year I went to Chicago.

Q. What year did you go to live at Chicago?

A. I asked you to ask my sister.

Q. I want you to tell me?

A. I can't tell you exactly. I stayed in Chicago three years, and I been back from Chicago, will be eight years this June coming.

Q. Who told you it was 1888 that you went to Leavenworth to live with Jim Mayo?

A. Who told me? I went there the year before my sister was born, and I know it was '88.

Q. What year was your sister born?

A. She is out there, ask her.

Q. I am asking you? A. I can't tell you, ask her.

Q. Don't you know what year your sister was born?

A. 1889.

Q. 1889, are you sure about that?

A. No, I am not sure. You talked to her this morning and you asked her about her age. You ought to know.

Q. Now, will you tell me what year you left Leavenworth? A. What year I left Leavenworth?

Q. Yes? A. Left Leavenworth when?

Q. When you went to Atchison?

A. No, sir, I said stayed in Leavenworth two years, can't tell you what year I left there, never kept that close track.

Q. Can you tell me what year you came back to Leavenworth and lived two months?

A. I came back to Leavenworth and lived two months, will be eight years this coming July.

Q. What year was it?

A. You can count it better than I can, Mr. Bell.

Q. I want you to tell me?

A. I can't tell you when I was down there and I know just how long I was down there and when it was, and when it was I went.

Q. Now, you say Scott came to Granny Letcher's to live?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. While you were there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What year was that?

A. Came there the first year I was there.

Q. The first year you were there?

A. I think it was the first year, I wouldn't be sure, but I know they came there during the time I was there when that fire was.

Q. Did Sadie tell you they came there then?

A. No, sir, I know when they came there, I was there when they came.

Q. What year did Mary Anthony bring her child there?

A. I don't know that either. Brought it there after I was there.

Q. How long did the child stay there?

A. I don't remember whether the child was there when I left or not, I think it was, I don't remember.

Q. Do you know what year that was? A. No.

Q. What year was it that Mayo ran the restaurant down on some street in Leavenworth?

A. During the time I were there.

Q. What year? A. I don't know the year either.

Q. Now, you don't know anything about the years except just as your sister or somebody has given you, do you?

A. About the years?

Q. Yes?

A. I told you how I know it was that. I went to Leavenworth the year before my sister was born.

Q. Answer my question. Somebody told you to testify that you were in Leavenworth in 1888, didn't they? A. No.

Q. Nobody didn't tell you that?

A. No, sir, didn't nobody at all tell me that.

Q. How many times did Sadie James come to St. Joe to see you?

A. I seen her twice, she didn't exactly come to see me the last time, I seen her a couple or three weeks ago, but didn't particularly come to see me, she was passing through and stopped at my house.

Q. She was there once before, wasn't she to see you?

A. Yes, she was there once before.

Q. How long ago?

A. A couple or three months; maybe a little longer.

Q. Each time she talked to you about this case, didn't she?

A. The first time she did. This time when she was there, she didn't have much to say.

Q. Now, what did she say happened at Granny's?

A. What she said—she asked me did I remember her, and I told her I didn't, and she got to talking about this boy, Walter and Sam, and she asked me did I ever know Minnie Atkins, and I said no, I didn't know Minnie Atkins.

Q. Did she say she knew Minnie Atkins?

A. No, she said she never knew Minnie Atkins.

Q. What did she say about the boy?

A. Didn't say anything; asked me if I knew them—if they were there during the time I were, and I said, no, I never knew Minnie, or Tommy either; and asked if they were there when I was, and I said no.

Q. Did she ask you if there were any other babies there?

A. I told her all the children I knew; Walter Banks and Mrs. Scott's Lucien was the only boy children that were there.

Q. Now, then you say that Sadie came up to mother Letcher's when you were there often?

A. I said she lived up the alley there from Granny, I think it was on end street where she used to come from there, to see Granny; that is what I said.

Q. Who else came up there?

A. I can't tell you who else came to Granny's. That would be impossible for me to know who else came to Granny's.

Q. Did you know Martha Clark?

A. The one they call Mattie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she have two children?

A. She didn't have no children there at all, that I know of.

Q. Where did she live?

A. She used to come some where—out of town there.

Q. Out of town?

A. Came from out in town to see Granny but I don't know where.

Q. You don't know where she came from? A. No, I don't.

Q. How long did you know Mary Anthony?

A. I knew her during the time she kept the child at Mrs. Letcher's.

Q. Mary Anthony ever stay at Mrs. Letcher's any of the time that you were there?

A. She was there with Mrs. Scott, they—she was living with Mrs. Scott, and they all moved there together.

Q. Do you know that she had her two children there, don't you?

A. No, I don't know but one child Mary Anthony had and that was a child named Etta.

Q. How old was Etta when she brought her there?

A. Small baby.

Q. About how old?

A. I think about a year and a half or two years; I can't say.

Q. Do you know how old she is now?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. You don't know how long ago that is?

A. I have never seen Mary or Etta since.

Q. Never seen Mary or Etta since? A. No, sir.

Q. Are you sure that the Scotts went to Granny Letcher's, or came there—the first year you went there?

A. I don't know whether the first year or the second year. I know it was in the winter time that they came there; whenever they had the fire.

Q. Winter time? A. I am sure it was cool weather.

Q. The first year or the send year?

A. I don't remember whether the first year or the second year but I know it was during the time I was there.

Q. You don't know who else was there?

A. Dan Hudson and his wife lived there, I know.

Q. How many of the Scotts came?

A. She brought her whole family; I don't know whether three or four girls.

Q. Name them?

A. One girl Louisa, and one named Mary—I am not sure —one of her daughters had a little girl.

Q. What kind of a looking woman was Mrs. Scott?

A. A little bit of a woman.

Q. Do you know whether Mrs. Scott was there, or whether the oldest daughter were taking care of the family?

A. The old lady Scott was there.

Q. She was living? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was Mr. Scott? A. Mr. Scott was dead.

Q. How many girls were there?

A. I don't know; I said three or four—I am not sure.

Q. How many boys were there?

A. She only had one there, Lucien.

Q. She didn't have no other boy?

A. Not there she didn't.

Q. Do you know whether Mrs. Scott had two boys or not? A. No, sir, I don't know that.

Q. If she had them, you didn't see them?

A. I never seen but the one boy and that was Lucien.

Q. Did you work out anywhere in Leavenworth except Crilly's?

A. I used to wash for the livery stable man as I said before and used to take the girl's washing.

Q. Which livery stable man? A. Crilly's.

Q. You were there two years?

A. I were there two years.

Q. Who lived next door to Granny Letcher's during that time?

A. One side was a lumber yard, and the other side Alice Woods lived, and her two boys, and one girl and her nephew, and a Jew family lived in front in the stone house, and they lived in the back and the Jew family moved out, and they took the whole house.

Q. Who lived right across the street?

A. I don't know; some white people. I didn't know them.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Did any of your people die while you were there?

A. Yes, sir, I had a sister that died.

Q. What was her name? A. Nancy Francis.

Q. How long did she die before your other sister was born? A. She died a year before my other sister was born.

Q. What was the name of that sister? A. Corrine.

Q. Is she here now? A. She is out in the hall.

Q. How long had you been living with Jim Mayo when this sister died? A. Two weeks.

Q. Did you go back home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you stay?

A. I don't know; I stayed about two weeks and Jim come after me.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. You say you had a sister by the name of Mary Francis? A. Nancy Francis.

Q. Where did she die at? A. St. Joe.

Q. Is her husband living there now?

A. She was a baby—she didn't have any husband.

Q. How old was she? A. She was 15 months old.

Q. About two weeks afterward?

A. I was in Leavenworth about two weeks—the very day I went home.

Q. Your mother living? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was she living at that time?

A. I guess she was—she is not dead yet.

Q. Was your mother living at the time you came to Leavenworth? A. She was living I——

Q. She know what you were coming down there for?

A. She didn't know; I run off.

Q. And didn't know you were going there to live in adultery with Jim Mayo, did you? A. I run off.

Mr. Allen: We object to that as improper cross examination, going into a matter not gone into by counsel for the Government.

Q. Answer the question.

A. Why, I knew I was going there to live with Jim, yes.

Q. Knew you were going there to live in adultery with him? A. I——

Mr. German: I object to that question that it involves a legal question which witness is not qualified to answer.

Q. Tell us, did you know you were going there to live in adultery with Jim Mayo?

A. I told you once I didn't know I was going to live in adultery; I knew I was going to live with Jim Mayo.

Q. Did you go there for the purpose of marrying him?

A. No, I didn't go for the purpose of marrying him?

Q. You went there for the purpose of living with him without marrying?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as having been about fifteen times. We call upon the Examiner at this time to restrict the examination of this witness and call his attention to the fact that this matter has been inquired into over and over again by counsel for the defendants.

Mr. Bell: I don't insist upon that question.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. How long did Sadie James stay when she came to see you?

A. When she came to see me she didn't stay but a very short while.

Q. The second time when she came to see you?

A. She stayed at my house about three quarters of an hour.

Q. That is all?

A. Yes, sir, about three quarters of an hour.

Q. How long did she stay the first time?

A. When I went home from work, she was there; I don't know how long she had been there before. When I went home she was there.

Q. When [] say you and Sadie talked about this boy, and then, changed to Walter and Sam, that was just a slip, wasn't it? A. No, it wasn't a slip.

Q. Then you did talk about the boy?

A. She asked me if any Tommy Atkins was there during the time I was there, and I said no.

Q. Did you tell her that the first time?

A. I always said it because I never knew of any Tommy Atkins, and I never knew of no Minnie Atkins.

Q. Did she talk to you about this Indian boy the first time?

A. She spoke about it and we talked about Granny and different things. We didn't particularly talk about Minnie Atkins at all, or Tommy Atkins.

Q. Where did she see you? At your mother's house?

A. At my mother's house.

Q. Did she tell you that she working for the Government?

A. No, sir, she didn't; her and Martha Clark came to my house together.

Q. She and Martha came together?

A. Yes, sir; Martha was a friend of mine, and a friend of Sadie's and they both come there and didn't tell me she was working for the Government at all.

Q. They came together both times?

A. No, sir, just the first time.

Q. Sadie came by herself the second time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And didn't she tell you that if you were going to testify for the Government to testify that you didn't know this boy and you wouldn't get in trouble?

A. No, sir, she didn't tell me anything of the kind.

Q. And [] you tell her the first time that you wouldn't do it, and she came back the second time, and you told her you would do it? A. No, sir.

Q. Did Sadie James tell you she was going to get three thousand dollars and was getting fifty dollars a month?

A. No, sir, she didn't tell me.

Q. If she could prove this boy wasn't there?

A. No, sir, she didn't tell me.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. What did Mattie Clark tell you? A. Nothing.

Q. Didn't say a word to you? A. No, sir.

Q. Just came to pay you a visit?

A. She comes to my house often, Mattie does.

Q. She just came to pay you a visit?

A. She comes to my house often.

Q. Did Sadie tell you that this controversy was over some land in Oklahoma?

A. I don't know until yet, what it is over.

Q. Well, did she tell you?

A. No, sir, she didn't; I don't know yet what I am down here for.

Q. You don't know what you are down here for? A. No.

Q. Sadie or the man that came to see you told you——

A. The man that came to see me Friday evening to be at the Post Office building Monday morning, and the woman I worked for asked what for and he said on a Government trial and that is all I know yet.

Q. And nobody ever talked to you about the case?

A. No, sir, nobody talked to me about the case.

Q. And Mattie never said nothing to you, just paid you a visit? A. She comes to my house often, Mattie does.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Corrinne Woolfolk, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 3001.

And thereupon, CORINNE WOOLFOLK, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. Corinne Woolfolk.

Q. Where do you live? A. 1701 East 13th.

Q. Kansas City? A. Kansas City, Missouri.

Q. What is your age?

A. My age—I will be 27 my next birthday, the 30th day of September.

Q. Did you have a sister named—what was your sister's name? A. Nancy Francis.

Q. Nancy Francis? A. Yes.

Q. Did she died before you were born?

A. Yes, she died a year before I was born.

Q. Has that always been your understanding?

A. That has always been my understanding, yes, sir.

Q. You have kept up with your own age? A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. What year were you born in? A. 1889.

Cross Examination by Mr. Johnson.

Q. Have you a Bible record of your age?
A. No, sir, I haven't; I haven't any Bible.
Q. You haven't? A. No, sir.
Q. Has your mother got a Bible record of your age?
A. I don't know.
Q. So then, your statement, then, is simply from hearsay?
A. From my mother, yes.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Have you talked to your mother recently about your age? A. No, I haven't.
Q. You didn't talk to her about your age with reference to testifying here?
A. No, I haven't seen my mother since October.

Mr. Hanford: I move to strike the testimony of this witness and quash the deposition on the ground that it is irrelevant and immaterial, and hearsay testimony.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of M. Bahlor appearing in Mr. Penick's transcript beginning at page 1626, and again beginning at page 2069.

And thereupon, M. BAHLER being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. M. Bahler,
Q. You reside in Leavenworth, Mr. Bahler? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What age are you?
A. Well, I hate to give away my age; I was born in '62—that is 50 years old.
Q. Do you hold any official position in the city?
A. Chief of the Fire Department.
Q. How long have you held that position?
A. Why, I have been chief, now, close on to eight years; been working the Fire Department thirty years, the first of next March.
Q. Then, you began——
A. The first day of March, '86.
Q. The first day of March, 1886. Have you been connected with the Fire Department ever since that time?
A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know of the burning of some property in the City of Leavenworth; fire destroyed—when fire destroyed the home of Doctor Brock? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent.

Q. Was that fire a big fire?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Q. Why yes, it was quite a big fire. That is, the Brock, itself, was not so very big, but originally it started in the livery stable.

Q. Whose livery stable?

A. Clark, Byrnes & Brock's was the joint property and it destroyed the residence also, and altogether, it was quite a big fire.

Q. Destroyed some other property, too?

A. Yes, McDongy's property and damaged Weid's property some; it was on the east, Brock's was on the west.

Q. Where was this fire—where was it in the city?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. It was on Shawnee between Fifth and Sixth, on the north side.

Q. When did that fire occur?

A. It occurred June—between the 18th and 18th of '86.

Q. In 1886, you remember that?

A. I remember that outside of the record.

Q. You remember that outside of the record? A. Yes.

Q. Did you bring with you here this morning, a record of fires in the city? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Does it contain a record of the fire you referred to?

A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You say you remember the date of the fire?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What day did you say it was?

A. It was between the 18th—the book shows it was——

Q. Don't testify as to the book.

A. I*f* was of the night between the 18th and 19th—just about 12 o'clock; it says 12:15.

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out what the book says.

Q. I am asking about your memory, now; leave the book out. A. Well, it was the night between the 18th and 19th.

Q. Without reference to the book? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Without having kept any record, you would have remembered it? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Hanford: I move to strike the whole testimony of the witness as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Bahler, how does it happen that you remember that fire independently?

A. Well, because I went to work the first day of March and it was my first large fire.

Q. That was? A. And therefore, I remember the occasion.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, M. BAHLER, being recalled, further testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. You are the Fire Chief? A. Yes, sir.

Q. In Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were on the witness stand once before?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Early last week?

A. I forget what day it was, last week sometime.

Q. Do you remember the occasion of the burning of the Kelly-Lysle Mill here, Mr. Bahler? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember the date of that fire independently of your record?

A. No, I don't remember of the date, but I remember of the other circumstances, but the date, I just got to look at the records.

Q. Was the fact of that fire records in the records?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you that record with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you turn to it, please, sir, turn to the record of this fire. Were you at this fire? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Can you refresh your memory as to the exact date of it by reference to that record?

A. Why, yes, I remember the time of the fire and all, but the date I had forgotten, but it was on Sunday night.

Q. On Sunday night, in what year? A. In eighty-nine.

Q. What month? A. In February.

Q. What day of the month? A. Well, the 29th of——

Q. The 29th of February?

A. Of February, yes, sir, February 25th, I mean.

Q. February 25th, 1889? A. Yes, sir. February 25th.

Q. That was the Kelly-Lyale Mill? A. Yes, sir.

Q. By reference to the record, you are able to refresh your memory as to the date of that fire, are you?

A. Oh, yes.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Elizabeth La Vallie, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript beginning at page 2070.

And thereupon, ELIZA LA VALLAY, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. State your name? A. Eliza LaVallay.

Q. Where do you live?

A. I live on Kiowa, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. What is your age?

A. I was borned in August 12th, 1876, or 1867, I don't remember.

Q. How old are you now?

A. Well, I can count up from the 12th of August, 1876, I think.

Q. Are you a sister of Alice Taire, who was just on the witness stand? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How much older are you than Alice?

A. Well, I don't know. I guess about, I don't know what you call it, five years or four, which, I don't know.

Q. Eliza, do you remember the occasion of the Kelly-Lyle Mill burning? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you living prior to that time?

A. I was living on the south—on the east side of the mill during the fire, that was kind of between the mill and what used to be the Methodist Church.

Q. Did the house in which you were living burn?

A. No, the house didn't burn.

Q. Did you have to leave the house on account of that fire?

A. Yes, sir, he had us to move on account of the smoke stack, they was afraid it would fall.

Q. Where did you move to?

A. I moved then, that night to Granny Letcher's.

Q. Who else moved in your family to Granny Letcher's?

A. Well, there was myself and my sister Alice, my sister Julia, Mrs. Carter, and Lucian Lyman, and Mary Anthony, Mary Lower it is.

Q. How old were you at that time?

A. Well, I can't hardly say.

Q. Were you grown?

A. Oh, I was a young lady as they take to be young ladies now days.

Q. Did you know Granny Letcher before that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long had you known her prior to that fire?

A. Well, I guess all together I must have known Granny Letcher about four or five years, or some place around there.

Q. How frequently were you at her home?

A. Well, during the four first years then, you might call it, I guess about—— Oh, quite often I was in and out.

Q. Well, about how often?

A. I was there at Granny's and I was there at night.

Q. Nearly every day during that time?

A. Nearly every day in the afternoon.

Q. After that, how long did you live at Granny's?

A. Well, from the night of the fire, I must have lived at Granny Letcher's about a month, or maybe more. I lived there until we could get our house empty. We had our house rented out and I had notified the people and give them time to get out of our house before I could move back.

Q. Where was your house?

A. Our house was out on Fifth Avenue. We owned our own property out there.

Q. Was that the same house that you moved out of when the fire moved you?

A. No, we didn't own that house. We rented that house down by the mill. I moved to that house down by the mill so I could be closer to my work.

Q. After you moved from Granny Letcher's home, how often did you see her?

A. How often did I see her after I moved away?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, I seen her just the same in the morning and in the afternoon.

Q. Where? A. Then, she was on Seneca Street.

Q. Where, at her home? A. At her home.

Q. Were you in her home frequently? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long after the fire?

A. Oh, I don't know, I was there, I don't know—from about—— Let's see now, how long was I there? I can't exactly tell because I was there quite often afterwards.

Q. Eliza, do you know Minnie Atkins or a Thomas Atkins or an Indian Minnie or an Indian Tommy at Granny Letcher's home? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever hear of one being there? A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Now, Eliza, what time did you first go to Granny Letcher's, give me the year?

A. Well, when I first went to Granny Letcher's?

Q. Yes? A. She lived on Shawnee Street.

Q. What year was it, Eliza?

A. I can't tell you what year it was, I don't remember the year.

Q. Where on Shawnee, what place on Shawnee?

A. Well, she lived right across from what used to be the old Monet Livery Stable.

Q. How old were you when you first went to Granny Letcher's?

A. I don't know how old I was, I might have been a—fifteen or sixteen, or maybe older.

Q. You were a big chunk of a girl? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were about fifteen or sixteen years old then, or seventeen years old, wasn't you? A. Well, I might have been.

Q. And might have been eighteen?

A. I might have been older.

Q. Or twenty?

A. No, I might have been older than that, I won't say how old.

Q. Can you give me some idea of the year that you first saw Granny Letcher?

By Mr. Allen: Judge, there is one other question.

By Mr. Stuart: All right.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. When you first knew Granny Letcher, what children were in her home?

A. When I first knew Granny Letcher, the first time I knew her was when I say when she lived on Shawnee Street. There was a girl lived there had two children, her name was Mattie Clark, had one which was named Mabel and the other was named Annie. That was when I first knew her on Shawnee Street.

Q. Who is Mattie Clark?

A. Mattie Clark, that is all I can tell you. Sometimes they call her Martha Miller, and sometimes Mattie Clark. She was a lady friend of mine.

Q. Does she live here now? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What does she go by now? A. Mattie Clark, I guess.

Q. She is sometimes known as what, sometimes known as Martha Miller? A. Marthat Miller, yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Walter Banks? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sam Nash? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Jim Mayo? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did they live? A. With Granny Letcher.

Q. What other people lived with her?

A. Well, there was, as you say, Jim Mayo, Sam Nash, Walter Banks, and a woman they called Nettie, and another woman they called Bell, and another woman they called Georgia.

Q. Was there a baby girl ever born at your home?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did that girl ever live at Granny Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was her name? A. Etta Lower.

Q. Do you know when Granny Letcher lived on Cherokee Street? A. No, sir, I don't.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Eliza, when did you first meet Sadie James?

A. When did I first meet Sadie James, at school.

Q. How long ago?

A. Been many a day ago. I can't tell you how long ago it has been.

Q. Well, about what year was it that you went to school with Sadie?

A. I can't tell you, it has been so long, went to North Leavenworth school together.

Q. Can you figure it a little bit and see if you can find the date?

A. No, sir, I am not a very good figurer, I can't tell you, but I have been knowing Sadie from that on right along.

Q. You and Sadie took a trip together not long ago, didn't you? A. Yes, sir, we did.

Q. Where did you and Sadie go to?

A. My sister's at Kansas City.

Q. What did you go down there for?

A. I most always go to see my sister..

Q. What did you take Sadie for?

A. I didn't take Sadie and she didn't take me. I paid my way and she paid hers, I went one way and she went another.

Q. How come you to go with Sadie?

A. Sadie was going down the day I went down.

Q. You and Sadie had a talk before, hadn't you?

A. No, not very much. She came to my house one time looking for a little boy called Tommy.

Q. What did she say, Eliza, when she came there?

A. Well, she said, she was looking for a little boy by the name of Tommy Atkinson, and she asked my sister if she could go out to Father Shorty's with her, and she said she would be back and go and go, but Sadie didn't come back and go, and the next time after that she came back and said there wasn't no Tommy Atkinson, it was only a put up job.

Q. And she told you that she was satisfied Tommy Atkins was a myth, didn't she, didn't exist at all?

A. That is what she said.

Q. You agreed with her?

A. No, sir, I didn't agree with her, I never seen him or heard tell of him.

Q. What did you say about that?

A. I didn't say anything.

Q. Now, what did Sadie tell you she wanted you to swear in this case, Eliza?

A. Sadie never has said, until today, that she wanted me to swear anything, never has until today, said that she wanted me to swear anything.

Q. What did she tell you today, now?

A. Didn't tell me anything. I haven't seen Sadie since I—— I believe one day last week she was at my house looking for somebody and I don't know, and she went on.

Q. What did she say when she came to your house one day last week? A. She was looking for some woman.

Q. What woman?

A. Let's see if I can tell—— Let's see if I can think of her name. Well, I can't think of her name now. Her name was Matt—I can't think of it now.

Q. Eliza, what did she say she wanted with this woman?

A. She didn't say nor I didn't ask her.

Q. You talked about this case, didn't you?

A. No. No, she didn't say a word about the case, she asked me if I knew where Matt—— Well, I can't think of the name now.

Q. Tell me that name now? A. I can't think of it.

Q. You knew her didn't you, knew the woman that she wanted, didn't you?

A. No, I am not acquainted with the woman at all.

Q. Was the woman's name Matt Burns?

A. No, and I don't know where she lives, and my brother showed her where she lives. She met my brother on the street and asked him and he showed her.

Q. How came her to come to your house?

A. Well, I can't tell you.

Q. How long did she stay there?

A. Not very long, long enough to speak and ask if I knew where this woman live-, and I told her I didn't know, but I heard she lived in North Leavenworth.

Q. How did you know that of the woman if——

A. I can't think of the woman's name now, my brother knows her. Mr. Bell knows what her name is.

Q. Mr. Bell may know it, but he can't tell it.

A. Well, I know.

Q. You tell me just what that woman's name was?

A. Well, I can't tell it, but I will ask my brother, he is out there in the hall.

Q. When you and Sadie went off together, where did you go?

A. To Kansas City to my sister's. I went to my sister's, I don't know where Sadie went.

Q. Did Sadie go to your sister's with you?

A. Yes, she went.

Q. How long did she stay?

A. Didn't stay at all, went there and spoke to Julia and walked off.

Q. What did she say to Julia?

A. Asked her how she was and how she was getting along.

Q. And what else did she say, Eliza? A. Not a thing.

Q. Not a thing else? A. No.

Q. Didn't she ask her what she knew about this case?

A. No.

Q. How long did Sadie stay at your house?

A. My house, she didn't stay there very long at all. No longer than just to walk on out.

Q. How long did she stay at your sister's house?

A. She didn't stay there long at all, didn't even sit down.

Q. Where did she go when she left your sister's house?

A. I can't tell you because I didn't go with her.

Q. She told you when you all went off together, what she was trying to do? A. No, sir, she didn't.

Q. Told you that she was hunting evidence in this case, didn't she? A. No, sir, she didn't.

Q. Who else did you see down there besides Sadie? Now, let's have all the persons that you saw while you were down there, when you went on that trip. A. I can't remember.

Q. Well, try to remember; tell me the names of the people that you saw when you went down there with Sadie.

A. Why, I didn't go with Sadie, I paid my——

Q. Well, we assume that Sadie went with you.

A. No, Sadie didn't go with me.

Q. Just tell us, now, who it was that you saw down there?

A. I can't remember who I did see.

Q. Don't you remember anybody at all?

A. No, I can't; I can't remember. It might come to me later on.

Q. Try to put your head on it, now.

A. Well, I don't know; I can't tell you.

Q. Was any white man there?

A. I don't know; I can't say.

Q. Well, now tell us. You were there.

A. I don't remember.

Q. Well, think it over.

A. It has been so long. I don't keep so very much on my mind; I can't tell.

Q. How long ago has that been?

A. It has been—I don't remember; one year, I guess, since I have been to Kansas City.

Q. You told us, just now, things that occurred thirty years ago, didn't you?

A. Oh, yes, but I wasn't thinking about Kansas City.

Q. You wasn't? A. No.

Q. Well, tell us what occurred in Kansas City a year ago.

A. I can't tell you; I don't know.

Q. Can you tell us some people that you saw down there; just a few of them?

A. Well, I saw lots of my friends that I met on the street.

Q. Name some of them.

A. I met Mrs. Green down there; and I met Mrs. Nash, and I met several other women; and I went over to the Catholic institution and seen Dr. Gray, and then——

Q. Who did you see at your sister's place down there? Give me the names of the people that you saw.

A. I can't remember.

Q. Well, do the best that you can.

A. I can't remember, now, to save me.

Q. You can't remember a soul that you saw at Julia's a year ago?

A. Let me see, I can't remember. I can't remember of anybody I seen there a year ago. It might come to me later on, but I don't remember now.

Q. You can't recollect anybody now?

A. Not as I can think; I can't think.

Q. You think you can remember by morning?

A. I don't know; of course after a person studies anything over, it might come to them. I wasn't thinking about meeting anybody down there to keep it in my mind.

Q. Who have you talked with about this case? A. Here?

Q. Yes. A. Not anybody that I know of.

Q. Who have you talked with about this case?

A. Well, I have talked with Mr. Long, and that gentleman there, when he came to see me.

Q. Judge Allen?

A. Yes, sir; and Mr. Cook, at my house.

Q. At your house when? A. Quite a while ago.

Q. When you and Sadie went off on the same car and went to your sister's house, what did Sadie say she was going to do? A. Didn't tell me what she was going to do.

Q. Did Sadie tell you that she was a Government officer? A. Sadie?

Q. Yes.

A. No, indeed she didn't—didn't tell me she was a Government officer.

Q. She didn't? A. No indeed, she didn't.

Q. Did she tell you that she was working for the Government in this case? A. She didn't tell me.

Q. Who did she tell?

A. I don't know; she was talking to my other sister before she was talking to me.

Q. I know. What did she say to your other sister?

A. I never heard Sadie say anything to her; she told me what Sadie had said to her.

Q. What did she say Sadie said?

A. She said Sadie said there wasn't no Tommy, but she was going to try to make a Tommy. It was a put-up job, but Sadie didn't tell me that.

Q. Your sister told Sadie that she would help to make a Tommy?

A. No indeed, she didn't even go as far as Shorty's to see.

Q. You told them you would help them?

A. Oh, no, I didn't know Tommy; I hadn't seen Tommy. Sadie said if there wasn't a Tommy, she would try to make a Tommy. That is what she told my sister.

Q. You mean to say, there wasn't never a girl in this town named Indian Minnie?

A. I don't mean to say that there never wasn't a girl in this town named Indian Minnie, but I didn't know her.

Q. You neam to say that you never saw a girl at Granny Letcher's by the name of Indian Minnie?

A. I don't mean to say that I never saw a girl there, but I never knowed her.

Q. When were you there?

A. Well, I was there before the mill burned down; I was there after it burned down.

Q. You were down there a short time before the mill burned, didn't you? A. Short time?

Q. Yes.

A. I was there every day before the mill burned down.

Q. How many years were you there before the mill burned down, Eliza?

A. Might have been four or five years, I don't know.

Q. Was it three?

A. No, it might have been between four and five.

Q. Two years?

A. It might have been between four and five.

Q. How long do you say you were there before that mill burned down?

A. Well, I say it might have been between four and five.

Q. What is your best judgment about it?

A. Between four and five years.

Q. You know when the mill burned down?

A. I don't remember the day, or the night.

Q. What year do you think it was?

A. I can't tell you what year it was.

Q. Do you have any idea what year it is?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Well, you are now measuring your dates by the time the mill burned down, aren't you?

A. I am measuring some part of it, and some parts, I ain't.

Q. Well, you are making reference to when the mill burned down, aren't you?

A. Well, I said when the bill burned down. I had been to Granny Letcher's after it burned down and before it burned down.

Q. How long before the mill burned down as near as you can get it?

A. Well, I don't know: as far as I can make out, it must have been four or five years before the mill burned, I don't know.

Q. Were you at Granny Letcher's in 1882?

A. I can't tell you; I don't remember dates at all.

Q. Eliza, were you there in 1882?

A. I don't remember dates at all; won't say yes or no, because I might tell a story.

Q. Were you there in 1883? A. I don't know.

Q. Were you there in 1884?

A. I don't know; I wouldn't name any date.

Q. There in 1885? A. I wouldn't name any date.

Q. '86? A. I can't name no date.

Q. Did you ever hear of a child called Robert Lee Peterkin here? A. No, sir.

Q. Never did? A. Never did.

Q. There was no such child as that ever born here, was there? A. I don't know; if there was, I never did see it.

Q. Did you ever hear of a man here named Peterkin?

A. No, sir, I never did; there might have been and I didn't know it.

Q. You never heard of a soldier here named Peterkin?

A. Never heard of it—never seen it.

Q. You never heard of the girl that had a baby down here, at the Woods' house, did you? A. No, sir.

Q. Named Indian Minnie?

A. No, sir, never but one baby in the house—a small child.

Q. Where was that?

A. That was Etta Loar at Granny Letcher's.

Q. You never heard of Robert Lee Peterkin, did you?

A. No, sir.

Q. He didn't exist, did he?

A. If he did, I didn't know anything about it.

Q. You never heard of that child? Never saw a girl here by the name of Indian Minnie?

A. I never seen her. I wouldn't say she wasn't here, but I didn't see her; she never was at Granny Letcher's in my days.

Q. Eliza, isn't it a fact, that long after this happened, you were there in about '89?

A. I ain't going to say because I can't keep track of the month.

Q. You are not going to say positively when you went there?

A. No, sir, I ain't going to fix any date. I don't know nothing about the year nor the day; know when I was there as near as I can, and that is all.

Q. And you ain't going to say here before the Examiner, what year it was? A. I was at Granny Letcher's?

Q. Yes.

A. No; God a-mighty. I moved to Granny Letcher's the night the mill burned down.

Q. That is the year you moved there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. If the mill burned down in 1884, you were at Granny Letcher's in 1884?

A. If that is the time the mill burned down, that is the time I was at Granny Letcher's.

Q. If the mill burned down in 1890?

A. That is the time that I was at Granny Letcher's; that is all.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. No, Eliza, where did Granny live?

A. Well, as I say, the first time I knew Granny Letcher, she lived on Shawnee street, down by the McNaty barn.

Q. Where did she live after that?

A. After that, she lived on Seneca street?

Q. Seneca street?

A. Yes, sir; right across from Geo. Crilly's house.

Q. Right across from George Crilly's house?

A. Yes, sir; George Crilly's house she was living in.

Q. And she lived there all the time you knew her?

A. All the time that I knew her from the time she left Shawnee street.

Q. How often did you go to her house?

A. Well, I would tell you; worked ever day—worked for twelve years at John Giacomini's, on Shawnee street, and I used to go to Granny Letcher's every morning and every evening when I was through with my work.

Q. You used to go there every morning and every evenin? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you go there for?

A. To see this little girl. Now, this woman had this little girl there; this baby was born in our house, and I used to go there some when she couldn't get off, and carry milk to this baby.

Q. You used to go there to see the baby?

A. Yes, sir; carry milk back and forth. This baby was born in our house and this baby's mother lived with us, and she worked at Giacomini's.

Q. What was her name? A. Mary Loar.

Q. What was the baby's name? A. Etta Loar.

Q. And you used to take milk?

A. Yes, used to take milk there in the morning before breakfast, and in the evening.

Q. That is the first time you——

A. No, that is not the first time; when Granny was on Shawnee street and I went there—I had a lady friend rooming there. She had a rooming house, and this lady was rooming there. That was Martha Clark.

Q. Martha Clark? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was when she lived on Shawnee street?

A. Yes, sir. That Mattie roomed with her. That was the first time I ever was in Granny Letcher's.

Q. And when you went to see Mattie Clark, you kept on going there every day? A. Yes.

Q. From then on? A. Yes.

Q. After Mattie Clark stopped living there, what did you go there for?

A. After Mattie Clark quit living there, Granny had moved to Seneca street and she had taken my friend's baby—the baby that was born at our house—had taken that baby to take care of it, and she had a girl living with her they called Nettie, and Nettie took the baby first—came after the baby and——

Q. Just a minute. You understand me, when Mattie Clark stopped living with Granny Letcher—— A. Yes, sir.

Q. And in between that time and when Etta was there, what did you go to Granny's for?

A. To see Etta; she stayed there from a year old, until she was three.

Q. That was the only thing that took you there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You went first to see Mattie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And did you go every day?

A. Sometimes I would; sometimes I wouldn't. Didn't go there so regular when Etta was there.

Q. And you went to see Mattie Clark? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then Etta came there?

A. Not at that house, you remember; she didn't take Etta——

Q. No, but right after Mattie Clark left, Granny Letcher moved?

A. Not right at that time exactly; maybe a little between the time, I guess; a month—something like that.

Q. Just a short time?

A. Just a short time; I don't remember just exactly what but short.

Q. After Mattie moved, you went to the Seneca house on Seneca street to see Etta?

A. Yes, sir; Granny kept a rooming house.

Q. And then you kept going to see Etta? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And after Etta left there——

A. Jim Mayo run a home show for the Grand Army Hall for the old soldiers, and they had the Grand Army Hall. Mr.

Michard, he was a lumber yard man, and they run a home show, and my sister and brother, they were in the home show.

Q. You weren't in the show? A. No, I wasn't in it.

Q. Then you lived at Granny Letcher's—how long did you live there?

A. It must have been a month, or over, after we moved there.

Q. A month or more? A. Yes.

Q. So those are the things that took you to Granny Letcher's house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. First, to see Mattie Clark, on Shawnee street?

A. On Shawnee.

Q. And then to see Etta on Seneca?

A. Yes, sir. And then my sisters and brothers was in old man Manning and Mr. Mickart's show that we had the Grand Army Hall at that time.

Q. So those were the causes of your going to Granny Letcher's house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever go there for anything else?

A. No, I didn't go there for anything else.

Q. That is all? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, after Granny Letcher lived on Seneca street, where did she live? A. She died there, I think.

Q. She died there? A. Yes, sir, I think so.

Q. How long after you lived there at Granny's house, did they have this show?

A. Well, they had the show, I think, until Mr. Manning left Leavenworth; Mr. Manning and Mr. Cooper, then went partners and Jim Mayo—I don't know how long that was. They had the show at the Grand Army Hall; Mr. Mickart, and Mr. Manning and Mr. Cooper.

Q. I am not asking you the names of the men who were giving the show, I am asking you how long it was after you stopped going out to Granny's?

A. Well, I stopped living at Granny's quite a while; I don't know how many months, or years, but quite a little while.

Q. Don't you remember whether it was a year or more?

A. Well, I will tell you—her son, then, had begun to get so feeble, he didn't have no more shows, but I don't know how long it was between the time he had the show and the time they quit.

Q. Who was his wife when they had those shows?

A. Well, Georgie Phillips was supposed to be his wife.

Q. Georgie Phillips was his wife at that time?

A. Yes, she was in the show.

Q. Are you sure it wasn't Nettie who was his wife?

A. No, it wasn't Nettie. Nettie was the first one that ever kept this little girl there.

Q. Now, how often did you go to Granny's when they had this show?

A. Well, sometimes I would go there, maybe, two or three times in the week, and maybe oftener, or something.

Q. You weren't in the show? A. No.

Q. What did you go there for?

A. I went there and dressed the smaller children; my brother and my sister—both my sisters were in it, and both my brothers were in it.

Q. You went there and dressed them?

A. Yes, I went up there from the hotel. I worked at the Giacomini's hotel.

Q. Where was the show given?

A. At the Grand Army Hall, down below the Court House.

Q. Did you ever go to the Grand Army Hall?

A. Oh, yes, I went there to the show.

Q. These were the rehearsals that you used to go to?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were the most of the rehearsals given?

A. Some of them at Granny's; they would practice at her house, and then they would practice over at the G. A. R.

Q. How long did they practice for this show?

Q. Well, sometimes they practiced for maybe a week, pretty near every other night, or every other afternoon, or something like that. Sometimes Jim would wait until he got through his work, and go down to practice and sometimes, we would all be up at Granny Letcher's and wait for him to come.

Q. I don't mean how long you would practice at night, but before the show was put on for the public. how long did they have these rehearsals getting ready for it?

A. Well, I can't tell you how long but I suppose I could find out if I tried very hard from Mr. Cooper, at the Soldier's Home. Of course Mr. Mickart is dead; I couldn't find out from him.

Q. What place on Shawnee street. did Granny Letcher live, before she moved to Seneca street?

A. Right across from the Magnet barn.

Q. Do you know what other street? A. No, I don't.

Q. Eliza, you never went to Granny Letcher's to meet any men. or anything like that, did you?

A. Me, men?

Q. Yes? A. I didn't have to go to Granny's to meet men.

Q. Well, I mean did you ever go there to entertain men friends? A. Well, you could if you wanted to.

Q. Well, did you?

A. Sometimes I did, if I had a friend; I had a room there sometimes if I wanted it. Not men, I had a friend.

Q. A friend? A. Yes, but not men.

Q. And just state what you mean by a friend.

A. Well, like all little girls say they have a beau sometimes.

Q. And you would go there to have a room and entertain your friend? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was that?

A. Oh, that was during the time—you see I got off in the morning after breakfast, and I got off after dinner until supper.

Q. That is the only time?

A. That is the only time when I would go up there to carry milk for the baby.

Q. Well, I mean you wouldn't stay there all night?

A. No, sir.

Q. The only time then, that you lived there, was after the fire?

A. When the fire was, yes, sir; I moved there the night of the fire—that is the only time that I lived there.

Q. And the other times, you went to see Mattie Clark?

A. And carried milk for the baby.

Q. And up to the rehearsals for the show?

A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Now, Eliza, you say you went there the night of the fire? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you live there?

A. I might have been there a month and I might have been there longer.

Q. You say Etta Loar was there at that time?

A. Yes, sir, she was there before that time.

Q. Where was Granny Letcher living?

A. Seneca street.

Q. And you say Etta Loar was there before that time?

A. She was there before that time.

Q. How long had she been there?

A. Can't say; quite a little while.

Q. Well, about how long?

A. Well, I can't say; might have been there, five, or six months—I don't know—been there quite a good while.

Q. Do you want to be positive that she was there two years?

A. She was there, as far as that is concerned, three years.

Q. You are positive she was there at Granny Letcher's three years?

A. She was there from a year old, as far as I can remember—from a year old—until she was three years old.

Q. How old is Etta? A. I don't remember now.

Q. About how old is she?

A. I won't say because I don't know. She has been away so long.

Q. Do you know what year it was she went there?

A. That she went to Granny Letcher's?

Q. Yes. A. No, I don't.

Q. Then if she was there about a year before you moved there—

A. I ain't saying; she might have been there a year before I moved there. I say I don't know how long she had been there before I moved there.

Q. Was she there two years before?

A. I ain't going to say; I don't know.

Q. Was there three?

A. I ain't going to say three; I don't know.

Q. Still living there when the fire was?

A. Yes, sir, she was.

Q. And then you lived there for about a month?

A. I may have lived there a month, and it may have been two months; I don't keep no exact account.

Q. If that fire was in 1890, then it was 1890 that you was living there?

A. I don't say whether that fire was 1890, or when it was. I say I moved to Granny Letcher's the night the fire was—if you know when the fire was, then you know when I moved there.

Q. How long had you been going to Granny Letcher's before that fire?

A. I had been going to Granny Letcher's before that fire for quite a little while; went to Granny Letcher's when she was on Shawnee, and when she was on Seneca.

Q. Did you go there regularly every day when she was on Shawnee street, until she moved to Seneca street?

A. Not every day but very often; all the time.

Q. How often were you there from the time that she moved from Shawnee street to Seneca street?

A. Well, I can't exactly tell you; I might have been there every other day, and might have been twice a week, and might have been there every day.

Q. You know everybody in the house?

A. I did at that time.

Q. Now, was Jim Mayo and his wife living there at that time? A. No, sir, he had no wife.

Q. He had no wife? A. No, sir, not at that time.

Q. When did he marry?

A. I can't tell you when he married; had a woman that they called Big Nettie, and after Nettie left, he had one they called Belle, and after Belle left, he married Georgie.

Q. Do you know when he married Georgie?

A. No, not exactly, I don't.

Q. Now, was Georgie living there at the time of the fire? at Granny Letcher's?

A. At the time of the fire, no, Georgie wasn't. She came there after the fire, I think.

Q. How long after? A. I don't know.

Q. Where was she living at the time of the fire?

A. I don't know; I don't know whether she knowed him or not.

Q. Now, this show you speak of, was that organized before the fire or after?

A. That show was organized before the fire, I think; I think it was before, I am not sure.

Q. Was it organized before the building of the Grand Army Hall, or after? A. Why you know.

Q. I am asking you?

A. Why before the Grand Army Hall was built.

Q. Yes, ma'am? A. The Grand Army Hall was built.

Q. What year was it built?

A. I don't know what year it was built; it was there. They was giving shows in it.

Q. Do you know who built it?

A. No, but I suppose you do; Mr. Mickart had a hand in it.

Q. Do you know who built it?

A. No, I don't know. Mr. Mickart seemed to be the head man.

Q. If that Grand Army Hall was built in the '90's, then, it was '90 that the show was organized, was it?

A. I don't know when the show was organized but the show was organized for the benefit of Mr. Manning's son, Archie.

Q. And Mr. Manning?

A. And Jim and Mr. Mickart, and Cooper organized the show.

Q. Do you know whether Etta Loar is at this time?

A. I do.

Q. Where? A. Home.

Q. Where abouts? Where is her home?

A. Lawrence, Kansas.

Q. Where is her mother? A. She is with her.

Q. She is with her? A. Yes.

Q. No, you was over to Lawrence to see Etta Loar?

A. Did you see me there?

Q. I am asking you? Did you go to Lawrence to see Etta Loar? A. Yes, I have been to Lawrence lots of times.

Q. Well, did you go there about a year ago?

A. I don't know whether it was last year or year before last.

Q. Did you go with Sadie James to see her?

A. Nobody can say they seen me in Lawrence with Sadie James.

Q. Did you go with her? Did Sadie James take you to see her?

A. No, Sadie James couldn't take me. If I wanted to go, I could go by myself.

Q. Did you go in company with Sadie James to Lawrence?

A. I went to Lawrence but I didn't go in company with Sadie.

Q. Did you go on the same train?

A. Yes, we went on the same train.

Q. The same morning?

A. I don't know whether it was the same morning or the same evening; Sadie was there.

Q. When Sadie came? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You went away together?

A. No, we went to Kansas City.

Q. Where did Sadie go? A. I don't know.

Q. You both were visiting Etta Loar?

A. Yes, Sadie has knowed her mother quite a while.

Q. And you went there to show her where Etta's mother lived, didn't you?

A. Oh, no; Sadie knows. She has been at Lawrence lots of times.

Q. You had a talk with Etta's mother when you were in Lawrence? A. No, nothing about this.

Q. You had a talk with her?

A. No, not about this business.

Q. You did talk with her?

A. Yes, but not about this business.

Q. You talked about this Thomas Atkins case, didn't you? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you talk with her there, about a picture of Sam Nash and her little girl, Etta Loar, being taken together in this town?

A. I talked to Mr. Long about the picture. Mr. Long said he had the picture, at my house.

Q. Well, we will get to Mr. Long by and by.

A. No, I never said anything to Etta.

Q. Never said anything to Etta? A. To Mary, no.

Q. Now, didn't you tell Mr. Long that that little girl taken with Sam Nash wasn't Tommy Atkins?

A. Mr. Long asked me.

Q. Didn't you tell him that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Long asked you if it was Tommy Atkins, didn't he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that was one of the causes of your trip to Lawrence, was it not? A. No, sir.

Q. What did you go there for, then?

A. I went to call on Mary, and went to see where my aunt used to have her hotel, the Scott hotel.

Q. The Scott hotel? A. Yes, sir, Arnelde Scott.

Q. Yes. When did you visit before that time?

A. When she first married Mr. King.

Q. About ten years ago?

A. I don't know whether it was ten years or not.

Q. You haven't been there since you went with Sadie?

A. No, I haven't been there since; not since.

Q. Did you ask Etta Loar's mother whether or not that she knew Tommy Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. At the time her daughter was at Mother Letcher's?

A. No.

Q. Or Granny Letcher's? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, then, Miss Eliza, can you tell us about how old Etta is? A. No, I can't; I don't really know.

Q. Do you know at this time that Etta is in the jail serving a year's sentence at Lawrence? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't know that?

A. No, sir, I never correspond with them.

Q. You never correspond with them?

A. Not very much.

Q. They were never no very particular friends of yours?

A. Yes, once in a while her mother lived at our house, and that baby was borned at our house, but after she went away, I never kept track of either of them.

Q. How many times did you visit her in Lawrence?

A. A couple of times.

Q. How long has she been in Lawrence?

A. I don't know; quite a while.

Q. When she had taken it away from Mrs. Letcher, she went to Lawrence, did you? A. No, sir.

Q. She didn't? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, if about 24 years old, it was about 21 years old when she left Mrs. Letcher? A. I can't tell you.

Q. If she is about 24 years old, she spent about three years of that life at Mrs. Letcher's, didn't she?

A. Yes, sir, I guess so.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. When you went to Lawrence, you took the train at Kansas City, did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You don't remember whether it was the morning or the evening?

A. Let me see; I think it was in the evening—in the morning; I believe it was in the morning.

Q. In the morning? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you stayed at your sister's all night?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Sadie stayed at the house with you all night?

A. No, Sadie stayed down to Will Pelton's.

Q. Will Pelton's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you didn't meet her until she came to the train?

A. The next morning I seen Sadie at my sister's.

Q. She came by there on the way to the train?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. She came in a taxi-cab?

A. I don't know how she came; she didn't come there in no taxi-cab.

Q. Well, how did you get to the train?

A. Why, I walked to the train. I didn't know how Sadie got there.

Q. But she was there—you know that?

A. Yes, Sadie was there.

Q. And how long after she was there, did the train leave? A. After Sadie was at the depot?

Q. No, at the house? A. Oh, I don't know.

Q. Did Sadie give you your ticket at the house or at the depot?

A. No, Sadie didn't give me no ticket; I had my own money.

Q. You had your own money? A. Yes.

Q. You paid your own way?

A. Yes, I had my own money; I wasn't waiting for nobody to pay my way any place.

Q. You paid your own way to Kansas City?

A. Oh, yes, I got my ticket; right here, myself.

Q. And stayed all night at your sister's? A. Yes.

Q. And the next morning, you paid your own way to Lawrence? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how long did you stay at Lawrence?

A. All day.

Q. All day, and you left that night?

A. Left that—yes, late in the afternoon, I guess it was.

Q. Late in the afternoon?

A. I guess along about three o'clock—something like that.

Q. And then you went to Kansas City? A. Yes.

Q. And Sadie paid her own way? A. Yes.

Q. And when you went to Kansas City, you just happened to go on the same car? A. I was at my sister's.

Q. I say, when you went over here to your sister's, you just happened to go over on the same car? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And when you went to Lawrence, you just happened to go on the same train? A. On the same train.

Q. And where did Sadie go from your sister's in Lawrence? A. Well, to Will Pelton's.

Q. When you got to Lawrence——

A. She went to a woman's house they call Zora Young.

Q. When you left Lawrence, where did Sadie go?

A. When I left Lawrence?

Q. Yes.

A. When I left Lawrence, why, Sadie came on to Kansas City.

Q. She came back on the same train?

A. Yes, same train.

Q. And then, how long did you stay in Kansas City?

A. I stayed in Kansas City, Sunday, Monday—I think I came home Tuesday.

Q. You stayed there two or three days?

A. I stayed at my sister's yes.

Q. Two or three days? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then you came to Leavenworth?

A. Came back to Leavenworth.

Q. Do you know how much you paid for your ticket to Lawrence, from Kansas City? A. My ticket?

Q. Yes?

A. I don't know exactly how much my ticket cost. I had my ticket from here; I had my ticket from here to Lawrence.

Q. From here to Lawrence? A. Yes.

Q. Oh, it was a round-trip ticket?

A. A round-trip ticket.

Q. Then, when you went down to Kansas City, you went down on the train? A. Went to Kansas City?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir, I went on the Electric car.

Q. And how did you go to Lawrence—went on the cars, there to Lawrence.

Q. On the train?

A. On the train over to Lawrence, from Kansas City.

Q. Then you had two round-trip tickets?

A. Oh, no, I never had but one ticket. I had a ticket one way from here to Kansas City, and then, me and my sister went from Kansas City to her house and got the ticket in Kansas City over at the depot, there, for Lawrence.

Q. I thought you said you had a round-trip ticket from here to Lawrence?

A. No, I mean I got my ticket over here at the Electric office for Kansas City; good for five days, and then I got a ticket for Lawrence in Kansas City.

Q. Then you did have two round-trip tickets?

A. Well——

Q. One on the electric and one on the train?

A. Yes, sir. Now, my sister, when we got in Kansas City, and got the tickets in Kansas City, she got the tickets—she got the ticket for Lawrence.

Q. So, she got your ticket, and her ticket?

A. My sister didn't go.

Q. She didn't go; just you and Sadie?

A. Sadie, went all her own self.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Who is Martha Clark?

A. I don't know; that is all I know.

Q. Where did she live?

A. Well, I can't tell you where she lived.

Q. I believe you said that she had two children at Granny Letcher's? A. Yes.

Q. What year did she have the two children there?

A. I don't know what year it was; that was when Granny Letcher lived on Shawnee street, when she had the two children there—Mabel and Sammie.

Q. Where are the children now?

A. Mabel is living; she is married to McElroy, and the other little girl is dead.

Q. You want to say that she lived at Mother Letcher's—Granny Letcher's—with those two children about the same time that Etta was there?

A. No, I don't. I said that she had two children—lived on Shawnee street with her two children—and then she moved away from there and then Granny Letcher moved on Seneca street, and that is when Granny had Etta—when she moved on Seneca street.

Q. Well, did Granny Letcher ever take Martha's children?

A. No, Martha kept her own children, as far as I know.

Q. She was living there next door to Granny Letcher, on Shawnee street?

A. No, she wasn't living next door; she had a room rented from Granny Letcher.

Q. On Shawnee street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was Etta born at? A. In my house.

Q. Where at? A. South Leavenworth.

Q. What street? A. On Fifth Avenue.

Q. What year? A. I can't tell you.

Q. Now. I want to get it straight, Eliza. You say Etta was born before Mattie's children were born here on Shawnee street? A. Before they was born on Shawnee street.

Q. Before Mattie's children were born on Shawnee street yes?

A. No, Martha had her children on Shawnee street before Etta ever went to Granny Letcher's.

Q. Before Etta ever went to Granny Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir, she had two little girls on Shawnee street.

Q. You don't know what year that was?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. How long after Mattie's were born on Shawnee street, before Granny Letcher moved to Seneca?

A. Well, listen Mr. Bell; Mattie's children wasn't born on Shawnee street.

Q. Wasn't they? A. No, sir.

Q. Where were they born? A. I can't tell you.

Q. But they lived on Shawnee street when Mrs. Letcher lived there? A. Martha had a room at Granny's.

Q. On Shawnee street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And her children were born there?

A. No. sir, wasn't born there.

Q. When she had a room there, did she have any children? A. She had two.

Q. How old were they?

A. I don't know; neither one of them wasn't walking.

Q. And you are positive that she had these two children in part of Granny Letcher's house on Shawnee street before Granny Letcher moved to Seneca Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sure of it? A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Do you mean that they [] born there?

A. No, sir; wasn't born there.

Q. What do you mean by had them there?

A. She lived there—had them there, but they wasn't born there.

Q. You say Etta Loar was born in your house?

A. Yes, sir, in our house.

Q. Then how old was she when she was taken over to Granny Letcher's?

A. Well, she was about a year old.

Q. How long before that was it that you had known Granny Letcher?

A. I had known Granny Letcher then, I guess, for four or five years.

Q. Now what about that girl's picture that Long brought to your house?

A. Mr. Long brought a picture there and he sat down and talked and he asked me a few questions and he said that he was here representing the government and he wanted to find out if there was a Tommy Atkins. Somebody had sent him there to see me and he said he had a little picture—he did not show the picture, but he described the picture and said it was the child born at Granny Letcher's house and it was Indian Minnie's child.

Q. Whose picture was that?

A. Well, if it was the picture like he said it was Etta's picture—Etta Lore, because Sam had Etta's picture taken with him.

Q. What did he say about the dress, if anything, on the child? Did he say that this child had a dress on?

A. Yes, said it had a dress on and its hair was parted on each side and roached back like a little boy.

Q. Is that the Mr. Long that is in the room now that you are speaking of—that is in the back end of the room?

A. I believe it is. I cannot hardly tell them apart. He had on a green hat with a black band around it at that time. I don't know, as I did not take a very good look at him.

Recross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. What month was it that you went to Lawrence in 1915? A. I don't know.

Q. Don't know what month it was? A. No, sir.

Q. Nor what day it was?

A. No, sir. Never set no time.

Q. You went from here up to Kansas City and then down to Lawrence on the U. P. or Santa Fe?

A. Well, I don't know the train. We left Kansas City and went to Lawrence. I can't tell you which one.

Q. You went from here with Sadie to Kansas City?

A. Went on the same car Sadie did.

Q. Sadie stayed out at Delton's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She stayed with your sister?

A. Yes, sir, at my sister's.

Q. You went from Kansas City to Lawrence on the same train with Sadie?

A. Said said she was going there.

Q. I said you went on the same train? A. Yes, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You remember whether it was the summer time you went there? A. No, sir, I don't think it was.

Q. Was it in the winter?

A. It was kinder cold, just about such weather as this now, I guess.

Q. Along in the fall?

A. It seems like to me it was. I won't be sure, but I think there was snow on the ground.

Q. Was there snow on the ground? A. I think so.

Q. Then it was in the winter?

A. I am not sure, but I think it was. I think there was snow on the ground.

Q. Was it after fourth of July?

A. O, yes, it was after the fourth of July.

Q. After the fourth of July?

A. Yes, there ain't no snow on the ground after the fourth of July at Leavenworth.

Q. Are you sure there was snow on the ground?

A. Snow on the ground? Yes, sir.

Q. The fields were covered with snow?

A. Well, I didn't see very many fields, I wasn't looking out.

Q. You went on the train, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And outside the train window there was snow on the ground?

A. O, outside the train window there was snow on the ground.

Q. You saw the white snow from the train window?

A. There was snow on the ground.

Q. And when you got off at Lawrence there was snow on the ground? A. Yes, sir, there was snow on the ground.

Q. Was it before or after Christmas? A. Let me see.

Mr. Allen: We object to these questions because it is improper re-cross examination.

A. I am not sure.

Q. Now, that was sometime ago that you went up to Lawrence? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Last year I believe you said?

A. Yes, sir, I think it was last year.

Q. About the middle of last year?

A. I guess about that time, I am not sure. I don't like to say anything that I am not sure about.

Q. Well it was more than two months ago?

A. Yes, sir, more than two months ago.

Q. More than three months ago? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Wasn't it six months ago?

A. It might have been. Might have been as long and might have been longer, I can't tell.

Q. Did you keep track of the months?

A. Well, sometimes I do and sometimes I don't.

Q. To refresh your memory, wasn't it the month of September that you went up there?

A. Well, if I was going to tell you the truth, I don't know whether it was September or not. I never kept no account of month.

Q. About August or September?

A. No, it wasn't August, because there was snow on the ground. I can remember that there was snow on the ground but don't know what month it was, but it was along about six months ago.

Q. You are sure of that?

A. I am not very sure, but it might have been that long and maybe longer.

Q. You say you paid for your ticket? Where did you get the money? A. My money?

Q. Yes?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as having been several times asked and answered and is repetition.

Q. Who gave you the money? A. Why my husband.

Q. Your husband gave you the money? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What does your husband do.

A. He don't do anything. He is a retired sergeant.

Q. Does he have a pension?

A. No, he don't get no pension, he gets his every month.

Q. How much does he get?

A. I think it is fifty-nine and now it is twenty-nine dollars raise, or something along there.

Recross Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. You say you use to have a friend at Granny Letcher's

A. Yes, sir, sometimes.

Q. Was that before or after Etta was born?

A. That was before and after too.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Alice Paire, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 2041.

And thereupon, ALICE PAIRE, being called on behalf of the United States sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Your name is Alice Paire? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What age are you? A. Thirty nine.
Q. What year were you born?
A. Well, I don't know exactly.
Q. You know you are thirty nine though? A. Yes, sir.
Q. When is your birth day?
A. The 3rd of April I will be forty.
Q. The 3rd of this coming April you will be forty?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. The third of this coming April you will be forty?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where do you live? A. Leavenworth.
Q. What is your street address? A. 908 Fifth Avenue.
Q. How long have you lived here?
A. I was born here, all my life.
Q. Did you know Mollie Letcher? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Was she known as Granny Letcher? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you ever live at her house any? A. Yes, sir.
Q. When was it?
A. Well, the night that Kelly's and Lyle's mill burned down my mother moved there and we lived there about two months and I used to go there long before that, she kept a little girl.
Q. You say that your mother when the Kelly and Lyle mill burned—— A. Yes, sir, the night it burned.
Q. The night it burned? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Were you living with your mother at that time?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where had your mother been living before the Kelly and Lyle mill burned?
A. On Archer street and she moved from there on Choctaw street right next to Kelly & Lyle's mill, she was working for the Delmonico.
Q. So, just before your mother took you to Granny Letcher's you lived right next to the Kelly & Lyle mill?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. What happened to your mother's house or the house that your mother was living in when the Kelly & Lyle mill burned?

A. Well, when the mill caught on fire, it was next to the house and we moved out of there, afraid the house would catch on fire, it was by the side of Kelly & Lyle's mill.

Q. Did the house catch a fire?

A. No, sir, but every one was moving out.

Q. You moved out of there though? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That same night? A. Yes, sir.

Q. It was at night was it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember what year that was?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Was there any other members of your family?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who else?

A. Julia Todd, that is my sister, and Lucian Scott and Eliza Le Vallie.

Q. Was Eliza LeVallie your sister? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was her name then? A. Eliza Scott.

Q. What was your name then? A. Julia Scott.

Q. What was your mother's name? A. Jane Scott.

Q. You say that prior to the time when the Kelly & Lyle mill burned that you had been to Granny Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir, I had been there before then.

Q. What did you go there for?

A. She was keeping a little girl named Etta Lower, her name was Mary Lower, and Granny was keeping this little girl. At the first in the beginning why there was a lady there by the name of Nettie.

Q. Lady where?

A. At Granny Letcher's, and she kept this little girl and she left and after she left Granny still kept the little girl; the little girl wasn't quite a year old.

Q. Where was Granny living at that time?

A. Living on Seneca Street.

Q. Do you remember the street number?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Between what streets? A. Between Seneca and Main.

Q. Well, I am speaking of between what two streets so far as numbers are concerned, where was it with reference to—— A. Third and Seneca.

Q. Where was it with reference to Crilly's barn?

A. Right across the street.

Q. In front of Crilly's barn?

A. Yes, sir, Crilly's barn was right on the side there, I don't remember, but I know Crilly lived across from there now, but it was right close.

Q. Well, Crilly's barn was between Second and Third?
A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Granny was on Seneca? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On Seneca between second and third? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, on which side of the street did Granny live, on the north side of the street or on the south side?

A. On this side, the south side.

Q. The south side? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whose baby was that you referred to a while ago?
A. Mary Lower's. The baby was born at our house.

Q. Was it a girl or boy? A. It was a little girl.

Q. What age was that child about when Granny took charge of it? A. Well, it wasn't a year old.

Q. How long had Granny had that baby before the Kelly & Lyle mill burned?

A. Well, she had her a good while, but I don't remember whether it was—— It must have been about a year that she had had the baby.

Q. About a year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did Granny keep that child after the Kelly-Lyle mill burned?

A. Well, she kept her until she was three years old.

Q. Did you visit Granny's any after your mother took you away from there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you continue to visit there?
A. I used to go there after we moved away. I used to go and see the little girl and then after the little girl was taken away. I was there with Jim Mayo and Georgie, that was his wife that run—they run a show there. They run a show there and I used to go there.

Q. With Jim Mayo and his wife? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say you were in a show? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What kind of a show?

A. Mr. Manning—H. G. Manning, he was the head of the show then. Uncle Tom's Cabin, Platte City, they got up a show.

Q. Where was the performance?
A. Platte City. Conganway and Sullivan were in it, I don't know whether he is dead or not.

Q. He was in that show?
A. Yes, sir, and Sullivan too, she is a white girl.

Q. Now, during all the time that you have mentioned, that you have visited Granny Letcher's house, and that you lived in her house, did you ever know of a boy there by the name of Tommy? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Indian Tommy? A. No, sir, never seen him.
Q. Or Tommy Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever know of a woman who was there by the name of Minnie? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Indian Minnie? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Minnie Atkins? A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. When did you first see Sadie James?

A. Well, Sadie was at my house about last year.

Q. Last year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, did she talk to you about this case?

A. Yes, sir, she did.

Q. What did she tell you that she wanted you to swear in this case?

A. Well, the first time she said she wanted me to go out to Father Shorty's with her and see if there was a boy by the name of Tommy Atkins there; and the next time she came back here she said there wasn't such a thing as that, the next time she came back to my house.

Q. She advised you that there wasn't any such thing as Tommy?

A. Well, she said there wasn't any one there by the name of Tommy.

Q. And you believed it?

A. No, I knew Father Shorty didn't have such a child as Tommy Atkins.

Q. She told you that there wasn't any such child?

A. When she came back she said she had made it up.

Q. Was anything—that there wasn't any such thing as a Tommy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your testimony now is based on that proposition now, isn't it? A. No, sir.

Q. You mean to say there never was a girl in this town by the name of Indian Minnie?

A. No, not to my knowing, I never seen any one at Granny Letcher's, I was there between thirteen and fourteen——

Q. You are going to swear before God and man——

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That there wasn't any such girl as Indian Minnie?

A. Yes, sir, that there wasn't any at Granny Letcher's to my knowing.

Q. You never heard of it, did you? A. No, sir.

Q. You never heard of it when you were a child?

A. No, sir.

Q. How old were you when you were around Granny Letcher's? A. Between thirteen and fourteen years old.

Q. What year was that? A. I don't know.

Q. Well, now, let's figure it out. When were you born?

A. I was born—— I will be forty the 3rd day of April.

Q. Forty? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, what year would that make you born, do you know? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, what year would that make you born, when were you born, let's get at the date? A. In seventy-six.

Q. Seventy-six? A. Seventy-six.

Q. In seventy-six?

A. Because I was between thirteen and fourteen.

Q. Do you know when that mill was burned?

A. No, I don't, I don't know the year it was burned.

Q. Now, listen, wasn't that mill burned in 1889? Now, think it over, wasn't it burned in 1889?

A. Well, I don't know because I didn't keep track of when it was burned.

Q. You tried to establish your dates with reference to that mill?

A. I don't know, I would be afraid to say, I would be telling a story, I don't know.

Q. Are you afraid you will tell a story in this case?

A. Well, I don't know, I don't know the year when it was.

Q. Are you afraid that you can't tell the truth?

A. No, I ain't scared to tell the truth, but I don't know the year.

Q. Let's figure on it. Are you married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you been married?

A. I have been married four years the second time.

Q. You were married before that, weren't you?

A. Yes, sir, I was.

Q. What is the date of your first marriage?

A. I don't know.

Q. Well, the best you can, give me the best idea you can about it, can you give me any idea about when you were married the first time?

A. I know I was nineteen years old when I was first married, you can count it up and see.

Q. What year was it? A. I don't know what year.

Q. Who did you marry?

A. Married Harry Jacobs, he is dead now.

Q. In what year?

A. I don't know what year. You will have to count it up.

Q. Let's try to count it up?

A. Well, you may try to count it up.

Q. What year was it that you married?

A. I know I was nineteen years old.

Q. Nineteen years old when you first married?

A. Yes, sir, to Harry Jacobs.

Q. What year was it, do you know?

A. No, I don't know what year unless I would go home and look in my bible and find out and then I will come back and tell you.

Q. Let's test your memory and see about what time?

A. Well, I don't know what time.

Q. Was it in ninety five that you married?

A. I don't know sir.

Q. Was it in ninety six? A. I don't know.

Q. Was it in ninety seven?

A. I don't know I would have to count it up.

Q. Was it in ninety, figure it out as close as you can?

A. Well, I was nineteen years old when I married.

Q. Nineteen years old when you first married?

A. When I first married. You can figure it out.

Q. You can figure out the dates of the year, can't you that far back, you can remember when you were married? Just think back a minute now and see if you can't remember?

A. I don't know.

Q. What do you say? A. I don't know.

Q. Have you got any idea about it at all?

A. Well, I might have if I could figure it out, but I don't know exactly when it was.

Q. I want you to think now, I don't want you to say anything that wasn't right, go ahead and tell me what year you married the first time as near as you can. Now, let's have it?

A. Well, I don't know, I will look and see when I go home and I will look.

Q. Look where? A. Look in the Bible and tell you.

Q. You got a Bible at home? A. Yes, sir, I got two.

Q. When you go home wont you bring it up here?

A. Yes, sir, I will.

Q. How many children have you got?

A. I have got one.

Q. How old is your child? A. Eighteen.

Q. How old, thirteen? A. Eighteen.

Q. I thought you said thirteen?

A. Oh, no she is eighteen.

Q. Eighteen? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you sure that child is eighteen now?

A. Yes, sir, she is eighteen years old.

Q. Now, let's figure back eighteen years ago when you had this first child? A. Eighteen.

Q. Who was the father of that child, your first husband? or was it your second?

A. When I married, the one I married when I was nineteen years old.

Q. Who was the father of that child? A. Harry Jacobs.

Q. Your first husband? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That child is eighteen years old? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Will you please figure back and find out how far eighteen goes back? Let's figure back now and find out how far eighteen goes back. Can you answer it or not?

A. I don't know.

Q. Now, I will tell you what I want you to tell me. When did Sadie James see you the last time?

A. Well, the last time Sadie seen me, it was last year.

Q. Hasn't Sadie James seen you since you come here?

A. No, she hasn't seen me.

Q. Who has she seen?

A. I don't know who she has seen.

Q. You knew Sadie was here, didn't you?

A. I certainly did.

Q. You know Sadie well, don't you?

A. I don't know her well, I know her. Yes, I know her pretty well, she used to go to school here.

Q. Used to go to school here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you meet her the last time?

A. Well, the last time that I met her was last year when she came to my house.

Q. Now, do you mean to say that you haven't seen Sadie since she has been here? A. This last time?

Q. Yes, the last time? A. No, I haven't seen her.

Q. Where is Sadie stopping?

A. I don't know, I live at South Leavenworth.

Q. You knew that Sadie was here?

A. Yes, sir, my sister told me.

Q. You are an old school mate of hers?

A. Yes, sir, we went to school together, but weren't such friends.

Q. You knew she was in the city?

A. Yes, I knew she was in the city.

Q. Do you mean to say that you didn't go to see your old school mate? A. No, she wasn't that dear to me.

Q. Who told you Sadie was here?

A. My sister told me she was here.

Q. Where does your sister live?

A. She lives on Kiowa Street.

Q. How came your sister to tell you that Sadie was here?

A. I didn't ask her about it.

Q. What did your sister say?

A. Just said that Sadie was here.

Q. Just tell me? A. That is what I am telling you.

Q. Did you say that you would like to go to see her?

A. I said I would like to see her.

Q. And you really didn't go to see Sadie?

A. No, sir, I really didn't go to see Sadie.

Q. You mean to say that you haven't said a word to Sadie?

A. I haven't seen Sadie and I haven't said a word to her since——

Q. Since she has been here? A. Since she has been here. If I had there is no use of me telling a story about it.

Q. You were at Granny Letcher's as a child?

A. I was at Granny Letcher's as a child.

Q. Yes?

A. No, I didn't say I was about Granny Letcher's as a child.

Q. Well, when did you go there then? I thought you said you were there as a child?

A. No, I didn't, I said I went there to see the child. I said I went there to see the child that she had there.

Q. What child? A. Lower.

Q. What child was it?

A. Etta Lower, a little girl she was keeping.

Q. Now, you tell me the exact year that you first began to go to Granny Letcher's?

A. Now, I don't exactly know the year, I didn't keep no track of it.

Q. Let's have as good as we can?

A. I went to Granny Letcher's, we moved there the night that the mill burned down and I went there after then.

Q. Now, listen, you are sworn, you went to Granny Letcher's the first time when the mill burned down?

A. No, I went before that mill burned down?

Q. Not long before that? A. Yes.

Q. How long before?

A. I don't know, she had that little girl before the mill burned.

Q. How long before? A. I don't know how long before.

Q. You know when the mill burned down? A. Yes.

Q. When? A. I don't know the year.

Q. Can you tell me the day?

A. No, I don't know the day.

Q. Listen. When you first commenced to go there was when the mill burned down, wasn't it?

A. No, sir, it wasn't, it was before the mill burned that I went to Granny Letcher's.

Q. You don't remember the exact year when the mill burned down did you? A. The exact year?

Q. But the first time you went there was when the baby was there wasn't it?

A. When I first went to Granny Letcher's I went to see the baby.

Q. You went to see the baby? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are sure the baby was there?

A. Sure the baby was there.

Q. And that baby was named Etta Lower?

A. Yes, sir, the only baby in the house. I went there to see the baby because she was keeping Mary Anthony's little baby, Etta Lower.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. The time that mill burned down was the only time that you lived at Granny's?

A. Yes, sir, the only time that I ever lived there, I would go there before that.

Q. To see the little baby?

A. To see the little baby, yes, sir.

Q. And you used to go up there when they were putting on that show?

A. Yes, sir, I used to go up there then, after she kept the baby and gave the baby up, I went back.

Q. And you got into that show and you used to go up there and see Jim and Georgiana?

A. Yes, sir, I went there all the while, but they had started the show when she was keeping the baby there, but after the little girl's mother came and got her, Jim Mayo started up the show, him and Mr. Manning, and I used to go back, and Granny Letcher then was kind of sick.

Q. Now, the first time that you went there was when the little girl was there and you used to go and see the baby?

A. Yes, sir, the first time.

Q. And then the mill burned? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And burned your house with it?

A. I think not, the night my mother moved up there.

Q. Then the mill burned? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And burned your house?

A. No, sir, didn't burn our house.

Q. But you had to move out?

A. Yes, sir, had to move out.

Q. And then you went to Granny Letcher's and lived there a couple of months? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then after you had lived there a couple of months Jim and Georgiana got into this show? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were in it with them? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you used to go up there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What for, rehearsals or something of that kind?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was before the show went to——

A. To Tonganoxy. And then we used to rehearse at the G. A. R. hall.

Q. Where were most of the rehearsals for the show had? At the G. A. R. Hall? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then after the show had been ended you didn't go up there to Granny Letcher's any more?

A. After the show was ended?

Q. Yes?

A. No, sir, I didn't go up there any more.

Q. You didn't go around there? A. No, sir.

Q. You weren't a person who hung out around there after you lived there? A. No, sir, I never did.

Q. So those times are the times when you used to go there? A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Now, Alice, how old were you when you first went to visit Granny Letcher's?

A. Well, I was between thirteen and fourteen.

Q. Between thirteen and fourteen? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And do you know what the age of Etta Lower is, how old she is?

A. Well, now, I don't know for sure, but I think Etta is between either twenty four or twenty five.

Q. How long did Etta Lower live at Granny Letcher's?

A. Well, Etta stayed there at Granny Letcher's until she was three years old.

Q. How old was she when she went there?

A. She wasn't quite a year old.

Q. Wasn't quite a year old? A. No, sir.

Q. Are you positive she stayed there until she was three years old? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then where did she go?

A. Then, her mother brought her home to us a while and then taken her to Mrs. Dora Young's.

Q. Where did Mrs. Young live?

A. She lived on Second Avenue then.

Q. Where did she go from Mrs. Young's?

A. Then she taken her to Kansas City.

Q. Do you know where she went from Kansas City?

A. Why, no, she stayed with a woman down there, I don't know the woman's name, and then she left there and went with some white people and stayed there a while, and then her mother taken her home.

Q. And you think she is about twenty four years old?

A. Well, I don't know for sure, but her mother knows her age, but that is as near as I can say.

Q. Well, if her mother would say she is twenty eight, that would be right?

A. No, her mother isn't going to say she is twenty eight, she is not that old.

Q. How long since her mother left here, this town?

A. Well, her mother has been away from here for quite a while.

Q. She went away from here before they were getting up that show, didn't she? A. Her mother did?

Q. Her mother did?

A. Yes, her mother went to Lawrence.

Q. And you say you visited Mother Letcher's or Granny Letcher's sometime before the Lyle's mill burned down?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Do you know what year that mill burned?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. About how many years before that mill burned down did you visit Mother Letcher's?

A. I don't know, I don't remember.

Q. Where was Granny Letcher living? A. On Seneca.

Q. When you first visited her? A. Yes, sir, on Seneca.

Q. Was Jim Mayo married at that time?

A. Well, he was calling himself married.

Q. Well, did he have a wife there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Georgiana?

A. No, not Georgia. Had one named Nettie he called his wife then; the next was Belle and the next was Georgia, that was his wife, Georgia.

Q. And you lived there during the marriage of all three of these women? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which one of these women was he married to at the time Etta Lower was at the house? A. Nettie.

Q. And you think it was about twenty four years old?

A. Well, I don't know for sure.

Q. Do you know where Etta is now? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is she? A. In Lawrence.

Q. What is she doing in Lawrence?

A. She is with her mother.

Q. You went to Lawrence and visited Etta Lower's mother, didn't you? A. It was my sister.

Q. Did Sadie ask you to go there and visit her?

A. No, sir.

Q. She did not? A. No, sir.

Q. It is your sister, where is your first husband Jacobs?

A. He is dead.

Q. Dead? A. He is dead.

Q. Where were you living at, your parents living at when you married Jacobs? A. My parents were all dead.

Q. Who were you living with?

A. I was living with my sister on Archer Street when I married Harry Jacobs.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. You say that the last time you talked to Sadie, she told you that she just made up that there was a Tommy?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. She told you that there wasn't any?

A. The last time that I talked—the first time that Sadie came there, Sadie went out to Father Shorty's to find out if there was a boy there by the name of Tommy Atkins, and there wasn't any, and then Sadie came back again; she stayed away quite a good while and then she came back and said, Well, there isn't no Tommy, just what she said.

Q. Did a man named Hunt, who lives here in town, a colored man, ever come to see you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About this matter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is his given name? A. Jim Hunt.

Q. Jim Hunt? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did he want you to do?

A. Well, he came there one day, I got it down when he came, he came and says Alice, he says, Dennis wants you to come down to his office and he says you can go if you want to, and he says, have you been? And I says, I went once, he sent for me and I went once. He says, they want you down there this time and he says if you go down there they want you to swear to a lie and you will get paid for it. Hunt told me this, he said, you can do to suit yourself, but he says, if Mr. Long is there he will tell you what to say, and if you tell it you will get paid for it, but he said don't tell Dennis that I said so, but he said I am putting you next and you will get paid for it if you want to go you can go, and he said, have you ever been down there, and I said I was down there once.

Q. Well, did you go? A. I went once.

Q. Did you go after that conversation?

A. No, sir, when Hunt told me I didn't go. He said now you can go if you want to, but he said if you go you will swear a lie and get the money for it.

Recross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. You say you got it written down?

A. Oh, I put down the day that Hunt was there.

Q. Will you bring it up here, I want to see it?

A. Yes, sir, I put down the date he was there.

Q. What did you put down that date for?

A. I didn't put it down, some one else heard him talking and put it down.

Q. Who was that some one else now?

A. It was my brother-in-law.

Q. What is his name?

A. I didn't put it down or nothing, because I didn't pay that much attention to it, and he put it down.

Q. What is your brother-in-inlaw's name?

A. LeVallie.

Q. And he put it down in writing?

A. He just put down the date, I didn't see it, but he said I will just put that down what Hunt said to you the date Hunt was here.

Q. Where is your brother-in-law? A. He is home.

Q. Home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He got that date written down? A. I guess so.

Q. Will you bring it up here?

A. I will if he has got it, he said he put it down the night Hunt was there, they live next door to me.

Q. He wanted to keep a record of it, did he?

A. I don't know whether he did or not.

Q. Did you tell him to put it down?

A. I didn't tell him to because I didn't care that much for it. If I did, I would have went down there.

Q. You know he put it down for some purpose?

A. I don't know what he put it down for. He is lots older than I am.

Q. How old is he?

A. He is seventy eight, and I guess he was putting it down because he had more sense than I did.

Q. He is a white man too, isn't he?

A. Yes, sir, he is white.

Q. And you say he was there when you had this conversation? A. He is white, yes, sir.

Q. You say he was there when you had this conversation? A. Yes, sir, he was there, he is white.

Q. Yes, and you are sure he has got it down?

A. He put it down at that time.

Q. Well, is it in existence now?

A. Well, it isn't very far to where he lives.

Q. You think he has got it now? A. I guess he has.

A. How old do you say you were?

A. I said I was thirty nine years old.

Q. And you are certain of everything you have said?

A. Certain of everything I have said?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir, yes, sir.

Q. You mean to tell the Examiner that you never heard of a girl here by the name of Indian Minnie?

A. I certainly do, I never heard of her.

Q. There never was such a girl here, was there?

A. No, there never was such a girl here, there wasn't at Granny Letcher's.

Q. And she never was in this city, was she?

A. Well, if she was I never did see her, I don't know her, and never heard of her until all of this came up in the paper.

Q. Until this case came up?

A. Until this case came up, that is right.

Q. You never heard of Indian Minnie?

A. No, sir, not until this case came up.

Q. Do you remember the time that your sister went off with Sadie?

A. Do I remember when she went off with Sadie?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did your sister and Sadie go to?

A. I don't know that, I can't tell you.

Q. When did they leave here? A. I can't tell you.

Q. When did Sadie come after your sister?

A. I don't know that.

Q. Well, did they leave here?

A. I don't know, I wasn't at home, I wasn't at home when Sadie came there.

Q. Well, where did they go to?

A. I don't know where they went.

Q. Out with it, where did they go to?

A. I don't know where they went.

Q. They went off together, didn't they?

A. Yes, sir, went off together.

Q. And when did they come back?

A. Well, now, I can't say when they came back.

Q. How long did they stay?

A. I can't tell that because I don't know.

Q. You tell me what time was it Sadie came down to see your sister? A. I don't know.

Q. Was it night or day?

A. I wasn't there when Sadie came to see her.

Q. Do you know when she went out?

A. I know when she was away.

Q. She and Sadie went together?

A. I can't tell you because I don't know, Sadie came to see me first before she did my sister.

Q. She came to see you first? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did she have to say to you?

A. I just told you that she wanted me to go to Father Shorty's with her.

Q. You told her to go to see your sister?

A. I never told her anything. Sadie was older than I was.

Q. You went together?

A. She was in a different grade than I was.

Q. What grade was she in? A. I don't know.

Q. What grade were you in?

A. I don't know, I was very small.

Q. What did you study when you were in there with Sadie?

A. I wasn't studying with Sadie, she was older than I was and she was up stairs.

Q. Did you study? A. Not much, I didn't have——

Q. Arithmetic? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Geography? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Geometery?

A. I didn't study that, I was too small.

Q. How old was Sadie when you went to school?

A. I don't know, Sadie was older than my sister.

Q. You remember distinctly that Sadie and your sister went off together?

A. I don't know, I can't prove they went together, I can't say.

Q. It isn't a question of proving, don't you know that they went off together?

A. I don't know I wasn't there when Sadie came there.

Q. Don't you know that your sister and Sadie went off somewhere together?

A. I don't know where they went, because I wasn't there at the time.

Q. Well, you know they went, don't you?

A. I don't know where they went to.

Q. Well, they went, didn't they?

A. Well, they went, but where did they go?

Q. That is what I want to know, where did they go? Do you know, do you know where they went?

Q. The first time that you say Sadie came to your house, Recross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. The first time that you say Sadie came to your house, she said there was a Tommy, didn't she, and that she wanted you to go to Father Shorty's and see if you couldn't find him?

A. The first time she came there?

Q. Yes?

A. When she first came to my house, she said I am looking for a boy and I want you to go out to Father Shorty's with me to see if he is out there, and she didn't go; I didn't know whether she went or not, but she found out there wasn't any boy by that name out there, and then when she came back she said there wasn't none.

Q. Said there wasn't any? A. Yes.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You say a man named Hunt came to see you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. He told you when you got down there they would want you to swear to a lie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what did he say this lie was?

A. He didn't say, and he didn't say who wanted me to, but he says, when you go down there they will want you to swear to a lie and he says you can if you want to, but he said I am putting you next and he said, don't tell Dennis what I am saying to you.

Q. He was warning you in advance?

A. Yes, he said don't tell Dennis that I told you this, but he said if you go down there——

Q. And he told you that Dennis sent him to see you?

A. Yes, sir, Dennis sent him to see me.

Q. And what did he say to you?

A. He said he came out there and he said that Dennis sent him out there.

Q. Well, tell me the words that he used, how did he say Dennis sent him out?

A. He said Dennis sent him out to see if I was coming down to the office.

Q. Did he say: "Dennis sent me out here to see you"?

A. He said: "Alice, Dennis sent me out to see if you are coming down to the office", and he said are you going, and I said I don't know, and he said, well I am putting you next, if you go you will have to swear to a lie, and I said who will be there, and he said Long will be there, but he said you can do to suit yourself, but don't tell Dennis that I told you; and I didn't tell Dennis anything about it and I didn't go, but I had been down there before that.

Q. Now, what else was said?

A. He said about the money, said if I would go I would go I would get some money.

Q. Did he say how much? A. No, sir.

Q. How did he say that?

A. He said if you go and say what they want you to say, you will get some money.

Q. That is what he said?

A. Yes, sir, the very words he said.

Q. Now, when was that?

A. I don't know, but as I said, my brother-in-law said, I will put that down, he said, why don't you put it down, and I said for what, why should I put it down?

Q. Did he put down what Hunt said?

A. No, sir, I think he put down the date, but they were right in the next room, right in there.

Q. Did he put down anything that Hunt said?

A. I don't know, but I know he put down when he was there.

Q. They knew you talked to Hunt?

A. Yes, sir, him and my sister both, I know he put down when he was there.

Q. When was this that he put that down? Long afterwards?

A. That was a little after Sadie came, I believe it was.

Q. A little after Sadie came?

A. Yes, sir, when Mr. Long and all of them were here.

Q. That is when he put down the date? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And when Sadie came she came out to your house?

A. No, sir, I don't think she did, I never had any talk with Sadie.

Q. Now, this was shortly after Sadie came here that he put this down?

A. Sadie was here first I think, and after she went back, you know, when all of them was meeting at the office, that is when Hunt came out there.

Q. Now, you say it was shortly after Sadie came here that he put this down?

A. He hadn't been here very long I think.

Q. He told Sadie about this? A. No, I don't think he did.

Q. Sadie told him to put it down?

A. No, sir, he didn't say Sadie told him to put it down.

Q. I didn't say he said that. Sadie did tell him to put it down? A. Tell Hunt to put what down?

Q. Didn't Sadie tell your brother-in-law to put down the date? A. Oh, no, no, sir.

Q. Well, how did she know about it?

A. Sadie didn't know about it. Wasn't no one there but myself when Hunt came.

Q. How did Sadie know it? A. Sadie don't know it.

Q. She don't know it? A. No, sir.

Q. Are you sure about that?

A. She never said anything to me if she knew that he put this down.

Q. But you know it was shortly after she was here?

A. Yes, sir, she had been here, the first time she came after it all came out and when Mr. Jones was having a talk or something in his office, when Mr. Long was here, that is when it was.

Q. Was it when they were taking depositions?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. They were taking depositions? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was that in 1915? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Or 1914? A. It was last year.

Q. Last year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1915? A. Fifteen, yes, sir.

Q. What time of the year?

A. Well, now, I don't just exactly know when it was, I know it was the first time Sadie——

Q. Was it in the summer? A. Yes, sir, it was.

Q. In the summer? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go away any place last year?

A. No, sir, I didn't go any place.

Q. Can you remember about the time of the summer that it was?

A. Let me see, now, I don't think it was in the summer though.

Q. You think it was in the summer?

A. Yes, sir; yes, sir, I think it was.

Q. Well, are you sure?

A. Well, I think it was in the summer.

Q. Hot weather, was it?

A. Yes, sir, it was. I know it was in the summer, because——

Q. Do you remember the 4th of July last summer?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was it before that or after that?

A. It was after that.

Q. After the 4th of July?

A. Yes, sir, it was, it must have been along in August or September, it was after July.

Q. August or September? A. It must have been.

Q. Wasn't it as late as November?

A. November? No, sir, it wasn't.

Q. It was either August or September? A. Yes, sir.

Q. One of those two months?

A. Yes, sir, it must have been.

Q. You didn't go down to see Dennis?

A. No, sir, I went down there once. He sent for me.

Q. Before that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Or after that?

A. Before that. He sent for me and I went down to see him.

Q. Did you talk to Dennis about this?

A. Why, he talked to me about it, but he didn't say anything about it, about swearing or anything about it.

Q. He just asked you what you knew?

A. No, sir, he just asked me is Sadie said anything to me, and I told him no, sir, not to me.

Q. Did you talk about Granny Letcher's?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or when you lived there? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't talk about that? A. No, sir.

Q. How long was that before Hunt came to see you?

A. Oh, that was about a week before.

Q. About a week before that?

A. Yes, sir, about a week.

Q. How long did you see Dennis that time?

A. I just seen him once, he was there in the office.

Q. Just once? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long were you there?

A. I wasn't there very long.

Q. Just a few minutes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he tell you—did he ask you what he wanted to know about what Sadie said, or anything?

A. No, sir, he asked me what did Sadie say about him.

Q. About him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And what did you tell him?

A. I told him she didn't say anything about him.

Q. Sadie had been to see him before that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Shortly before? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how long before you went down to Dennis's?

A. Well, I guess about three weeks.

Q. About three weeks before that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is all he wanted to know?

A. Yes, sir, that is all he said.

Q. Didn't say anything about testifying?

A. No, sir, and then he came out to the house and he asked me when he came out, he asked me what had Sadie said, and I told him nothing, and he said he didn't want her to get him into any trouble, and he wanted me to tell him, he said, if Sadie said anything about him.

Q. About him?

A. Yes, sir, but she hadn't to me, she hadn't said a thing about him.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. How came you to go to Dennis's office the first time that you went there? A. He sent.

Q. Who did he send? A. He called me up.

Q. On the telephone? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, did he tell you up in the office what he wanted with you?

A. No, sir, but he was talking about my sister, the one in Kansas City, and he did say a few words to her about this. He asked her did she know anything about Granny Letcher's, and Etta, or something like that, but he didn't say nothing to me about it.

Q. Now, Alice, you say that at the time Hunt came to your house was when they were taking depositions. Who was taking depositions?

A. Well, now, when Hunt came there, they had been, I don't know, they was going down to his office, down to Dennis's office.

Q. Was that where they were taking depositions?

A. Yes, sir, Mr. Long——

Q. Dennis and Mr. Long were taking depositions?

A. Yes, sir, they had him come down there and talk to me.

Q. Is that what you mean by taking depositions?

A. Yes, sir, I thought that was what you meant.

Q. You thought that was taking depositions?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, Alice, you remember that they did take some testimony at the Court house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And a whole lot of folks went up and testified, you remember that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, was this before or after that?

A. Now, let's see. It was before.

Q. Before that? A. Yes, sir, it was before.

Q. It was in August or September before that?

A. Yes, sir, it was before they were taking them, because I know that when Mr. Hunt told me about it, if I had went I would have——

Q. You would have been one of the witnesses?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. At the taking of depositions at the Court House?

A. Yes, sir, yes, sir.

Q. They took those depositions in the winter time?

A. Was it in the winter?

Q. Was it or not at the Court House?

A. Well, sir, I forget, at the Court House, yes, sir.

Q. At the Court House? A. Yes, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. How do you know they were taking depositions?

A. Well, when I went down there you know, if I had—— You know the first time I went down to Dennis's.

Q. When was that, when he sent for you?

A. Yes, sir. Then they hadn't taken them then.

Q. Well, how do you know that they had taken depositions?

A. Well, all of them were going up to the Court House and they were talking about it. Wasn't that when Sam Nash and all of them——

Q. When they took depositions at the District Court House then, up on the hill?

A. I guess it was then. I know it was then when they sent for me.

Q. That was at the District Court House up here on the hill? A. Yes, sir.

Q. They were taking depositions? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how did you hear they were taking depositions?

A. I heard first one and then another one talking about it, and after Mr. Hunt told me if I wanted to I could go.

Q. Did Sadie tell you that? A. No, sir.

Q. That they were taking depositions?

A. No, sir, I never seen Sadie. I only seen Sadie once to talk to her.

Q. You are sure that they were taking depositions at the Court House? A. Well, right after that, yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Alice, then wasn't it summer before last that Hunt came to your house to get you to go to Dennis's instead of last summer? A. Summer before last?

Q. Yes?

A. No, sir, she didn't came out there then.

Q. You still think it was last summer, do you?

A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Mary Lower, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 2607.

And thereupon, MARY LOWER being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. Mary Lower.
Q. Your age? A. 43.
Q. Your place of residence? A. Lawrence, Kansas.
Q. Mary, did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. When did you live there?
A. Well, it has been about 27 years ago, I guess.
Q. Where were you born? A. Lawrence, Kansas.
Q. About what year did you move to Leavenworth?
A. Did I move to Leavenworth?
Q. Yes?
A. I don't know because I went there when I, when I was a little girl, went to Leavenworth when I was a child.
Q. About how old were you when you went to Leavenworth? A. I was about 12.
Q. Then you lived there until about how long ago?
A. I lived there just about 27 years after I went there.
Q. Did you have a child while you were living in Leavenworth? A. I did.
Q. What was the name of that child? A. Etta Lower.
Q. Where does she live now?
A. She lives in Lawrence, Kansas.
Q. Is she married at this time? A. No, sir.
Q. What work are you engaged in at this time?
A. At this time?
Q. Yes?
A. I am a cook and do caterer's work, cooking.
Q. What place?
A. Kapa Alpha Theta, a Ladies' Sorority.
Q. And how long have you been there? A. Ten years.
Q. The same place you are staying now? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What year was that child Etta born?
A. Etta is 27 years old the 28th of July.
Q. Where were you living when Etta was born?
A. At Scott's, in South Leavenworth, Eliza Scott's.
Q. Etta will be 28——
A. She will be 28 now the next 28th of July.

Q. Was Etta ever taken by you to the home of Granny Letcher? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old was she when you took her to Granny Letcher's home? A. I let Nettie have her first.

Q. Nettie who?

A. I don't know her other name, Nettie, is all I ever knew her by. She was Jim Mayo's wife, or whatever she was. I let her have her first when she was about six months old.

Q. And how long did she stay with Nettie?

A. Why, she was walking when Nettie left; she must have been about a year old.

Q. When Nettie left did you take her then to the home of Granny Letcher?

A. I did, I let Granny Letcher have her.

Q. How long had you known Granny Letcher before that time?

A. I never knew her at all before that time, before I let Nettie have the baby.

Q. You then first got acquainted with Granny when your baby was about six months old? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading and suggestive and we also object as the prompting of the witness.

Mr. Allen: The witness has just stated, Mr. Blakeney.

Mr. Blakeney: I heard what the witness just stated now.

Q. Then how old did you say Etta was when she was taken by Granny Letcher? A. How old she was?

Q. Yes, Etta, when she was taken by Granny Letcher?

A. Well, she was walking; she must have been a year old.

Q. How long did she stay then in the home of Granny Letcher? A. I think she stayed there altogether about a year.

Q. Where was Granny living? A. On Seneca street.

Q. Were you—did you come to the house frequently during the time your baby was there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you living at that time?

A. Well, when I first taken her there I was living down by the mill, down—I don't know what street it was.

Q. What mill?

A. I don't remember the name of it, Pierce's or——

Q. Did anything ever happen to that mill? A. Yes, sir

Q. What? A. It burned.

Q. To refresh your memory was that the Kelly-Lyle mill?

A. I won't say for sure because I have forgot that name, I never thought of it.

Q. Who were you living with? A. Mrs. Scott.

Q. What relation was she to Eliza Lavelly?

A. Her mother.

Q. Was Eliza and the rest of the family living in the same house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you live in the Lavelly home?

A. Lavelly?

Q. I mean the Scott home?

A. The Scott home. I don't remember just when I left there.

Q. With reference to the time that the Kelly-Lyle mill burned, when did you leave?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

A. Oh, I was there I guess, I must have been here about two years after that.

Q. At what place? A. At Scott's.

Q. Did the fire at the Kelly-Lyle mill effect the house where they were living at that time?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading and suggestive.

A. I don't know anything about that because we moved out of the house that night.

Q. You moved out of the Scott house the night that the mill burned? A. Yes, sir, and went to Granny Letcher's.

Q. You moved then to Granny Letcher's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you live then in the home of Granny Letcher? A. Oh, I roomed there then about two months.

Q. Where was your baby then when you moved to the home of Granny Letcher? A. Granny Letcher's.

Q. About how long had she been living at that home at that time? A. At Granny Letcher's?

Q. Yes? A. Well, she was walking, old enough to walk.

Q. About how long had she been living at Granny Letcher's when you moved there from the Kelly-Lyle mill?

A. I guess a year, she wasn't walking when I taken her there, and she was walking then.

Q. How long after you left Granny Letcher's did you continue to visit her home? A. After I left there?

Q. Yes?

A. After I left there I never went back, after I taken the baby away.

Q. How long did you say you lived at the home after the mill burned? A. At Granny Letcher's?

Q. Yes? A. About two months.

Q. During all the time that you knew Granny Letcher, that you were around her home was there any child there by the name of Tommy Atkins or Indian Tommy? A. No, sir.

Q. Was there any woman there by the name of Minnie Atkins, or Indian Minnie? A. No, sir.

Q. Who were the members of Granny Letcher's family?

A. Well Sam Nash, and some Walter, and when I first went there a girl named Nettie. I don't know her last name.

Q. Was Nettie living at Granny Letcher's home when you took Etta Lower to her? A. Yes, sir, she was.

Q. Did you know Dan Hudson? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you first see him?

A. In J. R. Myers restaurant in Leavenworth, I used to wash dishes there.

Q. When was the last time you saw him?

A. Dan, it has been about 15 or 16 years since I seen him; seen him in Lawrence, Kansas, his mother lives there.

Q. After you last saw him in Lawrence, Kansas, when was the next time that you saw him? A. Now.

Q. You haven't talked with him since you have been here? A. No, sir.

Q. You haven't talked to him in 16 years?

A. No, I haven't.

Q. How old was Walter Banks when you were there?

A. I don't know, he was a pretty good sized boy, but I don't know how old he was.

Q. Was there any boy in that home during any of the time that you knew Granny Letcher younger than Walter Banks? A. No, sir.

Q. Was any other boys there besides Walter Banks and Sam Nash? A. No, sir, there wasn't.

Q. Where was Jim Mayo living?

A. With his mother in the same house.

Q. Was he a grown man?

A. Yes, sir. He is older than I am.

Q. Did you come here this morning from your—from the place you are now working in Lawrence, Kansas in obedience to a subpoena from the United States Court? A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. How old are you now? A. I am 43.

Q. You are 43? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was your child's name? A. Etta Lower.

Q. What is your name? A. Mary Lower.

Q. What was your maiden name? A. Ford.

Q. When did you take the name of Lower?

A. It has been about 27 years ago.

Q. Were you married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where? A. At Lawrence, Kansas.

Q. To whom were you married? A. Lower.

Q. What was his other name? A. Luke.

Q. Luke Lower. When were you married with reference to the time that Etta was born? A. When was I married?

Q. Yes?

A. I was married about a year before Etta was born, married just about a year.

Q. Married about a year before Etta was born?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you living there in Leavenworth when you married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you went up to Lawrence and got married?

A. I was married in Lawrence, yes, sir.

Q. What day did you marry on?

A. I don't know, I don't remember.

Q. What month?

A. I don't remember that either, because I have been separated from him ever since I married him, haven't even got my papers.

Q. Never lived with him after you married?

A. Oh, yes, I lived with him four or five months.

Q. Lived with him four or five months and then you separated? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you live with him that four or five months?

A. When did I live.

Q. Yes? A. I lived in Lawrence.

Q. Lawrence. And where were you living before you married? A. Before I married?

Q. Yes?

A. I was living here in Leavenworth, working for Bill Pratt.

Q. Working for Bill Pratt? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And living in Leavenworth and you went up to Lawrence and got married and you stayed there four or five months? A. I stayed there, yes, sir.

Q. Got license from the County office at Lawrence?

A. Yes, sir, and preacher Wallace, married us.

Q. Now after you had lived four months about you left your husband and you came back to Leavenworth?

A. Yes, I have been back.

Q. Well, now, I am not trying to mix you up; just trying to get the facts, if I can. Did you come back immediately after you left your husband to Leavenworth?

A. After I left him?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir, I came back here.

Q. This is Kansas City you are in now?

A. Well, I mean I came back to Leavenworth.

Q. You came back to Leavenworth immediately after leaving your husband? A. After he left me.

Q. After he left you? A. Yes.

Q. Where did you go to then? A. Back here.

Q. To Leavenworth? A. Yes, to Scotts.

Q. Went back to Scott's to room?

A. Went back there to live, lived the same as one of the family.

Q. That was over close to the mill?

A. No that was out to their place where I went first, out to their home, they owned a home.

Q. Were Scott's white people? A. No.

Q. They were colored people? A. Colored.

Q. I don't quite understand. Scott's also lived over by the mill, didn't they, sometime?

A. After they rented their home out, that is how it come them to live by the mill we would close to our work. I was work- at Giaimini's hotel.

Q. Working at Giaimini's hotel? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The mill was closer to the hotel than Scott's home?

Q. Yes, sir, Scott's home was out on Broadway.

Q. About how long did you live at Scott's home before you went up by the mill after your marriage?

A. I don't know how long I lived out there; I kept no track of it.

Q. Well, now, was it only a short time or several years?

A. Before I went up by the mill?

Q. Yes?

A. I won't say how long it was because I don't know, I didn't keep no track how long I lived out there.

Q. I don't want to get the exact time, a few days or a few weeks?

A. Oh, more than a few days and weeks and months.

Q. More than a few months? A. Yes.

Q. And where were you living when your child was born?

A. Living at Scott's; she was born at Scott's house.

Q. At Scott's home? A. Yes, sir, at the mill.

Q. You were still living there when the child was born?

A. Still living there when the child was born.

Q. How long after you came back and left your husband, how long was it until the child was born?

A. Oh, just a few months.

Q. Well, now, about how long; you know don't you about how long you were pregnant after the time your husband left you?

A. Yes, I guess she was born about six months, something like that.

Q. About six months after your husband left you your child was born, so you had lived at Scott's old place about six months before the child was born?

A. I guess that is about right.

Q. About how long did you continue to live there after the child was born? A. At Scott's?

Q. Yes? A. I can't tell how long.

Q. You kept the child there with you for a while at Scott's? A. Yes, until she got old enough to put her out.

Q. Well did you put her out before you left Scott's old home or not? A. No.

Q. You had the child with you while you lived there at the old place? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. When you moved up to the mill you put the child out with Nettie? A. Yes, I did.

Q. You don't know Nettie's other name? A. No, I don't.

Q. White or colored? A. Colored, big yellow woman.

Q. Do you know where she was living?

A. At Granny Letcher's on Seneca street.

Q. So when you put her with Nettie you put her at Granny Letcher's place? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Now about how old was the child when you put it with Nettie? A. It must have been about six months old.

Q. Six months old? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then it had been about a year after your husband and you had separated you put the child with Nettie?

A. About a year?

Q. Yes?

A. She was about six months old when I put her with Nettie.

Q. Well, the child was born about six months after your separation, and she was about six months old when you put her with Nettie; that was about a year after your separation.

A. I guess it must have been, wouldn't say for sure.

Q. Well, you will say for sure six or twelve, won't you?

A. Well, yes.

Q. How long did Nettie keep the child?

A. I put her with Nettie when she was about six months old and she was walking when I took her out. I don't know how old she was but she must have been a year.

Q. How old is the child Etta?

A. She is 27 now, born on the 28th of July, her name is Etta.

Q. She was 27 in 1915, she was born on the 28th of July, 1888? A. That is right.

Q. And you had her then when she was about six months old—you took her about the first of January 1889——

Mr. German: You mean you took her to——

Q. Yes, you took her to Nettie about the 1st of January, 1889? A. Yes, that must be right.

Q. Now, how long then did the child stay there before the mill burned? A. Before the mill burned?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, just like I said, she must have been there a year.

Q. Must have been at Granny's—at Nettie's?

A. She was walking when Nettie left and then Granny taken her.

Q. You never took her back to your home until after Nettie had taken her?

A. No, I left her at Granny's, Granny taken her then.

Q. She stayed with Nettie until she could walk?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You can't say just how long that was?

A. No, I can't say.

Q. Now you don't remember the year that the mill burned in? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Anyhow Nettie kept her until the mill burned?

A. She was walking.

Q. Well now, I just want to get it right, if I can. This is important to me and I want to get it right?

A. No, Nettie never kept her until the mill burned.

Q. Nettie didn't keep her then until the mill burned?

A. No, she never, Granny Letcher taken her before that mill burned.

Q. Granny took her before the mill burned?

A. Yes, sir, Nettie was gone when the mill burned.

Q. And after the mill burned you moved up to Granny's—— A. I did.

Q. About how long had Granny been keeping her when you moved up there? A. I can't say.

Q. About how old was the child?

A. The child was walking.

Q. Well, she is still walking, isn't she? A. Yes.

Q. About how old was the child when you went back to live with her again at Granny's?

A. Well, I don't know that either, how old she was.

Q. The child was walking when Granny took her, you think? A. I think she was.

Q. And then Granny kept her awhile, and you went over to live with Granny and the child.

A. I did.

Q. Now don't you remember, can't you look back over and see the child, the little child just about its age when you went back to Granny's to live?

A. Well I won't say how old she was.

Q. Well how long will you say it was that Granny kept it before you went up to Granny's place to live?

A. I won't say that either.

Q. Well, was it a year? A. No.

Q. It was longer than a month?

A. Yes, it was longer than a month.

Q. Well about how many months would you say now?

A. I would say she kept her one whole winter?

Q. She kept her in the winter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, you went up there then, and the winter, as you figure it is about three months, is that your idea about what the winter would be, about three months or four months?

A. Well, Nettie left in the fall, and Granny kept Ettie until the spring.

Q. Now Nettie left in the fall and Granny then took the child in the fall, and kept it until spring?

A. Yes, but I don't know what month, whether March, April or May, I wouldn't say.

Q. You won't say whether Granny kept the child then until March, April or May?

A. I won't say what month it was.

Q. Well, now during the time that Granny kept her, you moved in there with her? A. I did.

Q. About what time did you move?

A. I don't remember. Oh, I moved the night the mill burned, that is the night I moved.

Q. You moved in the night the mill burned?

A. Yes, sir, but I don't——

Q. About how long did Granny keep the child after you moved there?

A. After I moved there, I lived there about two months with Granny.

Q. You lived about two months with Granny?

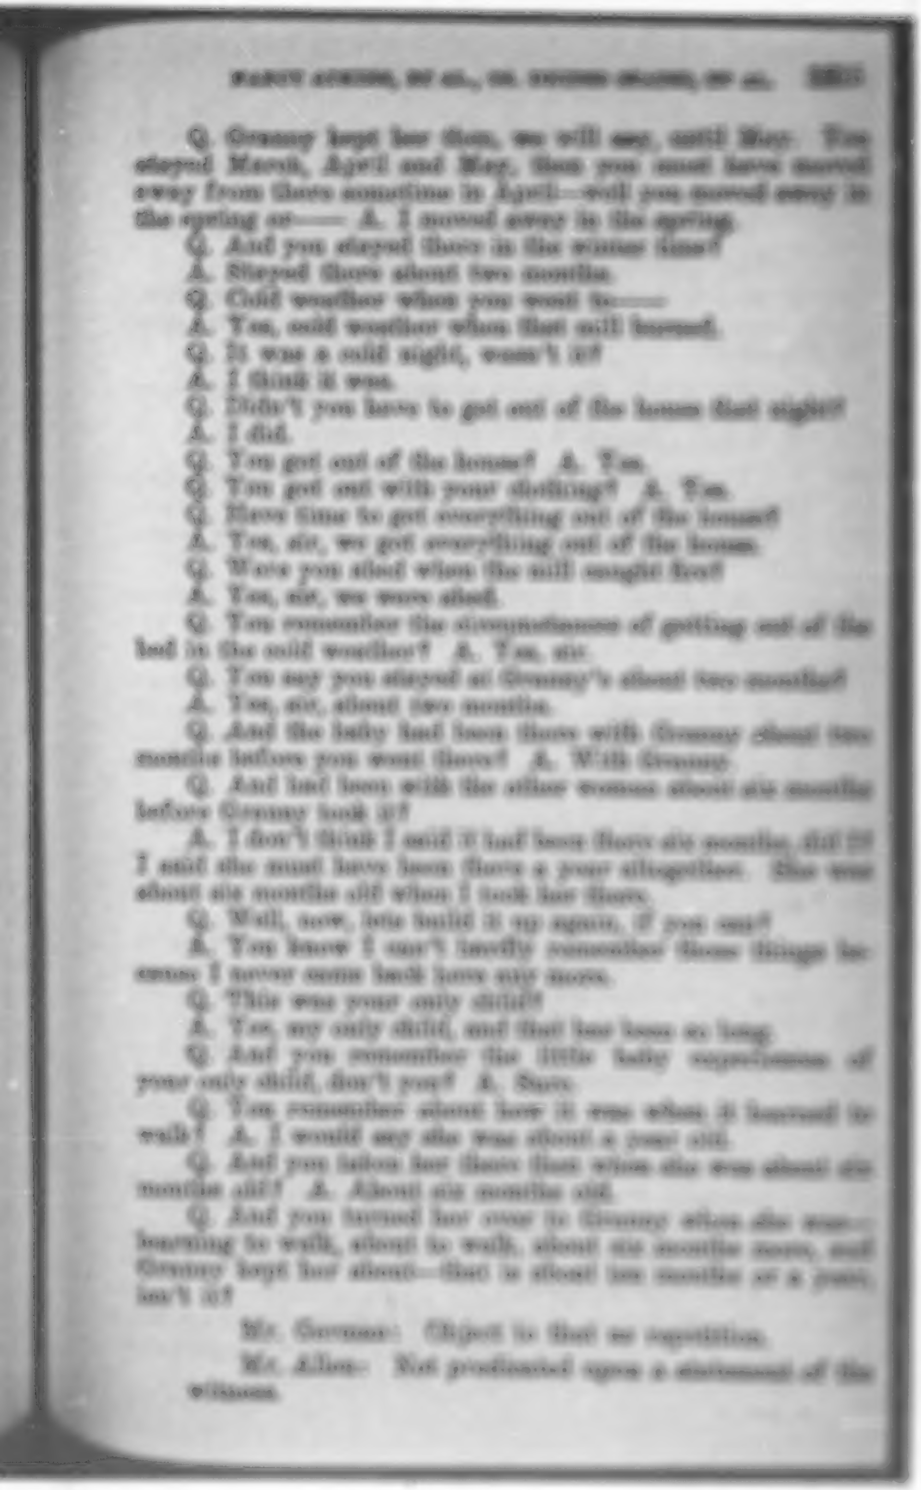
A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you take the child away with you?

A. I took the child away when I went, I did. I don't think Granny had her—I think she did have her about two weeks until we got settled until we moved.

Q. Granny kept her about two weeks after you left?

A. Yes.



1915

Mr. Blakeney: I said I would have to repeat it when she made a statement inconsistent with it, and I would have to try——

Mr. Allen: We object to that. The witness's testimony is entirely consistent.

Q. Now we have got it in mind now that it had been about eight months before the mill burned that the child was taken to Granny's?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as not predicated upon the testimony of this witness.

Q. Is that correct?

Mr. Blakeney: I want the record now to expressly show that when the witness is trying to make a thing definite that counsel for the Government is trying to prevent it being made definite.

Mr. Allen: I insist upon my objection to Counsel putting into the mouth of the witness statements that she has not made.

Mr. Cruce: I wonder if we can enter into an agreement that would be effective, that without interposing objections here, that we could go ahead and ask our questions, and you the same way, and then on trial interpose any objections that we might have.

Mr. German: Can't do that, Judge, for this reason. Primarily there might be a technical objection that we couldn't secure by further objection. Outside of that I don't see why we can't.

Mr. Blakeney: I would like now to make the agreement now and have it applied to my witnesses when they come on the stand, that when we make objection to witnesses that we would not then try to state our theory of the case to the witness, so that we witness may reform or correct her testimony in reference to it.

Mr. Hanford: Reserve the argument until the trial.

Mr. Blakeney: I have got an illustration here, a single suggestion and prompting makes the witness throw down all the—— I have to start anew again.

Mr. Allen: We will have to reserve the right to make objections when we desire to do so, and in such form as we see fit to make them.

Mr. Blakeney: I would like to renew this examination while she is on the stand, before she has any time for any suggestion in regard to fixing this matter.

Mr. Allen: In view of the insinuations of Counsel we insist upon the witness' testimony being concluded.

Mr. Blakeney: That will be very satisfactory as to me. I am not insinuating as to Counsel at all.

Q. I want to ask you now if you can state just how long the child was at Granny's place there with Nettie or Granny?

Mr. German: We object to that on the ground that it is repetition.

Q. Before the fire?

Mr. German: The same objection.

Q. After thinking now, can you answer that last question; just one question. What is your difficulty now, are you aggravated at something that has been done here, why are you sobbing? A. It made me sick.

Q. Are you sick? A. Yes.

Q. Do you want to take a recess until after lunch hour?

A. Can you get through with me now?

Q. I am not in any sense trying to mix you; I am trying to help you fix the date, if you can?

A. Well, I have told all I know about it.

Q. Well, while we are working it out, we might work the date a little more perfect, is the only purpose I have now in the matter. Now going back again, getting your mind on the subject of inquiry, isn't your best recollection——

Mr. German: Mr. Blakeney, to save the record will you consent that I object to all your further inquiries on the ground that it is repetition?

Mr. Blakeney: Yes, sir.

Mr. Allen: And where the objection is proper the further objection is made that the Counsel is assuming a fact not testified to by the witness.

Mr. Blakeney: That is all right, I am willing to that.

Q. Now what is your given name? A. Mary Ford.

Q. What? A. Ford, Mary Ford.

Q. Mary, can you tell us whether or not your child had been at Granny's about eight months when this fire occurred, and stayed there about two months after the fire occurred, can you answer that?

The Examiner: Think about it Mary, and see if you can answer it, so we will get through soon.

Q. Can we get an answer?

Mr. Allen: Just answer it the best you can, Mary.

The Examiner: Go ahead and answer the question, as nearly as you can.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is your best recollection then, is it?

A. That is the best.

Q. How often did you go up to Granny's during the time that Nettie kept your child?

A. I went there about every evening.

Q. You would go up every evening to see her and the child?

A. I would take her milk up there about every afternoon.

Q. About how long would you stay?

A. I would stay until about 5 o'clock, time to get back to work.

Q. What time would you get away to go up?

A. About two.

Q. You would go up and stay about three hours?

A. Yes.

Q. After you got burned out and you went up there to live did you still work at the hotel? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you would not only have the time off between 2 and 5 but you would be there at nights? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Would you go up to Granny's place then, between 2 and 5, when you were staying there at nights?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. During all that time you never saw a boy around that place known as Tommy Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. When did you get what you would call intimately acquainted with Granny?

A. I got acquainted with her when Nettie taken the baby.

Q. You got acquainted with Granny then? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you get acquainted with her the first day you took Etta to Nettie's, or get acquainted in the course of a few days or a week afterwards?

A. I had taken [ ] there in the morning and went up there that night to see her, and got acquainted with her.

Q. Where did you visit Etta in the daytime when you would go up? A. Down in Granny's house, down stairs.

Q. The first few months, the baby couldn't walk, you state? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And of course, you visited her by carrying the baby around then?

A. I went in the afternoon with milk for the baby.

Q. And after the baby got to walking, the baby would play around the room with you when you would go up to see it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And when you were living there, the baby would sleep in your room? A. No.

Q. The baby still slept in the same room that Granny had kept it in? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, did you meet other people in the house?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Meet boarders and others? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And all of the boarders that were there regularly at the time, you got acquainted with, did you?

A. Yes, sir, wasn't anybody there at that time but the Scotts.

Q. Nobody but the Scotts?

A. Yes, they moved up there the night the mill burned; that was the only boarders I seen, outside of a woman that was there.

Q. What woman? A. Name of Belle somebody—dark.

Q. A colored woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. A young woman?

A. She was young, yes, sir; in her twenties.

Q. Now, did you ever meet a man by the name of Carter? A. Carter?

Q. Yes, Henry Carter, a colored man that peddled vegetables around the city of Leavenworth?

A. No, I don't know him.

Q. You don't ever remember his coming up to the house in the day time when you was there?

A. No, I don't remember him at all.

Q. You don't remember an old peddler driving a wagon, that occasionally came around and talked to Granny, there at the place?

A. I don't; maybe he never happened there when I was there in the afternoon.

And thereupon an adjournment is taken until 1:30 o'clock P. M. And thereafter, and at 1:30 o'clock P. M., further testimony herein was taken as follows:

MARY LOWER being recalled further testified as follows:

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mary, you [ ] that Nettie took Etta before Granny Letcher? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she [ ] Etta up until she was about a year old?
A. Yes, sir.

Q. Nettie was supposed to be Jim's wife at that time?

A. Yes, sir, that is what I understood.

Q. Nettie and Jim ran a restaurant, didn't they?

A. Ran a restaurant? I don't know anything about that.

Q. You don't know aything about that?

A. No, nothing about the restaurant.

Q. You didn't know anything about them living up on Shawnee street, and that is where they had a restaurant?

A. No, I never knew they lived on Shawnee.

Q. They never lived on Shawnee? A. Etta——

Mr. German: She didn't say that, Mr. Hanford; I call your attention to your misunderstanding.

Q. You never knew about them living on Shawnee?

A. No, sir, I never knew about that.

Q. Was Etta ever on Shawnee street at the time that you went to see her? A. No.

Q. Are you sure of that? A. Seneca street.

Q. Seneca street always? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And did Granny Letcher live on Shawnee street any of the time you knew her?

A. Not that I know of unless she—no, it was Seneca street, where I knew her at.

Q. She was on Seneca street all the time that you knew her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew Sam Nash? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sam had his picture taken with Etta one time, didn't he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember what, if anything, Etta was standing on in that picture?

A. She was standing on a chair in one picture.

Q. Was Sam standing alongside of her?

A. Yes, but I don't think his full view was there.

Q. That is, all of the way down to his feet wasn't there?

A. No, sir, I don't think it was.

Q. Just about three-quarters length?

A. I think he was kind of—holding Etta in the chair; I am not sure, it has been so long since I saw him.

Q. Well, he had his good arm around her, didn't he?

A. Some where near—I wouldn't say where it was on her, or on the chair.

Q. When was that picture taken? When Nettie had Etta, or when Granny had Etta?

A. Nettie had Etta, I think when that picture was taken.

Q. You worked out while you lived in Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. After the Kelly-Lyle mill burned, you say the Scotts made their home at the Letcher's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you did, too? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were working out at that time?

A. I was working at Giacomini's hotel.

Q. Now, who took care of Etta before the mill burned?

A. Before the mill burned?

Q. Yes? A. Well, I had Etta up to Granny's.

Q. Up to Granny's?

A. Yes, sir, up to Granny Letcher's.

Q. Granny was taking [] of Etta at that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you sure of that?

Mr. German: I object to that on the ground that it has been asked about fifteen times, by Mr. Blakeney particularly.

Mr. Blakeney: Mr. Hanford still has a right to ask it if I had. Make her answer it.

Mr. German: She is not objecting to answering it.

Q. Mary are you sure that Etta was at Granny's before the mill burned. A. Before the mill burned?

Q. Yes?

A. Yes, she was there before the mill burned.

Q. Wasn't Etta taken up there after the mill burned, when you moved up there, and then left there with Granny from that time on?

A. Left her with Granny from that time on?

Q. Yes?

A. Etta was at Granny's when the mill burned.

Q. She wasn't down there at the——

A. No, because I had taken her away; I had taken her away after I moved there. I stayed up there about three months.

Q. She was there after the mill burned so you had to take her away, but I am trying to call your attention to the time that you took her to Granny's house, whether or not it wasn't at the time you moved up here yourself?

A. Well, she was already there when I moved up there. Granny had taken care of her after Nettie had her.

Q. Did Nettie go away before the fire? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sure of that?

A. I think Nettie was gone because Granny was taking care of her, yes, sir.

Q. Well, was Etta at Granny's house all the time that Nettie taking care of her?

A. Yes, she was there all the time, yes, sir.

Q. Didn't Jim and Nettie live away from Granny's house? A. Not while I knew her, she never.

Q. Was she there at the house?

A. Yes, sir, she had the front room, up stairs, right at the top of the stairs.

Q. And had Etta with her?

A. Had Etta with her, yes, sir.

Q. You say that you used to go and see Etta in the afternoons? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: I object to all this line of examination at this time on the ground that it useless repetition about a collateral matter.

Mr. Hanford: It was all brought out on direct examination. I reserve my right to cross examine the witness regardless of the other defendants.

Mr. Blakeney: I drew that out, but counsel is now cross examining, you have the right to cross examine about anything I examined about.

Mr. German: If your examination, Mr. Blakeney, was in chief, I now, having learned that fact, move to strike all of Mr. Blakeney's examination on the ground that his questions were leading and suggestive.

Mr. Blakeney: I think that counsel may defend his action by lack of knowledge of my purpose. Can't close himself——

Q. Did you go to see Etta about every day? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go after your work? A. I did.

Q. And were working at the hotel, I believe you said?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You took the milk up yourself to her?

A. Well, most of the time I had taken it. When I would go up I would take the milk up; sometimes I would send it by the fat girl.

Q. That was bottled milk for nursing the child?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. So you didn't go up all the time yourself?

A. Most of the time; nearly every afternoon. No, once in a while I didn't go up.

Q. Your only interest in Granny Letcher at that time was on account of the little girl? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had no interest in her household affairs and private matters? A. No, sir.

Q. Was she running a boarding house, wasn't she?

A. I don't know whether she did or not; she had a rooming house—I don't know about the boarding.

Q. Rooming house, then? A. Rooming house.

Q. You didn't pay any attention to the roomers who went or came?

A. No, never was a crowd; I never did see a crowd in there.

Q. But those people were strangers to you? I mean the roomers were strangers to you?

A. No, only roomers I seen was the woman her son had.

Q. That was Nelle? A. Nettie first, and then, Belle.

Q. Who ever else might have been around the house, you didn't pay any attention to?

A. I didn't see anyone else around the house.

Q. And you didn't inquire and look into whether or not any one else was around there?

A. I always went through her house.

Q. You were not a frequenter of that place, were you? I mean at night?

A. I went there; of course, I was there every night when I roomed there but I never went there before of nights.

Q. You never went there for any other purpose except to see the girl?

A. No, sir, and I wouldn't have of been there only for her being there.

Q. Mary, at that time, weren't you known by the name of Anthony?

A. Yes, I went by the name of Anthony, but that was a step-father.

Q. Step-father. A. Yes, that Anthony.

Q. Was you married to him? A. Who?

Q. Anthony?

A. No, that was my step-father; that is why they called me Anthony—he was a step-father to me.

Q. Your step-father?

A. Yes, my father's name was Ford.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What made you ill just before lunch today? A. Sir.

Q. Was it smoke in the room that made you ill?

A. I guess it made me sick; I like to have fainted.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Julia T. Carter taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript beginning at page 2918:

And thereupon, JULIA T. CARTER, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Julia T. Carter.
Q. How old are you, Julia? A. 31.
Q. Where do you live? A. 1611 East 22nd.
Q. Kansas City, Mo.? A. Yes, sir.

A. Yes, sir, I was born there.
Q. What was your mother's name? A. Jane Scott.
Q. You were born in '84? A. Yes, sir.
Q. 1884? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Did you ever live at Granny Letcher's?
A. A short while.
Q. When did you go there?
A. Well, I don't remember just what date, or what day, but it was the night the mill burned in Leavenworth.
Q. What mill? A. The Kelly & Lyle.
Q. How long did you stay at Granny's?
A. I don't remember.
Q. Who went with you? A. My mother and sisters.
Q. What are your sisters names?
A. Liza Lavally and Alice Perry.
Q. Were there any other children at Granny Letcher's?
A. Walter Banks, and a little girl by the name of Etta Lower, a baby girl, a small girl about a year old I guess at that time.
Q. Did you know Sam Nash? A. Yes, sir.
Q. And Jim Mayo? A. Yes, sir.
Q. They were grown at that time? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Any other children at Granny's, Granny Letcher's besides yourself and this baby, Etta Lower, and Walter Banks?
A. My two brothers.
Q. What were their names?
A. Lucian and Lyman Scott.
Q. Now were there any other children there? A. No.
Q. When did you come to Kansas City?
A. Well, I have been here off and on for quite a while, I don't remember just what date I did come.
Q. About how old were you when you left Leavenworth?
A. I was about 19.
Q. And you grew up from childhood after you stayed at Granny Letcher's, for that short while, and did you go back to Granny's any to visit any? A. No, sir.

Q. While you were living there was there any child there by the name of Tommy or Indian Tommy?

A. No, I don't know of any, I never seen them.

Q. Did you hear that name called while you were there?

A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You went there the night that the place burned you said? A. No that Kelly & Lyle mill burned, yes, sir.

Q. When did you say you were born? A. 1884.

Q. What time in '84? A. The 10th day of December.

Q. Do you remember what day of the year the mill burned? A. No, I don't.

Q. Winter time or summer? A. I don't remember.

Q. Do you remember going there to Granny Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You was about—you were nearly five years old?

A. I don't remember; I won't say because I don't know.

Q. Well you know that the mill burned when you were about four and a half or five years old, don't you?

A. I don't know that at all; I remember when the mill burned, my mother taken me to Granny's, but how old I was I don't remember.

Q. How long did you stay at Granny Letcher's?

A. I don't remember that, either, I didn't keep tab of it.

Q. About how long? A. I don't know.

Q. You actually remember ever being at Granny Letcher's? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. You actually remember? A. Sure I do.

Q. Do you remember anything else that occurred when you were four or five years old? A. No, I don't.

Q. Nothing else?

A. I didn't say I was four or five, either, I don't know how old I was.

Q. But you don't remember another thing that occurred about the time that you went to Granny Letcher's?

A. No, I don't.

Q. You lived around Granny Letcher's there for a while, and then you went down to some other part of the city?

A. I went to my home.

Q. Had your family moved to some other place in the city? A. They went to my home place.

Q. Your home place? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was it in your mother's home?

A. My mother's home, you know what I mean.

Q. That was in South Leavenworth? A. Sure.

Q. And you went to that? A. Went to my mothers.

Q. Yes, went with your mother? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the other members of your family? A. Sure.

Q. Did they take this little Etta with them?

A. I don't know, I don't remember that at all.

Q. When do you first remember seeing Etta now?

A. Etta?

Q. Yes?

A. Why, I seen her the same night that we went to Granny Letcher's, she was there then.

Q. In bed?

A. I don't know whether she was in bed or not, she was there, I won't say the same night, but she was there the next morning.

Q. The next morning?

A. Yes, and she must have been there that night.

Q. Do you remember seeing her? A. Why sure.

Q. You remember seeing a little girl in the house there when you were not quite five years of age?

A. I didn't say how old I was.

Q. No, but don't you know that fire occurred in 1889?

A. I don't know whether it did or not.

Q. Well, if it occurred in the fall of '89, you wouldn't have been quite five years old, would you?

A. I don't know, I remember when the mill burned down but I didn't keep tab of that.

Q. How did you go to Granny Letcher's?

A. At that time? The mill was on Choctaw; we went straight up from Choctaw up Fifth street.

Q. Had you gone to bed when the fire broke out?

A. Why sure, we was nothing but children.

Q. Burned in the night, did it?

A. Sure, it burned in the night.

Q. What time at night? A. I don't know.

Q. Had you been to sleep? A. I suppose we was.

Q. You just supposed you went up to Granny Letcher's, you don't remember?

A. I don't suppose that, I know we went there.

Q. You don't remember? A. Don't I.

Q. Do you remember? A. Sure I remember.

Q. Did you walk?

A. We didn't crawl, we must have walked.

Q. You yourself didn't crawl?

A. No, I was old enough to walk.

Q. Was it a cold night? A. I don't remember that.

Q. You don't remember whether you were such a child that somebody carried you up there or not?

A. No, I don't think they carried me.

Q. But you don't remember?

A. They didn't carry me if I was big enough to remember when the mill burned down, I was large enough to walk.

Q. You don't remember whether you stayed at Granny Letcher's a month or a year? A. I sure don't.

Q. What part of the house did you stay in?

A. I didn't look at that, I don't know, I stayed there some place, I don't know the room or the part of the house.

Q. Upstairs or downstairs?

A. I disremember whether it was upstairs, or downstairs, or in the kitchen, I don't know which place it was.

Q. What did you sleep on a bed or pallet?

A. I don't remember, I know I was sleeping in it.

Q. You know what?

A. I know there was sleeping in it, but I don't remember where I slept.

Q. How do you know that? A. How do I know I slept?

Q. Yes?

A. Well I must have slept, I didn't stay awake all night.

Q. You don't know whether you stayed there more than one night, or not, do you?

A. Oh, yes, stayed there more than one night, but I don't know how long, whether two months or two years, but I know I stayed there.

Q. Did you sleep in the room where this woman Nettie slept? A. Nettie?

Q. Yes?

A. I don't know Nettie, I never seen her.

Q. Belle?

A. I don't know Nettie, or Belle, I don't know them, they are people I guess old enough to be my mother, I don't know them.

Q. If they were there you don't remember?

A. No, I don't.

Q. When was the first time, not reasoning it out—but from your own memory, when was the first time that you saw this little girl Etta, when is the first time you remember having seen Etta?

A. Well, the first time I ever seen Etta, I don't remember that, but I know she was at Granny Letcher's when I was there.

Q. Had you ever seen her before?

A. I disremember, I know she was there at Granny Letcher's when I went there, and she was a smaller child than I was.

Q. Had you gone to school before the mill burned down?

A. No, I don't think so, I never went to school until I was eight years old.

Q. You don't remember whether you had ever seen this little Ethel until you saw her there?

A. No, I might have seen her but didn't pay any attention to her, or something, but I know she was at Granny Letcher's when I was there.

Q. Don't you know that she had lived in your home before you moved up by the mill? A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you live before you moved to the mill?

A. South Leavenworth.

Q. In your old home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You remember living there too, don't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Remember Ethel lived there?

A. I don't know whether it was Ethel or Edna, two of them.

Q. Who was Edna?

A. That was another one, another baby belonging to another lady.

Q. Belonging to who?

A. Another lady, I don't remember who it was; Etta was the one I knew at Granny Letcher's.

Q. But did you know Ethel that lived there in your home?

A. No.

Q. You remember Edna, however? A. I remember Edna.

Q. Did she live there in your home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. After you moved up to the mill? A. No, sir.

Q. At your home you don't remember Etta living?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Don't you know that the reason why that Etta's mother took her up to Granny Letcher's was because they were moving from your old home by the mill and didn't have room up there?

A. No, I don't know that; I didn't keep track of that, that was my parent's business.

Q. You kept track of children that you played with?

A. I know Etta, because she was a little baby, and I was playing with her.

Q. Played with her down at your home, didn't you?

A. If I did I forgot it.

Q. A month or two later you remember playing with her up at Granny's, don't you?

A. I don't know how much later it was I played with her at Granny's.

Q. Don't know how long you played with her at Granny's? A. No, I don't.

Q. Don't know other children that you played with at Granny's? A. Walter Banks and my two brothers.

Q. Those are people that you have known years after that; those brothers continued to live with the family after you got to be a big girl?

A. We didn't stay there that long at Granny's.

Q. I don't mean that; they lived around home after you got to be a big girl? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew Walter Banks after you got to be a big girl?

A. Yes, sir, know him yet.

Q. And knew Sam Nash? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Know him yet? A. Yes, sir.

Q. But those you did know after you had gotten to be a big girl you have forgotten, haven't you?

A. Well, if I knew them when I was small I might know them now.

Q. Who was Edna, whose child?

A. Edna was another lady's child that used to room with us.

Q. What lady was that?

A. Oh, I think her name was Martha.

Q. Martha who? A. Martha Miller.

Q. You knew that child too after you grew up, didn't you? A. Oh, that child was a little bit a baby.

Q. Well, it grew up? A. No, it didn't, it died.

Q. You remember that child? A. Yes, I remember that child.

Q. Died there at your home before the fire?

A. I don't know whether it was before the fire. I guess it must have been before the fire.

Q. You have been talking about this case out in the hall since you have been here as a witness?

A. Talked with some of the ladies out there, they asked me what I was up here for, and I told them supposed to be the same thing they were.

Q. And you proceeded to talk about what you knew?

A. I said all I knew, I didn't know much.

Q. What was it that you said about me as I passed by coming in at the lunch hour? A. Me.

Q. Yes, you?

A. I don't know whether I said anything about you or not; you all look alike to me.

Q. As I passed, didn't you point your finger and make a remark about me? A. Oh, no, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Julia, are you married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your name is Carter now?

A. Yes, sir, at the present time.

Q. How long have you been married?

A. I have been married about nine years.

Q. You were married after you came to Kansas City?

A. I married before I came to Kansas City.

Q. How long have you lived in Kansas City?

A. I have been here, this is my fourth year this last time.

Q. Did you live in Leavenworth before that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Julia, were you in Leavenworth a short time ago when your brother was sick? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have only been back there to visit in that way?

A. That is all.

Q. Do you know Sadie James?

A. I know of her, I am not personally acquainted with her at all.

Q. She has been to see you several times?

A. Why, she comes to see me constantly; she has knowed me ever since I was a baby.

Q. She came to see you about this case?

A. Yes, sir, she told me about it, asked me something about the mill.

Q. And she wanted you to testify to something you didn't know, didn't she?

A. Not that I didn't know; I told her just what I knowed, and that was all.

Q. Some things that you didn't know that she wanted you to say that you did? A. No, she didn't.

Mr. German: I object to that as calling for a conclusion and opinion of the witness.

Q. Didn't she try to get you to say that you knew certain things? A. No, sir, she didn't.

Q. And you told her that you didn't want to have anything to do with it?

Mr. German: I object to the conversation on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and object to any conclusion.

Q. You told her you didn't want to have anything to do with it? A. I never told her that.

Q. You didn't tell her that? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't you tell Dennis Jones that Sadie had come to you and wanted you to testify to something that she would fix up for you? A. Why, no.

Mr. German: Wait a minute, let me object. I object to that on the grounds that it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and that no time or place has been named.

Q. You talked with Dennie Jones in his office in Leavenworth about a year ago, about Sadie coming to see you, didn't you?

A. I might have talked with him in his room about a year ago, but I never said much about Sadie to him, and he didn't say much about her to me.

Q. Didn't you tell Dennis Jones that Sadie James wanted you to testify in this case, and told you that she would tell you what to say? A. Why, no.

Q. And you told her that you wouldn't have anything to do with it? A. Why, no, sir, I didn't.

Q. And didn't you tell Dennis that Sadie had gotten your sisters Eliza Lavally and Alice Parre—not Alice Parre, but Eliza LeVallay to do it, and you wouldn't?

A. Why, no. I didn't tell Dennis that.

Q. You didn't tell Dennis that? A. Why, no.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of George Dale, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 2928.

And thereupon GEORGE DALE, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. George Dale.

Q. Where do you live, George?

A. I live at 620 Harrison.

Q. Kansas City, Mo.? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old are you? A. Well, I am 41.

Q. Did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever live at the home of a woman named Molly Letcher, or Granny Letcher? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you live at her home?

A. About two years.

Q. When was that with reference to the date on which Molly Letcher died; was you living there when she died?

A. Yes, sir, I was there when she died.

Q. Now, how long before she died had you lived there?

A. Oh, I guess about two years, or about that.

Q. Had you ever lived in her home before that?

A. No, sir.

Q. Had you visited her home before that? A. No, sir.

Q. While you were living there was there any boy who lived there by the name of Indian Tommy or Tommy Atkins?

A. Not that I knows of.

Q. Did you know of any such boy by that name at that time? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know who the members of her family were, of Molly Letcher's family, who lived at Molly Letcher's house at that time?

A. Why, Walter Banks, I believe, and Sam Nash and Jim Mayo.

Q. Was there any boy living in that family younger than Walter Banks? A. I didn't see any there.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. You knew Minnie Atkins? A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. What? A. No, sir.

Q. Well, you knew that Indian girl over there?

A. No, sir, I never did.

Q. What year was it you went there?

A. I don't know what year it was.

Q. You just knew her about two years before she died in '98? A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Did you live there all during that two years?

A. I lived there from the time I went to room there until she died, and after she died I stayed there a week or so after she died.

Q. That is all? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't live any other place during that time?

A. No, not at any other place.

Q. What was you doing, working out?

A. I was driving a hack.

Q. And you just went there to sleep? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know anything about any other people in the house? A. No, I didn't know nothing about——

Q. You didn't know who lived there and had rooms there during that time?

A. No, I just knowed those that were there.

Q. You didn't know anybody else?

A. Not outside of Mattie, I don't know what her name is.

Q. Did you know all the children around that neighborhood? A. No, I didn't.

Q. You don't know who played around there? A. No.

Q. Who did you drive for?

A. Why, I drove for all of them; I was driving for Quinby at that time, George Quinby; I drove for several of them.

Q. Do you remember a little boy around there they called Commodore? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. You never knew anybody by that name? A. No.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Did you ever make a statement to Dennis Jones about this case?

A. No, sir, I have never seen the gentlemen until yesterday, I believe it was.

Q. Did you ever read him a letter about it?

A. No, I never read him a letter.

Q. Did you ever make any statements to anybody about it? A. No, sir.

Q. Nobody?

A. Nobody, that is a couple of men came to my house one time, they came to my house, the only thing.

Q. Who were they?

A. Well, I don't know who they was.

Q. Dennis Jones now never tried to get you to say that there was any boy at Granny Letcher's about the time you stayed there, just before Granny died?

> Mr. German: I object to the question on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and improper cross examination.

A. No, sir, I haven't seen him since. Oh, I guess since 1905, since I seen him here until yesterday here.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Were there any other children around the Letcher home at the time you lived there, besides those whose names you have called? A. I didn't see any.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. If they had been there you would have seen them wouldn't you? A. Sir?

Q. Were you in the house, all over the house?

A. I was in the house, yes, sir, I had a room there.

Q. You were there during the day time any?

A. I worked nights mostly; I would go in there and go to bed, in the morning.

Q. Well, if there was any 15 or 16 year old boy there you would have seen him?

A. I never saw a boy around there, not that I know of.

Q. Not that you know of? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You know that you never saw any 15 or 16 year old boy around that place?

A. Walter was the smallest one I seen around there.

Q. Well, Walter was grown at that time, wasn't he?

A. He was the smallest one, I don't know whether he was grown or not.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Didn't Walter go away while you were there?

A. No, sir.

Q. Were you there at the time the Spanish War broke out? A. Yes, sir, I was in Leavenworth at that time.

Q. Didn't Walter enlist and go away to the war?

A. I wasn't there I don't think, rooming there when the Spanish American War——

Q. Wasn't rooming at Letcher's then? A. No.

Q. Where did you room then? A. At Mrs. Blaine's.

Q. Where did she live? A. On Pottawatomie Street.

Q. How long did you room there?

A. I don't know how long I roomed there.

Q. How long did you room there before the war broke out? A. Well, I don't know that.

Q. Did you room there a long time?

A. Yes, I was there quite a while.

Q. How many years? A. I don't know.

Q. Did you go there before you went to Letcher's?

A. No, it was after I went to Letcher's.

Q. And you went from Letcher's to Blaine's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you live there until you moved away from Leavenworth? A. No, sir, I lived on Shawnee, on Delaware then.

Q. Well, there was sometime you lived at Blaine's, you didn't know how many years? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Did you live at any other place before you went to Blaine's after you left Letcher's?

A. I lived at home before I went to their place.

Q. Well, I mean in between Letcher's and Blaine's?

A. No.

Q. Didn't stop at any other place?

A. Not that I know of.
Q. Temporarily, I mean, just a short time? A. No.
Q. You went direct to Blaine's? A. Yes.
Q. Are you sure about that?
A. Yes, I am pretty sure of it.
Q. Well, now, stop and think a minute. You said you were pretty sure, I want you to be very sure.

Mr. German: I object to that as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

A. Well, I don't know.
Q. George think of all of the places that you lived in Leavenworth, and then try and remember if it was at one of those places that you lived in between Letcher's and Blaine's?

Mr. German: I object to that as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and passing no light on the issues in this case, or the weight that is given to the witness' testimony.

A. No, there wasn't no place that I know of.

(Witness dismissed.)

And thereupon an adjournment is taken until May 22, 1916, at 10 o'clock A. M.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of John Phillips, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 2739.

And thereupon, JOHN PHILLIPS, being recalled on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. John Phillips?
Q. Where do you live?
A. 808 Liddy, Kansas City, Missouri.
Q. John, what is your name? A. John Phillips.
Q. How old are you?
A. Well, about, I will be forty-four about September.
Q. Where do you live now? A. 808 Liddy.
Q. Where were you born? A. Weston, Missouri.
Q. Did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas?
A. I did, sir.
Q. When did you move there?

A. Well, shortly after my mother died.

Q. When did she die?

A. I can't say, I don't know the year at all.

Q. How old were you?

A. Well, that would be pretty hard to tell, I can't tell that, I was a mere boy.

Q. Well, about how old?

A. Well, I should judge about seven or eight possibly.

Q. Where did you live when you went to Leavenworth?

A. I lived in Weston, Missouri.

Q. I mean after you went to Leavenworth?

A. Oh, I lived on Second and Miami, and then from Miami to Seneca.

Q. What place on Seneca did you live?

A. I lived on Seneca between Second and Third in the—— It would be the stone house behind the frame, I think now that it is in front and the stone house, is it behind the frame?

Q. Who lived in the front part of that house?

A. I can't say.

Q. Were they white or colored?

A. That I can't remember.

Q. To refresh your memory, was it an old German lady named Seth?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading.

By Mr. Cruce: It is not urged, the point where you are refreshing the witness' memory.

A. I don't know, I can't say now.

Q. Who lived in that back part of that house at the time that you lived there with you? A. Alice Woods.

Q. Who else?

A. Emma Hardin, at that time her maiden name was Emma Woods at that time.

Q. What is her name now?

A. Her name is Emma Gatewood now.

Q. Did you live there during the time that Emma Gatewood lived there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how old were you then?

A. Well, I were in my teens at that time, I really can't just say, but I think——

Q. When you were living there about how old were you?

A. Oh, I was along about ten I guess.

Q. Were you living there when Granny Letcher moved in the house next to you?

A. I suppose I was, I didn't know Granny Letcher until after she moved on Seneca Street.

Q. Do you remember the year that she moved on Seneca Street? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Were you around her house much of the time when she was on Seneca Street? A. I went very often, yes, sir.

Q. Who were you up with there? A. Sam Nash.

Q. Who were the members of Granny's family?

A. Well, at that time there were Sam and Walter, and Jim Mayo—Maho, or Mayo——

Q. How long did you continue to live in the back of this house on Seneca Street?

A. Well, I guess it would be about three or four or maybe five years, I can't be positive about that.

Q. You say this Walter, who? A. Walter Banks.

Q. Was there any other boy at Granny Letcher's during that time? Younger than Walter Banks?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. Was there any baby born at Granny Letcher's during that time? A. Not that I know of.

Q. Was there any Indian woman there during that time?

A. Not that I knew of.

Q. Did you ever see Tommy Atkins or Indian Tommy, or Minnie Atkins or Indian Minnie? A. No, sir.

Q. You don't know what year you moved away from there? A. No, sir, I do not.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. What kind of a looking woman was Granny Atkins?

A. Oh, she——Granny, who?

Q. Granny Letcher?

A. Oh, she was a heavy set woman, what we call a dark browned skinned lady.

Q. Did she live in a stone house or the frame*d* house?

A. No, sir, she lived in the frame house just this side of us.

Q. Which side is that, east or west?

A. Well, it would be on the west side. I should judge, facing this way, it would be on that side.

Q. How many did you know in her family?

A. I knew of two.

Q. Two? A. Yes, sir.

Q. They were your playmates? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were just a boy then?

A. I was a boy at that time.

Q. What was the name of that younger baby there?

A. I don't know anything about a baby at all.

Q. What?

A. I don't know anything about a baby at all.

Q. You don't remember a younger—— A. No, sir.

Q. What? A. No, sir.

Q. Well, how old were you then?

A. Well, I guess about ten, somewhere along in there, possibly ten, or a little older.

Q. When was that?

A. I don't know, I can't tell the year.

Q. Well, can't you give us an idea what year it was?

A. Well, not accurately.

Q. What?

A. I can't hardly, because that would be an answer that I can't——

Q. How long ago was it?

A. Well, it has been quite a while.

Q. Quite a while? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Ten years? A. Sir?

Q. Ten years? A. Longer than that.

Q. Fifteen? A. Longer than that?

Q. Twenty?

A. Along there, about twenty or twenty-five, possibly.

Q. Twenty or twenty five years ago that you knew Granny Letcher, how old are you?

A. I will be forty-four my next birthday, the way I count, I don't know whether that is right or wrong.

Q. I didn't hear your answer?

A. Forty-four my next birthday.

Q. Now, didn't you go over there to find out who were the members of Granny Letcher's family?

A. Did I go over there to find out who?

Q. Yes?

A. No, sir, I didn't go over there to find out who the members of the family were. I and Sam, I used to go over there often.

Q. You played? A. We played together, yes, sir.

Q. You were just a boy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you played with the other boys? A. Sure.

Q. And you didn't have to inquire who was in the house, what babies were up there above you?

A. No, I never thought, I guess, anything like that.

Q. You didn't think about it, did you, John? A. No.

Q. It didn't occur to you to think about it, you were interested in your games weren't you? A. Why, sure.

Q. How many rooms are in that house? A. I can't say.

Q. Well, it was a two story house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What rooms of the house did you usually go into?

A. Well, most all over the house.

Q. Up stairs and down stairs?

A. Up stairs and down stairs, yes, sir.

Q. Well, who lived up stairs?

A. Well, the only ones that I knew that had any rooms up there was Sam and Jim.

Q. Sam and Jim? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, who had rooms down stairs?

A. Well, I don't know I suppose the lady of the house had some down stairs.

Q. Not what you suppose, but who do you remember?

A. I don't remember any one.

Q. You don't remember any one who had rooms down stairs? A. No, sir.

Q. Where does Granny live now?

A. Well, that is pretty hard to tell.

Q. You don't know what went with her? A. No, sir.

Q. Living in Missouri or Kansas?

A. I don't know where she is living at now.

Q. You don't know what became of Granny? Well, John, that has been a long time since you were playing around there with those boys, hasn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't think about it at that time, did you, it didn't occur to you that it would be—ever be necessary to testify who were the members of Granny's family? A. No, sir.

Q. When did you first think of this?

A. When did I first think about it?

Q. Yes? A. Why, I never gave it a thought at all.

Q. When did you first learn that you were going to be a witness.

A. Why, I don't know, it has been some time ago. They asked me did I know Granny Letcher and I of course told them, told him I did.

Q. Who asked you?

A. Some lady, I don't know what her name was, named Sadie.

Q. Who?

A. Name was Sadie, something, I don't know what her last name was.

Q. Sadie James?

A. I don't know her last name at all.

Q. Describe her? I am not acquainted with her myself, I don't want to meet the lady, but——

A. She was a brown skinned lady, what I call yellow.

Q. A pretty broad woman? A. Not so awfully broad.

Q. Fairly broad? A. Yes, tolerably.

By Mr. Allen: He is speaking of complexion.

By Mr. Cruce: I am speaking of——

Q. She is a broad woman, woman of good mind, isn't she?

A. Well, I don't know, I don't know whether she is or not, I judge she would be.

Q. How did she strike you? A. Well, just like——

Q. A pretty smart woman, a pretty smart woman, John?

A. Sir?

Q. A pretty smart woman, wasn't Sadie?

A. Well, I didn't think she would be so awful smart, she might be smart.

Q. Where is she now? A. I don't know.

Q. Has she gone to the French countries?

A. I don't know, she may be in Mexico so far as I know.

Q. You think she is down in Mexico now?

A. I don't know.

Q. When did you see her last?

A. I haven't seen her for quite a while.

Q. What do you mean for quite a while?

A. Six or seven weeks possibly.

Q. You haven't seen Sadie for six or seven weeks?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't you learn her other name?

A. That is all I know.

Q. Just Sadie, how did you meet Sadie?

A. How did I meet her?

Q. Yes? A. She met me.

Q. Came up and said I am Sadie? A. No, sir.

Q. How did you get acquainted with her?

A. She asked me had I lived in Leavenworth and I told her I did, and she asked me did I know Granny Letcher, and I told her I did, and she aske me wasn't I the boy that Alice Woods raised with her children, and I told her I was one, and she asked me about my brother.

Q. She did most of the talking? A. Some parts.

Q. You didn't let her lead you into any traps, did you?

A. Not exactly, I don't think that I did.

Q. Well, you let her do most of the talking?

By Mr. German: I object to that as argument.

Q. What became of Sadie? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. She is a good looking woman?

A. Well, I don't know, some people might call her good looking, I didn't call her good looking.

Q. Was she a colored woman or a white woman?

A. Must have been colored. She was born that way, I don't know whether she was colored or not. That was the color the Almighty gave her.

Q. Didn't you ask her her other name?

A. No, I didn't know her other name, Sadie is all I know.

Q. She just came up and talked to you by the name of Sadie? A. Why, my nephew that lives over in Kansas——

Q. I don't care anything about your nephew, I am talking about you and Sadie. She came up and talked to you and you didn't ask her her other name. She said I am Sadie, is that right?

A. No, sir, she came up and approached the conversation with me and of course I naturally talked to her on it, and she asked me didn't I know her and I told her no I didn't believe I did, and she said her name was Sadie, something, I don't know what her last name was, that is all I remember.

Q. Didn't she tell you that Uncle Sam, or the United States, was trying to unearth a great fraud down there in the Indian Territory?

A. No, sir, she was saying something about Sam Nash, or something, and I told her I didn't know nothing about it.

Q. What did she say about Uncle Sam?

A. She didn't say nothing about Uncle Sam that I know of.

Q. Well, did you learn that the Government was trying to unearth some fraud down there, did you learn that from her? A. No.

Q. She didn't say anything about the Government?

A. Not at that time, she didn't.

Q. When did she?

A. When she came back, she said there was going to be a law suit, the last time I seen her, about some land or something, and I told her, well I don't know anything about this, I said, you asked me did I know Granny Letcher and Sam and them, and I told you I did, but so far as this land proposition I don't know anything about it, and she said you are liable to be subpoenaed, and I told her don't subpoena me because I don't know anything about it at all.

Q. Well, the last time she came to see you, when was that, John? A. Well, the date I don't really——

Q. Was it last year? A. No, it was this year.

Q. This year?

A. I think it was along in January or February, I can't say which.

Q. And she said you are liable to be subpoenaed?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Didn't she say anything about a law suit?

A. That was all she said about it.

Q. You didn't ask her about a law suit?

A. No, because when she came that night I was in condition that I didn't want to see anybody.

Q. What was the matter, you wasn't full——

A. Not exactly, but I was getting up pretty close to it.

Q. Pretty near full? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she say anything about how you were going to be paid? A. No, sir.

Q. What? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you tell her you were coming up to testify without—— A. No, sir.

Q. You never saw anybody else with reference to this case? A. No, sir.

Q. Except her?

A. Yes, I did, there was—— When I lived at 901 Independence Avenue.

Q. That is Kansas City, Kansas?

A. No, Kansas City, Mo.

Q. I mean Kansas City, Missouri—— Who?

A. A couple of gentlemen came up there and were talking to me. I don't know their names, and if they were in here I wouldn't know them.

Q. Let's see if we can find them. Was—— Do you see them here now? A. I don't know their names.

Q. This old gray headed man here?

A. I don't know, I can't describe their names.

Q. Was it Mr. Hanford?

A. No, I don't see any of them at all here that I can really remember.

Q. It wasn't Judge Allen over there?

A. I don't think it was.

Q. Was it Mr. Maxey?

A. I don't know their names at all.

Q. Two men came over there? A. There was two.

Q. Well, what did they say?

A. They just asked me about Granny Letcher.

Q. Was one of them a one armed man? A. No.

Q. What did they ask you about Granny Letcher?

A. Asked me did I know her, and I told them I did, and asked me where did I live, and I told them, and they asked me did I know anything about any Atkins, or something like that and I told them no sir I didn't.

Q. Well, what became of Tommy Atkins?

A. I don't know him.

Q. What?

A. I don't know him, I never seen him that I know of.

Q. That you know of? Well, who was that boy that you saw over there, that little boy—— That little boy—that three year old boy that stayed with Granny Letcher, what was his name? A. I never seen him.

Q. You didn't see him at all? A. No, sir.

Q. Well, you knew Minnie Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. That Indian girl? A. No, sir.

Q. Were you around the camp up there, the Military Fort? A. No, sir.

Q. You never went around that Military place?

A. Went around there but I didn't know her.

Q. How long did you stay in Leavenworth?

A. Oh, I stayed in Leavenworth quite a little while.

Q. Well, about?

A. I don't know the exact time or anything like that, I can't say.

Q. What time did you go over to Leavenworth?

A. I don't know that, I went there shortly after my mother died.

Q. Well, when did your mother die?

A. That, I don't know either, I can't tell you the year.

Q. What? A. I can't tell you the year.

Q. Well, you could give us some idea?

A. I really can't because I was too young.

Q. She died in 1875?

A. I don't know, she might have died in 1875, I don't know.

Q. What is your best judgment?

A. I have no idea at all, sir.

Q. Did you love your mother? A. I guess I did.

Q. But you don't remember when she died? A. No.

Q. But you remember when you were living in Leavenworth? A. I do.

Q. What year was that?

A. I don't know the year either.

Q. I thought you said you did?

A. No, sir, I had never been to school at that time.

Q. You have been to school since?

A. A little bit, yes, sir.

Q. When did you leave Leavenworth?

A. I left Leavenworth about 1891.

Q. Now, John, I am not trying to confuse you, I just want to get at the facts in this case, it has been a long time you know. How old are you now?

A. I will be about forty-four my next birthday if that is correct.

Q. You don't remember when your mother died?

A. No, sir.

Q. Have no idea? A. No, sir.

Q. Where did she die? A. In Weston, Missouri.

Q. Where in Weston, Missouri?

A. I don't know no streets, up a lane there.

Q. What?

A. No streets there at that time, or the streets were not numbered.

Q. Did she die in some town in Missouri?

A. Weston, Missouri.

Q. Weston, I beg your pardon, do you mean the town of Weston? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You don't remember the time when your mother died?

A. No.

Q. Did you ever hear of Minnie Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever hear of her—— You have heard of her now? A. Lately.

Q. How lately?

A. Here in the last, maybe two or three months.

Q. Who told you about her?

A. I don't know. That is town talk, everybody in Leavenworth will ask you, did you know Minnie Atkins.

Q. You were not around that camp any at all then?

A. Camp?

Q. Military Fort, over in Leavenworth?

A. I used to drive a bus from Leavenworth to the Fort.

Q. Used to drive a bus? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What bus?

A. Cap Burns, I believe it was called "The Lone Star," the name of it was if I mistake not.

Q. Well, you just did that once every two or three months?

A. No, sir, I did that once every morning.

Q. When was that?

A. I don't know sir, when Cap Burns had his barn on Cherokee Street.

Q. How long was that when you commenced driving that bus after you went over to Leavenworth, was that in '84 or '85? A. I can't say.

Q. What is your judgment about it?

A. I have no judgment at all.

Q. Haven't got any?

A. Not in regard to that, because I was really too young to remember anything like that, and didn't give it a thought.

Q. Well, how old were you when you were driving that bus?

A. I suppose along about thirteen or fourteen, I suppose something like that, I wouldn't be positive.

Q. Well, at that age—now listen: At that age, you remember now what happened at thirteen or fourteen better than you do things that happen at thirty or forty, don't you?

A. I really couldn't say.

Q. Well, what is your judgment?

A. Well, it happened forty years ago, do you mean?

Q. No, I mean don't you remember things that happened to you when you were from thirteen to fifteen and sixteen, better than you do things that happened in later years.

A. Well, I suppose I would remember things that happened in later years.

Q. Do you suppose you would remember things that happened in later years better than you do things that happened in your childhood? A I think so, yes, sir.

Q. Well, you ran this bus for this man? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You never saw any Indian girl around there?

A. That I know of. I may have seen Indian girls, but I don't know.

Q. What is your judgment, that is what we are trying to find out?

A. I am telling you I might have seen Indian girls and not known any of them.

Q. Did you see Indian Minnie?

A. No, sir, not that I know of.

Q. Didn't see any Indian girls?

A. I say I didn't see any Indian girls that I knew of.

Q. There weren't any Indian girls around there then?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. That you saw?

A. Might have saw lots of them and didn't pay any attention to them.

Q. Did you see any Indian girls there from 1881 to 1891?

A. Maybe I did, I don't remember of it.

Q. I don't want maybe, what is your judgment about it?

A. I never seen any that I paid any attention to or knew of at all.

Q. What kind of looking boy was Tommy Atkins?

A. I never seen Tommy Atkins.

Q. You didn't see Tommy? A. No, sir.

Q. What kind of looking woman was Granny Letcher?

A. Granny Letcher was a heavy brown skinned woman.

Q. Was she a white woman or negro woman?

A. No, sir, she was a colored woman.

Q. Colored woman? Indian? A. No, sir.

Q. How much would she weigh?

A. I judge she would weigh about a hundred and seventy five or a hundred and sixty pounds possibly.

Q. When did you last see Granny?

A. Oh, that has been quite a while I guess, I don't know.

Q. Two or three years?

A. It has been longer than that, it has been years since I have seen Granny.

Q. Yes, how many years?

A. I would judge it has been twenty five years, something like that.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Who did you live with? A. Alice Woods.

By Mr. Allen: We now enter our objection into the record to the cross examination of this witness by counsel representing the interests identical with the interests of Mr. Page, whose counsel has just completed the cross examination of the witness.

By Mr. Cruce: We wish to state in this connection, that we would be glad if the interests of counsel that is going to examine the witness was identical, but he is a very hostile attorney.

By Mr. Blakeney: My interest appears on the record and I will submit the record as evidence of what interest I am representing.

Q. Who else lived there?

A. Emma Hardin, at that time, her name at that time would be Emma Woods, she married recently after that, you know.

Q. Alice Woods and Emma Woods? A. Yes.

Q. Who else? A. And Walter Woods.

Q. And who else? A. Jack Bartlett.

Q. And who else? A. And George Phillips.

Q. And George, who? A. George Phillips.

Q. Phillips? A. Phillips.

Q. Were those two women that you have named married?

A. Why, they have been married. Emma wasn't married at that time, Alice had been married, she wasn't married then.

Q. No husband living with her? A. No, sir.

Q. What did they do for a living?

A. Washed and ironed and cooked.

Q. Is that all that they did?

A. That is all that I know they did.

Q. Is that all that you know they did, or all that you are willing to swear that they did?

A. That is all that I know that they did.

Q. Who were these boys? The boys that were there that you have named?

A. Why they were all related. There was two brothers of us, George and myself were brothers. Walter Woods and Jim Bartlett were brothers.

Q. What was your name?

A. My name was John Phillips.

Q. You and Walter Phillips were brothers?

A. No, sir, I and George Phillips were brothers.

Q. You and George, who? A. Phillips.

Q. Phillips? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which were the older?

A. I were a year older than he was. I believe, so they said.

Q. These other two brothers that lived there, which was the oldest of those two? A. Walter.

Q. Were they older than you?

A. No, sir, they were younger.

Q. Both of them younger than you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were both of them younger than your brother?

A. I think they were, yes, sir.

Q. Were any of you working there at that time?

A. I were.

Q. What time did you go there with reference to the time that your mother died?

A. I don't know the year, because they came and got me.

Q. Just a minute, I said with reference to this, I mean did you go just immediately after, or sometime after?

A. No, sir, I didn't go right away, no, sir.

Q. How long was it before you went there?

A. Wasn't over three or four or five months, something like that possibly.

Q. Did your brother go with you?

A. No, he was there.

Q. When did he go in reference to the time you went?

A. Why, my aunt is the one, Alice Woods, taken me, and I didn't go right with them, I went with my aunt and my father's people and came back to Leavenworth.

Q. How long were you gone?

A. I wasn't gone, I guess maybe four or five or six months, something like that. I stayed in Weston there.

Q. Then, when you got back all these other boys were there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Any of them going to school? A. They did.

Q. All of you? A. All but me.

Q. What was it you first commenced doing?

A. I first commenced to shine shoes there, I shined shoes there for a while.

Q. Where? A. In Leavenworth.

Q. Where abouts in Leavenworth?

A. All over town, on Shawnee and Seneca, all over town.

Q. You got your box and blacking and brush and you went around town shining shoes?

A. The principal parts of it, yes, sir.

Q. How long did you follow that business?

A. I didn't follow it so awful long.

Q. Well, how long?

A. Well, I can't specify the time at all, just been a year or two or might not have been so long, I can't say really.

Q. Now, when you went there was Granny Letcher living there in that building? A. When I first went there?

Q. Yes?

A. I don't know whether she was or not.

Q. How long had you been living there before you found out she was living there?

A. Well, we had moved from Second and Miami.

Q. Who was that? A. My auntie and the rest of us.

Q. Oh, when you first went to living with your auntie, you first went to living at Miami?

A. On Second and Miami.

Q. And you didn't know who was living over here on this place then? A. Over on Seneca?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir.

Q. And then you moved over on Seneca in this stone building? A. We did.

Q. When you got there, who was living in the house in front of you? A. I can't say.

Q. How long did you live on Miami?

A. I don't know just exactly how long we did live there, I guess it must have been two or three years, something like that, possibly.

Q. Then you came on up to Seneca and you lived there, and how long had you lived on Seneca before you learned that Granny was living at the front part of the house?

A. Granny wasn't living at the front part of the house then.

Q. Listen to my question. How long did you live there before you did learn that she was living in the front part of the lot?

By Mr. Allen: We object to that, as not based upon any testimony that this witness has given.

A. Well, I don't see how I could answer it, because she wasn't living in this lot at all, not there, she was living on this side of us.

Q. Which side is that?

A. Well, I don't know, the house sets this way.

Q. North and south?

A. North and south and she was on that side.

Q. Facing Seneca street, it would be on your right?

A. On my right, yes, sir.

Q. All right, how long were you living in this house before you learned that Granny was living in that place?

A. Oh, I don't know, you know how children are, we get acquainted with one another pretty quick. I had known Sam quite a while before that.

Q. Known Sam quite a while before you came up there?

A. Yes, sir, more than likely.

Q. And you saw Sam soon after you came up there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't know who Sam was living with when you knew him before he came there?

A. He said he was living with Granny I suppose——

Q. Well, you didn't know who Granny was?

A. No, not at that time.

Q. Now, how long did you live there after you got acquainted with Sam, or after Sam came up?

A. Well, I can't say how long we really did live there.

Q. You don't really know? A. No, sir, I can't say.

Q. Can you give us an estimate of it?

A. Maybe lived there two or three years, and may have lived there longer, I can't say.

Q. Well, would you say you lived there any less?

A. Less than two or three years?

Q. Yes?

A. I can't say that, but I can't say definitely that time, because I don't know.

Q. Well, now, what would be your best judgment about that?

A. Well, my best judgment would be about four years, something like that.

Q. Well, but why do you say two or three years, and your best judgment is four?

A. Well, you asked me to put my judgment on it.

Q. And you think it was four?

A. To come down and tell the truth, I don't know how long we did live there.

Q. Well, why did you say two or three years, if you thought it was four?

By Mr. Allen: We object to that as argument and for the further reason that the witness has fully explained what he meant by his testimony.

By Mr. Blakeney: I want to interpose the same objection that I have interposed heretofore: That whenever counsel feels like his witness was being put up against the wall, he has commenced coaching, by his method of objecting.

By Mr. Allen: I didn't mean for my objection to carry that compliment to counsel.

Q. You were not there then when Granny died?
A. No, sir.
Q. You heard of her death? A. Yes, sir.
Q. I don't mean now, did you hear of it at the time?
A. No, sir.
Q. You didn't hear of it until years afterwards?
A. No, sir.
Q. After you left that place where did you go to live?
A. Where did I go to live?
Q. Yes?
A. I believe we moved from there over on Kiowa between Third and Fourth.
Q. How long did you live in Kiowa?
A. That I don't know.
Q. Well, I don't want the exact time, but the approximate time, about the time?
A. I don't know, I left home shortly after, when my people moved from Seneca to Kiowa, I left home.
Q. How long do you say you lived there before you left there, how long had you lived up on Kiowa?
A. I left them I guess after they had moved there a couple of weeks.
Q. A couple of weeks? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Then, where did you go to?
A. Then I went to boarding.
Q. Where did you board?
A. With a lady named Miss Jackson.
Q. Where was she living?
A. She was living down on, I believe it was Chicapoo now.
Q. About how far was that from the place on Seneca where you had lived, was it in the same part of town or was it in another part of the city?
A. In the same part of town, but Seneca, we were farther north.
Q. About how far north?
A. Let me see, we would be about six or seven blocks, I should judge, from Seneca street.
Q. Now, about how long did you live there boarding?

A. I boarded there with her, possibly three or four weeks.

Q. Then, where did you go?

A. I left there then and went over—and went to work in the mine.

Q. You went to work in the mine? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you stay there?

A. Oh, I stayed there until one pay day.

Q. And then where did you go?

A. I left there and came on back up town and stayed there about a day, and then I left town and come here.

Q. Then three or four months after you left Seneca street, you came to Kansas City?

A. I would guess it was something like that, yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever go back?

A. I have been back to Leavenworth twice.

Q. How long after you left was it before you went back the first time?

A. Oh, I guess about ten or twelve years.

Q. Did you see Granny then?

A. No, sir, I didn't visit at all, I made no visit at all.

Q. Now, John, when did you first meet Sadie?

A. Sadie?

Q. Yes? A. It was here last winter.

Q. Last winter. Do you mean by that the winter of 1915?

A. 1915.

Q. That would be some three or four or five months ago?

A. Possibly may be six.

Q. Possibly may be six?

A. Hasn't been over that time, five or six.

Q. Hasn't been over five or six? A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you meet her?

A. I first met her when I was living at 901 Independence Avenue.

Q. Who were you living with there? A. With my wife.

Q. Did Sadie know your wife?

A. No, she didn't know her at that time.

Q. How did you happen to meet her there, did you send for her or—— A. No, sir, I didn't send for her at all.

Q. She came down to see you?

A. She did, I guess through my cousin.

Q. Just don't guess.

A. Well she did through my cousin who lived over Kansas.

Q. Well, that is all guess work about your cousin?

A. I think so.

Q. You wasn't there when your cousin told her anything, were you? A. No.

Q. Did Sadie tell you your cousin sent her? A. No, she didn't say anything like that.

Q. Well, when Sadie came to see you, she just came up and knocked at the door? A. Yes.

Q. Just came in and sat down and talked to you and your wife? A. She did.

Q. Did she talk to you in the presence of your wife? A. She did.

Q. Altogether? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the first thing that Sadie said to you?

A. Well, she asked me how long—did I know her, I told her no I didn't.

Q. And then did she up and say, Now, John, you know Sadie? A. Didn't go that way at all.

Q. Well, what did she say?

A. She said why you ought to know me, and I said, I really don't; then she said, well, do you remember Granny Letcher, and I said yes, and I asked her how she were—or something like that, and she, oh, she is dead, and she said Sam had been down in the summer—something like that—and asked me did I see him, and I said no, I hadn't seen Sam for quite a while. And she to me, well, we are going to—how did she have that—I disremember the words she said, but anyway, it was something similar, that she was going into some trouble or was going to have some trouble, and asked me when had I been to Leavenworth, and I told her I had been to Leavenworth but once, and I told her that I was up there and worked three or four months ago, which I were, and she asked me did I see Sam, and I said I seen Sam twice and just spoke and that was all. And she said I wouldn't know the town and the next time I seen Sadie, she——

Q. Was that all the conversation you had?

A. That was all, I believe.

Q. She didn't even tell you what she came there——

A. No.

Q. You wasn't drinking then?

A. No, that wasn't the trip.

Q. You were sober then? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you are sure that was all she said?

A. That was all I remember her saying, yes, sir.

Q. Did she tell you what she was doing?

A. No, sir not at that time she didn't.

Q. Well, did you next see her?

A. The next time I seen her—I don't know what day or date.

Q. Well, about how long was it?

A. She came there and said there would be a couple of gentlemen from Leavenworth to see me, and I asked her what for, and then she begun to ask me did I know anything about Tommy Atkins, and I told her no, I didn't know Tommy Atkins; and she said did I know anything about Indian Minnie, and I said, Oh, no, Pop, I didn't know nothing like Indian Minnie——

Q. Is that the way that you spoke to her?
A. Yes, I spoke to her.
Q. You said, no, Pop, I don't know nothing? A. Yes.

Mr. Allen: We object to that as not expressing the answer of the witness the way he said it.

Q. Did you drawl that out that way to her?
A. I don't know whether I drawled or not; I said no, Pop.
Q. You called that rolling it out?
A. I called it speaking it out.
Q Why did you use that unusual tone of voice when you told her you didn't know?
A. I don't know, sir; the way we have of speaking it——

Mr. Allen: We object to that as misconstruing the witness's tone of voice.

Mr. Cruce: I think it was a little unusual.

Mr. Blakeney: The witness repeated several times in a rolling tone of voice, and counsel is now tying merely to get the witness not to describe it in the manner that he made it.

Mr. Allen: The statement of counsel we take issue with in point of fact, and especially deny the statement that we are seeking to influence the witness in any way.

Q. Well, why did you use that tone of voice?
A. I don't know, sir; it was just a mere way we have of speaking lots of times to people.
Q. That is, when you want to be very emphatic, isn't it?
A. No, sir, I don't know whether very emphatic—just like you said hello, Phillip, and I said hello, so-and-so, whatever your name might be.
Q. Well, describe that tone of voice that you were using —that you sometimes might use.
A. Describe it? What do you mean?
Q. Well, you sort of rolled it out, or drawl it out?
A. I don't know whether——

Mr. Allen: We object to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Q. Were you drinking that day?
A. I don't think so.

Mr. Allen: For the further reason that it is incapable of description.

Mr. Blakeney: I admit the last expression that it is incapable of description by one of my limited vocabulary.

Mr. Allen: We submit that the tone of voice of the witness is not unusual.

Q. Now, were you drinking that day?

A. I don't think I were; I might have been—I can't tell.

Q. Who can tell?

A. God Almighty at that time because I can't tell.

Q. Did you roll your eyes up, too, like you did when you spoke it to me?

A. No, sir, I didn't roll my eyes at you at all; I rolled my eyes at that light.

Q. Well, after you said, no, Pop, I don't know her, what did Minnie then say—what did Sadie then say?

A. She asked me did I know anything about any baby being born there, and were there in my time. and I told her no, Pop, I don't know anything like that at all.

Q. No, Popper?

A. No, Pop, I said I knew Granny Letcher, and I knew some—I knew Walter, and I knew Jim, and I—so far as anybody else being there, I didn't know that at all—no babies.

Q. Just when in that conversation, did Sadie tell you she was getting three thousand dollars?

A. She never told me nothing like that at all.

Q. How much did she say she was getting?

A. Never told me anything about that at all.

Q. Did she say you niggers stand by the Government, and we will get money?

A. I don't know anything about that at all; she didn't tell me anything like that.

Q. What did she tell you she was getting?

A. She never told me; never spoke to me in any way, shape, form or fashion about money, and you niggers stick to me—she never said nothing like that to me at all—nothing like that.

Q. Now, when was it that you had this conversation with Sadie that you said you were drunk?

A. Oh, that was way long in January?

Mr. Allen: We object to that for the reason that it is not predicated upon any testimony of this witness because it assumes testimony of this witness which has not been given.

Q. That was long in January, was it?

A. I judge it would be long in January, or February; I think it was in January.

Q. Where were you when you had that talk? A. At home.

Q. Did Sadie bring that whiskey down with her?

A. No, sir, no, sir.

Q. Did Sadie take any of it with you?

A. I don't know whether she did or not; if she did, she didn't take none for me.

Q. What did Sadie say then?

A. She didn't say anything to me, because I wasn't in condition, I couldn't talk to her, or anybody else.

Q. Well, did she talk to your wife?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. Where were you? A. Home.

Q. What number of home? A. 808 Liddy.

Q. On the floor or bed? A. Bed.

Q. You were in bed, putting cold rags on your head?

A. I don't know whether cold ones or hot ones; I was in the bed.

Q. Pretty drunk, were you, John?

A. I don't know whether pretty drunk; I was fairly.

Q. You don't remember what Sadie said, then?

A. I don't think Sadie said anything to me, to my way of thinking.

Q. How did you know Sadie was there?

A. By my wife telling me.

Q. When did you first hear the name of Garfield Buell?

A. Garfield who?

Q. J. Garfield Buell, the one-armed lawyer. oil man, of Oklahoma.

A. I never heard of it before in my life until now.

Q. The first time you have heard of it?

A. The first time I have heard of it.

Q. Who were you expecting to pay you for this?

A. I don't know; don't know whether I am going to get any pay. In fact, I am not asking for pay.

Q. Did Sadie make no explanation to you where the money was coming from?

A. Sadie never told me nothing about no money, sir, at all.

Mr. Cruce: Who did?

A. No one at all.

Q. When Sadie said to you that somebody was about to get into trouble, did she name who it was? A. No, sir.

Q. What was it she said about that?

A. She just said there is liable to be some trouble—going to make some trouble over something, and I told her I had nothing to do with it, Pop—anything about it at all, so that was all that was said about that. She ask me did I know this Tommy Atkins, and I told her no, never knew Tommy Atkins.

Q. And she asked you did you know Minnie?

A. The second time, she asked me the second time, and I told her no, I didn't.

Q. You didn't say no, Pop?

A. Not the second time; the first time I thought she was trying to joke with me, and I answered that way, and when she came down the second time, I told her, no, I didn't know no Tommy Atkins.—Nobody in Granny's house at that time but Walter and Sam; they were the only ones I knowed at that time.

Q. Did you know what kind of a place Granny was running? A. No, sir.

Q. When you were living there, you didn't know anything about what kind of a place? A. I wasn't living there.

Q. Living close there? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't know anything about it? A. No, sir.

Mr. German: I object to counsel's going any more over the matters in the knowledge of the witness on the ground that it is repetition. He has covered already the whole ground about——.

Mr. Allen: For the further reason that counsel representing allied interests have also cross examined him at length upon these questions.

Mr. Blakeney: I object to counsel for Government interposing two objections to the one question.

Q. Now, you never saw any women going in and coming out of Granny's?

A. Well, there might have been a woman going and coming out, so far as I know.

Q. Were you old enough at that time, you were living, to know the difference between a good woman and a bad one?

A. No, sir.

Q You were not? A. No, sir.

Q. So you would no more notice a woman going into Granny's place than you would have a man? A. No.

Mr. German: I move to strike that answer on the ground that the question is improper because it is argument and calls for an opinion and conclusion of the witness

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. John, where did you live when you first came to Leavenworth from Weston, Missouri?

Mr. Allen: We object to the question of counsel representing interest allied with the interests represented by Mr. Blakeney and Mr. Cruce, and for the further reason that it is going [] the same matter which his associate counsel has gone into, and especially object to the manner of counsel in examining the witness, as being intimidating and brow-beating—strike out the brow-beating.

Q. John, were you intimidated when I asked you that question?

A. Can't but one talk at one time, Captain; I didn't understand you?

Q. Didn't understand me? A. No, sir.

Q. I didn't scare you when I asked you that question, did I?

Mr. German: I object to that question on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. Cruce: I would like to state that he is the most gracious lawyer in the case to the witness, and he is not brow-beating anybody.

A. Not as I know of.

Q. You were just a baby at that time? A. No, sir.

Q. A child? A. No, sir. I wasn't no child.

Q. How old were you, John?

A. I don't know; I can't state my age exactly.

Q. You were too young to remember much about it?

A. How is that?

Q. I say, you were too young to remember much about it? A. About when I came to Leavenworth?

Q. Yes? A. Pretty young, yes, sir.

Q. Your mother died when you were a child?

A. She did, yes, sir.

Q. And you can't recall the year of her death because you were too young to know about such things? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know how long you lived at 2nd and Miami?

A. No, I don't really; I can't specify the time there, at all.

Q. But the best of your recollection is that you were about ten when you moved up in this stone house—in the rear of this stone house? A. Maybe, possibly a little older.

Q. What were you doing at that time, were you working?

A. I was; I was shining shoes.

Q. And what did you do after you quit shining shoes?

A. I went to work for Cap Burns.

Q. Driving a bus? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you drive a bus for Cap?

A. I guess four or five months; possibly six months.

Q. And what did you do after that?

A. Went to work for Dave Atchinson.

Q. Where did you work for him?

A. At his wood yard, there at Fifth street, right across the bridge—Fifth Avenue I believe they call it.

Q. How long did you work for him?

A. I worked for him I guess three, or four, or five months, possibly.

Q. Did you work for him while you were living in the rear of this stone house? A. No, sir.

Q. You were 2nd and Miami at that time?

A. I was living at 2nd and Miami [] time.

Q. Did you drive the bus while you were living at 2nd and Miami? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then what did you do after working for Dave Atchison? A. Well, I believe, I dug coal.

Q. Dug coal down in the mine? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which one? A. Up to the old shaft, we called it.

Q. The old shaft? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you work at the mine?

A. Oh, I can't specify that at all because I worked there quite a while.

Q. Did you learn the mining business? A. I did.

Q. Got to be a good miner? A. Pretty fair.

Q. Did you get pretty fair money there? A. I did.

Q. But you can't say how long you were there?

A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you live when you were working there?

A. When I first went to work in the mines, that was after I quit Dave Atchison.

Q. After you quit Dave Atchison?

A. Yes, sir, and then I went to work in the mine and I moved from Miami to Seneca.

Q. You mined coal? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you living at the time that you went to work in the mine? A. At Miami.

Q. And you continued to work at the mine until after you moved to Seneca? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So, while you were living at Seneca, you were working in the mine?

A. In the winter I worked at the mine, yes, sir; and in the summer, we came out and were turning concrete.

Q. You were a concrete worker, too? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you learn something about that trade?

A. I don't know more than an ordinary man could learn to shovel.

Q. Well, you learned enough to get good wages, good pay? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Most of your business was in mines? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, after you moved from Seneca street, I believe you said you went to Kiowa? A. Kiowa, yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever visit any other place on Seneca street except that stone house? A. No.

Q. You never lived in any other house?

A. Not while I was with them, we never.

Q. I am asking you about—did you live in any other house? A. No, sir, Seneca is the only place I lived there.

Q. That house was stone in the front and frame in the rear?

A. No, I think it was frame in front and stone in the rear.

Q. And you lived in the stone?

A. If I ain't mistaken, we lived in the back.

Q. It was partly stone and partly frame? A. Possibly.

Q. Did you ever live in the brick house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On Seneca? A. No, sir.

Q. Where?

A. My folks lived in the brick house on 3rd street between Seneca and Miami.

Q. On 3rd between 2nd and Miami?

A. Between Seneca and Miami.

Q. Between Seneca and Miami? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When they lived in the brick house, where were you working? A. I was working in the mines.

Q. You were still working in the mines? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you live in the brick house?

A. I don't know; I wasn't there with them at all.

Q. You weren't there with them at all? A. No, sir.

Q. You had left their house?

A. I had left home altogether.

Q. Before they moved there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And where had you gone to live?

A. With Miss Jackson.

Q. Miss Jackson? A. Yes.

Q. You said her house—what was her address?

A. I don't know her address—on Kickapoo, I believe it was.

Q. Kickapoo; after you went to live on Kickapoo, you continued your work in the mines?

A. I continued to work in the mines, yes, sir.

Q. Now, did you—when you were a boy—did you play with children your own age?

A. I don't know—that would be a pretty hard question to answer; some might have been old and some——

Q. Did you know all the children around that neighborhood on Seneca street? A. I suppose I did.

Q. Name some of the children that lived around there.

A. Well, I knew no one in that block but Walter Banks and he were younger than I.

Q. He was near the age of Walter Woods?

A. Yes, sir. Somewhere along in that place, I guess.

Q. So, he played with Walter and the younger kids more than with you?

A. Well, I never played much with them, because I was getting to be—getting too big to play with children, then; I wasn't getting too big. I was getting where I didn't play with any small boys like that.

Q. You were getting to a place where it was up to you to support yourself and you didn't give up your time to playing?

A. Well, I did some playing, too, but not as much as lots of them would around there.

Q. Well, do you remember any of the other children around there besides Walter?

A. No, no more than my family's folks.

Q. Just those are the only ones that you remember?

A. They were all that were living in that block.

Q. That is all that were living there? Were they the only ones that played around there?

A. Weren't the only ones that played around that I knew; might have been others played around—lots of them around there. I can't tell who they were now.

Q. A parcel of kids around there that you wouldn't know who they were?

A. Possibly I did at that time, but now I wouldn't recall them who they were.

Q. Do you know anyone else that lived at Granny Letcher's house besides Jim, and Sam, and Walter?

A. Besides Jim, and Sam, and Walter?

Q. Yes? A. No, that was all.

Q. How long did you live in that stone [] altogether?

A. I can't say; can't answer that at all.

Q. About how long—a couple of years?

A. I don't know; might have been a year and might not have been that long—I can't say. Really can't. To tell the truth, I can't say.

Q. You think it might have been a year?

A. Yes, and might have been longer.

Q. How much longer?

A. I don't know, sir; I have no recollection, no idea, of how long we lived there.

Q. Who lived on the other side of you, east?

A. That would be this way, wouldn't it?

Q. Yes?

A. I believe there was a barn there, if I ain't mistaken.

Q. And what was the name of the family that lived in the front part of the house? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. You didn't know? A. No, sir.

Q. Who lived back of you? A. Back of us?

Q. Yes.

A. I don't know; it was an alley between us.

Q. You don't know who lived across the alley?

A. No, sir.

Q. Who lived across the street from you?

A. There was a barn across the street from us.

Q. A barn? A. Yes.

Q. Whose barn?

A. I don't know; I have forgotten now whose barn that was.

Q. Were there any houses across the street?

A. No, I don't remember any.

Q. You don't remember any?

A. Not at that time, no, sir.

Q. Did any children live across the street?

A. I don't remember of any.

Q. You don't remember of any children on other side of the street?

A. Not on the other side. On the north side you are speaking of now?

Q. Yes, on the north side?

A. No, sir, I don't remember of any.

Q. You didn't know of any children over there at all?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know what year you were born in?

A. No, along about '74 is what I understand them to say. I don't know whether that is true or not.

Q. That is just what you were told?

A. That is what I was told.

Q. Always told that you were born in 1874?

A. 1874, yes, sir.

Q. John, were you considered a good miner?

Mr. Allen: We object to that as having been answered three or four times by this witness, on cross examination of this counsel, and as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. I made fair wages at it.

Q. You went down in the shaft and mined coal?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. With a pick? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know who you worked for in the mine—what Company?

A. No, it was John Carr was the Superintendent—I think his name was, now, if I ain't mistaken. I don't know what Company he was representing.

Q. Do you remember anybody that worked in the mine with you?

A. Well, W. M. Briscoe, and Will Smart, and I believe Dick Montgomery.

Q. They were making, all about the same as you?

A. No, they were men then and I was a boy at that time.

Cross Examination by Mr. Maxey.

Q. John, who was Alice Woods? A. My aunt.

Q. And Emma Hardin? A. Her daughter.

Q. How old were you when you went to live with them?

A. I don't know, sir.

Q. Was that right after your mother died?

A. Yes, sir, I guess shortly after she died. I guess about maybe five or six months; something like that.

Q. I believe you said you were 7 or 8 years old when your mother died—or something like that?

A. I don't know how old I were when she died.

Q. You remember it, do you?

A. I remember it, certainly.

Q. Now, when you commenced to live with Alice Woods, how long before you got acquainted with Sam Nash and Walter Banks, and those boys that lived at Granny Letcher's?

A. It wasn't a great while. I knew Sam—I had knew Sam.

Q. Before you knew the others?

A. Before I knew Walter.

Q. Sam lived at Granny Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Walter lived at Granny Letcher's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Jim Mayo lived at Granny Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Jim Mayo lived with a cousin of yours, didn't he?

A. A cousin of mine?

Q. Yes, sir? A. No, sir.

Q. Well, did you know Sam before Granny Letcher moved to Seneca street? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't know him? A. No, sir.

Q. You knew Walter before? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't know either of them? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, you was living in that stone house on Seneca?

A. How, you say?

Q. You was living in that stone house on Seneca street?

A. When they moved up there?

Q. Yes?

A No, sir, they were moved there when we moved in the stone house; I don't know how long.

Q. They were already there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You don't remember how long they had been there?

A. No, sir.

Q. Then, how long did you live there?

A. I don't know; quite a little while.

Q. Well, as much as three or four years?

A. Well, that is pretty hard to say; possibly it might have been—might have been longer, and it might have been shorter.

Q. But Granny Letcher was living there when you went there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you played with Sam and Walter?

A. Yes, sir, me and Sam were good friends around there.

Q. You was over at Granny Letcher's every day, wasn't you?

A. No, sir, not every day. I were over there pretty often, but not every day.

Q. Now, during the time that you were there, did you see any other children around there except Walter and Sam?

A. No, sir, Walter was the youngest that I seen there.

Q. Now, Walter is younger than Sam?

A. Well, yes, sir, I judge he is.

Q. You say you never saw or heard of Tommy Atkins?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or Indian Tommy? A. Indian who?

Q. Indian Tommy. Any child there by the name of Indian Tommy?

Q. Now, if there had been a child there by that name during the time that you lived there, why, you would have known it, wouldn't you?

A. Possibly, in my time, if it was around there, I would have known it.

Q. Your opportunities for seeing who was there was as good as anybody's wasn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. During that time that you lived there and visited Granny Letcher's, you never seen or heard of Thomas Atkins?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or any child around there called Tommy?

A. No, sir.

Q. Or Indian Tommy? A. No, sir.

Q. You never heard of Minnie Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Well, during the time you lived there, did you know of a child being born there? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, where did you say you went after you left Alice Woods? A. Me?

Q. Yes?

A. I went to boarding with the lady named Miss Jackson.

Q. How old were you then?

A. I don't know, sir; guess I must have been along about 15—some where along about there; I wouldn't specify.

Q. Now, from the time that you went to live with Alice Woods, up to the time that you were 15, you lived there in that stone house, did you? A. Lived there in the stone house?

Q. Yes?

A. No, from Miami to stone house and then we moved to Kiowa, and then I left Kiowa, and went to Miss Jackson's.

Q. Now, how soon after you went there you got acquainted with Walter Banks and Sam Nash? A. To the stone house?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, I had knew Sam as a young man would—or boys rather, going to school.

Q. You went to school with Sam? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was there any boy who went to school with you and Sam by the name of Tommy Atkins?

A. No, sir, not that I know of.

Q. Well, would you have known it if there had been a boy going to the same school?

A. Possibly—in my room, I would have known it.

Mr. Cruce: Objected to that question as calling for a conclusion of the witness.

Q. Now, you spoke of two white men coming to see you; what kind of looking men were they?

A. That I really don't know; it has been so long.

Q. How long ago has it been?

A. Quite a little while. I never paid them no mind. They just came and asked me my name and I told them, and asked me if I was over at Leavenworth, and I told them I was, lived there, and they asked me about this Tommy Atkins, and I told them I didn't know him; and they asked me about Granny Letcher and I told them I knew Granny Letcher.

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out all this line of answers as not responsive, and object to the conversation as attempted to be detailed as not competent. Counsel who is conducting the examination is conducting it upon the phase of the case that concurs with the Government's theory and must conduct the examination in the nature of an examination in re-direct.

Q. You say that you don't recognize any of the gentlemen around here as the gentleman that came up there?

A. No, sir, I don't believe I do.

Q. Did they want you to make a written statement about what you knew?

A. No, sir, there was nothing like that asked at all.

Q. You were not asked for anything of that kind?

A. No, sir.

Q. How long did they stay there?

A. Oh, they didn't stay there no time.

Q. They just asked you if you knew Granny Letcher and if you knew Tommy Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: We object.

Q. And you told them that you knew nothing about Tommy Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading.

Q. That was about all the conversation there was?

A. That is about all there was.

Q. Now you spoke of a barn being across the street from where you lived? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't remember whose barn it was?

A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. Was it the Van Tuyl's barn?

A. I don't know whether it was Van Tuyl's or not.

Q. Or George Crilly's barn?

Mr. Cruce: We object; the witness stated he doesn't know what the barn was, and it is improper to lead him to some answer.

A. I don't know what barn it was.

Q. Which direction was it? A. On the north side.

Q. Across Seneca street?

A. Across Seneca street, yes, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: We object to all this line of questions as leading and being improper.

Q. Now, after you moved away from there, did you go back to Granny Letcher's frequently?

A. Oh, I went around there once in a while.

Q. About how often?

A. Well, I don't know; possibly I was there three times a week or something like that.

Q. Three times a week? For how long did you keep up those visits?

A. Oh, I don't know; I can't really say. I would go up there to see Sam at the time we were singing, and we used to go up there for a rehearsal and classes, and we would go up in the rooms up there.

Q. Kept it up for several years?

A. Oh. wasn't several years.

Q. Well, one, or two, or three years?

A. Might have been three, four or six months, something like that. I wouldn't be positive about the length of time.

Q. Now, in your visits back there, did you ever see any other children around other than Sam and Walter?

A. No, sir, Walter was the only child I noticed there.

Q. Well, Jim Mayo lived there, didn't he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He was older than any of you, wasn't he? A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. You and Sam Nash belong to the same crowd, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About this time?

A. Along in there, I guess it would be about the time; we were singing around there for a quite a while together.

Q. I believe you said you were a small boy, when you first got acquainted with these people? A. I were, yes, sir.

Q. Were there two men to see you representing the Government? A. I don't know; they didn't say then, I didn't—

Q. Did they tell you that they were representing the Government?

A. No, I don't remember because I don't know whether they said anything like that. I never asked them any questions; they just came in and I being a little ignorant, I reckon, I never thought of asking them anything. They wanted to know my name and I told them my name.

Q. Was I not one of the men that went to see you?

A. I don't know, Captain; I would say you was or wasn't.

Mr. Blakeney: I object as leading.

Q. Did I not tell you I was representing the Creek Indians?

Mr. Blakeney: I object as leading and as assuming.

Mr. Cruce: Object as leading.

Q. Do you remember whether or not Fred Cook, a Government man, was with me to see you?

Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as leading and assuming.

Q. No, sir, I don't.
Q. These two people were to see you more than a year ago, were they not?
A. I guess so. No, I don't think—hasn't been a year, I don't think—in the winter time.

Mr. Cruce: Objected to as leading.

A. Beginning to get winter.
Q. You stated a while ago that you were under the influence of intoxicants when Sadie was at your house?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Do you frequently get in that condition? A. No, sir.
Q. Do you drink much? A. Not a great deal.
Q. You are not drinking now, are you?
A. No, sir, not drinking now.

Mr. Cruce: Did Sadie get you full?

Mr. Allen: Don't answer that; wait until I get through.

Q. You say there is a barn on the east side of where you lived in the back of this house?
A. No, sir, there was a barn on this side.
Q. Across the street?
A. No, sir, on this side of the street, this way from us.
Q. On the other side of you from Granny Letcher's?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Would that have been Van Tuyl's barn?
A. I don't know what the name of that barn was; one on the north side, and the other side—I don't know what the name was now.
Q. There was one barn across the street? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Alice Woods, you say, was your aunt? A. Yes, sir.
Q. And Emma Gatewood, and these other people living in that house, were they cousins?
A. My cousins, yes, sir, with the exception of one.
Q. And you were taken when you were a small boy, by your aunt to raise?
A. She had taken two of us, yes, sir.
Q. You and your brother? A. My brother and I, yes, sir.
Q. You lived there in that house all the time that Emma Gatewood lived there?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as calling for an opinion and conclusion of the witness.

Q. Did you or did you not? A. I did.
Q. You are a working man, are you? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What work are you engaged in now?
A. Hod-carrying.
Q. Have you worked as a laborer all your life?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Has anybody given you or promised you any money or thing of value in this case?
A. No, sir, no, sir, they have not.
Q. Have you told the same story that you have told upon this witness stand to everybody that has talked to you?
A. No, sir, no more than I do know Tommy Atkins. That is all I said.
Q. I say have you told the same things every time that you have told now? A. I tried to, yes, sir.
Q. Have you stated to everybody that has been to you that did know Tommy and did [] Minnie Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and move to strike the answer for the same reason interposed before my objection could be gotten in.

Q. Was this party here with Sadie when she talked to you? A. When?
Q. The only time she talked to you?

Mr. Blakeney: We object.

Mr. Hanford: I object.

Q. Did she ever talk to you more than once?
A. She seen me twice I believe, if my memory serves me right. Once she came by herself and her husband and then she was—— Whether she came by herself the next time or not or had somebody with her or not——

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You spoke of this crowd, John. Who else was in that crowd? A. Al Shepperd, just three of us.

Mr. Cruce: Three of you made a crowd?

A. Well trio.
Q. Who else? A. Sam Nash and myself.
Q. Where did you sing? A. Most all over Leavenworth.
Q. Did you sing for money.

A. Why, sure, serenading. If we got money, we got it and we didn't, we didn't.

Q. How much older was Sam than Walter?

A. I can't say. I don't know.

Q. What kind of looking boy was Walter?

A. Walter is a man. I don't know him now. If I was to see him I wouldn't know him.

Q. What kind of looking boy was he, I say?

A. He was a little brown skinned fellow, about the color of that gentleman over there. The last time I seen him he would have been about like that. Probably not so large.

Q. About as high as your shoulder?

Mr. Allen: We object to that statement.

Q. About as high as your elbow? A. I judge so.

Mr. Cruce: How high is your elbow?

Q. You are about five feet ten?

A. Five feet eight I think.

Q. Five foot eight or ten?

Mr. Allen: Objected to as assuming a thing the witness has not testified to. He said about five foot eight.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. Allen: We offer the deposition of Fanny Isam, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript beginning at page 3003.

And thereupon FANNIE ISAM being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Fannie Isam.

Q. Where do you live?

A. 900 Independence Avenue, Kansas City, Missouri.

Q. What age are you Fannie? A. Forty.

Q. Did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. Yes, sir, a short time.

Q. How long? A. About three years.

Q. Who did you live with there? A. Alice Woods.

Q. Where in Leavenworth?

A. I think it was on Seneca street.

Q. Between what two streets? A. I don't remember.

Q. Where was it with reference to Van Tuyl's livery stable?

A. It was right next door to Van Tuyl's livery stable.

Q. Did you [] a woman by the name of Granny Letcher?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did she live?

A. She lived next door to us—the second door, I think it was.

Q. On which side of Seneca street was that? The north or south? A. It was on the south side if I am not mistaken.

Q. How old were you when you began to live with Alice Woods? A. Nine years old.

Q. Was that her name, Alice Woods? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you lived there three years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who else besides Granny Letcher, was in Granny Letcher's family?

A. Walter Banks, and Sam Nash, and Jim Mayo; I think that was the name—Granny's brother—Granny's son, I meant to say.

Q. This Jim Mayo was Granny's son? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was any boy in that family at Granny Letcher's by the name of Tommy?

A. None that I knew of; I never heard of any.

Q. Any boy there by the name of Indian Tommy?

A. Never heard of him?

A. Any boy there by the Name of Thomas Atkins?

A. Never heard of him—never seen him.

Q. Any woman in that family by the name of Minnie or Indian Minnie? A. No, sir, I never heard of her.

Q. Did you play around there? Around Granny Letcher's house?

A. Yes, sir, Walter and I, and Sam, but I didn't hear of any Minnie.

Q. Did you hear of a Tommy? A. No, sir.

Q. Did Alice Woods have any children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who were they and what were their names?

A. Why, Emma, and Walter, and Jack.

Q. She had a boy named Walter, too?

A. Walter, yes, sir.

Q. Who is Emma now?

A. Emma now, she is married; her name is Emma Gatewood. She was up here with her daughter.

Q. Which was the youngest child in Granny Letcher's house?

A. The youngest that I knew anything about was Walter Banks.

Q. Walter Banks? A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. How old was Walter Woods when you lived there?

A. Well, I don't know; we all were small children together is all I know. I don't know how old he was.

Q. Did Walter play around with you? A. Yes.

Q. Ran around the streets and played games?

A. Well, played anything, I suppose, that we wanted to play. I don't know whether we played games or not.

Q. He was along about your age? A. Yes.

Q. Played with other children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sam Nash too?

A. Well, Sam was older than we was.

Q. He was older?

A. Yes, he didn't play with us very much because he was a much larger boy than we was.

Q. And you never knew any other children around there?

A. But Walter and Sam, and Walter Banks.

Q. They were the only children you knew? A. Yes.

Q. What year were you born in?

A. Well, I don't know just exactly.

Q. You are 40 years old, now?

A. Yes, the second of December past.

Q. Then, you were born in 1876, weren't you?

A. I guess so.

Q. And you lived at the Woods for three years? A. Yes.

Q. You were nine years old when you went to live there?

A. Yes.

Q. How do you know that?

A. I knew it by them telling me so.

Q. Knew it because they told you so? A. Yes.

Q. Who told you?

A. Mrs. Woods, the lady I was living with.

Q. She told you you were nine?

A. Yes, she was with my mother when I was small.

Q. You remember it all this time? A. Certainly.

Q. And you left there when you were twelve? A. Yes.

Q. Now, when did you see—what is her name, Ella Gatewood? A. Emma Gatewood. Saw her Saturday.

Q. When did you see her before that?

A. Why, I see her every week.

Q. Was Sadie with her when you saw her Saturday?

A. No, I haven't seen her.

Q. When did you see Sadie?

A. I haven't seen Sadie for about three months.

Q. Three months? A. Yes.

Q. Was that the last time you saw her?

Q. When was the first time you saw her?

A. I don't know just when I saw her; here in Kansas City.

Q. Well, how many times has she come to see you about this case?

A. I don't know; she was to see me once or twice.

Q. Came to see you several times?

A. I said once or twice.

Q. And then she got Emam to come and see you?

A. No, she never got Emma to come and see me at all.

Q. Emma came herself?

A. She never came on nothing like this.

Q. Did she talk to you about this case? A. No.

Q. Didn't say a word? A. No.

Q. Didn't Sadie come to you and say that she wanted you to testify that there was no boy there named Tommy?

A. No.

Q. And you wouldn't do it? A. No.

Q. And then Emma came and got you to do it? A. No.

Q. That is not so? A. No.

Q. And didn't she tell you you could say that you didn't know of any boy, and it would be alright? A. No.

Q. And you did know of a baby around there?

A. No, I never saw any baby around there.

Q. You never saw any baby around Granny Letcher's?

A. No, I never. The youngest boy I saw around there, I have told you was Walter Banks; that was the youngest boy that I saw.

Q. You lived with Alice Woods? A. Yes.

Q. You didn't live at Granny Letcher's? A. No.

Q. You didn't live there at her house?

A. No, we played around there in the yard.

Q. You played around the yard? A. Yes.

Q. When you played around the yard there, would [] see Granny Letcher nursing a baby sometimes? A. I never did.

Q. You never did? A. No.

Q. What would she be doing?

A. Well, doing her housework and sometimes—sometimes she would be sitting out on the porch.

Q. When she was sitting out on the porch, you would never see her with a baby? A. No.

Q. Now, you say that you and Walter Banks and Walter Woods used to play around there together? A. Yes.

Q. You remember that? Do you know when Walter Woods was born? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. You don't know what year? A. No.

Q. Was he born while you lived there?

A. Walter was there when I went there.

Q. Walter Woods was? A. Yes.

Q. What kind of a house was that you lived in?

A. It was a stone house.

Q. A stone house? What part did you live in?

A. In the back part.

Q. Was that the only place you lived with the Woods?

A. Yes.

Q. The only place in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you go after you left there?

A. The Woods moved up here to Kansas City, and I came here with them.

Q. And you came here with them when they came to Kansas City? A. Yes.

Q. Then, they moved out of the stone house to Kansas City? A. Yes.

Q. After you had been there three years? A. Yes.

Q. But you didn't live with them when they lived in the brick house?

A. I never lived in but one house with Mrs. Woods, and that was in the stone house.

Q. That was in the stone house? A. Yes.

Q. And when they left the stone house, they came to Kansas City? A. Yes.

Q. You were nine years old in 1885, weren't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were there three years, so you were there until 1888, weren't you? A. Yes, sir, I guess so.

Q. So, in 1888, Alice Woods moved to Kansas City, and you came with her? A. Yes.

Q. Walter Woods was a pretty big boy at that time?

A. Yes, he was a pretty big boy.

Q. Sadie couldn't do anything with you, could she? She couldn't get you to testify, could she? A. Who?

Q. Sadie? A. Sadie never asked me to testify.

Q. She didn't? A. No.

Q. She didn't ask you about this case at all?

A. She didn't ask me to testify.

Q. She talked to you about the case?

A. She asked me did I remember being in Leavenworth; did I remember Granny Letcher. I told her yes, but she didn't say nothing to me about no testifying.

Q. When did you get your subpoena?

A. I don't know; last week sometime.

Q. Today?

A. No. didn't get it today; last week. I think it was the 13th I got it.

Q. And when did Emma come to see you?

A. When did Emma come to see me?

Q. Yes?

A. Emma didn't came to see me. I told you I seen Emma, but I didn't say she come to my house. I see Emma every week.

Q. See Emma every week? A. Yes.

Q. And she didn't talk to you about the case at all?

A. No.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What did you say your birthday is?

A. The second of December.

Q. Then, you were nine years, December second, 1885?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember how far past nine years of age you were when you went to live with Alice Woods?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. In what year were you born?

A. Well, I told you when I were born. I told you how old I was, and I told you what year I went to Leavenworth, so you can count it and see; I don't know.

Q. You answered Mr. German that you were nine years old on a certain day; do you know the name of the month you were born? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know the day of the week on which you were born? A. The day of the week?

Q. Yes? A. No, I don't.

Q. And you don't know the year?

A. No, I don't know the year.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Did Alice Woods move back to Leavenworth after she came to Kansas City?

A. I don't know whether she did or not.

Q. How long did you live with her in Kansas City?

A. She didn't move back there while I was with her.

Q. How long did you live with her?

A. I lived with her about two years after she came here.

Q. Two years after she came here? A. Yes.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Emma Gatewood, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 2632.

And thereupon, EMMA GATEWOOD, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name?
A. My name is Emma Gatewood.
Q. Where do you live, Emma?
A. I live at 845 Ella Avenue.
Q. In Kansas City, Kansas? A. Kansas City, Kansas.
Q. What age are you? A. 44.
Q. When were you 44? A. Christmas past.
Q. Did you ever live in Leavenworth, Kansas?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Where were you born?
A. I was born in Weston, Missouri.
Q. Did you ever live on Seneca street, in Leavenworth, Kansas? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Between what two numbered streets?
A. Between 3rd and 2nd.
Q. And which side of Seneca street did you live?
A. South side.
Q. Where with reference to Van Tuyl's barn?
A. On the corner.
Q. Next to the barn? A. Yes, sir, next to the barn.
Q. What kind of a house?
A. Well, the front part was of stone, and the back part was a frame—we lived in the frame part in the rear.
Q. What was that house known as? Who had owned the house?
A. I have forgot the old lady's name—German lady.
Q. Was it Feth?
A. Mrs. Feth, yes, that was the name.
Q. Were they living at the house at the time your folks moved into it with you?
A. She was living there in the stone part when we moved there.
Q. And you were living in the back part? A. Yes, sir.
Q. About what age were you when you moved into that house?
A. Well, I was between fifteen and sixteen.
Q. Were you living with your parents? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who lived in the house just east of the Feth house, when your family moved into the rear part of the Feth house?

A. Granny Letcher.

Q. Mollie Letcher? A. We always called her Granny.

Q. What was your name at that time?

A. My name was Emma Woods.

Q. Did you have any brothers samller than yourself?

A. Smaller, two.

Q. What were their names? A. Walter and John.

Q. How long did you live in that house?

A. Oh, we lived there four years, maybe about four or five years, I guess.

Q. Four or five years? A. I guess.

Q. Until you were how old?

A. Well, I don't know exactly, when we moved out of there; I was in my teens when we moved out of there. When we moved out of there, I reckon I was going on 20 years old; I married when I was 20.

Q. What year were you born in? A. I have forgot now.

Q. Well you were 44 last December? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, you were born in December '71, weren't you?

A. December '71—we have it down—I forgot that.

Q. Who did you marry? A. Jack Hardin.

Q. Jack Hardin? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you acquainted with Granny Letcher and her family?

A. Not so awfully acquainted; only we moved there, that is all.

Q. Well, after you moved there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know Granny and the members of her family?

A. Yes, sir, I knowed Sam and Jim after we moved there.

Q. Was there any other boy in her family?

A. Sam and Jim and Walter, that is all I know.

Q. How did Walter's age compare with your brother's age? A. Well, I can't tell you.

Q. Did you have a brother about his age or not?

A. Well, I don't know now. Our boys were small and he was kind of a small boy—one. Walter was a kind of little bit taller than my brother.

Q. Did Walter and your brother play together?

A. Yes, sir, they played together.

Q. Would you see Granny Letcher very often?

A. Oh, we would see her there at work; I never visited very often over there—nothing like that.

Q. Would your brother and Walter play together very much? A. After school, every afternoon.

Q. Where would they play around?

A. Out there in the alley—around in the yard.

Q. Was there any boy around that Letcher home, or in the Letcher home,—child—younger than Walter—a baby child by the name of Tommy, or Indian Tommy?

A. No, sir, not that I know of.

Q. Or Tommy Atkins?

A. No, sir, I never heard of it; don't know anything about that.

Q. When was the first time that you ever heard of such a boy?

A. I never heard of such a boy until since this—let me see—last year when this—I forgot the man that come to my house.

Q. Is he here in this room?

A. I don't know, I don't think so.

Q. Is that the man? A. No, sir.

Q. Is that the man? A. No, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: Let's say who it is.

Mr. German: I was pointing at Mr. Long then; the first time I was pointing at Mr. Hanford.

Q. Who was the man, do you know?

A. Well, he was a tall, slender man, sort of——

A. Is this the man, Mr. Hanford?

A. He didn't have no mustache.

Q. Well, he has grown a mustache? A. No, sir.

Mr. German: Was it you, Mr. Hanford?

Mr. Hanford: Yes, it was me.

Mr. Blakeney: I object to anything that Mr. Hanford said, or the fact going into the record. I move to strike out the question that Mr. German directed toward Mr. Hanford, as Mr. Hanford is not on the witness stand, or being examined by Mr. German. I don't know that it was intended for the record and I move to strike out the statement that Mr. Hanford made.

Mr. German: A justification for asking Mr. Hanford that——

Mr. Blakeney: Just a minute. For the reason that Mr. Hanford is not sworn as a witness, I object to his unsworn statement being used against me and against my client.

Mr. German: As a justification for my question to Mr. Hanford, I desire to state in the record, that he was pointing his finger to his chest and looking at the witness, or at me, I am not sure which.

Q. Emma, was the man who came to see you, that you were just speaking of, the first man who ever came to see you about—the first person, I mean, who ever came to see you about what you knew in this case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About any Indian Tommy?

A. Yes, sir, he was the first man that saw me.

Q. Was he the first person that ever came to see you about it?

A. He was the first one that ever came to see me.

Q. Did you ever know of any young woman, or woman being around the Letcher home, by the name of Minnie, or Indian Minnie? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Minnie Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever know of any boy child being around there by the name of Thomas Atkins? A. Tommy who?

Q. Atkins? A. Who?

Q. Atkins?

A. No, sir, I don't know anything about his being around there.

Q. Was there any boy in the Letcher family younger than Walter Banks?

A. Not as I know of, no, sir, I never seen any.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Emma, at that time—— You remember now, since I reminded you, that it was me that was up there to see you?

A. No, sir, I don't remember ever seeing you before.

Q. I stood there in the front room and talked to you a few minutes in the evening, wasn't it?

A. It was a man, but I don't remember it being you.

Q. You don't remember? A. No, sir.

Q. And asked you about—if you knew the girl named Minnie Atkins?

A. This man came and asked me about a girl named Atkins, if it was you I certainly sassed you pretty good about it.

Q. Then, it wasn't me, because we had—— You told me that you didn't know anything about—— A. Yes, sir.

Q. Told me that you were engaged in the laundry business. Have you a sister?

A. No, sir, I am the only child my mother had.

Q. I asked you if you remembered this boy, did I not?

A. I wouldn't say that you did or not. If you are the one, I didn't realize that you are the man. I won't say I did.

Q. You told me to ask your brother, to ask Walter about it?

A. In the meantime, my brother came home from work.

Q. Came down the sidewalk? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I spoke to him at the side-walk?

A. This man was standing at the gate and my brother came up home.

By Mr. Blakeney: The witness does not identify Mr. Hanford about being the person she talked to and I think it is improper.

Q. This man then spoke to Walter out on the walk, didn't he? A. Sir?

Q. I say this man spoke to Walter out on the walk?

A. Yes. I was standing there on the porch.

Q. Did you hear the conversation?

A. Yes, I heard the conversation.

Q. Can you tell what was said there? A. No.

By Mr. German: Now, wait a minute.

A. Said so much I didn't take much interest in it at all.

By Mr. German: I object to the question on the ground that it would be hearsay evidence.

Q. Then, you didn't hear what was said? A. Sir?

Q. You mean to say that you didn't hear what was said?

A. Yes. I heard some of it, yes.

Q. How much did you hear?

A. Walter said that he knowed that boy——

By Mr. German: I object to that conversation or any part of it, and to save encumbering the record, I will make objection now to any part of it that may be later asked about, if Mr. Hanford is willing that an objection may go that way, on the ground that it is hearsay evidence and immaterial. Are you willing to that, Mr. Hanford?

By Mr. Hanford: Yes.

A. Let me ask you a question. Is this the Government man here talking to me or what is he, or are you oil men, this man was on the side of some oil land man.

Q. Well, I am not a Government man.

A. Well, what are you?

By Mr. German: He is on the oil side of it.

A. All of you on the oil side?

By Mr. German: No, I am not. These men are. Some of us are and some of us are not.

A. I see.

By Mr. Blakeney: We are all wanting to get on the oil side.

Q. At that time, Emma, you were engaged in laundry work, weren't you, when you lived there at that place?

A. In what place?

Q. In the back part of the Seth house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You and your mother? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you didn't know all the children around in that neighborhood, that played around there? A. No, sir.

Q. You simply went and got Walter sometimes when he was playing with the children in the neighborhood?

A. Yes, sir, I called him when I needed him at home I called him.

Q. Walter was younger than yourself? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So, those children, you didn't play with and didn't know their names?

A. No, sir, I didn't play with them because I wasn't a child.

Q. But you knew about Granny Letcher through seeing her in this house next door?

A. Yes, sir, I lived there next door. Of course, I wouldn't know all about her house and all she had in there. Anybody in there of course I didn't look after that, because it was all I could do to take care of my own house.

Q. That wasn't a matter that you were interested in?

A. No, sir, it wasn't none of my affairs at all.

Q. Who would go or come? A. No, sir.

Q. And what kids were around there? A. No.

Q. Do you recollect when it was that you moved into the Seth house?

A. No, I don't, been so long I don't remember.

Q. You think you were about twenty years old when you moved away? A. Yes, sir, I married when I was twenty.

Q. Did you move away from there when you got married?

A. I moved before I got married.

Q. Before you got married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember about how long you had been away from that house when you got married?

A. No, sir, all I know, we lived there quite a while.

Q. You remember that you lived there about four or five years and then moved away and were away from there when you married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Can you tell me within a year of how long it was before you married that you moved away?

A. Oh, I don't know, I can't tell you, a year or a half a year, I don't know.

Q. Probably less than a year? A. Might have been.

Q. You moved away from there, after you moved away from there, what did remind you of how long it was—— Let me ask you this question: Do you remember where you were living when you were married? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. Were you living in Leavenworth?

A. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. Where was that?

A. A little brick house that sets right around on Cherokee Street, right on College Avenue, right back of Dr. Brock's Livery Stable.

Q. Now, did you move there from the Seth house?

A. I did, for a fact.

Q. Recalling to your mind the fact that you moved into that house, do you remember about how long you had lived there in that house when you got married? A. No.

Q. Do you think it was six months or a year?

A. No, I wouldn't say how long it was; we were living there quite a bit.

Q. And you can't say how long within a year? A. No.

Q. Don't you know how old you were when you moved into the Seth house?

A. Let me see. I was twenty years old when I married, I was going on twenty—— When I moved into the Seth house?

Q. Yes, when you moved in there?

A. When I moved in there, between fifteen and sixteen.

Q. So that, when you went to Leavenworth, you lived in Leavenworth before that?

A. We went to Leavenworth when I was a child, a baby.

Q. You had grown up there?

A. Yes, sir, I was raised there.

Q. Was that when you started to work, when you moved in there, or had you worked before that?

A. Had worked before that, I had worked all my life.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. When were you married? A. I have forgotten now.

Q. You have forgotten the year? A. Sir?

Q. You have forgotten the year you were married in?

A. Yes, sir, it has been so long.

Q. How many years ago has it been since you married?

A. It has been sixteen years ago since I married this time.

Q. Been married more than once?

A. The second time, I was single sixteen years before I married again.

Q. You were single sixteen years and married a second time how long ago? A. Just a year.

Q. When were you married this last time? A. 1914.

Q. June 14th? A. No, I married Thanksgiving, 1914.

Q. Thanksgiving, 1914? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you had been single about sixteen years?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how long did you live with your first husband?

A. About two years.

Q. And then there was about eighteen years between the two marriages? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you live when you were married the first time? A. Leavenworth, Kansas, in that little brick house.

Q. Which of those houses were you living in?

A. I lived in the little brick.

Q. That is where you had moved from the Seth place?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say you don't know how long you had been living there? A. No, sir.

Q. How long did you live in the Seth place?

A. Oh, we lived there four or five years.

Q. And how old were you when you moved into the Seth place? A. Between fifteen and sixteen.

Q. Between fifteen and sixteen? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say you have a brother?

A. Yes, sir, my brothers is all dead.

Q. I beg your pardon but I can't hear you?

A. I say my brothers is all dead.

Q. Who was it that came up when Mr. Hanford was there?

A. That was my brother, he has dropped dead since that time.

By Mr. Hanford: I don't understand you, is Walter dead?

A. Yes, sir, it is a good thing he is too, I am glad of it in a way.

Q. You say you don't recognize Mr. Hanford as the gentleman who came there to talk to you? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. He didn't have on this calico suit he is wearing now if he came, did he? What kind of a suit did the man have on that came?

A. I didn't pay that much attention to his clothes, he had on dark clothes is all I can tell you.

Q. How about the size, about the size of Mr. Hanford?

A. Tall, smooth faced man, I never believed that he is the man.

Q. You never noticed that he was trying to grow a mustache, did you? A. No, sir.

Q. What was it he said to you?

A. He walked up and asked me my name and I told him my name was Hardin, then you know. I told him I lived there, he asked me if I lived in Leavenworth, Kansas, and I told him that I was raised there; and he asked me about these folks and I told him I didn't know anything about them, about this Atkins, and I told him I didn't know anything about her at all.

Q. He asked you if you knew Minnie Atkins?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you told him you didn't?

A. Yes, sir. Asked me did I know Mollie Letcher, and in a minute my brother came on home and he asked him.

By Mr. German: Don't tell that.

By Mr. Blakeney: That was not responsive. I want to examine the witness.

Q. I asked what Mr. Hanford said to you, not anybody else now, you just answer the question. Did he make any request of you to swear to any statements other than that you had told him? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't try to get you to swear to anything that was false?

A. No, sir, he didn't because he didn't like my talk very good because I sassed him. I was tired and I sassed him.

Q. He just asked you questions and you answered?

A. Yes, sir, that is all.

Q. That is all that passed between you?

A. Yes, sir, that is all.

Q. And he started out?

A. He came in there and sat down there and talked to my brother.

Q. He started out of the house, did he, and saw your brother coming?

A. No, he was standing at the gate and I said here comes my brother.

Q. Where did he talk to you?

A. Standing at the gate and on the porch. I came out the door at the time that he came out.

Q. Where had he asked you those questions, in the house or on the porch?

A. Both places, talked to me at both places, out doors and in the house too.

Q. Then, while you were out on the porch, your brother came up? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he commenced asking your brother questions?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Now, what did he ask your brother?

By Mr. German: Now, I object to that as hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

A. He asked him did he know her, and he said yes, and I asked Walter——
Q. I didn't ask you what you asked him. He asked your brother if he knew him? A. Yes, sir, and he said——

By Mr. German: I would like for the record to show, to save time, that I object to all this as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and I don't want to state the objection every time he asks a question.

By Mr. Blakeney: I am willing. I am cross examining this witness on matters Mr. Hanford drew out.

By Mr. German: I object to it on the further ground that it is improper cross examination.

Q. Did you say that Mr. Hanford asked your brother if he knew Tommy Atkins and he said that he did?
A. He said he did.
Q. And what else did Hanford say to your brother?
A. He asked him where did he know him at and where did he live at, and Walter told him yes he knowed him in Leavenworth, and Walter said he played with him, and I said I don't remember anything about playing——
Q. I didn't ask you that. I want what Walter said and what Hanford said. Now, Hanford asked him if he knew him and he said he did? A. He said he did.
Q. Then, Hanford asked him where he knew him and he said he knew him in Leavenworth?
A. That is what he said.
Q. Then, your brother said he played with him?
A. That is what he said, and I said that I didn't believe it.

By Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out the response of witness as not responsive to the question referring to her statement, of course to what the witness said.

Q. Was that all that passed between Hanford and this brother of yours?
A. They stood there and talked and I went on and got my supper.
Q. You left and they were still talking?
A. They came inside, I asked him inside and they sat down.

Q. And they sat down inside and was talking?

A. Yes, sir, and was talking.

Q. You didn't hear what was said?

A. Oh, I heard some of it.

Q. Did you hear Hanford make any proposition to pay your brother anything? A. No, I didn't.

Q. You heard nothing of that kind?

A. No, if he did, I would have objected if he had.

Q. I didn't ask you what you would do, I asked what Hanford said. A. No, I didn't.

By Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out what the witness would have done, what she said she would have done.

Q. Did Hanford make any proposition there in case he recovered this oil land he would pay your brother anything?

A. No, he didn't.

Q. Didn't in your presence? A. No, he didn't.

Q. Did he say anything in your presence about paying your brother for anything he would do in the matter?

A. No, he did not.

Q. Did he tell you he would pay you anything?

A. Well, I should say not, I should say not.

Q. Did he say that you two, or to your brother, or you either, if you would go on and swear, he would pay you anything? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't ask you to come and swear at all?

A. No, sir, because I didn't know anything to swear?

Q. Just answer yes or no. A. No, sir; no, sir

Q. Did you hear him ask your brother to come and testify and that he would pay him?

A. No, he didn't say nothing about no pay to him.

Q. Did you hear him say anything about wanting him to testify?

A. He told him he would like to have him on the witness stand and that he would let him know, he written Walter a letter.

Q. I am not asking you about letters yet. We are wanting to know what Hanford said to your brother there about wanting him as a witness, at that time?

A. He said he would need him and when he needed him he would write and let him know.

Q. You heard Hanford say that now? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. German: I would like to ask counsel upon what possible theory this testimony is admissible.

By Mr. Blakeney: Well, I—— The theory is that

I have a right to show what the parties are doing in this case, the Government as well as Hanford, to get evidence in this case.

By Mr. German: I want the record to show that it shall be the contention of the Government that the costs attending the inquiries concerning this conversation shall be taxed against the party represented by counsel making the inquiries, because it is clearly incompetent.

Q. Now, you say positively that you didn't hear Mr. Hanford say anything about paying your brother for anything that he might testify to in this case?

A. Not to my—— Not before me. If he said anything to him I don't know anything about it.

Q. Did they have any talk about it out of your presence?

A. Walter went to the door with him.

Q. How long did they stand out there?

A. I don't know, didn't stay very long, I don't think.

Q. Did you see him give him any money? A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Is your brother, who took part in that conversation that day, living or dead?

A. Why, he is dead. You heard me say a while ago he was dead, he dropped dead. There is no danger of his being alive.

Q. Now, if I understand you, when the gentleman was there talking to you, if it was Mr. Hanford, he asked you what you knew about Tommy Atkins, and your brother came and in the same conversation your brother said he did remember Tommy?

By Mr. German: Now, you remember I am objecting to all of this, just as I did to Mr. Blakeney's inquiries for the same reasons.

By Mr. Cruce: Let the record show the objection.

Q. Is that right, Emma? A. Sir?

Q. Your brother said he did remember Tommy Atkins?

A. He said so, yes, sir.

Q. Said he had played with him?

A. That is what he said.

Q. And do you remember that he gave Mr. Hanford, or that gentleman, whoever he was, that was there his recollection of the description of Tommy?

A. Yes, sir, he said he did.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Mr. Hanford left a dollar there with Walter too, didn't he? A. Left a dollar there with Walter?

Q. Yes? As he left?

A. I don't know nothing about it.

Q. You didn't know that?

A. No, sir, I didn't know nothing about it.

Q. And you don't know what the conversation—what was said between Hanford and Walter, except the little that you have related? A. No, sir; no, sir.

Q. When you got through Walter told you that there was money in this case, after Mr. Hanford had left, didn't he?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object now.

A. Yes, sir, he did, he said that, and I said you are not going to fool with it.

By Mr. Blakeney: Wait a minute. I want to object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Q. Go ahead and answer it.

By Mr. Cruce: We object to this testimony because it does not appear that the part of the conversation between the witness and her brother and Mr. Hanford—— It appears to be a conversation between herself and her brother after the ending of the conversation between Mr. Hanford and the witness, and is therefore incompetent.

Q. Now, go ahead and tell? A. Tell what?

Q. What Walter said to you and what you said to him?

A. Oh, he said there is money in this case, and I said you ain't going to fool with it, if there is money in it, you are not going to fool with it. I don't know nothing about it and I know you ain't going to fool with it. I said—excuse the expression—I said one-half of these niggers is going to the penitentiary fooling with Uncle Sam's business, that is what I said to my brother, just what I said to him, so that is all he said to me about it.

Q. Do you know who he had talked with before he saw Mr. Hanford about Tommy? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know whether Banks had been over to see him before that? A. Not to my house, no, sir.

Q. Do you know whether he had seen Walter before that? A. No, sir.

Q. Why was it that you said a while ago that you were glad your brother Walter was dead?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

By Mr. Cruce: We object because it is immaterial.

A. Why, I hoped, because I thought if he would get Walter tangled up in this and this man would offer him a lot of money he would go up there and swear a whole lot of stories that he did know this boy, raised up this boy, when he didn't know nothing about it and he would be one of the gang who went to the penitentiary. Of course I am sorry my brother is dead, and I am glad in another way.

Q. Did your brother get a telephone before that or after that from somebody about this Atkins matter?

A. Get a telephone?

Q. Yes, did somebody telephone him?

A. No, sir, he didn't telephone, he got a letter that came to my house.

Q. What did he tell you about that?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

By Mr. Cruce: We object as hearsay testimony and as incompetent.

Q. Was that before or after?

A. That was after this man had been to my house.

Q. Now, what did he tell you about that?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object.

By Mr. Cruce: What did her brother tell her?

By Mr. German: Yes.

By Mr. Cruce: I understood you and Mr. Hanford had an agreement a while ago that this conversation might be detailed. I don't know whether the stenographer got it or not. I mean the conversation between this witness and her brother and Mr. Hanford.

By Mr. German: No, indeed, we strenuously objected.

By Mr. Blakeney: No indeed.

By Mr. German: And my sole theory of cross examining her about it is the possible theory that the Court lets it in.

By Mr. Cruce: Do you suppose, that lets in all the conversation that occurred between her and her brother?

By Mr. German: I have just as much right so far as the law is concerned to suppose it is admissible.

By Mr. Cruce: Well, however, I object.

By Mr. Blakeney: I drew out that conversation without any agreement, would have accepted no agreement. I was doing it for the purpose of showing what Page and his representatives had done to get evidence in this case, as I have tried to show what the Government and its allies have done to get evidence, and I object now to any hearsay evidence.

By Mr. Allen: You mean to show what they have not done.

By Mr. Blakeney: No, sir, I wanted to show what they have done.

Q. All right, tell what he said to you after he got that letter and all about it?

A. He said he got the letter—— Well, the letter was home when he came from work and he said—read the letter and he said—told Walter to call him up.

By Mr. Cruce: I would like to ask counsel representing the Government, if he will state as a lawyer if he thinks that testimony is competent.

By Mr. German: I will answer you in this way: I think as a lawyer, that is is just as admissible as the conversation that your associates and yourself elicited between Walter Banks and Mr. Hanford.

By Mr. Cruce: I would like to state in reply to that, representing Mr. Page, I drew out all the conversation drawn out by other attorneys representing other interests, and I had the right to do it.

Q. Go ahead and answer the question.

By Mr. Cruce: I make the further objection, if there was a letter, that the letter itself is the best evidence of its contents.

By Mr. Allen: Do you know where the letter is?

A. I did. I had it. I expect I burned it up though cleaning house, I wouldn't doubt it.

Q. Answer the question?

A. He said that the man told him to call him up at some hotel, I forget the name of the hotel, and Walter said he called him up and he said ain't no money in that thing, I ain't going to fool with it. And I said to him just like this: You better not fool with it anyhow, you better stay out of this mess, that is what he said to me.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Emma, at that time your name was Hardin?

A. Hardin, yes, sir.

Q. And you married again in November, 1914, that is Thanksgiving? A. Yes, sir.

Q. This was in the summer time at the time this man came to see you?

A. I think it was warm, summer or something.

Q. About the month of August?

A. I don't know, somewheres along in August or July, I don't know which.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. This man came in the summer time of 1914 and talked to you? A. I guess it was.

Q. And then you got married in November of that same year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you continue to live with your brother after you married? A. My brother was dead when I married.

Q. Your brother was dead when you married?

A. Yes, sir, my brother died that same year.

Q. How long did your brother live after this man came to your house?

A. I don't know, he lived until in the fall.

Q. How long was your brother dead when you married?

A. How long was my brother dead when I was married?

Q. Yes?

A. Let me see. He was dead about two months.

Q. About two months? A. Yes.

Q. And you married in November and your brother had died in September?

A. No, he died, let me see. I married a month before Thanksgiving.

Q. A month before Thanksgiving? A. Yes.

Q. I thought you said on Thanksgiving day?

A. No, I didn't say Thanksgiving Day.

Q. Then, you were married in October? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your brother died about two months before you were married, he died in August? A. No, he died in the fall.

Q. How long did he die before you were married?

A. Well, he had been dead about two months, I never kept the straight time, but I know he died in the fall.

Q. Did he die in the fall of the same year you were married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how long was it before he died that this man had come to see you?

A. I don't know, it was warm weather when the man came to see me.

Q. The same year? A. Yes, sir, I guess so.

Q. I want your judgment and your recollection in this and not your guesses?

A. Well, that is as far as I can remember, and I didn't pay much attention to the man.

Q. The same year? A. I know it was warm weather 1914.

Q. The man came to see you in 1914, your brother died in 1914, and you were married in 1914? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you say your brother got a letter, from whom was that letter written or by whom was that letter written?

A. The man that came there to see him.

Q. The same man? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How do you know that?

A. Because his name was signed to it.

Q. What name was signed to it?

A. I forget his name, but his name was signed to it.

Q. And you remembered at that time the name of the man that came?

A. Yes, sir, because he told him that he would write to him, and after Walter came in from the gate, he told him he write to him.

Q. I didn't ask you that. I am pretty anxious for you to answer the questions, because I am objecting to some of this other evidence. Now, did you keep the letter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you read it?

A. No, sir, I never opened his mail, he read it.

Q. After it was opened, did you see the letter itself?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Not the envelope, but the letter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You saw it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. See the man's name signed to it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You don't remember the name? A. No, sir.

Q. Written on a typewriter or in long hand?

A. I have forgotten now.

Q. You don't remember whether it was typewritten or not? A. He read it, I didn't read it.

Q. As he read it, did you see it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was it on a letter head, anything printed on the letter? A. No, sir.

By Mr. German: You understand we are objecting to all of this as incompetent, irrelevant, incompetent, and immaterial, and hearsay.

By Mr. Blakeney: You are objecting to her testimony about the letter as hearsay?

By Mr. German: My sole purpose in asking the witness about the letter at all, or the conversation following it, was confined so that if the Court admits the conversation with Hanford, then I understood that this would go in. Otherwise, I don't; I wouldn't have asked those questions.

Q. You say that he read you the letter, was it on more than one sheet? A. On one sheet.

Q. The one sheet. What did he read you?

A. Well, he said this man told him to call him up.

Q. I didn't ask you what Walter said now, I asked you what the letter said.

A. Well, he read the letter and told me about it.

Q. Did he read the letter aloud then?

A. No, he didn't read it to me, he read it himself and he told me this man said to call him up.

By Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out what he told me as not responsive.

Q. Then, you don't know who the letter was from or what its contents were except what your brother told you?

A. That is all.

Q. Did you see him as he tore the letter open?

A. Yes, he tore the letter open.

Q. In your presence?

A. Yes, I went on and fixed my supper and he read it.

Q. Just answer the questions. Did he tear the letter open in your presence? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you saw it?

A. Yes, sir, saw the letter, just one sheet.

Q. Was any money in the letter? A. I didn't see any.

Q. Did you see a check in the letter? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't see Walter take any check or any money from the letter?

A. No, sir, if he had got any money he would have said so.

Q. I just ask you to answer the questions. A. No, sir.

Q. Then, Walter did afterwards attempt to tell you what was in the letter?

A. He told me, yes, that he got the letter from him and the man told him to call him up.

Q. Well, did he attempt to tell you what was in the letter? A. He just told me the letter was from this man.

Q. Just a minute, he didn't attempt to tell you what the letter itself said?

A. No, sir, he didn't tell me all of it. If there was any more he didn't tell me.

Q. Just told you after he read it, that there wasn't any money in the case and he was going to quit it?

A. That is what he said.

Q. He didn't say that the letter said that?

A. No, sir, he didn't say.

Q. You said something about these niggers coming in here and fighting the Government would get into the penitentiary, didn't you, or something of that kind? What was that you said about that?

A. I said, well, if they mess around with something they don't know nothing about there will be half of them go to the penitentiary, fooling with Uncle Sam.

Q. That is what you told Walter?

A. That is what I told Walter.

Q. Yet you heard Walter tell him in your presence that he did know the boy and played with him? A. I heard that.

Q. You didn't want Walter to swear to that, did you?

A. Because I didn't think Walter did.

Q. Because you didn't remember the child, you didn't want your brother to swear to it?

A. Didn't want him to swear to something he didn't know nothing about it.

Q. You heard him say he did know about it?

A I heard him but I didn't believe he did.

Q. Because you didn't believe it, you didn't want your brother to swear about what he thought was true?

A. I didn't because I didn't think it was right.

Q. You thought if he swore against the Government, he would be getting in trouble? A. That is what I said.

Q. You told him that you niggers always had to line up with the Government? A. That is what.

Q. Said these niggers always must help the Government?

A. No, I didn't. I said you all fooling around Uncle Sam, with the Government, a lot of you will be going to the penitentiary for swearing the lies, that is what I said to him.

Q. And you told your brother that when the only thing you knew about the case was that the gentleman asked you if you knew Tommy Atkins or Minnie Atkins and you said you did not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he walked out and asked your brother and your brother said he did?

A. My brother came down the street——

Q. Just a minute. Now, that was all that had been said that made you think that your brother would go to the penitentiary if he would swear that he knew Minnie Atkins and Tommy Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. You knew you had just as good a chance to know whether Tommy was there as Walter?

A. I knew I had just as good a chance to know as he did, because I was older and knew the children that played around there.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Did you know Sadie James? A. Who?

Q. Sadie James? A. Sadie James?

Q. Yes, Sadie James? A. Yes, sir, I know her.

Q. When did you get acquainted with her?

A. Years, she was raised up here too.

Q. She was raised around Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When have you last seen her?

A. I have seen her a while back.

Q. How long back?

A. I have seen her here at church, about the third Sunday, last third Sunday of last month.

Q. Third Sunday of last month? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That the last time you have seen her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you talk to Sadie there?

A. I wasn't studying about——

Q. Didn't have a chance to talk to Sadie there?

A Just spoke, laughing and talking.

Q. Sadie goes to that church pretty near every Sunday, doesn't she? A. She belongs to that.

Q. Belongs to that church? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What church is that? A. Baptist Church.

Q. Sadie sits in the Amen Corner, doesn't she?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When had you seen Sadie just before that? A. No, sir.

Q. I say when?

A. I don't know, I haven't seen Sadie for a long time.

Q. Well, when have you had a talk with Sadie last?

A. Last Third Sunday we were talking at church.

Q. I mean had an opportunity of talking as a visit, making a visit with her? Has she been to your house in the last two years?

A. To my house in the last two years, she has been up there once, when she was over in Kansas she stepped up and seen me.

Q. What time of day did she come by?

A. In the afternoon, I [ ] fixing to go out to town.

Q. How long did she stay?

A. She didn't stay long, she was in a hurry, passing by.

Q. She told you she had decided to help the Government in this case and was going to send everybody to the penitentiary that didn't testify as the Government wanted?

A. She didn't tell me nothing, she didn't have no conversation with me about that.

Q. What did she tell you anything about the case, told you nothing about it? A. No, sir.

Q. You had no conversation with Sadie about what your testimony would be in this case?

A. She didn't say nothing to me, not at that time, no.

Q. Well, in your presence at any time?

A. No, sir, she wasn't saying nothing to me at all.

Q. At any time, never did have a talk with her about this case?

A. Oh, at the first she had something to tell me something, but we never had time to talk.

Q. Never had time to get it told to you? A. No, sir.

Q. Before that, had she ever told you anything?

A. No, sir, I hadn't seen her.

Q. Did she intimate to you what it was she was going to talk to you about at first? A. No, sir, she didn't.

Q. Well, why did you think it was about this case?

A. I didn't think it was about this case, I thought she might have something else to tell me.

Q. Didn't have any idea it was about this case at all?

A. No, sir.

Q. Then why did you volunteer the statement here that she said she had something to tell you about?

A. She may have had something else, her own affairs or something.

Q. That is what you thought it was? A. Why, sure.

Q. That is the reason you told it here in this case?

A. Sure, that is all I know.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Emma, did Sadie tell you she was working for the Government? A. Tell me?

Q. Yes?

A. She didn't say nothing to me about it that Sunday.

Q. When did you first learn that the Government was in this case?

A. When did I learn that the Government was in this case? Let me see. The man came to my house. I think Walter heard something about it, my brother heard something about it, I didn't pay much attention to it myself.

Q. Did some other man come to your house besides that man that was there first?

A. Yes, there was a man came there, a Government man, he said he was a Government man.

Q. Do you remember what his name was?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Do you see him around the room any place?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Do you recall if he was a one armed man?

A. No, this man had two good arms.

Q. And that was the first time that you learned that the Government was in the case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever discuss that feature of it with Sadie?

A. He asked me did I know her, and I told him yes, I knowed her.

Q. When Sadie was at your house, did you ask her what she was doing there and did she tell you what she was doing there?

A. No, she didn't tell me exactly what she was doing.

Q. She knew that you used to live in Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. But she didn't mention this case to you at all?

A. No, she was talking something about it, I didn't pay much attention to it, I told Sadie I didn't want to hear a mess, they were all talking so much about it.

Q. She mentioned in fact that the Government was in the case?

A. She asked me did I remember, and I told her no I didn't know nothing about this woman.

Q. Did she say anything about all these people that were messing with the Government and were going to get sent to the penitentiary? A. No, I said that to her.

Q. You said that to her? A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Emma, the time that the Government man came to see you was after—— A. Yes, sir.

Q. The time that this man, whose name you don't remember, came to see you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the time that Sadie came to your house and talked something about the Atkins case, that was also after this man had been to your house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you had told him you didn't know anything about it? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Any Minnie or Tommy being around Granny's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Wasn't the man that came to see you, the Government man, wasn't his name Fred Cook?

A. Well, I don't remember what his name was.

Q. You don't know? A. No, sir.

Q. Emma, was it before or after your brother, Walter, died that Sadie was at your house and said something about the case? A. It was after my brother was dead.

(Witness dismissed.)

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Nettie Brown, taken before Mr. Penick, beginning at 2873.

And thereupon, NETTIE BROWN being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name, age and place of residence?

Q. About how long did you live in that house with Jim Mayo?

A. I lived in that house about two years, very near two years, the only place I lived in Leavenworth.

Q. Did you know the members of Granny Letcher's family while you lived there in that house?

A. None but Walter and Sam Nash, a little boy that she raised.

Q. And Jim Mayo, with whom you were living?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was there any boy there younger than Walter Banks?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was there any boy there living or staying at that home, during any of the time that you stayed there, by the name of Thomas Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Indian Tommy? A. No, sir, I didn't know any.

By Mr. Cruce: Objected to as leading.

Q. Was there any Indian woman living there during that time, or any Indian girl? A. No, sir.

Q. Was there any person there by the name of Minnie or Minnie Atkins?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

A. No Indian people there at all. No light persons up there at all. I was the oldest person there all the time that I was there.

Q. Was there any person there called Minnie Atkins or Minnie?

A. No, sir, I don't know of any person by that name.

Q. Where were you married after living there?

A. St. Joseph, Missouri.

Q. You say that was several months after you left Granny Letcher's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. To whom were you married? A. Edward Bell.

Q. Did he have any middle initial?

A. No, sir, not that I know of.

Q. Were you ever married to any one else? A. No, sir.

Q. What was your maiden name? A. Nettie Mabry.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. How old are you? A. I can't tell you exactly.

Q. What? A. I can't tell exactly how old I am.

Q. Was your husband a white man or a black man?

A. He was a light man about my color.

Q. Well, what is your color?

A. He wasn't black, I don't know what you call it, he was a colored man though.

Q. You are a colored woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember what year it was when Granny was living over there on Seneca Street?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. You don't remember? Well, have you any idea when she lived there?

A. No, sir, I can't tell exactly what year it was in when she lived there. It has been so long I don't know.

Q. What time of the year if you know was it that she was living there? A. Sir?

Q. What time of the year was it in the spring of the year?

A. I was there in the spring and in the winter too. I was there nearly two years.

Q. '85 or——

A. I can't tell that because I don't know exactly what year it was.

Q. Have you any idea? A. No, sir, I haven't.

Q. Do you know what year this is?

A. This is 1916.

Q. Well, can you count back and give us your best judgment? A. I can't count back that far.

Q. Well, do you think it was 1895 or '96, or——

> By Mr. Allen: I expect you people would want to cross examine this witness on the date of her marriage, and we have here the certified copy of the marriage license, if there is no objection to the form of the certificate, we will introduce it in evidence at this time.

Q. What are you doing now, Nettie, for a living?

A. I wash some, I have a friend who takes care of me.

Q. What?

A. I wash sometimes when I get it and when I ain't I have a friend that takes care of me.

Q. A lady friend? A. No, sir.

Q. You have a gentleman friend? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You mean? A. Mr. Brown.

Q. Mr. Brown? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you married to him? A. No, sir.

Q. You are living in adultery with him?

A. I have him two years, I am living with him, yes, sir.

Q. Sleeping with him? A. I do.

> By Mr. Allen: We now offer in evidence in connection with our direct examination of this witness, certified copy of the marriage license, showing the marriage of the witness to Edward L. Bell.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and not properly identified.

Mr. Mr. Hanford: We object to it as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, but waive objection as to the form of the certificate.

By Mr. Cruce: Mr. Page objects on the ground that it is immaterial.

By Mr. Allen: I will withdraw the offer. I haven't offered it.

By Mr. Blakeney: I withdraw any objection as to the identification.

By Mr. Allen: All right, I want it in the record. (Marked Government's Exhibit 55.)

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Nettie, where did you meet Jim Mayo? A. St. Joe.

Q. Met him up there?

A. That is where I first seen him.

Q. How long did you live with him up there?

A. I didn't live with him up there at all.

Q. When did you come to Leavenworth, how long after meeting him? A. After I first met him?

Q. Yes?

A. About a week after he came up there I went down to Leavenworth with him.

A. I haven't any people, no kinds. My parents died when I was little.

Q. Who were you living with? A. Susan Smith.

Q. How old were you?

A. I don't know exactly how old I was. If I had known how old I was then I would have knowed it now.

Q. How big a girl were you?

A. I was a young girl wearing long dresses.

Q. Did you ever go to school? A. For a while.

Q. How long after you had been to school when you met Jim? A. I hadn't been to school for a long time.

Q. How long had you been living with Susan when you met Jim?

A. I made that my home, I had been there off and on for a couple of years or more.

Q. Had been there for a couple of years?

A. Yes, sir, when I wasn't working at places off and on like that, I made it my home.

Q. You wasn't working any place when you met Jim?

A. I was not.

Q. Just living there with Susan?

A. Yes, her and her husband and family.

Q. About a week later Jim came back and got you?

A. He did.

Q. And took you down to Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did he take you?

A. Seneca Street to his mother's.

Q. What time of year was it?

A. Warm weather when I went there then.

Q. In the summer time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About the middle of the summer?

A. I don't know whether it was the middle or not, I don't know what weather it was, it wasn't cold weather it was warm weather, they were playing baseball there.

Q. It was baseball season? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you work any place in Leavenworth?

A. I did not.

Q. What did you do? A. I didn't do anything.

Q. Just stayed there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you stay any other place? A. No, sir.

Q. Who else was there while you were there?

A. Where, at Mrs. Letcher's?

Q. Yes? A. Her family.

Q. Who were there, who were they?

A. This little Walter she was raising, and Sam Nash and Jim.

Q. Anybody else?

A. When I first went there she used to have the soldiers and things come, she kept a rooming house.

Q. She kept a rooming house and soldiers came in?

A. They used to come there now and then when they were discharged from the Fort, used to come there and get rooms over night.

Q. Who else was there?

A. A woman named Mrs. Stuart, she used to be there. I ain't positive, lived in the rear.

Q. Where did she come from?

A. Some little country town.

Q. Was she a colored woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were these soldiers colored or white? A. Colored.

Q. Colored soldiers? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did anybody else live with Granny while you were there?

A. No, one, only that colored lady that lived in the rear, Mrs. Stuart, I think that is the name, I wouldn't be positive but I think that is her name.

Q. How long did she live there?

A. I think she was living there when I left there, her and her husband and another woman, dark lady.

Q. How long did she live there all together?

A. I can't tell you how long she lived there.

Q. A week or two weeks?

A. No, she was living there, rooming, that was all.

Q. Can you say less than a year or a month?

A. I can't tell how long she stayed there after I was gone and living away from there.

Q. How long did she stay there before you went away?

A. She was there two or three months while I was there.

Q. She was there two or three months while you were there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know anybody else?

A. Wasn't nobody else there.

Q. None there at all?

A. No one lived there at that time I was there.

Q. Just people that boarded there?

A. They didn't board, just came there and stayed at nights is all.

Q. Were the Stocks there when you was there?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't know about them? A. No, sir.

Q. You don't know of anybody that lived there regularly, just people that came there for the night?

A. Just that one woman?

Q. Just that one woman, Stuart?

A. Her and her husband, she wasn't alone, she had a husband.

Q. You have named them. I am asking for others that lived there?

A. Well, there wasn't any others that regularly stayed there. Sometimes soldiers would come there going to the Fort and come there and get a room until the next morning or something.

Q. Nettie, you are sure nobody else lived there?

A. I know there wasn't when I lived there.

Q. You were there all the time?

A. Wasn't no one stayed there then only the ones I told you of.

Q. How long were you there?

A. I told you pretty near two years, quite two years.

Q. You mean not quite two years?

A. I don't say no full two years, I said very near as well as I can remember, I wasn't there any longer than two years, and no shorter than that I don't guess. I know I didn't live there no longer than two.

Q. You know that you lived there with Jim Mayo about two years?

A. The whole time that I was in Leavenworth, I lived with him.

Q. Where did Laura Hudson live when you lived in Leavenworth? A. I didn't know anything about her.

Q. You don't know her? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Don't know where she lived? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. You didn't know the Scott's? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Now, how long after you left Letcher's were you married to Bell?

A. I said about four months, maybe not that, somewhere along about that long, wasn't a year I know.

Q. Wasn't a year? A. No.

Q. About half a year, you think it was three or four months? A. That is what I said at first.

By Mr. Blakeney: Let her answer the questions.

Q. Did she answer it? A. I did.

Q. And it was about that time, three or four months?

A. I guess it was about that time.

Q. Were there any children, any babies around there when you were around there?

A. None but that one, that Stuart woman had the back there.

Q. Did Granny take care of other people's children?

A. Not that I know of, only Walter, the only child that I knew of her taking care of, and he was wearing pants.

Q. Didn't she take care of babies for girls working out?

A. Never taken no care of babies while I was there, I don't know what she did after I left.

Q. You don't know anything about it?

A. She never taken care of no babies while I was there, no, sir.

Q. You were married in January, 1889?

A. 31st day of January.

Q. Thirty-first day of January? Then, you think that you left Letcher's along in the fall? What time of year was it when you went away from Letcher's?

A. It wasn't cold weather.

Q. It was still warm weather? A. Yes.

Q. Was it hot weather? A. No, it wasn't hot.

Q. Well, what time of year do you think it was?

A. I ain't going to say, because I am not going to sit up here and tell no story, because I don't know, I don't remember enough—never kept no account of it.

Q. The only thing you remember was that it was warm weather? A. Summer months, I don't know.

Q. Is that right, warm weather?

A. I say it wasn't cold weather. Yes, sir, I guess it was warm weather, if you want me to just go out and say that.

Q. Well then it was in the warm weather in 1888, the year before was it? A. Year before what?

Q. The year before you were married?

A. Why I wasn't away from there the year before I was married, I said.

Q. I say it was in the warm weather of the preceding year that you went away from Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir, I think it was.

Q. Who lived next door to Granny when you lived there?

A. I don't know who it was.

Q. You don't know anybody that lived next door?

A. I don't. Wasn't but one house on one side and the other side was a lumber yard. I never knew who those people were. Those were white people. I don't know who lived in there.

Q. You don't know who lived in the house on the other side away from the lumber yard?

A. Wasn't but that one house. This house sets on the east—a stone house on the——

Q. Who lived in the house?

A. I don't know, white people.

Q. Were there any colored people in that stone house?

A. Not that I know of. I never seen any.

Q. That house had two parts to it? A. Sir?

Q. Did that house have two parts to it?

A. I can't tell you I never was in the yard.

Q. Who was Emma Woods?

A. Alice Woods' daughter, I think.

Q. Who was Alice Woods?

A. A colored woman is all I know. Lived as you go out toward the brewery, is all I know. Mrs. Woods, I knew her daughter.

Q. What was her daughter's name? A. Emma, I think.

Q. Emma? What brewery was that?

A. I don't know what brewery it was. I don't know whether Rochester or what one it was.

Q. Lived out toward the brewery?

A. Out that way, yes. I don't know what the street is next about the lumber yard and straight up that way. I don't know what the next street is.

Q. Did she live there all the time you were in Leavenworth? A. She was living there when I left there.

Q. You don't know when she moved away from there?

A. No, sir. Her mother is dead now. I don't know when she moved away.

Q. Did she live next door to you while you were at the Letcher's?

A. No, sir. I say she lived up next as you go out toward the brewery.

Q. How do you know that. Did you see her there?

A. I used to go there. Used to visit her.

Q. You knew her daughter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you get acquainted with her daughter?

A. Leavenworth.

Q. Where did she live when you got acquainted with her?

A. Up there toward the brewery.

Q. The same place? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was Jim doing when you lived with him?

A. I don't know what he was doing.

Q. You don't know anything about what he did? A. No.

Q. How did he make any money?

A. Around in the pool halls, I guess. I don't know.

Q. You don't know any business that he had or any work that he did at all?

A. Nothing more than being around the baseball team and around the pool hall.

Q. Just playing baseball?

A. He had a team at one time there, baseball team or whatever you call it. I don't know.

Q. What did he do in the Winter?

A. I don't know what he did in the winter. I don't know how he made his living. I don't know.

Q. You were there in the winter?

A. I was. I don't know whether he gambled or what he did. He taken care of me is all I know. I don't know what he did.

Q. How many—— He had this baseball team you say?

A. He did at the time that I met him in St. Joe, yes, sir. He was up there with a baseball game.

Q. He was up there to a baseball game?

A. With one, yes, sir. I think him and some of the boys he taken [] Leavenworth was with him.

Q. How long did he have that ball game?

A. I don't know.

Q. That is all you ever knew about him doing was having a ball game?

A. Yes. Saloons and things were open. I don't know how he made his living. Gambled I guess. I don't know.

Q. You came there in warm weather you say?

A. Yes, sir, it was kinda warm.

Q. And you were there that same winter?

A. I was there. I said very near two years.

Q. Were you there the next summer?

A. I was only when I would go back home and stay a couple of days, something like that.

Q. You went home sometimes?

A. I did, whenever I taken the notion I wanted to go I went.

Q. What was the longest you ever stayed home?

A. While I was in Leavenworth?

Q. Yes?

A. I would go up there sometimes and stay three or four days and sometimes a week. That is the longest I stayed.

Q. That is the longest you stayed?

A. No, I never did stay longer than that until I went home and stayed for good.

Q. What did Jim do the next summer?

A. One year we went away on a boat, government boat.

Q. Where did you go?

A. Went as far as Lockston with it. Cooked on there. Taking in government land, yes.

Q. What was that a drainage?

A. One of them tugs with a house on it, tables and things.

Q. The boat was working on the river?

A. Yes, sir, the boat pushes derricks and things, derricks taking up government land, putting down stone slabs in different places.

Q. Building breakwater?

A. No, sir, putting up stones and things.

Q. How long were you on that boat, all the summer?

A. No, sir, not more than about a month. Went as far as Lockston and quit them at Lockston, Missouri.

Q. Did Jim go with you?

A. Yes, sir, me and him cooked on it.

Q. What did you do after that?

A. I didn't do anything.

Q. Did you do any other work besides that?

A. That is the only work ever I did the whole time I was in Leavenworth. I just went there to be going. Just went to working on there just to be going. Just to say I was on a boat.

Q. Just for the trip.

A. That is all, just to be going.

Q. When was that? Was that the first time you came to Leavenworth or the——

A. I never went away and stayed over there a year. It was while I was in Leavenworth.

Q. It was during the time you were in Leavenworth?

A. Sure.

Q. How long after you had met Jim?

A. I guess I had been there a year then, when those boats came into Leavenworth. They were starting a port I think that is what they were.

Q. Had you been there a long time or short time?

A. Been there a good while, for a year anyway.

Q. Now how long after you went on that trip did you leave Leavenworth? A. After I got back, you mean?

Q. Yes?

A. Very near a year, I guess, after that before I went home.

Q. You think it was about a year after that that you got married? A. It wasn't no year after I left him that I married.

Q. No, I am calling your attention to the time you went on this boat?

A. I know what you are speaking about the boat.

Q. Now from the time that you worked on the boat how long was it before you got married?

A. It was over a year or more after that.

Q. Over a year or more after that?

A. Until I married, yes, from the time I left off of the boat and then went home it was over a year. That would made two years and a little more.

Q. What was the name of that boat?

A. The boat didn't have no name only the captain. It was Captain Wellman's boat.

Q. Wellman?

A. Yes, sir, nothing on there but man taking in government land and Jim taken the kitchen. Two or three boats went out. I think that is what the name was, Capt. Wellman.

Q. You think the boat started from the Fort?

A. I think it did. I don't know. It was a government boat I think.

Q. When did you go aboard the boat?

A. I don't know. I thought I went to the Fort. I don't know where I did go with Jim to that boat. I know there was two or three of them and Jim taken one. There was two or three of them went out. The river there somewhere they went out on.

Q. What kind of boats were they?

A. Just tug boats, a little house on them. There was a bridge thing I guess you would call it one end of the steamer.

Q. A steamer pulled the other boat?

A. Pulled the tugs the house was on.

Q. The tug pulled the other boat did it?

A. The tug couldn't pull the other, had to have an engine to it, a little steering wheel.

Q. A little steering wheel tug was it?

A. Steamer I guess it was. This bridge, I don't know what you call it, you know what I have reference to.

Q. How many was it?

A. Just that one. The house carried the stone on the engine part. The house was setting on the tug part, a steamer pulled this other part and there is where they would put their things.

Q. Did you have any children when you were in Leavenworth? A. No, haven't had none yet.

Q. Never did have? A. No.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You met Jim Mayo in St. Joseph? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old were you then? A. I don't know.

Q. How large were you then?

A. I always was large for my age. Pretty near as large as I am now.

Q. You were grown? A. No, sir, I wasn't grown.

Q. What were you doing at that time? A. Sir?

Q. What were you doing at that time?

A. Well, I was wasn't doing anything right then.

Q. Where were you living? A. 18th and Mesina.

Q. With whom? A. With Susan Smith.

Mr. Allen: I want to object at this time to the cross-examination of this witness upon matters gone over by Mr. Hanford and the witness has been thoroughly interrogated about all the matters brought out in the direct. We object to the further cross-examination of the witness and ask that this objection go to each question.

Mr. Blakeney: I am unwilling to take counsel's judgment as to whether it has been thorough or not.

Mr. Allen: Are you willing for the objection to go to each question?

Mr. Blakeney: Yes, sir, each question to-day and tonight.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You say you didn't have any children?

A. No, I didn't have no children.

Q. Didn't have any children at all while you were at Granny's? A. No.

Q. Did you have anybody else's children? A. Why, no.

Q. Well, didn't you take care of some babies?

A. I never did take care of anybody's babies. No, never had no babies. If I had had one I sure would knowed it.

Q. Didn't you take care of babies for women that worked out? A. Never took care of anybody's babies.

Q. How was Mary Lower—— A. I don't know.

Q. Don't know her? A. Don't know who she was.

Q. Didn't you ever take care of any babies?

A. No, I didn't.

Q. Did you ever know Mary Lower? A. No, I didn't.

Q. Didn't you take care of a little girl for a woman named Lower?

A. I said I never taken care of any children. If I had taken care I would have knowed it.

Q. Didn't Granny take care of one for her?

A. I don't know. She never taken care of any while I was there. Only this Walter.

Q. If she had taken care of it would you have known it?

A. I suppose I would.

Q. Who was Etta? A. I don't know any Etta.

Q. Don't know any Etta Lower?

Q. I never heard of her until now. If I did I don't remember.

Q. You don't know any Mrs. Scott? A. I don't.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Is your manner of answering questions—— A. Sir?

Q. Is your manner of answering questions a natural one?

A. My natural one.

Q. The answers that you have made to Mr. Hanford in cross examination, has it been entirely natural—a natural one?

A. Of speaking?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir, as far as I know.

Q. You haven't been prompted by any anger or indignation? A. No, sir.

Q. Who did you say you was living with in St. Joe now?

A. Susan Smith.

Q. Who was Susan Smith?

A. Why a woman, Susan Smith, is all I know.

Q. That is all you know about her?

A. Yes, sir. She had children. Been there a good while.

Q. She was a married woman? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Had children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were living with her?

A. I made it my home there when I wasn't working.

Q. What children did she have?

A. She had a daughter named Maggie. She had one named William, Will Sherman, his name was.

Q. How old was Maggie?

A. Maggie was then about ten or twelve years old and her son was grown going to school.

Q. And some other children besides the two you named?

A. Yes, sir, but I can't think of their names now. She had four, I think, four or five.

Q. You was working out at that time?

A. Not right then I wasn't. I used to work out. When I wasn't working I made my home there. I didn't have no people, kin or nothing.

Q. Had you ever gone to school any?

A. Yes, sir, I went to school a little.

Q. Where about? A. St. Joe.

Q. When did you go to school at St. Joe? How long before you commenced living with Susan Smith?

A. I haven't went to school since I was small—— Since I lived with my adopted mother.

Q. How many years?

A. I haven't went to school for about five or six years I guess. Longer than that.

Q. Been out working five or six years before you went to Susan Smith's? A. At different places, yes, sir.

Q. And how long did you live at Susan Smith's?

A. I don't know how long I lived there.

Q. Did you pay board at Susan Smith's?

A. No, sir, just made it my home.

Q. Any other girls there besides yourself?

A. Only her children.

Q. So Jim Mayo came over there with a base ball team?

A. That is the first time ever I seen him.

Q. Did you go to the ball game? A. Who, me?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. Did Jim play on the team?

A. I guess he played on it. I don't know.

Q. You don't know whether he played on it or not?

A. No, I know he was there with it.

Q. Was it a colored team? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mail boys?

A. I never seen them. I guess boys, young men or something. I never seen them.

Q. You never saw any of the players? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you understand Jim was taking the team around from place to place playing for exhibition?

A. No, in different places. I don't guess he was. I know how he happened to be up there. He was with them he said.

Q. What did you understand that team's name, Leavenworth colored team playing the St. Joe team?

A. No, sir, I didn't know anything about it.

Q. Well, how did you happen to meet Jim?

A. How did I happen to meet him?

Q. Yes?

A. Through a friend of his came from Leavenworth.

Q. What was that friend's name?

A. I don't know, he brought him out to the house there. And he got to talking to me.

Q. This friend brought him out? A. Yes.

Q. And you don't know that friend's name?

A. No, I don't know him now.

Q. You are sure now you don't [] it? A. Yes.

Q. If you knew the name would you tell me? A. Sure.

Q. Have you ever seen that friend since? A. No, sir.

Q. Man or woman? A. Man.

Q. How long have you known that friend?

A. Which friend?

Q. The friend of Jim's?

A. I wasn't to say personally acquainted with him at all.

Q. Had you seen him before?

A. I had seen him once before.

Q. Where? Down at the house?

A. Out there at Mrs. Smith's.

Q. Did you have a good deal of company out there at Mrs. Smith's? A. No, sir.

Q. You saw Jim after the game of ball had been played did you? A. Yes, sir, he came back out to the house.

Q. About what time of the day did he come out?

A. Three or four o'clock.

Q. In the afternoon? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were introduced by this friend? A. Yes?

Q. What did Jim say to you?

A. I can't tell now all that man said to me.

Q. Well, did he make you a proposition to go and live with him?

A. He didn't make no proposition to go and live with him. He asked me to go to Leavenworth with him and I went.

Q. Asked you to go to Leavenworth with him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were living that kind of life at that time?

A. No, sir.

Q. Is that the first time you had ever gone with a man?

A. To live with a man, yes, sir.

Q. And you had had men come and live with you a short time?

A. No, I hadn't had men come and live with me a short time.

Q. The first man then that ever slept with you was Jim Mayo?

A. I think that is an improper question to ask me anything like that.

Q. Why do you think it is improper?

A. Because I don't think that it what I was here for.

Mr. Allen: We object to the question as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial—could possibl*e* shed no light upon the subject of inquiry.

Q. Now, how old were you at that time? Are you crying?

The Examiner: Do you desire to retire a minute?

(Witness retires.)

(Witness returns to room.)

Q. Did you go over there that evening there to Leavenworth with Jim? A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. When did you go?

A. I told you about a week after that.

Q. Did Jim stay there a week? A. Sir?

Q. Did Jim stay there with you until you went?

A. No, sir, he didn't.

Q. How long did Jim stay there?

A. Why he left that evening.

Q. About what time of the evening?

A. I don't know what time the train went out.

Q. What time did he leave your house?

A. I guess it must have been about six o'clock or four or five anyway. I don't know what time it was.

Q. You promised him when he left that you would come over, did you? A. I did.

Q. Did he leave you any money to pay your expenses over?

Mr. Allen: Answer it Etta.

A. No, sir, he didn't leave none.

Q. Did he send you any? A. He did.

Q. How did he send it? A. Sent it in a letter.

Q. Send the money or get a postoffice money order?

A. Sent it in a letter. He didn't send no postoffice order.

Q. He couldn't send a postoffice order in a letter could he? A. He could if he wished to but he didn't do it.

Q. What did he send in the letter?

A. Sent me a two dollar paper bill.

Q. Now then, you went over and went right direct to Granny Letcher's house did you?

A. No, I didn't go right there. I didn't know where it was at.

Q. Well, where at did you go?

A. Why, he met me at the depot.

Q. Then where did you go?

A. He took me to Granny Letcher's.

Q. Then you did go right to Granny Letcher's house?

A. I did.

Q. Did he introduce you to Granny Letcher?

A. Why certainly he did.

Q. How did he introduce you, as his wife?

A. Why she knew I wasn't none of his wife, no, sir.

Q. Just told her that this is Nettie that is going to live with me?

A. I don't know what he told her. He introduced me to her. I don't know what he told her afterwards. He didn't tell her that before me. She knew I wasn't none of his wife.

Q. That you say, was the first man you had lived with? Consecutively as his wife?

A. I never told anybody that I wasn't his wife. Ain't never told nobody that yet.

Q. You never claimed to be his wife?

A. No, I couldn't.

Q. Well, now after you got there what did you do?

A. What did I do?

Q. Yes? Just stay around the house?

A. I didn't do nothing.

Q. Just stayed around there house?

A. Sure. I stayed there in my room and went down stairs and around when I got ready.

Q. You had the liberty of the house, did you?

A. No, I had no possession of the house only my own part, my room, when I was there.

Q. I said you had the liberty. You were at liberty to go about the house when you wanted to? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you don't know what Jim——

A. I did not. I didn't see him do nothing. He didn't do nothing around there. I wasn't around out on the street where he was at but that one time.

Q. You was around one time where he was?

A. That one time. Out at the boat. I know he was working then.

Q. That was the only time?

A. Only particular job that I know that he had.

Q. Now to jump a little, you never lived with Jim Mayo but that one time?

A. Yes, sir, the only place I ever lived with him in Leavenworth.

Q. Well, you never lived with him any where else?

A. No, sir.

Q. How long did you say you had lived there now? With Jim before you went on this boat?

A. I said I thought it was somewhere along about a year before he went on that boat.

Q. It was summer time when you got over there? A. Sir?

Q. It was summer time? A. Warm weather, yes, sir.

Q. You know that they play baseball in the summer, don't you? A. Sure.

Q. So you went over in the summer time and you stayed about a year? A. Yes, I guess it was about that time.

Q. Now, why did you say guess? Are you in doubt—you know it was at least——

A. Well, I can't say exactly how long it was, about a year, any way.

Q. During that time you didn't know what Jim Mayo did for a living? A. No.

Q. Well, then you went up on a boat. This boat I believe is, as I understand, you say was a boat that went up to help survey land? A. Yes, sir. Putting up targets, I know that.

Q. Targets?

A. I guess that is what they call them. Is what I call them. What I used to hear them called when they were moving them. They were small things they made out of wire. Put cloth across them, two kinds, black cloth and white cloth.

Q. Where were they putting those?

A. Around—supposed to take in government land I guess they call it. I don't know what they call the thing. No one really explained it. I don't know what they were doing.

Q. Did you know Dennis Jones?

A. His name sounds familiar. I don't know whether I know him or not unless I would see him.

Q. Your husband was not the chief cook was he? He was an assistant cook? A. Whose husband?

Q. Yours? Or Jim Mayo. He was not the chief cook, was he?

A. He done most of it and I helped. Wasn't nobody on there but him and me.

Q. Just you two? A. Yes.

Q. How many boats? A. Only that one.

Q. You said three boats.

A. Two or three were on the river. I don't know when they started.

Q. Did you go on the boat at Fort Leavenworth?

A. Where the river was. I don't know.

Q. You didn't take a train and leave?

A. No, sir, went down the river.

Q. And got on the boat? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And which way did you go, up or down the river?

A. Went up the river I guess. Near Lackston.

Q. Lackston where?

A. Missouri. There is where we quit it. I don't know whether Lackston is up the river or down the river.

Q. You went to Lackston, Missouri?

A. There is where we quit, Lackston, Missouri, yes, sir.

Q. And you kept putting up targets on land?

A. These men went on there working. Those white fellows were on there putting them up. They were government business I know that. Called them that.

Q. How long were you out on that boat?

A. Not quite a month.

Q. Just worked about a month?

A. Not quite a month I don't think.

Q. And you got on at Lackston? A. On the boat.

Q. What did you do after you got off the boat?

A. When we got a train and came back to Leavenworth.

Q. Took a train and came back to Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Went to Granny Letcher's?

A. Went back there, yes, sir.

Q. How long did you stay there?

A. I don't [ ] exactly how long it was before I went home.

Q. Well, did you go anywhere else? A. Me?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir, not until I went home.

Q. You and Jim fell out, did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you fall out over?

A. What did we fall out over?

Q. Yes? A. Different things.

Q. Had a lot of grievances?

A. Got tired was one thing. When I got tired I went on home.

Q. Then you went home? A. Yes.

Q. What did you call the name Susan Smith?

A. St. Joe.

Q. Went to St. Joe? Where did you go when you got to St. Joe? A. Went to Susan Smith's.

Q. How long did you stay there?

A. Stayed at Susan's about three weeks and then went to Wathena, Kansas, and worked for Mr. Jones. Mr. Gregg's wife in St. Joe married to a hardware man in Wathena, Kansas.

Q. Do you know how to spell Wathena?

A. W-a-t-h-a-r-a-n-a.

Q. What was the name of the man you worked for?

A. Otto Jones. Married Mr. Gregg's daughter. He run a hardware store when I married. I was married from their house. I was working there when I got married and went to St. Joe.

Q. How long did you work there?

A. Clear up until I married and stayed there about a week after I married.

Q. I don't know when you married?

A. I said 1890. It was 1889.

Q. How long did you stay there? A. At Otto's?

Q. Yes?

A. Stayed there about two months I guess, until I married.

Q. And then you married who? A. Ed Bell.

Q. Are you still living with Bell?

A. No, sir, he is married again.

Q. Were you divorced from him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When? A. Before I got to Kansas City.

Q. Living in Kansas City now? A. 927 State Line.

Q. How long have you lived in Kansas City?

A. I don't know.

Q. How long?

A. I don't know. I don't know what year I came here in.

Q. The only periods of time you know is that you lived at Leavenworth two years?

A. I lived with my husband over a year.

Q. After you came here? A. Sir?

Q. Lived with your husband over a year after you got here? A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you live with your husband?

A. I got a divorce from my husband before I came to Kansas City.

Q. Where abouts? Where did you get the divorce?

A. St. Joe.

Q. Got it in a Court?

A. I know I never went to Court. He went to Court. I don't know nothing about no Court. He said he was going to Court but I didn't go.

Q. How long did you live in St. Joe after you got a divorce? A. Clear until I came to Kansas City.

Q. Did you understand my question? How long?

A. You asked me how long did I stay at home until I came to Kansas City.

Q. How long you stayed at St. Joe after you got a divorce? A. I don't know about four or five months I guess.

Q. Four or five months? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you came to Kansas City? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you do in Kansas City? A. What did I do?

Q. What did you do then in Kansas City?

A. I came down here with Mary Love.

Q. Who is Mary Love? A. She is dead.

Q. What did she do?

A. She didn't do anything. Her husband took care of her.

Q. You came down here with a married woman?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Lived together with them?

A. Well she lived here. She was at St. Joe on a visit. I had my own people here and I came on down here with her.

Q. Where did you live? With whom, when you first came?

A. With her. Came with her. Sixth and Rio Grande Avenue.

Q. How long did you live there? A. I don't know.

Q. What did you do for a living? A. Who?

Q. You, at that time?

A. Just go around here at the house and things.

Q. Just made your living around the house there?

A. Yes.

Q. Any other girls there besides you?

A. No, sir, but her.

Q. You and Mrs. Love? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The only two girls? A. She was.

Q. The only two women? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you stay around the house there?

A. Stayed there near all the time.

Q. Well, about how many years?

A. I lived with her about a year.

Q. What did Joe Love do?

A. His name wasn't Joe. His name was Sam.

Q. What did Sam do?

A. Worked in a saloon at that time. He is dead too.

Q. Worked in a saloon? A. He did at that time.

Q. What did he do after that?

A. I don't know what he did afterwards.

Q. He was just a notorious gambler around colored dives in Kansas City, wasn't he?

A. I don't know anything about him gambling. He was from my home and I never [] of him gambling in my life.

Q. Stayed there about a year you say? Then what did you go to doing? A. Went to taking care of myself.

Q. Well, how did you take care of yourself?

A. Got my own friend.

Q. Had your own friend every night, didn't you?

A. No, I didn't get no friend every night.

Q. You changed friends frequently? A. No.

Q. How long did you live with that friend? The first friend you got?

A. I lived with him out there about four years I guess.

Q. Then you quit him and got another friend, did you?

A. Well, I got one now.

Q. You feel sort of proud of the fact that you have lived that kind of a life don't you?

Mr. German: I object to that as incompetent and immaterial.

A. No. I don't know whether it is proud or not but I have got to have a living.

Mr. German: We have an objection to every question, haven't we. Every legal ground?

Mr. Blakeney: Legal and illegal.

A. I got to have some one to take care of me.

Q. I notice you smiled when you was telling about having a friend to take care of you?

A. Well, I cried a while ago and you all laughed at me and I just as well laugh with you.

Q. You say you never knew a woman named Anthony?

A. I did not.

Q. You never knew a little long-haired girl? A. No.

Q. Named Etta? A. No, sir.

Q. Etta Lowry? A. No, sir.

Q. Never knew of a girl of that name?

A. Not of that name.

Q. Never knew of a bright colored girl who lived there at Granny Letcher's named Etta?

A. Not at the time I was there.

Q. Well you never knew of one lived there when you didn't live there?

A. No, sir, any time that I know of.

Q. Nobody hired you to take care of that girl? A. No, sir.

Q. And none was there? A. No, sir.

Q. You know Sadie James? A. Who?

Q. Sadie James. Sadie Harris?

A. Not by the name, no, sir.

Q. You know a woman named Sadie?

A. I don't know none there.

Q. You don't know her there at Leavenworth?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't know her until you came here to Kansas City?

A. I didn't know her at all. Sadie Harris, no sir.

Q. You didn't know a girl named Sadie? A. No, sir.

Q. Who first talked to you about this case?

A. Hasn't any one talked to me about it only those gentlemen that came after me.

Q. What gentlemen?

A. That came and asked me if my name was Nettie.

Q. And then handed you a paper to come to court?

A. Never handed me nothing. I got no paper until yesterday.

Q. Who were those gentlemen?

A. I don't know who the men was. I never met him before.

Q. What did he tell you his name was?

A. I never asked him his name. He came down with the two police on the beat there. Emmett McClune one of the police.

Q. Would you know the man if you were to see him?

A. I don't know.

Q. Was that the gentleman there?

A. No, sir. It was another man. I think he had a grey mustache and broad brimmed hat. He is not in here I don't think. I think he had a mustache. I didn't pay that much attention.

> Mr. Allen: I desire to suggest for the benefit of counsel if he desires to find out the truth of the situation that the return will show that the United States Marshal served her.

Q. What did they say to you when they came down?

A. Never said nothing. Asked if my name was Nettie. Emmett knew who I was. He was on the beat there next below here.

Q. You always knew the policeman on the block there didn't you? A. Can't help but know them.

Q. Now Nettie that was the first person that had ever been down to see you about this case? A. Who?

Q. The man that came with Emmett, the policeman?

A. No, he wasn't the first one ever I seen.

Q. About this case, what you knew about it, what you recalled about Leavenworth, he was the first one you ever seen?

A. I said I didn't say a thing about that, no. Emmett don't know what I knowed about that.

Q. Alright, who was the first? A. Who was the first?

Q. Who was the first man ever talked to you about this case? A. Wanted to know my name.

Q. Wanted to know what you knew about this case?

A. That is the first gentleman I seen.

Q. Mr. Robinson?

A. I don't know what his name is. The first man I seen.

Q. When did he come?

A. That Sunday it rained so, about two weeks ago, I guess, two or three weeks ago.

Q. About two weeks ago? A. Two or three.

Q. What did he say to you?

A. He didn't say nothing, asked me what my name was, was all. I had no talk with him at all.

Q. He just asked you your name?

A. Asked me if my name was Nettie; he didn't know exactly where I lived then. I seen them in an automobile again passing where I lived.

Q. Who was with him in the automobile?

A. I don't know who the gentleman was.

Q. A one armed gentleman? A. No, he had two arms.

Q. Only two of them? A. That is all.

Q. They went by your place and came back and asked you if your name was Nettie?

A. Yes, I guess some one took them there, I knew they didn't know me.

Q. And you told them yes?

A. Told them my name was Nettie, yes, sir.

Q. Then what did you say?

A. They asked me if I ever lived in Leavenworth?

Q. What did you say? A. I told them I did.

Q. What did he say?

A. Why he asked me if I knew this woman named Letcher.

Q. Then what did you say?

A. I said slightly acquainted with her, I knowed her, I lived there; I didn't know who they were though.

Q. You were just slightly acquainted with her?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was what you told him?

A. Told him that I lived there.

Q. You told him you were slightly acquainted with him?

A. I told him I lived there.

Q. Then you didn't tell him you were slightly acquainted with her? A. Told him——

Q. I insist on the question?

The Examiner: Answer the question.

A. I said that I—I told him that I did live there, after he found out where I had first known her.

Q. Why did you tell him you were slightly acquainted with her?

Mr. Allen: Object to that as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and argument.

A. I had an idea somebody was going to ask me about something I didn't know anything about.

Q. You knew something about this, didn't you?

A. No, I don't know, a thing about it to yet.

Q. You asked him who he was?

A. I didn't; he told me who he was before he went out. I started to ask him before they went out. He said he would just explain to her who we are.

Q. What did he say he was?

A. I don't know whether he said a Pinkerton or who he was; some kind of a detective. One was a government man, I know that.

Q. The other was a government man?

A. Something, yes.

Q. Do you know his name?

A. I can't call it now if I try; can't call his. I never seen the man before.

Q. And who did the talking, the government man or——

A. Both talked.

Q. They both talked? A. Talked a little.

Q. Is the government man here, look around and look at all these handsome gentlemen? A. There he is.

Q. Mr. McMillan, the government man, that is what he said?

A. I think that is what he said, I know this is him.

Q. When he said he was a government man then you were going to get in with him, wasn't you?

A. It was nothing to me.

Mr. Allen: Let the record show that the witness pointed to Mr. A. G. McMillan.

Q. Haven't you all of your life been following an occupation that made it necessary for you to court or to stand in with public officers? A. No, I haven't.

Q. And haven't you always tried to do it?

A. What doing about policemen. Me stand in with public officers.

Q. Have you ever been fined?

A. Yes, sir, I have been fined.

Q. How often have you been fined?

A. I don't think that is anything——

Mr. Allen: We want to object to this question and each, every and all of the subsequent questions to this witness upon the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, in addition to the other objections.

Mr. Blakeney: If counsel has any objections now to this line of questions I just ask, I insist that it be specifically interposed.

Mr. Allen: I am objecting merely in the interest of time as it could have no earthly effect upon her testimony, throw no light upon the testimony of this witness.

Q. How many times have you been fined?

A. I don't know sir.

Mr. Blakeney: If counsel has any objections to these questions, I want them interposed.

Mr. Allen: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, and improper cross examination.

Q. What were you fined for?

Mr. German: The same objection.

A. That hasn't anything to do with this what I was fined for, nothing I ever did here.

Mr. Allen: Go ahead and answer the question.

A. Disturbing the peace, all they had against me.

Q. What had you done? A. I didn't do nothing.

Mr. Allen: The same objection.

A. Wasn't fined every month nor every year either.

Q. You paid a fine? A. Yes, I paid a fine.

Q. At regular intervals as a lude character?

A. No, as far as paying a fine, I never paid the city nothing, I worked it out.

Q. You worked it out?

A. Yes, before I pay them, yes.

Q. How often have you worked out a fine to the city?

Mr. German: The same objection.

Q. I insist on the answer?

Mr. Allen: Answer the question.

A. Worked it out twice.

Q. Twice? One time you say was disturbing the peace, what was the other time?

A. I said disturbing the peace, the time I had been arrested. They had charged against me disturbing the peace, that is what they told me at the court.

Q. You were out making your own living when these fines——

A. I wasn't out anywhere. One time I was down here at home. You can't disturb the peace they say sometimes at home. I wasn't out on no street.

Q. Were you ever married since living with this last man? A. That is the only time I ever was married.

Q. How long ago?

A. The 29th of last March a year ago.

Q. That was the last time? A. That was the last time.

Q. When was the time before that?

Mr. Allen: The same objection.

A. I don't know [] long it was before that, two or three months. That was the last time though I was arrested, the 29th day of last March.

Q. Now what else did these government officers tell you; they were talking to you?

A. I don't know I never written down the things they asked me, and I can't think of them; I never paid it no mind after that anyway, to tell the truth.

Q. Was a colored woman there named Sadie?

A. No, sir, there wasn't.

Q. When did you last see Sadie?

A. I don't know no Sadie.

Q. Are you intending to tell this Court that you don't know a colored woman named Sadie? A. I don't.

Q. Have you ever talked to a colored woman who claimed to be Sadie? A. No.

Q. You never have?

A. I know one Sadie, her name was Sadie Alexander, she died here about two weeks ago. There are a lot of people named Sadie, but I don't know that Sadie you are speaking about.

Q. Where did Sadie Alexander live?

A. She lived in Kansas, buried her last Thursday. She went with this fellow Alex.

Q. You never heard of Sadie James?

A. No, not that I know of, don't know anything about it.

Q. Any colored person ever talk to you about this case?

A. No, sir, never have.

Q. Never have?

A. No, sir, I didn't know anything about it until them gentlemen came there.

Q. You didn't know Sadie James around Letcher's?

A. No, sir, I don't know no Sadie, I told you.

Q. Sadie Harris, Sadie Hopkins, or Sadie James?

A. No, sir, I don't know none of them, if I do I don't remember them unless I see them face to face, been so long since

I have been in Leavenworth, I wouldn't know anything about it, wouldn't know how to go through Leavenworth.

Q. Was any girl named Sadie living at Letcher's while you were living there? A. I said there wasn't.

Q. Did you ever go out on the street while living in Leavenworth? A. Sure, been out on the street.

Q. Do you know where George Crilly's place was?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Where the livery stable was?

A. Where Crilly & Cranston was, right across the street from old lady Letcher's.

Q. Were you ever over there?

A. I had no business over there.

Q. What?

A. I had no business over in that livery barn.

Q. Well, do you know Mr. Crilly?

A. I do know him when I seen him.

Q. Who else do you know in Leavenworth, white people in Leavenworth?

A. I don't know none by names; I wouldn't known them if they hadn't been across the street there.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Nettie, when did you live at Second and Seneca?

A. Second and——

Q. And Seneca in Leavenworth?

A. Second and Seneca, don't you——

Q. Didn't you and Jim run a restaurant?

A. Not in Leavenworth, no, sir.

Q. You say you didn't run a restaurant in Leavenworth?

A. No, I didn't run no restaurant in Leavenworth.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. On cross examination by Mr. Hanford, Nettie, you said that there was a colored woman at Granny Letcher's that had a baby, where?

Mr. Hanford: I object to statement of counsel as a misstatement of the evidence.

Q. Did you say on cross examination by Mr. Hanford that you saw a baby there, and saw the baby's mother at Granny Letcher's? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Hanford: I move to strike the answer, made before I could interpose an objection, upon the ground that the question—and object to the question on the ground that it is based upon a misstatement of the evidence and is leading.

Mr. Cruce: Misconception.

Q. Do you know whether that baby was the baby of Mary Anthony or not?

A. I don't know anything like that, no, sir, I don't remember it.

Q. You don't remember it?

A. No, sir, the only woman that I know that lived back there, I think her name was Stewart, I ain't positive of that, she was dark.

Q. She was a colored woman, though?

A. Yes, sir, dark.

Q. How old was that baby when you left Granny Letcher's?

A. I don't think they had quite put it in short clothes yet, a little thing.

Q. Was it as much as a year old when you left down there?

A. No, sir, a little thing, I don't think it was put in short clothes yet, it has been so long I can't remember, I know there was a little baby there.

Q. Is that the baby you mentioned in your cross examination?

A. The only baby I mentioned outside of this little boy Walter.

Q. Outside of that baby now, Walter Banks was the youngest person there?

Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading.

A. Outside of this baby?

Q. Was Walter Banks the only child there outside of that little baby? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as leading.

A. The only one I know of, this little baby.

Q. Was that little baby there when you left at Granny Letcher's? A. I think she was, yes, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Was that baby born there? A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Richard Joseph Winfield, taken before Mr. Penick, beginning at page 2336.

And thereupon, RICHARD JOSEPH WINFIELD being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. Richard Joseph Winfield.
Q. Where do you live? A. 407 Kickapoo street.
Q. Your age? A. 48.
Q. Where were you born? A. Leavenworth, Kansas.
Q. You lived there all your life?
A. Well the biggest portion of my life in and out.
Q. Did you know Granny Letcher about the time she commenced living on Seneca Street?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

A. Yes, sir.
Q. How long after that did you know her?
A. Well, I knew her up until her death.
Q. State whether or not you visited at the Letcher home?
A. I were around there a good deal, yes.
Q. Where did she live at that time?
A. On Seneca street between Third and Second on the South side of the street.
Q. Where, with reference to Crilly's barn?
A. Cata-cornered across from Crilly's barn, a big frame.
Q. How often would you go there?
A. Well, sometimes it would be two or three times in the week, I would be around there in and out in the yard.
Q. You say that continued as long as she lived on Seneca Street? A. No, not as long as she lived there.
Q. How long did you continue to go there?
A. Well, I guess it was some two or three years or more, while I was a boy, running around carrying papers and a boot black.
Q. While you were a boy carrying papers?
A. I was at that time, yes.
Q. Did you ever see an Indian girl there, or woman?
A. Not to my remembrance.
Q. Did you ever see an Indian girl there, named Minnie or Indian Minnie? A. No, sir, not—I don't remember it.
Q. Did you ever see a boy there named Indian Tommy or Tommy Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever know of one staying around the Granny Letcher's home? A. Not to my knowing, no, sir.

Q. Who composed the Letcher family?

Q. Who composed it?

Q. Who lived there with Granny Letcher?

A. Well I can't tell you that because most of the time I was there in the evening.

Q. What boys lived there with Granny Letcher?

A. There was Jim Mayo, they called him, and there was another boy there, I can't think of his name just at present. He was a brown skinned boy, I can't think of his name now. He was a grandchild—of Mrs. Letcher, I can't think of his name right now.

Q. To refresh your memory, was it Walter Banks?

A. Walter Banks, that is right.

Q. Was he ever called, Walter Johnston?

A. Not to my knowing of, he may have.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. When were you born? A. Born in 1868.

Q. 1868? A. 1868.

Q. How long did you carry papers?

A. Oh, I don't know just exactly, I carried them most of the time while I was going to school largely; that was the way I had of helping myself in going to school. I guess six or eight years or more.

Q. How old were you when you used to go around Granny Letcher's?

A. Well, I don't remember now, between I guess 16 and 17 years old, I guess, or younger than that, I disremember now how old I was.

Q. What did you do around there?

A. Just go out there, just like boys do, go in and out. You see we were together and would wait for the time to go and get papers, playing marbles, or something like that, playing ball, or something like that, and go on and finish up.

Q. Just went in there in the evening?

A. In the evening.

Q. Sort of a gathering place?

A. Sort of a gathering place like boys have that play together.

Q. You didn't pay any attention to who was in the house? A. No, never paid much attention to them.

Q. Who came and went?

A. No, I didn't pay any attention to that.

Q. Didn't know anything about any night lice?

A. No, I didn't know about the night lice, I was home.

Q. You didn't know who stayed there?

A. Outside of Jim Mayo and these other boys. I knew they lived there because they called that home, and made their home there.

Q. You didn't know anything about any children at all?

A. Not to my remembrance; I didn't pay that much attention when I was around there after that.

Q. What are you doing now? A. Barber.

Q. Working at your trade? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is your place of business?

A. 212 Shawnee street.

Q. How long have you been a barber?

A. I have been a barber now for fourteen years.

Q. In Leavenworth all the time? A. No.

Q. Worked out of town part of the time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What other places did you work?

A. I worked in—I learned my trade in Ottumwa, Iowa.

Q. Ottumwa, Iowa? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old were you then?

A. I guess 20 years, or 2 or 3 something like that.

Q. A young fellow? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go there from Leavenworth?

A. No, I went there from Omaha.

Q. Went to Omaha and then to Ottumwa? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go to Omaha from Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you live in Omaha?

A. I was only there about six months, I guess.

Q. Now, you said you were carrying papers when you were 16 or 17 years old?

A. Somewhere along in there, I guess it was.

Q. That was about the time you used to go around Granny Letcher's? A. Yes.

Q. Then did you stop going around there after that time?

A. Oh, yes, I stopped going around there; of course when I was around here I used to go around there once in a great while, just go by there, and stop and talk, or something like that with Jim.

Q. As far as being around there, and you said that you were—you didn't go around there after you were 16 or 17 years old? A. No, I never frequented that place at all no more.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You carried a paper route, or were you selling papers?

A. Selling papers around town.

Q. Evening paper or—— A. Evening paper, yes, sir.

Q. What paper were you selling?

A. I think it was called the Evening Sun, I believe, at that time, or something like that, it was a little paper.

Q. Where was it printed?

A. On Edwards Street, I think.

Q. How far from Granny Letcher's home?

A. That would be just, ah, about two blocks down there, between Second and Third.

Q. Did you go to school, in the day time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And after four o'clock you would go down and get papers to sell?

A. Yes, sir, and then go back home and do my other night work for my people.

Q. After you got done selling papers you went home?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old were you when you quit selling papers?

A. Well, I disremember myself, I didn't pay much attention to that.

Q. See if you can now fix about the date. Now lets get it accurate, if you can. About how old were you when you quit selling papers?

A. I don't know, I guess I was about 17 years old, I guess, or maybe——

Q. You think you were about 17 years of age?

A. Close onto that anyway.

Q. You were born in 68? A. Yes.

Q. What time of the year were you born, what month?

A. May, the 10th day of May.

Q. After you quit selling papers, I believe you said you didn't go around Granny Letcher's? A. No.

Q. You might pass by the place?

A. Just like me and any other boys acquainted, we naturally would stop and talk once in a while, but as to frequenting that place——

Q. You remember a little white girl living there at Granny's with long hair, curly hair?

A. I will be honest with you. I don't remember seeing her at all. If she was she wasn't there any time I was around there.

Q. If she was there you didn't notice her?

A. I didn't see her, no.

Q. When you say you didn't see her, you did see a number of people about the house that you didn't know, but you didn't inquire about who they were, did you?

A. Well, may have been people went in and out. No, I didn't inquire about them.

Q. You understood it was a sort of rooming house?

A. Yes, I knew it was some kind of a rooming house.

Q. You knew men and women both went into the house at times to get rooms? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't inquire about who they were?

A. No, I didn't pay much attention to it that day and time, like boys do now a days.

Q. At that age you didn't pay much attention to it at all?

A. No, I didn't pay much attention to it at all.

Q. And if there had been a little white girl staying there kept by Granny Letcher during that time you didn't notice it? A. No, not unless she was out playing, like some children.

Q. Walter Banks was about your age?

A. Yes, they were playing around there.

Q. They were boys about your age? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And played with them at other places?

A. Yes, played with them at the school.

Q. But little children, naturally, infants, they weren't playing with you; you paid no attention to them around a place?

A. No, I never paid any attention to them, I was in the house.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. You say you were about 16 or 17 years old when you quit selling papers? A. Yes, sir, about that.

Q. Do you remember now about how old you were when you quit selling papers?

A. No, I won't say for sure, I don't remember that.

Q. You do know that you were around Granny's after she moved to Seneca Street?

A. Yes, on Fifth and Seneca, between——

Mr. German: Wait a minute; let him correct that.

A. I mean on Seneca, between Second and Third.

Q. You don't remember what year that was?

A. No, I don't remember just exactly, I think it was somewhere maybe in the neighborhood of——

Q. Well that is all?

A. 1885, or something like that, I don't know now.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Did you carry papers in vacation after school?

A. Yes, for awhile, and then I did other little jobs that I could get around. I would do that because my father died and there were two——

Q. Did you go around there after that time?

A. No, I never bothered around there after that. I would get other jobs. I went to work around the Great Western Foundry and that taken up my time in vacation, I worked around that.

Q. You didn't carry papers in vacation?

A. No, I didn't carry papers after I got a job at the Great Western Foundry.

Q. So the time that you went around Granny Letcher's in the evenings was before school let out?

A. Yes, during the school hours, during the time of school.

Q. Before the summer vacation? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And your best recollection is that was in 1885?

A. I think it was along there somewhere, I won't be positive.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Mattie Tutt, taken before Mr. Penick, beginning at page 2728.

And thereupon MATTIE TUTT being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. Mattie Tutt.

Q. Where do you live?

A. 721 Charlotte, Kansas City, Missouri.

Q. How long have you lived in Kansas City, Missouri?

A. Eight years.

Q. Where did you move from to Kansas City?

A. Well, from Third and Pawnee, in Leavenworth.

Q. Were you living in Leavenworth in the eighties when you were born? A. Born in 1876.

Q. You were born in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you live there until eight years ago?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know Granny Letcher in the eighties?

A. Yes, sir I knew of her in the eighties.

Q. Were you ever at or by her home when she lived on Seneca Street? A. I lived there in 1899.

Q. 1899? A. 1899, the year of 1899.

Q. How long did you live there? A. Three years.

Q. Were you living there when she died? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long had you been living there when she died?

A. About two years and a half.

Q. You lived there about six months after that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. During all the time that you knew Granny and during the time that you stayed at her home, did you see anybody around her place called Tommy Atkins or Indian Tommy?

A. No, sir.

Q. Where was she living when you were with her?

A. On Seneca Street.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Where did Tommy live?

A. I don't know Tommy.

Q. Well, you knew that woman, that woman Lillie White, you knew where Lillie White lived? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't Lillie White live in a stone and brick house there? A. I didn't know Lillie White.

Q. Where did Granny Letcher live?

A. She lived on Seneca between Third and Fourth, between Second and Third, I don't know exactly what the number was.

Q. She lived in that stone house?

A. No, sir, lived in a frame, two story frame.

Q. She didn't live in the house that was part stone and part brick then? A. No, sir.

Q. Did she die in that house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Died in that frame house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Never did move over on to Delaware Street, then?

A. She wasn't living there when I—she didn't move from there when I was living there.

Q. You state that you knew where she lived?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. She didn't move over on Delaware Street?

A. No, sir, not that time, because I was there from the time my mother died until she died.

Q. Well, she didn't move from there after she died, did she? A. No, indeed, you couldn't move her.

Q. You don't know where Tommy Atkins lived?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know where Minnie Atkins lived?

A. No, sir, I didn't know either.

Q. Do you know about a Military Fort they had over there, the United States Government had a Military Fort establishment over there? A. Certainly.

Q. And did you know the United States had a Military Fort at Fort Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir, I know.

Q. You had been out there?

A. Yes, sir, I have been out there.

Q. Frequently?

A. I used to work out there in a way.

Q. You were there when Minnie Atkins lived there?

A. No, sir.

Q. You never heard of Minnie?

A. Just the last year is all.

Q. You never did hear of Minnie Atkins until the last year? A. No, sir.

Q. Who told you?

A. No one particularly, I just heard people speaking of her.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mattie, how old are you?

A. Well, 17th of April, if I live to see, I will be forty.

Q. How old were you when you lived at Granny's house?

A. Well, twenty three years old.

Q. Twenty three years old?

A. Yes, sir, that has been seventeen years ago, I know.

Q. Are you married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you been married? A. Seven years.

Q. Been married seven years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Married when you came to Kansas City?

A. No, sir, after I came down here.

Q. Married after you came down here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Married by a minister? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Get a license?

A. Yes, sir, I haven't got them, but his mother, my husband's mother.

Q. She has got them? A. Yes, sir, I haven't got any.

Q. How old were you when you were married?

A. Well——

Q. Answer the question, how old were you Mattie?

A. I was thirty—— Let me see.

Q. How old were you when you married?

A. Let me see, I was—— Well, seven years ago.

Q. Well, how old were you? You ought to know how old you were.

By Mr. German: I submit into the record that the witness is endeavoring to think up how old she was and counsel is not giving her an opportunity.

Q. Do you remember how old you are, or do you have to count back?

By Mr. Allen: We object to that.

A. Sometimes your memory slips. Mine does about age now.

Q. Then, it is necessary for you to count back to see how old you are, is it? You don't remember how old you were?

By Mr. Allen: We submit if counsel would just let the witness think a minute, she probably would be able to answer it.

A. I was twenty seven. Wait just a minute, I want to tell the truth if I can.

Q. Mattie, you say you worked out at the Fort?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you work out at the Fort?

A. Oh, when I was quite a girl.

Q. When you were quite a girl? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you working out there when you were at Granny Letcher's? A. No, sir, I wasn't.

Q. It was after that?

A. Yes, sir, before that when I worked out at the Fort.

Q. Before that, who did you work for?

A. Captain Swift.

Q. Who else?

A. Sargeant Oliver, and I worked at the Chinese Laundry and several places.

Q. Several places? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the first place you ever worked at?

A. For Captain Swift.

Q. What was his first name?

A. I don't know what his first name was.

Q. Where did you live before you lived at Granny's, Granny Letcher? A. I lived with my mother.

Q. Where did she live?

By Mr. Allen: May we inquire the object of this detail cross examination. We have attempted to fix no date by this witness, but merely inquired about how long before Granny died that it was she lived at the house.

By Mr. Blakeney: This was immaterial about whether she ever lived at the house. The evidence ought to be stricken then.

Q. Mattie, where did she live? A. My mother?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, when she died she lived on Pawnee street between Seventh and Broadway.

Q. When did she die, Mattie? A. 1899, 5th of July.

Q. And how old were you when your mother died?

A. Twenty-three years old.

Q. Is that when you went to live at Granny Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then where were you born in Leavenworth?

A. Well, I can't tell you what street, on Delaware street, but I don't know what the number was.

By Mr. Blakeney: I object to the competency of the witness.

Q. Mattie, how long did your family live there after your birth, how old did you get to be at that place?

A. Why, they lived, my parents lived there until their death.

Q. Lived there how long?

A. You say how long my parents lived in Leavenworth?

Q. How long did you live on Delaware where you were born?

A. I don't know, I was a little child, just a little baby when we moved from Delaware street, what my parents told me.

By Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out what her parents told her as hearsay.

Q. Where did you move to?

A. We moved on to Decatur street.

Q. How long did you live there?

A. I can't tell you how long we lived there.

Q. Where did you live the longest in Leavenworth.

A. Oh, at John Fullams.

Q. Then, you were practically raised at this place?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you move to Pawnee Street from his place?

A. Over on Cheyenne, we moved from there on Cheyenne Street.

Q. You moved from Fullam's over to Cheyenne?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old were you then?

A. I guess— I was still going to school, I could just guess about how old I was, about fourteen I guess, somewhere along there, fourteen or fifteen.

Q. And how long did you live on Cheyenne?

A. About, I can't tell you just exactly about how many years, but it was a long time.

Q. It was a long time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then you moved to Pawnee Street?

A. No. We moved over on Cheyenne further.

Q. Moved further over on Cheyenne? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever live with Jim Mayo and his wife?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was that? A. Year 1899.

Q. It was in 1899, after your mother died? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now where did Granny Letcher live when you just got acquainted with her? A. Over on Cherokee Street.

Q. On Cherokee? A. Yes, sir.

A. No, sir.

Q. And where did she move to after that?

A. I can't tell you where she moved to then, when she moved off of Cherokee.

Q. Then, where did you next know her?

A. On Seneca, Seneca Street.

Q. On Seneca Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was when you went to live with Jim Mayo?

A. Yes, sir, after my mother died.

Q. That was after your mother died?

A. Yes, sir. And I went there.

Q. So you don't know anything about her between those two times? A. No, sir.

Q. Or nothing about her family or private affairs?

A. No, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You say you went there in 18—To Granny's in 1899?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You commenced living with Jim Mayo as his wife?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Had you lived with Jim before that anywhere?

A. No, sir.

Q. That was your first time you and Jim had taken up as husband and wife? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you working out at that time? A. No, sir.

Q. You were staying around the house all day?

A. At their house, I did.

Q. At their house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You stayed around their house all day? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And all night? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were not receiving any other company except Jim? A. No, sir.

Q. You were leading a straight—— You were living faithful to Jim? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You never saw a boy at that time around there, named Tommy Atkins, did you? A. No, sir.

Q. Or Commodore? A. No, sir.

Q. Did any other part Indian or part negro boy, except those that you have named—Walter Banks——

A. And Sam Nash.

Q. And Sam Nash? A. Yes, sir that is all.

Q. Tommy Atkins wasn't around there? A. No.

Q. Do you know old man Henry Carter? A. No, sir.

Q. Old man Henry Carter that used to come to town and bring vegetables and sell them there on the street?

A. No, sir, I didn't know him.

Q. Do you remember that there was an old man that used to come around and see Granny and sell vegetables to her? A. I don't remember of ever seeing him.

Q. You don't remember ever seeing him? A. No, sir.

Q. You did have vegetables there at the house to eat though, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir we did, but I don't remember whether they went out and got them or——

Q. You don't remember how they were obtained?

A. No, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mattie, Captain Swift's first name——To remind you, was it Captain Eben Smith?

A. Well, Eben had boys, one Eben, one named Merrice.

Q. Do you remember Balsom Smith?

A. I don't think I would remember him now.

Q. I mean, he was a young boy at that time?

A. They were all boys but they were small, and two little girls when I was there.

Q. How old was Balsom?

A. I couldn't say how old he was.

Q. He was a young boy? A. Oh, going to school.

Q. While your mother was living, you were a good girl and stayed at home? A. Yes, sir, and worked out.

Q. And worked out? A. Yes, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Mattie, you don't remember dates very well, do you that far back?

A. Not away back before Minnie and Tommy was there, I don't know anything about them days, because I don't know anything about them being there.

By Mr. Blakeney: We move to strike out all about Minnie and Tommy as not responsive.

Q. You never heard of them being there? A. No, sir.

By Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike it out.

Q. Well, now, Mattie, without regard to the dates, did you know Granny Letcher when she lived on Cherokee Street?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did she live on Cherokee Street?

A. Well, she lived in a frame house that sat right——It was on Cherokee between Fourth and Fifth right by Bruder's Grocery Store.

Q. Which way from the National Hotel?

A. Well, it was south—— Well, more southwest from the National Hotel.

Q. Was it between Fourth and Fifth, or Second and Third? A. Between Fourth and Fifth.

Q. Which side of the street was that on?

A. The south side.

Q. What business was she in there?

A. Well, I can't say, I think it was a rooming house, I don't know for sure. I used to go with a girl to carry milk and butter there.

Q. Did she do any laundry work there?

A. Not as I know of.

Q. Washing and ironing? A. Not as I know of.

Q. Did you know Granny Letcher when she lived on—Between Second and Third on Cherokee Street? A. No, sir.

Q. The place you are speaking of on Cherokee Street is where she lived before she moved to Seneca? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, you knew her after she moved to Seneca Street?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you living with Jim Mayo on Cherokee Street at Granny Letcher's? A. No, sir.

Q. You say you never saw or heard of any Indian boy or any Indian woman around Granny's house? A. No, sir.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object to what she heard as hearsay and incompetent.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mattie, how old were you when Granny lived on Cherokee Street?

A. I can't say exactly, because I was a girl going to school and I don't know how old I was. I was small and used to go down there with the girl to carry the milk and butter.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Did George Crilly and this gentleman over here, Mr. Long, come to see you one time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did they talk to you about this case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did they say to you about the case?

A. They asked me did I remember seeing Tommy Atkinson there or Minnie, and I told them that I didn't know anything about them.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. You made an affidavit to that effect for him?
A. Yes, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. In that affidavit did you state that you had been there in 1899 and stayed three years?
A. No one didn't ask me what date I was there.
Q. Do you know what date Granny died?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. What date?
A. She died—— She died in the same year that I went there. No, not the same year, I was there two years and a half. No, I don't remember the date, but I was there two years and a half before she died, that is when it was.
Q. Do you know what year you went there then?
A. Yes, sir, went there in 1899.
Q. How do you know that?
A. Because my mother died the 5th day of July, 1899, and I went the same month she died in.
Q. You say Granny Letcher died about two years and a half afterward? A. Yes, sir.
Q. And you lived there all those two years?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. And no Tommy Atkins was living there around that house when you were living there? A. No, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Did Jim Mayo die before Granny Letcher died?
A. No, sir.
Q. How long after she died was it until he died?
A. A month difference in their death. She died in August and Jim died in September of the same year.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Martha Miller, taken before Mr. Penick, beginning at page 2451.

And thereupon MARTHA MILLER being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Martha Miller.
Q. Where do you live, Martha? A. 414 Ottawa.
Q. Leavenworth, Kansas? A. Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. What age are you? A. 43, past.

Q. How long have you been living in Leavenworth?

A. All my life.

Q. Do you know a colored woman named Mollie Letcher?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. When did you first know her?

A. Well, I guess I was about 17 years old—between 17 and 18, when I first knew her, talked to her, rather. I had heard of her before that but I never had been in her presence until about that time.

Q. Where was she living?

A. On Seneca between 3rd and 2nd.

Q. Between 2nd and 3rd?

A. Yes, on the south side of the street.

Q. What was the house number if you recall?

A. I don't know, I never——

Q. About midway between 2nd and 3rd?

A. That is the one I guess it was, just about half way.

Q. About half way? A. Yes, I should think.

Q. How did you happen to—where was it that you held any conversation with her at that time that you spoke to her?

A. Why was it, did you say?

Q. Where was it? A. At her house.

Q. How did you happen to go there?

A. Well, she had taken care of a child of mine, a little girl.

Q. What was the child's name?

A. It was named Sissie.

Q. How did it happen that she took care of your child?

A. I were working out.

Q. How long did she keep your child?

A. Just 3 weeks.

Q. Was she keeping any other child at the same time?

A. Yes, she was.

Q. What child was that?

A. Well, she was keeping a little girl by the name of Etta, a little mulatto girl.

Q. Etta who?

A. Well, I didn't know her last name; I know her name was Mary Anthony, or Mary Loar, I heard them call her that, but I always called her Mary Anthony.

Q. That was the grandmother of the boy?

A. No, her mother—the baby's mother, and she just kept this child—kept people's children that said they come from off and didn't have any home, and wanted to work out, she'd taken care of the children. This little girl was there—I don't know that any other little girl was there at that time.

Mr. Hanford: I move to strike the latter part of the witness' answer as not responsive to any question as to not keeping other children.

Q. After you became acquainted—personally acquainted with Molly Letcher, did you visit her home there frequently?

A. Well, no, not after I had taken my child away, I didn't.

Q. Did you go there some?

A. Sometimes, yes, sir, I did.

Q. Did she live anywhere else besides on Seneca after you became personally acquainted with her?

A. Yes, she did; she kept a restaurant.

Q. Where?

A. Once at 3rd and Seneca; that was in the summer time. I disremember now, I can't tell you what year. At that time, I never paid much attention to the year, but I know in the hot part of the summer, I used to go up there, and often eat meals with her, and after that I stayed at her house for three weeks.

Q. Where was she living then?

A. On Shawnee. That was I guess, two years after that she moved to Shawnee street.

Q. Then, where else did she live beside on Seneca, if any where?

A. Then, I stayed there with her for a while, and then I think for about a month, and then I left her house, and then she moved back to Seneca, at the old place again.

Q. Between 2nd and 3rd? A. Yes.

Q. Did you go there any?

A. No, I never visited her any then, not lately. I didn't go to her house any more then for quite a while.

Q. About how long?

A. Oh, I don't know; I guess it must have been—well, I don't know just exactly, I can't tell you, but I know it was several years.

Q. Six months, two years, a year, or what?

A. No, three or four years, I think, afterwards, that I went to her house.

Q. Were you acquainted with the members of her family?

A. Well, I knew some of them, yes.

Q. Do you know who were the regular members of her family? A. Yes, I knew.

Q. I know Jim, that was her son, Jim Mayo; I knew Sam Nash, that was her grandson; I knowed Walter Banks, that is the little boy that she raised; I understood that Walter was one of her grandsons, too, but I understand here of late that he was just a child that she was raising, and that is about all of her family there were—that I knew of. Of course——

Q. State whether or not there was any child in that family beginning with the time that you first came—came personally acquainted with Molly Letcher, and extending throughout the time of your acquaintance with her, who bore the name of Indian Tommy? A. No, sir, never.

Q. Or Tommy Atkins? A. No, sir, never saw him there.

Q. Did you ever hear in those times of him being there?

A. No, sir. As I said, she kept my child and I got off in the evening and other parts of days, and I never saw no child there, at all, of that description; never heard her say so.

Q. Never heard her say so? A. No, sir, or anybody else.

Mr. Hanford: I move to strike out what the witness heard as hearsay testimony.

Mr. Blakeney: What she says about never hearing about it, we move to strike it as incompetent, hearsay, and not responsive.

Q. Did you ever know of any woman in that household, or being there temporarily, by the name of Minnie Atkins?

A. No, I never, no, sir.

Q. Was there or not any boy child in that family who was an Indian?

A. Not that I knows of, never heard anyone say that.

Q. Did you ever see one there?

Mr. Blakeney: I move to strike out what the witness said about that expression never heard anybody say so, as not responsive, and as hearsay.

Q. No, I never.

Q. Then you started to say something about Walter was——

A. Well, I was going to say that Walter was the only Indian child that I ever saw there. They said Walter was mixed with Indian; looked something like an Indian.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Martha, you say that Granny kept this child of yours?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long? A. Three weeks.

Q. You were working out at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was you working?

A. Working for Mr. Devlin, over on Broadway.

Q. At his house? A. Yes, at his house.

Q. Broadway and what?

A. I think it was between Walnut——

Q. Well, it was near Walnut?

A. I think it was near Walnut; I know it was near Walnut but I don't know what the other street is.

Q. Did you only work there three weeks?

A. Oh, I worked there longer than that, but that is only all she kept my child.

Q. What did you do with your child after that?

A. It died.

Q. It died at her house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have a funeral? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Funeral at her house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old was the child when it died?

A. About 6 months old.

Q. Where was the child buried? A. In Mt. Muncie.

Q. What was its given name? A. Lizzie Jones.

Q. When did it die? What was the day of its death?

A. Oh, I don't remember; I can't tell you.

Q. Remember the day it was buried?

A. No, I don't remember that.

Q. Remember the year? A. No.

Q. Your name was Jones at that time? A. No, sir.

Q. What was it? A. Mallory.

Q. You had been married again?

A. No, sir, I had never been married.

Q. Never had been married? A. No, sir.

Q. It was an illegitimate child? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you name the child after its father?

A. I did, yes, sir.

Q. And you didn't take his name yourself? A. No, sir.

Q. How old were you when the child was born?

A. About 18 years.

Q. And it died when it was about 6 months? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who buried the child? A. Carthouse.

Q. Carthouse? A. Yes, he was undertaker here then.

Q. It was buried in Mt. Muncie? Yes, sir.

Q. Now, that was the first time you got to talk to Granny Letcher—to know her personally? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You just had a child there because you wanted her to take care of it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you saw this child Etta there?

A. Yes, sir. She was there before my child was there.

Q. Was Etta there all the time that your child was there?

A. Yes, I think we think we left Etta there if I ain't—no, she had taken Etta away before.

Q. You say Lizzie was the only one there?

A. Yes, Lizzie was the only one there, I am pretty sure Etta was gone.

Q. How long after that, was it, that Granny kept the restaurant on 2nd and Seneca?

A. I judge about two years afterward.

Q. But she kept on living in this house?

A. No, she moved from this place; came to 3rd and Seneca.

Q. And then she moved from there to Shawnee?

A. Shawnee street afterwards.

Q. How long did she run the restaurant?

A. Well, I don't think she run it very long, something over a year. I don't think she did.

Q. So, she moved to Shawnee street about three years after your child was there? A. Yes, three years.

Q. Then, how long did she live on Shawnee street?

A. Well, I can't tell you that; how long she lived there.

Q. Well, you went to live there and went to live there three weeks at one time?

A. Yes, at one time; my child was there—three weeks at one time.

Q. You lived with her on Shawnee street, you say?

A. Yes, one month.

Q. Who did you live with? A. Just lived with myself.

Q. With yourself?

A. Yes, rented a room with her on Shawnee street.

Q. You were working out?

A. No, sir, I wasn't working out.

Q. Weren't doing anything? A. No, sir.

Q. Just rooming there? A. Just rooming.

Q. What year was that?

A. I don't know; I don't remember that.

Q. How old were you?

A. Well, I was, I guess, between 21 and 22 years old.

Q. Then she moved from there back to Seneca street?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who else lived at Granny's on Seneca street when she took care of your child? A. Her son.

Q. Who else? A. Her grandson.

Q. Which one? A. Sam.

Q. Who else? A. Walter Banks.

Q. Who else? A. That is all I know of.

Q. Anybody in the house? A. Not that I knows of.

Q. Don't know of anybody else in the house at all?

A. No, I don't.

Q. Didn't know of anybody staying there? You didn't stay there yourself? A. No, I didn't stay there myself.

Q. What did you do, take the child there in the morning and get it at night?

A. No, it would stay there all the time.

Q. You went to see it sometimes?

A. In the evenings when I got off from work I went to see it.

Q. You didn't stay there at night?

A. No, I didn't—where I worked at night.

Q. You didn't pay any attention to anybody else except the child?

A. I didn't; I don't think I was ever up her stairs.

Q. You knew better in later years?

A. I did afterwards, yes, sir.

Q. That was in the '90's? A. I suppose it was.

Q. Before her death? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know when she died? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. Then you began going to her house shortly before she died? A. I did.

Q. How much did you go there?

A. Not very often; just once in a while.

Q. Just visit there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You weren't looking into any of Granny's affairs?

A. Not at all.

Q. Household affairs? A. No, sir.

Q. Who lived, or boarded with her? A. I did not.

Q. You were not interested in that? A. I was not.

Q. Didn't pay any attention to it? A. No, sir.

Q. Who else did Granny keep children for besides Etta and Eliza—what other children did she keep, rather, besides Etta and Eliza? A. I don't know; I can't tell you.

Q. You simply knew that she had other children there?

A. Yes.

Q. And that they were around her place and boarded there; you never paid any attention to the children?

A. I never.

Q. Don't remember whether they were boys or girls?

A. Oh, yes, I remember what I seen was girls except Walter—a little boy she called her grandson; I know that.

Q. If a girl that had worked had a boy—she didn't keep boys?

A. I suppose she did, but I never seen one.

Q. I mean, you didn't pay any attention to that?

A. No, I didn't at all.

Q. All you know is, that you saw kids around there?

A. I saw a little girl there, and my child was there. Of course it was nothing but an infant baby, and I saw Walter.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. What did you say your name was? A. Martha Miller.

Q. Never been married? A. I haven't lately.

Q. You said you had this child when you were 18 years of age? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old are you?

A. I am 43 past; I was 43 the second fall month and the second day.

Q. What is the fall month?

A. Don't you know what the second fall month is?

Q. No, what is it? A. October.

Q. October? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were 43 the second of last October?

A. Yes, I was.

Q. October, 1915; you was born in 1872?

A. Along in there, I think.

Q. October, 1872—you was 18 years of age when you had this illegitimate child? A. Yes, sir, I was.

Q. And you had this illegitimate child and took it to Granny's place? A. Yes, sir.

Q. There was another child there, a little girl, you say?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was that girl's name? A. Her name was Etta.

Q. Was she an illegitimate child? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew the mother of th's child? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew who was the mother? A. Mary Anthony.

Q. Living now in Lawrence, Kansas? A. Yes, she is.

Q. Was the child there when you there when you went?

A. Yes, she was there when I went there but I am sure they had taken the child away before my child died. I am pretty sure they did.

Q. Your child stayed there how long?

A. Three weeks, just exactly.

Q. You said you didn't know what day the child was born?

A. No, I don't. He put it down.

Q. What time of the year? A. It was in the spring.

Q. The child was born in the spring time?

A. No, she was born in the winter; it was in the spring when she died.

Q. Then you say you were 18 years old when the child was born in the winter? A. Yes.

Q. And you was past 18 when it died in the spring following?

Q. The child, then, was born in 1890?

A. Along there, I guess.

Q. Along in 1890. You was rather familiar with Granny's place there, at that time while your child was there, wasn't you?

A. No, I wasn't; same as a stranger to me because that was about the first time I was in the place, while my child was there.

Q. That was the first time you had been in her place, after she moved up on Seneca?

A. No, that was my first [] at her house. She had never moved away then, to my knowing.

Q. The first time you ever was in Granny Letcher's house was when you went to see about putting your child there?

A. Yes.

Q. And that was in 1890? A. I suppose that was.

Q. You could figure it—born in 1872 and you were 18 years old, and that made 1890? A. Yes.

Q. Or '91. Now, you recall the evening that you went over with your child—was it in the evening or the day time?

A. It was in the afternoon.

Q. You went over with your child? A. Yes.

Q. Stayed there all the afternoon?

A. No, I didn't stay there no longer than we made the arrangements to keep the child, and I had to go back to my work.

Q. You hadn't stopped your work?

A. Oh, no, that is why I got her to keep it.

Q. You had had the child at the place where you were working, had you.

A. No, I had it right in my home; home with my parents.

Q. And you had to place the child with Granny Letcher?

A. Yes, I had to take care of it and I had to have some place to keep it when I went out.

Q. Every evening you went down to see the child?

A. Not every evening; when I got from my work. I didn't get off every evening.

Q. You got off after work?

A. Oh, no, sometimes Thursday evenings, and sometimes, Wednesday evenings.

Q. You use evening for afternoon? A. Yes.

Q. You would have after supper? A. Yes, after supper.

Q. And you would go to see the child frequently?

A. Not very.

Q. I say frequently? A. Yes.

Q. At that time, you didn't see any Indian boy named Tommy there? during that time?

A. No. No Indian boy named Tommy.

Q. And if one had been there, you wouldn't have seen it?

A. That is what I thought.

Q. You was all through the house?

A. No, I wasn't all through it.

Q. You sat in the sitting room, didn't you? A. Yes.

Q. And saw people coming and going? A. Yes.

Q. And boys or children playing? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you didn't see any boy named Tommy?

A. No, I didn't.

Q. Or any little Indian boy? A. No, sir.

Q. Or any boy that looked very much like a colored boy with a little colored blood in it? A. Yes.

Q. You didn't see anybody called Tommy?

A. No, I didn't see any Tommy.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What was this man Jones' given name, the father of your child? A. Of my child?

Q. Yes? A. His name was Bill Jones.

Q. Walter Banks when you first knew him—— A. Walter?

Q. Walter Banks when you first knew him there at the Letcher home was just a boy? A. Yes, he was.

Q. Was ten or twelve years old?

A. No, he wasn't that old, he was between seven and eight years old, he looked to be. I never heard any one say how old he was, I judge he was that old from looks.

Q. Sam Nash? A. Sam Nash was a grown young man.

Q. And Jim Mayo? A. He was an old man.

Q. Older than Sam? A. Yes.

Q. A tall aged man? A. Yes, he was.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Martha you know Sadie James? A. Yes, sir, I do.

Q. And she has lived with you? A. Yes, she has.

Q. When did she last discuss this with you, your testimony in this case with her?

A. Well, I will tell you the facts, I never discussed it with her; she talked with me about it, she was the first one that ever told me about it, she was the first one that ever asked me.

Q. Well, she has discussed it with you several times?

A. She did, yes, sir.

Q. Now, Martha, did you ever know any Indian boy, part Indian boy any place in Leavenworth? You stated that you don't know any such Indian boy at Granny Letcher's, where did you know one? A. In no place.

Q. You didn't know any? A. No, in no place.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. It was summer before last when Sadie James first saw you, wasn't it? A. Yes.

Q. She wanted you to swear that there was a Tommy there, didn't she? A. Yes, she did.

Q. What did you tell her? A. Well, of course I couldn't tell you all of the details of it.

Q. No, about that?

A. When she first came to me she asked me if I didn't remember about Indian Minnie, and she said study over the matter and see if you don't remember a woman named Indian Minnie, and I said no I can't place her, and she said don't you know——

By Mr. Cruce: If the Court please, we object to any conversation between this witness and the other witness, Sadie James, as incompetent, irrelevant testimony.

By Mr. German: Alright then.

Q. I will ask you this: did she ask you about Tommy?
A. She did.
Q. At that time? A. She did.
Q. Did she want you to swear that he was there?
A. Yes, she asked me didn't I know him——

Mr. Cruce: We object to the testimony of any conversation between this witness and Sadie James, because it is hearsay, and incompetent testimony.

Q. Did you agree to do it? A. No, sir.
Q. What did you tell her? A. I told her I wouldn't.
Q. Has Dennis Jones seen you about it? A. No, sir.
Q. Has Rube Smith? A. No, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Tom M. McKenzie, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript beginning at page 2155.

TOM M. McKENZIE, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. State your name and address?
A. Tom M. McKenzie, 4012 Spruce Street, Leavenworth, Kansas.
Q. How old are you? A. 53.
Q. When were you born? A. In '52, so they say, I think.
Q. Tom, how long have you lived in Leavenworth?
A. I came here to Leavenworth when I was going on between seven and eight years old, so my folks say.
Q. Did you know Granny Letcher during her lifetime?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. When did you first get acquainted with her?
A. Oh, I can't tell you that.
Q. How old were you? A. I can't tell you that.
Q. About how old?

A. Oh, I was a small boy, I don't know I might been 16 or 17 I presume, I would not state positively about how old I was.

Q. Did you get acquainted with her when she lived on Cherokee street, before she moved to Seneca? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading and suggestive. I move to strike the answer on the ground given in my objection here recorded.

Q. Did you know her during all the time that she lived on Seneca Street? A. Yes, sir, I would say that.

Q. You were at her home? A. Yes, sir, frequently.

Q. About how often were you there?

A. I wouldn't dare say that, I was there pretty often.

Q. Were you there every week?

A. Some weeks I guess I was two or three times a week.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

Q. Who were the members of her family?

A. Jim Mayo, Sam Nash and Walter Banks.

Q. Were you intimately acquainted with all the members of the family, and with Granny Letcher?

A. Know them personally do you mean?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you—when did you commence going to Granny Letcher's home?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as repetition.

A. I can't tell you that.

Q. Was it prior to her moving to Seneca Street?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to on the ground that it is leading and suggestive.

Mr. Allen: I will withdraw the question.

Mr. Hanford: Let him answer.

Q. Where was she living when you first got acquainted with her?

A. Next to Tim McCarthy's, I don't know what street it was; an old Irishman who used to keep a saloon down there, where Rose's paper bag factory is now, I don't know the number.

Q. Do you know any building located on the street that she was?

A. Right across from Watson's down here on Cherokee street, I forget the number, it was between Second and Third, however.

Q. On Cherokee Street? A. On Cherokee Street.

Q. Do you remember where she moved to from there?

A. I think she moved up on Seneca Street, I am not positive.

Q. Do you know where she moved, I mean? A. Where?

Q. Yes, the house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which way was that house with reference to Crilly's barn?

A. Right across the street, pretty near right across the street; I think her's was 217, and Crilly's—right across from Crilly's house, her house was here.

Q. When did you commence going to Granny's house frequently, was it before or after she moved to Seneca Street?

A. On Seneca Street, when I commenced to going to her house frequently.

Q. How long after she moved to Seneca Street?

A. She was living there when I went to work there for Brocks. She was living there then when I commenced running there so much.

Q. How long had she been there? A. I can't tell you.

Q. About how long?

A. I wouldn't dare say; I don't remember.

Q. Before you commenced working for Brocks did you go to the house?

A. I might have been there, I wasn't running there I suppose I was there a time or two.

Q. State whether or not you knew Granny Letcher and all her family before you commenced working for Brocks?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then how long after that did you continue to go to her home frequently? A. Until she died.

Q. State whether or not during any of the times you have mentioned you knew or ever saw around Granny Letcher's place an Indian Boy named Tommy Atkins, or Indian Tommy?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever hear of such a boy before this litigation started? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever know or hear of an Indian woman around Granny Letcher's named Indian Minnie or Minnie Atkins?

A. No, sir.

Q. How long did you work for Brocks?

A. Between ten and twelve years, I just can't remember.

Q. Where was Brock's barn with reference to Granny Letcher's home?

A. His barn was 226 Seneca, and Granny Letcher's was 217, like this was her's right across that way, here was the barn, and that garage over there would be Granny Letcher's.

Q. When did you quit working for Brock?

A. It was 1903 or '4, something like that, I would say, I can't give the exact date.

Q. What was the occasion of your quitting Dr. Brock?

A. The Doctor died.

Q. You worked for him up to the time he died?

A. Yes, sir, and after, I recond a year or so after, I worked for his neice.

Q. What kind of work did you do? A. Coachman.

Q. Where did you keep your horses? A. In the stable.

Q. At the barn that you have just spoken of? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you live during the time that Granny lived on Cherokee street?

A. I lived out in the south part of town.

Q. Where did you work?

A. I worked for—I don't know whether I worked for Tommy Morgan or—I can't tell you who I worked for; I might have worked for Tommy Morgan, and I might have worked for-- —

Q. You worked down in the community where you lived, or down town?

A. All over, different places; I might have worked for Dancan Transfer Co., I can't tell.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Tom, you said that you worked for Brock between nine and ten years?

A. Between ten and twelve years.

Q. Between 10 and 12 years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you say you quit?

A. That was in 92 or 3, somewhere along there. When did he die, Mr. Bond, and then I could remember the time. What year did he die in; I can't say positively, without I knew——

The Examiner: You just answer the best you know yourself.

A. Allright.

Q. Now you worked for his neice a year or two after the doctor died? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then you quit altogether? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now how long did you work for the Doctor himself, not counting the time that you worked for the neice?

A. Oh, I can't tell you that.

Q. But count the time you worked for the doctor and after he died you worked for his neice? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Ten or twelve years ago? A. Yes, sir, altogether.

Q. Did the doctor die in 1904, Tom?

A. I don't know, I don't think he did.

Q. You don't remember? A. No, I don't remember.

Q. Do you know how many years ago he died; can you think how many years it has been since he died?

A. I think he must have——

Q. How long has he been dead?

A. I think he has been dead—let's see.

Q. About twelve years, isn't it?

A. I don't know, I wouldn't say positively, without I knew what year he died in. It was about ten or twelve years I think since he died.

Q. Where are you working now, Tom? A. Coal mines.

Q. Up in the coal mine? A. Down in the coal mine.

Q. You are a miner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you been working in the mines?

A. Ever since I quit driving a team, that has been about five or six years.

Q. About five or six years? A. Yes.

Q. And who did you drive for? A. Last.

Q. Yes? A. Myer Transfer Co.

Q. Myer Transfer, and how long did you drive for them?

A. Pretty soon after I quit the doctor's.

Q. Soon after you quit the doctor's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know how many years you worked for Myers?

A. No, I don't, unless he has got it on record, you can find out from him.

Q. Well, give me your best recollection about how long?

A. Oh, three or four years, I presume.

Q. Would it be as much as five years, maybe?

A. I ain't worked for him in five years, I don't think it has been that long.

Q. I mean did you work for him as long as five years?

A. Straight along?

Q. Yes?

A. I worked different times and I would get fired and they would come back after me, this transfer man, they would fire me, and I worked again straight along, I don't know if I worked a year right straight along, and I worked along until I went to the mines and him and I fell out for good.

Q. Now, Tom, you assisted at Granny's funeral, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You helped put her in her coffin? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how long after Granny died did you quit working up there at Brock's? A. I can't answer that question.

Q. Several years afterwards, wasn't it?

A. I think it was a year or two, or three years, or something like that.

Q. You don't remember the year that you went to work for Brock, you don't remember? A. No, I don't.

Q. But you do remember that you worked for him ten or twelve years?

A. Yes, sir; you know I would go up to the house every Christmas and Mrs. Taylor said I wished you——

Q. You were just the same as one of the family, wasn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now after you quit at Brocks, you went to work for the Myers Transfer Co? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you worked for them off and on for a number of years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you went to work in the mines? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you have been there—— A. Ever since.

Q. About five or six years? A. Ever since.

Q. Ever since? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, Tom, during all the times that you were at the Letcher's Granny lived in that same place, didn't she?

A. When I hung out around there, yes sir; I never hung out around this other place where she lived.

Q. No, but when you went to Brocks then you hung out around there from then on? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she always lived in that same place, didn't she, in that same place there on Seneca street?

A. Always lived there.

Q. Now while you were working at the Dock, Granny was at—— A. I think she was.

Q. She was in that house on Seneca street?

A. Wait, let me see; I believe she moved away from there and then moved back.

Q. You believe she moved away and then moved back?

A. Yes, I don't think it was during my time at Brock's though; I know she moved down on Shawnee street and she came back up there.

Q. But while you were at Brocks?

A. I don't think she moved while I was there, I would not be positive.

Q. The time that you hung out around there when you were working for Brocks she lived at that same place all the time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was when you began to hang out around there when you went to work for the Brock's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Before that Tom, you lived out in South Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir, at my home down in South Leavenworth; my people lived down there. I sometimes would go down town and boarded down town.

Q. Tom, you are now how old,—lets see, you said you were 53, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. 53 years old. And how old were you when you went to work for Doctor Brock? A. I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't he ask you when you came there to start to work how old you were?

A. He might have, I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember about that?

A. No, sir, I don't remember.

Q. And you don't know how old you were when you went to work there?

A. I must have been 34 or 35 I should think.

Q. 34 or 5 years old? A. Yes, sir, I think so.

Q. Now lets see if we can get the year from that. Are you sure you weren't older than that?

A. No, I am not so sure about it. I might have been.

Q. Tom, do you remember when the Kelly and somebody's mill burned down here? A. Kelly & Lyle mill.

Q. Yes, the Kelly & Lyle mill? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you working then?

A. I was working for the Duncan Transfer Co.

Q. For the Duncan Transfer Co? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you went to work at Doctor Brock's after that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how many years after that?

A. I can't tell you.

Q. Seven years after that fire, wasn't it?

A. I don't know how many years.

Q. You see what I am trying to do. I am trying to fix the year that you went to work for Doctor Brock, and I am trying to help you by asking you those things?

A. I don't remember what year that was.

Mr. Allen: We object to remarks of counsel, as immaterial, irrelevant and incompetent, and improper.

Q. Now Tom, you remember about the fire, though. Do you remember how old you were when that mill burned?

A. No, sir.

Q. Then can you fix your age by that, can you?

A. No, sir, I didn't pay much attention to my age; I tell them I am so old——

Q. You remember that you were working for the Duncan transfer? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What makes you remember working for the Duncan Transfer?

A. Because I was working across the street, and I didn't wake up, and they had to wake me up.

Q. How long did you work for the Duncan Transfer?

A. I can't tell you.

Q. Several years?

A. I wouldn't be positive about it, I suppose I was.

Q. Who did you work for after you quit Donovan's?

A. I don't think I did anything for awhile; I don't think I done any work for awhile, only jobs around like that.

Q. You were jobbing then? A. Yes, sir, I think so.

Q. Do you remember who you worked for just before you went to Doctor Brocks?

A. No, without I was working for Donovan; I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember? A. No.

Q. How did you happen to get the job with Brock, do you remember?

A. I was bumming, I believe, bumming around the town, and there was a fellow a friend of mine, he wanted to hire me and he told me to go up and see the Doctor. that he wanted a man, and he taken me up there and he hired me.

Q. He told you the job was open?

A. Yes, my friend did.

Q. And came and saw you? A. Yes.

Q. Now, Tom, do you know how long you had been bumming? A. No, I don't.

Q. Know how long you had been without a job?

A. No, I don't.

Q. You wanted a job pretty badly?

A. Yes, I did, because I didn't like to do that kind of work, yes.

Q. So you remember after you quit the Donovan's you were without work for a while? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And just before you went to work for Doctor Brock you remember that you were without a job? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You never heard of an Indian Minnie, you say?

A. No, sir.

Q. Nor of a Tommy Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Never heard anybody speak of them?

A. Not until here recently, no, sir.

Q. Not until here recently? A. No, sir.

Q. Tom, who all were living at Granny Letcher's house when you started going around there, do you remember, tell me.

A. No, I can't remember who lived there. she kept roomers.

Q. You can't remember anybody?

A. No, I can't remember the names of anybody, when I first commenced going around there.

Q. When did you go there, mostly in the night time or mostly in the day time? A. Both.

Q. Both? A. Yes.

Q. You were on duty in the day time most of the time wasn't you? A. Oh, I had lots of time to myself.

Q. But as a matter of fact Tom, you went around there mostly in the evening, didn't you?

A. No, I was over there in the daytime some.

Q. But you can't tell me any of the people that were around there at the time you started in going there?

A. No, sir, no.

Q. You know Sadie James, don't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you talk with her last Tom?

A. Day before yesterday.

Q. How long before that? A. About a year.

Q. About a year?

A. I suppose. She was there last fall, or spring, or sometime.

Q. You talked to her about this case, she asked you about it, didn't she?

A. Not about this case exactly; she came there to ask me a question about——

Q. About what you knew about it?

A. Yes, that was the first.

Q. About what you remembered?

A. And I told her I didn't remember. She tried to make me remember the first time she ever came, before I heard anything else, and tried to make me remember Indian Minnie, and where she worked, but I couldn't place her, couldn't remember.

Q. Couldn't place her at all? A. No.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. I will ask you this question; Tom when did you work for Tom Morgan? A. I can't tell you the year.

Q. You worked for Tom Morgan before you did Brock, didn't you? A. Oh, yes.

Q. Did you commence—you were out west in Graham County awhile, wasn't you? A. No, sir.

Q. Your parents lived out there?

A. My folks did, yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever go out there? A. No, sir.

Q. And did you work at Brock's the same time that Sadie James did? A. No.

Q. What? A. No, I went there just after she did.

Q. You went there after she left there? A. Yes.

Q. You worked there when Mag. Turner did?

A. No, she had worked there. She came to work but not steady. Both of them worked.

Q. You worked for Doctor Brock ten or twelve years?

A. Yes.

Q. And you don't know where you were working in 1884, 5 and 6, do you?

A. I must have been working for the Donovan Transfer Co. I think.

Q. In 1887?

A. I don't know that I was working for the Donovan Transfer Co. in——

Q. To refresh your memory; were you working for Tom Morgan in 1887? A. I don't know.

Q. If you were subpoenaed as a witness in 1887, in a murder case, known as the State of Kansas against the Drake boys, and were working for Morgan at that time, you couldn't have been working for Brock? A. No.

Q. And you didn't go to work for Brock until seven years after that? A. No.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. After you worked for Morgan you went to work for Donovan? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How did you know that Sadie James worked for Brock, did she tell you?

A. I knew her when she worked up there.

Q. You knew her when she worked there? A. Yes.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Tom, you say Sadie came to you the first time, and you told her that you had known Granny Letcher all your life, did you tell Sadie that you had known Grannie Letcher most of your life when she came to see you the first time?

A. She didn't ask me anything about knowing Granny Letcher, I don't think.

Q. Did she know that you did know her?

A. I suppose that she did; we had seen one another there, I guess.

Q. You say she tried to get you to say that you knew an Indian Minnie and a Tommy Atkins?

A. She didn't try to get me to say that, she tried to make me remember. I remembered the people where she said she worked at but I couldn't remember the Indian Minnie.

Q. Do you know who she was working for then?

A. She said she was working for Hyde on Second and Arch, that is what she said, used to work for them.

Q. I see, do you know who Sadie was working for when she was talking to you the first time?

A. She didn't live here I don't think when she came.

Q. When was it that she talked to you the first time?

A. I don't remember—it was about a year or two ago when she first came up hunting Indian Minnie.

Q. You told her that you had never heard of Indian Minnie or Tommy?

A. Yes, I told her that I didn't remember, and she tried to make me remember, and I said I didn't remember them. I don't know who she was working for.

Q. You say you commenced working for Brock about ten or eleven years before he died?

A. Yes, sir, in all. I worked a year for him after he died.

Q. You worked for him twelve years altogether?

A. Yes, sir, altogether, yes, sir, steady.

Q. But you knew the Letcher family before then?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you went to her home before then, Granny Letcher's? A. No, not so much as I did.

Q. I know, not so much, but you were there?

A. I might have been there, yes, sir.

Q. You never saw nor heard of Minnie or Tommy?

A. No, sir, not to my knowledge.

(And thereupon the witness was dismissed.)

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Dr. C. M. Moats, appearing in Mr. Penick's transcript at page 2520.

Dr. C. M. MOATES being called on behalf of the United States sworn and under oath testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. State your name? A. Dr. C. M. Moates.

Q. What is your profession Doctor? A. Physician.

Q. Where do you reside?

A. 509 Fifth Avenue, Leavenworth, Kansas.

Q. How long have you resided at Leavenworth?

A. About twenty-eight years I think. Soon will be.

Q. When did you come here?

A. I came here November 27th, in '88.

Q. Have you been engaged in the practice of medicine ever since you came here? A. I have.

Q. What age are you?

A. Fifty-two. Will be this year.

Q. Did you know a colored woman here by the name of Molly Letcher, commonly called Granny Letcher? A. Yes.

Q. Where was she residing when you first knew her?

A. I think she was on Third and Seneca, I believe is where I commenced treating her.

Q. She was living in a house there?

A. Living in a house just east of the livery stables.

Q. Frame house?

A. Frame house, it strikes me. Might have been partly brick but kind of an old shack at that time.

Q. Just east of which livery stable?

A. Van Tyles'. Known at that time.

Q. On which side of the street did she reside?

A. On the south side of Seneca.

Q. Between what two streets was her residence?

A. Well between Shawnee and Seneca on the south side.

Q. Now running east and west?

A. Yes, running east and west.

Q. I mean between what two numbered streets?

A. Well you see she was living at the corner of Third and Seneca.

Q. You mean between Third and Seneca? A. Yes.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading and suggestive and move to strike the answer.

Q. Which direction from Third street? A. East.

Q. Doctor did you—were you ever her physician?

A. Yes.

Q. Beginning about how soon after you came here?

A. I think—— Well it was in the early part of the year of '89.

Q. Was she—— Did she have any trouble that was of continuous nature? A. Yes.

Q. Any affiiction?

A. She had a lacerated varicose vein. I don't remember just which limbs.

Q. One of the lower limbs?

A. Yes, and she had neuritis of which she finally died.

Q. Some ten years later?

A. Several years later, yes.

Q. Were you or not her physician throughout the time of her life after you came here? A. Yes, when I were in town.

Q. State whether you visited her home professionally. is that where you would see her?

A. Yes, I never was there only professionally.

Q. And is that where you would treat her?

A. That is where I treated her.

Q. Where you would see her professionally at her home?

A. Yes, my office was down on Delaware, corner of Third and Delaware and I boarded at 326 Decatur street so I would go up and down that street three or four times a day to my meals, up in the north end of town.

Q. Where was Decatur street in reference to Seneca street? A. It was directly north.

Q. What direction was Delaware from Seneca?

A. It was south.

Q. You officed at what placed on Delaware?

A. Third and Delaware.

Q. And you resided at 326 Decatur? I believe?

A. No, 303 Delaware. I slept at the office and ate up north.

Q. Ate at home? A. Yes.

Q. Where was the home? I don't get that?

A. 326 Decatur street.

Q. So you would go back down on Third street?

A. I kept my horse at the livery stable Van Tyles'.

Q. Next door to Granny's?

A. Yes. Put my horse there and kept him there a year or more.

Q. You would go up and down Third street going from your office home and home to your office? A. Yes, direct, yes.

Q. Would you call at the home of Granny Letcher very frequently?

A. Well I was in there quite often when I would go in the livery stable for the horse to go in and make a call. She would leave often word with the liveryman to tell me to come in.

Q. And you would do so?

A. I would do so. There at night quite often.

Q. Did she live anywhere else except on Seneca street after you became acquainted with her?

A. It seems to me she did. Over there is where I have my remembrance stronger of her residence than anywhere else. Seems to me she was on Shawnee with her son.

Q. You haven't a distinct recollection as to the whereabouts? A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. Now Doctor did you know of any child, small or large, any boy child in that family who was an Indian boy? A. No.

Q. Did you know of any child in that family by the name of Indian Tommy? A. No.

Q. Or Tommy Atkins?

A. No. I have a recollection of seeing, it seems to me, two little girls about that tall with beautiful hair, there at the time that she was quite low, that were not there long. They were very bright. I learned since that one of them lived in Lawrence. I don't know. She has grown up since.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. How long Doctor was Granny Letcher in failing health prior to her death?

A. It seems it was quite a time. She swole up with dropsy. That is when I was called there so frequently. She couldn't breathe and she would lay down.

Q. Do you know when she died?

A. Before her death, quite a time before her death.

Q. I say, do you know when she died?

A. No, I don't. I can't recall the time.

Q. Would that be as long as a year that she suffered prior to her death?

A. Well not continuously. She got up and her dropsy disappeared and then she taken down again with kind of a asthma and she passed off. She had a sore limb that I treated and that give her lots of trouble.

Q. Up to the time that she began to fail which finally culminated in her death she was an active woman and did her work, did she not and got about?

A. Well, in a way, like most old ladies do. She was large. She did I think. She kinda had a lot of people around there, boarding and so on.

Q. Do you remember any of those people?

A. None but that little Sam Nash and her son.

Q. What was her son's name? A. Jim.

Q. Jim? A. Yes.

Q. Those are the only two that you remember?

A. Yes, those are the only two that I know so much about.

Q. Now this girl that you spoke of with the beautiful hair was a white girl, wasn't she?

A. No, she didn't strike me as white. She was light and was rather fleshy. Nice looking children but I don't remember seeing them there but a few times, so when she was having considerable trouble with her limb at that time.

Q. About how long after was that that you came here?

A. Oh, it must have been some years.

Mr. German: What are you referring to Mr. Hanford?

Mr. Hanford: When the girls were there.

A. It must have been five years I would say as far as I can recollect.

Q. The nearest that you can recollect is that it would be about five years? A. Yes.

Q. How old were those two little girls?

A. I don't know. From what I would judge they must have been about six or seven years old.

Q. Did they look to be about the same age?

A. No, one it strikes me was a little larger than the other and probably a couple of years——

Q. That would be a six or seven year old child? A. Yes.

Q. And then?

A. And it was a little darker than the younger one.

Q. Then the younger one would be about four or five?

A. Yes. Seemingly, yes.

Q. Was it the older one that had the beautiful hair?

A. Yes, it strikes me.

Q. Long hair? A. Long hair.

Q. Did you hear her name?

A. No, I never learned those children's names.

Q. Or the name of her mother?

A. No I didn't. Granny Letcher when she would have those spells at night, she would have people come in and it strikes me there was another girl that used to be around there with her son that used to dart in and around these alleys that carried a beer bucket a great deal. She looked more like a Mexican, a fleshy looking girl. I don't know her name.

Q. Doctor you came here in '88? A. In '88.

Q. Did you commence your practice then?

A. The next week afterwards.

Q. Where did you have your office? You say 303 Delaware?

A. 303 Delaware, right now where the ticket office is, the Kansas City—upstairs.

Q. You doctored principally among the colored people?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who had that practice mostly prior to yourself?

A. Well Dr. H. B. Callahan; a man named Hamilton, Dr. Callahan was a very old man from Missouri.

Q. Do you remember Dr. McCormack?

A. Yes, sir. He had been here but was kinda failing, going out.

Q. He had been a prominent doctor among colored people?

A. The white people had kinda discredited him. He was not so popular but among the older colored people he occasionally would have a case.

Q. About how long after you came here did you attend Granny Letcher?

A. Well, I think it must have been in '89. You see I came here just ending of the Thanksgiving. They were having a big celebration here then and I got straightened out and practicing in about a week or two. Got an office and got straightened out and a house and it was shortly after.

Q. Have you your reference to show your different cases and the different physicians at that time?

A. I don't think I have. In 1884 I went away and kinda destroyed them. I went over to Chicago and taken a post-course and I destroyed a lot of things.

Q. And that was in '94? A. Yes, 1894, yes.

Q. You came here in '88?

A. Yes, '94. The next year after the World's Fair at Chicago.

Q. Then that was '94? A. Yes, '94.

Q. Now, in these earlier years you didn't attend her so much if she was a negro woman at that time?

A. I attended her more after I got back from Chicago, especially on that limb. I paid quite a lot of attention in post-graduate to these old ulcers and [] and I treated a lot of things on Granny.

Q. After you came back from Chicago up until her death was when her limb gave her lots of trouble?

A. Yes, gave her lots of trouble? Had sugar in her urine and quite a bad limb and she had lots of trouble in hot weather.

Q. The only occasion of your visiting Granny was when you went there to attend her for her leg? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And later on when she was developing dropsy?

A. When she developed dropsy.

Q. You didn't visit her house?

A. No, only at times when they were hitching up. I might see them come in the stable.

Q. No, you were not a frequenter of her place?

A. No, I wasn't a frequenter. I didn't board there. I never knew them as I did others.

Q. You were only there professionally?

A. Professionally, every time I was called there.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Doctor you visited her professionally in the day time as well as night time didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Just whenever you were called?

A. Whenever I was called.

Q. Did you know a boy around there called Walter—Walter Banks?

Mr. Hanford: Objected to as leading.

A. No.

Q. You don't remember a boy of that kind? You knew Jim Mayo? A. I did.

Q. And Sam Nash? A. Knew Sam.

Q. Sam was a one-armed boy?

A. I remember the first night they came—Doctor Callahan sent them down to me. I slept—— It was late at night and they told them we had a colored doctor and they came for me that night, the two boys, but I didn't know them. That was my first visit there then.

Q. You didn't know them then?

A. No, I didn't know them then, but later Nash being a one-armed fellow, I became acquainted with him.

Q. You started, in answer to a question propounded by Mr. Hanford to give some description of a woman that looked something like a Mexican woman? A. A girl.

Q. A Mexican girl.

A. Another woman old it seems to me, some years. She was around here; I never knew what became of her.

Q. Was she in the Letcher home some?

A. She seemed to be around, this Sadie was running a sort of a meeting place and she was there some.

Q. You are talking about a boy? A. Jim.

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as immaterial.

A. This woman stayed around there quite a while, around Jim, I don't know whether she was around Letcher's or not. I remember of seeing her quite a few times.

A. Did you know her name? A. No, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Mary Nash, beginning at page 2260 of Mr. Penick's transcript.

And thereupon, Mrs. MARY NASH, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Mrs. Mary Nash.

Q. Where do you live? A. 1221 Chickapoo Street.

Q. What age are you? A. Sixty years old.

Q. You live here in Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you lived in Leavenworth?

A. Oh, my, I have lived in Leavenworth ever since I was nine years old, and I lived here before that; I was born in Chickapoo, Kansas.

Q. You a married woman? A. No, sir, I am a widow now.

Q. What was your husband's name? A. Randolph Nash.

Q. Did you know Sam Nash?

A. Yes, sir. He is my step-son.

Q. Step-son? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who raised him? A. Mrs. Letcher.

Q. Mollie Letcher? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Sometimes called Granny Letcher? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she ever live on Cherokee Street? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she ever live on Seneca Street?

A. Yes, sir. I was married at her house on Seneca or Miama, at the Golden Gate, wherever that was.

Q. The Golden Gate was on Miama wasn't it?

A. That was where I was married at.

Q. Miama is the first street north of Seneca?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. It is not? A. Yes, sir, I think so.

Q. Where was the Golden Gate, between what two streets? Second and Third, or Third and Fourth, or what?

A. Fourth and Fifth.

Q. Between Fourth and Fifth? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever visit Granny Letcher's any after your marriage?

A. Not very much, I married and went to Missouri and stayed in Missouri two years and then when we came back here, then my husband moved away out where we are living now, out in that neighborhood.

Q. Where was Sam during this time?

A. Well, Sam mostly stayed with his grandmother.

Q. Mollie Letcher? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever furnish Sam with any clothing?

A. I have, yes, sir.

Q. When he was a boy?

A. Yes, sir, my husband and I, we have bought him school books and we bought him some clothes.

Q. Bought him clothes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever make him any clothes?

A. Yes, sir, I made him clothes.

Q. Did you go to see him any at Granny's?

A. Well, no, I didn't go down there very often, it was very seldom that I would go down to Granny Letcher's, but Sammy came out to the house to visit us; he came out and sometimes he would stay all day, but he hardly ever would stay all night with me, I don't know why.

Q. You remember the fact of Granny Letcher dying?

A. Oh, yes, I was there.

Q. You were there when she was buried?

A. Well, I was there pretty soon after she died, was there just before she died and I was called home on some business and I came back and she was dead.

Q. She died on Seneca, I believe, wasn't it?

A. Seneca? Seneca or Miama, yes, sir. I think it was Seneca.

Q. Across from Crilly's barn? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember when she died?

A. No, I don't just remember, but I think it was in 1900, I ain't really positive.

Q. It was about that time?

A. Yes, sir, I think it was.

Q. Now, how old is Sam, about?

A. Well, really, I don't know Sam's age. Of course, when we married, why, Sam was a little boy about four or five years old, something like that.

Q. What was your maiden name?

A. Mollie Williams, Mollie Knox some of them called me; I went to school a while by Mollie Knox, that was my father's name in Chickapoo.

Q. And you were at Granny's sometimes, were you at her house on Seneca Street before the occasion of her sickness when she died?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading and suggestive.

A. Not more than—— Oh, not more than two or three times, I don't think I was there more than twice before she took sick, because I was a woman that was—I was raising children and I stayed at home to take care of my children and I didn't go out much.

Q. Was Granny at your house? A. No, sir.

Q. What children were raised by Granny Letcher, if you know?

A. Well, what boys were there? Jim Mayo, that was her son, and Sam Nash and Walter Banks, that is all that I know anything about.

Q. Did you ever hear Granny, or Jim, or Walter or Sam ever make any mention of any woman, of any Indian Minnie, a woman by the name of Indian Minnie being at their home?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and as hearsay.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object for the same reason.

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever know or hear of any of them say anything about a boy by the name of Indian Tommy being at their home?

A. No, sir, I don't know anything about it.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object for the same reason.

By Mr. Bond: Same objection.

By Mr. Blakeney: We didn't get our objection in before the answer, she answered right off; I ask that the answer be stricken as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

By Mr. Hanford: The same motion and the same reasons.

Q. Did you ever see a boy at the Letcher home by the name of Indian Tommy? A. No, sir.

Q. Or any boy that the name of Tommy? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever see a woman there by the name of Minnie or Indian Minnie?

A. No, sir, I wasn't around here that much to know them people.

Q. Where is Sam living now?

A. I really don't know where Sam is; I was told that he was down in Oklahoma somewhere.

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to and move to strike the latter part of the answer as to what the witness was told, on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and hearsay, and not responsive to the question.

Q. How long since Sam left Leavenworth?

A. This last time?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, I don't know, Sam was out of town a long time before I knew he was out of town, because he never came out to the house.

Q. Did Sam have any property or anything—— Did he have any property or any means when he left here?

A. No, not as I knows of.

Q. Did you ever know him to have any property or any means of any kind? A. No, sir.

By Mr. Hanford: We object and move to strike the previous answers on the ground that it is irrelevant, and immaterial.

Q. Did you hear from Sam when he was down in Oklahoma? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When?

A. I heard from him when he was down there before; he wrote to me, he wrote me a letter.

Q. Have you got that letter with you?

A. I think I have.

Q. Let me see it?

A. The letter doesn't amount to anything, speaking of his mother is all.

Q. Is that the letter? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. German: I ask that this letter be marked as Government's Exhibit 52.

Q. Is that letter in Sam's handwriting or not?

A. Well, really I don't know, but I think it is.

Q. Does he call you mother?

A. Yes, sir, he always calls me Mamma.

Q. This envelope which is marked Government's Exhibit No. 53, where did you get that?

A. Why that is the envelope that came with the letter.

Q. Did you get it through the mail? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. German: I would like to file these two exhibits, don't offer them yet, in evidence.

Q. Did you see Sam after you received this letter, did Sam come back to Leavenworth?

A. I just don't know, I can't say.

Q. This letter is dated in January, 1914, that should evidently be 1915, I believe the envelope—— Yes—— January, 1915, was when that letter was mailed to you, January, yes. Have you seen Sam since then?

A. Yes, I met him on the street, that is all, met him on the street.

Q. Did he tell you how he was getting along down in Oklahoma?

By Mr. Hanford: We object to all this line of testimony on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and hearsay.

A. Yes, he said he was getting along nicely.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, hearsay and not the best evidence, and move to strike if the answer was interposed ahead of this objection, for the reasons stated in the objection.

Q. What did he say as to how he was getting along?

By Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

By Mr. Blakeney: The same objection for the same reasons.

A. Why, he said that he was doing nicely down there.

Q. Did he tell you what business he was in?

By Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

By Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. Why, he said he had a cafe or something like that down there, Nash's Cafe, I believe he called it.

Q. Did he say anything about how much it had cost?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did he say where he had gotten it?

A. No, sir, I didn't inquire that far.

Q. Did he tell you anything about Mr. Page?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and as hearsay.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object for the same reasons.

By Mr. Bond: The same reasons.

A. Why, Mr. Page, you say?

Q. Yes?

A. No. He spoke of Mr. Page before he went down there but not at that time when I met him on the street.

Q. Before he went down there he spoke of Mr. Page?

A. Yes.

Q. What did he say about Mr. Page?

By Mr. Hanford: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and hearsay.

By Mr. Blakeney: Object for the same reason assigned by Mr. Hanford, and for the further reason that no proper predicate has been laid if it is intended for impeachment purposes.

By Mr. Bond: The same objection.

A. He didn't say anything, only he said that Mr. Page was a very nice gentleman and treated him awful nice, Mr. Page and Mr. Long, I believe.

By Mr. Hanford: I move to strike the answer on the ground that it is hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and for the reason that the answer was made before an objection could be interposed.

By Mr. Blakeney: We move to strike out, especially the reference to Frank Long, as not responsible, and to strike the whole for the reason assigned in the objection.

Q. Did he or not mention Frank Long?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object now as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial and hearsay.

By Mr. Bond: Same objection.

By Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

A. Why, he spoke of Mr. Long and Mr. Page being such nice men.

Q. Did he say anything about them having done anything for him?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and no proper foundation laid for impeachment purposes.

By Mr. Bond: The same objection.

A. No, sir.

Q. Just said that they were nice men? A. Yes.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as hearsay.

By Mr. Hanford: We object on the further ground that it is leading.

Q. Did he say anything as to how he had gotten that restaurant?

A. No, sir, I wasn't with him that much, he didn't come out to the house.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bond.

Q. Do you know where Granny Letcher lived in 1890?

A. 1890, wasn't that when she died? Or 1900 was when she died; 1890, I will have to study that, I can't remember where she lived then.

Q. Do you know where she lived in 1893?

A. She lived on Miama Street, didn't she, in 1893, let's see, that is twenty-two years ago, I guess she lived on Miama Street, Miama or Seneca, wherever it was, over there by Crilly's barn, which street is that?

Q. You say you have lived here how many years?

A. Have lived here ever since I was nine years old and then I was taken to Missouri.

Q. And you don't know the streets?

A. Oh, I know the streets but I get tangled up sometimes, I came back here when I was nine years old and have lived here ever since, was born in Chickapoo.

Q. Didn't I understand you to say that after you were married you didn't come to Granny Letcher's place more than twice? A. After I was married?

Q. Yes?

A. We stayed here three weeks before we went away.

Q. After you went away then and came back?

A. Oh, I never did stay there any more after we came back.

Q. And as I remember the testimony, you said you thought you had been in Granny Letcher's house not over twice after that, and that she never did come to your house?

A. Oh, no, she wasn't out to my house, only in sickness and death, something like that, she would always come.

Q. And you think now that three times is about the only times that you ever were in her house?

A. Oh, no, I have been there more than that, I have been to Granny Letcher's more than twice, I was there when Sammy got his hand cut off, and all of that.

Q. When did you move out in the neighborhood of where you are living now? A. Out in West Leavenworth?

Q. Yes?

A. We moved out there, let me see, what year was it, must have been in 1879, I guess, or 1878 or 79.

Q. That you moved out there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And did you testify a few minutes ago that after you moved out in West Leavenworth, you thought you had not been in Granny's house but about twice?

A. I hadn't been down there more than that. Of course I went down when Jim was sick and when she was sick, and when she died I was there, but previous to that——

Q. That is what I am asking, prior to Granny's death, and after you moved out in West Leavenworth, two times would cover the times that you were at Granny's house, you think?

A. Well, I can't positively tell you. I might have been oftener than that, because she used to send word out and tell Mr. Nash to tell me to bring the children down that she wanted to see them, but I don't know how many times.

Q. How many times were you at her house when she lived on Seneca Street? A. How many times?

Q. About? A. I can't answer that question.

Q. Did you know all of the people who lived in the house when she lived on Seneca Street?

A. No, sir, I knew she was there and Sam was there and Jim was there, and this Walter was there.

Q. But there were others there that you did not know?

A. Of course, there was others there but I did not know them, and I never meddled into it.

Q. Never interested you at all. Is that right?

A. No, sir.

Q. You never inquired? A. No, sir.

Q. But you simply gave the names of the parties that you happened to see a few times that you were there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is all that you know about who lived in her house, is that right?

A. Yes, sir, that is all I do know. Of course, this court business is something new to me. You all——

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Of course you knew where Sam Nash lived, because he was your stepson? A. Oh, yes.

Q. Your husband was Sam's father? A. Step-father.

Q. And he frequently mentioned about Sam in your home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And when he did he told you where Sam was living? A. Yes.

Q. If Sam was going to school he told you, and told you whether he was buying books or not for him, and what he was doing? A. Yes.

Q. And so you knew of Sam living at Granny Letcher's? A. Oh, yes.

Q. Wait a minute. You knew of Sam living at Granny Letcher's independent of the fact that you saw him there? You knew it from the knowledge that you got from your husband? A. Yes, he lives there.

Q. You knew where Walter Banks lives for the same reason? Walter was related to you wasn't he? Related to the family? A. No, Sam was.

Q. Wasn't he?

A. No, sir, I don't know that he was any relation to the family and Walter, I don't know much about him. He was at Mrs. Letcher's, but I don't know nothing much about Walter at all.

Q. You knew from talking to your husband that Walter was living at Granny Letcher's for a good many years, from childhood to manhood? A. Yes, I knew he lived there.

Q. And made that his home from childhood to manhood, and you know that Jim Mayo was her son?

A. Yes, Granny Letcher's son.

Q. And you know from the conversation that you had in your home that her son was living at Granny Letcher's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, most of the information that you got of who lived there were those that you were interested in at your home? A. Yes, of course.

Q. Those that you were not interested in you did not discuss in your home? A. No.

Q. The fact that a little long golden-haired white girl had been living at Granny Letcher's in the early eighties, during the eighties, that was not mentioned in your home?

A. No, I don't know anything about that.

Q. Now, the fact that any other children were raised there was not mentioned—not related to you and not discussed?

A. No, I did not come down in this part of town very often.

Q. Well, if you had never come down, from the frequent conversation you have had in your home, you would have known where Sam lived, wouldn't you?

A. What did you say?

Q. If you had not come at all, you would have known where Sam lived, wouldn't you?

Mr. German: I object to that as argumentative.

A. Oh, yes, if I had wanted Sam I would have known where to go to find him, at Mrs. Letcher's.

Q. You never was in Tulsa, Oklahoma? A. Oh, no, sir.

Q. In January, 1915, you would [] known where to find Sam, too, wouldn't you? A. According to that letter.

Q. According to your knowledge and information you would of known where to find him?

A. According to that letter I would have known that he was down there—Tolaski, or what you call it.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. How did you find out that Walter Banks was living at Granny Letcher's house.

A. Well, he used to come out to the house sometime with Sam and would come out to our house and Walter would come out with him sometime.

Q. Did you see Walter at Granny's home?

A. Yes, I had met him there when I went there, but as I told you I wasn't there very much.

Q. Wasn't there very much? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know of any boy, or did you hear any of them say anything about any boy that Granny was raising and that she kept for any considerable length of time except Sam and Walter? A. No, sir.

Mr. Hanford: Objected to.

Q. What? A. No, sir.

Mr. Hanford: I object to the question on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial, all of which is hearsay, and I move to strike the answer of the witness, which was made before my objection was completed.

Witness dismissed.

Q. Then you were in Leavenworth from October, 1890, until 1895 or 1896? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, while you were running this restaurant, state whether or not you visited Granny's home very often.

A. Well, I visited her sometimes.

Q. How frequently?

A. Well, not so—I was busy most of the time but I would go there back and forth sometimes to see her.

Q. Well, while you were keeping house on Cherokee Street, did you visit her any? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Very frequently?

A. Yes, I went to see her more than——

Q. Now, during your stay in Leavenworth, who lived with Granny Letcher, not counting the times when you and Jim lived with her. not mentioning yourself and Jim; you already told the time that you and Jim lived with her. Who else lived with her during your stay there?

A. Sam Nash and Walter Banks.

Q. No one else?

A. Then, she had a little girl that she was keeping for a lady.

Q. What was the little girl's name?

A. We called her little Maude.

Q. Did she keep little Maude during the entire time you were in Leavenworth? A. No.

Q. When was it that she kept little Maude?

A. When we were on Choctaw Street.

Q. Who was Walter Banks—who was Walter?

A. He was a boy whose mother had died. so Ma told me—Mother Letcher. said that his mother had died there and he was an orphan child and she had raised him.

Q. About what aged child was Walter when you went to Leavenworth?

A. Oh, he was about 9 or 10, about as near as I can guess at his age.

Q. Now, who was Sam?

A. That was her daughter's son she said.

Q. What was his surname? Sam what? A. Sam Nash.

Q. What was Walter's name? A. Walter Banks.

A. Spokane, Washington.

Q. When did you go out there? A. In 1910.

Q. When were you summoned as a witness in the case?

A. On the 30th of May.

Q. Who was the first person ever talked to you about what you knew in the case?

A. I don't know the gentleman's name.

Q. Well, look around and see if you see him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is he now?

A. That gentleman sitting over there.

Q. Mr. Robertson, the Pinkerton Detective? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He is the man. Where did he find you?

A. He found me at Spokane.

Q. Where were you when he found you?

A. I was at 704 Olympic.

Q. That is your residence?

A. No, sir, I was waiting on a sick man.

Q. He found you there, did he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have a talk with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you and him talk over this situation?

A. Oh, not very long, I don't know just how long.

Q. Well, did you get through talking that evening or that morning? A. Oh, yes, sir, he didn't stay very long.

Q. When did he come back again? A. Sir?

Q. Did he come back again? A. No, sir.

Q. Did he take your statement?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. Didn't take anything down on paper?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Well, now, think it over and see if you can't think. Did he take something down on paper? A. I don't know.

Q. Did he have anybody with him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whom did he have with him—— Don't look at him, look at me.

A. I think it was Mr. Malone. I know it was Malone with him.

Q. What Malone? A. Joe Malone.

Q. Who is Joe Malone?

A. He used to run a saloon or be a bartender.

Q. A gambler and saloon keeper in Leavenworth?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Anybody else with him?

A. I don't know the other gentleman.

Q. What kind of a looking man was he? Do you see him around the court room; look all around the court room and inside the bar and see if you can find him?

A. I don't know him if I would see him.

Q. What kind of a looking man was he?

A. He was a tall man and his hair was gray.

Q. Gray hair? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Tall and slender? A. No, he was kind of heavy.

Q. Did he claim to be an officer? A. No, sir.

Q. Which one of them claimed to be an officer?

A. That gentleman there.

Q. He claimed to be an officer, what kind of an officer?

A. Pinkerton detective.

Q. What did he say to you?

A. Well, he asked me if I had ever lived in Leavenworth, and I told him I had; he wanted to know if I knew Granny Letcher and I told him I did; and he asked if I remembered

Ella Abbott and I told him yes; and he asked me where she lived when I worked for her and I told him.

Q. You never were at Granny Letcher's house on Seneca Street were you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What year? A. Just before I left there.

Q. When was that?

A. It was either in the spring of 1905 or 1906.

Q. Either the spring of 1905 or 1906? A. Yes, sir.

Q. But you don't know who was there at her house between 1885 and the time you married? A. No, I do not.

Q. Don't know anything about it? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know who was there? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you see a little boy around Granny Letcher's whose name you didn't know, you didn't know whether he was an Indian or not?

A. Well, the children played in the yard.

Q. Did you see a little boy around Granny Letcher's, Georgia, don't you remember that you saw a little boy around there?

A. I don't remember about the children that played in the yard. You know Granny took care of children and working out and being away from home I didn't pay any attention to the children; I don't know who was in the yard.

Q. You don't say there wasn't a little Indian boy around there? A. No, because I don't know.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Georgia, you were in Leavenworth in 1905 and 1906?

A. I said I left there.

Q. In 1905? A. In 1905 or 1906.

Q. How long did you live in Leavenworth?

A. I lived there five years.

Q. When did you first come to Leavenworth?

The Court: I think evidently she means 1895 or 1896.

A. Yes, 1895 and 1896.

Q. That is what you want to say now? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Jim Mayo—Granny Mayo was your mother-in-law?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you never went around her house much?

A. Well, I couldn't say I went around much.

Q. You didn't go there often?

A. I went there several times.

Q. You never lived there, did you?

A. Not only the time I have made mention of.

Q. What time was that?

A. When we was on Choctaw. I lived with her all the time when we was on Choctaw Street.

Q. How long did she live on Choctaw the last time?

A. I don't know, she was living there when I went there.

Q. When you came to Leavenworth in 1890? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how long did she live there? A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know? A. No, sir.

Q. About how long?

A. Well, she may have lived there a year or six months, I don't know.

Q. Did you live in the house with her all the time?

A. I did then.

Q. Did you work any of that time for Ella Abbott?

A. I didn't know Ella Abbott then.

Q. Where did you work for Ella Abbott?

A. On Cherokee Street.

Q. Where about?

A. On the Corner of Cherokee and Third I think over the drug store.

Q. Whose building?

A. A Jewish drug store, I don't remember the name.

Q. Would you know it if I would call it?

A. I think I would.

Q. Was it Able's Drug Store? A. I think that is it.

Q. Your husband was living with you at that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did John Malone run his saloon and gambling house? A. On Cherokee Street.

Q. And your husband worked for him?

A. I thought it was Joe Malone's place.

Q. Did your husband work for him? A. He did.

Q. And that was the time you commenced working for Ella Abbott?

A. Yes, sir, I was working for her before that.

Q. At that time there was no Indian boy at Mrs. Letcher's was there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What boys were there? A. Sammy and Walter.

Q. What girl was there if any?

A. Wasn't any that I know of then.

Q. Was there any other members of the family of Mrs. Letcher's there at that time? A. No.

Q. Mrs. Letcher often had other members in the family didn't she? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you go to the house often after she moved back to Seneca Street?

A. I didn't go there very often until I moved back there.

Q. When did you move back there?

A. Well, it was in 1895 or 1896, because I wasn't there long, when I moved back I didn't stay there very long until I came to Oklahoma.

Q. You had lived on Seneca Street before that?

A. No, sir.

Q. What do you mean by saying when you went back there? A. When she moved back there.

Q. When did you leave Leavenworth?

A. I left in the spring of 1895 ot 1896.

Q. Who left with you? A. I left with myself.

Q. Did your husband know you were going to leave?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you go? A. I went to Oklahoma.

Q. Did you ever come back to Leavenworth? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever see him afterwards? A. No, sir.

Q. Had you separated from him before you left Leavenworth? A. No, sir.

Q. When did you separate? A. When I left there.

Q. The night you left? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And he didn't know you was going? A. No.

Mr. Bell: That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Where did you go to in Oklahoma?

A. I went to my mother's.

Q. What place? A. Okarche.

Q. Over in the Oklahoma Territory? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When you were living with Granny, when you and Jim were living with Granny on Choctaw Street, you knew who lived in that family, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And tell the Court whether at that time there was any Indian boy living in that family?

A. No, because I lived in the house.

Q. How long did you live on Choctaw Street?

A. I don't remember just how long.

The Court: I think that is pretty well covered.

Q. Now, you spoke, in answer to Judge Stuart, that you didn't know what boys played around the yard? A. No.

Q. Whether there was any Indian boy played around in the yard or not. While you were living at Granny's you say there was no Indian boy lived with her? A. No, sir.

The Court: What do you mean that Granny Letcher took care of children; you said she took care of children?

A. Just like little Maude, her mother boarded her there when I went there on Choctaw.

Q. Do you recall any other child that she took care of while you lived in Leavenworth?

A. Not while I worked there.

Q. Did she take care of any other child while you were living in Leavenworth?

A. No, sir, not while I was around.

Q. Did you know of Granny owning a horse and buggy?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was she living when she first owned it as far as your knowledge extends?

A. She bought the horse while she was working for Governor Smith at the Soldier's Home.

Q. When was it that she worked for Governor Smith?

A. It was about 1893 I think.

Q. Where was her place of residence in Leavenworth at the time she was working for Governor Smith?

A. Well, a part of the time—— She went to work for Governor Smith while she was living on Shawnee Street.

Q. And I believe you stated she moved from Shawnee to Seneca? A. No, she moved out by the home.

Q. Lived out by the home a while? A. Yes.

Q. When she was working for Governor Smith?

A. Yes, and that is when I remember she had the horse and buggy and she had a garden out there.

Q. Did she bring that horse and buggy back when she moved to Seneca? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did she keep it?

A. In a little barn back on the lot.

Q. Next to the alley? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was that barn ever used for people to live in?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. What was the color of Granny Letcher?

A. She was a dark woman.

Q. She was a negro? A. Yes.

Q. Was she a black negro? A. Yes.

Q. Or light color, which? A. No, she wasn't light.

Q. Tell us now distinctly what her color was?

A. She was dark, what you would call a black.

Q. Well, Sam and Walter, are they in the city, have you seen them since you have been there? A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Do you know Sadie James?

A. No, sir, I never knew her until I have seen her here.

Q. How many times have you talked to Sadie since you have been here?

A. I haven't talked to her over once or twice since I have been here, only just to speak to her.

Q. You had a talk with her, haven't you?

A. No, not only just to speak to her and go by.

Q. That is all you have said to her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Haven't talked with her at all about the case?

A. No, sir.

Q. Haven't talked about what you would swear to?

A. No, sir.

Q. Haven't told her what you would swear to in the case?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did these people that came out to Portland talk to you just once? A. That is all.

Q. Anybody else saw you but them? A. No, sir.

Q. And those three men were the ones that saw you there and nobody else? A. That is all.

Q. Now, think about that, is that all?

A. That is all I have ever talked to.

Q. You are sure of that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. In Portland about this case?

A. The only one ever spoke to me about it.

Q. About this case? A. Until the subpoena came.

Q. Well, but I mean out at Spokane? A. Yes.

Q. Well, after the subpoena came did anybody talk to you out at Spokane?

A. No, the marshal told me that I would have to come and told me to come and be here.

Q. The point I ask you is this, did anybody ever talk to you about questioning you—ever talk to you about this case except Mr. Robertson, Mr. Malone and the other man?

A. Well, the other man didn't speak about it, he was just there.

Q. Did anybody ever talk to you while he was present except the two you have mentioned? A. No, sir.

Mr. German: The other man was the chauffeur driving the car?

A. Yes, sir.

Cross Examination by Mr. Bell.

Q. Georgia, you have an aunt living in Leavenworth, haven't you?

A. Well, I always called her mother Bradford.

Q. Didn't she write to you that the officer was coming to see you? A. If she did I didn't get it.

Q. Where were you living in Oklahoma two years ago?
A. I haven't been in Oklahoma.

Q. Where did you go from Oklahoma to Spokane, did you go from Oklahoma?

A. No, I went from Oklahoma when the regiment, my husband was sergeant in Company E of the 25th Infantry and we was moved from there to Fort Bliss, El Paso, and I went from there to Fort Bliss.

Q. And you haven't heard from your step-mother?
A. No, I haven't.

Mr. German: Her name is Elizabeth Bradford?

A. Yes, sir.

(Witness dismissed.)

Mr. German: Your Honor, we now offer the deposition of John C. Ketcheson taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in the transcript, beginning at page 2538.

And thereupon, JOHN C. KETCHESON, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Please state your name, age, and place of residence?
A. John C. Ketcheson, seventy-eight years and one month.
Q. You live in Leavenworth, Kansas? A. Yes, sir.
Q. How long have you lived in Leavenworth, Mr. Ketcheson? A. I came here in the fall of '66.
Q. Lived here continuously since that time? A. Yes, sir.
Q. In what business were you engaged in eighty-four, five and six? A. The printing business.
Q. Are you also in the binding business?
A. Well, we have done more or less binding, yes.
Q. Do your own binding?
A. In some classes. Not any pamphlet binding, not any book binding.
Q. What was the name of your firm then?
A. Well, when I first came here it was the old Leavenworth Conservative.
Q. In '85 and '86?
A. And the Ketcheson & Hubble in '85.
Q. You were then the senior member of that firm?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You have been continuously engaged in that business ever since? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you before you the city directory for the year 1885? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who compiled that directory, Mr. Ketcheson?

A. Edward Green.

Q. Is he living or dead?

A. He has been dead several years.

Q. Have you also the directory of 1886 before you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who compiled that directory? A. Edwin Green.

Q. The same party who compiled the '85 directory?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who composed those two directories?

A. Why, we printed them for him, I suppose Mr. Green was the publisher literally; we done it as a job of printing.

Q. I ask you what book this is I have in my hand?

A. It is the Leavenworth City Directory.

Q. Is that the official City Directory for what year?

A. '85.

Q. In whose possession has this directory been since that time? A. Mine, it is my regular file.

By Mr. Allen: We now offer the entries appearing in this record in reference to the name of Lilly White, appearing on page 292 of the City Directory of the City of Leavenworth for the year 1885, which was just identified by the witness.

By Mr. Cruce: We object, if the Court please, because it is hearsay testimony, purported directory has not been sufficiently identified as the authentic official directory of the City of Leavenworth, and the testimony otherwise is incompetent.

By Mr. Hanford: I join in the objection stated by Mr. Cruce on the further ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

By Mr. Allen: No objection to my reading the entry appearing in the book?

By Mr. Cruce: Oh, no.

By Mr. Allen: White, Miss Lillie, r 217 Seneca. From the entries appearing on page 180 of the same directory as follows: Letcher——

By Mr. Cruce: We object to that for the same reasons.

By Mr. Hanford: We make the same objection.

By Mr. Allen: Letcher, Mrs. Mary, colored, widow, washing and ironing, r. 215 Cherokee.

By Mr. Cruce: We object for the same reasons lodged to the introduction of the other entry.

By Mr. Allen: And on page 191, James Mayo.

By Mr. Hanford: We make the same objection to this entry.

By Mr. Allen: The following entry: Mayo, James H., col'd lab. r 215 Cherokee. And the following entry on page——

By Mr. Cruce: The same objection as to the other entry.

By Mr. Hanford: I join in the objection.

By Mr. Allen: 212.

By Mr. Hanford: We object on the same ground.

By Mr. Allen: Nash, Simon, col'd lab. r 215 Cherokee.

Q. I will ask you what book this is, Mr. Ketcheson?
A. Edwin Green's directory of the City of Leavenworth, and Fort Leavenworth, of 1886.
Q. Is that the official directory of the City of Leavenworth for the year 1886? A. Yes, sir.
Q. That is the directory that you stated just a few moments ago that you published for Mr. Green who is now dead?
A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Allen: We offer the following entries, appearing on page 193 of said directory.

By Mr. Hanford: The same objection as to the other entries.

By Mr. Allen: Letcher, Mrs. Mollie, boarding house, 217 Seneca. Page 205, Mayo, James, col'd.

By Mr. Hanford: The same objection to this entry.

By Mr. Allen: Wks. Skating Rink, r. 217 Seneca. Mayo, J. H., col'd lab. r. 217 Seneca. Page 227.

By Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

By Mr. Allen: Nash, Samuel, wks. John S. Stratley, r. 217 Seneca. Page 213.

By Mr. Hanford: The same objection.

By Mr. Allen: White, Miss Lillie, r. 326 Choctaw.

Q. Both of those directories, you say have been in your possession since they were compiled and published?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. For what period of time did this man Edwin Green compile the city directories for the City of Leavenworth?

A. I don't know just how long, five or six years, I think, that is my recollection.

By Mr. Allen: There is no objection to the introduction of these entries upon the ground that we are introducing the entire directory, is there?

By Mr. Cruce: No.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Ketcheson, what was your occupation in 1885?

A. Printer.

Q. What kind of a shop did you have?

A. Book shop and printing.

Q. What kind of presses did you have?

A. Well, at that time I was running two cylinder presses and three or four job presses.

Q. You say you had two or three what kind of presses?

A. At that time, I think two cylinder presses and three job presses, three or four.

Q. Two cylinder presses? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And three job presses?

A. Three or four, I wouldn't be positive, at that time.

Q. These books were printed on the job presses?

A. No, sir, they were printed on the cylinder press.

Q. What kind of type did you use?

A. Well, that is Johnson's manufacture in Cincinnati, at that time tended Long Primer.

Q. Your type was set by hand?

A. Yes, sir, didn't have machines in those times.

Q. How many employees did you have at that time?

A. Oh, I suppose probably, well, that was—five or six men setting type.

Q. That was a good job getting out the city directories?

A. It was considered a good job, and we had all the force we could put on it.

Q. And how much time would be consumed in setting up the work?

A. We would average about sixteen to thirty-two people a day; sometimes we run one form and sometimes two, I suppose it would average probably twenty-four pages a day.

Q. So that would mean about two weeks in the setting up of the pages? A. Well, along about that, yes.

Q. Then, how much time would be consumed in the printing the press work?

A. That was done every day, that was a very short job, probably take an hour.

Q. Then, the books were bound?

A. They were folded right up as each form was printed and sent them to the bindery.

Q. All together, how long did it take you to get out the city directory?

A. Well, I don't remember, sometimes longer than others, because sometimes we would be delayed on a copy or something like that.

Q. So it would be a month or more?

A. Probably a month, yes, from the time it was commenced until it was finished.

Q. Directories were always gotten out at the beginning of the year? A. Well, along about that, I think.

Q. I didn't understand you?

A. I said it was about that time, I don't remember exactly. Usually in the spring.

Q. The directories were being compiled before they were turned over to you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. They gave you the compilation after it was made up?

A. Yes, sir. They done a good deal at once though, of course the advertisement and everything of that kind.

Q. Did Mr. Green compile the directories himself?

A. He had two or three assistants.

Q. And their work was to collect the names and addresses?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And compile the directories and turn them over to Mr. Green? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And did he edit them himself?

A. Yes, sir, he done the most part; he always oversaw all the work.

Q. Were the lists of names and the order in which they were placed made up in his office? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, his employees gathered the names and addresses on the outside and would turn them in to him and he would have to arrange them in order?

A. The way they would take the data was on little slips about that long and about that wide and turn them in to him, and when they got through they would sort them and pile them and place them on a sheet.

Q. And get them in the order in which they were to be printed? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that would be the copy which he would turn over to you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How large a city was Leavenworth in 1885?

A. Why, they used to claim about twenty-five thousand I think, twenty-five or thirty.

Q. How would its size compare with today?

A. Well, the city is all here, but I suppose not quite so many population now.

Q. There was more people in those days?

A. More people, yes.

Q. Those were the prosperous days? A. Yes.

Q. When Leavenworth was the large city in this locality?

A. It was considered in that time bigger than Kansas City, quite a rivalry as to which was the biggest.

Q. There were a great many changes from year to year in residence? A. Oh, yes.

Q. And addresses? A. Yes.

Q. And in those days people were moving here and there and building new places? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And changing very rapidly? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Houses were in demand? A. Yes.

Q. Now, Mr. Ketcheson, when would they start to compile that directory and get their list of names for the coming year?

A. It would take them at least three or four weeks.

Q. At least two to four weeks?

A. Two at least, depending on what force they had. After they would get it compiled, they would generally go over it and revise and that sort of thing, and it would take more time.

Q. The revising and rearranging would take some time after the names were collected? A. Oh, yes.

Q. That was the hard work on the part of the compiler?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how much time would be consumed in the compilation and arrangement?

A. Well, I don't—— Probably a week. I wouldn't say that definitely. I never paid much attention to it.

Q. Then, all together to get the directory, the names, and the addresses, and the matter collected and compiled and printed and bound, and the directories put out early in the year, they must have started work either in the latter part of the preceding year, or at the beginning of the year for which the directory was printed?

A. Yes, sir, my recollection is they didn't commence until along about the first of January to compile.

Q. About the first of the year?

A. Yes, generally would take them two months probably, I guess, to get them out and compile.

Q. They would allow about that much time? A. Yes.

Q. Do you recall about the month that the directories were usually put out?

A. Well, I can't call to mind just now, probably March or April, along in there somewhere.

Cross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Mr. Ketcheson, this was a private enterprise, the publication of this directory? A. Certainly, yes, sir.

Q. Wasn't published by any authority of the city and paid for by the city? A. No, sir.

Recross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Mr. Ketcheson, have you any book to show—record to show when the 1885 directory was delivered?

A. I have got it here.

Q. Mr. Ketcheson, what is this book that you have before you now?

A. That is what we call our daily blotter, our entry book we entered all the work in.

Q. I see the title at the top of the page "Shop Order Book"? A. Yes.

Q. Would that be what you would call the book?

A. Yes, sir, when I received a job I would put it down there.

Q. This book includes the year 1885, does it?

A. Yes, that is the date there at the top of the book, 1885.

Recross Examination by Mr. Cruce.

Q. Mr. Ketcheson, look at your record there and see what date you received compilation of that directory that was to be published in 1885 and read the entry?

A. Well, it was on the 9th of March, 1885, "Edwin Green, 350 copies of the directory, and the number 354 pages." The first copy of the directory proper was received today, that is March 9th, completed in bindery, April 29th, 1885.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Mr. Ketcheson, you say that is not the official directory for the City of Leavenworth, or do you mean that it was merely compiled and published by a private concern?

A. Why, I don't know that the city had anything to do with it more than others had to do with getting out a directory.

Q. He was authorized by the city to get out——

By Mr. Cruce: We object to that.

A. That is just my presumption, I don't know.

By Mr. Cruce: We object to that, because if the city authorized the publication of that, there must be some ordinance and this is not the best evidence.

Q. Was that the only directory published in the City of Leavenworth for those years?

A. I think it was all I know anything about.

Q. Has it been generally recognized as authentic and correct and official?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as asking for a conclusion.

Q. I will kill the word official. Authentic and correct?

A. That is my understanding, yes, sir.

Q. Are those the directories that were in common use in the City of Leavenworth? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as irrelevant, incompetent, and immaterial.

Q. What was Edward Green's occupation during those years?

By Mr. Blakeney: I object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. Well, that is about all he done I guess, and little odd jobs around town, collector and so on.

Q. What was his chief occupation?

A. Why, he—— Before he started into the directory?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial.

Q. I mean during the time, the years of 1885 and '86?

By Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. He was manager here for Dun's Directory—— Dun's Agency, Commercial Agency.

Q. So he devoted most of his time to the publication of this directory?

By Mr. Blakeney: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. Well, after he got out of Dun's, that is about all he done.

Q. When did he get out of Dun's?

A. I can't say that.

Q. Was it prior to the time that he begun the publication of these directories?

A. Oh, he published two or three while he was in there and some afterwards, I can't say how many before, or how they went.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. When do they have the city election in Leavenworth?

A. Well, I wouldn't begin to give dates on that, never paid enough attention to it.

Q. Don't they have some fixed Monday?

A. I think the first Monday in April, I think.

Q. The first Monday in April?

A. That is my recollection.

Q. The city officers that you gave then for the year 1885, were the city officers that were elected in April, 1884, and would go out in April '85?

A. Well, now if I am allowed. I think they generally hold the directory up until after the officers are elected. That portion of the directory was about the last published.

Q. Hold the directory open for that purpose?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. But for no other purpose?

A. Well, and to get the official city directory, I expect——

By Mr. Blakeney: I would like to offer the first page of each.

By Mr. Allen: We will read them.

By Mr. Blakeney: 1885 is as follows: "Edwin Green's Municipal Record and City Directory for April, 1885. City Government"—— I don't care to encumber the record with any except with the councilmen, they are the only ones that seem to be elected. "First Ward, City Council, J. F. Richards and W. H. Cook. Third Ward—— I only give the second ward—— Second Ward, H. Burns, S. A. Miller. Fourth Ward, J. J. Roache, J. Birringer." Now, the City Directory of '86: "Edward Green's Municipal Record and City Directory for 1886: City Government, First Ward: John F. Richards and John W. Brandon; Third Ward, Harman Burns, Julia S. Edwards; Fourth Ward, Anton Swobada, Peter Everhardy.

By Mr. German: I object to the offer made by Mr. Blakeney, from both of the directories, on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

By Mr. Blakeney: Oh, I consent that they may be stricken then.

By Mr. German: We don't make any objections to the one.

By Mr. Blakeney: Well, I don't particularly care, let it all be stricken.

By Mr. Allen: I now offer that part of the directory of the City of Leavenworth, identified by the witness, appearing on page 15, as follows:

By Mr. Blakeney: We object.

By Mr. Allen: Edwin Green's Municipal Record and City Directory for 1885.

By Mr. Cruce: Objected to because it doesn't prove anything and the testimony is incompetent.

By Mr. Allen: And that part of the City Directory—

By Mr. Blakeney: We object for the same reasons stated by Judge Cruce.

By Mr. Allen: And that part of the City Directory for the year 1886, identified by the witness, appearing on page 16 as follows: Edwin Green's Municipal and City Directory for 1886.

By Mr. Cruce: The same objection urged to the last one.

By Mr. Blakeney: We object to it, and for the further reason that we were trying to offer the notations on that page and they were objected to by the United States, and we thought that they were incompetent, and consented that they be stricken.

By Mr. Allen: That part of the introductory part on page fifteen, showing that the same was signed Edwin Green, Leavenworth, May 24th, 1886.

By Mr. Cruce: Objected to because it is incompetent testimony, statements made not under oath and not binding upon anybody in this litigation.

By Mr. Blakeney: I object for the same reason.

Recross Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. As the work would progress of printing and publishing the City Directory, state whether or not the compiler would continue to get data as to changes in the residences or addresses of people whose names appeared in there?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and to the competency of the witness.

A. Well, my understanding is that——

By Mr. Blakeney: We object to his understanding.

Q. You did the actual work of printing the paper?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Done under your supervision? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were at that time the head of the printing establishment that printed these directories? A. Yes, sir.

Q. State what your personal knowledge and recollection is of what was done in that respect?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. And as to the compiling?

Q. As to changes made in the addresses or residences of people, whether or not the names would be given you and the addresses changed to correspond with the new addresses?

A. Why, if I may be allowed to explain. After they had been completed and had the compilation, they would generally go over the lists and if they don't agree with our former residences, they generally would go around and verify them, and see if they are correct before they hand them to the printer.

By Mr. Blakeney: We move to strike the answer. Of course, it is incompetent, and a conclusion.

Q. Then, after this copy would be handed to the printer, would any changes ever be made in the——

A. Oh, yes, quite frequently.

Q. And they would learn of people moving and changing residences, that change was made in the directory?

By Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant, and not directed toward any definite time.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. State whether or not that was true with reference to '85 and '86? A. Why, they published notices requesting any one that had changed during the time that compilation had been taken to come to the office and make corrections and that was frequently—— I don't know but what there is a change in that of corrections before——

Q. The page you speak of is on page 40 of the 1885 directory, it shows new corrected and changes of locations?

A. Yes, sir. That is what I have reference to.

Q. When would that data be prepared?

A. That is about the last thing printed, that and the city officers there in the first part of it.

Q. Would be the last thing printed? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The same is true of the other directories, isn't it?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. Then, on page 48 of the directory for the year 1886, are a number of names appearing under errata; is that where the changes in the residences would be printed? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Allen: It can be agreed that none of the names that I have read into the record appear on either page forty of the '85 directory or page forty-six of the '86 directory, can't it?

By Mr. Blakeney: Oh, yes, of course.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You don't remember about Mollie Letcher coming around just before the directory was out and notifying them that she was going to move in a few days after the directory was published? A. I wasn't acquainted with Mollie.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, Mrs. A. G. WILDS, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Pinson.

Q. You may state your name. A. Mrs. A. G. Wilds.
Q. Where do you live, Mrs. Wilds?
A. Seattle, Washington.
Q. What was your name before you married?
A. Alvina Dlabal.
Q. Where did you live in May of 1915? A. Seattle.
Q. Do you know Minnie Folk? A. Yes.
Q. Mrs. Minnie Folk? A. Yes.
Q. Do you know her husband, Harry Folk? A. Yes.
Q. When did you meet Mrs. Folk first?
A. I met her about—well, I was introduced to her about April, 1915.
Q. Where? A. At one of her neighbor's.
Q. In Seattle? A. In Seattle.
Q. Do you know where Mrs. Folk lives, her house?
A. Yes.
Q. About what day did you first go to Mrs. Folk's house, if you ever went there? A. July 26th.
Q. 1916? A. Yes.
Q. Do you know Mr. Kohler, a man named Kohler?
A. I do.
Q. How long have you known him?
A. A good many years.
Q. Had you talked with Kohler before going to Mrs. Folk's home? A. Yes.
Q. Had you discussed with him anything that you should do in connection with Mrs. Folk?
A. Yes, he wanted to know if I could let him know when Mrs. Folk was going to leave Seattle.
Q. Now, after that time, Mrs. Wilds, when did first talked to Kohler did he explain to you why he wanted to get this information?
A. He didn't explain anything; he just said he wanted the information for himself.
Q. Did he tell you of whom he represented?
A. He did not.

Q. Did he mention any matter of importance in which Minnie and her alleged son were interested? A. Yes.

Mr. Cruce: If the Court please, this testimony would be clearly inadmissible, it is hearsay.

The Court: Who is Kohler? What does the records show his connection with this case is?

Mr. Pinson: I may state it, Your Honor, if you care to hear it. Kohler was employee J. Truman Nixon, and Mrs. Wilds, then Miss Dlabal, was employed by him in order to ascertain when Minnie Atkins would leave Seattle.

The Court: Then probably it is unnecessary to detail the conversation between Kohler and her.

Mr. Pinson: It is for the purpose, Your Honor, of showing her purpose in talking to Mrs. Folk and her information and knowledge of the affairs of this case at that time.

The Court: I think the record is sufficiently clear to show that Kohler was interested and had her to seek this information.

Mr. Pinson: Very well, Your Honor.

Q. Had you talked to anybody else about this matter before going to Mrs. Folk's home on the occasion that you referred to? A. You mean the first time I ever went there?

Q. Yes. A. Yes.

Q. Who was that person? A. Mrs. Mann.

Q. Mrs. Betty Mann? A. Mrs. Betty Mann.

Q. Did she talk to you with Kohler, in company with Kohler? A. Yes.

Q. Did they appear to be associated in the matter? A. Yes.

Q. Now, what information, if any, did Mrs. Mann tell you they wanted to get?

Mr. Cruce: Objected to as hearsay.

The Court: Overruled.

Mr. Cruce: Exceptions.

Q. Go ahead, Mrs. Wilds.

A. Why, what was the question again, please?

Q. What information if any, did Mrs. Mann tell you that she wanted you to get in regard to Mrs. Folk?

A. She didn't explain a thing to me.

Q. What did she tell you to do in regard to Mrs. Folk?

A. She just told me to go over to Minnie's home and just let Minnie talk and see what Minnie had to say, and then to report to her.

Q. Now, Mrs. Wilds, at that time what was your profession or business?

A. Teaching school, I was going to go back to teaching school again.

Q. You had taught before? A. Yes.

Q. Now, on this visit which you referred to at Mrs. Folk's how did it happen that you went there at that particular time?

A. It happened very accidentally; I delivered two altered skirts that were sent there by one of her friends.

Q. To Mrs. Folk? A. Yes.

Q. Did you have a conversation with her on that occasion?

A. She merely stated that she received a letter from her lawyer, Mr. Hanford, and I made no comment upon any of her remarks.

Q. How long did you stay there upon that occasion?

A. About ten minutes, I should judge.

Q. Now, Mrs. Wilds, did you go back to her home again?

A. Yes.

Q. How frequently?

A. Just as often as I could, whenever she was at home.

Q. What was your relations with her? How did they become?

A. Why they was—she had me take too pairs of shoes—she asked me if I wouldn't try to stretch two pairs of shoes for her, the first time I was there; and I told her I would; and the second call I made there, I went there in regard to the shoes.

Q. Well, you didn't quite understand my question, probably. What relation afterward existed between you and Mrs. Folk?

The Court: Were you friendly?

A. Oh, we became very friendly.

Q. Did she talk very freely to you about matters connected with her affairs?

A. She did. That seemed to be the only thing that was on her mind.

Q. Now, can you recall at this time the conversations which you had with her on the various occasions when you went there?

A. I don't think I could detail every conversation but I remember the substance of them all.

Q. If I should call the names of persons to whom were referred, would you be able to detail to the Court what she said with regard to those persons? A. I think I could.

Q. Do you know Mr. Hanford?

A. I have merely met Mr. Hanford.

Q. Did you know him at that time? A. No, I didn't.

Q. Did you know Mr. Page at that time? A. No.

Q. Mr. Long? A. No, I didn't.

Q. Sadie James? A. No.

Q. I believe you said you had met Betty Mann?

A. Yes, Betty Mann.

Q. What, if anything, was said to you by Mrs. Folk with regard to Mr. Hanford and her connection and his with this case?

A. She said that Mr. Hanford had beat her out of money and she—shall I tell?

Q. Yes, ma'am, go ahead with that.

A. Said that Mr. Page paid out five—ten thousand dollars and that Mr. Hanford was to place this first five thousand in the bank for Mrs. Folk, and the second five thousand was to belong—to be paid to Mr. Hanford for his services, to follow, and she said that instead of that, Mr. Hanford kept the first five thousand himself, and when she went to the bank to draw out some money, there was not a nickel in the bank.

Q. Now, did she say what she did with Mr. Hanford on account of that transaction?

A. Yes, she said that she called him down about it, something terrible, and that she dropped him cold; that she got even with him.

Q. Now, was anything said about her re-employing him as a lawyer?

A. I asked her how she happened to take him back again, and she said that Mr. Long talked her into taking him back again; and she said that Mr. Long said that Mr. Hanford had been in the case so long and knew so much about the case, that the best thing she could do would be to keep him in the case, because they had told so many lies at the first trial——

The Court: When was this now? What year was that?

A. 1915.

The Court: What part of 1915?

A. It was in July and August.

Q. Now, I understood you to say that Mr. Long persuaded her to take Mr. Hanford back because he knew of the lies that had been told at the first trial? A. Yes.

Q. Did she refer at any other time to lies that had been told?

A. Yes, she did; she said that Mr. Long gave her drinks at the first trial and wanted to make her claim the nigger kid and she said, good God, she said, my claiming a nigger kid for a little money; Oh, no, not me, not yet.

Q. Are you trying to relate Minnie Folk's exact words as near as possible? A. I am trying, yes, I am.

Q. Was anything further said about lies or the manufacture of lies?

A. Yes, she said that Hanford was a crook and that all the lawyers were crooks; that Page and all of them she said, made her swear to lies, and if she had had her way about it in the first place, that she wouldn't have gone to law about it at all but that Mr. Page wouldn't have it any other way.

Q. Was anything said by her with regard to changing her story?

A. Yes, she said that she had a different story every time; she said that the plans had to be changed altogether, after the first trial.

Q. Did she say why?

A. Yes, she said that they had all sworn to lies; that they made her swear to lies and she said they tried to make her claim the nigger kid.

Q. Now, in making these statements in regard to the lies, did she refer to them seldom or frequently?

A. Frequently.

Q. Do you remember whether the name of Allen was mentioned by her?

A. Yes, it was; she said that at one time she received a letter from Mr. Long and one from Mr. Hanford, and they told her that there were 18 wells operating on the place; that they would tie things up soon, but that Mr. Allen had to remain where he is. I asked her who Mr. Allen was and she says, why he is the big Government man that caught them at the lies at the first trial, and they couldn't put him out of it very easily.

Q. Now, did she mention the city of Leavenworth, Kansas? A. Yes, she did.

Q. Did she speak of a visit there? A. Yes.

Q. State what she said in reference to that visit.

Q. She said that she had never—that all the niggers at Leavenworth were liars and crooks; she said that they all swore that they knew her, and she said that she never saw them before in her life until she went to Leavenworth.

Q. Mrs. Wilds, did you hear her mention the name Sadie James? A. I did.

Q. You may state to the Court in what connection—what was said in regard to Said James.

A. Well, she said she had to give Sadie James credit for finding her; she said Sadie found me alright and that she gave her a good many facts about herself but that she could have given her a great many more.

Q. Let me understand you. Minnie gave Sadie James a great many facts about herself? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Go ahead.

A. But that she could have given her a great many more but that she said that Sadie was being paid for finding out this information about her and she said let her find out for herself; and she further stated that Sadie James had been employed by Mr. Page; that Mr. Page paid her a thousand dollars to help manufacture the story about the nigger kid, and she said then Sadie double-crossed Mr. Page, and she told the truth to the Government and got another thousand dollars for that. She said two thousand dollars is pretty good for a nigger.

Q. That is as near as you can tell it, in exactly Mrs. Folk's words? A. Yes.

Q. Did you hear her mention the name of Frank Long frequently? A. Yes.

Q. In what connection besides those that you have mentioned, if you recall any other time?

A. She said that Mr. Long was the smartest man on earth; that he could make you lie and make you think that you were telling the truth. She said that he made her swear to lies alright, but that he couldn't make her swallow that negro dope.

Q. Mrs. Wilds, at that time, were you acquainted with any facts concerning the case or law suit, or controversy that was then in progress? A. No, I was not.

Q. Now, state to the Court, just what facts you have been advised of with regard to why this information was being sought, either what had been told you at that time, either by Kohler or Betty Mann.

A. Well, they said that it was a good cause, that I was working in the right cause. I told them I didn't want to get mixed up in any affairs of any kind and they said——

Mr. Cruce: Who said?

A. Mr. Kohler and Mrs. Mann; said that Mrs. Folk was trying to steal some money or get some money away from her child who was going ragged in the streets; that is what Mr. Kohler told me in the beginning and she said——

Q. Now, did he tell you what the name of the child was?

A. Mr. Kohler?

Q. Or Betty Mann, either. A. Yes.

Q. What name did they call? A. Tommy Atkins.

Q. Tommy Atkins. Did you ever hear Mrs. Folk mention the name of Tommy Atkins? A. Yes, I did.

Q. Once or many times, or a few times? A. Many times.

Q. Did you understand from your conversation with her what relation Tommy Atkins was supposed to bear to her?

A. She referred to him as Tommy Atkins.

Q. Do you recall that she ever referred to him as my boy or my son? A. No, sir.

Q. Throughout the time that you knew her? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, how else did you hear her refer to Tommy Atkins as to his being alive or dead?

A. She said that he—let's see, the woman that raised him she said that Tommy—that they had paid witnesses to swear that Tommy was drowned at Leavenworth, and that the woman who raised him [ ] and buried in the Muncie cemetery at Leavenworth; that they had five witnesses to swear that.

Q. In that connection did she state what she was depending upon for her money—what story?

A. Yes, she said I get my money on the dead Tommy Atkins. The other side is still searching for a live Tommy Atkins but they ain't never found him yet, she said that Mr. Page and Mr. Long told her that if the boy was alive that she wouldn't get a cent; that he had to be dead.

Q. So she referred to these persons as the live Tommy Atkins and the dead Tommy Atkins repeatedly, did she?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, did she at any other time, ever change her story about whether she would get nothing if Tommy was alive?

A. Yes, at another time she stated—I asked her what if the other side would find the live Tommy Atkins; well then, she said, I would get half and he would get half.

Q. Now, Mrs. Wilds, what particular question did you understand from Mrs. Mann you should put to Mrs. Folk?

A. Mrs. Mann told me to ask Mrs. Folk this question. She says, ask her, she says, if you can get her to admit that there is a live Tommy Atkins, we have got her.

Q. Now, did you ask that question or that question in substance, of Mrs. Folk? A. I did.

Q. Now, just as near as you can, state the question just as you asked it, and give the circumstances and her demeanor and her answer.

A. Well, we were talking about Tommy Atkins and I said, well, was there really a Tommy Atkins, and she hesitated for quite a while, and made no reply, and then finally she said in a very loud tone of voice, she said, "Sure there was a Tommy Atkins; he is on record and they can't go back on that."

Q. Mrs. Wild, when were you first advised positively by any one of facts that gave you reasons to believe that there was no Tommy Atkins?

A. After Mrs. Mann was ready to leave Seattle at the close of her work there.

Q. Who was it—who gave you that information?

A. Mrs. Mann gave me that information.

Q. What did you do as a result of that information?

A. I told Mr. Nixon about it and I told Mr. Talley about it.

Q. Now, who is Mr. Nixon?

A. Mr. Nixon is the man who was at the head of this case.

Q. He was the man you were employed by? A. Yes.

Q. Finally understood that? A. Yes.

Q. And who is Mr. Talley?

A. Mr. Talley is—well, he is a lawyer; he is a lawyer, I guess.

Q. In Tulsa? A. Yes, he is with him.

Q. Did you advise anyone else?

A. Yes, the Department of the Interior.

Q. Did you advise Mr. Nixon and Mr. Talley personally or by a letter, or how? A. Personally.

Q. How did you advise the Department of the Interior?

A. By letter.

Q. Now, what reason did you have for notifying the Department of the Interior of that fact?

A. Why, because I thought it was a fraud.

Q. Just because you had been advised of the fact that there was no Tommy? A. Yes.

Q. Have you seen that letter that you wrote them since?

A. I have.

Q. Who had it when you first saw it? A. Mr. Bruff.

Q. Where was that? A. Seattle.

Q. Did he visit you there? A. He did.

Q. Mrs. Wilds, have you seen that letter since? A. Yes.

Q. It is in our possession, is it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you spoke of informing Nixon and Talley personally, how did you happen to be in Tulsa, if that is where you informed them? A. Mr. Nixon sent for me.

Q. You come from Seattle to Tulsa? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I mean did he advise you as to what he wanted you to come to Tulsa for? A. Yes.

Q. State to the court what that was?

A. He told me that he judged by my letters and my reports that I was a conscientious sort of person and he wanted me in Tulsa to check up on the work that was done in Seattle and on Mrs. Mann.

Q. Now, did he refer at that time to any report? A. Yes.

The Court: Who was this?

Mr. Pinson: This was Mr. Nixon who brought Mrs. Wilds from Seattle to Tulsa.

Q. You may state whether there were any reports in Mr. Nixon's office in regard to conversations had with Mrs. Folk?

A. Yes, there were all the reports.

Q. Of whom?

A. Of all the operatives who worked on the case in Seattle.

Q. Now, you refer to the operatives who worked on the case; what other persons besides yourself worked on the case in Seattle?

A. Mrs. Mann, Mr. Kolar, Mr. Briggs, Mr. Murphey, Mr. Wright and Mr. Wild, he was there a very little of the time.

Q. Now, what did you have occasion to do with regard to any reports?

A. They wanted me to go over these reports and check up as to the truthfulness about what some of the reports that they had in his office.

Q. What did you find as to those reports, as to their truthfulness or falsity?

A. Well, some of the reports, the conversations that some of the other operatives had had with Minnie I didn't hear.

Q. Well, as to those that you heard yourself?

A. Those that I heard myself there were a great many things in some of the other reports that were supposed to have been said in my presence when I was talking to Minnie, which never were said in my presence.

Q. Now, these other operators that you refer to, how could they hear a conversation that was carried on by you and Mrs. Folk? A. By means of a dictograph.

Q. Where was that dictograph placed?

A. About a block and a half in a building right close to Mrs. Folk's home.

Q. Now, were you ever at the end of the dictograph when the messages were received? A. No, I was not.

Q. Did you see the dictograph installed or did you ever see it after it was installed?

A. I saw it when it was being taken out.

Q. Now, with reference to the place in Mrs. Folk's house where that dictograph was located, where was it?

A. It was right above the door.

Q. Inside or outside? A. Outside.

Q. Why was the dictograph placed on the outside of the house?

A. Well, because Mrs. Folk was in the habit of sitting on the porch all the time, she was out there all the time.

Q. You knew the dictograph was there did you?

A. Yes, saw the wires.

Q. Saw the wires, I don't understand you?

A. The wires that were leading up to the dictograph above the door were in plain sight.

Q. I hand you Government's Exhibit A-99 and ask you what that is?

A. Picture of Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Folk, Mr. Wright and myself.

Q. Hold it so the Court can see it and identify Mrs. Folk on the picture? A. Right here.

Q. Now, state just where she is sitting or standing in the picture so that the stenographer may have it in the record.

A. She is sitting on the porch.

Q. On what part of the porch?

A. The front part of the porch.

Q. Is she on the steps or chair? A. On the steps.

Q. The picture then represents yourself, Mr. Wright, Mrs. Dean and Mrs. Folk? A. Yes.

Q. Where was that picture made?

A. Right at Minnie's home.

Q. What was the occasion of that picture being made?

A. It was the last day that the dictograph was in there and they had arranged to have the photographer come there and take that picture while the dictograph was being taken out and Mr. Murphy and Mr. Wright had a chance to be in the picture.

Q. And this picture was made at Minnie's home in Seattle? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mrs. Folk's home.

Mr. Cruce: This picture was made while they were taking out the dictograph?

A. Yes.

Mr. Cruce: And so as to get a picture of Mr. Wright and Mrs. Dean?

A. Yes, sir, Mr. Murphy is also in the picture; he is the one who took the dictograph out.

Q. Now, I hand you Government's Exhibit A-100 and ask you to state to the court what that is?

A. A picture of Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Folk, Mr. Murphy and Mr. Wright.

Q. Was that taken at the same time Government's Exhibit A-91 which you have previously examined?

A. Yes, same day.

Q. Now, pointing to the person, looking we will say at the person sitting on the banisters of the porch there, what is his name? A. Mr. Murphy.

Q. What is that he has in his hand, if you know?

A. He is holding the dictograph and the coiled wires that the dictograph was attached to.

Q. And which had just been taken out?

A. That he had just taken out.

Q. Now, Mrs. Wilds, these statements continue over a period of about how long?

A. Well, three weeks altogether.

Q. How long after you began to go to see Minnie before the dictograph was installed?

A. About three or four days, somewhere along there.

Q. After the dictograph was taken out did you continue to call on her? A. No, I did not.

Q. Now, was she making these statements—— Let me ask you this question: What was the longest visit that you ever paid to Mrs. Folk? A. The second visit I believe it was.

Q. Was that before or after the dictograph was installed?

A. That was before.

Q. Were any of these statements made at that time or can you remember? A. Yes, a great many of them.

Q. And as I understand you, they were repeated from time to time by Minnie, repeated over and over again? A. Yes.

Q. Did she say anything at any time about regretting having testified falsely?

A. Yes, she said it doesn't pay to do wrong and lie about it. She says when once you have done wrong and lied about it, it is pretty hard to right things again. She said if she had had her way she would have told it her way at the beginning but Mr. Page wouldn't let her. he wanted to go to law.

Q. State whether Mrs. Folk related to you the circumstance in regard to this Mr. Kolar bringing Tommy Atkins there? A. Yes, she did.

Q. State what that conversation was?

A. She said that Mr. Kolar came to her house one day, came to her home, and asked her—that he told her that he had Thomas Atkins and could bring him to her in five minutes if she wanted to see him. And she said yes go get him. She says bring him here and I will put a bullet through each one of you, the first one through Mr. Kolar and the second through Tommy and then you can dress him up and take him to Tulsa and tell them how it happened.

Q. Did she state whether she had a revolver under her apron at that time? A. Yes.

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Your name was—— What was your name? Mary DeLabal? A. D'Laval.

Q. Was that your maiden name? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is that French or Hungarian?

A. It is a Bohemian name.

Q. Where did you come from to Spokane?

A. I was never in Spokane.

Q. Well, where did you come from to Seattle?

A. From Kansas.

Q. What part of Kansas? A. Wilson, Kansas.

Q. When did you leave Wilson, Kansas?

A. I think it was during the time of the Portland Fair the first time I went to Seattle.

Q. Did you have any trouble before you left there?

A. Seattle?

Q. No, Kansas, did you have any trouble of any kind?

A. No.

Q. Did you go straight to Seattle? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And where did you settle at Seattle, what was your place of abode there?

A. At first I lived on Spring Street and then I lived on Eighth Avenue and Westlake Avenue.

Q. Give us the places you lived in Seattle?

A. You mean from time to time?

Q. Yes, from the time you went there until you met Betty Mann?

A. I taught school, I wasn't right in Seattle all the time.

Q. Well, where were you? A. Where I taught school?

Q. Yes, where did you live first when you went up in that country, whose house did you live in?

A. I roomed with a roommate from home, that is a friend of mine from home.

Q. I asked you where you roomed?

A. Well, let me see if I can think of the address exactly; I think the first place was 618 Spring Street.

Q. 618 Spring Street. Who was the proprietor of that place? A. A lady by the name of Mrs. Stors.

Q. Where was the next place? A. 811 Eighth Avenue.

Q. Who was the proprietor of that place?

A. Mrs. Ferguson and Mrs. Butler.

Q. Was that a regular rooming house? A. Yes.

Q. Decent place? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was the next place you lived?

A. 2041 Westlake.

Q. You know a man by the name of Nixon, don't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you get acquainted with Mr. Nixon?
A. In Tulsa.

Q. In Tulsa, Oklahoma? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What year? A. 1915.

Q. 1915? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He sent you the money to come to this country, didn't he? A. He did, yes, sir.

Q. He did. Do you know why he sent you the money to come to this country? A. Yes.

Q. Why?

A. He told me that he wanted to check up on our Seattle report; that is, he judged by my reports that I was a conscientious sort of person and he wanted to check up on the report of Mrs. Mann.

Q. Did you come down here? A. I did.

Q. And did you and he check them up? A. Well, yes.

Q. You and he were trying to have a Tommy then yourself? A. No, sir.

Q. Wasn't trying to get a live Tommy to stand up?
A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't Mr. Nixon tell you he had tried to make a live Tommy stand up? A. No, he made no such remark.

Q. Did he say anything like that?
A. Well, he had a Thomas Atkins.

Q. What sort of looking gentleman was that that Mr. Nixon had?

A. He was very dark and he was slender and I should say a little shorter than the medium, very slight and neat.

Q. Mr. Nixon had a scheme by which he was to work off a fake picture on Minnie? A. No, sir.

Q. Wasn't you to present the photograph to Minnie?
A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't you try to get to see Minnie so you could show her a photograph? A. No, sir.

Q. You did not. Now, is that the same Mr. Nixon—— Are you the same lady that threatened to sue Mr. Nixon for white slavery?

A. No, sir—— Well, I didn't threaten to sue him for white slavery.

Q. Didn't you go to Mr. Page and tell Mr. Page that Mr. Nixon had treated you in that way and that you wanted to be advised about getting the law and prosecuting him?

A. I did not positively not.

Q. What did you tell him?

A. I told him that Mrs. Mann made a suggestion to me that we should try and get our money from Mr. Nixon by frightening him with that charge and I would not consent to it.

Q. Now, let's see. Betty told you to put up a White Slave game on Mr. Nixon, didn't she?

A. It was up to me.

Q. I say she told you to put up the game?

A. She didn't tell me to do it, she said I could if I wanted to.

Q. Well, she suggested it would be the thing to do, didn't she? A. Yes.

Q. You and her talked it over and you refused to do it?

A. I refused, yes, sir.

Q. You did consult Mr. Page about it?

A. I didn't consult Mr. Page, no.

Q. Did you talk with him about it?

A. I mentioned it to him.

Q. Why did you mention it to Mr. Page?

A. Why, for the simple reason—— Well, I just went to his office to see Mr. Page, just to see Mr. Page before I left Tulsa.

Q. Just a matter of curiosity? A. That is all.

Q. And while there you opened up on this white slave story? A. No, there was no spread about it.

Q. But you opened up and told him about it?

A. I told him what I told you.

Q. And that is the first time you ever saw him?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you told him how Mr. Nixon had treated you?

A. Well, I said I had worked for Mr. Nixon, yes.

Q. Told him that he mistreated you?

A. Told him the mystery?

Q. Told him that he had mistreated you?

A. Yes, I mentioned the fact that he owed me the money.

Q. And you told him that Betty Mann wanted you to put up the white slave game on him?

A. I said that she suggested it to me.

Q. Suggested that to you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is all you said to Mr. Page, is it? Just tell us all that was said there. You have a wonderful memory haven't you?

A. Well, I hope so. I went into Mr. Page's office just to see Mr. Page; I had heard so much about him and I never saw him and as far as talking about the case I talked to a number of people about it.

Mr. Stuart: Now, your Honor, she is wandering.

The Court: Just proceed to tell as near as you can what conversation occurred between you and Mr. Page when you went to see him. That is the question.

A. Well, I told him first who I was and he said: "Oh, yes," and he called in Mr. Hanford and he asked me if I had ever known Minnie and I said yes. And he said Betty Mann, yes. He said she is quite a character, isn't she? She has done quite a good deal of work for me. And I said I have met Mrs. Mann in Seattle and worked with her some. And I happened to mention this merely off handed about Mr. Nixon, that Betty Mann had said I could get my money in that way. Mr. Nixon sent for me out west. He said he had a better job for me than teaching school, and told me to give up my position there. And after I got to Tulsa he had no job for me, that was all. He told me to stay in Tulsa——

Q. I didn't ask you to tell what Mr. Nixon said. You know what the facts are.

The Court: We are getting back now to the question as to what occurred between this witness and Mr. Page at that meeting.

Mr. Pinson: If that conversation was had there your Honor between the witness and Mr. Page——

The Court: I don't understand that that was a part of the conversation. Proceed now, Mrs. Wilds, and state what the conversation was. Did you in that conversation state to Mr. Page about Mr. Nixon having sent for you to come and saying that he had a better place for you than teaching school?

A. I don't remember if I explained all those facts.

The Court: Just go on and state what occurred between you and Mr. Page.

A. I told Mr. Page that I had had trouble in getting money from Mr. Nixon; and I said I went to several lawyers and none of them seemed to want to take it up. And he said: "Go to my lawyers," and gave me the name, I forget what the name is now, they were in the First National Bank building. So, I went to see the lawyers.

Mr. Stuart: Now, you are getting off again.

The Court: Is that all that occurred between you and Mr. Page? That is the question. Was there any further talk that you now remember between you two at that time?

A. No, sir

Q. Well, now, Betty Mann came to Seattle and employed you, didn't she? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was Betty Mann representing at that time?

A. She was representing Mr. Nixon I learned afterwards.

Q. Representing Mr. Nixon? A. Well, yes.

Q. Who did she tell you she was representing?

A. She didn't tell me.

Q. Do you mean to tell the Court that Betty Mann came out there and employed you to do this work without telling you who it was she wanted to get this property for?

A. She didn't explain anything to me. She merely said it was in a good cause.

Q. When did you start in to the detective business?

A. I never started into detective work.

Q. You never was a detective? A. No, sir.

Q. How came her to come to you?

A. How came Betty to come to me?

Q. Yes?

A. I was employed by Mr. Kolar not as a real detective but merely to let him know when Minnie would leave Seattle.

Q. Who was Mr. Kolar? A. Mr. Kolar?

Q. Yes? A. I was told he was a detective.

Q. Well, didn't you never see him? A. Yes.

Q. Well, he did employ you didn't he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, what was his position, a detective?

A. I think so.

Q. Where did he live, in Seattle somewhere, didn't you try to locate him, find out who he was?

A. No, I did not.

Q. Did he say he represented this man Kolar?

A. He didn't tell me who he represented at all.

Q. Didn't say who he represented?

A. I didn't ask him any questions and he didn't explain.

Q. How long had you lived in Seattle did you say at that time?

A. Several years, let me see, about nine or ten years.

Q. Had you ever heard of Mr. Kolar before? A. Yes.

Q. You had heard of him as a character there in town?

A. No, sir, I knew nothing of his reputation whatever.

Q. How did you hear of him, what kind of a man?

A. Just a detective, that is all I heard.

Q. Now, where did you and Kolar first meet?

A. I met him when I first went to Seattle, was merely introduced to him.

Q. How came you to be introduced to him in Seattle six years before that? A. At a meeting.

Q. What kind of a meeting? A. Just a social gathering.

Q. What kind of a social gathering?

A. Why the Bohemian Club.

Q. The Bohemian Club? A. Yes.

Q. Was Kolar there and you there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who introduced you to Mr. Kolar?

A. I do not remember.

Q. Did the introduction ripen into an intimate acquaintance?

A. No, sir, I didn't know Mr. Kolar was in Seattle.

Q. Did you ever see him after you were introduced to him until he employed you? A. No, sir.

Q. Never saw him afterwards?

A. No, unless it was immediately after I met him.

Q. Then never again for six or seven years?

A. No, sir.

Q. Nine years. How long was it?

A. About nine or ten years.

Q. Then Mr. Kolar came to you? A. Yes.

Q. Now what was it he said, just tell every word he said?

A. He was very anxious to learn of Minnie's movements and he knew that I was in the neighborhood and had a chance to hear when Minnie would leave Seattle, and all he asked of me is to let him know when she would leave Seattle. I told him I didn't want to get mixed up in anything, and he said you wont, that is all I want to know.

Q. You did undertake, however, to get a history of Minnie's life, didn't you? A. No, I didn't.

Q. You did undertake to get all she knew about this law suit, didn't you? A. I just let her talk.

Q. You undertook to get it?

A. If that is what you mean, yes, sir.

Q. You went there for that purpose didn't you?

A. Well, yes.

Q. Yes, you went there for that purpose. Now, who sent you there to get that information? A. Mrs. Mann.

Q. Mrs. Mann did. Now, what relation was there, if you know, between Betty Mann and Kolar, did you see them together? A. Yes, sir.

Q. They talked together frequently? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were with both? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What occurred at the first conversation between you and Betty Mann and Kolar and where was it?

A. You mean where I met Betty Mann?

Q. And Kolar together?

A. It was at a cafe. I think the first evening she landed in Seattle.

Q. What Cafe? A. I believe it was the Newport.

Q. What part of town? A. On Madison Street.

Q. And did you go in a booth together, you three?

A. No, sir, we had a table right out in the open.

Q. Did you three talk together there? A. Yes.

Q. Now, what occurred in that first conversation?

A. Not very much of anything. It was just an enjoyable time. I didn't talk with Mrs. Mann that time.

Q. You didn't talk with Mrs. Mann at all?

A. Not a great deal.

Q. Well, what was said?

Q. There was entertainment going on.

Q. What was said about this case?

A. Nothing to me that night.

Q. What was said between Kohler and Betty Mann about this case?

A. To me? Well, they—Betty Mann said the—the same thing that Kohler told me when he got me to talk—tell him of Minnie's movements.

Q. Was that to watch Minnie and see when she left?

A. Yes.

Q. Was that all that Betty said? A. No.

Q. What else did she say?

A. She said—I told him that I didn't want to get mixed up in anything—any trouble of any kind and she said it was in a very good cause and that nobody would work like that if it wasn't the right kind of cause. She said that the mother was trying to beat her child out of money.

Q. That her mother was trying to beat her child out of some money? A. That is what Mrs. Mann told me.

Q. That was the Mann story? A. Yes, Betty Mann.

Q. Now, what did Kohler say when Betty said that?

A. Well, he was very much in favor with my keeping right on with the case.

Q. Then you understood from Betty there that you were to watch Minnie and report, because Minnie was trying to beat her own child out of some money. That is the way you understood it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then when you separated that night, when was the next time that you saw her?

A. I believe it was the next day.

Q. The next day? A. Yes.

Q. Now, what occurred between you the next day?

A. Well, that is when Betty told me about the mother and the boy; that the mother was trying to beat——

Q. I thought you said it was the first meeting?

A. I said it was merely an evening of entertainment and there wasn't anything said pertaining to the case.

Q. Oh then, we will come to the second meeting.

A. That was said——

Q. Was that was all that was said at the second meeting?

A. Practically.

Q. Where was this second meeting?

A. At the Wright hotel.

Q. At the Wright hotel, in the room up in the hotel?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whose room? A. Mrs. Mann's room and you and Kohler went up in Betty Mann's room and had that talk?

A. Yes.

Q. Now, when was the next meeting?

A. Well, I was with Betty a great deal every day.

Q. With Betty a great deal every day. Were you rooming with her? A. No.

Q. Did you stay up in the room most of the time?

A. Well, a good part of the time.

Q. And when was the first time that Betty first unfolded to you her scheme?

A. When we finished our work in Seattle.

Q. When you finished your work?

A. That is when we finished working on the case, I mean.

Q. How long were you with Betty in Seattle?

A. About three weeks altogether.

Q. Three weeks? A. Very nearly.

Q. Who showed up there besides Kohler while you were working for Betty—name some of them.

A. Mr. Briggs.

Q. Who is Mr. Briggs?

A. Well, he is just one of the operatives.

Q. Operative? Who else? A. Mr. Murphy.

Q. Mr. Murphy? A. Mr. Wright.

Q. Mr. Wright?

A. And Mr. Kohler, and Mr. Wilds, he was there very little of the time.

Q. Mr. Wilds? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, let me ask you, did anybody show up in Seattle from Oklahoma while you were working with Betty?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. You didn't see any of them? A. I didn't see anyone.

Q. You didn't see anyone? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, did you go with Betty Mann any where on a trip? A. No, not with Betty.

Q. Who was it that you went with?

A. Mrs. Folk at one time.

Q. Mrs. Folk, what trip was that that you took with Mrs. Folk? A. A trip to Everett.

Q. Where from to Everett—what place? A. Seattle.

Q. To Everett? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How far was Everett from Seattle?

A. I don't know the exact number of miles; it isn't a great distance.

Q. How did you go out to Everett? A. What is it?

Q. How did you go out to Everett?

A. In an automobile—Minnie's automobile.

Q. Who drove it? A. Harry.

Q. Who is Harry? A. Her husband.

Q. Harry Folk? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He drove it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, will you tell me the first time you ever visited Minnie Folk's house, the very first time?

A. The very first time?

Q. The very first time, yes. What month was it and what year?

A. I visited her home on the 26th of July, I believe.

Q. What year? A. 1915.

Q. 1915. Did you go alone? A. Yes.

Q. Now, you never had met her up to that time, had you?

A. I believe I was introduced to her but I wouldn't swear to that. I think I was introduced to her before that.

Q. Now, you got into her house—went down to her house through her dressmaker, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was her dressmaker's name?

A. Mrs. Feldhusen.

Q. What did you tell Mrs. Feldhusen when you made up your mind to go to Minnie's house—what did you tell her?

A. I didn't tell Mrs. Feldhusen anything; I don't think she knows until this day that I was ever in Minnie's house.

Q. Didn't you say a minute ago that you got in there through Mrs. Feldhusen?

A. Mrs. Feldhusen asked me to deliver two altered skirts to Minnie as a favor to Mrs. Feldhusen; on my way home I was to deliver them.

Q. You asked her to let you deliver them, didn't you?

A. No, sir.

Q. How did she know that you knew Minnie?

A. She knew her very well.

Q. How did she know you knew her?

A. I believe that is the way that I was introduced to her.

Q. At Mrs. Feldhusen's? A. Yes.

Q. Mrs. Feldhusen asked you to take those two skirts down to Minnie's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You took those two skirts down there to make your first appearance as an inquisitor in the case, didn't you?

A. That was purely accidental.

Q. Purely an accident? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was after you saw Betty Mann, wasn't it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Why didn't you talk to her then? A. When?

Q. That evening. A. To whom?

Q. Minnie Folk?

A. I didn't want her to think that I was there to obtain any information; that was purely accidental that, I stopped there.

Q. You didn't talk to her there that evening, did you?

A. Very little.

Q. You never got inside of her house, did you?

A. I had very little to say to Minnie.

Q. Did you ever get inside of Minnie Folk's house?

A. Yes.

Q. Didn't you ask her to let you stay all night with her?

A. No, sir.

Q. And didn't she tell you that you couldn't stay all night there?

A. No, sir, she suggested one time that I stay all night, though, when she wanted to take me on a fishing trip.

Q. She suggested that you stay all night with her?

A. Yes.

Q. Sure of that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was that? Give us the time when she suggested that you stay all night with her.

A. Let me see if I can recall the exact date—it was in August.

Q. In August? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was there? Anybody? Was Harry there?

A. I don't remember; I don't think he was when she said that.

Q. You don't think he was present?

A. No, when she asked me.

Q. What time of day was it that she asked you to stay all night out there? A. It was in the evening.

Q. What time in the evening?

A. Oh, about six o'clock or somewhere along there.

Q. Six o'clock in the evening? A. About that time.

Q. Now, that after you had been there several days, was it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. While your dictaphone was there? A. Yes.

Q. Don't you know the dictaphone was put in one day and taken out the next? A. It was not, no, sir.

Q. It was not? You did not know that Harry Folk found it there and pulled the wires out, did you?

A. No, he didn't do anything of the kind.

Q. He did not? A. No, sir.

Q. You know that to be a fact that he did not do that?

A. I do, I do.

Q. And you do know that that dictaphone was not put in one day and taken out the next? A. I do.

Q. Well, if you moved it from the place where it was first put, where did you put it—it stayed there at the same place all the time, didn't it? A. Until they moved it from the house.

Q. It stayed at the same place at the house where you installed it all the time it was there, didn't it?

A. All the time it was there, yes, sir.

Q. It never was moved, was it?

A. Until Mr. Murphy took it out.

Q. Took it out? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You said that dictaphone didn't talk right?

A. No, sir, I didn't say anything of that kind.

Q. Didn't you say a part of it—something in the report —that it recorded something that Minnie said which she didn't say?

A. Well, I can't say what the other operators did.

Q. Didn't you say that dictaphone report reported Minnie as saying certain things that she didn't say to you?

A. It wasn't the dictaphone.

Q. Well, what was it?

A. Well, the operatives had things in their reports that I didn't have.

Q. The operatives had things in their reports—tell me some of them. A. Mr. Briggs——

Q. Mr. Briggs, what did Mr. Briggs have in his report that you had never heard of?

A. Oh, I don't know as I remember all of it.

Q. Well, now, tell it to us; it is very important. Think of it.

A. I don't know whether it was Briggs or Murphy.

Q. Well, you said it was Briggs. If it wasn't Briggs, tell me who it was. A. Mr. Murphy had some things.

Q. Well, was it Murphy? You said it was Briggs and took that back; was it Murphy?

A. No, I didn't say it was Briggs.

The Court: Now, understand, you are asked now with regard to Briggs' report; whether there were things in Briggs' report that you hadn't heard. Now, if you remember any of those, state that and get through with Briggs first.

A. I didn't read all of the reports but I read some of them and I can't state definitely what was in each report; what was said in each report that was not true but I know that they were not like mine.

Q. Well, then, there was not a single one of them exactly accurate so far as you could see?

A. Well, there was some of them, yes.

Q. What report did you read that was accurate, that had not been added to? Which one?

A. Well, Mr. Wilds' reports were very short and there was not a great deal in them.

Q. Will you say the Wilds report was just as you heard it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How about Briggs'? You read Briggs' report, didn't you?

A. Yes, I looked over them, that is, most of them; not all of them.

Q. Will you just answer my question. You read Briggs' report, didn't you? A. I think so.

Q. You read every word of it, didn't you, and you know that Briggs' report didn't represent it as you heard it, didn't you?

A. Well, certainly there were things in all—most of the reports that I had never heard; that is what I am speaking of.

Q. That is alright. Then, there were things in Briggs' report that you didn't hear? A. Yes.

Q. And things in Murphy's report that you didn't hear?
A. Yes.

Q. You were doing the talking, weren't you, with Minnie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were the only one doing the talking to Minnie, weren't you? A. Minnie was doing most of the talking.

Q. But Minnie and you were doing the talking. Was anyone with you when you were talking? You were the one getting the information and they were taking it back yonder, weren't they? Now, Briggs' report didn't tell it as Minnie told it to you, did it? Can you answer that question?

A. Well, there was a great deal in the report that I hadn't heard. That is the only way that I can answer.

Q. A great deal in Briggs' report that you hadn't heard from Minnie's lips, isn't that so? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, take Murphy's; there was a great deal in Murphy's report that you hadn't heard from Minnie's mouth, too?
A. Yes, sir.

Q. What is the other one? A. Mr. Wright?

Q. There was a great deal in Mr. Wright's report that you hadn't heard from Minnie's lips? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know how it came in there?

A. I can't state definitely how it came in there.

Q. Do you know who put it in there?

A. I presume they put it in.

Q. Do you know what they put it in there for?

A. I don't know.

Q. You know it is not a true report, don't you, Mrs. Wilds, what you heard Minnie say, don't you?

A. I don't know whether what I heard of Minnie is true or not.

Q. I didn't ask you that. I say you know those reports you read of Minnie's, were not true reports of what you heard Minnie say? A. Yes, sir, they were not.

Q. They were not. You say yes, sir, and you mean that they were not? A. They were not.

Q. They were not true reports. Now, who was hanging out at the other end of that line? Who was there?

> Mr. Pinson: Your Honor, we submit that she could not have the information——

> The Court: Well, find out. Do you know who was at the receiving end of the dictagraph while you were talking to Mrs. Folk?

A. I couldn't see them.

> The Court: Have you any means of knowing?

A. Some of the notes and reports that they furnished I saw those.

Q. Mrs. Wilds, you were present when this dictagraph scheme was concocted, wasn't you, you was present?

A. I was not in the room when Mrs. Mann made the arrangement with these men to put the dictagraph in there.

Q. You heard it, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir, I heard about it.

Q. Now, you know the men that were going to assist Mrs. Mann in running that dictaphone, don't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You know them. Now, tell every one of them?

A. I met them at that time, I didn't know them before that.

Q. All right. Tell the name of every one of them?

A. Mr. Briggs and Mr. Wright and Mr. Murphy and Mr. Kohler and Mr. Wilds.

Q. And Mrs. Wilds was Mr. Wilds your husband?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your husband was at the other end? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he make a report too? A. Very few of them.

Q. Was his report right? A. Yes, sir.

Q. His report was exactly right? A. Yes, sir.

Q. But all the balance were wrong? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when is the first time that you met Mr. Robinson the Pinkerton Detective?

A. I believe it was in, let me think, I believe it was in August, I am not quite certain.

Q. Which August? A. Last year.

Q. August of last year, and where did you meet him?

A. In Seattle.

Q. Under what circumstances did you meet Mr. Robinson? A. He came to see me with Mr. Bruff.

Q. With Mr. Bruff? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did they have the conversation with you?

A. At my apartments.

Q. Your apartments? Where was your apartment, Mrs. Wilds? A. 701½ University Street.

Q. 701 University Street? A. 701½ University.

Q. How long did they talk with you?

A. Oh, an hour or so perhaps.

Q. Did they have any documents with them of any kind?

A. They had the letter that I had written to the——

Q. The letter that you had written to the Secretary?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have any other documents?

A. I don't think so, I don't remember any.

Q. You don't remember any? Now, can you tell who first spoke to you? A. Mr. Bruff.

Q. What did Mr. Bruff say to you?

A. He said that he represented the Department of Justice and that Mr. Robinson represented—— He introduced Mr. Robinson, he said that he represented the interests of the Government I believe he said.

Q. Mr. Robinson also was a Government man he said?

A. Well, he merely put it in that way.

Q. Representing the interest for the Government?

A. The interests of the Government.

Q. Did he tell you that he and Robinson were working together in the matter? A. Well, that is all he said.

Q. All right. Go ahead. Just tell us as near as you can what occurred there. A. What is it you want?

Q. Go ahead and relate the further conversation?

A. Well, Mr. Bruff handed me this letter and asked me if I had written it and I told him yes; and well, we talked about the—— He asked me why I had written it and all that, and I told him about having no faith in the case, that I thought it was a fraud and that is the reason that I did it.

Q. That was the reason you did it?

A. Yes, sir, and I told him why.

Q. Now, whose case was that? A. Minnie Atkins.

Q. Now, I say whose case were you talking about, Nixon's case wasn't it? It was Nixon's case that Betty was representing at that time?

A. Well, I told him I had no faith that there was a Tommy Atkins?

Q. I understand, but representing Nixon you were when you made that report?

A. Yes, I told him I had been representing Nixon.

Q. And you had no faith in Tommy Atkins. How long did they talk to you?

A. Well, just about an hour or so, I don't remember exactly.

Q. Well, then did they tell you that they wanted you as a witness in this case?

A. They said perhaps they would send for me.

Q. Send for you. Did they see you after that?

A. Yes.

Q. Who saw you, which one or both? A. Both of them.

Q. How long before they saw you again?

A. Well, in October I believe it was they sent for me, summoned here to Muskogee.

Q. The following October? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see them after that again? A. Yes.

Q. Did you talk over the case with them each time as to what your testimony would be?

A. We talked over the case in the presence of others, yes.

Q. Did they take down in writing what you were going to tell? A. Yes.

Q. When did they take it down, at the first conversation?

A. You mean down here—— Yes, sir.

Q. No, up yonder at Seattle? A. No.

Q. When did they take it down here?

A. I don't understand you just exactly.

Q. I say what period did they take what you were going to tell down here, what day was it they took down what you were going to swear to?

A. Well, the August 17th I believe it was.

Q. Now, who was present when that first written statement of yours was made? A. Well——

Q. Tell us everybody that was present?

A. Mr. Bruff and Mr. Robinson if you mean here?

Q. Yes, in what office was it here in Muskogee?

A. I thought you were talking about Seattle.

Q. No, did they take one in Seattle, a written statement?

A. Just merely I told them——

Q. Let's go back to Seattle then, did they take a written statement in Seattle? A. Yes.

Q. You said at first that they did not?

A. Well, I had the two places confused.

Q. Now, who has taken that statement in Seattle?

A. Mr. Bruff.

Q. Mr. Bruff? He took it down in long-hand or did he have a short-hand person there, or have a typewriter?

A. Why he took some things down just in long-hand.

Q. And what did the other things that he took down, what were they in?

A. They were typewritten, I forget just exactly.

Q. Just tell us how he took it down, some in long-hand and some on type and some in short-hand, is that right?

A. He didn't take anything in short-hand.

Q. Did he take anything on the typewriter?

A. I showed him my report notes.

Q. That isn't answering my question?

A. And from those, those statements were made.

Q. Did he take anything on the typewriter?

A. He had typewritten it afterwards.

Q. He take any of your conversation on the typewriter?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did he take any of your conversation down in long-hand?

A. No, he didn't take it down then, only looked over the report.

Q. Then you didn't make any written statement to him in Seattle? A. I don't know that I just understand you?

Q. I mean did he write down what you knew about this case on paper? A. Some things, yes.

Q. Well, now, I asked you that, how many things did he write down and how much—— How much volume did it occupy? A. I don't know just exactly how many pages.

Q. About how much, page or two pages, ten pages or five; now, just tell us what was it?

A. Seven or eight or nine or ten, I don't remember.

Q. Seven or eight or nine or ten? A. Just exactly.

Q. And as you told it you took it down, or did he talk to you and then put it down, how was it done, explain it to the Court?

A. He looked over my reports and he asked me if those things were true and I would tell him that they were or that they were not which ever it was.

Q. Mrs. Wilds, did you and he talk and then did he put it down, you and he would talk about a fact before he would put it down, wouldn't you now, do you remember?

A. No, I don't think he took anything like that down.

Q. You don't think he took it down, now, you are mistaken about that now are you?

A. I wouldn't swear to it, I don't remember just how he —I know there was a statement that I made to him that I had signed.

Q. That you signed? A. Yes.

Q. Well, if you signed a statement up there somebody put the statement down, didn't they, Mrs. Wilds? A. Yes.

Q. Now, who put it down?

A. Well, Mr. Bruff did I guess, I would just have to stop to think I guess.

> The Court: Well, stop and think. You are asked now about the first meeting there in Seattle. Where was that, at your apartment?

A. Well, he asked me a few question about my occupation and things like that.

Q. Put that down? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then he asked you what Minnie had said, didn't he, when you had visited her? A. Yes.

Q. And he put that down, didn't he?

A. Well, he must have put it down, but I don't remember just exactly how he did it.

Q. Well, we will just then relieve you of that. You did make a written statement in Seattle, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Mr. Bruff wrote it down in Mr. Robinson's presence, didn't he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your statement in Seattle? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when was the next time that you made a written statement about it, when was the next written statement that you made in this case? A. The next written statement?

Q. Yes?

A. I didn't make any written statement of it.

Q. You didn't make any additional written statements? Are you certain of that?

A. Just copied my old, that is the notes.

Q. Copied your notes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was in October following August?

A. That was in August when he was there.

Q. And you came down here and made another statement in October didn't you? A. Yes, in the presence of others.

Q. Now, who was present when you made that other statement? A. Mr. German and Mr. Allen and Mr.——

Q. Robinson? A. I believe so.

Q. Yes, Mr. Robinson, and who else? A. Mr. Bruff.

Q. Mr. Bruff?

A. And Mr. McMillan, that is the name I think; I was trying to think of that.

Q. You never have made a statement in this case unless Mr. Robinson and Mr. Bruff were present, have you?

A. Yes, sir, I have.

Q. I mean until you came to Court this time, until you came to Court this time? A. You mean in Seattle?

Q. No, anywhere until you came to Court this time, you haven't made a statement unless they were both present?

A. I don't remember whether Mr. Robinson was present on all occasions or not.

Q. You don't remember?

A. I don't remember; he was present at some.

Q. Who did you get a wire from to come down? Mr. Robinson? A. No.

Q. Mr. Robinson met you at the train, didn't he?

A. No.

Q. He took you up to your room in the hotel, didn't he?

A. What do you mean, last October?

Q. No, when you got here the other day?

A. No, sir, I went up there alone.

Q. You went up there alone? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Robinson was the first man that you met, wasn't he, when you got here? A. I called up.

Q. Wasn't he the first man that you met when you got to the hotel? A. I called him over the 'phone.

Q. Where did you get him?

A. I called up 1055 whoever's office that is.

Q. And called for Mr. Robinson?

A. No, sir. I just said that I was here, reported that I was here.

Q. You say that you called Mr. Robinson over the 'phone?

A. After that.

Q. And what did you say then?

A. I said that I was at the hotel.

Q. Did you say that you were going to the hotel?

A. I was at the hotel.

Q. Where was Mr. Robinson when you called him up?

A. At the hotel.

Q. What did you call him up for?

A. Well, just to say hello I guess.

Q. Just to say hello? Did Mr. Robinson see you immediately after you said hello? A. No, he didn't.

Q. How soon after you said hello until you saw him?

A. I might have seen him that evening, I believe I saw him that evening first.

Q. Did you talk this case over? A. No.

Q. Didn't talk about this case at all, he didn't mention what you were going to swear to you and you didn't mention it to him? A. No.

Q. You just talked about social matters, didn't mention the case? A. No, we didn't mention the case.

Q. Now, we will come down to your visits to Minnie, the first time you went to Minnie's house you went there to take a pair of dresses, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was at her home when you got there?

A. There was no one at home.

Q. No one at home? A. But her.

Q. But her; well, she was somebody wasn't she, she was there? A. Well, I mean nobody else but her.

Q. And did you knock at the door? A. I believe so.

Q. You believe so?

A. I don't remember all those little things.

Q. You didn't go in without knocking, did you?

A. No, I wouldn't be apt to do that.

Q. Well, did she come out to the door to see you?

A. She had me step inside of the house.

Q. Now, what did you say to her when you first saw her what was the first remark you made?

A. I told her I brought the skirts over to her.

Q. Brought the skirts over to her. Did she invite you in the house? A. Yes, she——

Q. Do you know whether she did or not?

A. Yes, I was there a few minutes. I don't think I even sat down though.

Q. You didn't sit down? A. I don't think so.

Q. You didn't talk to her that evening?

A. Just about shoes and dresses.

Q. Well, about shoes and dresses? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, had you been employed by Betty Mann then?

A. I had talked to Betty Mann.

Q. But Betty had told you what she wanted you to do?

A. Yes, but this was purely accidental.

Q. Yes, but when you talked about shoes and dresses you were just paving the way to talk about something else?

A. I didn't know whether I would ever be able to go there again or not.

Q. Why did you think you would never be able to go there then?

A. Well, I had heard so many stories about Minnie driving people away from her house.

Q. Who told you about Minnie driving so many people away from her house, who told you that? A. About——

Q. About Minnie driving people away from her house now, who told you that? A. It was neighborhood gossip.

Q. Well neighborhood gossip. Tell me one neighbor who said Minnie drove people away from her house?

A. Mrs. Feldhusen told me.

Q. What kind of people was it she said Minnie drove away from her house, name them, what kind of people were they? A. Well Kohler was one.

Q. Kohler was one. He was your detective wasn't he. Minnie wouldn't let him come around there. You heard that, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, who was the other one that you heard Minnie wouldn't let come around there?

A. I don't think I heard the name of any of them. She said people from Tulsa were calling on her all the time.

Q. Oh, that is it, you learned that people from Tulsa were calling on Minnie all the time and she got to the point where she would run them away from the house, is that it?

A. I don't know whether they were from Tulsa, but she always was suspicious it didn't make any difference.

Q. Didn't you say a moment ago that they were people from Tulsa and that she drove them away from there?

A. She always had suspicions of every stranger, she said she thought they were from Tulsa.

Q. The truth about it is, the woman told you that she had been harrassed to death, didn't she, by those people coming up there?

A. She said a good many people called to see her.

Q. You are not answering my questions, you will have to do it before you get off the stand, if you don't we will be here until Monday. Didn't she tell you that she was harrassed to death by these people coming there?

A. She didn't put in that way.

Q. Well how did she put it?

A. Well, she said that people called to see her and that she was suspicious of every one.

Q. Why did she say she was suspicious?

A. Well she thought they might be coming there to injure her in some way.

Q. The woman was afraid of being killed?

A. No, not killed.

Q. What did she say?

A. Well, she thought she might be kidnapped or something like that.

Q. And don't you know that that woman when you saw her was in fear of some trouble to herself all the time, wasn't she?

Mr. Pinson: May I ask whether the witness is testifying as to the statements of the neighborhood or her own statements?

Mr. Stuart: I don't care.

The Court: Your questions started out with the dress-maker.

Mr. Stuart: Yes, sir.

The Court: I assume you are now interrogating about that?

Mr. Stuart: I am interrogating her about Minnie's appearance.

Q. She appeared to be suspicious of everybody she saw?

A. She said there was a great many people called to see her.

Q. She appeared to be suspicious of everybody, didn't she? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she was afraid she would suffer some injury, aint that so?

A. She said they all had a different proposition to make to her.

Q. She told you she was afraid she would be kidnapped?

A. Well, she didn't know what they would do.

Q. Didn't you use the word kidnap? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is it your word or hers?

A. She said that. She said her lawyers told her never to be alone.

Q. Her lawyers told her not to be alone?

A. Never, it wasn't safe.

Q. And she told you she was suspicious of everybody because she was afraid she would be kidnapped?

A. That was one of the things she said.

Mr. Cruce: She said her lawyers told her never to be alone she wasn't safe?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she tell you she was afraid she would be kidnapped, didn't she? A. Yes.

Q. How long did you talk to her at that first meeting?

A. The first time I was in her home I think I was there about ten minutes.

Q. About ten minutes the first meeting. Did you talk with her about this case?

A. She merely mentioned receiving a letter from Mr. Hanford.

Q. You didn't know her well, did you Mrs. Wilds?

A. Why, no.

Q. Then why did she open up and tell you all her private business to you?

A. I don't know unless it was because I was well known in the neighborhood.

Q. Oh, she just opened up of her own accord without your saying a word at all, because you had—told you she had received a letter from Mr. Hanford? A. Yes.

Q. And then she began and rattled off this story?

A. Not the first time.

Q. What did she say?

A. Merely said she had received a letter from Mr. Hanford.

Q. You encouraged her to talk? A. No, sir.

Q. When was the next time you went back there?

A. The next day.

Q. Did you go back and tell Betty Mann that you had struck fertile ground out there?

A. I told her I might be able to go there but I didn't like the idea.

Q. But still you undertook to do it, did you tell Betty Mann you thought you could go out there and by staying with Minnie get a whole lot of information out of her?

A. I didn't say I would stay with her.

Q. I mean by being with her from day to day?

A. Well, if I could manage to be there I thought she would talk, the way she had started.

Q. Well, you did manage to get back there the second time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was there when you went in the second time?

A. She was home alone.

Q. What time in the afternoon was it when you got there?

A. I believe it must have been about, oh, possibly one o'clock, somewhere along there, half past twelve.

Q. Now, what was the first thing you said to her when you went in that house the second time?

A. I talked to her about the shoes she had.

Q. Then what else did you talk to her about, the dresses?

A. Well, I had the shoes to be stretched for me.

Q. The second time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Didn't you say you told Betty Mann after that first time that you thought if you could get back there sufficiently to talk that you could get some good information?

A. I said if I had a chance to go back I thought Minnie would talk to me.

Q. Well, you went back the second time to get that information? A. I went to see her.

Q. To get that information? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the first thing you did was to talk about shoes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So as to break the ground? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the first thing you said about this information, how did you open the subject?

A. She commenced to talk about it herself.

Q. She did? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't mention it? A. No, sir.

Q. She just commenced rattling off about this case?

A. Well, at first she said she had had a lot of trouble, an awful lot of trouble about her lawsuit, I think that is the way she put it.

Q. And you were sympathizing in her trouble?

A. I told her I had read a great many things in the papers and knew a great deal about her case.

Q. And then you asked her to make you her confidant?

A. I didn't ask her.

Q. Did you ask her to tell you all she knew about it?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you invite her confidence?

A. No, sir, I just said I knew some things about the case.

Q. You knew you were there to report what she said to you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew you were there for that purpose to report to Betty Mann? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What she said? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And every time you went there, just as soon as you got through, you went and hunted up Betty Mann, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Kohler? A. Kohler wasn't always there.

Q. And you reported to Betty Mann just what she had said to you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, in that second conversation, was that the time that she told you all about the fraud that they wanted her to put up?

A. I don't know as I could tell each conversation I had with her; I had a good many.

Q. In the second conversation now, did she at that time, for the first time commence to tell you about the lies that people were trying to get her to tell? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was the first time?

A. She mentioned that a good many times.

Q. I mean the first time. And did she tell you at that second visit the lies that people had tried to get her to tell in this case?

A. She said they tried to get her to—yes.

Q. And she told you that everybody around was trying to get her to tell a lie, didn't she; told you that Page was trying to get her to lie? A. Said he did make her lie.

Q. And that Frank Long made her lie? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she say that Hanford made her lie?

A. She said—yes, that they were all crooks.

Q. Did she say anything about an individual named Sadie James? A. She did.

Q. Did she say Sadie tried to make her tell a lie?

A. No.

Q. She said Sadie was the only true friend she had?

A. No, she didn't make that remark to me.

Q. She said Sadie was there to try to get the truth?

A. She said Sadie was there to get some information.

Q. And that Sadie was her friend?

A. She didn't say Sadie was her friend.

Q. She didn't tell you that Sadie had tried to get her to tell a lie; she didn't tell you that, did she?

A. She didn't say that Sadie tried to get her——

Q. Did she say Betty Mann had tried to get her to tell a lie? A. No, she didn't.

Q. Now, the only people in that second conversation that she said to you tried to get her to tell a lie was Page and Long? A. In that conversation, yes, sir.

Q. In that conversation. Now, when was the next conversation? A. I think it was the very next day.

Q. The very next day. Now, who did she abuse the third day? A. I don't believe I could detail each conversation.

Q. Well, but you can tell me. She accused somebody soon after that in addition to Page and Long, didn't she, of getting her to swear a lie?

A. She accused Hanford of beating her out of her money.

Q. I didn't ask you about that. I asked you if she ever accused anbody but Long and Page to try to get her to tell a lie and you said not that day. Now, I asked you what day it was she accused somebody else?

A. She repeated that so many times I couldn't state definitely.

Q. Well, did she at any time thereafter accuse anybody else of trying to make her tell a lie?

A. She said they made her swear to lies.

Q. Well. who? A. Page and Long.

Q. Didn't she ever accuse anybody except Page and Long of trying to get her to swear a lie?

A. I don't know as she did it exactly in that way, they were all crooks.

Q. Who did she say? A. All of her lawyers.

Q. Did she say anybody was crooked except Hanford and Page and Long, those were the three crooks?

A. She said she had seven lawyers.

Q. And all of them were crooks?

A. That is what she said.

Q. Do you remember who they were? A. I do not.

Q. You do not. You know Hanford was one? A. Yes.

Q. She said he was a crook? A. Yes.

Q. And said Page and Long were two more? A. Yes.

Q. Did she name anybody as crooked except Page and Long and her lawyers. Think of that for a moment?

A. Well, she would often refer to the other side.

Q. I mean on her side—— Well, take the other side, who on the other side were crooked?

A. Well, she said they would do her if they could.

Q. Who would do her up?

A. I don't know, she said the other side.

Q. So the only persons you have a definite memory of as being charged by her as being crooked are Page and Long and her lawyers? A. Yes.

Q. That is all. She never did tell you that she didn't have a son named Tommy Atkins, did she, never did, did she?

A. No.

Q. She never at any time in any conversation said that she didn't have a boy once named Tommy, did she?

A. No, sir.

Q. Never did. In all the different conversations with you and all this talk that you say you had, in which she was abusing Page and grumbling and complaining, she never at any time said that she never had a boy Tommy, did she?

A. I don't remember at all.

Q. You know that she did not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You know that she did not say she had a boy named Tommy? A. No, sir.

And thereupon Court took a recess until nine thirty tomorrow morning.

And thereafter, and on May 10th, 1917, at 10 o'clock A. M., court convened pursuant to adjournment, and further proceedings herein were had as follows:

MRS. A. G. WILDS, being recalled, further testified as follows:

Cross Examination by Mr. Stuart.

Q. Mrs. Wilds, do you remember at any time while you were in Seattle taking a ride one night with Mr. Kohler and Mrs. Feldhusen in an auto? A. No, I never did.

Q. You never took that ride? You were never out riding, now, in Seattle, in an auto with Mr. Kohler and Mrs. Feldhusen? A. No, sir.

Q. Were you out riding with Mrs. Feldhusen?

A. Not alone, no.

Q. Who was with you?

A. Mrs. Folk and her husband, and Mr. and Mrs. Dean.

Q. You distinctly remember that you never went out with Kohler in an automobile any where? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long was it since you had first seen Kohler when you first went out to Minnie Atkins'—to Minnie Folk's?

A. How long since I had?

Q. Yes, how long was it before you went out the first time since you had seen Mr. Kohler? Did you see him the night before? A. I saw him—I believe so.

Q. Yes? A. You mean when I went out to Minnie's?

Q. Yes? A. I think so, yes, sir.

Q. Now, Mr. Kohler knew that you were going to install this dictaphone, didn't he?

A. Not at that time, not to my knowledge.

Q. Mr. Kohler and you were still working together at this time?

A. Well, they had been negotiating about working together.

Q. I understand, but you were in the same service at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mr. Kohler told you, didn't he, Mrs. Wilds, that he had gone out there and had put a boy out in the bushes for Minnie to recognize? Kohler told you that, didn't he?

A. No, sir.

Q. Anybody tell you that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was it? A. Mrs. Folk.

Q. Mrs. Folk? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mrs. Folk told you that there was a negro boy in front of her house in the bushes, did she?

A. She didn't say whether he was a negro boy or what kind.

Q. Well, she said there was a boy in the bushes?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that Kohler had come there and said Minnie, I have got your boy out here? A. Yes, sir, she said that.

Q. In substance?

A. That he could bring him there in five minutes.

Q. And Minnie said to him, now Mr. Kohler——

A. Said that——

Q. Wait a minute. Minnie said, now, Mr. Kohler, you can't work off any negro child on me and if you don't get out of here, I am going to shoot you. Didn't she say that?

A. No, sir.

Q. What did she tell you?

A. She told me that Mr. Kohler told her that he could bring the boy in five minutes if she wanted to see him; and she said go ahead and bring him and I will put the first bullet through him and the second one through you, and you can take him to Tulsa, and tell my lawyers how it happened.

Q. What was she going to do that for?

A. Because he said he had the right boy and did not.

Q. But she told you that she was going to do it because they were trying to work off the negro baby?

A. No, sir, she didn't mention the negro baby then.

Q. Did she ever mention the nigger boy to you?

A. Yes, sir, a great many times.

Q. And she also said that this nigger boy was out there in the bushes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He was out there in the bushes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that she saw Kohler get on the car and the boy?

A. And the boy.

Q. She saw the boy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he look like a Mexican Jew?

A. Said he was a Jew from close to Mexico.

Q. Looked like a Mexican Jew, looked like a Philippino.

A. Said he looked like a Jew and came from close to Mexico.

Q. Then, you did know from Minnie early in your conversation with her that Kohler, the detective whom you were working with, had come out there with a boy to show Minnie as her son? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You know that. Did Kohler ever tell you that he had offered to sell this information to Page for a hundred dollars?

A. He never told me anything of the kind.

Q. Didn't he tell you he had offered to sell this information to Page? A. He didn't tell me.

Q. Did he tell anybody else that in your presence?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. Did you ever hear of that before? A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't you know Mrs. Feldhusen—didn't Mrs. Feldhusen tell you that Kohler had offered her five hundred dollars to go and get a statement from Minnie about her boy?

A. I believe she said he offered her money, yes.

Q. To go and get a statement? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That Kohler offered her five hundred dollars?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you there when the dictagraph was installed?

A. No, sir.

Q. You say you knew how it was fixed; where was the other end from the house, in the woods?

A. No, in a house in the neighborhood about a block and a half or two blocks from Minnie's home.

Q. When you went back there, you went there in the afternoon after the morning that the dictagraph was installed, the dictagraph was installed in the morning, wasn't it?

A. I don't know just exactly when it was.

Q. Was it installed when you went back there the afternoon, did you think it was installed?

A. The dictagraph wasn't in there right in the beginning.

Q. I know, but did you go there in the afternoon thinking that the dictagraph had been put in there that day?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You went there then assuming that the dictagraph that morning had been put in there sometime and that the dictagraph was working on you and Minnie there that afternoon?

A. Yes.

Q. You assumed that. Did your people find out that when Mr. Folk came home the next day he had gone and picked up a lot of this wire and pulled it and thrown it on the ash pile?

A. No, he didn't do anything of the kind.

Q. How do you know?

A. Mrs Folk told me Harry was very suspicious of some wires he had seen in the yard, and she said I told him that the electrician left them out there, that they were dead wires and that he was coming out to get them.

Q. Then you say Mr. Folk as a matter of fact to your knowledge you know he didn't go and pull those wires up this way and without further search throw them down on the ash pile without breaking your wires I mean?

A. I didn't see him do that.

Q. Do you say he didn't do it?

A. I say he didn't do it.

Q. You were not there. Now, then, you say the other end was in a house somewhere in the neighborhood? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then your understanding was that on that particular afternoon that you went there that the dictagraph should commence to work, wasn't it? A. Why, yes.

Q. That was your understanding?

A. After it had been installed.

Q. You had an understanding with the people at the other end that you were to do the talking with Minnie and they were to take it off? A. Yes.

Q. That was your understanding. Now, what was your idea of taking that photograph. You suggested the photograph, didn't you? A. No, sir.

Q. Who suggested that?

A. It was suggested by the operatives in the case.

Q. What for?

A. They wanted to have real proof, wanted to have the real goods on Minnie.

Q. What kind of goods?

A. Why, to prove that they had had it in there and had gotten conversation.

Q. Did the photograph prove that they had gotten conversations?

A. They thought it would show we were working together.

Q. Show you were there and Minnie was there. Now, that man in the photograph that has the wires was that an electrician?

A. He was supposed to be a detective.

Q. Supposed to be a detective?

A. I don't know what he is.

Q. Well, did they have any electrician along?

A. No, Mr. Wright said that he told Minnie that he was an electrician.

Q. Well, did they actually have an electrician along?

A. I didn't see them installing this.

Q. Did they have one along to your knowledge?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. You say you saw all of these men afterwards, didn't you? A. Yes.

Q. They were in that photograph? A. Yes.

Q. They were all in the photograph. Now, after you had gotten through with this dictagraph and taken it out of the house, you all assembled and had a conversation together, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you meet after you pulled the dictagraph down? A. At 202 Wright Hotel.

Q. Now, who was there? Give the names of every one who was there?

A. Mr. Murphy, Mr. Wright, Mr. Briggs, Mr. Kohler, Mrs. Mann. That is all, I believe.

Q. Now, then, Mr. Kohler was still on the job at that time, wasn't he, he was there with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you compare what the dictagraph said with what you had heard there? A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. When did you make your comparison?

A. After I came to Tulsa.

Q. After you came to Tulsa. Do you know why an addition was made to the dictagraph record?

A. Why, no, I don't know.

Q. Did anybody ever explain to you why the dictagraph record didn't correspond with your recollection?

A. Not all of it corresponded, a great deal of it did.

Q. Did anybody ever explain to you why that didn't correspond, Mrs. Wilds? A. Well, not definitely, no.

Q. Did they do it indefinitely?

A. No, no one ever explained that to me. No.

Q. Never explained it to you? A. No, sir.

Q. You told them that that dictagraph record said things that Minnie never said to you, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You told them that and they made no explanation to you, did they?

Mr. Pinson: Told who that?

The Court: Who did you tell that, Mrs. Wilds?

A. I told Mr. Nixon and Mr. Tally.

The Court: Did you ever have any conversation with Mr. Briggs and these other operatives about that, if so, tell about it.

A. Well, no. I know they wouldn't sign an affidavit.

Q. Wouldn't sign an affidavit to what?

A. To their report.

Q. Why wouldn't they sign it, because you would contradict them? A. They thought I was working with them.

Q. Well, why wouldn't they sign an affidavit to that report, Mrs. Wilds?

A. Well, because they were afraid of getting in trouble.

Q. Afraid of getting in trouble? What sort of trouble?

Mr. Pinson: We submit, Your Honor, that that calls for a conclusion.

The Court: She may answer, if she knows.

Q. What sort of trouble?

A. Well, they didn't seem to have any—well, they seemed to think that they were not true.

Q. Seemed to think that they were not true?

A. That was sort of a peculiar atmosphere around there.

Q. A peculiar atmosphere? What kind of atmosphere was it now?

A. Well, I don't know as I can exactly explain it.

Q. Well, you can tell how it felt, can't you?

The Court: Where was it, now, that this matter of signing the affidavit came up?

A. In the Wright hotel.

The Court: At that meeting?

A. Yes.

The Court: Who brought up the question—making the affidavit to these reports?

A. Mrs. Mann.

The Court: Now, just go on and tell in response to the question what occurred there in regard to the signing; that will give the atmosphere.

Q. You remember that you told me a few minutes ago that it didn't come up there? A. Come up where?

Q. You told about the report, and as to whether they were true or not did not come up there at the hotel meeting. Did it come up there? You just told the Court it did come up there?

A. I said it was sort of a peculiar atmosphere.

Q. Didn't you tell the Court it came up there and Betty Mann called it up? A. About signing the affidavit.

Q. What was said about that?

A. Mrs. Mann wanted them to sign the affidavit and they would not.

Q. Why not?

A. Mr. Murphy said that he had been in trouble about signing affidavits before and he wasn't going to take any more chances.

Q. What did the others say?

A. His partner seemed to be a very expert man and he wouldn't sign anything.

Q. Would anybody sign it? A. Only Mr. Kohler.

The Court: What I would like to know is this. For whom did Betty Mann, when she asked them to sign, who did she say she wanted it for?

A. For Mr. Nixon.

Q. For Mr. Nixon? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Alright. Now, when did you leave that country to come down here?

A. I believe it was the latter part of September or the first part of October.

Q. The last part of September or the first part of October?

A. I don't remember the exact date.

Q. And you went right to work for Mr. Nixon, didn't you?

The Court.

Q. Now, let me get it in my mind. That was in 1914?

A. 1915.

Q. 1915? A. Yes, sir.

Q. A year ago last fall? A. Yes, sir.

By Mr. Stuart.

Q. You went right to work for Mr. Nixon? A. Well——

Q. A short time after that? A. Yes.

Q. You went right to work in his office?

A. Not in his office.

Q. How long did you stay there?

A. I was there until November 17, at that particular time.

Q. Well, when did you go back?

A. I think it was 5 or 6 weeks after that.

Q. And then, how long did you stay?

A. Then I think I stayed until May.

Q. Now, how long were you in Mr. Nixon's service altogether down here?

A. I was supposed to be in his service as long as the term of school would have lasted.

Q. I am not asking about suppositions, I am asking how long you were actually in his service.

A. Up until November 17.

Q. How many months?

A. Well, from the time that I went to work on the case in Seattle; that was from——

Q. I mean in his service in his office down here?

A. Oh; that was from about the first of October until November, until the time I went home.

Q. Yes, you must have been there five or six months, weren't you, with him?

A. Well, about two months, then, I guess.

Q. No, you worked from October until when—November?

A. October until November.

Q. Then, you went about in six weeks and worked to May, didn't you?

A. Yes; Mr. Nixon told me to come back.

Q. It don't make any difference what he told you. How long did you work there—four or five months, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About four or five months you worked for him in that period? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What work were you doing for him?

A. He was in Washington, D. C., he sent for me to come back.

Q. What particular work did you do for him in his office, Mrs. Wilds? A. No particular work in his office.

Q. Well, what was you doing there?

A. He told me to come back, they might need me any minute.

Q. What did you do for him in this time?

A. All I was doing, I went to business college and worked two weeks in Mr. Bailey's abstract office.

Q. What were you doing for Mr. Nixon in that five months?

A. Mr. Nixon told me to come to Tulsa and work in Mr. Bailey's office. He said he had a clear understanding with Mr. Bailey.

Q. You didn't work four or five months for Mr. Bailey?

A. No, sir, only two weeks.

Q. What did you do for Mr. Nixon at that time? What did you do for him?

A. He told me to come to Tulsa, and he said stay at the hotel, he said, and he said if you get tired—he explained that there was no position for me which he had promised me, and he said we may need you at any minute, and he said if you go to Kansas to pay a short visit to your people, he said stay somewhere where we can reach you by wire at a minute's notice.

Q. You stayed at the hotel? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who paid your board there?

A. From January until May I paid everything myself.

Q. Who paid you money to pay it with?

A. I had been paid for my work in the case by Mr. Nixon up to November 17th.

A. Mr. Nixon paid you? A. Yes.

Q. Now, did you get any pay after that from Mr. Nixon?

A. All I got from Mr. Nixon was my fare back to Seattle and about a forty-five dollar hotel bill because I wouldn't [] a voucher, he finally consented to pay that hotel bill. That is all.

Q. Now, just to go back a second. Who paid you for your services at Seattle?

A. Mrs. Mann told me that it was Mr. Wrightesman.

Q. Mr. Wrightesman?

A. Not directly, it was through them.

Q. How much were you paid for your services there?

A. You mean altogether.

Q. Yes, I mean altogether, for your services in Seattle in this case.

A. It was something like three hundred and thirty dollars, or something like that.

Q. Three hundred and thirty dollars?

A. Three hundred or three hundred and something along there and my transportation.

Q. Now, at the time that you were down here at the hotel, Mrs. Wilds, you know that Mr. Nixon and Mr. Wrightesman were claiming to have a Tommy Atkins, didn't you?

A. I didn't know anything about Mr. Wrightesman until I got to Tulsa.

Q. You knew that Mr. Nixon was claiming to have a Tommy Atkins, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you knew it all the time that you were in Tulsa, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you knew it was a fraud, too, didn't you?

A. I had been told it was.

Q. Now, who was that confidential friend you spoke of in that letter who told you it was a fraud? A. Mrs. Mann.

Q. Mrs. Mann was the confidential friend? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Mrs. Mann told you that Nixon was trying to put up a fraud on the Government, didn't she?

A. She told me there was no Tommy Atkins.

Q. That Nixon's claim was a fraud, didn't she?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Why didn't you tell the Government right then? Why didn't you go right then and tell the Government that this man was trying to put up a fraud?

A. Well, I was going to do it right along and kept putting it off.

Q. Putting it off, putting it off; and you never made up your mind, Mrs. Wilds, to do that until you fell out with Nixon, did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You made up your mind to do it?

A. Yes, sir, I told Mr. Nixon right along that I had no faith in the case, and wouldn't stand by him.

Q. Well, why didn't you write to the Secretary about it?

A. Well, I didn't—I don't know; I never worked at anything like this and wasn't in any hurry to get mixed up in any trouble. I wasn't looking for any trouble.

Q. Who finally told you to write to the Secretary of the Interior? A. I did it of my own free will.

Q. Of your own free will? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had two purposes in that, didn't you, Mrs. Wilds? The first purpose was to punish Nixon, wasn't it?

A. Well, I had no faith in that case.

Q. Your first purpose in sending that letter was to punish Nixon for the way he had treated you, wasn't it?

A. Why, no.

Q. You were mad at Nixon at the time you wrote it, were't you? A. Well, he owed me money.

Q. You were mad with him, weren't you, Mrs. Wilds?

A. Well, I didn't feel very kind toward him for bringing me to Tulsa and——

Q. If Mr. Nixon had paid you promptly you never would have written that letter, would you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You would? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You expected to get employment, didn't you, from the Secretary of the Interior? A. No, sir.

Q. You expected to get employment, didn't you, from the Government, in this case? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, you wrote a letter to the Secretary of the Interior, did you? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Stuart: Have you got the letter here?

Mr. Pinson: Yes, sir.

Q. In this letter you told the Secretary of the Interior that Nixon was a crook, didn't you?

A. I don't remember if I expressed it in those words.

Q. Can you remember—you read this letter a dozen times before you came on the stand, didn't you? A. No, sir.

Q. When was the last time you read this letter?

A. I think I looked over that letter day before yesterday.

Q. Day before yesterday? A. Just glanced over it.

A. Just glanced over it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long were [] glancing over this letter?

A. Oh, I don't know; just hurriedly read it through. I don't think I finished the last two pages because I was interrupted.

Q. You*d* [] the Secretary of the Interior in this letter that Nixon was a crook; you made proffer of letters that Nixon had written you, didn't you? A. That he had written me?

Q. Yes?

A. He had written me a great many letters.

Q. You copied some of them in here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you just wound up and told them that Nixon was a crook, and trying to put up a fraud on the Government, didn't you?

A. I don't think I expressed it exactly that way but it amounted to the same thing as far as my faith in the case was concerned.

Q. And so far as your faith in Nixon was concerned?

A. In the case.

Q. I will ask you if in this letter you said this: "Last October after working on the case in Seattle and after our reports had been written and sent to J. Truman Nixon, I learned or rather it was told to me in confidence that there was no Tommy Atkins, but that Minnie did not know the difference; that he was a cousin and used to play around with the other children." Did you say that in the letter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, who was it told you they was trying to work off a cousin? A. Mrs. Mann said that.

Q. Said somebody was trying to work off a cousin. Who was it trying to put this cousin up as Tommy Atkins?

A. She told me that the boy who was placed on record was a cousin.

Q. Was a cousin of whom?

A. Well, she didn't explain, she said he was a cousin.

Q. You didn't ask whose cousin it was?

A. I didn't ask because I didn't know anything about it.

Q. You were writing to the Secretary of the Interior about it giving the facts about it, you didn't inquire who the cousin was?

A. They didn't talk to me anything about much.

Q. "Only two weeks ago I heard that the Thomas Atkins Nixon is parading around is a Jew from Texas. His name is Tommy Mooney, but by Nixon's magical transformation he became Tommy Atkins?" A. Yes, sir, I wrote that.

Q. "Nixon had him registered somewhere at Sweetwater as Tommy Atkins and was the first to introduce him as Tommy. Tommy is even branded "T.M."; I also learned this." Is that in there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you get that?

A. From Mrs. Mann the second time.

Q. Was Mrs. Mann at that time working for Mr. Nixon?

A. Why, yes she was supposed to be.

Q. In Tulsa? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You saw her every day? A. No, sir.

Q. How often did you see Mrs. Mann? A. Very seldom.

Q. But you did see her long enough in Tulsa to learn everything she knew about Nixon's case, didn't you?

A. No, she made a special trip to Tulsa to see me one Sunday evening.

Q. Did she tell you to write to the Secretary of the Interior about it? A. No, sir.

Q. Did she know you were going to?

A. I told her a great many times.

Q. Did you tell her you were going to write to the Secretary of the Interior? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And did she know you were going to impart the information she was giving you to the Secretary of the Interior?

A. I don't know that.

Q. You don't know. "I wrote discouraging letters to Nixon and this is what he wrote to me"? A. Yes, sir.

Q. "Keep your nerve up, keep a tight upper lip; keep fighting in the right in our case; keep thinking twice before speaking; keep thinking we are right for we are; we will win"?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you put Nixon's letter in this letter to the Secretary for?

A. I don't remember just exactly what I wrote.

Q. But you did write that, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you put that in there for?

A. Well, because Nixon wrote that to me.

Q. Put it in there to expose Nixon, didn't you?

A. Well, to show that I thought I was working in the right.

Q. Mrs. Wilds, you put it in there to expose Nixon, didn't you? A. I did it to explain my own affairs.

Q. You didn't have any feeling against Nixon, did you?

A. Kindly feeling toward him?

Q. Did you have any feeling toward him?

A. Why, no, but I didn't think he did the right thing by not settling up with me for my wasted time.

Q. He hadn't settled with you for your wasted time?

A. No, sir.

Q. You told the Secretary he hadn't settled up with you for your wasted time? A. I don't remember.

Q. All right, we will see. "He sent for me to come down here to Tulsa that he had a better job for me——"

Mr. Stuart: (To Mr. Pinson) There is no use watching me, I will read it correctly.

Q. "He told me that my reports and my letters made him feel that I was a conscientious sort of a person and wanted to know the truth about everything." Is that right?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. "I told him all I knew and also that it was told me in confidence that there was no Tommy"? A. Yes, sir.

Q. But still during all these months that he claimed to have a Tommy Atkins?

A. Yes, I knew the Tommy Atkins that he claimed.

Q. "He gave me a very convincing talk, showed me photograph copies of the enrollment, still I argued and balked and one time I heard him mutter to himself, in an undertone, 'Some people do not know how to help themselves,' I felt that it was meant for my benefit, and yet I did not take it that way then, since I learned two weeks ago, that Nixon himself arranged this case himself, transformed Mooneys into Atkins, etc. I felt certain it was meant for my benefit then. Nixon gave me one of the most sincere confidential, and fatherly talks, when I came down here, that I felt it a crime to consider him anything but an honest man". Is that so?

A. That is exactly the way he talked to me.

Q. He talked to you in such a way that he lulled you into a sense of security, didn't he?

A. He said so many nice things that I didn't see how a man like that——

Q. He was just full of nice things? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He professed to be a Christian Scientist?

A. Well, that is what he said he was.

Q. Well, is that your religion too?

A. Well, it don't happen to be, no, sir.

Q. "And altogether he passed as a real faint". Is that what you said? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, what was you telling all that for, if you were not trying to expose Nixon to the Secretary of the Interior?

A. Well, for a long, long time I thought perhaps Mr. Nixon didn't know that there was no Tommy Atkins.

Q. You are not answering my question. I say, why did you put that in your letter if it wasn't for the purpose of exposing Nixon to the Secretary of the Interior?

A. Well, if any one is connected with the Tommy Atkins matter, you couldn't hardly leave their names out.

Q. "I often asked questions about the case but he would never answer them, and I felt that I was asking questions that I had no right to ask, the reason he did not answer them. He made me feel cheap. I just put myself down as not knowing what was proper to ask and do in the business world, but I worried myself sick trying to figure things out for myself"?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. "He had no position for me at all and now he refuses to pay me for my wasted time"? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you put that in the letter to the Secretary for? A. Well, I wanted to show them where I stood.

Q. Did you think the Secretary had any concern about whether Nixon had paid you or not?

A. I don't know anything about it, and I never thought the letter would reach the right hands.

Q. What right hands? A. Well, the hands that would take care of it properly, the right hands.

Q. You didn't know that the letter would get into the right hands, what do you mean by that?

A. I didn't really know who I was writing to.

Q. Didn't know whether it would get in the right hands or not. You say in the letter you hoped it would get into the right hands? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, now, what did you mean by that?

A. Well, I hoped that everything would be cleared up that would show people where I stood. What kind of a position I was in.

Q. On Page 9 you say again: "I am inclosing you a copy of a letter I wrote Nixon sometime ago, in regard to the position, etc. but he did not pay me for my wasted time since November 15". Now, what did you put that in there for?

A. Well, to prove my statements I presume.

Q. Your purpose, Mrs. Wilds, was to betray Nixon to the Secretary of the Interior, wasn't it?

A. I had no intention of betraying anyone.

Q. But your purpose was to do it. It was a sorrowful duty, but your purpose was that way?

A. It was about the Thomas Atkins case what I was concerned about.

Q. Mrs. Wilds, tell the Court whether it was your resentment against Nixon or your conscientious duty to do right that made you write this letter?

A. It was my conscientious duty that caused me to write that letter.

Q. And there wasn't any resentment against Nixon in your nature when you wrote this letter?

A. I didn't feel very kindly toward Mr. Nixon.

Q. You didn't intend to injure Nixon?

A. I hoped it wouldn't.

Q. You hoped it wouldn't? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you mean to say that you hoped this letter wouldn't injure Nixon?

A. Well, I didn't know what would happen, but I didn't want to hurt anyone.

Q. You didn't want to hurt anyone? A. No.

Q. "He did pay me my fare money back to Seattle. I presume he did that just to get me away from here, but I am still here". What did you put that in there for?

A. I wouldn't have said it that way, I wasn't doing any spite work.

Q. But you did say so? A. Yes.

The Court: Where was this letter written?

A. At Tulsa.

Q. Was written in Nixon's office?

A. No, sir, it was written in my room.

Q. But written at the time you were in Tulsa?

A. Yes, sir.

The Court: What is the date of that?

Judge Stuart: May, 1916, your Honor.

Q. In this letter you told the Secretary that you never started anything that you didn't finish? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you say that for?

A. Well, I started in this case and thought I was in the right, and I was going to carry out the right purpose all the way through.

Q. When you said to the Secretary: "I am in this case and I never started anything that I don't finish," what did you mean by that? A. Finish right.

Q. Finish right? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Finish right. "I could write all day and then not tell half I know, and I really do not know if this letter will ever be considered by anyone at all, so perhaps I had better bring it to a close. Should appreciate hearing from you. I never like to start anything that I cannot finish." Is that what you said? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You also said: "I shall wait in Tulsa for an answer from you. I did expect to leave Tulsa tomorrow, but a few more days will not matter much. I do not like to leave a battle field where I have witnessed so much injustice without at least mentioning it to some one, who I feel ought to know." Is that what you said? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when did you finally make up your mind that Nixon wasn't going to pay you—— What did you make up your mind to do then? A. Go back home.

Q. Where, to Seattle? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What efforts did you make to collect your money from Nixon?

A. I tried to see him two or three weeks before he ever gave me a chance to see him. He would always get out of the office.

Q. Dodging you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He was dodging you. You went there frequently to see him? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He was there and you couldn't see him. Who advised him you were coming? A. He didn't want to talk to me.

Q. How much did he owe you at that time?

A. Well, the salary at the rate of fifteen dollars a week alone would have been four hundred fifty dollars, and then my other expenses, and he never paid that at all.

Q. Didn't pay that? A. No, sir, I paid that.

Q. Did you ever get to see him at all? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, what occurred between you and him in that conversation?

A. He called up the Ticket Office and found out what the fare was to Seattle and he put that down, and what the Pullman would be and the expenses. He allowed me so much and made out a check for about seventy nine dollars and some cents; and he also had a voucher and he said for me to sign when I got this money. And I said: Well, Mr. Nixon, do you consider this a business settlement? He says, that is all I consider that I owe you. So, I sat down and talked to Mr. Nixon. I said Mr. Nixon I am so thoroughly green in the business world I don't know anything about it and I would like to have some one who knows tell me what is the best thing to do at all times, and I asked him if it always paid—— I said does it pay in the business world to be on the square and do everything just right? He hesitated for quite a while and says: "Are you asking me that question personally for me to give you my honest opinion about the business world?" I says, yes, sir. He says no, very emphatically.

Q. Is that all that occurred?

A. And we talked for quite a while. He was talking his nice line of talk as he was in the habit of doing.

Q. Still giving you that necromancy talk?

A. Yes, he thought I would take the check and be satisfied with it and go on home and when I got ready to leave the office, I picked up the check and made no attempt to sign the voucher and he got very nervous; commenced to scratch his head and said, aren't you going to sign this voucher? And I said, no, sir, Mr. Nixon, I don't consider that we have had a fair business settlement and I don't mean to sign it; and he said, well, hand over that check. I didn't make any attempt to give it to him first, and although I knew it would not do any good to hold it, it was on his own bank, but I wanted to see him stew around there a while, and he asked for it the third time and he said if you don't sign that voucher, I will 'phone down to the bank and tell them not to pay that check. And I said alright, Mr. Nixon, and handed him the check and didn't say another word and walked out of the office; and that afternoon he trie to get me—had his stenographer try to get me, 'phoned me to the hotel a number of times, and I was not in, and he wanted to—that is, what he said—had the girl say to me finally when she did get me about six o'clock that evening, he said, tell Miss D'Labal, that we will settle her bill at the hotel if that will be any help to her. She asked me if that would be of any help to me and I knew there was no use trying to get my salary from Mr. Nixon, because he said he wouldn't pay it, so I took what I could and signed the voucher for $125, and that was the end of it and I went home.

Q. Now, was it after that time, before or before you—drifted into Mr. Page's office?

A. I think it was right in there.

Q. Right after?

A. Either before or after, I don't remember which.

Q. It was right after that?

A. I don't remember that just exactly.

Q. Did you know where Page's office was?

A. Well, I thought he had an office in Tulsa.

Q. And who told you where it was, do you know?

A. Let me see; I don't remember that. I went to see several of the lawyers about it.

Q. You went to see several of the lawyers before that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What lawyers did you go to see?

A. I went to see Mr. Lyons.

Q. Mr. Lyons, and who else before you saw Page?

A. And I think there was another lawyer I mentioned it to in the presence of Mrs. Mann, I can't recall the name.

Q. Was Mrs. Mann with you? A. No, she was in a——

Q. She went with you to some lawyers, didn't she?

A. We were at a lawyer's together.

Q. Well, she took you there, didn't she, or did you take her there?

A. Well, we just went up there, I don't know.

Q. You were together, weren't you?

A. Yes; I met her up town.

Q. And you said you wanted a lawyer?

A. She was going up to her lawyer.

Q. You said you wanted a lawyer, didn't you?

A. I told her I was trying to get my money.

Q. Now, did you go up to see this lawyer? What was his name? A. He was in the Haywood building.

Q. You don't remember his name?

A. Garrett or Barrett, or something like that.

Q. Did you see any other lawyer? They wouldn't take your case because they didn't want to fool with it?

A. I don't know whether they did or not; probably thought it was a small affair.

Q. They didn't take your case? A. No, sir, they didn't.

Q. What other lawyer did you see?

A. I believe Mr. Lyons said Mr. Brown was a good lawyer to see.

Q. Did you see Brown? A. No, sir, I didn't see him.

Q. After all that you went to Page's office, didn't you?

A. I think it was just about that time, yes, sir.

Q. Yes, you went to Page's office. Now, you said you went to Page's office out of mere matter of curiosity?

A. No, I just wanted to see who Mr. Page was before I left Tulsa.

Q. You were still hunting a lawyer, weren't you?

A. No, I had signed the voucher then and everything was all settled.

Q. Didn't you say yesterday that you told Page how he had treated you and everything and you couldn't get a lawyer and Page said why you can get my lawyers?

A. No, Mr. Page mentioned that but I didn't ask him for any help or anything.

Q. Didn't you tell him how Nixon had treated you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And didn't you tell him that you couldn't get a lawyer?

A. I said that I had seen several lawyers and that they wouldn't take it up at all.

Q. And then Mr. Page said—didn't he say this, my dear woman, I will see that you get a lawyer and see that you are——

A. I don't remember that I told him that I had signed the voucher or not.

Q. I didn't ask you that. Didn't he say I will help you get a lawyer if you want a lawyer?

A. No, he said I might drop in to see his lawyers or something like that.

Q. Didn't he say they would help you?

A. He didn't say they would help me; he said I might drop in to see them.

Q. Then you talked to Mr. Page a while in the presence of Mr. Hanford? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I will ask you if the whole burden of your song was against Mr. Nixon and if you didn't say there in the presence of Mr. Page and Mr. Hanford that you had never heard Minnie Folk make any statement about this case in reference to Thomas Atkins or with reference to the merits of this case?

A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't make that statement? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you see Page's lawyer?

A. I saw Mr. Hanford; I was introduced to him that day.

Q. Did you see Page's lawyers about your claim against Nixon?

A. Yes, I went into the office the next day, I believe it was.

Q. And saw them?

A. One of them met me, I didn't know who it was.

Q. What was his name? A. I don't know.

Q. What did he say?

A. I walked into the office and he met [] almost half way and knew what I was coming there for and he said we won't take it.

Q. Won't take it? A. Yes.

Q. So, the net result of it is, Mrs. Wilds, you consulted four different legal terms in Tulsa, to assert your claim against Nixon, and everyone of those firms turned down your law suit. A. There were three, I think.

Q. Three besides Lyons, Pages' lawyers?

A. No, that was the third one.

Q. And all three turned down your law suit against Nixon? A. Well, they didn't look into the matter at all.

Q. Didn't take it?

A. They didn't look into the matter at all in Mr. Page's lawyer's office.

Mr. Pinson: We offer the letter from which portions have been read in evidence, Your Honor, and ask that it be marked Government's Exhibit 101-A.

The Court: It may be admitted.

Q. Are you in anybody's employ now besides the Government? A. I didn't understand the question.

Q. Are you in anybody's employ now besides the Government? A. You mean in this case?

Q. Yes. A. No, sir.

Q. Are you receiving any money now from any one besides the Government? A. No, sir; no, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Pinson.

Q. Are [ ] to receive anything in this case besides the usual witness fees and mileage, Mrs. Wilds? A. No, sir.

Q. Have you ever been a witness before? A. I have not.

Q. Have you ever been in the court room besides in this trial? A. I have not.

Q. Have you stated to the Court all the facts that you had before you as to the details of this case when you first went out to Minnie's home?

A. No, there were a great many that——

Q. Probably you misunderstood me. Have you stated every thing that you knew about the case when you first went out to Minnie's home?

A. I haven't stated everything. There are a good many things that I have not mentioned.

Q. Well, did you know when you went to Minnie's home aside from the fact that there was a suit or controversy supposed to be between her and her son, in which she was trying to beat her son out of money, as you explained it; what further did you know about the case? A. Nothing.

Q. You have referred frequently in the letter which Judge Stuart read portions of, to Mr. Nixon; now, so far as you know when you were in Nixon's office, Mr. Nixon was the only person interested, aside from Minnie, in the case, was he not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Have you ever become acquainted with all the different claims in this case? A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. Do you know what Mr. Page claims in this case, as a defendant? A. I do not.

Q. Do you know what Mr. Nixon—I believe you said you knew what Mr. Nixon claimed in the letter, did you not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about the Henry Carter claim? Did you ever hear anything about that? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know anything about the Nancy Atkins claim?

A. I know nothing about Nancy Atkins.

Q. Then, so far as you knew, when you wrote that letter, this case was just a matter between Nixon's client and Mrs. Folk, is that true? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Page, at the time you went to his office, discuss with you his interest in this case?

A. He said that he had won the case long ago.

Q. Said that he had won the case long ago? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, Mrs. Wilds, when—you testified in your cross examination that Mrs. Mann suggested to you that you could frighten the money that Mr. Nixon owed you out of him, by threatening him with a white slavery charge, did you not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever consider seriously such a threat?

A. No, sir.

Q. Were your relations with Mr. Nixon perfectly proper?

A. Very proper.

Q. Did you tell Mr. Page that? A. I did.

Q. You told him that you had not considered Mrs. Mann's proposition, did you not? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Tell the Court what happened in the hallway yesterday afternoon just before you were called to the stand, while you were waiting to be called to the witness stand?

A. I was standing there talking to some gentleman—he was a stranger to me. He mentioned, he says, you are one of the witnesses in this case; and I says I guess I am. Just talked in generalities, he was telling about his family trouble, his wife died a few years ago——

Q. Just pass over that?

A. And Mr. Page came up and stood right in front of me and nodded. I said how do you do. He said to this gentleman I was speaking to, he said: "She and Betty Mann," he says: "She came to my office and wanted me to help her out on a white slave charge;" he says: "To get a piece of money for both of them, for Mrs. Mann and for herself." He says: "She came to my office with that."

Q. Did you answer?

A. Yes, I did. I said, Mr. Page, I think you are very sadly mistaken. I said, I never made any such statements to you at all; and I said to the gentleman—— Well, he said that to him, well he says: "I won't mention this in the court room; I won't mention it," and he winked to the other fellow two or three times and walked away.

Q. Mrs. Wilds, is it true that you suggested to Mr. Page that he help you in any black mailing scheme against Mr. Nixon? A. It is not true.

Q. Now, referring to the matter of the places where you resided in Seattle, was each of those places a respectable boarding house? A. Very respectable indeed.

Q. You never lived in any other kind? A. No, sir.

Q. What is your occupation at this time when you are at home? A. I am keeping house for my husband.

Q. When did you marry? A. In December.

Q. Last December? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Some things have been said about Mr. Kohler; do you know what nationality he is? A. He is a Bohemian.

Q. What is your nationality? Your descent?

A. Bohemian descent.

Q. Now, you referred to the Bohemian Club, what kind of an organization was that in Seattle?

A. It was a little group of Bohemian people who lived in Seattle.

Q. The word Bohemian didn't have its slangy significance in relation to that group or club? A. No, sir.

Q. You met Mr. Kohler there casually, I believe you stated, before you engaged in this enterprise? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Years before? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, let's refer to the dictagraph just a few minutes. I think perhaps we can straighten out some matters in regard to these reports. Were you advised as to whether the operatives at the other end of that dictagraph were on duty whether you were at Mrs. Folk's house or not?

A. There was some one supposed to be there all the time, but they were not on duty all the time, they said they were not.

Q. There was some one supposed to be there all the time, what do you mean, day and night? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, the dictagraph was installed primarily for the purpose of obtaining your conversations with Mrs. Folk?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And any other conversations which they might overhear, is that true? A. Yes, sir.

Q. So that some of the things in the report which you saw in Nixon's office may have been true or not, but you couldn't vouch for them? A. That is it exactly.

Q. Those conversations didn't all take place in your presence? A. Not all of them.

Q. Did the reports contain some matters which purported to be conversations held outside of your presence?

Mr. Cruce: That is a leading question, if the Court please.

The Court: Well, she may answer. Now, the question is whether those reports related to conversations, any part of those reports related to any conversations between

Minnie Atkins and other persons at times when you were not present, or did they purport merely to relate the conversations which occurred while you were at Minnie Atkins' house?

A. Some of the conversations never took place in my presence, some of the things that were said were not said. That is all.

The Court: Do I understand, Mrs. Wilds, that all the reports which you saw didn't agree with what you heard—purported to relate merely to conversations which took place at Minnie Atkins' house while you were there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, there were in some of those reports some things that you didn't know anything about, is that true?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have referred to Minnie's fear of being left alone. How frequently did you find her entirely alone when you went there to the house? A. Quite frequently.

Q. As a matter of fact, you really rarely went there unless she was alone, isn't that true? A. That is true, yes, sir.

Q. What, Mrs. Wilds, is your feeling towards Minnie in this case? Is it friendly or otherwise? A. It is friendly.

Q. Have you any feeling of spite or vindictiveness against Minnie Folk? A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. Do you know at this time what Minnie Folk is claiming in this case or what her interest is in this case?

A. I don't know anything definitely, no.

Q. Aside from what you gained from her, the general remarks that you got from her? A. No.

Q. Some reference has been made to the fact that a written statement was taken from you in Seattle in the presence of Mr. Bruff and Mr. Robinson, can you just relate to the Court exactly the method that was employed by all three of you in preparing that statement?

A. Mr. Bruff asked me a few questions about my occupation and my residence and things like that, and he took that down; and we went over all the original reports that I have notes, and he asked me if they were true, if I knew that they were true and was willing to swear to them. And I said that I most certainly was. So, Mr. Bruff—— He said he would like to take the statements along with him to look them over, and asked if I would prepare the statement or let him do it. And I said he could prepare it and I would look it over very carefully and see if it was true. And I said if it was I would sign it.

Q. Did you do that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you make any corrections? A. No, sir.

Q. It was substantially true as covered by your report? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I will ask you if Mr. Robinson participated in that conversation?

A. Mr. Robinson was merely there, he just sat there and I was thinking that Mr. Bruff, was wondering why Mr. Robinson—— He was just there, that is all.

Q. Did you know at that time anything about what interest Mr. Robinson had? A. None whatever.

Q. Was any influence exerted upon you at that time to make any kind of statement, or were you simply asked about the statements contained in your reports?

A. I was simply asked about the statements contained in my report. There was no influence of any kind exerted.

Q. Had you completed your answer? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You have your original memorandum, and your original reports as prepared by you, with you have you not, Mrs. Wilds? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Exactly what method did you employ to retain the conversations in your memory?

A. Well, you mean at Minnie's?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, of course, I had to take mental notes only, but it was a long way down to town and sometimes if the conversation was long and I had a number of things to remember, I had a little memorandum that I would write just little things down in that memorandum on the street car on the way down town.

Q. Then, when you got home did you prepare a written report?

A. Yes, sir, I told Mrs. Mann about things and prepared a report.

Q. Now, when you were in Mr. Nixon's office—— Let me get the dates correctly, the conversations which you had were in May, June, July, and August, 1914? A. Yes, sir, 1915.

Q. I mean the conversations with Mrs. Folk were in 1915?

A. 1915, yes, sir.

Q. In that fall you went to Tulsa, did you not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was the date when you went to Tulsa?

A. The latter part of September, I believe it was, or the first of October.

Q. Did you find your original report, as given to Betty Mann, in Mr. Nixon's office? A. I did.

Q. Did you at that time go over them and refresh your memory in regard to those reports? A. I did.

Q. Did you find any truthful statements in other reports there? A. I did.

Q. Now, after having refreshed your memory from your own report and your original notes, did you make a complete new statement? A. I did.

Q. Was that in longhand or typewriting?

A. I prepared it in longhand and had it typewritten afterwards.

Q. What does that typewritten memorandum contain, what is in that?

A. It contains facts or things that I heard Minnie say.

Q. And the statements contained in that are true are they? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Cruce: We object to that, if the Court please.

A. Well, the statement isn't offered.

Q. Have you refreshed your memory from that statement and from your original notes before testifying in this case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you testified that you received three hundred and thirty dollars, will you explain whether that was the full amount received by you or merely your salary in Seattle?

A. It was salary in Seattle.

Q. Then the total amount of money received by you is approximately what?

A. About—— You mean counting the transportation?

Q. Everything that you received?

The Court: Well, let's not take up time with that addition. She got three hundred thirty dollars for the work in Seattle, then she has testified to certain things, certain payments that were made after she came to Tulsa, and the final payment made when she was about to leave.

Mr. Pinson: I wasn't sure, Your Honor.

The Court: Well, I think that is sufficient.

Q. Well, for how long did you work on this case in consideration of the amount that you received?

A. From May—— Just exactly one year.

Q. When you went to Tulsa state whether or not Mr. Nixon requested you to do any particular work?

A. I didn't mean to say one year, it was from May 17th until November 17th and then my transportation besides, one hundred and twenty five.

Q. Then, you returned in December or January and worked until May, did you not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, during the time that you were there, just what work did Mr. Nixon request you to do, just state to the Court?

A. Well, he told me to go to work in Mr. Bailey's office, that he had made arrangements with Mr. Bailey.

Q. Well, aside from the work with Mr. Bailey, that was two weeks? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you testified he also had you work about two weeks in Mr. Tally's office, or his own office?

A. Not after I went back the second time.

Q. That was before? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, what was it just exactly he wanted you to do when you did go back?

A. He told me to stay right in the hotel just as you are, and he was to pay me fifteen dollars a week and all expenses; and he says, "We may need you any minute and we want—" Well, he wanted me where they could get me at a minute's notice.

Q. That is why you didn't do anything except stay at the hotel? A. Yes.

Q. Now, do you recall the name of Wrightsman? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know when the Wrightsman—— When Mr. Wrightsman lost interest in this matter and quit paying expenses? A. I was told that it was about August 7th.

Q. You were told by Mr. Nixon, did he explain that to you?

A. Yes, Mr. Nixon wrote that to me when I was in Seattle.

Q. That he quit paying expenses about August 7th. Did you understand whether he had any connection with the case after that or not?

A. I didn't understand. In fact, when I read that in the letter I thought he had reference to the Mr. Wright that worked on the case, and I thought he didn't have his name right, I didn't know Mr. Wrightsman at all.

Q. Now, I forgot to ask you yesterday about one matter which refers to Minnie. Did Minnie say anything with regard to a salary paid her by Page? A. Yes, sir.

Q. State what that was?

A. Minnie stated that Page paid her a salary for seven months before he had any right to do so. She said that was done on the quiet. She said I could have been receiving that salary all my life, but after the first trial the salary had to be cut off.

Q. Did she attempt to explain why it had to be cut off?

A. Yes, sir, she said after Mr. Allen had caught them in the lies that it had to be cut off. They couldn't put him out of it very easily.

Mr. Pinson: I think that is all, Your Honor.

Mr. Stuart: That is all.

(Witness dismissed.)

Mr. German: Your Honor, we now desire to re-offer in evidence the affidavit, the portion of the affidavit of Minnie Folk, which was offered yesterday morning and which was introduced by the defendants at the Receivership hearing in March, 1915, in this Court, and to also re-offer the portion of her cross examination which was then read into the record and offered, that is yesterday morning, for the limited purposes of which it was then offered.

The Court: You have read it into the record, I think, fully, haven't you?

Mr. German: Yes, sir.

The Court: The record may show that re-offer and I will reserve ruling on that now.

Mr. German: We desire to offer in evidence Government's Exhibit A-102, the deed from Gustav H. Dotter to Emma Ferrell, dated July 16th, 1884.

The Court: How has that been identified?

Mr. German: It connects with the testimony of——

The Court: Any question about the authenticity of this?

Mr. German: It is certified.

The Court: It may be admitted. I suppose it merely has reference to the date when that transaction occurred?

Mr. German: Exactly. You remember the witness George Dotter——

The Court: Now, may the record be not then made sufficiently clear for this case by offering merely the portion of the deed which related to the date?

Mr. German: Yes, sir.

The Court: No reason why that should not be?

Mr. Hanford: Is that July 22nd, Mr. German?

Mr. German: The 16th day of July, 1884.

The Court: Well, the portion of the deed, then, really offered as having any bearing in this case is the date of the instrument which—what is that date?

Mr. German: July 16th, 1884.

The Court: Alright; well, it may be admitted, the entire instrument now, and possibly you may reduce the record later.

Mr. German: Now, Your Honor, in connection with the testimony of Mr. Dassler, in relation to that law suit filed against Lillie White, October 30th, 1885, we offered the petition at the time, we didn't have at hand summons which was issued and served on Lillie White. I now have certified copy of the summons issued in that suit and served on Lillie White, which I would like to introduce in connection with the petition.

The Court: Was the petition admitted?

Mr. German: Yes, sir. You remember they objected to it at first and then consented—withdrew the objection, rather.

The Court: The summons identified as an exhibit?

Mr. German: Yes, sir, exhibit A-103.

The Court: It may be admitted.

Mr. German: At this time, Your Honor, we would like to re-offer in evidence the so-called hold-up records from the office of the Dawes Commission. Those are the records—I have forgotten the exhibit numbers—relating to the re-calling from the—rather, relating to the holding up of patents.

The Court: Now, then, they have been read into the record over the objections and ruling. You made a proffer of that in the record. You now reoffer that?

Mr. German: We now reoffer it.

The Court: Alright; you may make the record. Identify what you re-offer. Now, what is the reason for the re-offer which did not exist before?

Mr. German: The reason which was not suggested before is all; we take, the position that they are admissible in addition to the reasons which we assigned before, for the further reason that they constitute evidence of notice to the world that there was a question raised about the citizenship rights of Thomas Atkins and the rightfulness of this allotment.

The Court: The record may show your re-offer; the same objection heretofore offered and the Court sustaining the objection, and noting your exceptions.

Mr. German: There was a question the other day about whether or not deeds were filed of record or any leases or deeds in the office of the Register of Deeds of Creek County, prior to the date of the forged deed from Minnie Atkins to Mr. Bartlett, which were filed in October, 1912, and you said that you would consider the matter.

Mr. Hanford: I told you that I did not have a copy and you were going to furnish me copies of their stuff so I could see them.

Mr. German: I handed copy of the abstract to Judge Cruce and supposed you had considered it. We have a witness here by whom we can prove it.

And thereupon, ROBERT L. BAUGH, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Robert L. Baugh.

Q. Mr. Baugh, have you recently made an examination in the office of the Register of the Deeds at Sapulpa which is the county seat of Creek County, with relation to what instrument had been filed for record there affecting the title to this Tommy Atkins allotment? A. Yes, sir, I have.

Q. When did you make that examination? A. Yesterday.

Q. Yesterday? A. Yes, sir.

Q. State whether you found any instrument or conveyance or lease of record affecting that title, other than the recorded patents, certified copies of the recorded patents, prior to a deed purporting to have been executed by Minnie Atkins to H. U. Bartlett in October, 1912.

A. No, sir, there was nothing on record there.

Q. What was the date of the first instrument to the Gem Oil Company, or to Page, or to Josey?

A. The first instrument to the Gem Oil Company was a lease executed by Alexander MacNab and Minnie E. Folk and Harry B. Folk, executed on June 24th, 1914, recorded June 29th.

Q. Recorded June 29th? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was there any instrument of record there purporting to have been executed by Minnie Atkins or Minnie Folk, prior to the date of the instrument you have just testified about other than the Bartlett deed?

A. There was a deed—a trust deed to Alexander MacNab, Jr.

Q. What was the date of that?

A. June 13th, 1914; recorded June 22nd, 1914.

Q. Other than that was there any other instrument purporting to have been executed by Minnie Folk or Minnie Atkins prior to the date of the instrument you have just testified about except the Bartlett deed? A. No, sir, I found none.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: Now, Your Honor, we expected, as you understand to introduce Edward Merrick who has been ill, but is improving and I think it was announced in the court room the other day that his physician said he would be able to testify Monday, this coming Monday, and whatever else we do, before we rest, we will in all probability conclude before that date, we would like the privilege of putting Mr. Merrick on on Monday.

Mr. Stuart: That is alright, Your Honor; perfectly agreeable.

Mr. German: We have one other witness relating to the Minnie Atkins branch of the case. I think only one, but we have not been able to talk with yet. He will be very short. We would like to talk with him at the noon hour if he is here before. Then we have the question about the Nancy Atkins end. It is a question of procedure and I think subject to the Court's control. I don't know what the disposition of the counsel for Nancy Atkins may be in reference to putting their evidence on. My opinion is that when the Government has made a case as against Minnie Atkins, that it has fulfilled the requirements, because the patents which are sought to be cancelled in the name of course of Thomas Atkins, which gives his roll number, and of course the enrollment was the basis of the patent, and the fact the enrollment constitutes a link in the chain of title; the enrollments describe Thomas Atkins as a son of Minnie Atkins, and then we have the tribal enrollment records—tribal rolls relating to the question and taking those matters into consideration, it occurs to us that no other Thomas Atkins except the one who claims to be Minnie's son, is in any position to claim this allotment unless he connects himself up with the enrolled Thomas Atkins.

The Court: Well, now, isn't this the test? There is a Thomas Atkins on the roll. Assuming that he is a myth, then, isn't it a question of identifying Thomas Atkins here?

Mr. German: I think so, Your Honor.

The Court: Now, you contend you don't think the Thomas Atkins placed upon the rolls was intended by the Commission to contemplate the Thomas Atkins who was the son of Minnie Atkins?

Mr. German: That is correct.

The Court: And your contention is that that Thomas Atkins never existed?

Mr. German: That is correct.

The Court: Now, if I understand the contention of the Nancy Atkins side, it is that the Thomas Atkins on the roll, noted as the son of Minnie Atkins, was a real person, but got on the '95 roll as Thomas Atkins, as a real person, and existed at that time, as the son of Nancy Atkins?

Mr. German: Yes, sir.

The Court: Now, the Dawes Commission goes back to the '95 roll and finds there the name of Thomas Atkins according to the census card, presumably they had some information either from the '95 roll or elsewhere, leaving them to believe that the Thomas Atkins on the '95 roll, who they conceive to be enrolled if he had the other qualifications, was the son of Minnie Atkins, and so noted. Now, I cannot suggest to you gentlemen how your case, of course, but it seems to me that it is a matter of identification very largely.

Mr. German: Yes, sir, and our view is that it is not necessary for us to find every Thomas Atkins that is in the country and say that he is not the enrolled Thomas Atkins, because the census card identified the person who the Commissioner intended to enroll, or the supposed person. * * *

The Court: * * * I am requiring the Government to put on the proof to the extent that they deem that to be necessary to support the case in chief as against all the interests. * * * Now, the case will proceed for the Government until they are willing to close in chief. Then, Nancy comes on——

Mr. Allen: If it please the Court, we of course will proceed unless the Court directs the order of procedure. We thought as we view the law when we had shown that there was no child by Minnie of the name of Thomas Atkins, that we have shown that this is a mythical person.

The Court: Now, gentlemen, I think it is unnecessary to take further time. The matter is entirely in your hands.

Mr. Allen: We wanted to suggest this for the record, unless the Nancy Atkins claimant can show that they had the Thomas Atkins which the Commission intended to enroll. We wasn't to proceed without waiving our position on that question.

* * * * * * * *

The Court: Well, I conceive that the Government has already introduced evidence in this case, which the Court considers as substantial evidence sustaining their theory that this Thomas Atkins on the roll was not a son of Nancy Atkins. Now, how much more they will offer I am not prepared to. I think they ought to cover their case in that regard. That is my view.

Mr. Stuart: That is alright, Your Honor, and if [] think they have covered their case in that regard, we withdraw our objections.

The Court: That is cover their case in chief. I think in my judgment—I think there is evidence in this case against which the Nancy Atkins case would be required to offer proof. Now, whether you have offered all the evidence in chief, and proper evidence, you gentlemen know.

And thereupon, Court recessed until 2 o'clock P. M.

And thereafter, court having convened pursuant to adjournment, further proceedings herein were had as follows:

Mr. German: We desire to introduce the testimony of NANCY ATKINS, given by deposition in the case of Nancy Atkins, an incompetent, et al., plaintiff, against H. U. Bartlett, et al., defendant, pending in the District Court of Creek County of Oklahoma, case No. 3120, which deposition was given on February 9th, 1914, before C. B. Rockwood, notary public; that is a portion of that deposition, which I will now read: "Q. What is your name? A. Nancy Atkins. Q. Where do you live? A. At Nowata, Oklahoma. Q. What is your age about? A. I guess about 43. Q. Are you the same Nancy Atkins who has as your guardian Micco T. Harjo? A. Yes, sir. Q. Were you ever married? A. No, sir. Q. Did you ever have born to you a child? A. Yes, sir. Q. What was the child, male or female? A. Female. Q. Have you ever had more than one child born to you? A. No, sir. Q. How long did the child that was born to you live? A. It was born dead. Q. Do you have any brothers or sisters? A. One brother and one sister. Q. What are their names? A. The girl's name is Minnie Atkins, and the boy's name is Lee Atkins. Q. When did you last see your sister Minnie? A. The last time I remember, it was about the year 1895."

That was the direct examination and I will read now from her cross examination: "Q. Where were you living when the child was born? A. Wagoner. Q. Who was you living with? A. I was not exactly living with any one. I was working at the Barnard hotel. Of course, I was working there until I got so I couldn't work. Q. Where did you go after you got so that you couldn't work? A. Out to Mrs. Williams; she was running a rooming house. Q. Where was you when your child was born? A. At Mrs. Williams. Q. When was that? A. I can't exactly remember; I can't remember the year, it has been so long ago. Q. Where did you live after the child was born? A. I lived right at Wagoner until I got ready to go to Nowata. Q. Did you say this child was born dead? A. Yes, sir. Q. Well, whose child was that you had with you when you was living at Wagoner? A. I never had no child with me. Q. You worked at Mr. McNally's restaurant? A. I never worked at Mr. McNally's restaurant; I knew him though. Q. You are sure you never worked at his restaurant any while you lived there? A. I am not only sure, I am satisfied I did not. Q. And you did not have any child around there with you during the time you lived at Wagoner? A. No, sir. Q. Did you know Thomas Atkins? A. I don't know anything about him. Q. Where do you live now, Nancy? A. Nowata. Live in town? A. Yes, sir."

We now offer the deposition taken before Mr. Penick of Elnora Mayshack, appearing in his transcript beginning at page 350.

And thereupon ELNORA MAYSHACK, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. State your name. A. Elnora Mayshack.

Q. Where do you live?

A. I live on—I have forgotten the street name, 75 Union Avenue.

Q. In Portland, Oregon? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you lived in Portland?

A. I have lived in Portland five years in September, this coming September.

Q. Where did you come from to Portland?

A. Kansas City.

Q. How long did you live in Kansas City?

A. I lived in Kansas City about ten years.

Q. Where did you go from to Kansas City?

A. I came here.

Q. When you moved to Kansas City——

A. I came from Oklahoma.

Q. What place in Oklahoma? A. Bartlesville.

Q. How long had you lived in Bartlesville?

A. I didn't live in Bartlesville but about three months.

Q. Where did you come to Bartlesville from?

A. From Brushy Creek.

Q. Where is Brushy Creek?

A. It is in the Cherokee Nation about five miles from Choteau, west of Choteau.

Q. Near Wagoner, Oklahoma?

A. Yes, sir, I think it is about fifteen miles to Wagoner, and then I came from Wagoner up there.

Q. How long did you live on Brushy Creek?

A. Oh, I lived there about ten years.

Q. Where were you living at the time of the payment made to the Creeks in 1890? A. To the Creeks?

Q. Yes. A. I was living in Wagoner.

Q. How long had you been living in Wagoner at that time?

A. Well, I don't know; I had been in Wagoner ever since they started that there railroad from Fort Smith going to Coffeyville, they hadn't gotten to Wagoner when I lived there.

Q. How old are you? A. I am 48 years old.

Q. Are you a citizen of the Cherokee Nation? A. Yes, sir.

Q. A freedman? A. Freedman, yes, sir.

Q. A freedman citizen of the Cherokee Nation?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know Nancy Atkins in 1890, and for several years before that time?

A. Several years before that time—I didn't know her quite a year before that time.

Q. About when did you get acquainted with her?

A. I got acquainted with Nancy—you know, when Lee Bennett was United States Marshal of Muskogee.

Q. Leo Bennett?

A. Yes, sir, that year that he was elected—well, Nancy came up to our house then.

Q. Where were you living at the time of the 1890 payment with reference to Nancy Atkins?

A. I was living in Wagoner.

Q. How far from where Nancy lived?

A. Nancy lived with me.

Q. Nancy lived with you at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long had she been living with you?

A. Oh, Nancy had been living with me about six months.

Q. Where were you living? A. I was living in Wagoner.

Q. Where in Wagoner?

A. Well, the streets weren't numbered then but I can tell you if you have ever been to Wagoner.

Q. Do you remember the Davis Jones store?

A. Yes; I live right between Davis Jones' store and Kid's blacksmith shop.

Q. What kind of a house?

A. The house has got a porch running this way, and rock on it, for a side walk, you know, and it was painted yellow.

Q. That was the house you lived in?

A. That was the house I lived in.

Q. How many rooms?

A. Four up stairs and two down stairs, and it had a little side room outside to it where we had some beds for people to sleep in.

Q. Did Nancy have a child during the time that she was living in that house with you?

A. She didn't have the child in my house, she had the child right across between the two tracks.

Q. Dod you remember her having the child?

A. Yes, sir, I was there when she had the child.

Q. Was that before or after she lived with you?

A. She was living with me at the time, but I didn't have room for her to be there sick, and they rented a tent for her and she was in the tent.

Q. Were you there when the child was born?

A. Yes, sir, four of us there.

Q. How long did it live?

A. It was born in the morning and died in the afternoon.

Q. How long was that before this payment was made?

A. Well, I really don't know.

Q. Was it before the payment was made or after?

A. Well, she got one payment after that, and she got a payment before this baby was born.

Q. How long before that baby was born had you known Nancy? A. About a year.

Q. Had she had any other child during that time?

A. No, sir. Well, I say no—she said she hadn't; she was a school girl when she got—she just left the high school at Muskogee when she came to our house.

Q. She told you she had had no other child?

A. Yes, sir, she said that was her first.

Q. How long after that child was born, did you know Nancy?

A. Four years; she followed me around for four years.

Q. Did she live in the house with you after that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember the year that you left Wagoner?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. How long did you live in Wagoner, and did Nancy live there with you, after that child was born?

A. Nancy lived with me after that child was born, about two years.

Q. In Wagoner? A. In Wagoner, yes, sir.

Q. Then, where did you go?

A. I went to Brushy Creek—you see, I wasn't in the Creek Nation, and I had to go in my own country.

Q. Did you have an allotment over there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On Brushy Creek? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you move on your allotment? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What do you mean by allotment?

A. You mean you go and take up your homestead, you know, and move on it.

Q. You had no deed to it? A. No, sir; no, sir.

Q. How long after you left Wagoner and went to Brushy Creek was it that Nancy came to Brushy Creek.

A. Nancy went with me—Nancy moved with me.

Q. How long did she stay on Brushy Creek?

A. Oh, I stayed on Brushy Creek ten years but Nancy didn't stay with me all the time.

Q. How long did she stay with you?

A. She stayed with me about a year, I guess. Off and on, Nancy was with me four years—off and on.

Q. How long between times would you see her after she quit staying with you on Brushy Creek?

A. Oh, I would see her every three months, or every two months.

Q. Was there ever a period longer than three months that you wouldn't see her?

A. No, sir, because I would go to town every week.

Q. Can you say positively whether she had any child other than the one you testified about? A. No, sir.

Q. Before you last saw her? A. No, sir; no, sir.

Q. You say she did not?

A. No, sir, she did not, up to the time I knew her and she was with me.

Q. That was how long ago?

A. From the last time I seen Nancy?

Q. Yes.

A. I guess it has been about—— Oh, I don't know, it had been about thirteen years, I expect, since I have seen Nancy.

Q. Did any boy every live with Nancy during the time that you knew her? A. No, sir.

Q. Where was that baby buried?

A. Why, I can't tell you, but I think, to the best of my remembrance, it is buried up there to the graveyard, to the side.

Q. To refresh your memory, isn't it buried—wasn't a hole dug back of Davis Jones' store, and it was buried there?

A. I don't know, I wouldn't say.

Q. But you do know that it didn't live but just a few hours?

A. No, it didn't live but a few hours. Monday Barnett buried it—I don't know where he buried it.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Are you related in any way to Nancy Atkins?

A. No, sir.

Q. How long did you say it was after the first payment, or before this second payment you referred to, that this child was born?

A. I really can't tell you for I really don't just know but it wasn't very overly long.

Q. Long what? Before the second payment?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, what do you mean by overly?

A. Well, it wasn't more than a couple of years.

Q. About two years, then before this last payment?

A. The last payment that I know she got money that the Creeks paid.

Q. That this child was born and died? A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. German: We now offer the deposition of Micco Harjo, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript, beginning at page 303.

And thereupon, MICCO HARJO being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name and residence?

A. I will be thirty-two years old the 26th day of July.

Q. Are you a Citizen of the Creek Nation of Indians?

A. I am a citizen but I didn't get any land.

Q. How long have you lived in Portland?

A. I have been in Portland—I came to Portland two years ago last September.

Q. Where did you live prior to coming to Portland?

A. Nowata, Oklahoma.

Q. How long did you live in Nowata?

A. Between seven and eight years.

Q. Where did you live prior to that time?

A. In Sioux County, Nebraska.

Q. Where were you born?

A. I was born in the Territory.

Q. What place?

A. Born there about twenty-six miles southwest of Muskogee.

Q. The Creek Nation? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Micco, do you know Nancy Atkins? A. I do.

Q. How long have you known her?

A. I have known Nancy for the last ten or twelve years.

Q. Are you the Micco Harjo first appointed guardian of Nancy Atkins, an incompetent? A. I am.

Q. At the time of that appointment where was Nancy living? A. With me.

Q. Are you a married man? A. I am.

Q. You had a home in Nowata? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Nancy lived in your home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Nancy Atkins ever make any statement to you in reference to the birth of a child at Wagoner? A. She did.

Q. Tell me in your own way the conversation that you had with her and the conversation you had with other people living up to the—— What statement did she make to you with reference to this child?

A. She first told me it was a girl and then she said it was a boy.

Q. About when was it you first had a conversation with her about this child?

A. Well, it was in—— Let me see. It was in 1912, I believe, as near as I can remember.

Q. What was the occasion for that conversation?

A. Well, one man by the name of Claude Welden, from Wagoner, came up to see her and I asked him what his business was, and at that time she was out at my mother-in-law's, seven miles from town, and he told me what his business was and I wouldn't let him talk to her, and then he went back to Wagoner and shortly he came back again and I talked to Nancy about it myself and then she told me it was a girl, and then she said it was a boy, and then this man named White came up to see me about it, and he told me he had all evidence to show me that this child was a boy.

Q. Prior to the time that White came to see you, had Nancy told you the child was a boy?

A. As I told you before, she said it was a girl and then said it was a boy.

Q. When did she say it was a boy in reference to the time that White saw you?

A. Well, she said that when White came up just a minute —when Hammett; Ellis Hammett and others came up and Ellis Childers—— They wanted to take a lease and I told them I couldn't make a lease, and he said: "The Damn lease you gave us is no good and you can get another lease," and I talked to the Field District Clerk, Van Jones, and Jones told me not to have nothing to do with them; and they said, well they went up and looked over the records and this guardianship was irregular in form and they were going to take a lease from Nancy, and I said: "If you take a lease from Nancy you will take it at your own risk," and they taken it and taken a lease from Nancy and give her a check for fifty ($50.00) dollars on a bank in Coweta; and after that White came and said the other lease was no good, and he said: "I want a lease from Nancy at the Campbell Hotel at Nowata, on Cherokee Street," and I talked to him a long time out in front on a bench and he said: "Now, you can make this lease and I will bear all expenses, and I can absolutely prove it was Nancy's child," and he said: "I want to go down and talk to Nancy again"—— "Can't I talk to her?" and I said: "Yes, you can;" and it was about ten o'clock in the morning and we went down to my home and he talked to her; talked to her about living in Wagoner and such things as that, and he said: "Go and talk to the Judge," and I talked to the Judge and he induced me to make a lease, so we made a lease through the Probate Court at Nowata.

By Mr. Blakeney: You are getting a lot of things in there that are not responsive to any question.

Q. Now, Micco, in reference to the time Hammett came up there to get a lease from Nancy Atkins, when was it that Nancy told you this was a boy? Was it before or after that?

A. It was before and after too.

Q. Well, when did she first tell you it was a girl?

A. Well, the first time I talked with her about it.

Q. Then, when did she tell you it was a boy?

A. That was after Hammett was there.

Q. That is what I was asking you and you probably didn't understand it. In the meantime, between the time she had told you it was a girl and told you it was a boy, had you talked to her about the matter?

A. Yes, sir, I talked to her and you know she was a habitual drunkard. She got drunk one day and she cussed me out about it and she told me the child was a girl and she wouldn't have anything to do with it, and then she turned around and told me it was a boy.

Q. What was the occasion of her telling you it was a boy?

A. Because she wanted money and got money out of it.

Q. How do you know?

A. Because I know she always wanted me to give her money.

Q. What had been said to her, if anything, about it being a boy at that time? A. What had been said to her?

Q. Yes?

A. Said if the child was a boy could get lots of money out of it.

Q. Who came up to get a lease?

A. Markham Hammett and J. P. White.

Q. Did you talk to her about the effect of the child being a boy? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. What did you say to her?

A. I said, if your child is a boy, you probably can some day get lots of money out of it.

Q. Up to that time, had she told you it was a boy?

A. As I said, she told me once and then denied it and said it was a girl.

Q. Which did she first tell you it was?

A. Told me it was a girl.

Q. Then when, in reference to the conversations, in reference to the facts of the child being a boy, was it that she first told you it was a boy?

A. I don't just exactly understand you.

Q. Did she ever tell you that it was a boy prior to the time you told her that if it was a boy she could get some money out of it? A. No, sir.

Q. It was after that she first told you that it was a boy?

A. It was after, yes, sir.

Q. Then later on you say that she got drunk?

A. Yes, sir, she got drunk frequently.

Q. And while drunk she made some statements to you in reference to this child? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was that statement?

A. Well, she told me she wasn't going to have a damn thing to do with it at all, one way or the other, she wasn't going to be bothered with it at all.

Q. Why did she say that?

A. Because she said she didn't believe she could get anything out of it and she would be beat out of it.

Q. Why did she say she wouldn't get anything out of it?

A. She said that—— She figured she would be beat some way, she might die and she didn't want to leave nothing anybody.

Q. In that conversation you are now testifying about, did she say anything in reference to whether the child was a boy or girl? A. Just as I said a while ago she said——

Q. At the time she got drunk and cussed you out, and said she wouldn't have anything more to do with it?

A. Well, she said it was a girl.

Q. When you first talked to Nancy Atkins about this child, when she told you it was a girl, did she say anything in reference to how long the child lived? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did she say?

A. She told me the child was born dead.

Q. Did she tell you where it was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where? A. At Wagoner in a tent.

Q. Where, how is that? Where with reference to what place in the City?

A. Well, she said across the railroad there in some tent.

Q. Where did she say it was buried?

A. Well she said Monday Barney buried the child out there some place.

Q. Did she ever undertake to tell you—— Did she ever tell you at any subsequent time anything about the time of the death of the child?

A. Yes, about the time of the death of the child, she couldn't remember, she said how long it had been only by the railroad coming to Wagoner.

Q. I mean this, did she always tell you that the child died in infancy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did she say she died, did she say?

A. Well, she told me it was about the time that the railroad was coming to Wagoner, or something like that.

Q. The M. K. & T.? A. The Missouri Pacific.

Q. The Missouri Pacific Railroad? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was after she had said that it was a boy, after the conversation you had had with her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Micco, you were appointed official guardian of Nancy Atkins, were you not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. At whose instance were you appointed Guardian?

A. At whose instance?

Q. Yes? A. Well, by the Agent at Nowata.

Q. Who?

A. I talked with the Agent at Nowata about it.

Q. What oil man talked with you about it?

A. Well, when I was appointed guardian for Nancy there was nothing in sight. Nancy was living with me and there was nothing to the oil at that time when I was appointed guardian.

Q. Well, you later made a lease on this land to J. B. White, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When you first talked to Mr. White about it—about this land, did you tell him that Nancy Atkins claimed that the child was a girl?

A. Mr. White first talked to me, Mr. White first called me up himself.

Q. What did you say to him in that conversation in reference to the child?

A. He asked me if I had made a lease on an allotment of Thomas Atkins and I told him yes, he says: "Who to?" and I told him H. U. Bartlett, and he says: "There is nothing on record and I will be up to see you," so he came up.

Q. Then did you talk to him about the child?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you tell him—— What did you tell him if anything about the child?

A. Well, we had a conversation about the child and I told him what Nancy said, and he told me there was no question but what it was Nancy's child.

Q. You told him what Nancy told you, what was that?

A. Well, I told him Nancy told me the child was a girl.

Q. After that, what did he say to you?

A. Well, he said he had evidence that the child was a boy.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Micco, when was the first time that Nancy told you that she had had a child? A. The first time she told me?

Q. Yes?

A. That was prior to the time these fellows came up to see me about the lease.

Q. About how long ago?

A. Well, I can't just exactly tell you how long it has been.

Q. Were you appointed guardian for her at that time?

A. I was, yes, sir.

Q. When you were appointed guardian had you heard anything about her having a child?

A. When I was appointed guardian?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't know, at the time you was appointed guardian, that Nancy claimed that she had had a child?

A. No, sir.

Q. When these parties came up to talk to Nancy about the lease, I believe you said that at first the first time you didn't let them see her? A. I did not.

Q. You talked to her about it, did you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she told you she had had a child?

A. Yes, she did.

Q. And it was a girl child? A. Yes.

Q. And it had been born dead? A. She did.

Q. Did she tell you when it was born?

A. Just as I said, she told me about the time and I figured as near as I could.

Q. Well, she told you it was born and died about the time the Iron Mountain Railroad came into Wagoner?

A. Somewhere there, yes, sir.

Q. She was living in a tent? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Working in a restaurant?

A. She said she had been working in a restaurant prior to that time.

Q. Did she tell you what she named the child?

A. Did she tell me?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir.

Q. She had never named the child that you know of?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. She never, in any conversation there, that she had with you, told you the name of that child, what she named the child? A. What she had named it?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir.

Q. The child died, as you understood from her, without being named? A. That was my understanding.

Q. She never mentioned any name when she mentioned the child to you whether she told you it was a boy or girl?

A. Until after this came up.

Q. What did she say after it came up?

A. Well, she said after it came up, just as I formerly said, it was a girl and then said it was a boy, and then said it was Tommy Atkins.

Q. She said it was Tommy Atkins?

A. She said that her—she said that was her father's name, I believe, or something like that.

Q. To get the matter straight as to the parties came to see you about the lease, you talked to—you went out then, and talked to Minnie and told Minnie—talked to Nancy and told Nancy about it, and Nancy told you that she had had a child that was a girl; had been born dead and it was born about the time that the Iron Mountain Railroad was built into Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Later on you say some other parties came back to see you? A. Yes, sir, they did.

Q. Who was the next parties that came?

A. The next party that came—what party do you have reference to now?

Q. The second party that came. The first parties that came to you was named who? A. Claude Weldon.

Q. He came and talked to you? A. Yes.

Q. And you wouldn't let him see Nancy?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. And then you talked to Nancy yourself? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Nancy told you she had had a female child born dead, as I stated? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then somebody else came to you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was it? A. The second person?

Q. Yes?

A. Let's get that straight now. The first party that got the lease was H. U. Bartlett.

Q. Not the first party that got the lease but the first party who came to see you about the lease.

A. The first party was Claude Weldon.

Q. Who was the second party who came to see you?

A. Ellis Hammett and Ellis Childers and another fellow, I don't know his name.

Q. The first time that you knew Minnie had a child was when Claude Weldon talked to you about it?

A. I don't know Minnie at all.

Q. I mean Nancy; the first time that you knew Nancy had a child was when Claude Weldon talked to you about it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When Tommy came, did you let them go out to see her?

A. When they came, they hung around for a half a day, and they finally said they wanted to see Nancy, and I told them to go ahead and see her. They said they were going to take a lease from her.

Q. You went out to see Nancy then, did you?

A. She was at my house at that time.

Q. You saw her after they got through seeing her?

A. I did.

Q. And then Nancy told you the child was a boy?

A. She told me it was a boy.

Q. Did she tell you why she was claiming it was a boy?

A. She didn't say exactly why but I knew why.

Q. What did she say to you?

A. Well, she said she was going to get some money out of it.

Q. Did she say who she was going to get money from?
A. She didn't name any parties.
Q. Or how much she was going to get?
A. She didn't say.
Q. Did she say how much she was to get?
A. Fifty.
Q. Do you know whether that check was paid or not?
A. Yes, sir, it was paid to Nancy in person.
Q. Which was the next party that you saw?
A. The next party that came?
Q. Yes? A. J. P. White.
Q. What did he do? A. He'd taken a lease.
Q. From whom—you or Nancy? A. From me.
Q. What did he pay you?

A. At the time he'd taken the lease, he didn't pay me anything.

Q. What did he agree to pay you?

A. He agreed to take the thing through court and prove it was Nancy's child; he came back and told us it was a complicated lease and he would go through court and fight it to a finish.

Q. Who else came to get a lease? A. John Markham.
Q. Did he get a lease? A. No, sir.
Q. Who came next? A. I can't tell you how many came.
Q. Frank Long?
A. Frank Long didn't come to Nowata to see me.
Q. Anybody representing Page come?
A. Not to Nowata.
Q. Where did they come?

A. The only people I saw representing Mr. Page at Tulsa, the Gem Oil Company, was in Portland.

Q. Portland? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you see them—any representatives of Page in Portland?

A. I think it was a year ago last summer as near as I can remember.

Q. Who did you see? A. A Mr. Long of Tulsa.
Q. Anybody else?

A. Well, I suppose the gentleman standing there was representing some people through Mrs. Atkins.

Q. You saw Mr. Hanford? A. I saw Mr. Hanford.
Q. Who else did you see in connection with this matter?
A. Well, I saw Mr. Bartlett.
Q. When did you see him?
A. At the same time practically.

Q. When was it—about July of 1914? A. Well, I don't remember the month.

Q. Summer time? A. It was in the summer, yes.

Q. It was the time that Bartlett and Sadie James was going on through? A. I didn't see Sadie James.

Q. You heard she was here?

A. I heard she was here with them; I heard Mr. Robinson was here, or coming, or something.

Q. You heard Mr. Bartlett and Sadie James were here?

A. Yes, sir, I saw Mr. Bartlett—he talked to me.

Q. You told Bartlett about this matter just as you told it here?

A. Yes, sir, I talked to Mr. Bartlett at the Portland Hotel.

Q. If I understand now, Bartlett talked to you in detail about the matter and you told Bartlett just how the Nancy Atkins claim arose in about the language that you have told it here?

A. Yes, sir; then you asked me about Mr. White, at the time he had taken the lease—he didn't pay me any money. Several months after that, there was eighty paid.

Q. Who paid that? A. Mr. White.

Q. Did you report that as money that was received by you as guardian? A. Did I report it?

Q. Yes? A. I made my report, yes, sir.

Q. Including that in it?

A. Yes, sir, sure, but the money in the meanwhile was in escrow in the bank.

Q. It was never actually paid you then?

A. Sure, I got the money afterwards.

Q. Did you receive any money from anybody else, Micco?

A. On this proposition?

Q. Yes, sir? A. For Nancy?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever receive any money from anybody, for anything, in connection with this Tommy Atkins claim?

A. Did I receive any money?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, I was down at Tulsa one time, and Mr. Bartlett give me $25.00 but you couldn't say it was in the Tommy Atkins claim. I told him that I needed some money and I wanted to get some money from him, and he give me a check for $25.00.

Q. Did anybody else give you any money?

A. Anybody else?

Q. Yes? A. Not that I recall at the present.

Q. Did Frank Long ever give you any?

A. No, sir, he didn't.

Q. No representive of Page ever gave you any?

A. No, sir, they asked me to make a deposit but I didn't make it.

Q. Now, Micco, just to straighten this matter in my mind and see if I understand it rightly, Nancy had told you this was a girl baby when you first talked to her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Afterwards White came down and he told you he could establish the fact that it was a boy baby, and if he did establish that fact, that he could get a large amount of money for Nancy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you talked to Nancy about it, didn't you?

A. He went out and talked to her first himself, and then I went out and talked to her.

Q. Didn't you tell Nancy what White had said and that she had better stand pat—that it was a boy baby? A. I did.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Micco, do you know anything about suit that was started in the State Court of Creek County to quiet in Nancy Atkins to this land? A. Do I know about a suit?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, I heard the suit was filed but I wasn't there.

Q. Did you know that suit was filed in—was commenced in your name as Micco T. Harjo, Guardian of Nancy Atkins?

A. I know that White had taken the lease that way.

Q. You never participated in that case at all?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever authorize it to be brought?

A. As guardian?

Q. As guardian? A. Yes, sir, as guardian.

Q. You were not present at any of the proceedings of that case that were had, were you?

A. No, sir, they told me when I came West they would notify me but I didn't get any notice.

Q. You don't know anything of the witnesses who testified? A. No, sir, I didn't; you see I was here.

Q. Did Nancy Atkins ever tell you any of the people who were with her at the time her baby was born? A. She did.

Q. Who did she tell you?

A. She told me a long time, that if she could find one Elnora Williams that she could establish the claim.

Q. Did she tell you that Elnora Williams was with her at the time the child was born? A. Yes, sir, she did.

Q. And knew of the facts?

A. Yes, sir. This woman, you know here is known as Elnora Mayshack.

Q. At the present time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She is a resident of Portland? A. Yes, sir, Portland.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Micco, have any threats been made to you growing out of the—of your participation in the Nancy Atkins claim?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. State what?

A. Well, Will Robinson, Ellis Hammett and others told me they would put me in the penitentiary.

Q. What did Ellis Hammett tell you, if anything?

A. He didn't tell me personally; they left word, and they told the deputy sheriff of Montgomery County, Kansas, that other business in Coffeyville—that I had gotten great sums of money for Nancy Atkins and they were there to protect her, and when I went away they kidnapped her and took her to Muskogee, and I went to the Missouri Pacific to stop them and they had gone.

Q. When you came to Portland, did you believe they were going to prosecute you for having proceeded—for having participated in the way you say you did in this claim of Nancy Atkins? A. Well, I looked for them to.

Q. You stated to me this morning that in the event you told the truth about this, that you wanted to be protected from prosecution? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Nancy Atkins, you say, was living with you at the time you told her to make a claim that this boy was her son?

A. You say she was living with me—yes, sir; I had taken care of her before I was married because I kept house and she lived with me.

Recross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. Micco, isn't it a fact that you left that country because—when did you leave that country?

A. When did I leave there?

Q. Yes?

A. Left there in August, I left there last August two years ago.

Q. August two years ago? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Didn't Nancy come with you? A. No, sir.

Q. Where did you leave her when you left?

A. She was in Coffeyville.

Witness dismissed.

A. Her house was—— Where was the house?

Q. Yes, which side of the railroad track?

A. On the west side.

Q. There are two railroad tracks there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Two railroads running through Wagoner?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. The Katy and the Iron Mountain?

A. Yes, sir, the Iron Mountain hadn't gone past the house yet but the Katy was there.

Q. It was west of the Katy track? A. Yes.

Q. Where was it with reference to where they were building the Iron Mountain track? A. West of that.

Q. Very far? A. No, sir, not very far.

Q. Not very far? A. No, sir.

Q. About how far?

A. I couldn't tell, it wasn't so very far, but I can't tell the feet you know.

Q. About how far from where the Katy track and the Iron Mountain tracks cross each other?

A. Pretty good piece from where the crossing is.

Q. Was it north or south of where they crossed?

A. It was north.

Q. It was north? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know a woman named Birney? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was her given name? A. Betty.

Q. How far did she live from where Elnora Williams lived? A. She lived back behind Elnora Williams.

Q. Which direction from the railroad?

A. West, still west.

Q. Still west, was she still further west than Elnora?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how far?

A. I reckon about two blocks.

Q. Were there any stores close there? A. Store?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whose? A. Mr. Davis's and Jones.

Q. Davis and Jones' store? A. Yes, sir.

Q. On the west side of the track?

A. Yes, on the west side of the track but they were below this.

Q. Was there a hotel there known as the Barnard hotel?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which side of the track was it on?

A. The west side.

Q. Now, what part of Elnora Williams house was it that this child was born in?

A. Down—down stairs in the—you know, they had a story—what we call a story and a half house.

Q. Yes?

A. And it was upstairs and a little shed room to the house on each side. Well, I think it was on the south side.

Q. Did you know Nancy after that pretty well?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she stay around Wagoner very long?

A. Yes, sir, she [] around there a long time; about 6 or 7 years, off and on.

Q. In one of those shed rooms? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She was sent to the penitentiary while you were there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And came back? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And then, did she continue to live in Wagoner?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how long after that?

A. About 6 or 7 years.

Q. Six or seven years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then where did she go to? A. She went to Nowata.

Q. Now, while she lived in Wagoner, during the time that you knew her in Wagoner, what—would you see her very often? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did you live? A. I live at Wagoner.

Q. I mean, where did you live with reference to where she lived?

A. Well, Nancy lived with me; Nancy stayed with me part of the time.

Q. Part of the time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was your house from Elnora Williams?

A. Oh, Elnora Williams was gone from there a long time ago. My house was south of Elnora Williams.

Q. South? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how far?

A. Five, or six, or seven blocks—a way down the street.

Q. In going to your work, or in going around, would you see Nancy very often when she was not living with you?

A. Yes, sir, quite often.

Q. Where else did she live during those years that you knew her there, besides at your house?

A. Well, sometimes she would stay where she worked, in the servant's room, there at the Barnard hotel.

Q. Barnard hotel? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She worked there some?

A. Yes, sir, and she worked at the McNally hotel, and she worked at—I forget the other people's name that she worked for; all the hotels there, around there.

Q. What [] Nancy's habits as to running around much?

A. Well, she would go wherever she wanted to whenever she would get ready.

Q. Did she visit around you colored people a good deal or not?

A. Yes, sir, she stayed pretty nigh all the time around among us colored people.

Q. Now, during the time that you knew Nancy there, state whether or not she had any other children besides this one that you have told about? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know about her being in family way before she had that child? A. No, sir.

Q. The child you told about? A. Sir?

Q. The child you told? A. That I knew about it?

Q. Yes?

A. Yes, sir, when she came to Wagoner she was.

Q. In that condition, was she?

A. Yes, sir, in that condition.

Q. About how long after she came there was it that she had this child?

A. I don't know, sir, now, about how long.

Q. Was the child with—were you present at the birth of the child she was carrying when she came to Wagoner?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you see Nancy in the courtroom now?

A. Yes, sir. There she sits right over there.

Q. Right here by Judge Maxey?

A. Right behind lawyer Maxey.

Q. Nancy, you say, stayed at your house a while?

Cross Examination by Mr. Maxey.

Q. How old do you say you were? A. 45 years old.

Q. When was this child born?

A. I don't know the day it was born.

Q. What? A I don't know the date it was born.

Q. Well, what year?

A. I think it was in '89; the year of '89.

Q. How old was you then?
A. I was 18 or 19 years old.
Q. You was 18 or 19 when the child was born?
A. Yes, sir.

A. At Elnora Williams.
Q. How came you to be there?
A. My mother was a mid-wife and I went with her.
Q. Who else was there? A. Elnora Wiliams.
Q. Anyone else? A. Not as I know of.
Q. Where did you live at that time? A. At Wagoner.
Q. Where abouts?
A. South of Elnora Williams.
Q. How long had you lived there prior to that time?
A. About a year.

Q. What other colored people lived in Wagoner at that time?

A. Betsy Birney and my sister Maudie Vann, and Patsy Overton, and Henry Anderson, and Grant Tucker, and that is about all I could think of now; very few was—wasn't so many colored people there, then.

Q. Wasn't many colored people nor many white people there at that time? A. No, sir.

Q. You say this child was born dead? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Are you sure of that? A. Yes, sir.
Q. What time of the day or night was it born?

A. Well, I don't know, it was in the night but I never paid no attention.

Q. In the night, was it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you and your mother and Elnora Williams were there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who has been talking to you about what your testimony would be? A. Nobody.

Q. Nobody at all? A. No, sir.
Q. Nobody hasn't ever talked to you about it?
A. No, sir, no one—some men talked to me last night.
Q. That the first time any one ever talked to you?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. You have testified before in this case, haven't you?
A. Yes, sir, not here but in Sapulpa.
Q. Well, now, hasn't anybody talked to you since then?
A. No, sir.
Q. Until last night? A. No, sir.
Q. Who talked to you last night?
A. I don't know the lawyer's name.
Q. Where were you? A. Here in the Court Room.
Q. Here in this building? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you didn't talk to anybody from the time you testified in Sapulpa in the trial at that case until last night?

A. No, sir.

Q. Didn't talk to anybody? A. No, sir.

Q. Anybody been to your house to talk to you?

A. No, sir.

Q. Betty Mann ever been to your house to talk to you?

A. She was to my house before I went to Sapulpa.

Q. Well, wasn't she there afterwards?

A. Yes, sir,—— No, sir.

Q. Who was with her when she was at your house before you went to Sapulpa? A. There was a white man.

Q. Who else? A. Nancy.

Q. Was this white man Mr. Bartlett? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When Nancy and Mr. Bartlett came there to fix up what your testimony was to be, didn't you—— A. No, sir.

Q. You was to testify that it was a girl? A. No, sir.

Q. And that it was born dead?

A. No, sir, I told him when he come in and told me what his business was, asked me didn't Nancy have a child to born it in Wagoner. I told him yes, sir, she had a child borned in Wagoner and it was a girl and my mother waited on her. He never told me anything.

Q. What did he tell you?

A. Well, he said he would subpoena me. Nancy brought him there. She said they said I had a boy by the name of Tommy Atkins and you know I didn't.

Q. You fixed up what your testimony was to be, you was to testify that it was a girl? A. No, it was a girl.

Q. And it was born at Elnora Williams, and it was born dead, and you went up to Sapulpa and testified to that, didn't you? A. Yes, sir I did because it was the truth.

Q. That is as near the truth as you told? A. Sir?

Q. Is that as near the truth as you ever told?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: I object to that as argumentative.

The Court: Well, she says yes, sir.

Q. Did they have a funeral for that child?

A. No, sir, it was born dead.

The Court: Born dead?

A. Yes, sir, a little infant.

The Court: Do you know where it was buried?

A. No, sir.

Q. Now, you said something about the railroad being built in there, which railroad are you speaking of, the one east of Wagoner or west? A. The one east of Wagoner?

Q. Yes, the Iron Mountain?

A I am talking about the Iron Mountain.

Q. Well, the Iron Mountain was built into Wagoner and then it didn't go any further for a year or two? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, now, which was it? A. The Iron Mountain.

Q. Was that built in east of Wagoner or west of Wagoner when the child was born? A. West.

Q. Building the road from Wagoner on to Claremore?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Had they been running cars over it up to that time?

A No, sir.

Q. How much of it was built?

A. Well, it was small place, just tents there.

Q. Well,I say how much of the road was built?

A. Well, I think the road was as far as—about a half a mile above where Wagoner is now.

Q. That is north or west?

A. Yes, sir, west. I think it was about that far up above where Wagoner is.

Q. Now, how long had the road east of Wagoner been built at that time?

A. Oh, I don't know sir, how long, they was building on it when we moved there.

Q. Building on it when you moved there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you move there?

A. A year I reckon, about a year before that baby was born.

Q. And what year do you say the baby was born?

A. 1889.

Q. What time in the year?

A. I think it was in the fall.

Q. What month?

A. I don't know, I don't know exactly.

Q. Don't you know that Nancy was here in Muskogee in 1889 in school?

A. Well, she just left school, run off from school and come to Wagoner.

Q. Now, you testified in that case at Sapulpa, didn't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Didn't you testify: "She gave birth to a child in 1890, it was a female and born dead?" A. That was it, yes, sir.

Q. Well, now, which is right now, now you say 1889?

A. 1890, that is what I mean.

Q. That is what you mean? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Why did you say 1889 there?

A. Well, I was just studying. I forget, it has been so long and I never talked over.

Q. Well, now, which do you say now? Was it 1889 or 1890? A. 1890.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Eliza, you say that Nancy lived with you some, now, when was it she lived with you some with reference to the time that she left Wagoner?

A. She left Wagoner what time—Nancy was staying with me when she left Wagoner to go to Nowata; she told me she was going to Nowata.

Q. Now, how long had she lived with you?

A. About a year or 6 months, I reckon; we had been together very nigh all the time while Nancy was in town.

Q. I didn't ask you one question I aimed to a while ago. Did she have any boy she carried around with her and took care of around there?

A. Betsy Birney had a little boy name of Joe.

Q. Name of Joe? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About what age was that boy?

A. A little bit of boy.

Q. About how old was that boy when Nancy left town?

A. The boy wasn't in town when Nancy left town.

Q. He had moved out? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was it with reference with the time Nancy was sent to the penitentiary that she had led this boy around?

A. Well, it was before she was sent to the penitentiary.

Q. It was? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, about what age was that boy at that time?

A. I don't know, sir; I guess the boy was about three or four years old—a small boy.

Q. A small boy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know any boy in Wagoner named Thomas Atkins? A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. Was there any colored boy there by that name?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know all the colored people there pretty well?

A. Yes, sir, I knowed all of them.

Q. And you knew the Indian people there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you say there were not a great many people in Wagoner there at that time?

A. No, sir, there wasn't and I knowed them Indian people, too.

Q. Did you know of Minnie's children Charlie and Harvey, ever being in Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When was that?

A. That was away after Nancy's child was born; I disremember just what year it was.

Q. You don't remember what year it was? A. No, sir.

Q. You say it was way after Nancy's child was born?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Nancy have anything to do with these two little boys?

A. Yes, sir; Minnie went off and left the children and Nancy kept the children a while.

Q. How long did Nancy keep them?

A. I don't know how long she kept them.

Q. Did she have them with her when Nancy was living with you? A. No, sir, she didn't.

Recross Examination by Mr. Maxey.

Q. How large did you say this boy was when Nancy was sent to the Detroit? A. Betsy's boy?

Q. No, this boy that you say was running around there with her? A. Well, I say, Betsy's boy, Joe Birney.

Q. Yes?

A. Well, I say I guess he was 3 or 4 years old; he was a small boy.

Q. You testified—who did you testify—who did you say this boy belonged to? A. Betsy Birney.

Q. You testified before at Sapulpa——

A. Della Snow was a white woman and had a little boy, yes, but he didn't ask me——

Q. You stated there that she down and said it was not hers; not she was caring for it and that it belonged to a white woman by the name of Della Snow who had a boy about 4 years old?

A. You didn't ask about Della Snow. She had a boy—she was a white woman, and the little boy used to follow Nancy.

The Court.

Q. How long after Nancy's baby was born was it that she was sent to the penitentiary?

A. I think it was a year, or two years, I don't know. I can't——

Q. It was between the time that her baby was born and the time that she went to the pentitentiary that she had Betsy's little boy running around with her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, do you know where she came from when she came to Wagoner? A. Do you mean Nancy?

Q. Yes? A. Yes, sir, she came from Muskogee.

Q. From Muskogee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What had she been doing down here?

A. She had been going to school here; she lived here. Her folks were here.

Q. And you say she was that way with the boy—with the child when she came up there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And how long was she there, about, before the child was born?

A. I don't know just exactly how long; it wasn't long. It was showing when she came; might have been a few months and it might have been longer than that.

Q. And she was about how old then? A. Who?

Q. Nancy?

A. I don't know; I don't know how old she was. She was a young girl.

Q. Young girl? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Had you ever known her before?

A. Yes, sir; she was a girl when I was a girl. I used to come here and sell berries with my mother and see her.

Q. Well, she was about your age, or older, or younger?

A. Well, I guess she was about my age; might have been a little younger than I was.

Q. How old were you when she came there with that child?

A. I was about 18 or 19. I was about 18 years old.

Q. Now, after she came there—how long was she at the penitentiary? A. I think she was there 8 months.

Q. And then did she come right back to Wagoner?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And live there, then, until she left for Nowata?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You saw her right along every day, then, until she left for Nowata? A. Not every day, once in a——

Q. Well, once in every week? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Once a week?

A. Yes, sir, and then she went to Fort Smith, you know, and she stayed there.

Q. How long did she stay there? A. I think 8 months.

Q. Eight months?

A. Yes, sir, I didn't see her then.

Q. Now, did you see her just before she went away to Fort Smith? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And did you see her just after she came back?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When she went away to Fort Smith, so far as you know, she was not in a family way, was she?

A. No, sir, not so far as I know.

Q. And when she came back she was not that way?

A. No, sir.

Q. And all the time you knew her there, after the child was born dead, until she went to Nowata, you saw her every week or so, and sometimes every day except the time that she was at Fort Smith, is that true? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she didn't have any child during that time but the dead child?

A. She didn't—she didn't have any child during that time but the dead child.

Q. You are sure of that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Can't be mistaken? A. No, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What was the given name of this Birney child?

A. Joe Birney.

Q. Joe? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she go to the penitentiary at Detroit before or after this child was born dead? A. It was after.

Q. It was after? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: In this connection, Your Honor, we offer as Government's Exhibit A-104, a certified copy of the sentence of the court in connection with her.

The Court: Now, that just involves the date I take it.

Mr. German: That is true.

The Court: Any question about that?

Mr. Maxey: No.

Mr. Hill: I would like for that whole record to go in.

The Court: Well, alright.

Cross Examination by Mr. Maxey.

Q. It was after this child was born that Nancy was sent to the penitentiary?

A. I didn't say no exact time because I don't know.

Q. Well, about how long was it?

A. Well, about a year I reckon.

Q. A year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Might have been two years?

A. Yes, sir, it might have been two years, I don't know just exactly, I only know it was after.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. Do you know who buried that child? A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know where it was buried? A. No, sir.

Mr. German: That is all.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, ANGELINE MOODY was called and sworn as a witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

The Court: What year? Do you know what year?

A. No, sir, I don't exactly know what year.
Q. Do you know about Nancy having been sent to the penitentiary? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Was it before that or after that?
A. It was before that.
Q. Was the child born before or after the Iron Mountain Railroad was built into Wagoner?

A. It was just about the time they was building. They was just carrying it through.

Q. It had been built from Fort Smith to Wagoner?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And about the time they were building it on north?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were there any tents around there?

A. Yes, sir, there was lots of them.

Q. Where did you live with reference to where Elnora Williams lived? A. I lived right up the street.

Q. How far? A. I guess about two blocks.

Q. Did you know Betsy Birney? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How came you to be present at the birth of this child?

A. How came I to be present?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, how came I to be present, I had been to work and I came by going on and Elnora Williams said Nancy was sick, and I wasn't going to come in, and she said come in and see. And when I got to the door Mandy Barnett says come here and help me.

Q. Who was Mandy Barnett?

A. Eliza Sterling's mother.

Q. Eliza Sterling who was in here a while ago?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was she a mid-wife? A. Her mother was.

Q. That is Mandy Barnett? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is her name Barney or Barnett? A. Barnett.

Q. Did that child live?

A. No, sir, it didn't live it come dead.

Q. Come dead? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was done with it? A. They buried it I guess.

Q. What?

A. They buried it around the house some place I guess.

Q. Did you see where they had buried it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where?

A. Right around the corner of the house or barn somewhere.

Q. Well, had you seen Nancy around Wagoner before the birth of that child? A. Yes, sir, I seen Nancy.

Q. About how long had she been there before the birth of the child?

A. I don't know, I met Nancy on the corner right after I went there, and she looked like there was something the matter with her, and I says Nancy what in the name of God is the matter with you, and she says I got it.

Q. She looked like she was in a family way?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, after that did you see her very often?

A. Yes, sir, seen her all the time until she left Wagoner.

Q. Where did she go to from Wagoner?

A. She went to Nowata.

Q. Then, did she come back to Wagoner to live any more?

A. No, sir.

Q. About how long after this child was born was it until she left Wagoner and went to Nowata?

A. Oh, I don't know exactly how many years. She stayed here a long while after the child was born.

Q. Do you remember when the Creek Land Office opened?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where they started to make allotments? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was Nancy living in Wagoner at the time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Still living in Wagoner, she hadn't gone to Nowata yet? A. No, sir.

Q. Was Nancy in a family way any more? A. No, sir.

Q. Prior to the time, before the time that she had this child had you seen her very much?

A. Before she had the child?

Q. Yes, for several years before?

A. Oh, yes, sir, I had seen Nancy all my life.

Q. Was she ever in a family way before that time?

A. That is the only time I know.

Q. Was she mother of any child besides that one?

A. No, sir.

Q. Was that a girl or boy? A. Girl.

Q. Aunt Angeline, did Nancy come up to your house, or come to your house in the last three or four or five years and talk about this matter in any way? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who did she come with?

A. I don't know the man's name now, but she came with a lady.

Mr. Rosser: Betty Mann?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was this matter talked about? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Whether she had a child or not? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What if anything did Nancy say about it?

A. Nancy said she came after us to go and witness for her and to tell the Court what it was. She came for me to go and say I knowed she had one child and it was born dead, and they wanted me to tell the Court that that wasn't her child they was trying to make her claim; and we went up there and told it.

Q. And that was the truth? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. German: That is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Maxey.

Q. Who was with Betty Mann and Nancy when they came to your house? A. When they came to my house?

Q. Yes? A. Nobody but Nancy and Betty.

Q. Was there a white man with them?

A. There was a white man but he didn't get to my house.

Q. When Nancy came did she tell you she wanted you to come to Sapulpa and testify she had a child and it was a girl and born dead? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you did do that? A. Sir?

Q. You did that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, how much did you get for going to Sapulpa and testifying in that case? A. How much did I get?

Q. Yes? A. I got fifteen dollars.

Q. Who paid it?

A. Some man, but the name I don't know. I know the man but I done forgot his name.

Q. Bartlett? A. I guess so.

Q. Does that sound like the name? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when was that paid to you, before you went?

A. Sir?

Q. When was the money paid to you?

A. The money was paid ten dollars after I returned back home.

Q. After you returned back home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, was any money paid before you went?

A. Yes, sir, there was five dollars.

Q. Now, Betty Mann and Nancy came there together and told you what they wanted you to testify up there?

A. Yes, she knowed we knowed just how it was.

Q. Now, you are certain you were there when the child was born? A. Certainly.

Q. Who else was there?

A. The mid-wife was there and Eliza Sterling.

Q. Mandy Barnett? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Eliza Sterling? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And yourself? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Anyone else?

A. Elnora Williams was there but she wasn't in the room.

Q. Was Elnora Williams Babe Williams wife?

A. No, she was old man Jim Williams wife.

Q. Jim Williams wife? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, what year was this? A. Sir?

Q. I say what year was it?

A. I can't remember the year at all.

Q. How long after you went to Wagoner was it?

A. Two or three years.

Q. Two or three years. And when did you go there?

A. When did I go to Wagoner?

Q. Yes?

A. I was at Wagoner about three years before this happened I reckon, I think I was.

Q. Do you remember the year that the child was born?

A. No, sir, I don't. I didn't keep no count of it.

Q. Didn't you testify at Sapulpa that you had been in Wagoner twenty-four years at that time? Was that right?

A. 24 years?

Q. Yes?

A. I know I have been in Wagoner 20 years but I haven't been there 24, I don't think.

Q. Well, that was three years ago you testified at Sapulpa wasn't it? A. Three years ago?

Q. Yes? A. It was over that.

Q. What? A. I think it was longer than that.

Q. Longer than that that you testified in Sapulpa?

A. Yes, sir, I think so.

Q. You testified then, you had been in Wagoner 24 years then, didn't you? A. 24 years?

Q. Yes?

A. I don't think I did. I think I had been there 20 years, I guess. I don't think I was there 24 years but I might have been. I haven't kept no account of the years; I don't know much about the years anyhow.

Q. Now, where did you go from to Wagoner?

A. I went from Choska.

Q. What year was it you went from Choska?

A. I don't know what year it was.

Q. Your husband sold out his place there, didn't he, when you left Choska?

A. I sold out my place, he didn't have any place.

Q. Who did you sell to? A. I sold to Mr. Lipscomb.

Q. Now, isn't it a fact that you sold out your place there to Lipscomb in 1892? A. Well, it might be.

Q. And moved to Wagoner?

A. It might be. I couldn't keep count of that, I don't know.

Q. It was after you—you didn't go to Wagoner until after you sold your place to Lipscomb? A. No, sir.

Q. And it was after you went to Wagoner that this child that you spoke of was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long after?

The Court: I didn't understand whether she means

—did you sell your place to Lipscomb before you went to Wagoner to live?

A. Yes, sir, I sold it about the time I was going to Wagoner. After I sold the place, I didn't go right then, and then after a while I went over there.

Q. And after a while you went to Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Maxey.

Q. How long after you sold to Lipscomb, was it, that you went to Wagoner?

A. I don't know exactly how long it was.

Q. What kind of a place did you have?

A. What kind of a place?

Q. Yes? A. I had a farm.

Q. Mr. Lipscomb was running a store over there in Choska at the time, wasn't he? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, it was after you sold out to Lipscomb and went to Wagoner that you say this child was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, how long was it after you went to Wagoner that the child was born?

A. I don't know exactly how long it was; about some years but I don't know how long it was.

Q. Did you not testify at——

A. I didn't keep account of it right then.

Q. You moved there—you testified at Sapulpa—"did you sell out? I sold out but didn't leave the same time. To J. P. Lipscomb? A. Yes, sir. How long after, was it? Not until next fall. It was in 1892 before you moved? I moved the next fall in November. In 1893 then, is when you moved to town, is that right? Yes, sir, I guess so." Did you testify to that?

A. Yes, I think I did, but like I tell you, I just guessed so, I can't tell you whether it was so or not. It may have been—I kept no count of the years at all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. How many days were you in Sapulpa when you went over there? A. How many days?

Q. Yes. A. I think we were there 3 days.

Q. Three days. A. Three or four days.

Q. Three or four days? A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon HENRY ANDERSON, being called as a witness on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. My name is Henry Anderson.

Q. How old are you Henry? A. I was born in 1848.

Q. Where were you born, what state?

A. I was bred and born in New Haven, Conn.—New Haven state.

Q. Did you ever live in Wagoner? A. I did, sir.

Q. Where do you live now? A. I live in Wagoner.

Q. When did you first go to Wagoner?

A. I came there about 28 years ago.

Q. That is about 15 miles north of Muskogee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you go there with reference to the time the Iron Mountain Railroad was built into Wagoner?

A. That was the time I came, sir; I was working on the Iron Mountain Railroad.

Q. You came there with a crew? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Working on that road? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What year did you say that was?

A. I don't know, sir; I don't read and write and I don't—

Q. You don't know for certain? A. No, sir.

Q. Was you in charge of the gang or was you just a laborer? A. I was straw boss.

Q. Straw boss?

A. Yes, sir. I had a gang there in the field yard.

Q. At Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many men did you have under you?

A. I have fifty men, there, sir.

Q. Now, did you get acquainted with a woman named Nancy Atkins there? A. I did, sir.

Q. Do you see her in the courtroom?

A. Yes, sir, there she sit.

Q. Behind Judge Maxey here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Had you ever known her before? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Had you ever known her before——

A. I got acquainted with her when I first came to Wagoner, yes sir.

Q. When you fitst saw her was she or not in family way?

A. Yes, sir, she was in family way.

Q. Did you know anything about whether or not a child was born to her?

A. Well, now, there was a child born there sir, and it was still born, and didn't live, and they said that it was Nancy's.

Q. Let's see. How did you come in contact with her? How did you find that out?

A. Well, one of my men laid off one morning and was staying at a woman's, named Betsy Birneys.

Q. Where was Betsy staying there?

A. At an eating house—old man Williams, west of the place, about a hundred yards.

Q. Elnora Williams' house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, go ahead.

A. The way it came up, on the morning I went up there to see what was the matter——

Q. Went up where? A. To Betsy's.

Q. Betsy Birneys? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Alright.

A. And he was digging a hole back of the closet there.

Q. Who was digging a hole?

A. Ellis Harris, the man I had working for me.

Q. That man?

A. Yes, sir. And I asked him what he was doing—what happened he didn't come to work——

Mr. Maxey: We object to that, Your Honor.

Mr. German: It is a part of the res gestae.

The Court: I am going to admit it in this case. Go ahead.

A. I asked him why he didn't come to work that morning and he said Nancy had found a baby that night and he was going to dig a hole and put it down there, and he had a little box about that long on the ground, and the top wasn't nailed on and I picked off the top and looked at it and there was a little new born baby in the box.

Q. Yes. That was dead? A. Yes.

Q. Now, did he say whose child that was?

A. He said it was Nancy's.

Mr. Maxey: We object to what the witness said to him and move to strike it.

Mr. German: It is a part of the res gestae.

The Court: Overruled; exception noted.

Q. Now, had you been seeing Nancy up to that time?

A. Yes, I had.

Q. Did you see her very often?

A. Yes, sir, I would see her sometime a half a dozen times a day around there.

Q. Where were you living? At whose house were you staying?

A. I was living in a tent right on the ground—right north of old man Williams eating house.

Q. And how far north?

A. Well, I would say about 50 yards.

Q. And you say this Birney place was west of Williams about a hundred yards? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, where had Nancy been living at that time? Where was she staying?

A. Well, sir, I can't tell you where she was staying but I thought she was in Betsy's house, or in a little tent up there.

Q. I am asking where she had been living before this child had been born? A. I don't know, sir.

Q. Don't know whose house she had been living in?

A. No, sir.

Q. But you would see her frequently? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Nearly every day? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, up to the time of the relation which you have told about, what was Nancy's condition as to being in a family way?

A. Well, she had a stomach on her—way out like all women have.

Q. Then after the day you saw this child in the box there, that this man said he was going to bury, did you see Nancy?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was she or not in a family way after that?

A. No, sir.

Q. State whether or not you saw Nancy very frequently after that?

A. Yes, sir, I saw her very frequently after that.

Q. For how long?

A. Well, for 5 or 6 years after that.

Q. Did you know about her being convicted there and sent to the penitentiary? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you a witness in that case, against her?

A. I was, sir.

Q. What was she charged with?

A. Well, we had done put the road through, then, and I made that my home and I got a job carrying the mail from the depot to the Post Office—Iron Mountain depot, and Nancy would come there and get her letters out of the office, and she came and got a letter for Betsy Birney.

Q. Without going into details, was she charged with taking some letters that didn't belong to her from the Post Office?

A. Yes, that letter she'd taken, instead of belonging to Betsy Birney it belonged to Nesho Birney.

Q. Now she had some trial over that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you a witness in the case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. After she returned from the penitentiary did you see her very often? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Until she left Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where all did she work?

A. Well, she went to work at the Barnard Hotel, it was—Her name is Mrs. Bob Bee now, but it was Fraylix then, and she went to work for her; and went back to jail for whiskey.

Q. She went back to jail for whiskey? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Over at Fort Smith on account of that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, did she live with this woman, Eliza Sterling, any?

A. I declare I don't know sir whether she did or not.

Q. Did she have any boy that ran around with her there that you knew about?

A. There was a little white boy that belonged to Della Snow.

Q. What was its given name?

A. I don't know sir what its given name was. Run around there with all them women.

Q. Well, did you know the colored folks in town?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were well acquainted in the town were you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know the Indians that lived there too?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was there any boy in town by the name of Tommy Atkins?

A Well, the only Thomas Atkins I knowed of lived out about ten miles from town.

Q. Out north of town? A. Sir?

Q. North of town or was it in which direction?

A. Northwest of town yes, sir. He was a son of Dick Atkins.

Q. Do you know who his mother was?

A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. No kin to Nancy?

A. I don't know, I think Dick and Nancy were half brothers and sisters.

Q. During the time that you knew Nancy and aside from this one case of pregnancy that you have told about, was she in a family way so far as you can tell? A. No, sir.

Q. I say was she ever in a family way as near as you can tell? A. After that?

Q. Yes? A. No, sir.

Mr. German: You may have the witness.

Cross Examination By Mr. Rosser.

Q. When was it you went to Wagoner?

A. When was it?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, it was about, it has been about twenty eight years ago when I went to Wagoner.

Q. You went there when the Iron Mountain Railroad was building in from the east from toward Fort Smith?

A. Yes, sir, we graded it from Fort Gibson to Coffeyville, and then the road stopped.

Q. You went there when they were grading from Fort Gibson to Coffeyville?

A. Yes, sir, I didn't go to Wagoner, I graded up to Wagoner.

Q. Then you moved to Wagoner when they got the road to Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You moved before they laid the steel?

A. No, sir, I moved there the first train that moved a crew.

Q. You went then on the first train that was run into Wagoner? A. Yes, sir, about the first.

Q. Except the work train that was used on construction?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, what time of year was that?

A. Along in the fall.

Q. In the fall of the year? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see Nancy about the time you went there?

A. I don't remember of seeing her about the time I went there.

Q. How long were you there before you first noticed her?

A. Well, I don't know sir. I went to Wagoner and then we moved away from Wagoner and moved about ten miles above at a place now they call Wall, and we camped there a month or two and then they brought me back to Wagoner

Q. Now, what time of the year was it that they brought you back to Wagoner?

A. They brought me back in the winter time.

Q. Then when you saw Nancy, with reference to that time, when did you see Nancy?

A Then I saw Nancy right along. Well,why, it was soon after I moved back there.

Q. How long was it after you noticed her until she had this child, this occurrence you speak of when the child was buried?

A. Well, now, that was in the summer and I think the child come along in the spring.

Q. Along in the spring, the child was born you think along in the spring? A. I think it was.

Q. So, then, the time you saw her there was in the winter?

A. Winter, yes, sir.

Q. Then, you only saw her a few months until the child was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you noticed, did you, when you first noticed her, did you notice that she was pregnant?

A. I noticed she was pregnant.

Q. When you first saw her you knew that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then, it wasn't very long after you first saw her until the child you speak of was born? A. No, sir.

Q. Couldn't have been? A. No, sir.

Q. And where was she living during that time?

A. I declare I don't know sir, I don't know where she was living no time.

Q. You noticed her?

A. I noticed her going to and fro.

Q. How many colored people were living there at that time?

A. Very few outside of the railroad men, there wasn't more than two or three families.

Q. Who were they?

A. Well, one was Eliza Barnett's mother and father.

Q. Yes? A. And the other was old man Overton.

Q. And who else?

A. And old man Williams, that old man that run the restaurant.

Q. Those three families?

A. Yes, sir. About the only three families there was there.

Q. And you got acquainted with them right away after you went there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was Nancy living with any of them?

A. I don't know sir whether she was or not.

Q. You didn't ascertain that? A. No, sir.

Q. You visited those families there?

A. Not much, sir.

Q. Well, did you visit them at all?

A. About once every week or two I would go around some of their houses.

Q. Once every week or two you would happen around their houses. Well, was Nancy living with them?

A. I don't know sir; I didn't see her at their houses.

Q. Did you ever see her at any house unless it would be some store?

A. I never seen her in any house at all but in a tent.

Q. Now, what tent was it?

A. At old man Williams I seen her in a tent and at Betty Birney's.

Q. Where was she at the time of this grave digging that you speak of?

A. I don't know sir whether she was in Betsy's house, in a tent, or in Williams' house.

Q. How far apart were those houses, those two tents; the tent that Williams had?

A. The tent that Williams had was setting right west of his house, and the tent that Betsy Birney had was east of Betsy's house; that made the tent come before you got to the house.

Q. How far apart were they, about how far?

A. Well, about seventy five yards apart.

Q. And you don't know which of those tents she was in?

A. No, sir.

Q. You understood she was there though?

A. I understood she was there.

Q. Yes, but nobody told you where?

A. No, nobody told me in the tent there.

Q. You didn't ascertain which tent? A. No, sir.

Q. Well, didn't you see anybody about there that would indicate that there was somebody sick in one or the other of the tents?

A. No, sir, I heard people talking but I didn't go in the tents.

Q. Did you hear them talking in both tents?

A. No, sir, in the tent at Betsy Birney's.

Q. Where was this grave that you speak of with reference to Betsy Birney's?

A. It was closer to Betsy Birney's than to Williams tent.

Q. And how far was it from Betsy Birney's house and tent was it?

A. Betsy Birney's tent was about five feet from her house and Williams' as far as from here to the door.

Q. From whose house? A. From his house.

Q. And that was about seventy five yards from Betsy's?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was that grave you speak of with reference to these tents? A. That was right between the two tents.

Q. Right between the two? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how far away, between?

A. About half way between the two tents; an old water closet set, the door was setting facing to the house, to the west, and he was on the east side, the back of it digging a hole.

Q. And it was about half way and you couldn't tell the house or tent it belonged to? A. No, sir.

Q. And you never did ascertain which one of these tents this child was born in if there was one? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, you say it was in the winter time that you finally moved back there to stay? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well, now, was that twenty eight years ago this last winter?

A. Well, now, I don't know sir the number of years, can't read and write and I aint positive.

Q. Well, it was the winter after they had finished the Iron Mountain Railroad through Wagoner?

A. Up to Wagoner; we had laid steel up to Wagoner, and then we went to the front ten miles and then they ordered us back to unload steel; we had a steel yard there then.

Q. Then it was in the winter that they were unloading steel there that you came back to Wagoner to unload steel?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And it was a few weeks or two or three months after that that this occurrence took place that you speak of?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You are sure of that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You don't know whether that was twenty-eight years this past winter or twenty-eight years this coming winter?

A. No, sir, but I think it was twenty-eight years ago this past winter. You can get the Iron Mountain records and look over them.

Q. Yes, I think so. And the child you think was born in the spring?

A. Yes, I think it was born in along in the spring.

Q. You noticed Nancy right after you came back and she was then in a pregnant condition so that it showed?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the child was born in the regular course of nature after that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. I don't believe you testified in this case before, did you? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, how long after the child was born was it—— You were a witness against Nancy when she was sent away?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When she was sent off for this mail business?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long after this occurrence of the grave digging was it that she was sent away?

A. That was a year or such a matter.

Q. A year or such a matter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you work laying steel after you came back there before you went to carrying the mail from the depot to the post office? A. Well, I don't know, sir.

Q. Well, several weeks or several months?

A. Several months.

Q. Several months? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you got you a job carrying the mail?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. From the station to the post office? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long had you been at that when Nancy got in this trouble?

A. Well, I declare I don't known sir, but it was six or eight months.

Q. Six or eight months? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then from the time you came back there it was a year or more until Nancy got into this trouble? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you sure of that? A. Yes, sir, it was a year.

Q. Well, I want you to give the time as definitely as you can?

A. Yes, sir, it was about a year before she got in that trouble, yes, sir.

Q. And are you satisfied it was just a year or just about a year? Or was it two years or six months?

A. It wasn't two years. What I am going by now, Mr. Cobb put up his drug store and then Mr. McCrary had the post-office and then he taken it and moved it over to his drug store.

Q. Who?

A. Sam Cobb. And then directly after he got the office I got an employment from the Iron Mountain Company to take the mail from the depot to the office; and then in two or three months or maybe four month, soon after that why then that is the time Nancy got in that trouble. But I never paid no particular attention how long.

Q. Then, that was something like a year after this digging of the grave you speak of?

A. I expect it was about a year, yes, sir.

Q. Now, who was it you say dug that hole or grave?

A. Fellow by the name of Harris.

Q. Was anybody helping him?

A. Well, I didn't see anyone.

Q. How long did you talk with him at that time?

A. I didn't talk with him more than about a minute.

Q. He just told you what he was doing and you went on?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you talk with anybody else about that afterwards?

A. No, sir, not a bit.

Q. Well, I am not talking about lately, but at that time?

A. No, sir.

Q. And then you heard—— You understood what that was being dug for? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You asked a question or two and went on and never mentioned it to anybody afterwards? A. No, sir.

Q. And you didn't see anybody helping dig the grave?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know Monday Barnett?

A. Yes, sir, I know him well.

Q. You knew him at that time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you see him about there?

A. He wasn't about there then.

Q. You didn't see him?

A. No, sir, he mout have been in the tent.

Q. What time of day was that, do you remember?

A. Well, it was about half past seven o'clock in the morning.

Q. About half past seven o'clock in the morning?

A. Yes, sir, it was very early.

Q. Early in the morning? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And they told you they were digging a grave there to bury a child that was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And told you whose it was? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Were you on speaking terms there or terms that you would be holding conversation with Nancy prior to that time?

A. Well, no, sir, no more than anybody else; Nancy was just running around; where there is a crowd of railroad men there is always a crowd of women.

Q. You were on such terms that you would hold conversations with her?

A. I don't suppose I ever spoke half a dozen words to her while I was on the road. I just seen her and knowed her and that is all.

Q. And you didn't talk with her before this occurrence that you remember? A. No, sir.

Q. And did you talk afterwards?

A. Well, yes, sir, whenever I would meet her I would say howdy Nancy.

Q. Did you ever make any inquiry of anybody as to whose child this was? A. No, sir, it wasn't any of my business.

Q. Had no curiosity about it at all?

A. No, sir, not a bit.

Q. This woman lived with negroes, didn't she? A. Sir?

Q. Nancy lived with negro people? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your race of people? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you knew, though, that she was not a member of the negro race, didn't you? A. Well, I didn't know.

Q. You didn't know? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't hear that? A. Sir?

Q. You didn't know that? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't know she was an Indian?

A. No, sir, I just thought they were all mixed up together.

Q. You stated a while ago that you knew of a Tommy Atkins or Thomas Atkins who lived up ten miles northwest of there? When did you hear about him?

A. Well, his father was named Dick Atkins and he was always there in the camp.

Q. Yes. He was about the camp?

A. Yes, sir, he was a half negro like myself.

Q. Half nigger? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And part Indian too? A. Yes, sir, part Indian.

Q. And you knew he was also a half brother of Nancy's?

A. Yes, sir, that is what he told us.

Q. He told you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew that, then, at this time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And yet you made no inquiry about the father of this child or anything of that sort?

A. No, sir, it wasn't none of my business. I knowed it was Nancy's and if it was Nancy's it wasn't mine.

Q. Have you any record yourself about when this Iron Mountain Railroad was built into Wagoner?

A. No, sir, I haven't.

Q. You haven't any yourself and can't tell about that?

A. No, sir.

Q. Do you know where Nancy came from before she went up there? A. I know where they say she came from.

Q. Did you ever hear her say where she came from?

A. No, sir.

Q. Did you ever hear them say how long she had been there at the time you got acquainted with her? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't hear them say that? A. No, sir.

Q. You understood she had been living there before you came back at Wagoner to load that steel?

A. I never noticed her about there.

Q. You hadn't heard that? A. No, sir.

Q. You don't know about that?

A. No, sir, I don't know about that.

Cross Examination by Mr. Maxey.

Q. Who have you talked with about this case, Henry?

A. Well, I don't know, sir, there have been one or two men at my house there at Wagoner.

Q. Do you remember the time the case was tried at Sapulpa? A. Yes, sir, I remember about the time.

Q. Did anyone come to you about that time or a little after that to get you to make a statement? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was it? A. Old man McNally.

Q. Did you make one?

A. Yes, sir, I made one to him up there in my house, and he didn't like that statement so well that I made to him, and I told him just what I told that gentleman there just now, and then he wanted me to change that statement; wanted me to say this baby lived and I told him there wasn't but one way for me to make it live and that was for him to give me money enough to get out of the United States and then some for me to live on after I got out.

Q. Didn't Mr. P. J. White there and Ellis Childers come out to your house and talk to you about this?

A. No, Mr. White carried me up stairs there, once.

Q. And didn't you tell Mr. White at that time that you knew that Nancy had a child there and that it was a boy and it was named Tommy? A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. And that it lived to be quite a big boy?

A. No, sir, I didn't.

Q. And didn't he take you upstairs to take your affidavit and after he got your affidavit ready, you said you wouldn't sign it unless they would give you a hundred dollars then and three hundred dollars when the case was over?

A. No, sir, I didn't tell him that.

Q. What did you tell him now, let's see?

A. He wanted me to testify that that boy lived and I told him no, sir, I couldn't testify that that boy or child of Nancy's lived—I didn't know whether it was a boy or girl.

Q. You say you didn't tell him what I have stated?

A. I didn't tell him that child lived.

Q. You did offer to make an affidavit if he would pay you a hundred dollars then and three hundred dollars when the case was over? A. No, sir, no, sir.

Q. How much are you getting for testifying in this case?

A. Not nothing that I know of.

Q. Have you ever got anything? A. No, sir.

Q. Not a cent?

A. Well, yes, sir. Some man came up there once—it was snowing, and he wanted me to go and show him where the man dug that hole, and I went out there in the snow and looked around but I couldn't tell nothing because there was snow on the ground. And I told them if there wasn't no snow or nothing, I might find where the old closet set and that gentleman give me a half dollar.

Q. Now, who was that? A. I don't know who he was.

Q. Have you seen him since?

A. No, sir, I haven't seen him since.

Q. A white man? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What sort of looking fellow was he?

A. Oh, sir, I don't know; he was a white man.

Q. How long ago has that been?

A. I don't know, sir. It has been over a year.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. The time Judge Maxey was talking about—the time somebody took you in some office—who was it that had you in some building or office? A. Which?

Q. Did somebody have you in some office talking to you about this—wanting you to say that child lived? Who was it wanted you to say that the child lived?

A. Oh, that was Mr. McNally.

Q. Did anybody else? A. No, sir.

Q. At any other time want you to say that the child lived?

A. No, sir, not that I know of.

Q. Who was present when Mr. McNally wanted you to say that?

A. Well, nobody—that was at my house; he came down to my house that day.

Q. Did he offer you any money if you would?

A. No, sir, he didn't offer me any money only told me it was right smart of money if I could make it live.

Q. Who is McNally?

A. He is an old gentleman who used to live there at Wagoner but he is paralyzed now—he is in California.

Mr. Hanford: Your Honor, I would like to ask this witness a question about another branch of the case.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hanford.

Q. Henry, do you know a sister of that Thomas Atkins, the son of Dick?

A. You will have to talk a little louder.

Q. Did you know a sister of that Thomas Atkins, the son of Dick? A. You will have to talk a little louder.

Q. Did you know a sister of that Thomas Atkins, the son of Dick?

A. Yes, sir, he has got a sister by the name of Trent.

Q. Chaney Trent? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she is a sister of the Thomas Atkins that you say you knew?

A. Yes, sir, on her father's side I think she is.

Q. And she is a daughter of Dick Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Thomas Atkins is her brother? A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, DORA SMITH was called and sworn as a witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Dora Smith.

The Court: Now, what is your name?

A. Dora Smith.

The Court: Dora Smith?

A. Yes, sir.

The Court: Now, talk up loud so all of these people can hear you.

Q. Where do you live? A. I live here now.

Q. In Muskogee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever live at Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you first go to Wagoner?

A. I don't know exactly what year I went there, but I think it was along about 1904 or 1905.

Q. Do you mean 1894? A. 1894 or 1895, yes, sir.

Q. How long did you live at Wagoner?

A. I lived there about eighteen or nineteen years.

Q. When did you come to Muskogee?

A. I came to Muskogee about two months ago.

Q. From Wagoner?

A. No, sir, from Tullehassee. I lived in Tullehassee, my home is in Tullehassee now but I came from about Okmulgee here.

Q. What are you doing here?

A. I am going to live here. I came here to bring my daughter to a doctor and she died and I stayed here.

Q. You are going to make this your home? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know Nancy Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You know her yet? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did you do when you first went to Wagoner?

A. I washed and ironed.

Q. When did you first know Nancy Atkins?

A. Along about when I first went there. I knew her a little before I went there, I knew her a little down here.

Q. At Muskogee? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew her best after you went to Wagoner?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you work with her any there?

A. No, I never worked with her any.

Q. Did you live with her there?

A. No, sir, she very often visited me.

Q. Did you have any family there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Any children? A. Two girls, yes, sir.

Q. Did you have any conversation with Nancy about your girls? A. Yes, sir, we have.

Q. While you were there in Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she have any children with her then?

A. With her?

Q. Yes, or was she taking care of any little children?

A. She had two little boys that she said were her sister

Minnie's boys, but I don't know how long she had had those children before I saw them, but she had them there.

Q. Do you know what their names were?

A. I don't know their names, but I think they called one of them Lee, I am just guessing at their names, it has been so long ago I don't know.

Q. Now, did Nancy make any remark about whether she had had any children?

A. Yes, sir, she told me once or twice that she was the mother of one child.

Q. What did she say? A. She said it was dead.

Q. How come her to tell you anything like that?

A. Well, the first of her telling me that I can remember, she asked me did I only have two girls, and I told her that they were the only two I ever had. Then I asked her was she ever the mother of any child and she said yes, she was the mother of one child but it was dead.

Q. When do you think this was, about what year?

A. I couldn't tell you exactly. I wouldn't attempt to tell you exactly, but I was there quite a while and she was coming backward and forward. She had Minnie's little boys with her at the time.

Q. Then you continued to live in Wagoner after you went there in 1894 or 1895 for some eighteen years you say?

A. Yes, sir, as near as I can get at it.

Q. Did Nancy ever leave Wagoner for good? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where did she go?

A. I don't know where she went to, but in 1909 and 1910 I saw her at Nowata.

Q. While you knew Nancy there in Wagoner was there any boys that ran around with her except these two children of Minnie's? A. Not that I ever saw.

Q. Did she ever make any statement to you about having a boy living? A. No, sir, she never told me.

Q. Were you and she good friends? A. Always have been.

Q. Were you and she intimate friends up there?

A. Oh, we was pretty close friends; Nancy when she felt like it stayed around my house.

Mr. German: You may have the witness.

Cross Examination by Mr. Rosser.

Q. You say you moved to Wagoner in 1894 or 1895, somewhere along about there?

A. Somewhere along about there, I am not positive of the year.

Q. You had known Nancy before that in Muskogee?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long before that?

A. Not very long before that. I had been living in Kansas City; when I came from Kansas City I found Nancy here in Muskogee and she often went to my mother's house.

Q. You knew her before you went to Kansas City?

A. No, sir, since.

Q. You say you lived in Wagoner fifteen or twenty years?

A. No, sir, about eighteen, between seventeen and eighteen and nineteen years, I don't remember exactly what year I went there.

Q. During that time you saw Nancy? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Ever once in a while? A. Ever once in a while.

Q. You spoke of a conversation that you had with her, you don't know when that was?

A. No, I don't know exactly when that was.

Q. You wouldn't attempt to say?

A. No, sir, I wouldn't attempt to say.

Q. When did you leave Wagoner?

A. I left Wagoner in 1911, last day of November and came down here.

Q. And she left there sometime before that?

A. Yes, sir, she was gone.

Q. Do you know when she left there?

A. No, sir, I left Wagoner the first time——

Q. I mean when she left?

A. No, I don't even know when she left there.

Q. You wouldn't undertake to tell within two or three years? A. No, sir.

Q. And you wouldn't undertake to tell within two or three years of when this conversation took place?

A. No, sir, I couldn't remember.

(Witness dismissed.)

And thereupon, PATSY WILLER was called and sworn as a witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Patsy Willer.

Q. What was your name before you became Patsy Willer?

A. Patsy Overton.

Q. Patsy Overton. Did you ever live at Wagoner, Oklahoma? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where do you live now? A. In Wagoner.

Q. How long have you lived there?

A. About twenty-eight or twenty-nine years.

Q. Can you fix the time you came there by any incident?

A. I think I can.

Q. All right?

A. I think it was about December 29, 1887, I am not sure, but about that time.

Q. How do you fix that date? A. Sir?

Q. How do you fix that time?

A. Because I know that I married about the 28th of December of 1887 to Overton, and the next day I went to Wagoner and always made it my home.

Q. Did you know a woman named Nancy Atkins?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you first know her?

A. I knowed her a few years before I moved to Wagoner.

Q. Where had you lived before you moved to Wagoner?

A. Between the rivers, between the Verdigris and Arkansas; it was called Marshal Town at that time.

Q. Did you know Angeline Moody? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Before you moved to Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When you went to Wagoner was Nancy living there?

A. No, sir.

Q. She came later? A. Later.

Q. When she came to Wagoner, state whether or not she was in a family way? A. When I seen her she was.

Q. When you saw her she was? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know Mandy Barnett? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is she living or dead? A. She is dead.

Q. Was she a midwife? A. Yes, sir, she was.

Q. Did you have any conversation with her about Nancy having had the child? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When?

A. Ay my home and at her home, also. We didn't live very far apart and we often talked about it.

Q. Did you know Elnora Williams? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How far did you live from Elnora's?

A. We didn't live so very far in the little town of Wagoner.

Q. Wagoner was a small place at that time?

A. A small place at that time.

Q. Which side of the tracks did you live on?

A. On the west side.

Q. About how far from Elnora's?

A. I can't say. The town, then, was just in one piece, and I just can't say rightly.

Q. Did you know a woman by the name of Birney?

A. Betsy Birney?

Q. Betsy Birney? A. Yes, sir, I knew her.

Q. Where was she living at that time?

A. She lived in Wagoner there.

Q. Where did Mandy Barnett live at that time?

A. She lived in Wagoner not far from me.

Q. You say Nancy was in the family way when you first noticed her there at Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did that condition disappear? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Tell the court when it was with reference to the time that Nancy was in this family way that you had this conversation with Mandy Barnett about Nancy.

A. I didn't rightly understand you.

Q. When was it that you had this conversation with Mandy Barnett about Nancy?

A. Oh, before and after she waited on her; just a day or two after she waited on Nancy.

Q. Now, what was said just before she waited on Nancy?

Mr. Rosser: We object to all this conversation.

The Court: Overruled.

Mr. Rosser: We except.

The Court: What was said, now, in that talk?

A. She often visited me and said that Nancy was really sick last night, and I knowed what her condition was, you know, and we talked about her condition, and she said I think I am going to have bad luck with Nancy, and I said why, and she said the baby died, and I said do you think you can manage it, and she said yes, I am a midwife and I can manage it and she went back the next night—like this was today, she came over and asked me for some coffee and she said I am awful worried and I say why, and she said Nancy had the child last night, and I am awful worried, the baby is dead——

Mr. Rosser: If the Court please, I don't suppose we have to make this objection——

The Court: You might move to strike if you care.

Mr. Rosser: We will move to strike all this testimony.

The Court: The record may show that it is overruled and your exception noted.

Q. Did she say whether it was a boy or a girl baby?

A. If I understood right I understood her to say it was a boy.

Q. That is the way you understood it?

A. Yes, sir, the way I understood it.

Q. That is your recollection?

A. Yes, sir, that is my recollection.

Q. You say Mandy Barnett is dead?

A. She is dead now.

Q. Where was Mandy living at the time of this occurrence you have related? Where was she staying—at whose house?

A. I think she was at the Barney's, I am not sure. Nancy lived several places there, I am not sure where she had the child birth but I think at Barney's.

Q. Had she lived at Elnora Williams?

A. Yes, sir, and at Mrs. Barney's, too; lived at different places there.

Q. Now, do you know what was done with that child after it was born? Do you have any knowledge as to what was done with it?

A. Only what Mrs. Barnett told me—they buried it.

Q. When did she tell you that?

Mr. Rosser: We object to that.

The Court: Well, no——

Mr. German: Well, alright.

Q. Did you see Nancy around there after that?

A. Yes, sir, I saw her after that.

Q. How long did Nancy stay in Wagoner, about how long after that? A. About six or seven years, I think.

Q. During that time, did she go to the penitentiary?

A. I think so.

Q. Do you know about her having any other trouble and being taken to court on account of it?

A. About opening a letter—that is what she was sent to the pen for.

Q. During the time that she stayed in Wagoner after this time that Mandy Barnett told you about her having this baby, state whether she was in a family way any more.

A. Not that I know of.

Q. How frequently would you see her?

A. I would see her often because the way the road was she couldn't get to town any way without going way around —without passing by there, and we was the nearest way. I often seen her.

Q. Tell the court how often; how much you would see of her.

A. Quite often; maybe two or three times a week, and maybe every evening off and on, when she was walking around there.

Q. Do you know where all she worked?

A. I don't know. I think she worked one time at Mrs. Haley's rooming house; Mrs. Barbee, I think she was then.

Q. Do you know about her working at the Barnard hotel?

A. Yes, sir, that was the name of it.

Q. Did you know this girl Eliza Sterling?

A. Yes, sir, I know her.

Q. Do you know whether she lived with Eliza?

A. Yes, sir, she lived with Eliza.

Q. Now, during all that time that you knew her there at Wagoner, was there any child—boy child that she took care of?

A. I seen her once with two little boys.

Q. Do you know what boys they was?

A. I don't. I asked her——

Q. What did she say?

A. She told me that they was her sister's boys and I asked what her sister's name was and she said Minnie.

Q. Well, were there any other boys that ran around with her? A. I never seen any others.

Q. Do you know—did you know all the colored folks there in town?

A. Yes, sir; there wasn't very many there then.

Q. Were there very many there in 1895 and '96, along there, five or six years after you got there.

Q. Did you know all the colored folks there in town?

A. I knowed mostly all of them that stayed any length of time.

Q. Did you know all the Indian folks there in town?

A. I think I did.

Q. Was there any boy around town there by the name of Thomas Atkins? A. Not that I know of.

Cross Examination by Mr. Rosser.

Q. You moved to Wagoner in 1887, in December?

A. Yes, sir, about the 29th of December, I think is as near as I can remember.

Q. As near as you can remember? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had known Nancy before you moved to Wagoner?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where had you known her?

A. I lived between the rivers there and I seen her over there on occasion and that is how come me to know her.

Q. You had seen her a few times or were you well acquainted with her?

A. Seen her a few times and didn't know her over there.

Q. You just knew her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you live in Wagoner before you noticed Nancy there? A. I guess about two or three years.

Q. About two or three years?

A. Yes, sir, about that; I am not sure.

Q. About that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You wouldn't undertake to say definitely?

A. No, sir, I wouldn't.

Q. When you moved to Wagoner, what railroads ran into Wagoner?

A. Well, the Katy railroad was running there but when I moved to Wagoner I think they were working on the Iron Mountain railroad, running from Wagoner to Fort Smith.

Q. That was running from Wagoner to Fort Smith when you moved, wasn't it?

A. Yes, sir, working somewheres on the road there, when I moved there.

Q. How long after you moved there, was it before they ran trains on west of that to Coffeyville?

A. I can't say rightly.

Q. About how long—can you say?

A. I can't say that.

Q. Now, you have testified with reference to what a woman named Barnett told you; you weren't present at the birth of any child? A. No, sir, I wasn't.

Q. All you know personally was that you saw Nancy in a pregnant and afterwards saw that that condition had passed away, that is right, isn't it? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many colored people lived in Wagoner at that time? A. I would say that there——

Q. Do you remember—did you know all that lived there at that time? A. I think that I do.

Q. You think you knew all of them. Now, can you tell us there was just a few families there, wasn't there?

A. Three or four families.

Q. Who were they?

A. Williams, and Birneys and myself, and Mrs. Barnett.

Q. Barnett?

A. I think those were the only colored folks there at that time.

Q. And others came in about the time they were building the railroad?

A. Yes, sir, they just commenced coming there.

Q. They came in. Now, at that time—at the time of this incident you speak of, when the Barnett woman told you something about the child, how many families lived there, if you know. A. I can't say that.

Q. You can't say?

A. I don't know, might have been——

Q. But you can't say how long that was after you moved to Wagoner?

A. How long what? Let me understand you.

Q. How long after you moved to Wagoner was it that this incident of the birth of the child occurred that you testified about?

A. I think it was about two or three years after I moved to Wagoner.

Q. How long had you seen Nancy about there before you had this talk with the Barnett woman?

A. It wasn't very long.

Q. Well, was it a week, or two months, or three months, or how long?

A. I can't say; it might have been two or three months before.

Q. Two or three months before? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had seen her around there two or three months before? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Nancy afterwards got into some trouble with reference to the opening of a letter that you knew of? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long after this incident of the birth of this child was it that that trouble came up?

A. I couldn't tell you about.

Q. Can you tell me about how long?

A. I don't know how long.

Q. You wouldn't undertake to state whether it was six months or a year or two years? A. I wouldn't say.

Q. Do you know about how long she was gone when she was away? A. I wouldn't say that either.

Q. You wouldn't say whether it was six months or a year or two years? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, I believe you stated a while ago that at the time of this conversation with the Barnett woman that Nancy lived at Betsy Birney's, what were the facts about it?

A. I don't know, she lived at Betsey's and Eliza's, Eliza Sterling's.

Q. You talked with Nancy, didn't you know where she was living?

A. I think she was at Mrs. Betsey Birney's if I mistake not, I won't be sure.

Q. That is your recollection?

A. As near as I can remember.

Q. Where did the Birney's live with reference to your place where you were living?

A. I guess I would call it—— Let me see now——

Q. How far from your place, how far from where you lived was it?

A. I couldn't say, I don't know the distance only say from here to there.

Q. Well, was it as far as across this room or as far as from here across the street from your house to Mrs. Birney's?

A. It was further than across the house.

Q. Was it as far as from here across the street?

A. I don't know how far the street is from here I am in the court house, I can't see.

Q. Well, you have stood on the front steps of this court house and looked over to the church across the street?

A. Yes, sir, Methodist church.

Q. Well, was it that far or further?

A. It was further than that.

Q. Was it as far from your house to the Birney house as from the front of this building here to the Severs Hotel?

A. Well, from the front of this building to the Severs Hotel—— You mean was it as far from my house to the Birney house, that distance?

Q. Yes, sir?

A. Let me see how far that is, it might have been that far.

Q. Well, it was pretty close around that distance?

A. I think so, I am not sure.

Q. You were a married woman at the time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have any children of your own at the time?

A. I had one son.

Q. Do you know how old he was at the time?

A. I know my son's age.

Q. Do you remember how old he was then?

A. You are speaking of my son?

Q. Yes?

A. My son was five years old, when I married; I had been married before and he was just five years old when I married Overton. I have got his age down, yes, sir, and I know it.

Q. Have you any children by Overton?

A. I never had any children any more.

Q. And you don't know how old this child was at the time you had this talk with Mandy Barnett?

A. No, because I don't know the time.

Q. You didn't go over to see about Nancy or to see her?

A. No, I didn't visit her at all. Sometimes she would come to my home and back to Mrs. Barnett's and I would see her there.

Q. You got along with the Birney family?

A. Oh, we got along all right.

Q. Did you visit back and forth with them?

A. I did at Mrs. Barnett's but not very much with Birney's.

Q. Did you visit with them at all?

A. Not very much because they was kind of rough character people and my husband objected and that is the reason I didn't go, to have peace at home.

Q. You didn't go to see Nancy?

A. No, sir, she came in to see Mrs. Barnett and I saw her there.

Q. Did you know how long it was after she had this trouble in the Birney place before she came to Barnett's?

A. I think it was about four weeks.

Q. She did go over to Barnett's after she left the Birney place?

A. I have seen her there I don't know where she come from.

Q. You didn't understand she lived there?

A. At Barnett's?

Q. Yes? A. She stayed at all those places.

Q. Did you understand that she was living there at the time, at Barnett's?

A. She stayed first one place and then another. First Eliza's, first Barnett's, and first Wiggins.

Q. And after this incident that you have testified to, that talk with Mrs. Barnett, the mid-wife, Amandy Barnett, did you make any investigation to see what became of the child or the child's body? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't inquire about that? A. No, sir.

Q. And you didn't go see her at all? A. No, sir.

Q. And you can't fix the date of this incident?

A. No, sir.

Q. With reference to the time the Iron Mountain Railroad was building on west of there, when was this with reference to that time?

A. I don't know, sir, I know they was working on that road all right.

Q. They were working on the road?

A. They were doing something, whether they was working in ties or not I don't know.

Q. They were either grading or laying ties or steel at the time? A. When I moved there.

Q. Well, at the time of this incident that you have testified to about Mrs. Barnett, the railroad was finished was it?

A. I don't know whether it was or not; when I moved there they were working on it; I don't know what time they finished it.

Q. Had they begun running trains in there when you moved there? A. I disremember, I don't think they was.

Q. You don't think they were? A. I don't think so.

Q. Well, do you know whether they were running trains through there on west at the time of this incident that you have testified to? A. I don't remember that.

Q. And you didn't have much to do with Nancy you say?

A. No more than speak to her when I seen her.

Q. Your husband didn't want you to associate with that class of people?

A. No, sir, because they drank and gambled and he didn't want me to go there.

Q. You were not associated with her much then?

A. No, sir.

Redirect Examination by Mr. German.

Q. How far did you live from Elnora Williams house?

A. We lived quite a little way.

Q. Which did you live the closest to, Betsy Birney or Elnora Williams? A. Elnora Williams I think.

Q. You lived closer to Elnora Williams than you did to Betsy? A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, HENRY KIDD was called and sworn as a witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. Henry Kidd.

Q. Where do you live? A. Wagoner.

Q. What is your age? A. Sixty-six.

Q. How long have you lived in Wagoner?

A. I have lived there about twenty-two years or three; I come there I think it was the fall of 1892 if I aint mistaken.

Q. Do you know Nancy Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you known her?

A. Well, I have been knowing her ever since I have been in the country.

Q. Do you know about the time she went to the penitentiary?

A. No, sir, I didn't know, that was before I come here.

Q. Did you ever have any conversation with her concerning the birth of her child? A. Any conversation which?

Q. With Nancy about her child, about which she gave birth to? A. No, sir, not in particular I have not.

Q. Did she ever say anything to you about it?

A. No, sir, I don't think she did.

Q. Did she ever talk about it in your presence?

A. Well, I don't know, it has been so long I didn't pay any attention, it didn't interest me.

Q. To refresh your memory, were you out at her house or did she come to your house with Betty Mann some time ago?

A. No, sir.

Q. A few years ago?

A. No, sir, she didn't come to my house, she met me up in the street, up there in front of the First National Bank.

Q. She and Betty Mann? A. Yes, sir.

Q. At that time, did she say anything to you about a child she gave birth to? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did she say?

A. She said she never had a child but the one and it was a girl and died, it come dead. And she turned around and her lawyers were in a buggy and said I told that and I told you Mr. Kidd would tell the truth, and I never did.

Q. Were there many colored people living in Wagoner when you went there? A. No, sir, not very many.

Q. Did you know them all?

A. Why, old man Barnett——

Q. Did you know all of the colored people who lived there? A. I knowed pretty near all of them.

Q. Did you know the Indians who lived there?

A. There wasn't no Indians hardly lived there.

Q. Was there anybody there by the name of Thomas Atkins?

A. No, sir, not Indians. There was one there colored.

Q. How old was he when you went there?

A. Well, I couldn't tell how old he was, I seen him hauling wood to me and several others, Dick Atkins' boy.

Q. Do you know where he lived?

A. Yes, sir, he lived up on the Verdigris.

Q. Do you know Chaney Trent? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What relation was this boy to Chaney Trent?

A. Why, sister.

Q. He belonged to the Chaney Trent and Dick Atkins family?

A. He belonged to the Dick Atkins family, he was Dick's daughter.

Q. He was the son of Dick Atkins?

A. Yes, sir, Thomas Atkins was and Chaney Trent is too.

Q. Do you know what became of him? A. He died.

Q. Do you know about when?

A. No, sir, I do not, I don't know exactly when, but I heard of the death at the time, but I never entered any record; I don't know exactly when the time, but I heard of him dying.

Q. Do you know where he died?

A. They said he was about thirteen so Mrs. Trent said, but I don't know that.

Q. You don't know of your own knowledge, personal knowledge, anything about——

A. Well, he was a good sized boy, able to haul wood, one of Mrs. Trent's sons; both of them hauled wood there two or three days and made their support by hauling wood.

Q. Hauled wood around the town of Wagoner?

A. Yes, sir. So did a number of them around there.

Mr. Allen: That is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Rosser.

Q. You came to Wagoner you say in 1892?

A. About then; I ain't right positive of it; I never kept a record; I haven't got any education; but I know from my children that I have been there about twenty-two or three years; maybe a little longer.

Q. 22 or three years or a little longer?

A. I aint certain.

Q. Nancy had been away; she had served her sentence, at least she never served any sentence in jail or the penitentiary after you went there?

A. Well, I don't know whether she did or not; I don't remember nothing about her serving anything; I heard she was in the pen, but I didn't know it, and I wasn't personally acquainted with her at that time.

Q. You heard she had been in the penitentiary before you got acquainted with her? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you went to Wagoner then after she had served a term in the penitentiary?

A. Well, I aint certain now; she might have been in the pen the year that I came there and maybe the second year, before I got acquainted with her personally.

Q. Where was she living when you got acquainted with her? A. She was staying with old man Wililams.

Q. How long were you living in Wagoner before you got acquainted with old man Williams?

A. Well, right away, when I stepped off there, when I got off the train.

Q. You stayed at his boarding house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That was where Nancy stayed at the time you knew her, old man Williams'?

A. Yes, sir, at the time I knew her, that is where she was living. I ain't right positive, either; she might have been living in a tent with some other colored people, but I aint right certain.

Q. At any rate, you don't know then exactly where she did live?

A. Well I say I don't know positively; she was at Williams right then or after I got acquainted with her, she stayed at Williams quite a while and with other folks.

Q. How long did you stay at Williams'?

A. I can't tell you how long she stayed there.

Q. I say how long did you stay there?

A. I didn't stay there but a few days.

Q. Now, you testified in a suit in Sapulpa between Nancy Atkins and Bartlett, didn't you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Before you went up there to testify you had talked with whoever had you subpoenaed, hadn't you?

A. I had a talk with her and Nancy.

Q. With Betty Mann?

A. Well, no, I had a talk with her and Nancy.

Q. Well, Her; who is her?

A. Well, Nancy and Betty Mann.

Q. That is what I say, you had a talk with her and Betty Mann before you went up there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You understood you were subpoenaed there to testify in that case? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, you didn't undertake there to testify any conversations that you had with Nancy, did you? A. No, sir.

Q. And you didn't undertake then to testify as to the birth of a child, or anything of that sort? A. No, sir.

Q. You didn't know anything about that? A. No, sir.

Q. And you don't know anything about it now?

A. I don't know anything about it now. I don't know whether she ever had one at all or not.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon LULA SMITH, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn, and under oath testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Lula Smith.

Q. Where do you live? A. Parsons, Kansas.

Q. Did you ever live in Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old are you? A. I am 38.

Q. When did you first go to Wagoner?

A. I went to Wagoner in 1891.

Q. How old were you then?

A. I don't remember how old I was then, but that is how old I am now.

Q. What did you do there, how came you to go there?

A. Well, my grandfather went there and so we went there, my aunt and I, and worked out. I waited table when I first gone there, and I cooked for a family, and then I waited table.

Q. You moved there in 1891, the first time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know Nancy Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you first know her?

A. Well, I knew her that year when I first gone there.

Q. When you first went to Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever work with her anywhere? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where?

A. At the hotel, Barnard Hotel, in Wagoner.

Q. Barnard Hotel? A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how long did you work with her at that hotel?

Q. I don't know exactly how long I worked there at the hotel; about four years, but she didn't work all the time that I did.

Q. What did you do at the hotel? A. I waited table.

Q. Did she work there very much while you worked there, during the four years you were there?

A. Well, yes, the first year she worked right along.

Q. Did she have any child that she was taking care of?

A. I didn't see any.

Q. Did you have any conversation with her about whether she had ever had any child?

A. She said she had had a child, but that it was dead.

Q. Did she tell you when it had died?

A. Well, I don't know whether she said it was born dead, or died soon afterward, but one of the two.

Q. One of those two? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you continue living in Wagoner, when did you leave there? A. I left there three years ago.

Q. You lived there from 1891 until three years ago?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know where Nancy is living now?

A. No, sir, I don't.

Q. How long after you got there until she left Wagoner?

A. Oh, five or six years; maybe more, I don't know just exactly.

Q. Do you know where she went to?

A. No, sir, I don't know where she went.

Q. During the time she was living there, did you know whether—did you associate with her very much?

A. Well, around the work there, I was around where she was working a good deal; she was around the hotel.

Q. Now after she quit—after you left the hotel what did you do? A. After I left the hotel?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, I just went across the street and worked at the railroad house.

Q. What railroad? A. It is the Iron Mountain.

Q. That had a cafe there?

A. Yes, sir, they fed the railroad people there.

Q. Did you see Nancy while you were working there?

A. Yes, sir, I would see her very often whenever she was around.

Q. About how frequently would you see her during those years? A. Well, I don't know exactly.

Q. Well, once every six months?

A. Oh, I would see her oftener than that.

Q. Once a month?

A. As long as she was in town there, I would see her every day or two, when she was in town.

Q. Did she say anything to you about having been in the penitentiary? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was she in the penitentiary any after you knew her?

A. No, sir, she said she had been before we came there.

Q. During the time that you knew her was she ever in a family way? A. Not to my knowing, she wasn't.

Q. Have you any children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How many? A. Two.

Q. When was your first child born, about?

A. My first child will be 17 years old the 21st day of June.

Q. It was born there at Wagoner?

A. Born in Wagoner, yes, sir.

Q. Now, were you pretty well acquainted there in Wagoner among the colored people? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you know the Indians who lived there?

A. Well, I knowed some of them.

Q. Was there any boy around Wagoner, small boy, by the name of Thomas Atkins? A. I never knew of any.

Cross Examination by Mr. Rosser.

Q. Your name is Lula Crump?

A. Smith now; used to be Crump.

Q. Your name is now Lula Smith?

A. My name is now Lula Smith.

Q. Your name was Crump when you were in Wagoner?

A. When I used to work with her.

Q. I mean, before you got married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you are 38 years old now? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You went to Wagoner in 1891? A. 1891.

Q. Do you know what time of the year you went there?

A. No, sir, I don't know exactly, but is was along in the fall sometime.

Q. Sometime in the fall?

A. Yes, sir, I don't remember exactly.

Q. When will you be or when were you 38?

A. Last October, the 2nd day of October.

Q. 2nd day of October? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you were about 13 years old when you went to Wagoner?

A. Well, I don't know exactly how old I was; I hadn't counted it up.

Q. Well, you were 12 or 13 years old.

A. Yes, I was a good big girl.

Q. How is that? A. Good big girl.

Q. A good big girl but you weren't a grown girl?

A. No, I wasn't grown.

Q. Nancy was a grown woman?

A. I guess she was; she looked like it.

Q. You waited on the table at the hotel? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What did she do? A. She was laundry girl.

Q. Your work was in the same sort of work?

A. As hers?

Q. No-, your work wasn't of the same sort? A. No, sir.

Q. I believe you stated you got acquainted with her as you worked together? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't visit her or go to see her? A. No.

Q. Did you know where she lived at that time?

A. She stayed there at the hotel where she worked, a good deal.

Q. A good deal? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And she was away a good deal, too?

A. Yes, sir; of course I didn't ask her where she was when she was gone.

Q. How did this conversation come up about her children?

A. Well, she would just get to talking and would tell——

Q. Who else worked there in the hotel? A. My aunt.

Q. Your aunt? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where is your aunt, is she here? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did you and she—how long did Nancy work there at the hotel with you?

A. I don't know exactly how long it was.

Q. Well was it a year, two, or three or four, five or six years? A. I don't know, I won't say.

Q. You wouldn't say?

A. No, because it has been so long I have forgotten.

Q. Well did you ask her about whether she had had children?

A. Well I don't know whether I asked her or not, but she just said she had had.

Q. You don't know whether you asked her?

A. No, I don't know.

Q. She just volunteered that information?

A. Well, I don't know whether I asked her or not. I know she said she had one.

Q. Now, you lived in Wagoner until three years ago?

A. Yes, sir, three years ago.

Q. Do you know when Nancy left Wagoner?

A. No, sir, I don't know when she left, what year it was or nothing.

Q. Well, would you come within a year or two of it?

A. No, sir, I don't dare to say, that has been so long.

Q. You met her at various times after this time you worked together in the hotel, didn't you? A. Yes.

Q. You worked with her at other times since that?

A. Yes, while she was around there in Wagoner, I saw her.

Q. And once in a while you met her and would talk to her?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you get married?

A. When did I get married?

Q. You were 21 when you married, weren't you, or 22?

A. Yes, just about; I will be married 17 years in August.

Q. In August? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then you were nearly 22 years old when you married?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you have children of your own? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long were you married before you had a child, about how long? A. I don't know; my baby is 15.

Q. And you have two children? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, did you see Nancy and talk with her after you had children of your own?

A. No, sir, I don't remember seeing Nancy after I was married.

Q. You don't remember seeing her? A. No, sir.

Q. You don't remember it?

A. No, sir, I don't remember seeing her.

Q. Will you say you didn't see her?

A. I wouldn't no, say I didn't see her, I don't remember.

Q. Did you have any brothers or sisters with you at the time you were working in the hotel?

A. Who stayed with me?

Q. Yes, or with your aunt? A. No, sir.

Q. I wish you would tell how this conversation came up about Nancy having a child, do you know?

A. I can't tell, only she was just talking.

Q. She voluntarily told you she had had a child and it was dead? A. Yes, sir, I remember that.

Q. And you were then a girl 12 or 13 years old?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't associate with her except when you were working together, you didn't visit her, or anything like that?

A. No, sir, she was a woman and I was a girl.

Q. Well, she was running around there with people, she went out of the hotel once in a while, didn't she? A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever talk to your aunt about whether you ought to associate with her or not?

A. No, I didn't; she didn't seem like she cared to go with us.

Q. You never saw her, you say, with any child or children about there? A. No, sir, never saw her.

Q. You saw her frequently while you stayed there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Didn't you ever see her with these Harrison children, Harvey and Charley Harrison?

A. No, sir, I didn't see them; I heard her say her sister had two children, but I didn't see them.

Q. When was it you heard her say her sister had two children?

A. Well, while she worked there with us.

Q. But you don't know what time during that period you heard that? A. No, I don't know.

Q. And you never saw her with any child at all at any time? A. No.

Q. Did you know the Barney family there?

A. Yes, sir, I used to know them.

Q. You knew them? A. I used to know them.

Q. Do you remember whether she was there about that place any or not?

A. Well, I guess she went over there when she wanted to.

Q. I am not asking you about guessing. Do you know whether she went there or not? A. No, don't know.

Q. You didn't know who she visited with when she was not at the hotel?

A. No, I didn't know who she visited with.

Q. You are sure about the date you went there, 1891?

A. Yes, sir, that is the year we went there, 1891.

Q. You don't know what time of the year?

A. No, sir, I don't know.

Q. You knew Nancy had been in trouble and in the penitentiary? A. No, sir, I didn't know; I heard her say so.

Q. You heard her say so? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Heard that after you went there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you don't know what time in the year 1891 you went there? A. No, sir, I don't know exactly.

Q. Was she working at the hotel when you went there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Working in the hotel when you arrived? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Well was it in the fall of the year, to refresh your memory, the fall of the year?

A. Along in the fall of the year; I don't know the month.

Q. You got a job in the hotel immediately, did you?

A. No, sir, I didn't; I didn't work there for two or three months after I gone there, but my aunt did.

Q. Your aunt went to working there immediately? And Nancy was working there when your aunt went there?

A. Yes, sir.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon court adjourned until 9:30 o'clock A. M.

And thereafter, and at 9:30 o'clock A. M., May 11th, 1917, court convened pursuant to adjournment, and further proceedings herein were had as follows:

Mr. Hanford: I believe Your Honor was going to take up the matter that Judge Rosser wanted to be taken up in advance?

The Court: Yes.

Mr. Hanford: And that is upon our objection to any evidence relating to the claim of Nancy Atkins as to a son by herself named Thomas Atkins, and that he is the Thomas Atkins who was enrolled, and by whom the land in question was allotted. It is our contention that that evidence is not competent, and that this Court is without jurisdiction to determine that question. So it comes before the Court—this case comes before the Court now upon a collateral proposition; it is presented as though the Court has found that the Government has failed to establish its case, that Thomas Atkins was a myth, or that the evidence to controvert that proof was sufficient to do so, and has found as a fact that he did exist; and then the question is presented as to the identity of Thomas Atkins, and that is presented upon the cross-bill which is brought by the defendant Nancy Atkins against Minnie Atkins. The enrollment records are in evidence in the case, among them the enrollment certificate or census card. That exhibit shows Thomas Atkins enrolled opposite the number 7913, and also shows that he was a Creek Indian, to Euchee town; it gives his age as 10 years; it describes him as being of ½ blood; it names his mother, Minnie Atkins; it shows that he was upon the '95 roll, and that she was upon the '95 roll; it shows that his father is a white man, unnamed. That, Your Honor, we contend, and I think Your Honor will so hold, is the judgment of the Dawes Commission upon the enrollment question. By Section 21, of the Act of Congress of June 28th, 1899, called the Curtis Act, it was provided as follows: * * * * Your Honor, the Government will join in this objection; while I am not speaking for them, they must speak for themselves——

The Court: Do I understand that to be the Government's position?

Mr. German: Yes, Your Honor, I will state it directly but——

The Court: Let's see; there has been sufficiently developed now in this case, it seems to me, to show beyond peradventure, that this name Thomas Atkins was enrolled by the Dawes Commission because it was found on the 1895 roll of the Creek Tribe. The Dawes Commission undoubtedly assumed before that, that when that name was placed there, there was a person in being named Thomas Atkins, and that his name was upon that roll, and so assuming the Dawes Commission assumed that whoever was represented by that name, Thomas Atkins, was entitled to consideration as to final enrollment by the Dawes Commission, because he appeared to have been a member of the tribe in 1895. Therefore, they proceed to consider his right to enrollment; as to whether they received any evidence or not, is a question in this case, up to this point, not capable of final determination; it is a question in this case what, if any evidence, they heard in regard to that. But they had that question before them. Here is the roll, 1895 roll; here is a name purporting to be that of a Creek citizen entitled to this payment in 1895. Presumbaly at that time a person in being, and entitled to enrollment as a Creek citizen. Now, sitting as the Dawes Commission, we find that situation in regard to the 1895 roll. Assuming that that person was in being at that time, whoever is represented by this claim of Thomas Atkins, if he was alive April 1, 1899, he is entitled now to enrollment by us. Now, let's see who he is· His name is Thomas Atkins. Did he ever exist? If so, did he exist April 1, 1899. Both those questions were resolved in favor of this Thomas Atkins on the roll. Now, they proceed to enroll him; they determine, according to the evidence shown by the census card, as a part of his identity, that this Thomas Atkins was a boy, the son of Minnie Atkins; but suppose they were wrong about that? Suppose he did have an existence; suppose there was a Thomas Atkins actually in being, placed upon the 1895 roll, contemplated by the Creek Nation in 1895, by persons in authority in that Nation knowing him as a person in being placed upon the roll. But suppose as a matter of fact, he was not the son of Minnie Atkins, but that he was a son, for the purpose of this argument, of Nancy Atkins. None the less, he is a Creek citizen entitled to enrollment; he is on the 1895 roll; the Dawes Commission considers him because he is on that roll, and they proceed to enroll him; but in enrolling him, they mistakenly classify him as a son of Nancy Atkins, rather than somebody else. Now why isn't that a question in this case?

Mr. Hanford: Not for this reason, Your Honor: * * *

Mr. Stuart: Then, Your Honor will hold that they have got to show that the Thomas Atkins appearing on the 1895 roll was put there and intended to be put there as the son of Nancy Atkins?

The Court: Absolutely.

Mr. Stuart: And when the Dawes Commission enrolled him——

The Court: That the Dawes Commission intended to enroll the person appearing on the 1895 roll as Thomas Atkins No. 290, and they have got to show further that that person when enrolled and given the status of a Citizen of the Creek Nation by the Creek Authorities in 1895, was enrolled because of his relation to Nancy Atkins rather than Minnie Atkins. It seems to me that that burden rests upon Nancy Atkins and unless she discharged that she has no standing in this case at all. If she does I think that they have a right to show the identity of Tommy Atkins.

Mr. German: Now, Your Honor, I don't want to make any argument because I agree with Your Honor's views, with this supplemental suggestion, that there is a question as to where the burden of proof rests. Now, our view, as I explained to Your Honor yesterday just before noon, is that the identity of the patentee in this case is fixed by the patent and enrollment records. The grantor intended to convey the land to the person there described. Now, when the Government comes in and established who the Commission and the Interior Department intended to convey that land to; which if established by the proof of the enrollment records and the patent, and then when the Government sustains the burden resting upon it to show that that person—— It happens in this case was fraudulently enrolled as we contend and didn't exist—then as against the world we have shown—if we prove all these claims—that the patent should be cancelled. Now, here comes Nancy Atkins claiming we made her a defendant, and we told why we made her a defendant. There should always be a reason for making anyone a defendant.

* * * * * * * * * * * * * *

The Court: Your idea is that they must bear the burden to establish that the Thomas Atkins of the 1895 roll was not the son of Minnie but was the son of Nancy?

Mr. German: Son of Nancy and that when the tribal authority put the name upon that roll they intended to put the name of the son of Nancy Atkins, and that when the Dawes Commission considered that name and enrolled it upon the final roll that they meant to enroll the son of Nancy.

The Court: That they intended to enroll the person represented by the name on the 1895 roll. That is the same thing.

The Court: I am inclined to think, gentlemen, that the Government should proceed the show—to assume the burden as to the Nancy Atkins side of the case. You have started in; I guess I will let you do that.

Mr. German: Of course I take it that Your Honor will treat this more largely as a matter of procedure, and then of course the question as to whether she was the mother of such a boy will be determined upon the preponderence of the evidence.

The Court: Oh, yes; if a preponderence of the evidence show that she never had such a child, that stops her right there; if it shows she did, then comes the question of identity on the roll.

Mr. Cobb: If the Court please, we would like to have the Court determine at this time what will be the order of proof, if we are to follow——

The Court: I am inclined to think that inasmuch as Henry Carter, who claims to be the real Thomas Atkins, that interest and the interest of Minnie Atkins coincide up to the point where Thomas dies; that probably the order would best be, after Nancy Atkins' case is through, that the Page interests put on their proof, and you will support them; you will come in with a strong re-enforcement, and then, after they come to the point of establishing him and his death, you will part company with them, and bring up your proof that he still lives. Wouldn't that be logical?

Mr. Cruce: I think ordinarily it would, except that we are in possession and that——

The Court: I think I'll declare the order of proof. I will get at it better that way.

Mr. Cobb: I think it will shorten the case some by following that procedure, also.

And thereupon, MARTHA HARDRIDGE, being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. Martha Hardridge.
Q. Your age? A. I am 44.

A. I would ask her about her people and all, and just in conversation she told me she gave birth to this child.

Q. She lived there in the hotel with you eleven months?
A. Yes, off and on we worked for different parties.
Q. And lived together? A. Yes, sir, we roomed together.
Q. All that time? A. Yes, sir.
Q. You say Nancy went down to Birney's some?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. This Joe Birney, how old was he?
A. I don't know how old, just a little boy.
Q. A little boy? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Right black? A. No.
Q. What color? A. Kind of brown skin.
Q. How big was he in 1891?
A. Little bit of a thing, just a little boy but he wasn't no baby.
Q. Well, make your best estimate?
A. Oh, might have been five, six, or seven years old.
Q. When you knew them in 1891?
A. As far as I can tell.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon, PATSY JENKINS was called and sworn as a witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. Patsy Jenkins.
Q. Where do you live?
A. I live at Choteau, is my postoffice.
Q. How far from Wagoner?
A. I don't know how far from Wagoner.
Q. You live near Wagoner?
A. Yes, sir, I live between Wagoner and Choteau.
Q. Did you ever live in Wagoner?
A. No, sir, I never lived there.
Q. Do you know Nancy Atkins?
A. Yes, sir, I know her when I see her.
Q. When did you first get acquainted with Nancy?
A. Well, the first time I ever seen her I seen her in Wagoner when there wasn't but one store. I wasn't acquainted with her only knowed her when I saw her.
Q. When did you get acquainted with her?
A. Well, I guess it has been about twenty one years ago she came to my house and stayed a while.

Q. Did she live in your home for a while? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where was you living then?

A. Out in the country on Brushy they call it.

Q. How long did you live there?

A. In the winter some white folks was my renters and she stayed with them a while and then left them and stayed with me.

Q. Did she have any children with her at that time?

A. No. sir, when she first come to my house.

Q. Did she later bring any children to your house?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who were they?

A. The oldest boy was named Charley and the youngest was Harvey.

Q. How old were they at that time?

A. I don't know their age.

Q. Were they small or large?

A. Yes, sir, they were small boys.

Q. Do you know where she got them?

A. I don't know where she got them, whether she got them at Wagoner or not but she brought them from Wagoner.

Q. Do you know Henry and Dick Birney? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know their mother?

A. No, sir, I don't know her.

Q. Did you know any boy around Wagoner named Thomas Atkins? A. No. sir, I didn't know Thomas.

Q. Did Nancy have any boy with her when she first came to your house? A. No, sir.

Q. Did she ever bring any other boys to your house?

A. Just those two I spoke about.

Q. Did you ever see her with any other boy? A. No, sir.

Q. Did she say anything to you about having had any children?

A. Yes, sir, she told me one time she had had one.

Q. What did she say about it?

A. She said it was a girl and that it was born dead.

Q. When did she tell you that?

A. When she was staying with me.

Q. That was about twenty years ago?

A. Twenty or twenty-one.

Q. That was during the time she first brought Charlie and Harvey from their home over about Choska?

A. No, sir, the boys wasn't there then when we were talking about the baby.

Q. That was before she brought the boys? A. Yes, sir.

Q. She told you she had had one girl born dead?

A. Yes, sir, she told me that.

Q. You say you first saw Nancy when there was just one store in Wagoner?

A. Yes, sir, that is the first time I seen her.

Q. Do you know about when that was?

A. No, sir, I don't know how many years back that has been.

Q. How long before she brought Nancy and Harvey to your house?

A. Oh, it was a long time after that before she ever come to my house.

Q. Did you see her frequently after that around Wagoner? A. Sir?

Q. Did you see Nancy frequently after that around Wagoner—after you first saw her at Wagoner?

A. No, sir, I never did go there very often and just went there when I wanted to trade.

Q. When you did go back there, did you see Nancy?

A. No, sir, I never did see her only that one time when I got acquainted with her.

Q. You next saw her at your house?

A. Yes, sir, when she came to my house.

Q. Do you know where she went when she left your house?

A. No, sir, I don't know where she went; she told me she was going to Nowata to work—told me she was going to Nowata to work.

Q. You say that was about 20 or 21 years ago.

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Allen: That is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hill.

Q. You say that you knew Nancy at Wagoner when Wagoner had only one store?

A. I had seen her—that was the first time I had seen her. I wasn't acquainted with her, and would only know her when I see her.

Q. Was that before the railroad got to Wagoner?

A. I don't remember whether the railroad had got there or not; it has been so long ago, I don't remember.

Q. You just saw her there?

A. I just saw her there; didn't have any talk at that time.

Q. And you never seen her any more until she came to your house with these two little boys?

A. No, sir, I never saw her until she came to my house with the little boys.

Q. How long after you first saw her, was it, until she came to your house with the little boys?

A. No, sir, I never——

Q. I say how long after?

A. Oh, I don't know how long—when she came in the country—I never kept any record of it.

Q. Was it one year?

A. It was longer than that when I seen her. There was only one store in Wagoner and Wagoner had done built up then.

Q. One year?

A. I don't know; I can't count the years back.

Q. It was a long time, though, wasn't it?

A. Yes, sir, a long time.

Q. You didn't have any talk with Nancy when you first saw her in Wagoner? A. No, sir.

Q. And the first time you ever had any talk with her was when she brought the boys to your house?

A. No, sir, when she brought the boys she was staying with me and we had talked often together; she was staying there.

Q. How long had she stayed there when she brought the boys?

A. She came there in the spring, I think; the place was rented and the renter was coming there on the farm.

Q. She was living with the renter on your farm at that time?

A. She was staying with them and they didn't treat her good, and she came and stayed with me.

Q. And she was working there?

A. No, sir, she wasn't working there but she was staying with them, and she came to my house.

Q. She stayed at your house and worked?

A. Yes, sir, she was staying there and she helped me to work.

Q. And it was when she was staying at your house that she brought these boys? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she tell you who those boys were?

A. She said they were her sister's children.

Q. Did she say anything about who her sister was?

A. She said her sister Minnie's children.

Q. She said her sister had gone away and left these children?

A. Yes, sir, she said her sister had gone some place.

Q. Gone out of the country?

A. No, sir, she didn't tell me that.

Q. Didn't tell you that? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, how big was these boys when they came to your house?

A. Oh, small boys; the oldest was about that high, I think, and the youngest one smaller.

Q. Was the youngest one able to walk around?

A. Yes, he could walk around.

Q. He was big enough to walk around, was he?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. About how old was he?

A. I don't know. I never did ask her.

Q. Well, two years old? A. More than that, I think.

Q. Well, five years old?

A. He might have been five and the other looked about six years, but I don't know their ages.

Q. Somewhere around five or six years old?

A. The oldest one looked to be about 6 years old but I don't know.

Q. About what time was it those boys were at your house?

A. Well, I can't tell the year it was; I know the oldest boy stayed at my house until along in the spring, and somebody come and got it.

Q. I want to know about when that was?

A. Well, I don't know what time of the year it was.

Q. I don't care about what time of the year it was, I want to know what year it was? A. Well, I don't know.

Q. Well, how long ago was it? A. I can't tell that.

Q. Ten years?

A. Because I can't read and write and can't count the years back.

Q. Well, was it ten years ago?

A. No, sir, I don't think it was ten years ago.

Q. You don't think it was ten years ago?

A. No, sir, about 21 years since them boys were at my house.

Q. That is what I am asking you; is it about 21 years since they were at your house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What makes you say 21 years?

A. I don't know how to get at it any other way.

Q. Just 21 years at that time?

A. That is all the way I know how to get at it.

Q. Not 20 years?

A. It was a little longer than 20 years.

Q. 21? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Not 22?

A. I don't know that. I told it just as near right as I can tell it.

Q. Just as near right as you can tell it is 21 years that they were at your house?

A. Yes, sir; they didn't stay there all that time—they came and got him.

Q. The time we are talking about, that is just 21 years ago? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You know what year this is?

A. No, sir, I don't know anything—about the year at all.

Q. Had the railroads been built into Wagoner at that time?

A. No railroad there that I remember when I first saw her.

Q. At the time that these boys were brought there, was the railroad built there at that time?

A. I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember whether the railroad was in there or not? A. No, I don't remember.

Q. How far do you live from Wagoner?

A. They call it 13 miles from my house to Wagoner; I don't know how far it is.

Q. Which direction?

A. I live south from Wagoner—north from Wagoner.

Q. Are you in the Creek Country or——

A. Cherokee Nation.

Q. Cherokee Nation? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did Nancy stay out there?

A. She came there in the fall, like, when the man came there to rent.

Q. Well, how long did she stay after she got there in the fall like?

A. Well, she stayed there until the man got his crop all planted.

Q. Next spring?

A. Yes, sir, she stayed there until warm weather—getting warm.

Q. She stayed there from one fall until it was getting warm the next spring?

A. Well, she came there in the spring of the year like—you know when people go to farm, and she came along with him, and before his crop was gathered, she was gone.

Q. Well, did they go to rent farms in your country in the spring of the year? A. They come in the fall.

Q. That is what I thought; she came in the fall and stayed until the next spring—is that the idea?

A. She stayed there until the man planted his crop, the same year he rented she came; and she stayed until he planted his crop.

Q. And Nancy told you that she had one baby and that it died?

A. Yes, sir. She said she had one child—a little girl and it was born dead.

Q. How come she to tell you that?

A. Oh, we were talking like women do; I had some children and she was just talking like all women talk.

Q. That was what she told you in your house?

A. Yes, sir, in my house.

Q. Now, when was that—when she was living there with you? A. Sir?

Q. When she was living there with you?

A. Yes, sir, she was living there.

Q. Did she say when the child was born or anything about it?

A. No, sir, she never told me anything about it at all.

Q. Never told you that? A. No, sir.

Q. You don't know when that railroad came into Wagoner?

A. No, sir; I don't know anything about when the railroad got in there.

Q. Didn't you go to Wagoner often?

A. No, sir, I never went there very often.

Q. Just now and then? A. Now and then.

Q. Where did you do your trading?

A. I would go over to Chotean.

Q. Over to Choteau? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Hill: That is all.

Witness dismissed.

And thereupon SARAH COATS was called and sworn as a witness for and on behalf of the Government and testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. What is your name? A. Sarah Coats.

Q. Where do you live?

A. 550 North Ninth Street, Muskogee.

Q. Do you know Nancy Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long have you known her?

A. I have known her about twenty three or four years.

Q. When did you first get acquainted with her?

A. Along in 1891, '92, somewhere along there.

Q. In 1891. Where was she working when you first knew her?

A. She was working at the St. Bernard Hotel, Wagoner.

Q. Where were you working?

A. I was working for McAnally in the same town.

Q. Where did you live with reference to where she lived?

A. There was just a fence between the two hotels, I worked at one and she worked at the other.

Q. Did you see her frequently?

A. Yes, sir, seen her frequently.

Q. Every day while you were there together?

A. Every day, yes, sir.

Q. Was she friendly with you at that time? A. Yes, sir. she was friendly with me.

Q. Did she ever talk to you about any child she had given birth to? A. No, sir.

Q. Never had any conversation with her about that child?

A. No, sir.

Q. How long did you continue to live in Wagoner after that?

A. I lived in Wagoner up until, I think it was 1895 or 1896, I don't remember just the date.

Q. Do you know about Nancy—— Did you know about Nancy going to the penitentiary? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Did you know her before that?

A. I knew her before she went to the pen and I knew her after she came back.

Q. After you and she quit working at the hotel did you see her frequently as long as she lived around Wagoner?

A. As long as I lived there.

Q. When did you go away? A. About 1895 or 1896.

Q. Up to 1895 or 1896, you say you saw her frequently?

A. Yes, sir, I saw her frequently.

Q. Did you know the Birney's? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. Did you visit them?

A. Well, not very much, I knew them though. I knew they lived there in town.

Q. Did you see them frequently?

A. Yes, sir, I saw them frequently.

Q. Did Nancy associate with them?

A. I think she stayed there quite a good deal of the time.

Q. Did you see her around the Birney's? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever see her with any children around Wagoner?

A. Never at any time did I see her with any children.

Q. Did you know Joe Birney? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever see Nancy with Joe?

A. I don't remember that I ever did.

Q. Did you know most of the colored people who lived around Wagoner at that time?

A. No, I knew a part of them, I didn't know most of them because I worked and didn't go among them very much.

Q. What race did Nancy associate with?

A. The colored race.

Q. Did you know any colored boy or Indian around Wagoner during any of the time you stayed there called Thomas Atkins? A. No, sir.

Q. Did you know any boy there who was named Tommy?

A. I never knew any.

Mr. Allen: Take the witness.

Cross Examination by Mr. Hill.

Q. When did you first know Nancy?

A. I don't just remember the date. but it seems to me that it was in 1891, something like that. I knew her before she went to the pen and I knew her after she got back.

Q. Where did you know her, Wagoner? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You didn't know her before she went to Wagoner?

A. No, sir.

Q. When did you go to Wagoner?

A. Well, I don't remember just when I went there, but I have been there most all my life.

Q. As near as you can fix it, your first acquaintance with her was in 1891? A. Yes, sir, somewhere along there.

Q. What part of the year?

A. I don't know what part of the year.

Q. And according to your recollection Nancy hadn't been sent to the penitentiary then?

A. Well, I knew Nancy before she went to the pen, I don't know just what year she went to the pen.

Q. I understand you to say you first got acquainted with her in 1891?

A. I don't remember that that was the year, but I do remember that I knew her before she went to the pen.

Q. Then you are not certain that it was 1891, but you are certain that you knew her before she went to the pen?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long did she stay in the pen?

A. I don't know how long she stayed.

Q. But you knew her before she went there and you knew her after she came back? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, when you worked close together, was that before or after she went to the pen?

A. It was before and after.

Q. How old are you? A. Forty two.

Q. Forty two? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you were working at what place?

A. I was working at McAnally's.

Q. Hotel or restaurant? A. Hotel and restaurant.

Q. That was when you first knew Nancy and before she went to the pen, you and she were working at McAnally's?

A. No, sir, she was working at the St. Bernard Hotel.

Q. How far from there? A. Just a fence between.

Q. You and Nancy were continually together?

A. I seen her frequently. We were not continually together. She was over at her work and I was at mine.

Q. Then she was sent to the penitentiary and after that you saw her when she came back? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Where were you working?

A. I was stil working at McAnally's.

Q. And where was she working?

A. She was working at the St. Bernard Hotel.

Q. You say you went away in 1895? A. 1895 or '96.

Q. And you think she was working at the St. Bernard Hotel about the time you first knew her except when she was in the penitentiary until 1895?

A. I don't know that she was there all the time.

Q. You saw her frequently before she went to the penitentiary and the best of your recollection she was working there practically all the time? A. Well, yes, I guess she was.

Q. She never told you anything about having any children? A. No, sir.

Q. Now, this Joe Birney you say you saw when you first knew him in 1891, how big was he?

A. Well, I think he was just a child; there was quite a bunch of those Birney boys.

Q. How big was he in 1891?

A. I couldn't say because I didn't pay enough attention to him.

Q. Well, give us your best judgment, was he running around in 1891?

A. I don't know, I couldn't say, because I don't know.

Q. And how big was he when you left in 1895?

A. I don't remember that because I paid such little attention to him.

Q. He was a negro boy?

A. Yes, sir, he was a negro boy.

Mr. Hill: That is all.

Witness dismissed.

Mr. Allen: We have four witnesses we just found out this morning that have not been served. All of these with the exception of Dave Marshall testified in the District Court of Creek County. We would like to use them when they do come.

The Court: To what point will they be used?

Mr. Allen: The same point to which these witnesses have been offered.

The Court: All right. Have you other witnesses with which you can proceed now?

Mr. Allen: Not upon the Nancy Atkins.

Mr. German: Now, diverting just a little from the Nancy Atkins, we would like to offer the depositions which we took relating to Henry Carter.

The Court: All right.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Mariah Yoakum, taken before Paul Mahl, Examiner, and the deposition of John Yoakum taken before Paul Mahl as Examiner.

In the United States Court for the Eastern District of Oklahoma. The United States of America, Complainant, vs. Minnie Atkins, et al., Defendants.—No. 2131 E.

CERTIFICATE OF EXAMINER.

The State of Kansas, County of Leavenworth.

I, Paul C. Mails, examiner appointed herein, do hereby certify that the above witnesses Mariah Yokum and John Yokum were by me first duly sworn to testify the whole truth; that their depositions were reduced to writing by me, and after being so reduced to writing were read over by me to them respectively, and were by them respectively subscribed in my presence.

The said depositions were taken in pursuance of the annexed noticed at the home of the said witnesses in the City of Leavenworth, County of Leavenworth, and State of Kansas, on the 5th day of November, 1915.

That the complainant was represented by W. P. Z. German, Special Assistant to the United States Attorney for the Eastern District of Oklahoma, and R. C. Allen, National Creek Attorney, and J. K. Codding, Esquire, and the defendant, Henry Carter, was represented by B. B. Blakeney, Esquire, and J. Coody Johnson, Esquire, and T. W. Bell, Esquire, and the defendants Minnie Folk, nee Atkins, Harry B. Folk, E. C. Hanford, Charles Page and R. A. Josey, were represented by E. C. Hanford, Esqnire, and the defendants Thomas Atkins and J. Truman Nixon were represented by H. B. Talley, Esquire, in the examination of said witnesses, and the several exhibits attached to the depositions were offered in evidence and marked for identification as appears in the depositions.

I further certify that I am not of counsel, nor interested in any manner in the case, and it being impracticable to deliver the depositions in person, I have sealed up, directed and transmitted them by due course of mail to the court in which the case is pending.

In Witness Whereof I have hereunto set my hand.

Paul C· Mails. Examiner.

Prior to the swearing of Mariah Yokum the following conversation was had, which, at the request of attorneys for the complainant, is included in the record:

Mariah Yokum: I refuse to swear, to hold up my hand and swear to the truth and getting nothing. These men here are all getting big pay and why is it that all I get is a little dollar and a half.

Mr. Allen: That is all the law allows us to pay you.

Mariah Yokum: You are getting big money and we need it and we want to know what you are going to give us.

Mr. Allen: All we want is for you to testify what you know.

Mrs. Yokum: I don't know nothing. That is what I know.

Mr. Allen: Well, you have been subpoenaed.

Mariah Yokum: Well, I have never been sworn to know anything.

Mr. Allen: We have always told you that the Government does not pay anything but the regular fee that we are authorized to pay you, and all we will pay you or any other witness is just what the Government pays the witness. The witness fee is $1.50 per day and we have paid you that. When you obstruct the evidence in a Government case, you subject yourself to fine and imprisonment.

Lillie Williams (Mariah Yokum's Daughter): This is a family affair and I know the facts as well as mamma does. Mamma didn't have to tell the truth, she could have told a lie; she could have done just like the rest have done, but she knows the truth and I know the truth.

Mr. Allen: Let her be sworn.

Lillie Williams: She ought to have something.

Mr. Allen: She has got a dollar and a half, all that the law allows.

Angie Yokum (Mariah Yokum's daughter): A dollar and a half wouldn't pay for the carpets you fellows have worn out.

Mr. Allen: You don't want her to be paid for telling the truth?

Angie Yokum: Yes, she ought to be paid. Mamma has been accused of being bribed.

Mr. Allen: Then do I understand she won't be sworn.

Angie Yokum: She didn't say she wouldn't be sworn.

Mr. Allen: I understood her to say that.

Lillie Williams: She wanted to know what she was going to get.

Mr. Allen: She won't get anything but the fees she has already received—you understand that.

Lillie Williams: No, I think she ought to get something more.

At this time an adjournment for fifteen minutes was declared by the Examiner.

Upon the resumption of the hearing, the Examiner read to the witnesses who had been subpoenaed, the Order of the Court making provision for the hearing, and further stated to the witnesses that they had been duly summoned and paid the witness fee of $1.50 each and demanded that they consent to be sworn; to which they consented.

Thereupon, MARIAH YOKUM, being duly sworn, on oath, says:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Mr. Blakeney: Defendant Henry Carter insists that witnesses be examined separate and apart and as the examination is not to be directed as to Mariah Yokum, that her husband be put out of the room. We insist that all persons be required to leave the room in the hearing of Mariah Yokum, and we especially insist on the witness John Yokum, whose deposition will next be taken, being excluded.

Lillie Williams: My mother and father are old and I want to know what you are going to do about paying them.

Mr. Allen: I realize that these witnesses are old, but all we want is for these witnesses to tell the truth. The Government of the United States don't want to pay, can't pay and will not pay more than the law provides. One day is all this subpoena calls for and that is all we can pay and all we will pay.

Angie Yokum: This is a family affair and mamma will get cussed over it.

Mr. Allen: She is telling us nothing but the truth.

Angie Yokum: I know that, but we will get cussed just the same. Mamma has been accused of being bribed.

Mr. Allen: You are asking us to bribe her.

Angie Yokum: No, she has been accused of that, and she won't be. She has been accused of being bribed to tell this when she hasn't.

Mr. Allen: Well, we don't think she has.

Lillie Williams: Parties have accused her of it and it has been accused up to me. When you use people's homes for court rooms, is it paid for?

Mr. Allen: The reason we use this for a court room is because she said she didn't feel able to go up town. We came here for her accommodation, and not ours. It would be more comfortable in the court room up stairs, but she said she didn't feel able to walk up stairs and we came here for her comfort.

Angie Yokum: I am willing to do what is right, and mamma will do what is right, but I don't think she ought to be imposed on.

Mr. Blakeney: Defendant Henry Carter moves to strike from the record all conversations of the attorney for the United States with other parties and statements of such other parties.

Mr. Allen: We have no objection to the entire record being stricken up to the present time and let the record merely show the examination of the witness.

Mr Blakeney: We want her statements left in the record.

Mr. Allen: Well, then, let it all go in.

Q. You may state your name? A. Mariah C. Yokum.

Q. You- age? A. I don't exactly know my age.

Q. About how old? A. My old man knows—I don't.

Q. Aunt Mariah, step over here a little closer, so Mr. Mails can hear you. Now, tell about your age.

A. I would like to tell it just as it is.

Q. How much older is your husband than you?

A. I don't know—two or three years.

Q. You are about the same age?

A. Yes, he is two or three years older than me.

Q. Where do you live? A. Live here.

Q. State the number of the house. A. Seven something.

Q. What street? A. Shawnee.

Q. Leavenworth, Kansas? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The number is 705 Shawnee Street? A. Yes, sir, 705.

Q. How long have you lived in Leavenworth, Kansas?

A. Pretty near ever since I have been in Leavenworth County.

Q. Where did you live in 1883-4-5 and 6.

A. I don't know.

Q. Who was your father? A. Henry Carter.

Q. Is he living? A. No, he is dead.

Q. About when did he die?

A. That must have been ten, eleven or twelve years ago, something like that.

Q. Did you have any brothers or sisters? A. Yes.

Q. Give me the names of your brothers and sisters.

A. Those that are living or dead?

Q. All of them?

A. My oldest brother was John Smith Carter. He is dead. My next brother was John T. Johnson Carter. He is dead too. Then there was another named James Shannon Carter.

Q. Is he living? A. Yes, in Oklahoma.

Q. Then who else?

A. There was another named William Wallace Carter. He is dead too.

Q. Who else.

A. My youngest brother named Thomas Jefferson Carter.

Q. Where is he living? A. Yes, at the old home place.

Q. Is that all your brothers and sisters?

A. Yes, I ain't called no sister's names yet—that is all the brothers.

Q. Alright who are your sisters?

A. One is named Emily Rogers. She is dead too.

Q. Alright, the next.

A. Mary Elizabeth Carter. Samuelton is her name now.

Q. Who else? A. Susan Ann Carter.

Q. What is her name now?

A. Susan Ann Smith, now, she is married.

Q. Who else? A. Mary Elizabeth Carter.

Q. Is that Mary Elizabeth Samuelton?

A. Yes, I called her name before.

Q. Who else?

A. The next one is Adis Wright. She is married now.

Q. The next one?

A. The next one, she is dead, her name was Nancy Violet.

Q. What others? A. None.

Q. Was that all?

A. That was all. It looks like that ought to be enough.

Q. Where do you say James Shannon Carter was living now? A. In Oklahoma. Boynton, Oklahoma.

Q. Where does Thomas Carter live?

A. Lives on the line of this county.

Q. How far from Leavenworth?

A. Twenty miles by the railroad. I don't know how far it is to go around the road. Eighteen miles or something like that.

Q. What place?

A. At the home place, where my father died.

Q. Near what station? A. Springdale and McLouth.

Q. Where does Susan A. Smith live?

A. She lives at the same place. Ain't you all been out there?

Q. Where does Adis Wright live?

A. I don't know exactly where they live—down near Tonganoxie somewhere. I don't know just where.

Q. In this county.

A. I don't know whether it is in this county or not, down there somewhere.

Q. Are you acquainted with Henry Carter.

A. What Henry?

Q. The Henry who is a defendant in this case?

A. Of course I am acquainted with him.

Q. Do you know who was the mother of Henry Carter?

A. I don't know whether I do or not.

Q. Well, answer yes or no.

Mr. Blakeney: That is an answer.

Q. Tell us what you know about his birth, if anything.

A. People forget sometimes when we get torn up and there is so much sculduggery done. I don't know whether to talk or not.

At this point Mr Blakeney objected to John Yokum, another witness, and his daughters standing in the doorway and listening to the testimony, and they were excluded from the room by the Examiner and the door closed.

A. You know it is pretty bad to get nothing, nothing no benefit of it.

Q. You have taken an oath to tell the truth. The Government only wants you to tell it.

A. I know, I won't tell a lie.

Q. Tell us now, if you know, about the birth of Henry Carter. A. I don't feel like talking.

Q. Alright, just tell the Commissioner you refuse to talk.

A. No, I ain't going to say I refuse to talk—I don't feel like talking. I didn't refuse to talk.

Q. Will you answer my question?

A. I ain't answered it yet.

Q. Will you answer it? A. Well, I guess I will.

Q. Alright, go ahead and tell us what you know.

A. I might tell you something, but I ain't told you all I know.

Q. Alright, just answer the question.

Q. What question did you ask me.

Q. Tell us what you know about the birth of Henry Carter. Strike that. Were you present at the birth of Henry Carter? A. Yes.

Q. Who else was there? A. My father and mother.

Q. Your father and mother? A. Yes.

Q. They are both dead? A. Yes.

Q. Where was this child born—with reference to the place? At whose house? A. My father's and mother's.

Q. Was that your old home? A. Yes.

Q. Where were they living at that time.

A. On the line of this county.

Q. Is that the place you say your sister lives now?

A. Yes.

Q. Susan A. Smith? A. Yes.

Q. How old were you at that time? A. I don't know.

Q. About how old?

A. I don't know. All these children of mine was born except that little girl.

Q. Did you have any small children at that time?

A. Yes, one.

Q. What was the name of that child? A. Annie Yokum.

Q. About how old was Annie Yokum at that time?

A. I couldn't exactly tell you, between six and nine months old.

Q. How long were you at the house before this child was born?

A. Along about mid-night. It was born about midnight. I went there a little before twelve o'clock.

Q. Were you in the house before the child was born?

A. Yes.

Q. Do you say you went there about twelve o'clock in the night or day it was born.

A. It was at night and it was earlier than that.

Q. How long had you been in the house when the child was born?

A. I couldn't tell you that. There wasn't no clock.

Q. About how long?

A. It appeared to be two or three hours, I don't know.

Q. Was there a physician present when the child was born? A. No.

Q. Who, if anybody, acted as midwife?

A. Nobody but myself.

Q. Did you assist in delivering the child?

A. Yes, I did everything.

Q. Who was the mother of the child? (Witness hesitated here.)

Q. Answer me. (Witness hesitated.)

Q. Answer me.

A. That is a mouth full. It won't come out. It wasn't no Minnie Atkins.

Q. Is Adis Wright older or younger than you?

A. She is younger than I am.

Q. How much younger?

A. A good deal younger, next to the baby—I don't know exactly how much younger.

Q. About how old was she at that time? A. I don't know.

Q. Had she been married? A. No.

Q. What became of the child after he was born—strike that. When you left the house after this child was born, what time was it.

A. A little before daybreak.

Q. Where di- you go? A. I went home.

Q. Where did you live with reference to the place where this child was born?

A. I have told you a dozen times right up on the hill from my father's place in a little cabin.

Q. How far from where the child was born?

A. It wasn't very far—I don't know how far.

Q. Right on the same farm?

A. On the same farm. Yes. It wasn't very far at all.

Q. Who went home with you that night when you returned home?

A. My father went home with me. I wasn't afraid—it wasn't no distance.

Q. Did you leave the child at your father's house?

A. No, I took it home with me.

Q. How long did you keep the child?

A. I kept it six or eight months—I don't know exactly.

Q. Who nursed the child during that six or eight months?

A. I did.

Q. At your breast? A. Yes, with my child.

Q. And your baby then was who? A. Annie Yokum.

Q. Is she living?

A. No, she is dead. You seen her picture in there yesterday. She was a married woman when she died.

Q. Do you say Adis Wright wasn't married at the time this child was born? A. No.

Q. How long after was she married? A. I don't know.

Q. How long was it after that before she married?

A. I don't know.

Q. When did your child die? A. Which one?

Q. The one who was a baby when this child was born?

A. She died in Colorado Springs.

Q. When?

A. It has been nine or ten years since she died.

Q. Was she married? A. Yes, she was a married woman.

Q. Where was she married?

A. At Colorado Springs, I guess, I wasn't at the wedding. I didn't know when they married.

Q. Who was she married to.

A. Nip Trusty they called him, John Trusty.

Q. Is he living now?

A. Yes, I suppose so. He is out in Colorado, I never heard of him being dead.

Q. Did she have any children? A. No, sir.

Q. You say that Henry Carter is not the son of Minnie Atkins? A. Yes, I say so.

Q. Whose son is he?

A. I don't know nothing about Minnie Atkins—never seen her that I know of.

Mr. Blakeney: I insist that the witness be required to answer the question.

A. (Continued) What if I would tell you that I didn't know? Would that suit you?

A. Aunt Mariah, if you don't know, then that would suit us, but we want the truth, but if you don't know who was the mother of Henry Carter, that is different. You have sworn that you would tell the truth, and you wouldn't be telling the truth if you said you didn't know when you did. We only want you to tell what you know, but we want you to tell all the truth. Now, tell us again, who was the mother of Henry Carter, if you know?

A. What if I would tell you I didn't know?
Q. Do you know who was the mother?
A. I said, what if I would tell you I didn't know?
Q. I said, do you know?
A. (Witness hesitated and did not answer.)
Q. You say you kept this child six or eight months?
A. Yes.
Q. Then what did you do with it?
A. My husband made me sent him home.
Q. Did you send him or take him?
A. I don't remember whether I took him or sent him.
Q. Where did you take him?
A. Down to my mother's where he was born.
Q. Who was living there at that time, besides your mother and father?
A. My sister and brother.
Q. Who was your sister? A. Adis Carter.
Q. Who was in the house the night this child was born?
A. My father, mother and brother and myself.
Q. And who else? A. And my sister.
Q. Which one? A. Adis.
Q. Who else? A. That is all.
Q. Which one of those you have named had this child?
A. (Witness hesitates.)
Q. You say there was nobody in the house that night but your sister, your brother, and mother and father and yourself? A. Yes, I said my sister.
Q. Which sister?
A. (Witness hesitated and didn't answer.)
Q. Was Adis Wright there? A. Yes.
Q. Did you have that baby?
A. Me. I couldn't have two babies in one year.
Q. Did your mother have that baby?
A. My mother was too old to have any babies. That gentleman sitting by you told you to ask me that.

Q. I know it wasn't your father or brother?

A. I should say not.

Q. Aunt Mariah, you say your father's name was Henry Carter? A. Yes, Henry Carter.

Q. And that he died some ten or twelve years ago?

A. Yes.

Q. Did he own any property?

A. He owns that property that they live on now.

Q. Did he leave a will?

A. Didn't you all go to the courthouse and see it?

Q. But we can't get that into the record.

A. Yes, he left a will.

Q. Did he will any of that property to you?

A. Twenty acres.

Q. What did you do with the twenty acres he willed to you?

A. I am on the brink of selling it now. I have sold it, but haven't got the money.

Q. Do you know whether he willed any property to Henry Carter? A. Twenty acres. He willed him twenty acres.

Q. State, if you know, what he did with the twenty acres?

A. My sister bought it from him.

Q. Which sister?

A. Mrs. Smith. I think Mrs. Smith bought it from him.

Q. Do you know who is referred to in the will of your father, Henry Carter, as his grandson, Henry Carter.

A. Yes, that is the way it is.

Q. Who is the person that he refers to in that will as his grandson, Henry Carter? A. That's my father.

Q. Who is referred to in that will as Henry Carter, the grandson of Henry Carter?

A. The one who wrote the will, is that what you are talking about?

Q. Your father willed some property to his grandson, Henry Carter, who is he?

A. That is the way it read in the will.

Q. Who was the grandson of Henry Carter?

A. Who was he?

Q. Yes. A. Henry Carter.

Q. State whether or not he is the same child that you delivered from his mother when your girl was a baby. A. Yes.

Q. The one you cared for at your own home is the same Henry Carter referred to in the will?

A. Yes, we always called him "H".

Q. After the child was born who named him?

A. I don't know; I couldn't say. Some of the folks at home—I didn't.

Q. Was he named before or after you took him back?

A. He was named after I took him back.

Q. How long did you continue to live on the same farm where this boy stayed after you took him back?

A. Oh, until he was a great big boy, I don't know how old, a great big boy.

Q. When you moved away? A. Yes.

Q. When you moved away, where did you move?

A. Down on Big Stranger.

Q. How far was that from your father's farm?

A. I couldn't tell you that. It was three miles from Springdale.

Q. Three miles below Springdale?

A. Yes, I don't know exactly.

Q. About how far from your father's is Springdale?

A. They call it three miles—they used to.

Q. That would make you live about six miles from your father? A. Yes.

Q. Where did your father live with reference to McLouth?

A. I think it was three miles from there—that is what they called it.

Q. After you moved away, did you visit your father's home very frequently? A. Yes.

Q. How long did Henry Carter continue to live at your father's home? A. Until he was a man.

Q. How long did you live out in the country about six miles from your father's home?

A. Three or four years, I don't know which.

Q. Then, where did you live?

A. We moved back to Leavenworth. We moved from Leavenworth out to the farm and then we moved back.

Q. You have lived here continually ever since? A. Yes.

Q. How often did you see Henry Carter from the time you left the farm where he was living until this controversy arose? A. I don't know.

Q. Did you see him frequently?

A. Yes. When we lived in the country I seen him every week.

Q. State whether or not he is the same Henry Carter you delivered from his mother the night you spoke of.

A. Well, he must be, I have been knowing him ever since. He must be the same Henry Carter.

Q. You have known and seen him frequently since then?

A. Yes.

Q. Is he married?

A. Yes, got two or three children.

Q. Who is his wife? A. Ara Simpson was her name.

Q. Where do they live?

A. They lived here; I don't know where they are at now.

Q. When did they leave?

A. Sometime last winter—first part of the winter I think it was.

Q. Did he come to see you after this controversy arose and after the claim was made that he was Thomas Atkins?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he talk to you about his parents?

A. Yes, a little bit, not much.

Q. Did he tell you he was representing himself as Thos. Atkins?

A. He said he was sick of having no mother. He said he had found his mother. I said: You already know who your mother was. He said she was the only woman who ever owned him.

Q. Who said that? A. Henry said that.

Q. Did he tell you the name of that woman?

A. Yes, Minnie Atkins—said he got letters from her all the time.

Q. When did he tell you he had found this woman?

A. He didn't say.

Q. Did you know about your father willing a feather bed to Henry Carter? A. No, I didn't know that.

Q. You don't know what became of that feather bed?

A. I don't know. I have heard it since, but never heard it read in the will, so I don't know.

Q. You say your father and your mother, yourself and your sister Adis Wright were the only people in that house when that child was born?

A. No, I didn't say that was the only ones—I said my brother.

Q. And your brother.

A. Yes, they were the only people in that house.

Q. Are you sure?

A. Yes, nobody else need say they were there, because they wasn't.

Q. Do you know about when that was when he was born.

A. No, I don't, I can't read and I never had it put down, I never paid no attention.

Q. Do you have any idea how old he is now?

A. No, I don't believe I do. I know he ain't no baby—I know that.

Q. Did you ever see the family Bible containing the record of the deaths and births of the Carter family including Henry Carter. A. I don't know whether I did or not.

Q. Can you read? A. No, I told you I couldn't read.

Q. State whether or not you had a Bible at home in which the births of the family were kept.

A. I got a Bible here—I had a little Bible out to my father's when my mother died and I had my daughter copy the names into it. I had them put into my Bible.

Q. Which daughter copied it?

A. It was Annie and Emma. She is in California, now, I gave you her name.

Q. What is her name? A. Emma Goodman.

Q. What is her address? A. What do you mean?

Q. Where does she live? A. San Diego, California.

Q. Where is the Bible. Strike that? Did she copy those names into a new Bible, into your Bible?

A. No, Annie Yokum called them off and Ulysses Green put them into the Bible.

Q. Where does Ulysses Green live?

A. In Kansas City, I guess.

Q. Where is the Bible into which those names were copied?

A. I don't know—my daughter keeps track of them. Didn't she show it to you yesterday. I haven't got it. It is [] here in the house . I haven't got it.

Q. Where is the old Bible?

A. I left it out there—out there in the country. I found the Bible and [] it copies off and put it back.

Q. Where did you get it?

A. Out from under the foot of the bed.

Q. In the house your father lived in when Henry was born? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know where that Bible is now?

A. No, I ain't been out there for a good while.

Q. Who lives there now?

A. Susie Smith and Thomas Carter, my brother and sister.

Q. When was your daughter Annie married?

A. I don't know.

Q. About when was your daughter Annie married?

A. I don't know how long ago; she has been dead about ten or twelve years.

Q. About how long had she been married when she died?

A. About two or three years.

Q. She married, you think, in Colorado Springs.

A. Yes, they were out there and that is where she married.

Q. How old would she be if she was living now?

A. I don't know.

Q. About how old was she when Henry was born?

A. Eight or nine months, I don't know which.

Q. About a year or nine months?

A. Something like that—not quite a year.

Q. You, at that time were nursing her? A. Yes.

Q. That is all.

Cross Examination by H. B. Talley for Thos. Atkins and J. T. Nixon.

Q. Your sister, Adis Carter, is now named Mrs. John Wright? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember what year it was she left her home at McLouth and came to Leavenworth? A. To live?

Q. To work?

A. I know she come to Leavenworth to work, but I don't remember how long it has been.

Q. Do you remember when that was with reference to the time this child was born? A. No, sir. I do not.

Q. Had she been living out there with her father right along up to the time this child was born? Q. Which child?

A. Henry Carter that you have testified about?

A. Yes, she was living out there until she come to town. She was working in town and come out home.

Q. She was working in town sometime before the child was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember about your father coming down to your house along about seven o'clock November, 1876, and telling you for God's sake come up to the house Adis is awful sick and mother won't do anything for her because of her condition? A. Yes.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as hearsay, incompetent, as what the father said and move to strike out.

Q. Who dressed the baby? A. I did.

Q. Do you recall in whose clothes you dressed it?

A. My daughter's.

Q. Dressed it in clothes prepared for your daughter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old was that daughter of yours with reference to the age of this baby just born?

A. Nine or ten or eight months, something along in there.

Q. Not a year old. A. I don't think so.

Q. Do you remember stating Henry was born on November 7th, 1879.

A. I don't know as I ever said what month, or what day of the month, because I didn't know. I don't remember—I might have said it, but I don't remember. I never kept track of the months.

Q. Did you nurse this baby you took home with you?

A. I nursed it for five or six months. I nursed him and then when they took him home they raised him on the bottle.

Q. You mean by "home" back where he was born?

A. Yes.

Q. Was any effort made by your father to keep the neighbors from knowing about the birth of this child?

A. I never said that.

Q. I am just asking you if your father did attempt to keep the neighbors from knowing about this child being born?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Do you remember why it was that the child was taken down to your house?

A. Just like anybody else. If they were decent people and that happened in the house they wouldn't want it to be public talk.

Q. They didn't want it down who the mother of the child was? A. They didn't say that, and I didn't say that.

Q. What was their object then, in sending the child the child away?

> Mr. Blakeney: We object to that as incompetent, asking for a conclusion and an opinion.

Q. You have known this boy that was born that night constantly to the present time? A. Yes.

Q. Haven't lost track of him any time since he was born?

A. Not until recently when he went away.

Q. You say he told you recently he had found the only woman that would ever own him? A. Yes.

Q. When did he tell you and where?

A. Right in this house last winter sometime.

Q. About what time? A. After all this talk come up.

Q. Who was present with him when he made that statement?

A. Both my daughters and Mr. Yokum and another man.

> Mr. Hanford: We object to the question and move that the answer be stricken out as hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. Is the man present who was there at that time?

A. It was my own man.

Q. Your husband. A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who came here with Henry Carter? A. By himself.

Q. Did he state to you his object in coming here?

A. He always come to see us.

Q. He has been coming to see you quite a while, ever since he was born. A. Yes.

Q. Did he want you at any time to make any statement or say you could make any statement with reference to whom his mother was?

A. No. He said he had found the only woman who would own him for his mother.

Q. Did he say Adis Carter was his mother?

A. He said she never owned him.

Q. Who did he say owned him?

A. A woman by the name of Minnie Atkins did own him.

Q. Did he show you letters from her?

A. No, said he had them in his pockets, but wouldn't show them.

Q. Did he say at that time he wanted you to say that Minnie Atkins was his mother? A. No.

Q. Did he say he wanted you to say that Adis Carter was not his mother? A. No.

Q. Did he say that if Minnie Atkins was his mother he would be entitled to a large sum of money?

> Mr. Hanford: We object to this as hearsay, incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial and move to strike out all testimony as to what he said.

Q. Did he say at that time he was receiving assistance from any parties in establishing his rights to land in Oklahoma.

A. I don't know. I can't say.

[Q.] Did he say he was getting money for claiming he was the son of Minnie Atkins?

A. I don't know. There has been so much said I forget half of what I did know.

Q. You forgot what he did say. A. Yes.

> Mr. Hanford: I withdraw my objections and motions to strike out the testimony given in the cross-examination by H. P. Talley.

Q. Did he say to you he was Thomas Atkins.

A. No, he didn't ever say that.

Q. Didn't he ever say that?

A. I don't know—I have forgotten. There has been so much said, I don't know what to say.

Q. Did he say to you he wanted you to state that he was Thomas Atkins? A. No. He didn't exactly say that.

Q. Did he say he was getting proof to the effect that he was Thomas Atkins and not Henry Carter?

A. Yes, he said that.

Q. Did he say who was inducing him, or assisting him in getting that proof?

A. No. He said there was a white woman here in town who said she washed him and dressed him when he was born, and I said whoever that was, she was a liar. She might have washed and dressed somebody, but not him.

Q. That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

A. Yes, they were the first two to ever come here.

Q. About how long ago did they come?

A. Before the cold weather. That was the first I knowed of it, and I said to him——

Q. Never mind what you said. How often did Dennis Jones and Reuben Smith come? A. I don't know.

Q. Did they come before or after you had that talk with Henry Carter?

A. It was a long time after that when he was talking to me.

Q. Henry was talking a long time after Jones and Smith called to see you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did Jones and Smith tell you who they represented?

A. No.

Q. Tell you what they were doing here?

A. No, they didn't.

Q. Did they talk to you about the matter?

A. Yes, asked me something. I told them I wasn't ready to talk.

Q. They came back again to see you? A. Yes.

Q. What was the next child?

A. Nancy Violet? She is dead—she was the baby.

Q. Now, at the time you say this child was born, where was Thomas Jefferson Carter living.

A. Do you mean where is he living now?

Q. Where was he living at that time? A. At home.

Q. That was your young brother you refer to—living at home? A. Yes.

Q. Was William Wallace Carter living or dead?

A. Dead.

Q. Where was James Shannon Carter living?

A. I don't know whether he was in Topeka, then, or whether he was living on the farm out beyond there.

Q. He did live on a farm out some eight, ten or twelve miles? A. Yes.

Q. Live there a good many years?

A. Yes, five or six years.

Q. You don't remember whether he was living on a farm eight, ten or twelve miles west when Henry was born?

A. I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember? A. No.

Q. You do remember the fact of when he went to Topeka?

A. No.

Q. Can you remember the incident?

A. Yes, but I don't know what year.

Q. At the time he went to Topeka to live last, left the farm, where did you live?

A. I don't remember whether I was living in the country or here in town.

Q. You, or your husband, had some little difficulty with the Carter family about some stock just before you came to Leavenworth the last time? A. No.

Q. When did you have it?

A. We had a cow jump fences and after we had moved to Stranger, she would go back and they said she got in the field—we never had no great difficulty about it.

Q. That difficulty was after you had moved up some six miles from your father's place?

A. Yes, when we moved on Stranger.

Q. On what? A. Big Stranger.

Q. Had you had no difficulty up to that time?

Q. Didn't you have some difficulty about cattle and stock breaking in that made some feeling between yourself and your father to such an extent that you couldn't visit your father's place? A. No, we always visited there.

Q. Didn't you quit visiting after this difficulty? A. No.

Q. When James Shannon, your brother was living out west of your father's place, did he frequently come over to see you and your father? A. Yes.

Q. When you were living on your father's place, you saw your brother frequently? A. Yes.

Q. About how often?

A. Seen him every day or so—we wasn't living very far apart.

Q. How far apart?

A. I don't know whether it was as far as sown there to Broadway or not?

Q. How far would that be, seven or eight blocks?

A. No, about one block.

Q. About one block? A. Yes, sir.

Q. It was just about a block that you lived from James Shannon Carter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Which left the farm first? A. Shannon left first.

Q. Where did he go?

A. Went on a farm, I think. I ain't sure.

Q. About how far from your father's farm?

A. I don't know he never was there when they moved away.

Q. How frequently did he come back?

A. He was there every Sunday to papa.

Q. Did he continue this coming to your father's place every Sunday until after he moved to Topeka?

A. Yes, about. At least he did until after we moved up to Big Stranger. He was there all the time.

Q. After you moved up to Big Stranger Creek did he come up there to see you occasionally?

A. No, he never come down there it was too far.

Q. You would visit your father's place and you would see him there? A. Yes.

Q. So that he kept up a relationship, visiting relationship, with your father and family up until the time he went to Topeka? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he go to Topeka before or after you came back from Leavenworth the second time? A. I couldn't say.

Q. Which moved first.

A. I couldn't say whether they moved first or us.

Q. The best of your recollection is that you both moved close to the same time? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You mean to leave the impression that this child is the child of Edest Wright, don't you?

A. I said she was there.

Q. You were and are trying to give the impression to the Court that Edest Wright was the mother of this child?

A. The father?

Q. No, the mother of this child?

Mr. German: I object to that question on the grounds that it is argumentative and calls for a conclusion.

A. I know what he said.

Q. Do you understand you took an oath to tell the truth?

A. Yes, but people don't do it at all. People take oaths lots of times and don't tell the truth.

Q. Do you do it? A. I ain't took an oath before.

Q. Will you tell the truth now?

A. What I have said is the truth.

Q. Is Edest Wright the mother of this child?

A. You needn't get so mad—can't you talk mild.

Q. Yes, I can, but I am always suspicious about those who protest so much.

Mr. Allen: Answer it yes or no.

A. I know what he said, but I haven't answered it.

Q. Well, answer the question. I insist that you answer the question.

A. Let me catch my breath—that is a mouthful. (Witness hesitates for quite a while.) It ain't no cause for me to strain my tongue on my own people.

Q. Will you answer that truthfully?

A. (Witness hesitates.)

Q. Let's have an answer without this waiting.

Q. What did you ask me?

Q. I asked you a simple question. Was Edest Wright the mother of this boy you have been talking about today?

A. Well——yes——she is the mother.

Q. You say now that Edest Wright had a child at her father's house and that child was later known as H. Carter?

A. Yes.

Q. How long had Edest Wright been about the place before she had this child?

A. I don't know. I never kept no track.

Q. Well, had she been there several months before this child was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You say about twelve o'clock your father come running over and asked you to come to the house?

A. I didn't say he ran—I said he come after me.

Q. He told you what he wanted? A. Yes.

Q. That was the first time you knew Edest was going to have a child? A. No, I didn't say that.

Q. You knew it before that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she show she was heavy with child? A. Yes.

Q. Was James Shannon visiting the place during the time she showed that?

A. I don't know. He might have been in Topeka. I didn't say that.

Q. You didn't come up to Leavenworth to live for four or five years after this child was born, did you?

Q. And you can't tell now, within four or five years, when James Shannon went to Topeka? A. No, I can't.

Q. Did you know your brother would take this child to Leavenworth when he came to town? A. No.

Q. You never saw him take this boy to Leavenworth?

A. No.

Q. You say your mother kept a Bible, and you had it copied? A. Yes.

Q. Did you copy it yourself?

Q. I had my daughter write it on a piece of paper and then I brought the paper into Leavenworth and had it put in my Bible.

Q. You saw her write it off and you saw her when she write it into your Bible?

A. My daughter read it to Ulysses Green and he put it into my Bible.

Q. That was done in your presence, and at your request?
A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were doing it to have a record of the births and marriages and deaths of your family? A. Yes.

Q. Where is it? A. My daughter has it.

Q. Where is she? A. Her.

Q. Live with you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your married daughter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you know where she keeps it?

A. She has got it in her room? I don't know where it is.

Q. Will you go and get it?

A. No, I will not, she has got it in her room.

Q. Where do you—where is she?

A. What do you want with her?

Q. I want the Bible in here. A. You want the Bible?

Q. Yes, I want the Bible that you say these births are in.

A. I don't know whether Henry's birth is in it.

Q. Did you ever had it read to you? A. No.

Q. When you had it copied from the old Bible at home Henry Carter's birth was not read? A. I don't know.

Q. You said Edest Carter had another child?

A. I said so.

Q. Yes. A. No.

Q. Did she have another child? A. Yes.

Q. What was her name? A. Viola.

Q. Her name, was it in the family Bible?

A. I don't know.

Q. You do not recollect? A. No.

Q. Do you say under oath that you can't walk into that other room and get that Bible? A. What did you say?

Q. We have asked for you to walk into one of the rooms of your house and get that Bible.

A. I could walk in, but I couldn't get it.

Q. Will you ask your daughter to get it?

A. I will ask her, but I don't know whether she will or not. I will call her, but I don't know whether she will or not. What do you want with the Bible?

Q. Just to see what it said.

Judge Allen: I have seen it two or three times. I think she showed it to us two or three times.

Q. That is why I want to see it.

Mr. Talley: We object to the request for the reason that it is an effort to get secondary evidence and not the best evidence, when it is shown the best evidence is available, and incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Mr. Allen: We join in the request of Mr. Blakeney that the Bible be produced.

Mr. Blakeney: I ask that the Master require that the witness at 1:30 or when this hearing is resumed produce this Bible, concerning which she is testifying.

Mr. Allen: We join in that request.

The Examiner: Mrs. Yokum, when we return here at one-thirty to resume this hearing, I want you to have that Bible here so that we can all see it.

Now on this 5th day of November, at 1:30 P. M., the Examination was continued, pursuant to adjournment.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney Continued.

Q. Is this the Bible you have been referring to where the record of the births of the family were kept? A. Yes.

Mr. Talley: Do you want the record to show that she has the Bible in her possession.

Mr. Blakeney hands the Bible to Mariah Yokum.

Q. You now have in your hands the Bible which you say contains a copy of the record that was made of your mother's Bible? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Allen: We will agree that she may read into the record the entire page of this Bible about which the witness has testified and which she had just identified.

Q. This page, which I ask the stenographer to mark, is the page you refer to?
A. I don't know whether that is the page or not—I don't read.
Q. Well, this says "births" at the top of it?
A. I guess that is it.
Q. What was your father's name?
A. Henry Carter. They most called him Henry for short.
Q. Was there any other Henry in your family?
A. I don't know which his name was Henry or Harry.
Q. You had a brother named John. A. Yes, sir.
Q. Oldest brother? A. Yes, sir.
Q. Didn't he have a boy named Henry Carter?
A. Yes, a little boy.
Q. What was John Carter's wife's name?
A. Mary Brookens.
Q. What was your mother's name?

A. Jeanette Hansbury Hughes before she was married. She was called Jeanette.

Q. Called Jeanette? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And one of your brothers was called John. A. Yes.

Q. Younger or older than you?

A. He was younger than [], I think.

Q. What was John Carter's wife's name?

A. Mary. Brookens.

Q. Mary Brookens before she was married? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then known as Mary Carter after she was married?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was you known by before your marriage?

A. Carter.

Q. Well, your maiden name? A. What?

Q. Your given name? A. Mariah Catherine.

Q. You were known as Mariah Catherine?

A. Yes, Mariah Catherine Carter.

Q. Well, your school mates called you Mariah?

A. Some of them and some called me Kate.

Q. Your father was a slave before the war?

A. Yes, bought himself before the war.

Q. Was he freed before the war?

A. Yes, bought himself.

Q. About how long was he freed before the way?

A. I couldn't tell you.

Q. Do you remember when he bought his freedom?

A. No, I don't.

Q. How old were you? A. A little girl.

Q. Where did you live? A. Three miles from Platte City.

Q. On whose farm? A. O'Donnell.

Q. Who was his last master? A. I don't know.

Q. Do you remember when you left Platte City?

A. We lived three miles below Platte City when we came to Kansas.

Q. You were married when your father came to Kansas?

A. Yes, had one child.

Q. Can you remember when your father came to Kansas?

A. Yes.

Q. Was it before or after the war that he came here?

A. Before.

Q. How long after he came to Kansas when you came?

A. I was here first.

Q. How long had you been here when he came?

A. Pretty near a year.

Q. You were still living with your present husband?

A. Yes.

Q. Only had one husband? A. Yes.

Q. Where did you settle when you came from Missouri to Kansas?

A. Up near the Fort. I don't know where it was.

Q. In the city of Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. When your father came, where did he settle?

A. He stopped in the house with us. Houses were very scarce then. He didn't come straight over here. He moved mother and two children over here and then went back where he was working.

Q. What two children did he move over here?

A. Edest and one younger than she. He brought Edest when she was a baby.

Q. What do you mean by that—bought her freedom?

A. Yes.

Q. How old was Edest when they moved here?

A. I don't know three or four years old.

Q. Was she called Adas or Edest.

A. It was Adas.

Q. When they named her it was Edest?

A. Yes. And then when she growed up they called her Ada.

Q. When they named her, who was she named after?

A. A brother.

Q. What was the brother's name that they named Ada after? A. Carter, I guess, I never seen him.

Q. What was his name?

A. Edest, I guess. When she was a young lady they——

Q. Your mother, during her younger years called her Adas?

A. I don't know how she had it written in the family Bible. Mother called it Edas.

Q. What did she have written? A. I don't know.

Q. What was the oldest sister's name? A. Emily Jane.

Q. Known as Emily Rogers?

A. Yes. Married a man by the name of Rogers.

Q. The next child was John Smith? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And the next was yourself, Mariah Yokum?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then the next was Johnson Carter?

A. Yes—— No, I guess it was Mary Elizabeth and then Johnson.

Q. Your recollection is that Mary Elizabeth was older than Johnson?

A. Yes, and then James Shannon and Wallace and Thomas Carter and Mary I. Carter.

Q. Who was Mary I.

A. I don't know, I guess it was Mary Elizabeth?

Q. There was no other Mary but Mary Elizabeth?
A. No.
Q. Then Susan A. Carter? A. Yes.
Q. And Edest Carter? A. Yes.

Mr. Talley: We object at this time to counsel reading from the exhibit, which has been identified, but not introduced, for the reason that it is not the best evidence.

Q. You said, I believe, that Edest or Adas had two children before she was married? A. Yes.

Mr. Talley: I withdraw my objection.

Mr. Blakeney: I offer this page as an exhibit and ask the stenographer to copy the same into the record.

Mr. German: We join in the offer.

Q. When your father came to Leavenworth with his family how long did he stay here?

A. Not very long. Went back where he was working.

Q. Did he stay the rest of that year and then come home?

A. Yes. Worked all the next summer. I think he come over in the fall.

Q. How long did your mother live with you in Leavenworth?

A. About a year and after that my father bought a place.

Q. Where did he buy a place?

A. Over on Walnut Street, between 5th and 6th.

Q. In Leavenworth? A. Yes.

Q. Did he move to that? A. Yes.

Q. How long did he stay?

A. Lived there for about a year, I think, and then moved to Oskaloosa.

Q. How long did he live in Oskaloosa?

A. I don't know exactly and then he bought a farm.

Q. Where was your father living when the war closed, over in Missouri? A. I think he was living out on this farm.

Q. Your recollection is that he had bought his farm and moved to the farm. A. Yes.

Q. How old was Edest or Adas at that time?

A. She was a little girl at that time.

Q. About how old was she when she lived with you?

A. I don't know exactly. I can't tell nothing that I can't remember.

Q. But, about how old would you say she was? When her mother stayed with you and your father worked in Missouri?

A. She was a good sized girl.

Q. Going to school? A. Yes.

Q. She was going to school? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she go to school during the entire time she stayed there? A. No—not regular all the time.

Q. Then when she went out to the farm, did you visit out there frequently? A. Yes.

Q. How long did they live on the farm before you came out there to live from Leavenworth?

A. I don't know how long it was.

Q. A good many years? A. Yes.

Q. What is your judgment as to the number of years?

A. I don't know—I can't remember.

Q. As much as ten years?

A. Yes, it might have been more.

Q. Is there any way you can fix anything more definite?

A. No, I don't know as there is. It has got to come from my old man—he might know.

Q. What was Edest doing when you went out on the farm.

A. She come to town to work.

Q. She commenced working in town before you moved out? A. Yes.

Q. She had been working for some time in town.

A. Yes, not awful long.

Q. Do you know anybody for whom she worked?

A. Yes, but I have forgotten.

Q. You can't call to mind the name of any person Edest worked for before you moved to the country?

A. No, I can't. I think there was one man—I forget his name.

Q. What were you doing when you were living in town?

A. I worked out.

Q. Cooked out? A. Worked out and cooked out.

Q. Can you tell us now for whom you were working?

A. I was cooking for some women part of the time and then washed out a good deal.

Q. Who was the head of the house?

A. These women were all living together.

Q. What you would call a sporting house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You knew Granny Letcher?

A. I knew her when I seen her. I have no recollection of her.

Q. Did you work for her?

A. No, I never was in her house.

Q. You washed for people who lived in her house?

A. No.

Q. Do you remember a girl known as Indian Minnie?

A. No.

Q. Don't you remember a girl who stayed at Granny Letcher's working? A. No, I didn't know about it.

Q. Who is, who was Nancy Viola or who is she?

A. My niece.

Q. Your niece? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who was her mother? A. Mrs. Wright.

Q. Edest Wright? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is she the girl you said was named Viola, daughter of Edest? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What was her nick name? A. Pink.

Q. How old was Henry Carter when Pink was born?

A. I don't know.

Q. Did you have, or did you hear from your parents read all that was put into the Bible? A. I don't remember.

Q. Were your children at home?

A. All my girls were home, I think, I don't remember.

Q. You heard it read one daughter out at your mother's place when your daughter was writing it down on a piece of paper? A. No, I didn't hear it read.

Q. Then you don't know whether the page that has been read into the record from your Bible was a copy of your mother's Bible or not?

A. Yes, I do. I gave it to them to copy and they did it.

Q. But they didn't read what was in the Bible or read what they had written? A. Yes.

Q. Did they ever read it to you? A. Yes, at times.

Q. When it was read to you, did you know it was correct?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. A correct copy of your mother's Bible? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had heard the page in your mother's Bible read.

Q. And you heard the page in your Bible read?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you remember both were the same?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. This Mary Viola, born in 1861, was copied from your mother's Bible? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Henry, Born Nov. 7, 1897, was copied from your mother's Bible? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You remember that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You were mistaken this morning when you said you didn't think Henry was in your mother's Bible? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now you remember Henry born Nov. 7, 1879, was in your mother's Bible and put into the Bible correctly?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. According to that Henry was 18 years younger than Nancy Viola, can you explain that? A. No, I aint.

Q. You say they put correctly down Nancy Viola, February 1861 and Henry, Nov. 7, 1879.

A. What is that?

Mr. Allen: Read her that place.

Mr. Blakeney: I am examining this witness, please, sir.

Q. That isn't correct then? A. No, sir, it aint.

Q. Then Nancy Viola, known as Pink, was not born before Henry? A. No, she wasn't.

Q. Who is Maude Viola?

A. That is the one—you make a little mistake in reading it.

Q. Maud Viola was the youngest child, the child of Edest?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then who was Nancy Viola?

A. There aint no Nancy Viola that I know of.

Q. Wasn't there a Nancy Viola born the year the war was opened? A. That was my youngest sister, Nancy Violet.

Q. Then, Maude Viola, is the one you refer to? A. Yes.

Q. That was also in your family Bible? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Your mother's Bible didn't have a sheet like this to write on? A. No. It was just a little Bible.

Q. And you had to write on blank pages? A. Yes, sir.

Q. There was a blank page in the Bible somewhere where these entries were made? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You would know the Bible if you would see it?

A. Yes, I would.

Q. You are certain that in the Bible of your mother's the births of Henry and Maude Viola appeared?

A. They ought to be.

Q. Well you are certain that Henry and Maude Viola appeared in that Bible?

Mr. Allen: I object, she didn't say that.

Q. Are you certain that in the Bible of your mother's Henry's birth and Maude Viola's birth appeared?

A. Yes, I am. They were born long before my mother died.

Q. Do you remember hearing them read from your mother's Bible? A. Yes.

Q. However, Lucy Williams was not in your mother's Bible? A. No, sir. She was born later.

Q. Was Elvin Williams? A. No, sir.

Q. How do you account for them being in this Bible?

A. I guess my daughter put them down so she could remember them.

Q. Would you consent that a photograph be made of this page and put into the record? A. I don't know.

Q. You wouldn't object to that, would you—we won't take it out of your possession.

A. I don't know what my daughter would say. She has possession of that.

Q. Well, we want to just take a picture of it—of that page. A. I guess there would be no objection.

Mr. German: Let us all agree that a photograph be taken of this page and that it be inserted in the record marked as an exhibit.

Mr. Blakeney: Do you know who did the writing in that book?

A. I told you two or three times.

Q. Yes, but I can't remember, who did you say wrote it?

A. Ulyssis Green.

Q. Made all the entries in that book?

A. I don't think he made that one.

Q. Do you know who did that?

A. Angie, I guess, my daughter.

Q. But you don't know. A. No.

(Photograph of page in Bible attached to this page).

Q. But this Green made the others? A. Yes.

Q. When did he make them?

A. I don't know how long ago——

Q. A good time ago? A. After my mother died.

Q. When did your mother die?

A. She has been dead—maybe you can find it in the Bible.

Q. About how long ago did your mother die?

A. I don't know exactly how long ago it has been.

Q. How old was Henry or "H" when your mother died?

A. I don't remember, a great big boy—I don't remember exactly how old.

Q. You have no way you could fix, within ten years, when your mother died?

A. No, sir, I guess the children and my old man knows.

Q. How long did your father live after your mother died?

A. Ten or twelve years.

Q. How long ago did your father die?

A. Pretty near that long. He was pretty near a hundred.

Q. Your father died ten or twelve years ago and your mother died ten or twelve years before that? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Now, how long after your father got the farm before you went out from Leavenworth to live?

A. I don't know how long—a good many years.

Q. A good many years? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How long had you been out there when this child was born? A. Two or three years.

Q. How long did you stay out there?

A. Live on my father's place, do you mean?

Q. Yes?

A. I don't exactly—we didn't move right on his place.

Q. Did you make your Bible record during the lifetime of your mother, or afterward.

A. Right at the time she died. She had just died.

Q. You was out to attend the funeral? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did she die after Elvin Williams was born?

A. Oh, yes.

Q. How old was Elvin when your mother died?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Well, you went to the funeral? A. Yes.

Q. She is one of your nieces?

A. He is my grandson. He is married now and got children.

Q. He is the son of whom? A. Mrs. Williams.

Q. The one in here? A. Mrs. Williams, yes, sir.

Q. Did Mrs. Williams go out to the funeral of your mother? A. I don't remember whether she did or not.

Q. Whether she took any baby you don't remember?

A. No.

Q. But you do remember Elvin Williams was quite a big child when your mother died? A. Not so very big.

Q. What would be your judgment of her age?

A. I don't remember.

Q. You don't remember his walking, or going to school? A. No, he didn't go to school, I know.

Q. Where were you when Viola, the girl known as Pink, was born? A. Out there.

Q. Where at? A. My father's.

Q. Still living on your father's place? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You had been living on your father's place two or three years when Henry was born? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And continued to live there when Pink was born? A. I don't know, I think so.

Q. How old was she when you moved away? A. I don't know, she was a great big baby.

Q. Were you present when Viola was born? A. Yes.

Q. Who else was present when Viola was born? A. My mother and father and brother.

Q. This brother is the one you call Tom? A. Yes, sir.

Q. The one still living on the place? A. Yes.

Q. Thomas was living with his father during the time that Edest was carrying this child? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And you say it was obvious that she was carrying a child? A. Yes.

Q. Her brother was living there, at the place in the same house? A. Yes.

Q. He was living in the same house? A. Yes, I wasn't.

Q. Was your brother in the room the night Edest had the child. A. No, he wasn't in the room.

Q. Did you take the child, Henry, into his presence that night? A. Which one are you talking about?

Q. Henry. A. No, he didn't see me do that.

Q. You didn't take the child into the room where he was? A. No.

Q. He was awake, around the place, that night? A. Yes, sir.

Q. But he never seen the child until the next morning? A. Yes, he saw the child next morning.

Q. Where did he see it? A. Before I brought it away.

Q. When did you take the child away? A. That same night it was born—it wasn't quite day light.

Q. When did Thomas see the child. A. That morning before I took it away.

Q. Tom saw the child? A. Yes, sir, he saw it.

Q. Tell us how it happened? A. He saw it in the house. He come into the room.

Q. Did he come into the room where its mother was? A. No, I took it into the kitchen.

Q. You dressed the child? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you have any clothing to put on it.

A. No, I went over and got my little girl's clothing, I sent over.

Q. Who did you send? A. Thomas.

Q. Thomas went over to your house and got the clothing?

A. Yes, and my daughter gave them to him.

Q. Then you dressed the child? A. Yes.

Q. And in dressing the child did you notice any birthmarks? A. No, sir.

Q. You kept the child for nine months?

A. Five or six months, something like that?

Q. You washed and dressed it daily? A. Yes, sir.

Q. You never saw a birthmark on the child? A. No.

Q. You never saw a red blot or spot, something like a half dollar on the back of the child? A. No, sir.

Q. If it had been there, you would have seen it?

A. Yes, sir. I never seen nothing.

Q. Was your eyesight good then?

A. Yes, my eyesight was good then. He might have had it—you know a birth mark on a boy grows bigger when the boy grows bigger.

> Mr. Blakeney: We move to strike out the last statement of witness for the reason it is not responsive to any question.
>
> Mr. Allen: Be sure to get that answer.

Q. You never saw on the back a white blotch or spot which was a birthmark?

A. Not that I know of. He didn't have it. If he did, I don't remember.

Q. Now, at that time you were personally friendly with Edest Wright.

A. Yes, sir. I must have been, or I wouldn't have took care of her.

Q. Well, you were friendly? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you have a falling out with Edest?

A. Never had.

Q. When did you have a regular falling out? A. Never.

Q. Well, when did you have an irregular falling out?

A. Never.

Q. Well, didn't you have any falling out?

A. Not until after she married. She lived so far away I didn't go to her house. She come here sometimes.

Q. For the last ten or fifteen years you never had anything to do with Edest?

A. Yes, she has been here regularly.

Q. Then you have no feeling against Edest now?

A. No. All the feeling I have is that I wouldn't swear to a lie for nobody.

Q. Where was Edest married? A. I don't know.

Q. You don't know where Edest was married?

A. No, sir.

Q. How long a time did you see Edest carrying this child Henry around the place after she quit working in town?

A. I don't remember—a good while—I don't remember how long.

Q. About how long? A. I never kept no account.

Q. She was showing when she come home?

A. Yes, when she come home.

Q. You have a sister named Susie? A. Yes, Susie Smith.

Q. Susie Smith. A. Yes.

Q. Living on the home place? A. Yes.

Q. She is married? A. Yes.

Q. And her husband lives with her? A. Yes.

Q. Where was Susie at the time of the birth of this child?

A. Down in Missouri somewhere teaching school.

Q. Was the child born in the summer or winter time?

A. I don't know whether was fall or spring. It was cool, rainy weather, either fall or winter.

Q. Your sister taught school in the winter time?

A. Yes.

Q. She didn't teach in the summer?

A. Well, she wasn't home in summer.

Q. Would she come home? A. Yes, on a visit.

Q. How often did she come home while you was living out on the farm? A. I don't remember, not very often.

Q. You lived there about five years? A. I guess it was about that long.

Q. Did she come home five times

A. No, I don't think she did.

Q. She didn't come home every year?

A. I wouldn't say for sure, she might have come home.

Q. You don't know? A. No.

Q. She taught a winter shool? A. Yes, sir.

Q. During the summer she didn't teach?

A. I don't know that.

Q. Don't you know she——

Q. Don't you know she visited her home every year she taught school in Missouri?

A. No, sir, I don't know that. I won't say she did or she didn't.

Q. Can you recall now whether she was ever in your father's house with Henry Carter? A. Was in the house.

Q. Do you recall any particular time?

A. (Witness hesitates—doesn't seem to understand).

Q. Do you remember? A. No.

Q. You don't remember it?

Q. Was she ever in the house after Henry Carter was born up to the time you moved away? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When? A. She was there when my mother died.

Q. She came to the funeral of your mother?

A. No, she was there when she died.

Q. Living there? A. Yes.

Q. How long had she been living there?

A. A good while.

Q. Did she continue to live there from the time your mother died up until the time your father died?

A. Yes, sir. Kept house.

Q. How old was Henry when your mother died?

A. I don't know. A great big boy.

Q. How long had your sister been to the place before your mother died?

A. I don't know, she was there when she took sick.

Q. How long had she been sick?

A. I think she was sick about three years?

Q. Your sister took care of her?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then Henry was quite a small boy when your sister went to take care of your mother? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Do you remember the circumstances. Strike that. After you took the child back to the father's place how long did you live at the home farm?

A. I don't know how long it was. He was walking, I think.

Q. Then you must have lived there more than a year.

A. I guess so.

Q. Do you know the white people who lived in your neighborhood.

A. Yes, sir. Some of them.

Q. Name some you knew?

A. Some moved away. Some are in Missouri and some away off.

Q. Well, name some of them.

A. I knew Mrs. Wright and Mr. Wright and the Fowlers.

Q. What was the Fowlers first name?

A. I don't know what they given name was.

Q. Did you know a young man named Charles Fowler?

A. No, I knowed one named Will Fowler.

Q. Is he still living?

A. I don't know. He was here about two months ago.

Q. Did Will Fowler visit your father's place when you were on the farm? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did he visit the place after the child, Henry, was born?

A. Yes, he had been there but I don't know whether he knew about the child.

Q. How far did he live from the Carter place?

A. Not very far, over by the grave yard, over on the other side of the creek.

Q. Was he the next place in that direction?

A. No, somebody else that moved away.

Q. Then Fowler's place didn't join your father's place?

A. No, sir, it didn't.

Q. Did you know any other white people who were living there?

A. I did know them all, but I have forgotten their names.

Q. Do you remember the circumstances of your father's will being opened? A. How do you mean?

Q. Being read to the children? A. In what way?

Q. All of you getting together and having somebody read the will? A. Yes.

Q. Who read it?

A. The man that wrote it, Steeper at McLouth and there was two other men, I don't remember.

Q. Was Steeper the banker at McLouth?

A. Yes, and is now.

Q. You were present when he read that will? A. Yes.

Q. You were present and two men from McLouth and who else?

A. Adas Wright, Shannon Carter, Thomas Carter and a lawyer.

Q. Who was that?

A. Frank Graves. Lived up on the hill. He is dead now.

Q. That will was read by whom? A. Mr. Steeper.

Q. And did you say anything after the will was read?

A. How?

Q. Do you remember what you said after the will was read? A. Yes.

Q. What?

A. I know my brother-in-law wanted me to rent my part to him and I said no, I am going to let Susie work it and give me my part.

Q. I don't care for that. You became angry after the will was read? A. No, I did not.

Q. Did it suit you?

A. I didn't think it would do any good. I didn't think after they had taken H and raised him they ought to give him an equal share with the children and then give his mother an equal share with the rest.

Q. Then you did get a little cross?

A. No, didn't have any fuss.

Q. You did complain?

A. I did say a little, others said more than me.

Q. Did you not say at that time "Father had not done right in giving that bastard from Granny Letcher's place an equal share with the children."

A. No, I didn't say that.

Q. Did you say anything in substance to that effect?

A. No.

Q. Did you say in substance that you didn't think it was right to give that child born in a house of ill fame in Leavenworth an equal part?

A. No. Why should I say that when I knew where he was born.

Q. Where was that will opened?

A. In my father's front room.

Q. On the farm in this county? A. Yes.

Q. Do you remember the circumstances? A. Yes.

Q. It was a few days after your father's death?

A. Yes.

Q. You say you remember the circumstances?

A. Yes, my brother, Shannon, had them bring the will out and read it.

Q. Do you remember just what was done? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you at that time and place, in the presence of these people, say in substance: "I can't see why my father should give his property to this boy," referring to Henry, "who is no relation to him and who was brought from a house of ill fame in Leavenworth, and leaving his own children out" or in substance to that effect.

A. No, there was no words like that spoken in the house. Who ever told you this told you a long tale.

Mr. Allen: Do you mean in the presence of all those people?

Mr. Blakeney: Yes, all those people.

Q. At the time and place we were speaking about, two or three days after your father's death, in your father's home, or in the presence of these children that I have named, Adas Wright, Shannon Carter, Thomas Carter, Emma Samuelton and perhaps other members of the family and Mr. Chas. Steeper and Mr. Dan Blair and Mr. Frank Travis, did you not in substance have the conversation that I have mentioned.

A. No, there was nothing like that spoken in the house.

Q. Isn't it a fact Henry Carter said he would deed his part to the other children because of the statements you had made, that he was a bastard and born at the house of Granny Letcher's? A. There was no such words spoken in no way.

Q. Nothing like that at all?

A. No, sir. I know he wasn't born at Granny Letcher's, house. I know that. I don't see where they got that, because I know it isn't so.

Q. Do you remember whether your mother's Bible had your mother's name, Jeanette H. Carter, Platte City, Missouri on the fly leaf?

> Mr. German: In this connection, Mr. Blakeney, we would like to demand of you the production of this Bible that we may use it in connection with the examination of this witness here now?

A. I don't know.

Q. And you say you know Henry Carter wasn't born at Granny Letcher's here in Leavenworth?

A. Yes, that was a made tale, a long tale.

Q. It wasn't a made tale or a long tale until these parties commenced coming to see you?

A. I never did hear nothing about such a tale.

Q. Can you name any white woman, or any white man, who to your knowledge saw this child, H. Carter, in your father's home before he was four or five years of age?

A. No, I can't remember any.

Q. You can't remember? A. No.

Q. Will Fowler was a frequent visitor at your father's place? A. Yes.

Q. Went hunting with your brothers?

Q. Chas. Steeper loaned money to your father?

A. I don't know about that. My father put money in the bank.

Q. Did you ever see Mr. Steeper at his place? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Did you ever see him there after this boy, Henry, was about the place? A. No.

Q. Did you ever see Mr. William Jenkins there?

A. I don't know him.

Q. Did you ever see a man out in that country named Cox? A. I don't remember—I might have.

Q. You don't recall a man who came out from Leavenworth who moved out there?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Did you know a man named Carter from another Carter family?

A. There is so many Carters there I don't know which you talk about.

Q. Ever see Sidney Corson there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Was he there often? A. A good many times.

Q. During the time Henry was under four years of age, was Sidney there?

A. I don't know, but I know he used to come there.

Q. What was the white man that lived right across the road from you? A. Newby's.

Q. Do you know where they are living now?

A. They did live in Kansas City. They moved to Kansas City.

Q. Did they visit your father's family often?

A. Yes, I don't think Newby's were living there when H was born.

Q. You are friendly with Thomas are you? A. Yes, sir.

Q. And Susie? A. Yes. She was here when I was sick.

Q. Which one of your sisters is living out there with your brother? A. Susan Smith.

Q. What is the name of your sister living in Butte, Montana? A. Mary Elizabeth Simonton.

Q. Where was Susan Smith. Strike that. Where was Mary Elizabeth Simonton when Adas or Edest gave birth to the boy Henry? A. In Butte, Mont.

Q. Married and living in Butte? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Ever been back here?

A. Once when H was a baby she was back here.

Q. That is all.

Mr. Allen: Mr. Blakeney, before we proceed to the redirect examination of this witness will you produce the original Bible so that we may use it in the examination of this witness?

Mr. Blakeney: I don't know whether I can or not. I don't know nothing about it, about the original Bible. Any knowledge I would have would be hearsay as to the originality and if I had the original Bible I would want it properly identified before I would have it.

Mr. Allen: We just want you to let us have it to use in the examination of this witness, who says she has seen the original Bible and we want her to identify it.

Mr. Blakeney: She has seen no Bible which I have in my possession.

Mr. Allen: Will you let us have it for the purpose of the examination of this witness. We will hand it back to you.

Mr. Blakeney: Won't it have to be identified and become a part of the record?

Mr. Allen: We will consent that it may be returned after the proper excerpts have been read into the record.

Mr. Blakeney: I don't believe I want to furnish any evidence at this time.

Mr. German: I desire that all of this conversation be put into the record.

Mr. Blakeney: Let me have a few moments to consider it.

Mr. German: Certainly.

Mr. Blakeney: (After a few moments' conversation with T. W. Bell and J. Cody Johnson) I have a Bible supposed to be the Bible in question which was given me by my client and which he says he thinks was the family Bible. He himself did not get it from the family but from a lawyer, I think Mr. Crump, who got it from some member of the family. I am perfectly willing that counsel may at any time examine the book. I will let them examine it now. I am not willing that it be put in as part of the record until it is properly identified.

Mr. Hanford: Will you consent to submit it for identification to this witness?

Mr. Allen: We will take advantage of counsel to show the book.

Mr. Blakeney: I will wait until you get through with the examination of the witness and then submit it.

Mr. Talley: I would like to see it now.

Mr. Blakeney: I will let you see it as soon as we get through with this examination.

Mr. Allen: We are taking the testimony of this witness and her husband for the purpose of perpetuating their testimony and we would like to have the Bible at this time in order that we may exhibit it to them for the purpose of knowing whether it is the original Carter Bible.

Cross Examination Continued by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. I hand you this book and ask you as to whether it is your mother's family Bible?

A. I don't think that is the one—I know it aint, because it was a larger one and didn't have no clasp.

Q. Do you know whether it has your mother's name written on the front page, Mrs. Jeanette Carter, Platte City, Missouri. A. No.

Q. Then this is not the book?

A. No. The one she had was about that thick.
Q. That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. I asked you this morning, before you were sworn, if you would not, if you could not produce the Bible which has been offered in evidence today, did I not? A. I believe you did.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as incompetent, irrelevant and immaterial.

Q. What did you tell me about it then?
A. I don't you I couldn't, my daughter had it in her possession.
Q. You said you would but you couldn't? A. Yes.
Q. Do you know about when the old Bible was copied into the new? A. No, I don't know.
Q. State whether or not it was before. Strike that. State whether it was before or after you heard of any controversy concerning Henry Carter.
A. It was a long time before, I never heard no controversy until years after.
Q. Then you are positive that the Henry Carter that you delivered from Edest Wright is the same Henry Carter who is making a claim to being Thomas Atkins?
A. Yes. He is no more that Atkins woman's son than I am her daughter.
Q. How frequently have you seen him from that time until now?
A. After he moved to town I seen him every day. He passed here every day on his way to work.
Q. Did Edest Wright ever talk to you about this child?
A. No, we never done no talking about it.
Q. Have you since this controversy arose?
A. No. I aint seen her since.
Q. Tell us why it is Mariah that you at first hesitated to tell us the name of the mother?
A. Because it was my sister and I hated to. It was in the family and it was a thing I hated to tell. It wasn't because I couldn't tell it.
Q. Have you any Indian blood in you?
A. I don't know whether I have or not.
Q. What is the color of your sister Edest Wright?
A. A little bit lighter than me, a little bit brighter because she is younger than me.
Q. Did you ever hear who was the father of this child?
A. No, sir. She never told me.
Q. Edest belongs to the colored race?

A. Of course. Her mother was colored and her father was colored, why shouldn't she?

Q. You say she was brighter than you? A. A little bit.

Q. You are light complected yourself, aren't you?

A. I don't know how light I am.

Q. You are not black? A. No, I ain't black.

Q. What was the color of your father?

A. My father was colored and Irish.

Q. That is all.

Recross Examination by Mr. Talley.

Q. I want to ask you another question. Was there some little question between you and your father about what you should be paid for taking care of this child?

A. Yes. Me and my mother had a little talk over it.

Q. What were you to be given?

A. They didn't say, but they gave me one little louzy calf.

Q. Is that all they gave you? A. Yes.

Q. You were paid to that extent for taking care of this child for six or eight months?

A. That is all they gave me.

Q. Were they to give you anything more than that?

A. No. They said they would pay me no more for it.

Q. That is all.

JOHN YOKUM, being first duly sworn, on oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. Please state your name? A. John Yokum.
Q. Where do you live? A. Right here.
Q. You have been sworn as a witness in this case?
A. Yes, sir. Just now.
Q. What is your age?
A. I am seventy nine, going on eighty.
Q. Are you the husband of Mariah Yokum? The woman who has just testified?
A. What did you say? I am a little hard of hearing.
Q. Are you the husband of this woman who has just testified, Mariah Yokum. A. I am.
Q. How old is she? A. About seventy one or two.
Q. How much older are you than she? [A.] She was fifty-four. She was born in '44 I believe, the 2nd day of January, '74.
Q. '74 or '44? A. She is 71 years old, born in '54.
Q. Wasn't she born the 7th day of January, 1841, to refresh your memory. A. That is right.
Q. How many children have you had by Mariah Yokum?
Q. Who was the oldest of these children.
A. About 44 or 45 somewhere.

Mr. Blakeney: We object to the examination of this witness for the reason it is apparent that he is not competent to give testimony.

Q. Did you know the brother and sisters of your wife?
A. I did.
Q. The Carters? A. Yes.
Q. What were their names? A. Susie and Edest.
Q. And who else.
A. Susie, Edest and Emma. Emma was the oldest.
Q. How many of her brothers and sisters are now living?
A. I don't know. I believe but one of her brothers is living now. That is Tom. Wallace he died. He died in Denver. Johnson died in Kansas City.

Q. What about Edest.

A. Edest is living. She lives down in this little town what do you call it. Yes I know her.

Q. I don't think you understand me. Give me the names of your brothers and sisters who. Strike that. Give me the names of the brothers and sisters of your wife now living?

A. Susie and Babe. I believe that is all living now.

Q. Who is Babe. A. Mrs. Simington.

Q. Susie and Babe and Tom and Edest are the only ones you remember who are living now? A. That is all.

Q. Do you remember the case of the birth of Henry Carter? A. I do.

Q. Do you know where he was born?

A. I [ ] Kentucky. I believe.

Q. I am speaking of the younger Henry Carter.

A. He was born out at the old home place. "H" we called him.

Q. You called him "H" Carter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Who do you call Henry Carter?

A. Old man Carter and Henry too.

Q. Old man Carter was the grandfather of this Henry?

A. Yes.

Q. Where was the old home place where you say H Carter was born? A. Out at the line in Jefferson County.

Q. How far was he born from the place where you were then living?

A. When he was born, I was living right across the road on the upper end of the forty acre tract.

Q. On the same farm? A. Adjoining farm.

Q. On the same 160? A. No, on the same 40.

Q. Was this 40 a part of the 160? A. Yes, sir.

Q. When did you see Henry Carter after his birth?

A. I guess it was a couple of days.

Q. Where did you see him?

A. They fetched him up to the house.

Q. Who brought him there?

A. I don't know whether my wife fetched him there or not.

Q. Do you know how long he stayed there?

A. No, I don't know how long. He didn't stay long.

Q. Why did they take him away.

A. Because I told them he couldn't stay there.

Q. Do you know whose child he was?

Mr. Blakeney: We object to this as asking for a conclusion, as the witness has not been shown to have been present at the birth.

A. Yes.

Q. Whose child was it? A. Edest.

Q. Edest who? A. Edest Carter.

Q. Is she the same woman known as Edest Wright now? A. Yes.

Q. Did you see her shortly before this child was born? A. I think I did.

Q. What condition was she in?

A. I don't know what condition she was. She was pretty lusky.

Q. State whether or not she appeared to be in a family way? A. We thought she was.

Q. Have you known Henry Carter or H Carter. Strike that. Was she sick in bed at old man Carter's? A. She was.

Q. Did old man Carter come up after your wife? A. Yes.

Q. Were you at the house when old man Carter come for your wife? A. I was at home.

Q. What time at night was that?

A. I suppose a little after dark or after dusk.

Q. Was it in the night time? A. Yes.

Q. After this child was born, what did they name him.

A. Called him "H." That was his name Henry. Henry is his name, but he was called H. That was his nickname.

Q. Have you known him all the time since he was a baby? A. I have.

Q. Have you seen him recently?

A. Haven't seen him for a month or two.

Q. Where does he live now?

A. Down in Oklahoma, I believe, or Kansas City, one.

Q. Is he the same Henry Carter who is now pretended to be Thomas Atkins? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Then is he the same identical boy that you made your wife take back to the Carter home and whom you have known ever since? A. That is right.

Q. How often have you seen him since that time since the time of his birth?

A. I don't know how often? I have seen him pretty often. When he came to town he worked for this wagon maker Hesse—drove a wagon for him.

Q. Do you know whether or not Henry is now married?

A. He was married when he left here.

Q. Do you know who he married?

A. I know, but I can't call her name now.

Q. To refresh your memory, did he marry Ada Simpson?

A. I think her name was Ada Simpson, that is something like that.

Q. Or Ara Simpson? A. Yes, I think that was it.

Q. Did you have a child named Annie B. Yokum?

A. Yes, Annie Blanche.

Q. Do you know when she was born?

A. No. It is in the Bible there.

Q. Is the date given in this Bible the correct date.

A. Yes, I think it is.

Q. How old was she when Henry Carter was born?

A. I don't know how old. She might have been a couple of months before or like that.

A. Was she a baby then? A. Yes.

Q. Do you know whether or not your wife nursed Henry Carter during the six months she had him with her?

Mr. Blakeney: I object to the assumption of any time.

Q. Do you know whether or not your wife nursed Henry Carter while he was in your house as a little baby, at her breast? A. She did.

Q. Did you say Annie Blanche was a little baby?

A. Yes.

Q. That is the same boy who is now known as "H" Carter and who is claimed to be Thos. Atkins?

A. Yes. He is not Thomas Atkins. He is H. Carter.

Q. When was the first time you ever heard of Henry Carter claiming to be Thos. Atkins.

A. Never heard anything about it until last year.

Q. Was he ever known as Thomas Atkins or Tommie Atkins?

A. No, sir, not that I know of. If he did, I didn't know it.

Q. To what race did Edest Wright belong, was she a member of the colored race?

A. Yes, sir. My wife's sister.

Q. What was her complexion, was she black or light?

A. Light.

Q. Light complected? A. Yes, sir.

Q. That is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Talley.

Q. You stated that Edest had the appearance of being pregnant? A. How is that?

Q. Did you state that Edest looked like she was pregnant before this sickness and before this boy was born?

A. Yes.

Q. How long after he was born before you saw her again?

A. I guess it was the next week, something like that.

Q. Did she appear to be pregnant then? A. No.

Q. That is all.

Cross Examination by Mr. Blakeney.

Q. You was living on the Carter place, or the Carter farm, when this child was brought to your place?

A. How is that?

Q. You was living on the Carter place, or the Carter farm, when this child was brought to your place?

A. Yes. I built a log house on the place.

Q. How long had you been living on the Carter place when the child was brought there?

A. Six months or a year, I guess. I don't know exactly what time.

Q. Was your other child Annie Blanche was she born there on the place?

A. She was. She wasn't born there, it was right across the road.

Q. In the log house you built?

A. No, I moved out of that into the other house. It was in the old Hollingsworth place.

Q. Then you moved into the log house? A. Yes, sir.

Q. How old was Annie when they brought this boy there?

A. Three or four months old. I don't know how old. She was a baby. A suckling.

Q. You say it was brought there when it was two or three days old, or a month old?

A. I don't know. It might have been a month. It was a pretty cold winter.

Q. How long did you keep it there?

A. I don't know how long, three or four days or a week, I got tired of it and made them take it back.

Q. Kept there about a week? A. I don't know.

Q. Was it there longer than a week?

A. It might have been.

Q. Then it was taken back? A. Yes.

Q. Who took it back? A. I don't know.

Q. But it was not kept at your place any more? A. No.

Q. Your wife nursed it about a week?

A. I never paid any attention to it.

A. Well, you know it wasn't there a month?

A. I guess it was a month. Yes a month or a week.

Q. Well, you know the difference between a week and a month. Which will you say it was, a week or a month?

A. It was a month.

Q. You know it wasn't there longer than two months?

A. Yes.

Q. You know it wasn't there longer than five months?

A. I don't know.

Q. You are sure it wasn't longer than two months, but you don't know about five months. Do you remember well?

A. Not very well, and I am hard hearing.

Q. You have been talked to a great many times about this case by assumed detectives?

A. No, I aint talked to nobody about it.

Q. Did you talk to Long about it? A. No.

Q. Made an affidavit didn't you?

A. I don't know whether I did or not. I might have but I don't know whether I did or not.

Q. Was Long here? A. I don't remember.

Q. Don't you remember a smooth looking fellow that came here and got a statement from you?

A. I don't remember. I forget sometimes.

Q. How long ago was it that H. Carter was born.

A. About thirty-five years I guess.

Q. How old is your daughter, Annie B.

A. She is about the same. There may be a difference of a month or two.

Q. What other children were there around the Carter place then?

A. I don't know. Tom and Susie staying there and my own.

Q. Were Tom and Susie staying there during that time?

A. Yes. She had been working at Chillicothe and had come home to take care of her mother.

Q. How long was it after H was born before Susie came home to take care of her mother? A. I don't remember.

Q. Well, about how long?

A. It might have been a week or two, or a month.

Q. Was it a year or two?

A. I don't think it was. I left there and bought a place down on Stranger and moved away.

Q. How long did you stay at that place after H was born?

A. I don't know that.

Q. How long did you stay in that log house you built?

A. About two years.

Q. And you had just come to that new house when Henry was born and you stayed there two years, then you stayed there about two years after Henry was born? Yes.

Q. And before you left there Susan came home to take care of her mother? A. Yes.

Q. Were there any other children in the family while you lived there? A. Only those in my own family.

Q. I am talking about old Henry Carter's place—no children were born? A. Only H.

Q. After you left your place, was there any babies around Henry Carter's place? A. Angie was born.

Q. Was Henry the last baby born at the Carter place? The last one you ever knew about? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Henry was the only boy after Tom who grew up around there? A. Yes.

Q. How old was Henry when old man Carter died?

A. I don't know how old Henry was when the old man died. He was a year old anyway when the old man died. It might have been more. I don't know.

Q. Yes, of course it might have been more, but what was it? What was your recollection of it?

A. That is my recollection.

Q. How old was he when the old lady died?

A. I don't know.

Q. Was he born when the old lady died?

A. Yes. The old lady died first.

Q. How long had the old lady been dead before the old man died?

A. I don't know. I guess it was two years.

Q. Then how old would you say "H" was when the old lady died?

A. I don't know. I never kept track of it at all.

Q. Well, think now, and tell us.

A. I believe it was about a year. It might have been two years.

Q. And how old when the father died?

A. I don't know. It would be about 4 wouldn't []. I don't know.

Q. That is your best recollection?

A. I never paid much attention to it.

Q. Well, you remember the old man died and you recollect the boy around the place?

A. Yes, I know "H" when they buried the old man. "H" he fainted out.

Q. How old was he? A. Four or five years old.

Q. Do you think a five or four year old baby would faint?

A. He didn't have sense enough to faint.

Q. Henry Carter, a four or five year old child, fainted when the old man died at the grave? A. I think he did.

Q. That is your recollection? A. Yes.

Q. Don't you know that "H" was 16 or 17 years old when the old man died?

A. No. He wasn't. He was about four years old. I don't know how old he was. He was a good sized boy, playing around through the yard.

Q. Not going to school?

A. No, he hadn't started to school.
Q. That is all.

Redirect Examination by Mr. Allen.

Q. You say you don't remember dates very well?

Mr. Blakeney: I object to the statement. He didn't say that.

Q. Do you remember dates very well, or the length of time that elapsed between things that occurred thirty-five years ago.

A. Some I do, and some I don't. I may think of them once in a while.

Q. You say you have seen H. Carter frequently since he was a baby? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Are you now positive that this Henry Carter who is now claiming to be Thomas Atkins is the same identical boy that was taken back to the Carter home after having spent a while in your home.

A. That is the same one—that is the same boy.

Mr. Blakeney: We object to the question as leading, assuming and argumentative.

Q. Is that the same boy who is claiming to be Thomas Atkins? A. Yes.

Q. Are you able to say how long that baby was in your home?

A. No, I couldn't say. I know he was there and he went away.

Q. You say that all you remember is that he was there and he went away? A. Yes, sir.

Q. He was brought there by your wife and because you objected, she took him away, took him back? A. Yes, sir.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as leading and argumentative.

Q. Is that what I understood you to say? A. Yes, sir.
Q. That is all.

Mr. German: We offer the deposition of Miss Mary Byron or Bryan, taken before Mr. Penick, appearing in his transcript beginning at page 835.

Miss MARY BRYON being called on behalf of the United States, sworn and under oath, testified as follows:

Direct Examination by Mr. German.

Q. What is your name? A. Mary Bryon.

Q. Where do you live, Miss Bryon?

A. At present at Leavenworth, at 426 Osage.

Q. What is your profession? A. Teacher.

Q. What of teaching—what kind of school? Music?

A. No, just the grade school, if that is what you mean.

Q. Are you engaged in teaching now? A. Yes.

Q. Did you ever teach school in school district No. 53, in Leavenworth County, Kansas? A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. What is the name of the Post Office in that district?

A. Ackerland, where I get my mail.

Q. What years did you teach there?

A. Well, I commenced there the fall of '97, and I taught three consecutive years.

Q. That would be '97 and '98; and '98 and '99; '99 and 1900? A. I think so, those are the years.

Q. While you were teaching there, did you have any pupils by the name of Carter? A. Yes, sir.

Q. What were their given names?

A. Well, H. Carter and Viola.

Q. What was their nationality; white or colored, or what?

A. Well, as far as I knew, they were colored.

Q. Did you have any other colored children?

A. I think not.

Q. The rest were all white children as you remember it?

A. As I remember it, yes.

Q. Miss Bryon, how old was H. Carter, if you know, when you first went there in 1897 and began this school?

Mr. Blakeney: We object to the competency of the witness; she has not been shown competent to testify as to age.

A. I don't know but as far as I am capable of judging, I should think she was 16 or 17 but I really don't know. That is as near as I can come to that.

Q. From what did you arrive at that conclusion?

A. That he was that age?

Q. Yes?

A. Well, from his size as much as anything else.

Q. Do you or not distinctly remember the boy?

A. I distinctly remember him.

Q. Miss Bryon, did you make any report to the clerk of the district—school district, at the end of the respective term that you taught school there—teacher's term report, in writing?

A. Well, I don't remember of making those special reports but I most surely did because we were supposed to do that but I can't distinctly remember making these separate reports—if that is what you mean.

Q. I show you Government's Exhibit No. 27 and will ask you to examine it and state what that is.

A. Well, it is the teacher's term report to the District Clerk.

Q. Who, if you know, made that report?

A. Well, I think I did; in fact I know I did.

Q. Turn it over, please, madam. Is that your signature there? A. Yes, sir.

Q. Is that your own signature there, at the conclusion of the report? A. Yes, sir, it is.

Q. The pen and ink work on that report—state whose work that is? A. Well, that is mine, too.

Q. You did that? A. Yes.

Q. What did you do with that report when you made it out? A. I don't know.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial.

Q. Did you deliver it to anyone?

A. I don't remember.

Mr. Blakeney: We object as immaterial.

Q. You have no recollection about that? A. No.

Q. To whom were such reports to be delivered?

Mr. Blakeney: We object to the competency of the witness, and the question seeks incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial evidence.

A. Well, I think they are supposed to be delivered to the District Clerk.

Q. Of that school district?

A. Of that particular district.

Mr. Blakeney: We object for the same reason.

Q. Miss Bryon, I notice on that report which is for the years—for the school year of '97 and '98—the name H Carter. State whether or not that name represents the H Carter about whom you have testified.

A. Well, it does.
